Survivors are his wife, Elizabeth; two sisters, Mrs. Aldora Gaskill and Mrs. Mary May Dupps, and two brothers, William and Elge.

James Higgins Rites Held in Indianapolis

A former power house operator, James Higgins, 67, died Oct. 20 in an Indianapolis hospital after a long illness. Services were conducted Friday, Oct. 23, in that city and burial was there also.

A resident of Allen County for most of his life, Mr. Higgins joined General Electric in 1924. He retired in 1948.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret; one son, Karl; two grandchildren, and one great-grandson.

Jessie Miller, 65, Dies At Home in Bluffton

Jessie Mable Miller, 65, died Tuesday, Oct. 20, at her home in Bluffton. Services were conducted Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Jahn Funeral Home by the Rev. Vance Davidson. Burial was in the Decatur Cemetery.

Mrs. Miller joined the company in January, 1943. She went to Bldg. 4-5 stamping name plates then. Prior to her retirement May 1, 1948, she was an insulator in Bldg. 17-3.

Surviving are one son, Leo Beery; two daughters, Mrs. Vernon Arnold and Mrs. P. H. Huffman; three grandchildren; two brothers, Charles Springer and Virgil Springer; four sisters, Mrs. Lewis Hauk, Mrs. Fred Engle, Mrs. Floyd Acker, and Mrs. Verne Smith.

GOOD-BY PARTY—Art Druce displays a pipe, one of his gifts at a celebration in his honor on the day of his retirement. K. D. Strong and R. A. Woehr are shown assisting him. Mr. Druce, an employee since 1919, was a foreman in Bldg. 19-1.

Burns From Bonfire Fatal to Clarence Hall

Burns resulting from a fall into a blazing pile of leaves were fatal to Clarence Hall, 63, a General Electric employee.

Mr. Hall died at 9:50 p.m. Tuesday in the Lutheran Hospital. The tragedy occurred Friday, when he fell directly across a burning pile of leaves in the backyard of his home at 1229 Wells St.

He had been a GE employee since 1943. He was formerly a stockkeeper at Taylor St. and was employed in Bldg. 26-1 prior to his death.

Survivors include the widow, Celia; six sons, DeWayne, John, Eugene, James and Clarence F., all of Fort Wayne, and Robert, of Reno, Nev.; three daughters, Mrs. Forrest Gibson and Mrs. Fred Boehm, both of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Arthur Skinner, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; two step-children, Mrs. Ray Smith of Fort Wayne and Elmer Minard, of Auburn; three sisters and 12 grandchildren.

"To do nothing at all is the most difficult thing in the world, the most difficult and the most intellectual."—Oscar Wilde.

RACONTEUR SECTION 14 TAYLOR ST.

by Mary Whitelock

Section 14 has its share of travel-minded people. Ray Brown went to Michigan to hunt deer, Mel Warner spent a week-end motoring through Brown county, and A. A. Ralston is back after celebrating his 25th wedding anniversary with a trip to Syracuse, N. Y. to visit his son at Electronics Park. . . . Polly Line, Clarence Shanebeck, and Carl Reynolds also celebrated their respective wedding anniversaries. Congratulations. . . . Paul Smith's son, Neal, who is a lieutenant in the Chemical Corps at the RAF base in England, sent home some interesting pictures he snapped at Yarmouth and London. He wrote that he made his first trip to an English theater but couldn't understand what the actors were saying. However, the Britishers all around him were convulsed with laughter so he assumed it must have been a comedy. . . . Dale Irwin's co-workers are considering taking up a collection to purchase him some suspenders. When Dale reaches up real high, part of that old dependable roll around his middle goes along, with almost catastrophic results. The anchor's away. . . . Forrest Grim is on vacation. . . . Becky Lisle is back again after a brief illness, we are happy to report. She is a little pale around the edges yet. . . . Bill Williams will leave us for Broadway and Series Specialty. Good-by, you all with your souther'n drawl. We're sorry to see you go. . . . Lou Ann Beauchamp now has a "little boy haircut." She is not very pleased about it, though, and says she won't wear her glasses until her hair grows out. What's the connection? . . . Eldon Bell's son got a special delivery letter from Uncle Sam. . . . W. C. Holloway has a huge TV aerial atop his house occupied by the birds—but he has no TV set! Some thing he could use it to better advantage than as a bird roost. . . . Helen Platt and Edna Ball have new bibs so they can keep their dresses clean while they slurp their coffee. . . . Herb Lindenburg received a birthday gift from the switch girls. Happy birthday, Herb. . . . Mike Brayer has the blues over Purdue (his Alma Mater) getting trounced four games in a row. And it's so much more humiliatin' because Johnny Myers (Ohio State) and George Ridge (Michigan U.) keep crowing and needling him. Come on, you Boilermakers, let's go! . . . Don McAlece has taken Robert Pair, the Texas fledgling, under his wing. When Don discovered this here sidewinder didn't know what horseradish was, he herded him across the street and ordered their lunch—sandwiches generously heaped with the stuff. In fact, you could rightly call them horseradish sandwiches. Poor Bob came sprinting back breathing fire and spent the afternoon loping around the drinking fountain circuit. . . . Assistant Fire Chief Bob Till was surprised to hear that nearly all of Wallen burned to the ground the other night. Bob? Oh, he was baby sitting.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

Howdy-do-dee to all our newcomers. The welcome mat is out for you and hope you like us. . . . It wasn't an atomic explosion. It's our newest grandma popping a few buttons. Ivah Grandstaff has a grandson. . . . Ida Sinn couldn't find the new Sears store. She was looking in the vicinity of South Wayne and Rudisill. . . . Driving past the Louie Hoffman's we see a new TV antenna. . . . Beulah Lee will also be enjoying TV this winter. . . . Elma Keiser is breezing along in a new Ford. . . . Trick or treat? Tomorrow is Frank Shidler's birthday and we think it will be a dirty trick if he doesn't treat us. Happy birthday, Frank. . . . Marie Claycombe finds that sometimes when you reach for a coil rack, it will growl. . . . The other day Kenny Cook was modeling a cobbler's apron. It was much more fancy than a shop apron. . . . Gertie Wheat turned off the alarm at 11:30 p.m., thinking it was 4:30 a.m., and was ready to get ready to come to work. Wasn't that extra five hours of sleep a nice surprise? . . . We were sorry to hear of the death of our former co-worker, Jessie Miller. We extend our sincere sympathy to her family.

Bogey Cash Winners

Additional cash winners in the Blind Bogey golf tourney concluded recently have been announced. They are:

70-90 CLASS
H. Dimke, 4-6.
N. Jones, 2-2.
S. L. Cunningham, Ret.
N. T. Horton, T. S.
W. Wickliffe, 19-1.
L. Grider, 19-1.
P. Billman, 27.
J. Geiger, W. St.
C. Smith, 27.
L. Gossman, 4-6.

91-100
H. Hickman, 27.
R. White, 18-4.
G. France, 26-3.
A. Gallmeier, W. St.
H. Koch, 2-2.
R. Killian, 8-1.
C. Hapner, 26-3.
R. Langdon, 4-6.
F. Garland, 2-2.
E. Vosburg, 2-2.

101 AND UP
C. Wilt, 23.
L. Shroyer, 31-2.
C. Spencer, 6-1.
B. Reardon, 31-2.
B. Pearson, 2-2.
E. De Crappes, 31-1.
D. Hiltterbrick, 31-2.
B. English, 6-1.
Al Johnson, 4-6.
H. Brust, 31-1.

Contact Red Braden, Bldg. 2-2. Ext. 442, if you have not received your prize. The season ticket winner was Carl Skekloff of Winter St.

EARNs RUBY PIN—Clayton Culver (center) receives a ruby pin for 40 years of General Electric service from Carl Reynolds. At the ceremony (l-r) are L. W. Kuttner, James Oman, L. D. Hodell, and F. G. Campbell. Mr. Culver first came to GE in 1919 as an assembler in Bldg. 17-4. He is now employed in Section 14 at Taylor St.

APPRENTICE ALUMNI ELECTION NOV. 17

Gale Rinehart

Walter Buesking

Marc Junk

PARKVIEW MEMORIAL HOSPITAL FORMAL DEDICATION NOV. 8TH

On Sunday, Nov. 8, at 2 p.m., the formal dedication of Parkview Memorial Hospital, at State Blvd. and Randalia Dr., will take place. The occasion will mark the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Fort Wayne City Hospital, a predecessor of the new health center.

The new hospital and the Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing, which will be completed in a few weeks, together cost approximately $5,000,000. More than half a million dollars of this total was contributed by the General Electric Company and Fort Wayne plant employees.

The dedication ceremony on Sunday, Nov. 8, will be followed by an open house, which will continue daily from 3 to 8 p.m. through Nov. 18. After that date, a two-day clean-up period will be conducted and the hospital prepared to receive patients from the Methodist Hospital. They will be moved into the new quarters Nov. 21.

C. H. Matson, former manager of the Fort Wayne plant and now retired, will present the hospital. He is chairman of the building committee. The hospital will be accepted by Clyde J. Cover, president of the Board of Directors of Parkview.

C. Dwight Shirey, vice president of the hospital board of directors, will be master of ceremonies for the dedication. Dr. Elmer E. Voekel, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, will deliver the opening prayer and the Student Nurse Chorus will sing "A Mighty Fortress."

The public will be invited to inspect the new hospital during the ceremony by Donald C. Carner, administrator of Parkview. Principal speaker will be Dr. C. G. McEachern, president of the medical staff. He will discuss "In the Spirit of Service."

Dr. A. Wesley Pugh, superintendent of the Fort Wayne District, Methodist Church, will bring the dedication message and prayer.

At 2:35 p.m., the cry of the last baby born prior to that time at the Methodist Hospital will be heard over a direct wire and will activate a mechanism which will open the doors of the new hospital to the public.

A broadcast of the dedication ceremonies will be over radio station WOWO.

Halloween Dance Tickets Available

Tickets for the GE Squares Oct. 31 dance are still available and may be purchased from contact men or test engineers, Guy Bradley, Bldg. 31-2, general chairman, announced this week. Tickets may also be secured at the door tomorrow evening. For members, ducats are $1.75 per couple and $2.25 per couple for non-members.

The informal dance, "Pumpkin Prom," is slated to begin at 9 p.m. and continue until 12 midnight with music provided by Bob Wiebke and his orchestra. There will be entertainment and refreshments available for the members and their guests.

Conservation Club to Be Scene Of Association's Annual Meeting

The annual election of officers for the Apprentice Alumni Association will be conducted at the organization's Fall Banquet, Tuesday, Nov. 17, Don Greenler, president, announced this week.

The Southwest Conservation Club has been selected as site of the banquet, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. In addition to a business session, a program of entertainment featuring magician, Stan Pietzak has been planned. Owner and operator of the Magic Bar, Mr. Pietzak has appeared on eastern television shows.

Tickets, which are $2 per person may be secured from contact men or at the door Nov. 17.

The following list of candidates for office has been reported by the nominating committee:

President

Gale Rinehart, Bldg. 4-5.
Walter Buesking, Winter St.
Marc Junk, Bldg. 19-5.

Vice-President

Richard Burns, Bldg. 19-5.
John Jennings, Bldg. 4-6.
Everett Schmidt, Taylor St.

Financial Secretary

George Horner, Bldg. 26-1.
Donald Hoffman, Bldg. 19-5.
Frank Woenker, Bldg. 19-5.

Recording Secretary

Carl Lommatzsch, Taylor St.

Joseph Rowan, Winter St.
Arnold Kiefer, Bldg. 4-4.
Lloyd Dolan, Bldg. 4-4.

Treasurer

John Leffers, Bldg. 4-6.
Lyle Claphan, Taylor St.
Harry Meads, Taylor St.

Board of Directors

Darwin Stanley, Bldg. 4-3.
Donald Alcott, Bldg. 19-5.
Harmon Westrick, Bldg. 19-5.
J. LaMar Brant, Bldg. 19-5.
Robert Bienz, Winter St.
Herb Reitz, Bldg. 4-6.
Maurice Sordelet, Bldg. 19-5.
Lee Schnepf, Bldg. 4-4.
Robert Barnes, Bldg. 12-2.

At the business session, proposed changes to the constitution and by-laws regarding members, dues, honorary memberships, and committees will be considered.

General chairman of the banquet is Walter Buesking. In charge of entertainment is Thomas Roberts, and Robert Branning is taking care of refreshments.

L. D. Hodell to Discuss Europe With Foremen's Association

The Foremen's Association will hold their regular monthly meeting Wednesday at 6 p.m. in the Southwest Conservation Club, Leonard Reuss, president, reported today.

A ham and bean supper will be followed by a business meeting and entertainment.

Bill Hale and Roy Folsom are in charge of entertainment. L. D. Hodell, general manager of General AC Motor Department, will report on his recent business trip abroad. His topic will be, "My Observations of Europe," which he will illustrate with slide pictures.

Tickets are $1 and may be obtained from contact men.

Foremen's Association members on second shift will get together this evening at 12 midnight for a meeting at the Rhythm Ranch. There will be a lunch and refreshments served and card games will be played.

New Electric Motor Design Cuts Down Machinery Noise

One of the oldest and most annoying headaches in industry—machinery noise—will be greatly alleviated as the result of a new electric motor design announced here today.

General Electric Company engineers, after five years of extensive research into the causes of noise in electric motors, have developed what they call a "sonant" motor.

Special electronic tests prove the success of this latest concept of engineering: The new 10-horsepower motor was shown to have about the same over-all noise level as the old 2-horsepower motor.

By isolating the three main causes of motor noise—bearing rattle, magnetic hum, and windage (the rush of air through the motor)—the scientists were able to decrease the noise and, perhaps more important, make the sound frequency more pleasing to the human ear.

Since electric motors are the most widely used form of machinery in the modern world, attacking the noise problem at this level is a major technical advance for all industry, the engineers explained.

Thorn L. Mayes, general manager of the GE Small Integral Motor Department at Winter St., pointed out that sonance is only one of the unique features in the new motor. It is about half as large and as much as 40 per cent lighter, horsepower per horsepower, than its predecessor.

IN LINE FOR A GOOD DEAL—Are some of the more than 400 employees who bought the two models of radios offered at a special price Oct. 15 at the Employee Store. Store manager, Ray Fischbach, announced that those who ordered radios that day may pick them up next week.

FAREWELL ADDRESS—Cary Krauter demonstrates her mike technique as she says her good-bys to her co-workers on her last day of work. Mrs. Krauter has been a GE employee since 1924. She was employed in Bldg. 26-4 in winding and finishing prior to retirement.

Ground Broken at Bloomington For Five Million Dollar Plant

Four push buttons, simultaneously pressed, activated an electric shovel in Bloomington, Ill. recently to break ground for a new five million dollar GE plant which will manufacture general controls for industrial use.

The unique electrical push-button system was so constructed that it took four men to start the shovel. They were W. C. Wichman, vice president and general manager of the Industrial Power Components Division; W. F. Oswalt, general manager of the General Purpose Control Department; Bloomington's mayor, O. Lloyd Welsh; and William McKnight, President of the Bloomington Association of Commerce. President and general manager of the GE Realty Corporation, Robert L. Yowell, also attended.

Located on a 60-acre tract where U. S. Route 66 crosses the Illinois Central Railroad tracks two miles from Bloomington, the new plant will consist of a modern office building and a manufacturing area, including warehouse, laboratory, cafeteria, and personnel facilities. It will house more than two million dollars worth of manufacturing equipment. Construction plans call for completion of the new plant late next year.

though it shows great rigidity.

Q. How do certain materials reflect light falling on them?

A. Light consists of electromagnetic waves much like radio waves but vastly shorter as they are roughly 20 millionths of an inch in length. In the atoms of which all matter is made there are charged particles called electrons. When an electromagnetic wave goes past, these electrons are caused to move and their motion sets up another such wave, which is the reflected light. In some materials, such as metals, the electrons are quite free to move, so these are likely to be good reflectors. In others, especially those which are non-conductors of electricity, the electrons are less free to move about, and in general these are poor reflectors.

Q. Why is carbon monoxide poisonous?

A. Carbon monoxide may be formed when coal or other materials burn with an insufficient supply of air. It is poisonous because it prevents oxygen from being carried to the body in the blood stream. Ordinarily, in the lungs, oxygen from the air combines with hemoglobin, a substance in the blood, to form oxyhemoglobin, and in this way it is distributed to the bodily tissues. However, hemoglobin has about 300 times as much affinity for carbon monoxide as for oxygen. Thus if carbon monoxide is present the hemoglobin combines with it, rather than with oxygen, and thus is unable to perform its proper function.

Q. Is the center of the Earth liquid or solid?

A. The latest view seems to be that it has a solid iron core, about 1400 miles in diameter, which is surrounded by a layer of molten iron about 1300 miles deep. Much of our knowledge of the Earth's interior comes from a study of the behavior of earthquake waves. Some of these waves are in a forward and backward (longitudinal) direction, while others are from side to side (transverse). Only longitudinal waves pass through the Earth's core. Since a liquid will transmit such waves, but not those which are transverse, scientists have been led to believe that at least part of the core is liquid, even

New Appliance Models Announced

A COMPLETELY REDESIGNED line of room air conditioners, including models in four sizes—1 horsepower, $\frac{3}{4}$ horsepower, $\frac{1}{2}$ horsepower, and $\frac{1}{3}$ horsepower—has been announced for 1954 by the General Electric Company.

This is the most extensive room air conditioner line ever to be produced by the Company.

Harold B. Donley, general manager of the specialty refrigeration products department, said the design changes provide increased cooling and dehumidification, also a lower velocity air flow resulting in quieter operation.

The $\frac{3}{4}$ -horsepower size will also be available with reverse cycle operation for heating in cool weather as well as cooling in warm weather, employing the principle of the Weathertron (heat pump) developed by General Electric.

The three larger capacity models, which are identical in appearance, are characterized by new styling designed to blend harmoniously with the widest possible range of room decorative schemes and furnishings. The all-steel cabinet is finished in a rich, mahogany-grain coat of baked enamel and the ornamental grille has a gold finish.

New operating features of these three models include a powerful exhaust for the rapid removal of smoky or odor-laden air, and a single control for five comfort positions, including a setting for extra dehumidification on muggy days.

* * *

THE 1954 LINE of room air conditioners announced by General Electric will be produced at the Erie plant, Harold B. Donley, general manager of the specialty refrigeration products department, said.

Transfer of manufacture of the room air conditioners to Erie from the Bloomfield, N. J. plant will enable increased production of the units, Donley said. Room air conditioners eventually will be manufactured at the major appliance division's new Appliance Park now under construction at Louisville, Ky. Refrigerators and home food freezers are also being produced at the Erie works pending completion of Appliance Park facilities.

* * *

"FOOD AT YOUR FINGERTIPS" is the way the General Electric Company describes its latest refrigerator convenience feature—semi-circular shelves which rotate outward for fresh food accessibility, storage convenience, and easy cleaning.

The new-type shelves, which turn Lazy-Susan fashion, not only give table-top accessibility, but also are adjustable to varying heights, even when fully loaded. They can be raised or lowered in quarter-inch increments to accommodate items ranging from large dishes to small sardine cans without wasted space and permit more efficient use of shelves.

The revolutionary shelves, which are included in the two combination refrigerator-freezers, are only one of the features of the restyled 1954 GE refrigerator line which also includes an automatic defrosting model and five manual defrosting models, according to W. M. Timmerman, general manager of the household refrigerator department.

* * *

NEW GENERAL ELECTRIC RANGES for 1954 will, for the first time, offer five deluxe features on every model in the line.

These are push-button controls, new extra-high speed Calrod surface units, the new large-capacity wide-opening oven, a new Calrod "Focused-heat" broiler, and Calrod units throughout, with no open-coil heating units in any part of the ranges.

With these five deluxe features available in any model, the purchaser will have an opportunity to select the most convenient size range from 24, 36, and 40-inch models and will also have a choice of other convenience features in a line of eight standard models.

The new, wide-opening, large capacity, master oven first introduced this year in the new 24- and 36-inch ranges will be standard throughout the 1954 line. This oven has capacity for four eight-inch layers of cake on one rack and will cook an oven meal for as many as eighteen to twenty-four people. The oven measures 21 inches wide, 18 inches deep and 15 inches high. Its wide door opening and shallower depth permit quick, easy loading and unloading and facilitate cleaning. The new dimensions minimize waste space within the oven and substantially increase usable shelf area, according to J. R. Poteat, general manager of GE's range and water heater department.

* * *

A NEW, QUICK-LOADING, undercounter dishwasher that can be loaded without removal or sliding of the rack has been announced.

The GE dishwasher for 1954 features an open-center upper rack that permits loading of both the upper and lower racks at the same time, according to Harold T. Hulett, general manager of the company's electric sink and cabinet department. Glasses can be loaded and washed equally well in either rack, permitting up to 54 assorted size glasses to be washed at one time.

A control mechanism makes it possible to repeat, skip, or interrupt any stage in the automatic dishwashing cycle and permits the pre-heating of plates for serving hot food.

* * *

TWO DELUXE FOOD WASTE DISPOSERS featuring the safety Twistop control and a new standard model into which food waste can be fed continuously will comprise the General Electric Company's 1954 food waste disposer line.

Both deluxe models, the FA-4 and the FA-45, have a built-in switch which allows the unit to operate only when the shredding compartment is covered by the Twistop sink-stopper control securely locked in the "on" position.

The FA-45, two inches shorter than the FA-4, is sized to fit 90 per cent of existing sinks without alteration of drain connections, Harold T. Hulett, general manager of the company's electric sink and cabinet department, said. It can be installed with a high outlet trap where there is a minimum distance of five and one-half inches from the bottom of the sink bowl to the center line of the wall drain opening. Its shorter length permits installation in places where undersink obstructions, such as radiators, do not provide clearance for standard-size models.

Both the FA-4 and the FA-45 have the same shredder mechanism and a $\frac{1}{3}$ horsepower motor, and carry the same five-year protection plan. A water flow switch, which prevents the unit from operating except when the proper amount of cold water is running through, is available as an accessory at slight additional cost.

The unit is powered by a $\frac{1}{4}$ horsepower unit, instead of the $\frac{1}{3}$ horsepower unit of the FA-4 and FA-45 models. A water flow switch is available as an accessory at slight additional cost.

* * *

TWO NEW UPRIGHT FREEZERS—a 15-cubic-foot model with an in-the-door ice cream conditioner, and an 11-cubic-foot model with added convenience features—highlight the General Electric 1954 food freezer line. Two chest-type freezers, in 11- and 7-cubic foot sizes, complete the line.

Space saving compactness, improved user convenience features, and cabinets styled to harmonize with modern kitchen decorations were major considerations governing the design of the new freezers, according to Harold B. Donley, general manager of the specialty refrigeration products department. An example of the latter, he noted, is the use of green and copper color in the trim.

GE CLUB FALL REVUE TO FEATURE SIX ACTS

The complete program of six professional acts booked for the GE Club Fall Revue Nov. 7 and 8 were announced this week by Gordon L. Smith, entertainment chairman.

In addition to the Harmonicats and the Five White Guards previously announced, the other four acts scheduled for the show are: Sato, oriental juggler; the Whirlwinds, an acrobatic fivesome; the Petersens, roller skating artists, and Joanne and Stanley Kayne, comedy duo.

Billed as a juggler extraordinary, Sato is a picturesque figure who has performed throughout Europe and formerly owned the well known Sato Troupe. The Whirlwinds are a group of gals whose act of acrobatic stunts keeps moving at a fast pace.

Eye-catching costumes add to the skating act of the Petersens. Buddy Petersen will also act as master of ceremonies for the six shows. Highlighted as a "Miss and a Mis-fit," Joanne and Stanley Kayne deliver an act of singing and mimicry.

Tickets for the six shows to be presented the two days are available at the GE Club desk, Taylor St. employment office, and from the members of the entertainment committee. Shows will begin Saturday at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 8 at 1, 3, 5, and 7:30 p.m.

Employees may secure tickets free of charge for themselves and members of their immediate families by presenting their GE Club 1953-54 membership cards.

Members of the entertainment committee who will have tickets in addition to the chairman are: Gayle Griffith, Bldg. 26-4; Joe Wyss, Taylor St., Sect. 13; Glen Seabold, Bldg. 28-1; Buck Buchan, Bldg. 19-2; Art Brockmeyer, Bldg. 2-1; John August, Bldg. 22; Mamie Allen, Bldg. 4-5; Bob Glenn, Bldg. 26-2; Belle Buchan, Bldg. 2-2; Kenneth Redding, Taylor St., shipping; Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 17-4; Joe Gardt, Taylor St., office; Hubert Myers, Bldg. 21; Susie Jones, Winter St.; Charlie Wilt, GE Club, and Barbara Hyman, Bldg. 18-1.

Proceeds from vending machines located in the plants make it possible to present the Revue along with other activities of the GE Club.

THE BIG WIND SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST. by Rachel Mounsey

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Hazel Dilworth on the recent death of her sister. . . . A speedy recovery to Ward Hall, who had an auto accident last Friday evening. . . . Congratulations to Gladys Dunbar on her birthday this week. She was entertained Sunday with a birthday dinner. . . . Welcome back to Marjorie Ford, Alice Zumbun, and Marilyn Sprunger. . . . Welcome to Mary Camos and Bob Bowers, on days. . . . Congratulations to Lena Stump's daughter, who was married last week. . . . Geneva Harter attended the Ice Review at Indianapolis over the week-end. . . . Gladys Arms is quite proud of her new granddaughter. . . . Iris Allen was in Michigan over the week-end and toured the area where the tornado had hit. . . . Sarah Pulfer doesn't have to go fishing to get

The Whirlwinds

SPECIALTY MOTORS Shipping—Receiving—Order Service by Eileen Fitch

We donned our "bib and tucker" to attend the dinner in honor of Mr. Saurbaugh's retirement. Today he winds up some 36 years' service with General Electric. Besides his present day co-workers, many of the pensioners were on hand to extend their very best wishes. Mr. (Shorty) Becker acted as master of ceremonies for the evening, supplying the crowd with plenty of laughs. We really enjoyed the wonderful job you did, "Shorty". We have tried very hard to think of the appropriate things to say about Mr. Saurbaugh upon his retirement, and find there are so many things we could say that space wouldn't permit. So here's to you, Roy, Charles, LeRoy, Mr. Saurbaugh or—

WINNIE

The days gone by, now seem so few,
When he was a "Rookie" his job so new.

fish. Some good people gave her a whole tray of fish all cleaned ready to eat. That just goes to show you there are a few kind people left in this world. . . . Nellie Wiggins is really thrilled now that her husband is supposed to land in the States this week-end from Korea.

The traffic King, he grew to be,
For he learned traffic from A to Z.
For 36 years, he shouldered the task
On many rough seas, our Skipper was cast.
Labor and toil, worry and strain
All were a part of the traffic game.
And still those years seem to hold
Memories dear, as he has told.
Friends he won, and romance true
For "Cupid" worked in traffic, too.

In the years ahead, live a life of ease,
You've earned this time to do as you please.
With a loyal record, the job now through
We're glad we shared the years with you.
And on this occasion, your final day,
We say so-long, as you go your way.
The best of luck in all you do,
And may health and happiness follow you.

We will miss Marilyn Moore, who left us Friday to join her husband who is stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas. Best of luck to you, Marilyn. . . . We wonder if Marie Renz suffers from lapses of memory. She rides the same bus every morning, but for some inexplicable reason one morning she was waiting at the wrong place. The bus driver was ready to pass her up, when Jim Vevia saw her. He rang the buzzer and told the driver, "That lady rides this bus every morning." The driver answered somewhat sarcastically, "Why doesn't she stand in the proper place?" Jim replied, "I only know the lady sir, I'm not able to furnish character references."

In Ketchikan, Alaska, the total annual rainfall adds up to 12½ feet—not all at once, of course.

Joanne and Stanley Kayne

Sato

The Petersens

WIRE RAVELINGS

TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

Slim Walters loves tomatoes but he hates to get bitten by the farmer's dog while he gathers them. Maybe the dog doesn't like Slim's looks! Anyway, if that continues he would rather do without the tomatoes. . . . Al Streb has a way of saving money but it surely can be embarrassing to his wife. The other week he gave his wife what he thought was a check and put the stub in his billfold. When his wife bought the groceries the manager explained that is customary to cash the check and not the stub. Maybe Al is saving for a new Ford next year. . . . Emery McDaniels wants everyone to know he hasn't shot any tame ducks this year, especially on Crooked Lake. . . . Birthday greetings to Tom Hutsell on November 2 from the Birthday Club, which likes chocolate cake with 7-minute frosting. . . . Bill Rohe is raising bees in his wren house, but he had to get stung to find it out. His next move will be to contact "Bee Man" Hoover to learn how bees make their own comb and produce honey. Then Bill's wife wants to learn how to remove the honey from the comb with a dipper. . . . George Miller says that a clutch on a drawing machine is altogether different than one on a car, especially when it is assembled by Sam Ratcliff. . . . Virgil Nash's brother-in-law, E. H. Schlemmer, was seen giving out coffee samples when he gained a daughter-in-law and a grandchild on one week-end. When Virgil told his fellow-workers they all wanted to know why he didn't bring in some extra samples. . . . Steve Bobay's amusement center is open only during Indian Summer. Rides for kids of all ages are located across from the Elmhurst Park. . . . Amel Beck is surely busting his buttons because the new grandson was named "Amel" after Grandpa. . . . Lois Connett went to the Purdue-Michigan State game and enjoyed it immensely, but she feels like she had attended the Refrigerator Bowl. She hasn't warmed up yet.

MOTOR GENERATOR STATIC

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK: "A job becomes work only when you worry about it."—Josephine Schaeffer.

ECHOES OF OUR OPEN HOUSE. Mike Sorgen was conducting a tour with 18 boys and 2 girls. Noting the girls loitering at the rear of the group, Mike called to them, "If you come to the front I can tell you something." One of the girls gazed at Mike with big blue eyes and replied, "Oh, I'll bet you could." . . . "Junior Erosius started his tour with 20 students. He went along the route describing points of interest until he decided to check his group. Somewhere along the way he had lost all but five students. Ben Stillman could not understand why all the girls gazed at him with awe and admiration as they passed. He did not understand until informed that "Pappy" Archbold was spreading a rumor that Ben was a Notre Dame fullback. . . . P.S. Mike started out with 20 in his group and ended up with 38. What did he have to offer? . . . SMART: Jim Stouder turned in our wise saying of the week. Jim says, "A tack is no different than a human being. Neither will go farther than its head will let it."

RETIREMENT CONGRATULATIONS—Robert Walsh reads a letter of congratulations on his retirement to H. Wichern, H. Becker, D. Bragg, C. Comes and E. Arthur. Mr. Walsh joined the company as a Winter St. plant employee in 1942. He was employed in Bldg. 17-1 before he left on retirement.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

WE BID FAREWELL to our secretary, Jean Stokke. We sure will miss her. To replace her we welcome Bonnie Lepper, formerly of 17-4. . . . DEV. DRAFTING wishes to thank Virginia Mosser for her birthday candy. . . . CINERAMA. If anyone is going to Chicago to see the show "Cinerama" we suggest you contact Jerry Duryee on just where would be a good place to sit. As a result of him being in the first row he feels like he was really in the show. He suggests you see it from a distance. . . . WE WISH A SPEEDY RECOVERY to Mrs. Harold Dimke. . . . RECUPERATING AT HOME. We are happy to report Bill Pringle is now recuperating at his home, and is progressing quite favorably. . . . WELCOME BACK. Now that Uncle Sammy is through with Lawrence Diller, he has been given his old job back in specialty motor drafting. You look a little browner, healthier and happier we think. We are happy to have you rejoin us. Lawrence spent 14 months in Korea. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Wes Powers on November 1.

. . . CONGRATULATIONS TO THE WIER ANDERSONS. They are the very proud parents of a baby boy (their fourth son). P.S. They had a girl's name picked out. Cheer up, four boys are four times as nice as one boy—and four times as noisy. . . . LAST MONDAY we welcomed back Carl Leitch, after being out for illness since Sept. 18. You look as good as new, Carl. . . . WANDERLUST Julian Stark just returned from a week in San Diego and this past week he is vacationing in Mississippi.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

BLDG. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

Ralph Root is back from his vacation. Mrs. Root and he spent the time visiting and fishing. . . . He is now called Grandpa Glen. Glen Goshorn is the proud grandpa of a 8 lb. 14 oz. boy named Richard Douglas. He will be called Rickie. . . . At least we thought he would have "one to call his own," a paper doll we mean. Lenny Reuss was caught cutting out some pictures the other day. We thought he had gone loco and was cutting out paper dolls, but it was all right. The pictures were airplanes. . . . Ahoy! Girls! Jim Feber, our playboy, has a new car. At least, it is new to him. A 1949 Chevy. . . . LeRoy Cook picked Willie Irmischer up and gave him an airplane swing. Now, he is called the "flying Dutchman." . . . Lucky Rudy Rastenburg won the check pool, this week. . . . We welcome Frank Kartholl back from vacation. He didn't seem to be very much rested from it. As to what he did, he could answer it better than we. . . . Terry Bowman is back from his honeymoon. He and the lucky Betty Lou Boxell were married Sunday evening, October 18, at Zanesville. We wish them all the luck there is and may all their troubles be little ones. . . . A big surprise for Phil Burney. The other day he opened his locker and out flew a bat. . . . Herb Wendt believes in comfort at all times. At lunch time he can be seen sitting with his feet up on Zuber's desk, smoking a big cigar.

"Good work makes beautiful things and good work lasts."—Lord Dunsany.

SMOKEHOUSE

SAYINGS

BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Well, it won't be long now. That new TV station is just about completed. Shorty Kleinrichart is wondering how they go about erecting a high tower like that. He's puzzled as to whether they start from the bottom and go up or vice versa. That TV is gonna change a lot of people's habits though. It has already affected Henry Wells, "The honeymoon is over," says Henry. When he and Mildred were married a couple of years ago she told him that she would be deliciously happy just to sit and look at him every night. Now with the completion of the station near at hand she has bought a TV set. And as further proof that the fire of love is now just a smudge pot, she traded in the old love seat for two TV chairs. Oh, well, we all must give way to progress. Even Ferroll (Cupid) Hill has put electricity in his house and is changing over from his old gramophone to radio. . . . Waymon Morton almost got run over by our office girl, Mildred Messer, the other morning as he was going home. Walking down an alley he heard a roar behind him, and thinking it was a motorcycle he stepped aside far enough to let it pass. Zoom, she passed him, giving him a glancing blow and spinning him around like a top. Better look around and see what's coming after this, Waymon, no matter how much noise it makes. . . . Bouncy Becker received a telephone call from his wife last Thursday morning. "Oh, Bouncy," says Mrs. B., "please come home right away." "There's a big bird on the doorstep beating its wings on the door." "Oh, oh," says Bouncy, "that is the stork." "Damn it, now why couldn't he have come last Thursday so's we could have gotten some of that free GE stock?" "Don't be afraid," says Bouncy, "I'll be home just as soon as I finish the base I am working on. Vorhees is waiting on it." Minutes later Bouncy was zooming out the front door with his coat on backwards. "Nervous, who's nervous," says he. "This ain't new to me, I have two little girls already." P.S. He's got three little girls now.

2-2 TALES

Belle Buchan

Ken Hyman is strutting his stuff all over the place since Mrs. Hyman's picture was in the paper. . . . Fred Kuker is just one of the many honest employees at General Electric. Fred put a quarter in the candy machine and received three quarters back in change. But he went right to the concession man and returned the extra money. . . . The Castle family is going to continue, another generation at least. Vern's new grandson made his appearance and confidentially granddad is hoping that they will name the new leader of the clan, Vernon. . . . Sue Greenlee, a former clerk in our office, didn't quite make the Baby Derby, but then after all her new son weighed nearly ten pounds. Congratulations to the new parents. The father works in Bldg. 17-2 tool room. . . . Don't forget the big dance at the Club Saturday night. It's free, and prizes besides. . . . No, the scalped gentleman is not a visiting Indian. It is just Walt Dreyer, who says that he is saving money on haircuts.

We didn't all come over on the same ship, but we're all in the same boat.—Bernard Baruch.

MEMBERS OF SECTION GAC SECTION 13 safety committee who recently saw their section complete 4 million man hours without a lost time accident are (first row, seated) Carl Crasper, Ruth Smith, Lois Gordon, Josephine Eme, John Mullaney, Edwin Kimmel; (second row, standing) Lloyd Fosnight, Basil Bowley, Gerald Smith, Harold Koehlinger (Supt), Chet Price, Mark Gotsch, William Wright, Paul Boedecker, James Workman, Richard Pemberton, Raymond Amick, Leonard Boner, Harold Hart, Norman Bender, George App; (third row) Paul Wilcoxson, Fred Kryder, Alfred Bobay, Harry Bailey, Harry Koska, John Junk; Eugene Kilty; Charles Sherland and Rosamond Schooley were absent when the picture was taken.

GE CLUB PRESENTS 100 SUMMER SPORTS AWARDS AT FIRST ATHLETIC BANQUET

Approximately 100 winners of summer sports awards were honored this week at the first athletic banquet conducted by the GE Club Tuesday evening in the club auditorium.

Members of eight softball teams and three golf teams attended the banquet and were presented awards by Erv Huth, chairman of softball; Red Braden, golf chairman, and Bill Schible, club president.

Len Davis, sports director of radio station WGL, was the principal speaker. He presented his forecast of area sports, both professional and amateur, for the coming year.

Three types of awards were given along with trophies to the winners. Jackets with the GE Club insignia on them were presented winners of major sports, which are those conducted outside of the club program. Members of the major league softball, Ham League softball, and Owl Industrial softball league received jackets.

Windbreaker jackets were presented the championship teams in GE Club leagues and shirts were awarded league winners. Windbreakers went to the interdepartment softball champs and to the Junior Federation League team. The Junior Fed team also displayed the three trophies they won for championship play during the season.

The Monday Afternoon golf team received windbreakers for their championship score at the end of the season as did the Owl league golf team.

Shirts went to golf team members on the Monday evening, Monday afternoon, Owl, Industrial, Tuesday evening, and Wednesday evening teams.

Four trophies were presented runners-up in the GE Club golf tourney.

Guests attending the banquet included the club board of directors and committee chairmen, C. H. Rinne, general manager of Specialty Transformer Department; L. C. Swager, manager of employee and plant community relations, and Robert Wylie, manager of contributing manufacturing in the GAC Motor Department.

Those who did not attend the banquet but are scheduled to receive one of the awards may pick them up at the GE Club desk.

TOOL BITS BLDG. 19-4 and 5 by Don Clark

Linberg Bryant, dynamic TV salesman, has hit an unsurmountable obstacle in the person of Jack Hurless. Jack has all of Lindy's potential customers going to Toledo for sets at a fantastic reduction in price. Just use your SAL, Lindy. . . . The east end of 19-4 was quiet this week as Glenn Kline and wife joined the young honeymooners in viewing Niagara Falls. . . . We extend sympathy to Clarence, Irwin, and Wilmer Wiebe on the death of their father and to Henry Frey in the passing of his wife. . . . It seems that TV is everyone's interest, as you will note by this column today. One of our spies reports that John Littlejohn, who was head of our inspection department for many years, has now installed a huge sized TV set. Russell Dunton has us wondering. His TV antenna does little good except impress his neighbors. He doesn't have a set. TV sets are sometimes painful issues. Earl Leichty poked fun at Bob Moss-hammer's set last week but he didn't get away with it. Bob supposedly forgot to pick him up for a promised ride downtown. Even with TV, people have to eat and Donald Martz is no exception. However, he is ready to accept any dinner invitation as his wife is not at home just now. She took a little trip to Italy. . . . If you ever get hungry and are broke visit Bob Pickelt's Pantry in Bldg. 19-4. The other day he had three pieces of cake and nine packages of cookies.

. . . Lloyd Welbaum has proved that he, like all good Republicans, has two pair of shoes. The other morning he wore one shoe from each pair. . . . Bob Mosshammer, who loves his coffee, searched everywhere and accused many when he couldn't find his thermos bottle. Was his face red when he found it in his dinner pail. . . . Charles Wrisk knows how to keep his wife sweet. He scrubbed their bathroom floor last week. . . . Paul Richter impressed the boys last week by pulling five dollar bills out of the air. If you're ever broke you might keep our magician friend in mind. . . . Clarence Meeks brought some effective sore throat medicine to work with him last week. He bragged it up so that Ralph Foust and Max Baron used the whole bottle before Clarence went home. . . . We wish Mrs. Jim Hoppel a quick recovery from her recent hospitalization. . . . Willie Garman thrilled his team by rolling a 630 score in bowling the

BOWLING TOURNAMENT BLANKS AVAILABLE AT GE CLUB DESK

Entry blanks for the ninth annual GE Employees Men's Bowling Tourney are available at the GE Club desk, Joe Kramer, bowling chairman, reported today.

The tourney is set up for Nov. 21, 22, 28, and 29 on Club alleys. Entry blanks must be returned by Friday, Nov. 13. To enter, employees must have an established average, regardless of the alleys they use. They must be members of the American Bowling Congress, which sanctions the tournament. Entrants will be allowed to compete only once in each event.

The four events of the tourney are five-man teams, doubles, singles, and all-events.

The GE Club will donate $150 to cover first place prizes in each of the four events. Keglers who wish any further information may contact Kramer, Bldg. 4-5, Ext. 2180; or Les Shroyer, Bldg. 31-1, Ext. 2112.

other night. It was his first game above 600. . . . Bob Truelove is currently appearing in the minstrel show at Laotto in the important role of Mr. Cranberry. A stop at Bob's bench gives a sample of his acting. . . . Walter Greiner is claiming it wasn't his wife that hit him and knocked him cold for two hours, giving him a ride in an ambulance. An ordinary crank flew off of a compressor engine but it didn't knock him cold or cause any ride in the ambulance. . . . We understand that Chick Abbott's daughter, Eileen, lives near the new television antenna. So we now know how Chick is always up to date on all the facts and figures of the tower's height. . . . For a complete tour of Kentucky and Louisville (pronounced Lo-Velle) see Wilson Garman. We understand Willie absorbed so many historical points and scenic views on his week-end trip that he is planning to write a book. He regrets

Action Starts Thursday In Main Auto Cage Loop

With one week remaining until action in the Main Auto Owl Industrial Basketball League is launched, GE team manager, Benny Penkul has high hopes for his boys.

He has reported the return of quite a few veteran squad members as well as some fine prospective newcomers. The six teams in the league will play a 20-game card this season at the GE Club. All games will take place Thursday mornings, with three games each morning. All six teams will see action each week.

Meeting the Salisbury quintet, GE will open its season next week at 11 a.m. Thursday.

All persons interested in watching the game are invited to attend them, Manager Penkul stated.

that he didn't see or bet on the Kentucky Derby. . . . Elmer Auman says his trip to Dallas, Texas, was fine, but dry. In fact it rained in the air above Dallas but the rain never reached them. It evaporated passing through the dry air. . . . Phyllis Jacquay is threatening the public again. Last year she learned to drive and now she has bought a new Ford.

Johnny Lukens

Initial GE Club Square Dance Tomorrow Eve

The first of 13 square dances scheduled for the 1953-54 GE Club entertainment program will open tomorrow evening at the club auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

Johnny Lukens and his Rhythm Rascals will provide music until 11:30 p.m. This band has been signed for the entire season of dances. Open to GE employees and their friends, the dances are part of an enlarged club entertainment program slated this year.

At the opening dance tomorrow evening a Halloween theme will be highlighted with decorations and attendance prizes will be awarded for the initial informal dance only.

35-YEAR ANNIVERSARY—Elmer C. Davidson (third from right) is honored for 35 years of service with the company by a group of his friends. Left to right are W. K. Williams, M. H. Kline, C. A. Brenner, C. E. Slater, and L. D. Hodell. Mr. Davidson, who joined GE in 1917, is employed in the General Tool Section, Bldg. 19-5.

Famous Keglers Give Tips For Improving Bowling Game

A young lady who had never bowled was watching Marion Ladewig defend her National Individual Match game Championship at the Chicago Coliseum in December, 1952. As the slender Grand Rapids, Mich., housewife poured in strike after strike without seeming to work up a good sweat, the non-bowler was prompted to remark, "Why this is a simple game. Anyone can be a goow bowler."

Undoubtedly a few minutes on a bowling alley, attempting to knock down the ten pins, would change her opinion of the game's simplicity. She'd soon learn that to be a bowling champion you must master the correct fundamentals and then practice them over and over and over again.

Fortunately for her and for millions of other bowling enthusiasts, you don't have to be an expert to enjoy this wonderful sport. More than 20,000,000 Americans of all ages and occupations will be taking part in bowling during the 1953-54 season. With all the industrial, office, fraternal, high school, housewives, mixed and other bowling leagues counted, more Americans take part in bowling each year than in any other competitive sport.

Raising Your Average

Everyone who bowls enjoys the pleasant relaxation and friendly competition which the game affords regardless of what scores they roll. But everyone can derive a little more enjoyment by raising his average a few pins.

"And raising your average a few pins is a simple matter," according to Joe Wilman, a three-time ABC champion and current National Doubles titleholder. "You can boost your score 10 pins a game simply by turning in one more spare than you are now missing."

"Everyone has more trouble with one particular leave than with any other," continues Wilman. "With most right-handed bowlers it's the No. 10 pin. They can't keep their ball on the alley long enough to pick up the No. 10 pin spare, or else they don't shoot at this difficult pin from the proper angle."

"Yet, I very seldom see a bowler practicing his weakness in bowling," remarks the gum-chewing veteran who won the National Individual title in 1945. "I don't see bowlers spending an hour or so rolling against the No. 10 pin or against any other leave which gives them trouble. Yet, they might spend an hour at a golf driving range straightening out a hook which has developed in their iron shots. Or they might practice putting until darkness if that is their golf weakness."

Week-End Practice

Wilman's suggestion is that a bowler spend an hour or so practicing on the week-end or at some other time when the alleys are not filled with leagues. Some establishments have special arrangements to accommodate such practice bowling, charging by the hour rather than for each game. If you can conquer your chief bowling weakness and add one successful spare to your score each game, you have raised your average 10 pins.

Another howling champion who has advice for boosting your average is Don Carter, current National Singles Champion. Carter believes most bowlers underestimate the importance of footwork.

"Too many people concentrate entirely on how they release the ball," comments Carter, "and they never give a thought to their footwork in moving up to the foul line. Yet, it is absolutely impossible to score well consistently unless you develop a smooth and coordinated approach."

"Although I use and recommend a four-step approach," continues the young Detroit star, "some people might prefer either a three-step or a five-step approach. Use whichever one is most comfortable for you."

"In the four-step approach," adds Carter, "take your stance in a comfortable position with the knees flexed and the body's weight well back on the heels. I prefer to hold the ball directly in front of me about waist high. The first step is a normal walking step with the right foot, simultaneously accompanied by a pushing away of the ball from the body."

"The second step, with the left foot, again is a normal stride. By this time, the ball is dropping naturally into the downswing."

Timing and Control

"As the right foot comes forward for the third step, the ball reaches the top of its backswing, and your right arm should be straight behind you. Don't swing the ball too high on the backswing in the mistaken belief that extra speed will knock down more pins. On the contrary, it will probably ruin your timing and control which are essential to better scoring."

"The fourth and final step," says Carter, "is a long, sliding motion with the left foot as the right arm delivers the ball. The movements of your upper body must be coordinated with the movements of your legs throughout your approach."

And the man who helped the Pfeiffer team of Detroit win the 1953 ABC team title concludes with, "The two key words in footwork are coordination and relaxation."

The advice of Wilman and Carter applies to both men and women alike, but Marion Ladewig, who has resigned as National Women's Individual Champion in 1950-51-52-53, has a few words of wisdom which apply chiefly to the weaker sex.

Strictly for Girls

"Among the most common faults which a woman bowler develops is the tendency to rush her footwork," says Marion. "Regardless of how many steps she uses in her approach, the average lady bowler generally arrives at the foul line before her right arm is ready to deliver the ball. This lack of timing can be avoided if the bowler will concentrate on making the first two steps of her four-step approach a bit slower than the final two."

SAYS FAREWELL—Mable G. Stovall displays a GE iron, given by her co-workers as a retirement gift, at a party in her honor. Mrs. Stovall came to GE in 1939 as a paper making clerk in Bldg. 19-3. She was a general clerk in Bldg. 31-1 at retirement.

Another common error which Marion has detected in many women's games is the habit of not bending the knees enough as the ball is released. "I've seen many ladies slide into their deliveries with both knees almost rigid. They bend their backs as they release the ball, but they do not bend at the knees. The most immediate result from such stiff knees is a lack of balance, and where balance is lacking, the delivery of the ball is not likely to be a smooth and rhythmic motion."

Marion's suggested remedy for ladies who have trouble hending the knees is to practice going through the approach and delivery without the ball. "Just concentrate on bending the knees comfortably in the final step and slide," adds the attractive Mrs. Ladewig. "After you've smoothed out your approach without the ball, try it with the ball, and you'll be surprised at how much improvement you've made."

Stylist Ned Day

As for smooth approaches and deliveries, bowling has never seen a stylist to equal the great Ned Day. Five times the National Singles Champion, Ned also won the National Doubles crown twice and has shared in the National Team Championship five times. The West Allis (Wis.) Whizz has been "Mr. Bowling" for many years, and his contributions to the game were recognized when he was made a member of bowling's Hall of Fame.

In his many clinics and exhibitions over the years Ned has probably taught more people the proper howling fundamentals than any other human. "I've been greatly surprised, too," says Ned, "at the large number of bowlers who have incorrect ideas about how to throw a hook. Many people think a hook comes naturally or not at all. Others believe they have to twist their wrist to make the ball hook into the pocket."

"Actually," says the man who

COUNT OFF SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST. by Marguerite Stahl

Maurice Roe saw a real Indian at the Conservation Jubilee and got scared. But not bad enough to keep him from eating several Buffalo sandwiches . . . Happy birthday to Bernadine Warner. . . . Louise Sinn found out that a Cadillac key would fit a Kaiser ignition, after breaking a key in the trunk. She should also learn that she must not shuck corn on Company time. . . . We hope Clara Gidley and Goldie Weikel will soon be back with us. . . . Our sincere sympathy to Glenn Miller on the death of his mother at Delphi, Ind. . . . Velma Ritter entertained Laura Gerber, Peggy Bandt, Linda Wahrer, and Ruth Cavander at a lovely dinner at her home Thursday evening. . . . We are happy that Ruby Stoops is home from the hospital, after her recent surgery, and wish her a very speedy recovery. . . . Our sympathy to Hilda LeCoque on the death of her father, Ebon Brown, in Florida. He was one of our retired GE employees. . . . Thanks, Betty Burch, for the chocolate cake, but we're still looking forward to the hickory nut you promised us. . . . Hillard Moore must have been excited over our 75th celebration at GE for he signed his check stub and tried to cash it at the pay truck. He found they were on the beam for they asked for the check.

has rolled 75 perfect 300 games, "a hook will follow if you release the ball on the upswing with a definite lifting motion of the arm. As the ball is brought forward in the delivery, the 'V' formed by the thumb and forefinger of the right hand should be on top of the ball and pointing directly down the alley toward your objective. As the ball is sent out over the foul line, the thumb comes out of the ball first, and the fingers last as the hand continues upward. This lifting motion of the fingers as they come out of the ball supplies the necessary spin to the ball, causing it to hook into the pocket."

Avoid Dropping Ball

"Be sure you avoid dropping the ball behind the foul line or setting it down on the alley," cautions Day. "The ball should be released on the upswing rather than at the bottom of the arm's arc on the downswing. Send the ball out over the foul line with a definite lifting motion with the fingers."

Another important factor in a successful delivery, according to Day is the follow-through. "As in almost every other sport," adds Ned, "the follow-through is important in bowling. Once the ball has left your fingers, you should continue your arm in its upward motion until the hand is about head high. This insures you against dumping the ball on the alley without the proper finger lift."

Following the advice of Ned Day, Don Carter, Joe Wilman, and Marion Ladewig may not put your bowling scores in a class with theirs, but it should help you raise your average from 10 to 25 pins. Remember, constant practice of these correct fundamentals is necessary. Roll a few games each week in addition to your league bowling. These practice sessions are the place to experiment and improve your game.

No money is better spent than what is laid out for domestic satisfaction. A man is pleased that his wife is dressed as well as other people, and the wife is pleased that she is so dressed.—Johnson.

Frank Owen
COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

"He's the only foreman I ever saw who could get any work out of Wilton!"

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 19-1.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, November 2, 1953

FOR SALE

PUPPIES—Five 8-week-old Cocker Spaniels. Call H-78388 after 5:30 p.m. 4307 S. E. Anthony Wayne Drive.

MOF BUCKET—Galvanized foot operated roller mop bucket. Used twice. Cost $6.95 new. $2. A-58062.

CHAIR—Tilt-back. Living room suite, gas range, cabinet radio, table and chairs. 1430 Wabash Ave.

DINING ROOM SUITE—Nine-piece walnut. Excellent condition. H-65314 after 4 p.m.

RUG AND PAD—11 ft. 3 in. x 12 ft. Alexander Smith. Floral pattern. Elgin railroad watch. 30 gallon range boiler with gas steam heater. 2521 Genesee Rd., off Sandpoint Rd., after 6 p.m.

STORM WINDOWS—Screens; size 34 x 50 and 34 x 38 1/4. A-60101.

TIRES—Two Allstate, 6.50-16. Four ply. $20. K-4297.

REFRIGERATOR—Kelvinator. 10 years old. New motor; $20. H-44433 after 5 p.m.

CAR—1940 Plymouth. New paint, good tires, good motor, heater, low mileage. H-02314.

STOCK TRAILER—Two wheeled. Good condition. Can be seen at 2622 Fox Avenue. H-75504.

COIL SPRINGS—And felt mattress for full size single bed. Good condition. $10. E-71382.

PROJECTOR—Blower cooled for all 2x2 slides. Extra 200 watt bulb included. Practically new; $25. H-57110.

DESK AND CHAIR—Mahogany with glass top. Baby bed and mattress. Bathette. 2218 Thompson. A-65255.

CAR—1948 hydromatic Pontiac. Radio and heater. Excellent condition. $680. H-69581.

BOY'S WINTER COAT SET—Three piece. Navy blue wool. Size 6X. Excellent condition. E-71382.

BOY'S SUIT—Brown nylon one piece; lined. Cap to match. Size 2. 83. Boy's navy blue gabardine coat; lined. Leggings and cap to match. Size 4. 85. H-49492.

BEGINNER'S ACCORDION—12 bass. Like new. $20. 4018 S. Clinton. H-65474.

TIRES—Two 6x16 snow grip with tubes and wheels for Plymouth. Also, heating stove and used 6.70x15 tires. A-59604.

GIRL'S RAINCOAT—Size 6 or 7. Green with plaid trimmed hood. $4. H-28755.

CAR—1941 Pontiac four door. Good condition. A-60825 after 5:30 p.m.

TOP COAT—Man's new tan; water repellent. Size 36. H-24352.

DRAPES—Four pair; floral. Excellent condition and extra long. A-66931.

CAR—1941 Chevy Club Coupe. Radio, heater, and new paint. Priced to sell. 918 LaPort Street.

PAPER HANGING OUTFIT—Complete including plank and all tools with case. $10. A-97771.

BED SPRINGS—Twin size; $3. Bath-room wash bowl. Good condition; $5. 1011 Maumee Ave.

MEN'S SUITS—Two size 36R. Also, several pair ladies' shoes, size 7 1/2 AA in a variety of colors. K-4554 or A-77155.

STORM WINDOWS—Two size 24 in. x 32 in. Like new. Reasonable. H-48443.

COTTAGE—On Pretty Lake. Three rooms and one acre of ground. Good well. Reasonable. H-24266.

LADIES' SHOES—Two pair, black and navy heels. Size 7 1/2 AA. Good condition. Reasonable. A-50563.

TYPEWRITER—Three-month old Smith-Corona. Gray finish. Can be used as a typewriter or set up as desk style. Cost $135. Will sell for $75. Red leather desk chair. Full length Bombay gray fur coat. Size 46. A-39323.

BED SPRINGS—Twin size. H-74343.

FAST MERCURY—10 Hurricane with quicksilver unit. Excellent condition. A good buy. H-65451. 516 E. Sutherland St.

GIRL'S CLOTHING—Including Kenwood coats, dresses, skirts, blouses, and shoes. Sizes 8 to 12 years. Reasonable. H-75662.

WASHER—Deluxe Bendix; $100. Mahogany upright Packard piano; $50. Drop head typewriter desk with drawers; $20. E-72100 evenings.

PUMP GUNS—One 12-gauge, one 16-gauge pump, one 20-gauge double, one 20-gauge pump, one 25-20 pump. One pair field glasses. 2015 Hillside.

BICYCLE—26-inch. Good condition. $16. A-96712.

HOUSE TRAILER—17 foot, like new, four months old. Outside aluminum; electric brakes and controls. Sleeps four. Reasonable. H-9802.

OAK FRENCH DOORS—Two. Beveled plate glass. Size 2 ft. 6 in. x 6 ft. 8 in. x 1 1/4 in. One double bed springs. H-1861.

YOUTH BED—Maple. Innerspring mattress. One studio couch. K-3316.

KITCHEN TABLE—And four chairs. Green and white. A-57322.

WASHER—1945 ABC wringer type. Excellent condition. $40. H-67238.

CAR—1941 Chevrolet two-door, special deluxe. 1112 Windom St. E-35262.

ELECTRIC TRAIN—Lionel 027. Extra cars, electric couplers. Also, switches, and track. Reasonable. A-87012.

TABLE—Mahogany drop-leaf. Rust corduroy dress, size 12. Ladies' gray wool suit, size 16. Velvetlander camera. Ladies' diamond ring. K-5691.

ELECTRIC RANGE—Hotpoint. 37 inches. Four years old; $65. H-0864 after 6 p.m.

LADIES' DRESS FORM—Size 16-18. Complete with hardware and stand. Excellent condition. $5. H-70563.

AUTOMATIC WASHER—Whirlpool with Suds-Miser. In excellent condition. Fine appearance. Hamilton automatic gas clothes dryer. Like new. H-4598.

CHEMISTRY SET—Never been used. Cost $9.95, will sell for $4. Also, 9x12 blue figured rug. All wool; $25. H-20832 after 4:30 p.m.

MATERNITY DRESS—Dark red. Green maternity jumper. Size 16. Reasonable. H-23755.

POTATOES—Katahdin. Field run, $1 per bushel, or $2 per hundred pounds, graded. Churubusco 2179.

BICYCLE—Boy's 26 in. $12. Six storm windows; 34 in. x 55 in. Three storm windows; 33 in. x 68 in. $2 each. H-46683 after 4 p.m.

FURNACE CONTROL—With thermostat. 90 ft. of ornamental fence and 6.50 x 16 tire and tube; like new. H-60025.

PAINT SPRAYER—One-fourth h.p. direct drive diaphragm compressor. H-55831.

WINTER COAT—Boy's Stratojac, size 12. Like new. Reasonable. H-57774.

MISCELLANEOUS

RETIRED EMPLOYEE to occasionally help me clean Squares Hall. A-68625 any time.

WOULD LIKE to watch children while their mothers work. Nice young and other children. $10 a week or $2 a day. E-37654.

FOR TRADE

PAINT SPRAYER—Like new piston type, with motor. Want a small transformer type welder. K-2288.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE—Riders, or exchange ride from Kendallville, Ind. to Broadway, 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Oland Autenrieth, phone 1303.

RIDE WANTED—From Pettit Lafayette area to Taylor St. for 8 a.m. shift. E-28461 after 7 p.m.

RIDE WANTED—For girl passenger from Auburn to Fort Wayne and return. Second trick. Anita Carnahan, Ext. 390.

RIDE WANTED—From Broadway to North Highlands, 11:38 p.m. Val Hirschev, Ext. 2125.

WANTED

GIRL'S BIKE—In good condition. A-66931.

LADIES' BOWLING BALL—14 pound. K-4130 after 4 p.m. or H-8803.

SNOW SUIT JACKET—Or coat suitable for school wear. Girl's, size 6X. No leggings. A-58062.

APARTMENT—Modern three room furnished. With private bath and entrance. Available between November 1 and 12. Dick Fawley, K-3474.

APARTMENT OR HOUSE—Two bedrooms. Either furnished or unfurnished. For rent with couple with year old baby. References. E-7431, Ext. 549.

WHEEL CHAIR—H-78191.

FOR RENT

UNFURNISHED APARTMENT—Three rooms, private bath, utilities furnished. Adults. 1317 Oneida.

SLEEPING ROOM—Hot and cold water in room. Innerspring mattress, private entrance. Use of phone. On bus line. 1030 W. Washington. A-6024.

ROOMS FOR GIRLS—One with double bed and one with twin beds. Oil heat. Shower or bath. One block to GE bus. H-5471.

TOP FLOOR TOPICS

BLDG. 26-5

by Jack Lea

Are any of you TV owners having difficulty picking up Waterloo on your sets? Louie Sordelet claimed he hadn't as yet been able to receive it. Walt Mertz and I informed Louie that we were going to wait until Waterloo had their station built and were televising before we tuned them in! ... Best wishes to Katie Somers and Brownie the electrician, who recently became Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown. ... SEEN—Marge Gross and Elaine Guiff looking over the milk machine — searching for straws, no double. ... Dick Pierce and Robert Hawk were seen at the blood donor center doing their part

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Holly Mee missed his calling, he should have been a dentist. He has used a pair of pliers twice to pull a tooth for George Deihm. ... Alma Volz and Lou McCogge followed some girls to 6-2 during the fire drill. On their way back they became lost so they took the elevator, only to return to 6-1. They finally got back up to 6-4. Was it a mistake? ... Anyone wanting ash trays emptied and washed see Dody Klinger. She is very efficient that way. ... We welcome Mary Funk to 2 x 35 and hope she enjoys her work. ... Cehris Darling and Marge Goodrich were visiting Daisy Ford last Thursday evening. Daisy was feeling good and seemed to be like her old self again. She said to tell everyone hello and asked that they come to see her. ... We all know Paris has predicted shorter hemlines for the ladies, but Alice Flaugh set her waist line up a few inches the other day when she wore a borrowed apron. ... Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sarason on their 33rd wedding anniversary. We hear Freddie really splurged for the occasion. ... We all missed Bertha Poole last week, and when we started inquiring, discovered she had taken her third week of vacation. ... Marie Devarex is on the sick list. Hope you get back soon, Marie. ... Our deepest sympathy to Margaret Hilgeman. ... Congratulations to Carl (Drummer Boy) Brenner, who has been promoted to foreman. Since he was not on salary when the cigarette lighters were passed out, the boys decided they would make him one. Carl now has the only lighter made with GE products. He is from the old school of inspectors and studied under Professor Harry Crouse. The day Carl received his promotion he started chewing on a tooth pick, as the Old Professor used to do. ... Anyone having information about the TV tower please inform the test group. They can't understand why the sudden slow down. ... Pondo had his greatest night of bowling last Friday. A big 563 series. Joe Dennie says Pondo will do anything for a dollar. ... Last week-end was a short one for Fay Wilson. She reported for work Monday morning. ... Rene Colon won't miss a thing now that he has bought a new pair of glasses. ... Jim Craw, 6-3, has returned to work looking none the worse for wear and tear. ... Which comes first, the TV set or the antenna? Ed Hiesmier thinks the antenna. He has the antenna and is waiting for his set, which is on order. ... Marie Kralis' husband got a Christmas present early, thanks to an informing neighbor. Eh, Marie? ... We extend an apology to K. Hursche, who also was a blood donor for Paul Beauchamp. We neglected to mention his name.

for a humane program. How about a few more people from Top Floor giving to this great cause? ... Many more pleasant years to Trulie Nelson in her retirement. Trulie, a familiar figure in transformer, will long be remembered by her co-workers. ... TRAFFIC JAM—Caused by people who signal for a left turn and then make it. BATHING SUIT—A garment with no hooks but with plenty of eyes on it. ... Congrats to Norma Belchner who came to work with a diamond ring on! Another man trapped. ... A MOMENT WITH GOD—The object of our creation is to know God, to love Him, to serve Him, and to be happy with Him.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

Our candidate for the proudest Grandpa of the week is Elmer Abbott. His first grandchild weighs 6 pounds 7 ounces and is named Kent. ... Virginia Roemer has decided to spray her tobacco crop. A close relative of the boll weevil popped from her stogie. ... We hear that Beatrice Pender's favorite song is, "On the Banks of the Wabash." ... A big welcome to the 13 new girls of the stator section. ... We would like to express our sympathy to Margaret Motherwell on the loss of her sister-in-law. ... Wonder who has the popcorn concession at Harvey Smelser's? He has frequent showings of his three hours of movies taken on his western vacation.

Clara Heaston is thinking of wiring a padlock to her lunch-box to make Gladys Stahley work for her morning donuts. ... James Barrick and Orton Anderson were duck hunting on the opening day of the season. Would anyone like to invite them over for a duck dinner? ... We wuz scooped! Did you see the lovely engagement picture of Mary Shaffmaster in the evening paper? ... Dale McComb has discovered the secret for stopping the noise in a new car—let her drive.

Ed Ehrman is preparing for a singing career. Already he is in demand whenever anyone celebrates a birthday in the toolroom. He intends to branch out a bit after he learns another song. ... Mary Anne Schuman has won the drafting check pool two weeks in a row. Guess you have to be from Columbia City to win up there. ... Happy birthday to Dot Dobler and John Reardon. The latter states that this is his last. We thought that prerogative was a feminine one. ... Tom Rockhill has declined to bowl with the Winter Street girls because of his low average. Don't feel badly, Tom, some of us have an average of less than 178. ... The cause for Marge Hubert's sad face last week was a comedy of errors. After proudly reporting twin nieces, she had to retract the statement when the hospital informed her that "they" were one boy. Cheer up, Marge, a boy is nearly half as nice as two girls.

Jerry Levinson agrees that on some days "he should have stood in bed." This wise decision came after he twice tripped over a wire, missed his chair attempting to sit down, and dropping a ledger which he had just filled. Jerry left early to regain his dignity and sanity. ... Welcome back to Margaret Morgan and Eleanor Daley, recent vacationers. Eleanor visited in Chicago and Margaret reports that New Hampshire is beautiful at this time of year. ... Don't bother reading the Consumer's Report. Lively discussions on the relative merits of various TV sets and automobiles can be heard during the noon hour in receiving inspection.

Have you noticed the early arrival of Gus Stegeman lately? This comes as a result of a request from the Fort Wayne Police Department. They told Gus that it isn't enough to start, one must start in time, to avoid unnecessary dashing down our streets. ... We are sorry to hear about the sudden illness of Art Schuhler's son. We are informed he is progressing nicely. ... Fairfield workers are congratulating Rudy Gallmeier on the 25th anniversary of being with the company. ... Our sympathy to Dorothy Vess on the recent death of her father-in-law.

Pat Roehling is tweeting happily these days. Her straying parakeet returned home via bicycle. He was perched on the head of a small boy riding saucer. ... Engineering Changes: We are bidding farewell to Ken Cooper, a long time Winter Streeter, who is going to Bloomfield. ... That third floor corner looks lonesome since Mary Miller has been off due to illness. ... Welcome to Ted Biles, an engineer from Broadway, who has joined our group. ... Congratulations to Jack Harshman, who was recently married. ... George Kniss is puzzled. He asks, "Why is it that when you stop praising a woman she thinks you don't love her any more—keep it up, and she thinks she is too good for you."

TALES from TAYLOR SECTION 13 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

Ed Smith is a pretty smooth operator. He purchased his father-in-law a television set, installing it complete in the old gentleman's home. He and his wife go over there every evening to put the big look on the programs coming in, thereby keeping his power bill at a minimum while pappy's bill goes sky high. ... The other day we witnessed an amusing spectacle. As we gazed into the office there sat Harold (Popeye) Patterson flat upon his floor. It seems that his telephone rang. In preparing to answer it he gave his chair a quick flip which rolled out from under him, letting him down on the floor. At first we thought perhaps a wrestling match was in progress as our famous referee Dick (Grab Bag) Johnson was standing close by. This not being the case someone suggested that light weight mattresses be placed upon the floor around Popeye's desk. ... Two baby girls arrived in town just two weeks ago, one at the home of Preston Hille, the other at Jack Shoemaker's. Both were just a little early, eliminating their parents from participating in the General Electric Anniversary Baby Derby. As these two men already have a little girl apiece they have come to the conclusion that they will never win an argument now. Three of the fair sex against them is just too much of a handicap. ... We learn from official sources that Joe Turley is going in for goats. He has acquired several pair and has purchased a large tract of land on which he plans to raise them on a large scale. He expects to increase his income from the sale of milk. Joe has purchased himself a shepherd's crook, a sawed-off shotgun, and a lantern. In other words, he is going to be fully prepared to watch his flock by night.

To know how to suggest is the art of teaching.—Amiel.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

Now that John Figley is in the Methodist hospital I don't know what or who we are going to use for copy in the GE NEWS. Hurry and get well, John. . . . Russell Neal wants to know when the GE is going to have another anniversary. He did all right by this last one. . . . Paul Stein started to work in 1x20. Right next to Don Mason, poor guy! . . . All one hears from Paul Hendricks, Sr. is hunting, hunting, and hunting. He is going to Michigan for one week and no extra days to recuperate. . . . Julius Zumbum is a traitor to the cause. His new TV isn't the right make. . . . After three weeks of operation Bill Garton saw his first snow on his TV set. Is that set worn out already, Bill? . . . Our sympathy to Clarence Freehill on the death of his mother. . . . Russell Rose is still on the sick list. . . . Bonnie Bierley is back after almost a year. Glad to see you, Bonnie. . . . From all reports Al Niswonger looked like a good looking woman at a party, last week. He was one of the last guessed. . . . Al Erwin went fishing for dogfish and caught a couple of bass. . . . If anyone wants to buy any popcorn, see Hazel Staffer. She has plenty for sale. . . . Little Mike Kaufman is going to have plenty of pants to wear. He got 13 pairs plus all the other lovely gifts. . . . If anyone needs pencils Paul Ealing has a big supply of them—all sizes and makes. . . . Ed Runion went hunting for walnuts and the farmer chased him away. The farmer said he paid taxes on that road and those nuts belonged to him. So, Ed took his bushel of nuts and left. . . . Wallace Grawcock says the "Wildcat" that was killed at Wolcottville was just a mile and a half from his farm. . . . One would have to give Dick Bucher the second look to see if "Honest Abe Lincoln" was not back among the living. He wears the beard on a wager. . . . Keith Guyot made a flying trip to Shepard Air Force Base, Texas, over the week-end. . . . Don Spice also made a trip to Fort Riley, Kansas, returning early Monday morning. . . . Birthday greetings are in order for the following people: Olive Elliott, Nov. 1; Joyce Schroeder, Nov. 3; Cora Rice, Nov. 3; Margaret Erickson, Nov. 10; William Wickliffe, Nov. 10; Vera Fetro, Nov. 19; Ella Staver, retired, Nov. 19; Clara Krudop Schneider, retired, Nov. 25; Mary Reynolds, Nov. 24; Helen Struver, Nov. 25; Frank Brindle, Nov. 3; Clarence Rentschler, Nov. 5; Bob Gorman, Nov. 13; Dick Sebold, Nov. 14; Susan Stoner, Nov. 14; Bob Montgomery, Nov. 23; Paul Henricks, Jr., Nov. 25. . . . Ed Hines says he can handle Avery Spade now. He puts him in his place first thing in the morning and that holds him level the rest of the day. . . . About a year ago Joe Dibert had all manner of remarks to make about a back seat speaker for a radio Sam Warren had in his Ford. Last week Joe worked all Saturday morning, and lost his temper, trying to get his back seat speaker hooked up. He finally gave up and drove out in the country to get a carpenter to hook it up in five minutes. You guessed it, the carpenter's name was Sam Warren. The boys in 1x20 have decided to change the name of Warren's Tune Up Service to Merc's Tune Up Service. . . . From all reports those attending the fights last Monday had a good time. Bob Olsen finally got his ticket and got to see the fights. Perry Esterline got to the fights at 6:30 so he would be able to get a good seat.

ABOUT PAY, LENGTH OF SERVICE AND PENSIONS

As a member of the GE Pension Plan you should know that as your pay goes up and your length of service increases, you can expect a larger income at retirement. Of course, this is due to the fact that you and the Company will contribute more over a longer period of time.

For example, if you average $75 a week over a 25 year period, at age 65 your retirement income will be $158 a month. After 30 years it will be $172, and so on.

Since your annual GE pension equals 40% of your total contributions, you will receive back all your contributions during the first two and one-half years of your retirement! However, you'll keep on getting your GE pension for as long as you live, and that on the average will be an additional 12 years if you're a man.

Remember, though, that the longer time you have to build up your pension, the bigger it will be.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

THE NIGHT WIND

SUB-SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Hazel Davis

We are glad to see Margaret Hey and Clara Lauer back on the line testing. Also the winders and all the others who are back to work. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Orval Havel celebrated their 5th wedding anniversary and went stepping the other evening. . . . We have two ladies retiring today; Magdaline Laughlin and Evelyn Turner. The group Magdaline works with gave her a beautiful corsage, cake, and lovely gifts. The girls had a wonderful pot-luck supper for Evelyn and she was presented with a corsage and a lovely sewing chair. Evelyn will go near Logansport to live with her brother and family. We all wish them many happy days. . . . Lillian Bradtmiller doesn't seem to like working on the assembly line and is very happy to be back in the sound room again. . . . Happy birthday to Jessie Wass, who celebrated a birthday yesterday. . . . Have you noticed how happy Violet Renkenberger has been the last few weeks? Violet's son is home from Korea. . . . Carol Telschow was the lucky gal to bowl a 178 score game last Friday. Velora and Charles Drury and friends spent the week-end in Chicago. . . . Our sincere sympathy to Hazel Dilworth whose sister Lillie Bright passed away at Portland. . . . Eva Weber is proud of a new niece, named Elizabeth Ann. . . . Hazel Davis' husband is improving but is still confined at home.

Built by Frank Kramer

Pensioners Parade

Frank G. Kramer, who retired in 1948 from Taylor St., is living in Fort Wayne at 532 Fairmont Place. He recently completed work on a grotto, shown above in his back yard. He says other than constructing this, he has been taking it easy. Frank has three sons working at GE now. Harold is in Bldg. 4-2; Bernard, Bldg. 4-1, and Joe, Bldg. 4-5.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ross returned this week from a two-week trip to Florida. They drove down with another couple and saw both coasts of the state. While in St. Petersburg, Mr. Ross talked with another retired employee, Clarence Didier, who is living in that city. He reports that Mr. Didier is fine.

A tart temper never mellows with age; and a sharp tongue is the only edged tool that grows keener and sharper with constant use.—Washington Irving.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

Volume 36

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1953

No. 43

FOUR NEW DEPARTMENTS REPLACE FHP Company Pledges $37,500 To United Fund

Brings Total GE Gifts to $137,124

A total of $37,500 has been pledged to the 1953-54 United Fund campaign by the General Electric Company. H. A. MacKinnon, vice president and general manager of the Component Products Division, announced this week.

In addition to the present pledge, a probable additional amount for the Red Cross later was announced also. In 1952 the Red Cross contribution of the company was $2,500. If a corresponding amount is allocated for 1954, this would make a total contribution by the company of $40,000 to the current United Fund campaign, Mr. MacKinnon stated.

The company contribution was reported to the Fund this week along with the $97,124.51 pledged by employees of the Fort Wayne plant. The two amounts bring the total of GE employees and company gifts to $137,124.51. This amount represents an 11 per cent increase over last year's pledge by employees and the company.

This year's goal for the United Fund of Allen County is $928,728. A final report meeting of Fund directors was conducted yesterday. During the Fund drive, 36 GE employees contributed their services as solicitors.

Public Invited To Parkview Hospital Dedication Sunday

General Electric employees, along with other members of the community, have been invited to attend the dedication ceremonies for the Parkview Memorial Hospital at State Blvd. and Randalia Dr. at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 8.

Following the ceremony, an open house will begin and continue from 3 to 8 p.m. daily through Nov. 18.

C. H. Matson, former manager of the Fort Wayne plant and now retired, will present the hospital, which will be accepted by Clyde J. Cover, president of the board of directors of Parkview. Mr. Matson is chairman of the building com-

(Continued on page 4)

SAFETY PLAQUE AWARDED—The Award of Honor plaque earned by employees of the Specialty Transformer Department and Ballast Department was presented by National Safety Council President Ned Dearborn, left, to Stephen R. Capps, Transformer's manager of employee relations recently. Employees of the two departments received the award for their record of more than three million man hours without a lost-time accident.

188 Suggesters Earn $1,982 in September

Suggestion awards amounting to $1,982 were paid to 188 Fort Wayne and Decatur employees during September, according to reports from the department suggestion secretaries.

John Kokosa received $100 for the top award during the month. Mr. Kokosa, who is employed in the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department, Bldg. 19-2, suggested the use of glass sleeving to eliminate short circuits in coils.

Another DC Motor and Generator employee, Louis W. Snyder, earned a $60 suggestion check for discovering that fine bearings which were formerly scrapped could be saved and re-used by reducing their size.

Doyle D. Miller, of Specialty Transformer Section 91, earned $47.50 for a combination punching die. In the General Purpose Component Motor Department, Paul G. Hitzeman, Taylor St., received $40 for top spot in that department. R. G. Pierce, of Specialty Transformer, was awarded $30. Herbert P. Doerge, Bldg. 4-3, received $37.50 for his suggestion on the shaft bearing for winding machines.

Twenty-five dollar awards were paid to Arnold Linnemeier, Bldg. 4-1; Paul G. Hitzeman, Taylor St.; Ed F. Kelly and Bernard Rabbitt, both of the Decatur Plant; Ruth E. Fields, Specialty Transformer; and John B. Winstel and Herman F. Kuhn, both of DC Motor and Generator.

There were 176 employees in all departments who received suggestion awards of less than $25 in amount.

Department Names Revised; Staff Personnel Unchanged

Discontinuation of the General Electric Company's Fractional Horsepower Motor Department and establishment of four new departments to take over its operations were announced this week by H. A. MacKinnon, vice president and general manager of the company's Component Products Division.

The four new departments and their general managers are: General Purpose Component Motor Department, Lisle D. Hodell; Hermetic Motor Department, Ab Martin; Appliance Motor Department, Carl W. Moeller; and Specialty Component Motor Department, Jack J. Clarkson. All general managers will have their headquarters in Fort Wayne except Mr. Moeller who will continue to be located in DeKalb, Ill.

The reorganization is a further step in the company's decentralization program, Mr. MacKinnon stated in explaining the changes. "It is being carried out," he said, "to provide more efficient direction and the best in customer service by establishing flexible, independent organizations capable of expanding to meet the ever-increasing demand for electric motors."

The General Purpose Component Motor Department, which includes AC motors for general-purpose application, consists of manufacturing operations at Fort Wayne, Decatur, and Linton, Ind. Section managers appointed by Mr. Hodell are: Lee R. Beard, manager of engineering; Leo W. Kuttner, manager of manufacturing; W. K. Williams, manager of advanced manufacturing development; Robert Wylie, manager of contributing manufacturing; William R. Boggess, manager of marketing; Clifton Duncan, manager of finance; Charles E. Slater, manager of employee relations; John F. Welch, manager of the Decatur Plant; and George W. Auer, manager of the Linton Plant.

Included in the Hermetic Motor Department are manufacturing

(Continued on page 4)

GOOD IDEA—John Kokosa (center), Bldg. 19-2, seems surprised that his idea for using glass sleeving in coils earned him $100. Gene Egts (left) and Leonard Michael present him with his award.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden
Barbara W. Hyman

Editor
Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. E-7431, Ext. 441

Volume 36

Friday, November 6, 1953

No. 43

Letter from a Friend

Of all the many "thank-you" letters GE received following our 75th Anniversary Open House last month, a letter from Mrs. George A. Silk stands out as an example of what the company hoped to accomplish by the celebration.

Although her husband has worked for GE for more than 30 years, the recent Open House was Mrs. Silk's first opportunity to visit the plant. As for her impressions, her letter speaks for itself:

H. A. MacKinnon
Vice President and General Manager

The George A. Silk family has been grateful to General Electric Company for more than thirty years. GE has been its source of bread and butter.

Last night at Open House, I was not only impressed but overwhelmed at the noise, smell, magnitude, efficiency, and good-will of General Electric. It was impressive and educational to see motors made.

I'm glad for the division of labor that allows my husband to bring home the bacon from GE, while I fry it on a GE range, clean the house with a GE sweeper and listen to a GE radio while I knit.

Thank you.
Mrs. George A. Silk

This letter, along with the many others, indicate that our Open House was truly the success we hoped it would be and that we have added many neighbors to our growing family of friends.

o—o—o

Armistice Day

Thirty-five years ago next Wednesday, the Germans surrendered to the Allies, ending World War I. Although Armistice Day has not been generally observed since World War II, it remains a moment of history which should never be totally forgotten.

The following appeared in the GE NEWS in 1918 shortly after the armistice with Germany. Pvt. Charles E. (Jack) Sessford who wrote the letter is typical of the many who fought and died for their country in that war, and who are remembered by Armistice Day:

"We were attached to the Fourth and Fifth Marines at Belleau Woods, and she was surely a hot old corner. It was here that we had our first casualties, but we surely gave the Hun the worst strafing that he got during the whole campaign. He expected to walk right through our untrained troops, and it surely was the surprise of his life when we charged instead of waiting for him to attack.

"You bet I have seen my share of it, and it was surely good news to me when I heard that it was over; although it was too bad to stop it then, as we had the Fritzes on the run. . . . But, when one has seen his comrades killed, and has been covered with their blood himself, it is then that one knows all the horrors of war.

"We have surely made Mr. Hun pay dearly for the American lives he has taken as we have killed about fifteen or twenty Huns to each American that was killed. Not such a bad record for untrained troops what do you think?"

May none of us ever forget the boys who were killed and those who were covered with their blood. Like Pvt. Sessford, let us never forget the horrors of war.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Clarence Meeks, Jean Carter, Elizabeth Eubank, Fred Gersie, Charles Martin, Raymond Papenbrock, Russell Sills, Frank Livingston, Charles Seslar, Thelma Clements, Mildred Hornbraker, Katherine Schlientz, Louis McDougall, Mildred Clevenger, Charles Tester, Edna Harth, John B. Figley, Lucille Bates, Harry King, Tom Voettler, Willis Mettler, Gladys Elliot, Viola Cowan, Carl Bartaway, Shelton Hempstead, William A. Pringle, Bernadene McCune, George Hill, Myrtle Barfell, Jacob K. Marquardt, Roy E. Barrand, A. Lois Keyes, Ward M. Hall, Irma Baugh, Connie Mueller, Katherine McClenden, Orpha McCreary, Rafael Dias, Loyal Liddy, Leo Maden, Annabelle Unger, and Clara Gidley.

Dismissed from Hospital

Loretta Bloom, Lemar Drake, Hobart Friend, Russel DeSpain, John Figley, Richard Baker, Mary Ensley, Mary Jo Gettinger, Helen Friddle, Ben Yanzito, and Charlotte Blauvelt.

Returned to Work

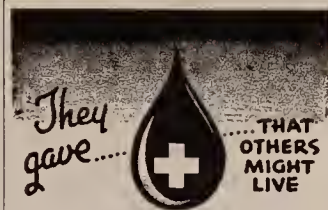

Bernice Hughes, Garnet Connor, Russell LeBeau, Orley Crozier, Merle Bachellor, Herbert Boltz, Leander Knapp, Richard Boyle, Carl Schone, Robert Moberly, Barbara Collins, Ruby Bonar, Carl Leitch, Mildred Horman, Marguerite Dasher, Marie DeVaux, George Barber, Jr., Hazel Maxon, Paul Armstrong, Doris Doehrman, Eugene H. Miller, Geraldine Holtsclaw, Leona Jones, Darrell Sutton, Charles Pitcher, Wilda Gibson, Florence Doege, Sylvester LaFontaine, David Peters, Genevieve Mathias, Venus Patrick, Victoria Walzer, Arveda Neal, Elmer Jones, and Gwendolyn Raber.

WIRE RAVELINGS

TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

Pappy Friend wants to thank all those who donated to the collection that enlightened his sick leave. Since Pappy cannot visit at the shop, he would be more than happy to have you see him at 651 Wagner St. . . . Virgil Nash had plenty of trouble getting his cement slab to harden. But when it did set he had to settle for a rough finish. Pouring cement is a hard job, but Virgil would rather do that than play basketball with his boys. He was far stiffer after playing basketball than after pouring the cement. . . . New GE Club jackets in the Wire Section are being worn by Benny Penkul and Harold Somers. They were awarded at the first Athletic Banquet at the GE Club. . . . Ted Goll wants to have the moving gang around his place to brief them on his next move, which will be on November 15. Will there be a party? Before or after moving? . . . Everybody is satisfied with his television except Vaughn Sheets. He seems to have a little trouble getting his picture, but maybe a set would help. Vaughn has had an antenna for a couple of weeks but no receiver. Harry Adams, Lois Connett, and Ray Kirk have encouraged him but their descriptions of

The following employees donated blood during the month of October:

Maurice Allen, John L. August, Donald George Baker, Victor Barcus, Noble E. Bell, Melvin Blumenberg, Mrs. Margie Boner, Jay L. Bradbury, Benjamin F. Conner, Phyllis Doswell, Judson Hall, Albert Klein, Jr., Robert W. Quinn, Mildred Walkenstine, R. A. Woehr, Arthur Wolfe, Regina Morris, Harold F. Nieman, Ernest M. Raypole, Carl A. Alter, William C. Bloch, Victor F. Braun, Alice Brockmeyer, Miles R. Cameron, Glen A. Castle, Kenneth K. Cooper.

William R. Crouse, Donald W. Firks, Glenn France, Robert O. Frederick, Paula Gevers, Lois L. Jensen, Edna Knight, Mark C. Polloni, Stanley E. Tomkinson, George York, James Carey, John R. Franke, Dewald O. Slater, Mildred Smith, James H. Capps, William David, Jr., Edward G. Hamilton, Helen Kaminski, Herbert J. Reitz, Helen Smeltzer, Ervin F. Beilsmith, David L. Bonar, Ralph E. Clark, Harold Fletcher, Charles Gattton, Charles Gotschall, Robert Gotschall, Hedwig Harrison, Harold B. Harms.

Arnold C. Hensick, Robert E. Hawk, Robert C. Hosier, Eugene L. Kilty, George A. Kniss, Bernadette Lake, John A. C. Lea, Helen Leaman, Earl R. Liechty, James F. Linn, Clarence Lhamon, Robert E. Mosshammer, Hugh L. Neely, Frank Newport, Richard E. Nomina, Richard C. Pierce, Erwin F. Richter, Edward M. Sharp, Charles F. Shipman, Dallas F. Smith, Gordon L. Smith, Kenneth Smith, Dudley Snyder.

the games don't help cheer him up. . . . Birthday greetings to Lena Goss on the 7th of November. . . . If you need a well dug or repaired, see the "Well Men," George Miller and Bob Baals. Work is guaranteed as long as material holds out. You must furnish the material.

TALES from TAYLOR SECTION 13 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

Marilee Young was quite put out the other evening. Upon arriving home from work she discovered that she had forgotten the house keys. Being in quite a quandry as to what to do, she finally decided to ask one of the neighborhood men to boost her through the window which happened to be unlatched. When half way through the sash cord broke, letting said sash down upon her back. Being somewhat disgusted at the turn of events, she asked her helper why he did not hold onto the sash. He replied, saying, "What do you think I am, a centipede?" . . . After wearing the same necktie for the past eight months, Al Volz, owner and operator of Bear Wal-low Sand and Gravel Company, and President and General Manager of the Wabash Valley Aggregates Corporation, has blossomed forth in a brilliant new neck piece. We have made a record of its appearance so as to be able to give you the exact length of time this new job will be worn. Al wishes to announce that he has a large assortment of pudding stones with which to decorate your Thanksgiving Day table. . . . Bernard Chapman is the possessor of a registered boxer dog. Up until now he has been quite proud of him, but a chain of events has transpired which broke Barney's faith in this pooch. A few weeks ago Barney had his dance band at his home for a practice session. The terrible crimes they committed in the name of music so unnerved and frightened the dog that he took off through a picture window and did not return for a week. The cost of a new glass for the window has decided him that there will be no more band rehearsals at home. . . . On a Saturday morning a week or so ago, Chet Price decided to paint his garage inside and out. He backed the car out and parked it alongside the garage. Now the day was rather warm and Chet worked up quite a head of steam. Removing his glasses he placed them upon the car's top. Unaware of this fact and having some errands to run, Mrs. Price took off with the car. It cost him the price of a new pair of glasses.

Give a little love to a child, and you get a great deal back.—John Ruskin.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

THE RESIGNATION

7-17 JRWILLIAMS
T.M. Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.
Copyright 1953 by J.R. Williams, Inc.

GE Club Fall Revue To Open Tomorrow

The 1953 Fall Revue sponsored by the GE Club will open tomorrow when the first show gets under way at 3 p.m. in the Club auditorium. A total of seven programs will be presented by the six professional acts tomorrow and Sunday.

Times of other shows scheduled for Saturday are 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 8, programs will be presented at 1, 3, 5, and 7:30 p.m.

Topping the bill of six acts are the Harmonicats, well known trio. In addition there are the Five White Guards, quintet; Joanne and Stanley Kayne, comedy duo; the Petersens, roller skating artists; the Whirlwinds, an acrobatic five-some, and Sato, oriental juggler. Buddy Petersen will also serve as master of ceremonies.

Employees who have secured tickets for the Revue but find they cannot use them are asked to return them to the GE Club desk, Gordon L. Smith, entertainment chairman, announced. Employees who have not secured tickets may call at the Club desk to check on getting any tickets which may be turned in.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Welcome to Leo Freed, our new roll man, and to our new oiler, George Hatch. . . . George Thurber is back from his trip to Washington. George was down there with those cattlemen who were complaining about the big spread between the farmer and the consumer. Wonder if he told them about that big fat deputy sheriff that carries a gun behind the meat counter in a certain local supermarket. . . . Officer Tieman has a new dog that he is going to teach tricks. Looks like Custer is in for some competition. . . . Bldg. 22's top fisherman is Charlie Ratcliff, who hauled an eight pound big mouth bass out of Sylvan Lake. Charlie brought the head in to prove it. . . . Don Voorhees went in to a local appliance store the other evening to buy a 50-cent brush for his wife's sweeper, and wound up with a $500 TV set. "My, that's nice," exclaimed Mrs. Voorhees, "did you get my sweeper brush?" "Heck no," says Don, "I couldn't afford a brush after buying that TV, you'll just have to use the broom." . . . Ralph Garrett sure believes in that old saying, "The longest way around is the sweetest way home." He drove 158 miles getting home from Lake James the other Sunday. Just let him go anywhere without Charlie Castle and he'll get lost every time. . . . Charlie Castle and his pet goat have reached a parting of the ways. Castle stooped over in the back yard the other day and the goat just couldn't resist the temptation. Blamm! Castle was dancing the conga all over the yard with his eyes stickin' out like stops on an organ. . . . Don't forget the "Fall Revue" folks, I hear they have a dandy show lined up for us.

"Employment is nature's physician, and is essential to human happiness."—Galen.

2-2 TALES Belle Buchan

Floyd Garland says that the worst thing about working days is sleeping nights, and trying to keep awake during the day. . . . Jess Hahn is on vacation this week, and he said that he is going to spend all week catching up on his home work. . . . Frank Conley is a frequent visitor in the office, and it is always nice to see that big smile. . . . Joyce Ahner looks pretty sharp with her new hair-do. . . . What started out to be a wiener bake turned out to be a bang-up party at the home of Virginia Philo. The weather man wouldn't cooperate with the Birthday Club and no one was sorry. . . . Al Swift, Howard Brooks, Frank Gamec, Bob Dent, and Poor John, the plumber, dishwasher, and cook made a hurry-up run over the week-end to one of our great lakes, located in the northern part of the state, to try their luck at the mighty fin. Result: Saturday—Lake very rough and rugged. In fact, too rough for the brave ladies to tackle, due to a stormy night before. So they spent the day resting and talking over how they would like to catch the mighty fin. Sunday they finally mustered up enough nerve to make the boat ride to Brown Point and wait for the fish. Result: Three tired fishermen and one little pike, better known as a hammer handle. Better luck next time, fellows, but you should have ventured the storm and waves on Saturday as the fish were really biting. Two other ladies went fishing and their catch was three fish landed. Their total weight, 16 pounds.

Elex Second Shifters to Hear Kathryn Turney Garton Nov. 19

Kathryn Turney Garton will pay a visit to Fort Wayne Thursday, Nov. 19, when she gives a book review at the meeting of second shift Elex members at the YWCA.

The meeting will begin at 12 noon with a luncheon. Mrs. Garton will review "Miracle in the Hills" by Mary Martin Sloop. Two copies of the book, autographed by Mrs. Garton, will be awarded as attendance prizes at the end of the meeting.

Reservations should be made with contact girls by Monday, Nov. 16. Tickets for the luncheon meeting at $1.25 per person.

Mrs. Garton will also review another book for the first shift members at a meeting to be announced later.

Aeolian Choir Gives Program For City C of C

The Decatur plant Aeolian Choir presented a 20-minute program at the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce annual meeting last evening in the Scottish Rite Auditorium.

Selections presented by the choir included "This Is My Country," "Set Down Servant," "There Is Nothin' Like a Dame," "Oklahoma," "Ole Buttermilk Sky," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. T. V. Smith, of Syracuse University. He discussed "Moral Faith in the Atomic Age."

Last evening's appearance by the 60-voice choir was one of many made by the group during the year in northern Indiana.

DMM Group Slate Piston Movies For Nov. 23 Meeting

Movies of Zollner Piston basketball games will be shown at the Nov. 23 meeting of the Decimal Minute Men. The meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce building.

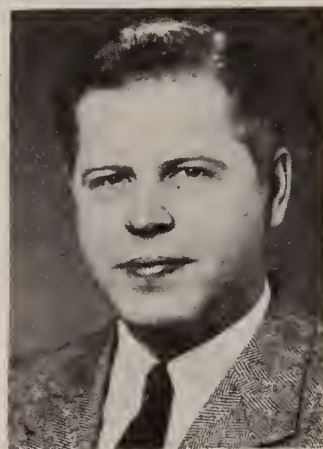

Two members of Zollner's basketball squad and one member of the publicity staff will be on hand to narrate the films and answer questions in the discussion period to follow.

All members are asked to attend the meeting to vote on changes in the constitution and by-laws, Neil Hench, president, announced.

George E. Hicks, chairman of the steering committee, is in charge of the meeting. He announced that the regular meeting date of the group was changed to Nov. 23 in order to secure the program.

No December meeting is planned for the organization. The next meeting will be a dinner in January at the regular time of the third Monday in the month.

Middle age—the period of life when you would like to feel better but won't give up what is bad for you.

Calvin W. Marhenke

Calvin Marhenke Gets New Post In M and G Dept.

Calvin W. Marhenke has been appointed manufacturing loss specialist in the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department, William R. David, Jr., supervisor of administrative practices, announced this week.

In 1929, Mr. Marhenke joined the Company and entered the Apprentice School. He graduated from the electrical testers course in 1935 and went to Bldg. 17-4 in developmental test.

Later that same year, Mr. Marhenke entered M and G test in Bldg. 19-1. He was named a foreman of test in 1941 and held this position prior to his present appointment.

Mr. Marhenke is a member of the Foremen's Association. The Marhenkes and their three children reside at 1903 Curdes Ave.

Speaker to Show Squares Wives Gift Wrapping

"Boughs and Bows" is the theme of the Nov. 10 meeting of the GE Squares Wives' organization. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will take place at the Squares Hall.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Walter Zinnel who will demonstrate gift wrapping and Christmas decorating. Mrs. L. S. Stubbins is chairman and is being assisted by Mrs. C. F. Voss, Mrs. R. L. Spitzer, Mrs. S. E. Tomkinson, Mrs. Robert Bender, Mrs. E. J. Thomas, and Mrs. Robert Rescorla.

Plans for the Christmas party to take place Dec. 8 will be arranged at the meeting also. Chairman of the December meeting will be Mrs. R. J. Hirth.

MABEL LIGGETT RETIRES—Honored on her last day at General Electric before retiring, Mable Liggett (center) says farewell to (l-r) Helen Moeschberger, R. A. Van Horn, Kenneth McDougall, and Virginia Mollett. She was a stenographer in Bldg. 31-2 before she left the company and had been an employee since 1923.

Replace FHP

(Continued from page 1)

operations at Fort Wayne and Tiffin, Ohio. Mr. Martin's staff will include: Robert W. Snyder, manager of engineering; Willard H. Connor, manager of manufacturing; Harold E. Boles, manager of the Tiffin Plant; David C. Hanson, manager of marketing; Edgar F. Waldschmidt, manager of finance; and Leon C. Swager, manager of employee and plant community relations. Mr. Swager is also responsible for coordinating relations activities for all company operations in Fort Wayne.

The principal manufacturing operation of the Appliance Motor Department is at DeKalb, Ill., its headquarters. Assisting Mr. Moeller as heads of various sections in this dept. will be: Lowell L. Ray, manager of engineering; Allen G. Carey, manager of manufacturing; Merton W. Edgar, manager of marketing; Alfred K. Scripture, manager of finance; and Ivan D. Rinehart, manager of employee and plant community relations.

The Specialty Component Motor Department, with all operations now concentrated at Fort Wayne but with a new plant now under construction at Jonesboro, Ark., builds all series, DC, specialty, and defense motors. Serving as managers under Mr. Clarkson will be: Irvine E. Ross, manager of engineering; Harold B. Carter, manager of advanced engineering development; Claude M. Summers, manager of the laboratory; Adolph J. Rose, manager of manufacturing; Marvin E. Hamilton, Jr., manager of the Jonesboro Plant; Joseph H. Horan, manager of marketing; Paul M. Deal, manager of finance; and Walter H. Sunier, manager of employee relations.

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

Only 34 more shopping days till Christmas. . . . Decatur employees are invited to visit the new and attractive Employees' Store, located in the personnel office, Bldg. 2. The store has already stocked a complete line of GE traffic appliances—ideal for Christmas selections. Christmas bulbs and strands and numerous specialties will be available soon. Let Jay and Helen help you select your Christmas gifts; above all shop early and avoid the rush. . . . A little late for the Anniversary Baby Derby, but still most welcome, is the new arrival at the Jack Weldy home. Congratulations, Jack and Josephine, on the birth of your new daughter. . . . Our sympathies are extended to Fred Engle upon the recent death of his twin brother, Frank Engle. . . . Light up another candle, another year has been added. Nora Smitley recently celebrated her birthday. Belated greetings, Nora, the years are good to you, you don't look a year older at all. . . . The "You have to show me" state of Missouri is the stopping place for Guy Lister. Guy spent his vacation visiting his son, who is stationed at an army camp in Missouri. . . . Glad to see George Roop back on the job after an extended illness. . . . The sudden change in weather must make Hank Stauffer think that he is taking his vacation in the mid-winter season. . . . Birthday greetings to Leona Omler and Esther Meyers, who celebrated last week. . . . Interest surely has been aroused in the culinary department of the home recently, from all the reports which we have heard. We have a newly interested chef who has made a discovery—he calls it batterburgs. Wait a minute, girls, he hasn't given out with the recipe yet, not even with a sample. So we can't report on the taste as yet. . . . It's probably a little late for golf news, but I'm sure Clarence (Red) Morgan's friends will be interested in knowing that Red fired a sub-par 33 on the front nine at Brookwood last Saturday. Kenny Gaunt vouches for the score; Red even talked Kenny into a spot. . . . A slight variation of colors does not mean very much with many things. But much to her own surprise Jenny Owens found that two such different shades were really quite noticeable in hosiery. . . . Sniff—sniff—what is that odor? Now I know—it is that pungent aroma of garlic. The tool room seemed to be well seasoned with it the other day. That is one thing that you can't be secretive about—everyone within sniffing distance soon locates the source of garlic. . . . Congratulations to Gordon Hunter and his wife upon the arrival of their new baby.

FIRST ATHLETIC BANQUET conducted at the GE Club recently honored more than 100 winners of summer sports sponsored by the club. Members of the Junior Federation League team, which won three first place trophies, receive windbreakers from Bill Schihle, club president.

TOP FLOOR TOPICS

Bldg. 26-5

by Jack Lea

Spike Wickliffe was telling of a friend who gave him two wild ducks to raise. Spike started thinking of all the work it would create for him; building a pen, feeding them, etc., so he decided his best bet would be to eat them. Which he did. . . . Norb Sordelet, who just got his new Plymouth, raised the question, "You don't think that Dick Pierce was at the Blood Bank 'giving' blood do you?" Dick retaliated by saying Norb was jealous because he wasn't a blue blood, too. . . . Hallien came running off the elevator yelling "gangway" because he was late. And then he rang in the wrong card. . . . Advice—What you take for a cold. Rabbit—Hare today and mink tomorrow. Man—Nature's sole mistake. . . . A moment with God—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

GIFTS ON LAST DAY—Otto C. Meyer (seated) is surrounded by a group of his friends on his last day at work prior to retirement. Left to right are William Akers, Charles Bracht, Leo Schlaudroff, and James McFeely. Mr. Meyer joined the company in 1917 as a machinist in Bldg. 26-5. At retirement he was a horizontal boring mill operator in Bldg. 19-4.

Dedication

(Continued from page 1)

mittee.

Master of ceremonies will be C. Dwight Shirey, vice president of the hospital board of directors. Dr. Elmer E. Voekel, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, will deliver the opening prayer and the Student Nurse Chorus will sing "A Mighty Fortress."

Dr. C. G. McEachern, president of the medical staff of the new hospital, will discuss "In the Spirit of Service." He is the principal speaker. Donald C. Carner, administrator of Parkview, will extend an invitation to the community to attend the open house during the ceremony.

The dedication message and prayer will be given by Dr. A. Wesley Pugh, superintendent of the Fort Wayne District, Methodist Church.

At 2:35 p.m. the cry of the last baby born prior to that time at the Methodist Hospital will be heard over a direct wire and will activate a mechanism which will open the doors of the new hospital to the public. The ceremony will be broadcast over radio station WOWO.

More than half a million dollars has been pledged by employees of the Fort Wayne plant and the General Electric Company toward the total cost of the hospital building program. The new hospital together with the Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing, which will be completed in a few weeks, cost approximately $5,000,000.

GE Review Describes Engineering Trends

Ideas on recent trends in engineering education and an objective statement of the color television situation are featured in the November issue of the GENERAL ELECTRIC REVIEW, according to Everett S. Lee, Editor.

In an engineering education symposium, Dr. J. F. Downie Smith, Dean of Engineering, Iowa State College, defines the four-year program. Dr. S. C. Hollister,

TOOL BITS

Bldg. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

Today's good news finds us welcoming Carl Schone back to work after his extended illness. Also, we welcome Clarence Meeks back after his week's vacation, which was a miserable one for him. Clarence and Loyal Liddy took their wives to the Smokies. On the way they met and collided with a car driven by a drunken driver. As a result Loyal and Mrs. Meeks are hospitalized, one of the drunks in the other car is dead, the other drunk is being held for manslaughter, and Clarence has some broken ribs plus an impressive story about this unfortunate highway tragedy. . . . Paul Weaver was so thrilled with his new expansion drill that drilled the big hole on the wrong side of the door. . . . Lewis Stocker's plastering job had quite a few sags. While his wife was gone he proceeded to remove them by the sanding process. We'll let you imagine the result. . . . Paul Richter is planning a party honoring Gus Rodenberg, and has the boys agog as to who will receive an invitation. . . . We were glad to see Ed Steward. He visited us on Monday. Ed's planning no trips outside of ice fishing this winter. . . . WE WELCOME Gwen Rober to our cost unit. . . . Dick Hemrick needed some tool box stands, so he used some supposedly scrap pine strips. The night after, the remaining pine strips were framing our conference room. Dick got his first. . . . Bob Niles and Don Schelper were both guests of our city hall. They weren't driving too fast—just flying too close to the ground. . . . Ed Stahl says television is like a new baby—it keeps you up at night. . . . Bob Sowards thinks the dry spell will continue. At least he removed the windshield wipers from his car. . . . We congratulate Art Dicke on his fortieth anniversary with the company. The picture shows Art as he looked about the time he hired in. . . . Any good-hearted bricklayers can volunteer to help Walter Greiner build a garage for their school bus. Walt thinks the thieves will swipe the whole bus the next time they strike, so he wants to get it inside. . . . The Truelove family all got into the act at the Wolf Lake Halloween party. Mabel judged costumes, Bobby played his accordion, and Bob handed out the prizes.

Dean of the College of Engineering, Cornell University, presents the five-year undergraduate program. In describing the unified curriculum, Dr. L. M. K. Boelter, Dean, College of Engineering at the University of California, Los Angeles, maintains that specialization in engineering can be postponed until after graduation.

Dr. W. R. G. Baker, a Vice President of GE and General Manager of the Electronics Division, discusses the National Television System Committee's development of a compatible all-electronic color system and predicts its market future.

'No Lost Time Accidents In 1954' Goal of M & G Safety Campaign

The DC Motor and Generator Department in Fort Wayne is launching an all-out safety program with a goal of "No Lost Time Accidents in 1954", R. M. Hartigan, manager of employee relations, announced today.

The program will be based on six points: 1) job hazard evaluation; 2) safety orientation for new employees; 3) physical re-examination for certain occupations; 4) chain inspections; 5) area inspections; and 6) tool inspections.

Cloyce Peden to Coordinate Department Safety Activities

The appointment of Cloyce S. Peden as safety specialist in the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department has been announced by William R. David, Jr., supervisor of administrative practices.

Mr. Peden's duties include technical guidance; accident investigation; design, procure, and install safety devices; take charge of safety training programs; safety inspection; publicity campaigns; and providing educational material pertaining to safety.

In 1925, Mr. Peden joined the company and went into electrical maintenance work. Later, he entered fractional horsepower motor assembly. In 1930, he transferred to Winter St. where he began on testing. The following year, he went into office planning and rate work. He was a rate man until June, 1952 when he returned to Broadway where he entered motor and generator on equipment planning. He had this position at the time of his present appointment.

Mr. Peden is a member of the Quarter Century Club. He attended Ohio State University for a year and a half, when he studied electrical engineering. He has completed several company training courses including electrical engineering, DC electricity courses 1 and 2, AC electricity course 1, alternating current theory, elements of mechanical refrigeration, and air conditioning.

The Pedens, who reside at 2728 Beacon St., have five children. One daughter, Vivian, works in Bldg. 18-2.

GE Club Slates Third Ring Show For November 16

The GE Club has slated the third amateur boxing show in the club gym for Monday, Nov. 16. The card will match Fort Wayne Golden Gloves entrants against a GG team from another Hoosier City, which will be announced next week.

Tickets for the match, which will begin at 8:15 p.m., are available now. They may be secured from members of the boxing committee or at the club desk for one dollar per person. These tickets are for reserved seats. In addition, general admission tickets, which are 60 cents each, will go on sale at the box office the evening of the event.

At the coming show, inter-city bouts will take place in each of the weights, plus other bouts between Fort Wayne GG lads.

Cloyce S. Peden

THE BIG WIND SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Rachel Mounsey

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Art Leussenhop on the recent death of his sister. . . Fred Adams says he doesn't mind having his co-worker wait on him at the filling station, but he does wish Vern Whitlow would learn how to wipe the windshield without getting his coat caught in the hood of the car. . . Nellie Wiggins is spending a few days in Chicago with her husband. . . Troy Long has a new job after work. He is foreman out at the TV tower. Every night he runs over to see how his boys are progressing. . . Congratulations to Louise Beamer, on her new grandson. . . When you get a new television set you can expect anything, just ask Virginia Reed. Virginia put a pan of potatoes on the stove and forgot all about them until she saw smoke coming out of her kitchen. . . Kate O'Conner really knows now what is meant by a full house. Kate got one the other day and she says it's the nicest thing that can happen to anyone. . . Bertha Steele may not be ambidextrous but she is adept at using two pairs of scissors at one time—both pairs in one hand. She almost gave Spoerhaur a nervous breakdown. . . Ruth Stout won't thing she is so popular now. . . Welcome back to the following persons: Eddy Howard, Lee Hatch, Josie Hardy, Wanda Carter, Jenny Mathais, Edna Guyett, and Geraldine Black.

THE NIGHT WIND SUB-SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Hazel Davis

The die cast wishes to extend a special "welcome back" to Virgil Bowers. . . We wish Bob Bennett's wife a speedy recovery. She is a patient at the Lutheran hospital. . . Velora Drury had a surprise birthday party for Charles last

Gen'l Manager Urges Support Of Department Safety Goals

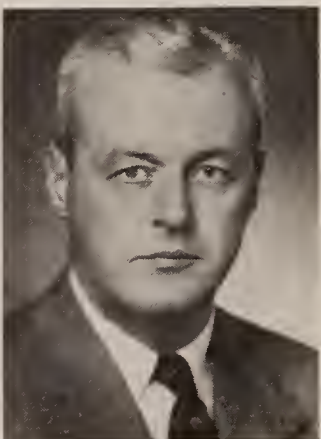

"We of the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department have set an ambitious but reasonable goal for ourselves of No Lost Time Accidents in 1954," Oscar L. Dunn, general manager, stated this week, as plans for the department's safety campaign were revealed.

Looking at the past record of the department, Mr. Dunn points out the fact that the employees did complete a full year without a lost-time accident in 1950. Since then, the department had four accidents in 1951; ten in 1952, and six thus far in 1953.

"Each one of us must be constantly aware of hazards in our daily work and alert to methods of correcting them," Mr. Dunn said. Since accidents, by their very nature, strike us when we least expect them, we continually try to safe-guard machinery and processing equipment and we have safety specialists ever on the alert for dangerous conditions, he stated.

"But the real task of preventing accidents falls on each and every one of us. We have the power to prevent accidents to ourselves," Mr. Dunn pointed out.

By keeping safety conscious, each employee can prevent an accident that will help him and his fellow employees, Mr. Dunn concluded.

Oscar L. Dunn

Saturday evening. . . It seems George Todd was too busy to get to work last Friday. . . Johnnie Souie didn't miss out on Halloween —no treat means a trick. That was why the perfume was spilled in your car. You can always trade your car in for a new one. . . Wouldn't we all have liked to have seen Bob Huhn Saturday night at a masquerade party, dressed up as a devil? . . . Dorothy Hart attended a square dance and masquerade

Saturday night. . . Magdaline Laughlin was surprised with a watch and a musical jewelry box for her retirement gifts. . . Dotia Jett and husband went to Round Lake over the week-end, to take in the boat and get ready for winter. . . The 51 frame is glad to see Stanley Nicholson back to work. . . If anyone wants the latest news on the television tower, ask John McKee. He is keeping a close check on it.

EMPLOYEE MEETINGS to launch the Direct Current Motor and Generator safety campaign for 1954 are being conducted to acquaint employees with the program. Ray Wiese, Bldg. 19-2, and C. S. Peden, Bldg. 19-3, conduct one of the meetings.

ECHOES from 19-2

Fred McIntyre

Things are really getting rough these days in Bldg. 19-2 west-end office. Murray Johnson got his cigarette lighter out of his pocket, lit it, and had it up to his face before he realized he'd put a stick of gum in his mouth instead of a cigarette. Mr. Michel thought he was seeing things the other morning. He happened to look in the direction of the girls' wash room and saw a witch standing there in full costume. She saw him the same time he saw her and tried to get back in, but unfortunately two of the witch's little helpers wouldn't let her back in. Don't wonder if the face was red under the mask—it was. . . . Mrs. Blomker, Bob's mother, is very seriously ill. Here's hoping she has a speedy recovery, Bob. . . . Eileen Gault and her girl friend, Margaret, spent the week-end in Chicago and from the lengthy discussion when she returned, had a grand time. I also understand they pounded quite a bit of Illinois pavement. . . . Now here's one for the books! A certain gentleman was seen with a head of lettuce in one hand and a doughnut in the other. Object—diet. When Mr. Michel packed our boss' lunch, she gave him the doughnut instead of the hole. So that explained everything. A logical mistake. . . . Pete Prince, former general foreman on Bldg. 19-2, left for his winter home at Eustis, Fla. on October 19. Knowing he wouldn't be able to carry the load he had to haul in that old boat he drives, he proceeded to persuade a friend of his, who was also making the journey south, to haul the heaviest part of his belongings. (P. S. Same old Pete.) . . . Edna Etzler and Shirley Cunningham went calling on Jim Rehner, former employee on Bldg. 19-2 and now retired on pension. He had accumulated 50 years of service before retirement. Jim was glad to see them and he hopes that other former associate employees of his will pay him a visit. He also says he enjoys reading the GE NEWS, particularly doings of Bldg. 19-2 employees. So let's have more news for him to enjoy. . . . Florence Hindman and Gladys McMillian visited Florence Weimer at the County Home, where she is confined to the hospital ward. They report that she is looking well and hopes to have more callers among her former co-workers on Bldg. 19-2. Florence has now retired on disability pension for quite some time. . . . Al Johnson, who made a recent trip to New Orleans, reports that the scenery at night is better than the daytime views. We think he spent most of his time visiting the Clubs in the French Quarter of the city.

STORMY WEATHER

BLDG. 17-4

by Bill Hurtt & Larry Reed

Although the list is too long to be repeated here, we can assure you that it is really complete. We refer, of course, to the list of supplies that Dick Seidel and Charlie Kensill have compiled for their fishing trip. Plenty of food is included and a large supply of worms—namely, 25 worms and ½ dozen night crawlers, 1 fishpole each, 100 lbs. of ice (2), 2 complete changes of clothing (??), and various amounts of laughing water. Hold your hats, boys, this should result in some lurid tales. . . . Somebody feels it's a case of sweets to the sweet, because Joan Evers came to work the other morning and found a lump of sugar taped to her time card. . . . Because John Baillie

Special Radio-TV Supplement

A special radio and TV supplement appears in this issue. GE dealers handling these products are: Sharkey's Radio Sales and Service, 2808 Lower Huntington Road; Schaper's Home Appliance Co., 1622 Sherman St.; Schuler's Appliances, 2126 Fairfield Ave. and 126 E. Wayne St.; Goodyear Service Stores, 1220 S. Harrison St.; A&Y Home Appliance Co., 4315 S. Anthony Blvd.; Klaehn's Radio and Appliances, 1231 S. Anthony Blvd.; Martin Radio & Electric Shop, 1123 E. State St., and Trend Television and Appliance Co., 3415 Warsaw St.

Employee prices on the television models illustrated in the supplement are as follows: Model 21T20, $284.96; Model 21T21, $299.96; Model 21C225, $337.46; Model 21C226, $359.96; Model 21C227, $359.96; Model 21C228, $359.96; Model 21C229, $389.96; Model 21C230, $397.46; Model 21C231, $412.46; Model 21C232, $412.46; Model 21C233, $412.46; Model 21T12, $247.46; Model 21C116, $292.46; Model 21C117, $311.25; Model 21C119, $311.25; Model 21C120, $329.96; Model 21C121, $344.96; Model 17C127, $224.96; Model 21T15, $254.96; Model 21C115, $254.96.

Employee prices on the GE radios shown on the back page of the supplement are: Model 551, $36.05; Model 546, $28.95; Model 565, $26.80; Model 561, $23.90; Model 555, $21.65; Model 613, $28.95; Model 612, $28.95; Model 440, $50.55; Model 436, $30.00; Model 432, $28.95; Model 424, $17.00; Model 427, $20.85; Model 419, $14.65.

Radio receivers may be purchased in the Employee Store.

was seen buying a stove, refrigerator, and seriously thinking of a television set, does it mean that perhaps that fatal leap is being considered? . . . Another pair of eyes have contracted "televisionitis." Larry Reed is the proud new owner of a set and naturally, had to sit up until 1 a.m. the first night he had it. To top it off, too, his wife became so interested that she burned the potatoes. Don't feel bad, Larry, there is quite a brotherhood of these fanatics. . . . A welcome is extended to the new member of our rotor casting section, Gerold Kraft. . . . Carl Freygang is proudly announcing the arrival of a grandson. . . . When Ray Pflueger went to Edna Ward's house the other evening he discovered her husband making a batch of noodles, in which he had added two dozen eggs, but refused to admit he had done it. The reason, Ray explains, is that if he told Alice it would be sure to get in the GE NEWS. You should know by this time, Ray, that our spies are everywhere. . . . Spider bitten finger and all, Ed Martin reported back to work Monday. Although it resembles a slightly overstuffed pillow, Ed assures us that it is coming along nicely. . . . One way to get a new coat is to do like Alice Pflueger—go bowling and pick up someone else's coat by mistake. Was it really by mistake? . . . The new addition to our planning department is Dick Gotschall, to whom we extend a warm welcome. . . . Don't forget our Christmas party to be held December 12 at the Southwest Conservation Club. Entertainment, dancing, and refreshments are on the program, which will guarantee everyone a good time. All employees and pensioners of Bldg. 17-4 are cordially invited to attend. . . . We were all glad to see Carl Cochren, who dropped in to visit us the other day. . . . Ezra Garringer reports he is fast recovering from his operation and promises to return to work very soon. . . . We bid a very reluctant farewell to John (Red) Braden, who has transferred to Winter St. His ready wit and pleasant personality will be missed by all. Don't forget to drop in once in a while, John, and we sincerely wish you success in your new undertaking. . . . Another familiar face, Paul Armstrong, has returned to us from sick leave. . . . Quotation for the week: "Gratitude is the memory of the heart."

"Labor is the law of happiness."
—Abel Stevens.

THE GRAPEVINE

BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Freygang. They are the proud parents of a baby girl born October 27. . . . Roy Berdelman is on vacation this week. He and four fellow employees are fishing at Dale Hollow Lake in Tennessee. . . . George Bear never knew how high his chair was until he went to sleep and fell out of it. . . . Richard Polston needs a compass in his car. He started out on West Main Street to play shuffleboard and ended up in Tillman, 15 miles from Fort Wayne. . . . It was nice to have Floyd Enos pay us a visit, and we hope it won't be long until he will be back to work. . . . Anyone wanting to learn the Shepelak shuffle see Andrew Shepelak. . . . Galen Kreig and Bill Oberlin has something in common now. Both recently purchased TV sets. . . . Lloyd Goodwin is now known as the Bluffton Hillbilly, since he works without shoes. . . . Avery Spade wanted to see his name in our first column. . . . Employee of the week: Frank LEAVES ON RETIREMENT—Albert C. Scherer (left) left the company last month on retirement. He had been a GE employee since 1923. At the time of retirement, he was an elevator operator in Bldg. 19-1. K. D. Strong (center) and Andy Einsiedel wish him good luck in the days of leisure ahead.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

Twins, by the names of Karen and Kevin, have arrived at the home of Ernest Jones. The little mites are still in the incubators but will be brought home in a few weeks. We offer our congratulations to both mama and papa. . . . Grace and Matt Ober are now burning the late oil watching TV. . . . Marjorie Hahn is vacationing this week. . . . Overheard by a stranger: "Who is the Amish man on the lathe? Second look will tell who the man is behind the beard. Wonder how much longer this wagger is going on, so Mr. Bucher can get back to normal? . . . Willard Smith has been shopping in these new stores with the automatic doors that open for you. He was caught standing in front of the door between Bldgs. 4 and 6 waiting for it to open for him. . . . Harry Kaer was going to take some lessons in the manly art of self defense from Bill McClure. But Bill got too rough, so school was called off. . . . Earl Sexton spent every night last week at the lake. Not to fish but to watch that no one disturbed his little house at the end of the path. . . . Geneva Moody visited relatives in Plymouth last week-end. . . . There must be some method in her madness. Irene Kreger was seen dunking crackers in the alcohol instead of her coffee. Did it taste better that way, Irene? . . . We are glad to have Hazel Maxim back with us again. . . . Francis Rose was on her vacation last week, and enjoyed doing just what she wanted to do all week long. . . . We who know Corrine Schriener McGill want to wish her a speedy recovery. Corrine formerly worked with us. . . . Helen Struver got home later than usual last Friday night. When she got to the parking lot she discovered a flat tire on her car. She had stopped

Lawrence. Frank was born in Fort Wayne. He came to work at GE in 1928. At the present time he is a lay-out man on Bldg. 4-1. He and his wife, Sally, live at 1618 E. Rudisill Blvd. Frank likes to fish and hunt, and spends his leisure hours at his cottage at Lake Gage. . . . Thanks to Sheila Murtaugh for typing our column.

the car on a small tack in the morning. . . . Bob Blocher took his small son to a Halloween party and was very happy when he won the prize in the children's division. . . . If anyone wants to buy John Waikel a Christmas gift, better get him a screw driver. He can use one. . . . Don Strobel is the new man in the Bldg. 4-4 office. . . . If anyone knows the results of the Panhandle vs. Arizona football game, be sure and let Perry Esterline know. He is mighty interested in the outcome. . . . Fre Uhrick finally hit 600 at bowling last week. The bowling alleys in Fort Wayne weren't good enough for him, so he went to Auburn to do it. . . . Paul Arnold sprained his back. Too much working on his new house. Now what he needs is help. . . . Sam Taylor says he stopped in to see John Figley (he is home from the hospital) and didn't get thrown out. Guess John is still too weak. . . . James Leslie is back at work after a stint with "Old Man Flu." . . . We wonder if Sam Warren was admiring his new Mercury too late at night. He overslept and didn't get into work at all. His alarm woke him up but he shut it off and didn't wake up until 5:30.

TRANSFORMER

TATTLES

BLDG. 26-4

Dutch Norwali

It sure is getting expensive to have a cold! Just ask Ralph Braden. He stopped at the doctor's office the other night, which cost him only $3. But the prescription of 100 pills cost $45. Feeling better, Ralph? . . . Buzz Hyser seems to be dissatisfied with the Fort Wayne service on his new Dodge. He recently went to Huntington for his 7,000-mile check-up. . . . The following conversation took place between Dave Mannix and Al Coxon: Al, "Why don't you think of the customer?" Dave, "Why don't you think of him and get some material out here?" . . . Welcome to Sharon Alberson, who recently started working in the Bldg. 26-4 office. . . . Someone said to tell Beverly Stauffer that you can still get bottles with nipples, so when you start giggling and can't stop, you won't spill milk all over the dining room. . . . The office gals in Bldg. 26-4 gave a farewell party at the "30 Club" at Columbia City for Gayle Druyor, who is leaving to be with her husband, and for Jeanne Doege, who has accepted a position as an airline stewardess. . . . Norm Thal has been promoted to a new position. He is now our roving dispatcher. . . . John Bobbs opened the hunting season at Holland, Mich. He returned with three pheasants. . . . We have a new theme song by Maurice Casey, "You Take a Dime and I'll Take a Dime Ba-bee." . . . Any of the boys in the Bldg. 26-4 office having trouble finding their jacket coats, etc., are requested to contact Dick Pottee. He is now conducting a lost and found section. . . . It has been reported that John Babbs has ordered a new pair of bi-focals after the two recent unhappy incidents. John hurriedly walked out the back door, and grabbed his lunch sack. He found out at lunch time that he had a sack of green beans. A couple of days later, after another hurried exit, he found he had a sack of grapes. Better luck next time, John.

"Work as if you were to live 100 years. Pray as if you were to die tomorrow."—Benjamin Franklin.

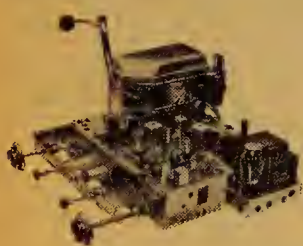

EMPLOYEE CHRISTMAS SALE

RADIO and

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT G-E
ULTRA VISION?...WHY DOES THE PICTURE
HAVE BLACKER BLACKS, WHITER WHITES AND A FULLER RANGE OF PICTURE TONES?

1. The new G-E "Double E" chassis has more than twice as much pull-in power as in previous TV sets.

2. The G-E aluminized tube gives brighter whites. G-E coats the inside surface of the screen with an aluminized mirror which brightens the picture more than 80%.

3. The black tinted safety glass assures blacker blacks. You get whiter whites, blacker blacks and more picture tones in between.

4. The picture tube is inclined 2° and the black safety glass inclined 4° forward to cast reflections down to the floor away from the eyes of the viewer.

WIDE SELECTION OF RADIO &
TV SETS OFFERED G-E EMPLOYEES FOR CHRISTMAS
AT SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS!

G-E Makes Current Models Available to Employees for Christmas—Never Before Has Such a Complete Line of Radio-TV Been Offered.

The Company this year is offering a wider choice of radio and TV models to employees than ever before at liberal discounts. There is not only a wider range of radio and TV models to choose from, but particularly G-E Ultra-Vision and Musaphonic radio are both widely recognized as the best performers in the industry.

Beat the Christmas rush which is almost here and if you're planning a gift for your family and friends, select your model, preferably this week. Liberal employee discounts are of course in effect on all models.

The best way to pick the TV set you want is to see a row of 5 or 6 TV sets all operating at once. That's how people are comparing G-E Ultra-Vision to the other sets on the market. In stores all over the country they come, they see, they pick G-E 10 to 1.

10 to 1 in Upstate New York

Shoppers picked G-E Ultra-Vision 10 to 1 over 5 competitive TV sets and tests were made in 4 different stores independently in the Syracuse area.

7 to 1 in Tennessee

Utility buyers picked G-E Ultra-Vision by 7 to 1 in a recent show-down of 10 competitive makes. All sets were masked so viewers could not see the manufacturer's name.

580% Blacker Blacks Says U. S. Testing Company

A scientific test by the U. S. Testing Company in January, 1953 showed that G-E Ultra-Vision had 580% more picture contrast than the average of 9 competitive TV sets.

Portables Rate High as Gifts

For a Christmas gift that's a sure bet for success with the teen-agers and grown-ups, too, the G-E portable radio is always popular.

Next time you're in the company store, ask to see the new Model 612 G-E Portable Radio. Streamlined in weight and design, it's actually a two-in-one radio. You can play it upright as a portable or on its side as a table radio. And it plays on AC, DC, or batteries.

Available in any one of four smooth colors . . . ebony Model (612), burgundy (613), green (625), or gray (626) . . . this smart indoor-outdoor radio makes the perfect Christmas gift for that special someone. And you'll be amazed at its low cost!

HERE'S HOW TO BUY

1. Pick the set you prefer in the insert.
2. Contact the individual responsible for issuing sales certificates in your plant.
3. Go to the Company store or cooperating dealer for employee sales to make your purchase.

Stocks are Limited so Those Who Get There First Will Have a Greater Choice

See Special News Story in This Issue Listing Employee Discounts for Big Savings!!

G-E ULTRA-VISION

The Ultimote
in TV Picture Perfection

Choose any one of these 11 ULTRA-VISION models if you want the best TV picture that money can buy today. First you will want to select the cabinet style that suits your home: table model or console — traditional, contemporary, provincial, or ultra-modern — blond or mahogany finish. Then ask your dealer to demonstrate the model you have chosen side by side with any other TV. Seeing is believing!

• Model 21T20

• Model 21T21

• Model 21C225

BLACK-DAYLITE

Ultra-Vision

The Ultimate in TV Picture Perfection

Ask to see a side-by-side comparison

G-E Ultra-Vision vs. any other TV.....

CONVENTIONAL TV G-E ULTRA VISION

G-E BLACK-DAYLITE TV

For Superb Reception

The next best thing to G-E Ultra-Vision is one of these fine models incorporating all the quality of the famous G-E Black-Daylite Television. In these models you will find many of the Ultra-Vision features including the black-tinted safety glass, the glarejector features, and the exclusive 21-inch G-E aluminized tube. These models are giving superb fringe area reception and you will like the picture for its exceptionally sharp detail, contrast, and dependability.

G-E BLACK-DAYLITE TELEVISION

For Superb Reception

- G-E aluminized tube, and black inclined safety glass
- Powerful "F" Chassis for superb reception even in fringe areas
- 17 tubes including picture tube, plus 3 rectifiers, 1 crystal diode
- G-E GLAREJECTOR... cuts glare 5 different ways
- G-E quality... every set is tested to meet General Electric's rigid standards for quality and dependability
- Dust seal—eliminates cleaning safety glass inside
- Designed for VHF and all-channel UHF

• Model

You can put your confidence in—

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

G-E BLACK-DAYLITE TV

Popular Priced Models

These low priced models will give you famous General Electric quality at a big savings in cost. You can depend on these popular models to give exceptionally fine performance.

G-E BLACK-DAYLITE

Popular Priced Models

- Powerful "F" chassis for superb reception
- 17 tubes including picture tube, plus 3 rectifiers, 1 crystal diode
- Built-in antenna
- Designed for VHF and all-channel UHF

• Model 21C226

• Model 21C227

• Model 21C228

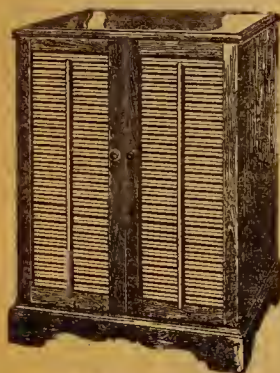

• Model 21C229

• Model 21C230

• Model 21C231

• Model 21C232

than any of 9 competitive TV's compared by U. S. Testing and black inclined safety glass different ways

has extra power to pull-in weak stations amplifiers plus 1 germanium diode video detector ensures viewing angle 40°

water in all consoles on all consoles for easy moving channel UHF

• Model 21C116

• Model 21C117

• Model 21C119

• Model 21C120

• Model 21C121

VISION

Models

large areas

amplifiers, 1 crystal diode

• Model 17C127

• Model 21T15

• Model 21C115

A G-E RADIO IN EVERY ROOM keeps HARMONY IN THE FAMILY

"G-E CLOCK-RADIOS are truly THE WORLD'S MOST USEFUL RADIOS"

MODEL 551, 552: Finest clock-radio on the market! Wakes you to music or records... lulls you to sleep. An extra tube gives added power. G-E Audio-Magic one-knob control. 551 Mahogany, 552 Pearl Grey.

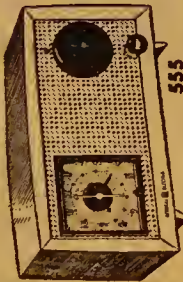

MODELS 546, 547, 548, 549: Wakes you to music, lulls you to sleep! Turns appliances on and off automatically. Now comes with phonograph for record player. Audio-Magic one-knob control for volume, radio, records. Choice of four striking colors. 546 Mahogany, 547 Alabaster Ivory, 548 Persian Red, 549 Porcelain White.

MODELS 544, 545, 546: Wakes you to music, lulls you to sleep. Buzzes sounds if you oversleep. Choice of custom-blended colors. 544 Ivory, 545 Red, 546 Green.

There's a G-E CLOCK-RADIO for every budget and room!

MODEL 555: Lowest priced G-E Clock-Radio. Wakes you to music. Durable, stain-resistant plastic cabinet. Accurate electric clock. 555 Ivory.

MODEL 560, 561: Wakes you to music... buzzes sounds if you oversleep. Low profile. Modern styling. Easy-tune dial. 560 Brown, 561 Ivory.

"G-E PORTABLE RADIOS are the Life of the Party"

MODELS 612, 613: Plays upright! Plays on its side! Compact control cluster for quick tuning. Plays on A.C., D.C., or batteries. 612 Ebony, 613 Burgundy Red, 625 Green, 626 Grey.

"For POWER and TONE, make mine..."

G-E 4-TUBE RADIO MODEL 440. Seven tubes and a rectifier. Phonograph. Audio-Magic one-knob control. Illuminated sunburst dial. 440 Brown.

G-E RADIO with NEOPHORE TONE MODELS 431, 432: A table radio with console tone! Audio-Magic control. Dial Beam tuning. 431 Mahogany, 432 Ivory.

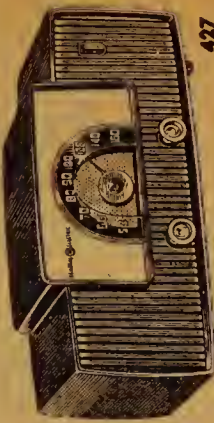

G-E RADIO 6-TUBE MODEL 436: Tops for foreign stations and standard broadcast. Precision tuning for high breadth accuracy. 436 Mahogany.

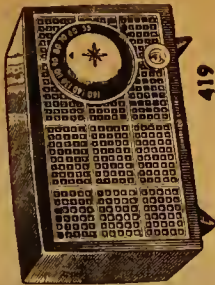

"For Smooth Looks and Listening Give Me G-E TABLE RADIOS"

MODELS 424, 425: Easy-tune giant dial. Four tubes plus rectifier. Built-in Beamscope antenna. Powerful Dynapower speaker. 424 Mahogany, 425 Alabaster Ivory.

MODELS 427, 428, 429: Dial Beam tuning. Phonograph. G-E Audio-Magic one-knob control for volume, radio, records. 427 Persian Red, 428 Alabaster Ivory, 429 Mahogany.

MODEL 419: Lowest priced G-E Radio. Dynapower speaker. Built-in Beamscope antenna. Sturdy plastic cabinet. 419 Brown.

HERE ARE LATEST 30-YEAR FOLKS

WILLIAM K. GREGG (seated left), Bldg. 19-5. Standing (l-r) are Doyal White, G. I. Iverson, John Larc, Don Drayer, Ernie Hanauer and R. L. Whitacre (seated right). Mr. Gregg was employed in Bldg. 16-3, when he joined the company in 1923.

WILLIAM F. FOWLER (center) receives congratulations from (l-r) Richard Goller, W. H. Crouse, Paul Peterson, Archie Rian, Leo Vachon, Alfred Topp, Ralph Braden, and Gerald Norwalt. Mr. Fowler is a leading operator in Bldg. 26-4.

PAUL MARTIN (second from left) is a jig borer operator in Bldg. 19-4. With him (l-r) are Al Clark, E. Beilsmith, and A. J. Korte.

LUENNA M. EVANS (second from left), Taylor St., gets best wishes from (l-r) Pauline Winners, Basil Bowley, Adelle Kukuck, and Sophia Sins.

REINHOLD J. FREDE (right), a milling machine operator in Bldg. 4-1, is congratulated by Ed Soday, Ned Allen, and Russell Meeks.

GLEN D. STANGER (left) is shown with Calvin Case and Ralph Hoot. Mr. Stanger does set-up work on punch and die machines in Bldg. 19-3.

HARRY M. TODD (left), a Taylor St., Section 17 employee, gets anniversary greetings from Enno Richter and George Marschand.

KARL E. SMITH (second from left), celebrates his anniversary with Herbert Ort, Elmer Auman, Robert Pequignot, John Ebert, and Keith Johnson.

FRIEDRICH G. HOFACKER (second from right), of Taylor St., celebrates his anniversary with A. Bertsch, J. Wyss, George App, and A. Zollinger.

MAURICE J. PETGEN (left), a cost clerk in Bldg. 6-3, is shown on his anniversary with C. L. Saurbaugh and F. W. Wheeler.

FLOYD H. TRUELOVE (second from left), set-up man in Bldg. 4-3, talks with (l-r) Wilford H. Kinsey, W. H. Charleston, and R. L. Spitler.

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

A farewell party was given last Friday evening for Les Hubartt, by the test and inspection group. The party was held at Elmer Harshman's home. He must have known in advance it would take him a week to recuperate, as he is on his third week's vacation. Everyone was at the party but Pondo. Heard he couldn't get away. . . . More promotions are in order. Clarence Nahrwald will be the new leader of inspection. Andy Anderson will replace Clarence as leader of test. Walter Starke is going on special assignment. . . . Barbara Ternet can't decide what length of clothes she likes best. Consequently, she goes around with her coat having a tired effect. . . . Ivy Mills has decided it's best to bring a thermos bottle. At least she can have a cup of good coffee. The stuff she makes up at work hasn't been named yet. . . . We are all wishing Dick Baker and Keith a speedy recovery and hope to see them soon. . . . Cleanliness is next to godliness, but Ruth Cox and Rosie Bartaway carry it to extremes. Ruth washes the tables with coffee and Rosie mops the floor with hand cleaner. . . . Donna, our cute little time keeper, was all excited last Monday when Opal Brayton didn't show up for work. Donna was given the honor of doing Opal's time work. It seems some of the fellows forgot to turn in their time. Did you ever notice Donna's eyes sparkle and pop when she gets perturbed? . . . Bessie France spent last week-end in the Buckeye state at Columbus. . . . Arno Winnebrenner is spending this week with her son, who is home on leave from the Air Force. He is being shipped overseas the middle of the month. . . . What happened to the kitty that the foremen of Div. 1 and Div. 2 had when the divisions were split up? There's a rumor going around that Elmer Robbins has the answer.

SPOT LIGHTS

BLDG. 4-2

by Estella Pettibone

To Francis Howell and Park Schemehorn we wish speedy recovery's. . . . Arnie Johnson learned he couldn't believe all he hears. For months he has heard Herb Franke ask, "Alice, how are the boys?" To which she always replies, "Family Night" Arnie saw two very cute little girls watching Alice Klinge work. When they had gone Arnie inquired who they were. Alice proudly told him they were her daughters. When Arnie saw Herb he related the incident and asked what the score was. "Oh, said Herb, "I just call them boys." . . . While on the subject of Herb, we trust no one tricked him this Halloween season, he treated the armature line to delicious homemade candy. . . . A test rejection ticket marked P. R. could not be understood by the repair operator. She asked Eva Penn (tester) what the rejection was. After careful thought her face became highly colored as she answered, "Well, placed wrong." . . . Jake Harshman designed two unique fishermen plaques in chartreuse and black. One for Ray Lepper, the other for Roy Berdelman, who were going fishing in Tennessee. The tool maker gang presented Ray his first. Roy was chuckling to all he knew about Ray's plaque. When he got to his place of work there was the matching plaque for him. . . . Ralph Reinking proved to Irene Pulf, Gertrude Markley, Ada Bultamier, and Opal Runyon they need more study of wood lore. He brought a common kind of wood to work, and they couldn't identify it. . . . We were all happy to see Wilbur Meyer looking so well, when he visited us recently. He is home on furlough. He has finished his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and will go to New Jersey. Watch Spot Lights for his new address.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

BLDG. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

There is such a thing as people panning for gold, but the other day we saw John Redmerski panning sawdust. Wonder what he was looking for? . . . Pete Prince is really up and going since his father sent him some avocados from Florida. . . . Don Connett is now included in the television group. Any snow yet, Don? . . . A Visitor: Carl Weigman, a retired pensioner, paid us a visit. Mr. Wagner and all the boys enjoyed it. . . . Ask me no questions—and I'll tell you no lies—keep your mouth shut and you'll swallow no flies. It would pay Sam Baumgartner to memorize this little saying. He was drinking coffee in a restaurant the other day and you can guess the rest. . . . Halloween pranksters visited Ralph Ayers and drained his gas tank. They also let the air out of his tires. Now, we know how they would use the gas, but what would they do with the air. . . . Delphos Morrical went pheasant hunting in Michigan but ended up by eating a venison dinner.

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

by Clara Volz

I hear that Bill Billue is feeling right chipper again after his recent illness. Sounds good. . . . Frank Newport done went and smashed his finger the other day. Now I ask you, was that the smart thing to do? . . . Say, I saw the cutest sight the other evening as my "chauffeur" was taking me home on the Oxford bus line. This here little Plymouth was pushing a great big Buick up the street. How about that, Art (I have a Buick) Braun. This reminds me of a cute story. A cop asked an injured pedestrian if he had gotten the license number of the car that had struck him. "No," replied the man, "But I would know that laugh anywhere." . . . One of the fellows on assembly floor was telling of a good-sized bluegill that he had caught. After he left, another fellow came up with the following yarn. He went to the river to do a little fishing, and laid his pole down on the bank with the line in the water. All of a sudden the pole jerked, and there was a 17½-inch bluegill just waiting to be pulled in. Uh huh, now let me tell one. . . . Those three test engineers, namely Frank Mollica, Leonard Staskelumas, and Fred Ray have pooled their resources together and batch in an apartment. Frank and Leonard do the cooking so I imagine that leaves Fred with the clean-up jobs. They were good cooks, too, from what I hear. How about whipping up a good Italian dish and bringing it into the office some day, Frankie boy. . . . Virgil Carmean is just about ready to put the finishing touches on that brand new garage that he built. Something to be proud of I'll bet. . . . "Worry is like a rocking chair. It gives you something to do, but gets you nowhere."

You don't need a magnifying glass to tell you the GE Pension Plan is O.K.

No matter how you look at it — with or without a magnifying glass — the GE Pension is a good solid plan on which to build your retirement program.

As a member of the Plan you're saving systematically for your retirement — 2% of your earnings up to $3600, 5% of your earnings in excess of $3600.

For putting aside money wisely like this, at normal retirement age you'll receive an annual pension equal to 40% of your total contributions.

These are the extras you'll get as a member also:

- ★ The right to retire up to 5 years early at a reduced pension.
- ★ Vested rights after 20 years credited service.
- ★ Disability pension after 15 years' credited service.
- ★ $45 a month extra to those who retire before age 65 after 15 years' credited service.
- ★ The right to select a survivorship option.
- ★ Return of contributions plus interest if you leave GE.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

Apparatus League

Team No. 1 took over first place in the Apparatus League by winning all three games. Team No. 1 has a record of 15 wins and 6 losses. Central Dairy slipped to second place with 13 wins and 8 losses. Tied for third place are Teams No. 3, 7, and 6, each with records of 12 wins and 9 losses. Darwin Stanley rolled the high game of the night, a 233 count. Herb Langer, 219; Les Shroyer, 218; Vic Rump, 204 and 202; Don Alcott, 204; Bob Winkler, 203; George Cowan, 201, and Paul Johnson, 200.

Small Motor

It is R and R out in front in the Small Motor League with a record of 17 wins and 4 losses. Test is in second place with a record of 13½ wins and 7½ losses. Koorsen Painters and Office are tied for third place, each having won 12 games while losing 9. Herman Conrad kegged a big 227 count; Walt Kammeyer, 216; Ed Bowser, 214; Henry Doehman, 207; Art Lantz, 206, and Corky Smith, 203.

Interdivision League

In games bowled last Wednesday night in the Interdivision League, Transformer won 2 games from Tools. Apprentice knocked off 2 games from the League leaders, Brouwers. Old Crown Beer won 2 games from the stubborn Summit City team. Kinney Koncession won all 3 games from Harvey Bros. Airliners took 2 games away from the Pindusters. Deadheads took 2 games from the Gutterdusters. 200 games were rolled by: Luevance, 218; Shell, 208; Hawk, 214; Becker, 212 and 207; France, 202; Kuntz, 243; Schroeder, 207. This is supposedly Ralph Schroeder's first 200 game he bowled, and did he collect his bet from Charley Wilt. Ask Charley. Brouwers continue to head the team standings with 18 wins and 3 losses followed by Kinney Koncession with 17 wins and 3 losses. Noah Kuntz heads the individual standing with a 181-7 average. Vic Rump is second with an 180-20 average. Old Crown Beer has the team high single game score of 1039. Kinney Koncession has a three game total of 2949 to lead in that department. Les Shroyer has the individual high game of the season so far with a 257. Vic Rump and Les Shroyer lead in the three game totals with a 629 each, followed by the only other 600 series bowled so far in the Interdivision League, and that is Erv Francis' 611.

Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon

Team No. 6 is leading the League with a record of 13 wins and 8 losses. In second place is Team No. 3 with 12 wins and 9 losses. Team No. 2 has won 11 while losing 10, which is good for the third place in the League. Mary Reynolds kegged a 181 score and Lu Vadu Degraffenreed, a 177.

GE Orphans

Team No. 2 defeated Bernies'

Motor Sales all three games. Keenan Hotel and Team No. 6 each won two games with Team No. 5 and Ken's Market coming out on the short end of a 1 won and 2 lost decision. M. Rietdorf rolled a 508 series on games of 182, 191, and 135. F. Oberholtzer had a 452 series which included a 190 game. M. Rollins rolled a 164 score and E. Foor kegged games of 163 and 160.

Ladies' Monday Night

A new leader in the Ladies' Monday League with Keglerettes winning all three games to go out in front with a record of 18 wins and 6 losses. Just one game behind is Holey Rollers with 17 wins and 9 losses. Scatterpins and Twisters are tied for third each with 16 wins and 8 losses. Jeanne Dangler kegged games of 170 and 176; M. Pasternak, 170; J. Trier, 192; Margaret Bengnot, 173; A. Lee, 170; Pearl Hautz, 177, and A. Hawley, 169. Pearl Houtz converted the 5-10 split. Gloria Miller hit the 2-4 pocket with a perfect Brooklyn and converted the 2-4-10 split.

Ladies' Friday Night League

It is Team No. 5 out in front with 17 wins and 4 losses. Team No. 3 is in second place with 14 wins and 7 losses. Having won 11 while losing 10 Team No. 2 is in third place, and 7 games behind the leaders with a league record of 10 wins and 11 losses is Team No. 7. Deloris Drewitt kegged a 502 series on games of 189, 189, and 124. Tommie Williams had games of 164, 194, and 189 for a 547 series. Liz Shearer rolled games of 156, 175, and 190 for a 521 total. E. Vandigift scored a big double century count of 211. Dorothy Ashren rolled games of 175 and 171.

Office League

Reproduction is leading the league with 16½ wins and 7½ losses. Small Motor Development are in second place with a record of 16 wins and 8 losses. M and G Sales have won 14 and lost 10 for third place. Charlie Shipman kegged the high series, a 652 score rolled on games of 214, 219, and 219. Charlie Townsend, 216; Bob Ritchey, 215; Glenn France, 214; Carl Hattendorf, 204; Jerry Zehender, 204; Frank Schlink, 203 and 201, and Don Waldrop, 200.

GE Owl League

Team No. 5 is leading with the lead at stake next Saturday as they meet team No. 8 who is only 1½ games behind team No. 5. Team No. 3 is only 2½ games out of first place, followed by teams 2, 6, 1, 7, and 4. 200 scores were rolled

Interdepartment Cage Action Will Open Tuesday in GE Club

It will be the Squares vs. the Test Engineers when the 1953-54 season of Inter-Department basketball opens Tuesday, Nov. 10. These two teams will play the initial tilt beginning at 6:30 p.m.

All games in the league will take place in the GE Club gym on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and are open to anyone interested in attending.

First Place Prizes Announced For Men's Bowling Tourney

First place prizes in the GE Employees Men's Bowling Tournament have been announced by the GE Club, sponsor of the event. The tourney will take place Nov. 21, 22, 28, and 29 at the club alleys.

A prize of $85 will be awarded the top winner of the five-man team event. Doubles champs will receive $35; singles will get $20, and the all-events winner will receive $10.

COUNT OFF SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Marguerite Stahl

Alberta Watt entertained Catherine Chilcote, Mary Hoppins, Rosie Johnson, and Louise Sinn at a surprise birthday party for Bernadine Warner. Bernadine wishes to thank the girls for the lovely party and gifts she received. . . . Louise Sinn has finished shucking corn and is on a week's vacation. She says she is just going to rest and go visiting. . . . Linda Wahner is counting the days until Christmas so she can go to Florida to visit her sister. Her only regret is that she will have to miss a few Komet games. . . . We hear Beverly Numbers will be missing around GE for a few days. Her husband is home on furlough, after being in Japan for a year. We are all very happy for you, Beverly, and wish you and Don a lot of happiness. . . . We have a report that Charley Engle and his son-in-law have just returned from a hunting trip in Grogan, N. Y. Charlie missed his first deer but shot the second one. His son-in-law killed a bear. So, there will be a new bear skin rug and deer skin gloves for the Engle family. . . . We suggest that Francis Walker law have just returned from a hunting trip in Grogan, N. Y. Charlie missed his first deer but shot the second one. His son-in-law killed a bear. So, there will be a new bear skin rug and deer skin gloves for the Engle family. . . . We suggest that Francis Walker law have just returned from a hunting trip in Grogan, N. Y. Charlie missed his first deer but shot the second one. His son-in-law killed a bear. So, there will be a new bear skin rug and deer skin gloves for the Engle family. . . . We suggest that Francis Walker by 1. Junk, 203; T. Cowan, 211; C. Wilt, 203; L. O'Shaynessey, 222; P. Moore, 213, 212; W. Rietdorf, 204. W. Rietdorf hit for a 627. On opening day P. Billman hit 597 and last Saturday P. Moore had 589.

Masonic League

Squares are out in front with a record of 13 wins and 5 losses. Doric is second with a 12 and 6, with third place going to Corinthian, who have won 11 and lost 7. Double century scores were rolled by Peters, 221; Ruhl, 217; Patterson, 211; Weddle, 210; Nichols, 203; Rodenberg, 201, and Manecke, 200.

Transformer

M and Volts are tied for the league lead, each having won 8 while losing 4. Watts and Autos are tied for third place each with 7 and 5 records. Proxmire has kegged the high game to date, a 209 score. The high series, a 542 score, was rolled by Hein. Three bowlers are needed in the Transformer League which rolls on Tuesday nights at 8:30 p.m. Contact H. Meeker in Bldg. 26-2.

Decatur

In the Men's Factory League, Office is leading the league with a record of 11 wins and 7 losses. Flanges are in second place with 10 wins and 8 losses. G. Laurent rolled a 613 on games of 202, 168, and 243. S. Jackson scored a 201 and P. Briede a 208.

Fraternal League

In the Fraternal League BPO Elks are in top position with a record of 17½ wins and 3½ losses. In second place is West End Restaurant with 13½ wins and 7½

Other teams getting off to an early start in competition are the Transformer five and the MTP's, who are scheduled to match court know-how at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Thursday, Nov. 12, the Airliners will oppose the Apprentice lads at 6:30 p.m. and Hermetics will vie with the Firemen for a win at 7:45 p.m.

League play will be conducted each week except during the holiday season when there will be no games slated from Dec. 17 until Jan. 5. Jack Sweet is league manager and Joseph Reising is assistant manager.

The following teams and managers in the league have been announced by Sweet:

Squares, Don Cochran, Bldg. 18-3. Test Engineers, Tom Krighbaum, Taylor St. Transformer, Perry Gilliam, Bldg. 26-4. MTP, Munro Steel, Bldg. 26-4. Airliners, L. Hubbard, Bldg. 6-4. Apprentice, Myron Auer, Bldg. 12-2. Hermetics, Jerry Loo, Bldg. 17-3. Firemen, Virgil Howell, Taylor St., Wire Mill.

start a dancing school and teach the extra fellows, who only play cards, to dance. . . . Gladys Pantazin is still very busy getting settled in her new home. She just can't let some of the work wait. . . . George Marshand is spending a week's vacation hunting in Canada. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stahl and Mrs. Hugh Harris motored to Grand Rapids, Mich. Sunday to visit Mr. Harris, who is in the hospital there. . . . Mrs. Ruth Mercurio, who is a sister of Marguerite Stahl, is convalescing nicely at St. Joseph's hospital, after surgery last week.

losses. Teeple Truck Lines standing is 11½ wins and 9½ losses. H. Shoaf kegged a 607 series on games of 191, 227, and 189. G. Alton put together games of 192, 212, and 201 for a 604 total. Double century counts were rolled by G. Laurent, 205 and 236; G. Strickler, 204; A. Zelt, 231; O. Schultz, 209; E. Bultemeier, 203; B. Feasel, 200; P. Wilkinson, 214; R. Bolinger, 210; A. Buuck, 208 and 201; D. House, 206; F. Pillars, 236, and R. Johnston, 214.

GE Women's League

Hi Spots lead the league with 14 wins and 7 losses. Lost Frames are second, having won 11 while losing 10. Office has won 9 and lost 12, with Spares showing 8 wins and 13 losses. G. Reynolds rolled 160 and 166, and A. Reynolds rolled a 162 score.

OPEN BOWLING

Saturday, 3 to 11 p.m.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 18-1.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, November 9, 1933

FOR SALE

WEDDING GOWN—Floor length white satin with train. Size 16. Reasonable. A-7322.

TRAILER—Two-wheel, 600x16 tires. $30. A-59594.

BLANKETS—Three dark gray all wool. Have been dry cleaned and are in good condition. $5 each. H-37924.

TOPCOAT—Gardardine, size 40. Excellent condition. Reasonable. H-66705.

DINING ROOM SUITE—English oak. Includes buffet, highboy, chairs, refectory type table. K-1806 after 6 p.m.

BATHROOM FIXTURES—Tub, stool, lavatory. Good condition. Reasonable. H-58173.

DUMP TRUCK—K-5 International. 1945 1/2 ton. Good running condition, and good tires. $395. Large oil burner, suitable for garage. $20. Good '36 Ford radio; $8. 6 HP Ward's gas engine. E-6266.

ELECTRIC RANGE—Frigidaire. 434 Hoffman. E-69592.

GIRL'S CLOTHING—Size 6 to 8. Ten dresses, blouses, coat and leggings, and raincoat. All for $10. H-16439 after 6 p.m.

FOLDING TABLES—Two aluminum, size 24 in. x 60 in. with hammerhead finished tops. Used once. Will sell for $15 each. H-90085 after 5 p.m.

GIRL'S SNOW SUIT—Three piece, size 4. Maroon velvet with white fur trim. H-15541.

DOUBLE BED—18th Century. Springs and mattress. E-37644.

ROLLER SKATES—Size 6. Like new. H-46904.

GAS STOVE—$60. 35 mm camera; $40. 4x5 enlarger; $30. All items in excellent condition. E-60131.

BICYCLE—Boys', in very good condition. 24 in. $20. A-60311.

HAY—150 bales of good timothy and clover. E-79148.

PLAYER PIANO—Excellent condition; $50. Also, baby bed and high chair. H-92321.

BABY BED—Storkline. Natural birch finish. Innerspring mattress. Excellent condition. K-2644.

INSULATION—Three reflective rock wool batts, 15 in. x 8 ft.; $2. Bathinette, aluminum frame; $7.50. Rocker; $1.50. H-59701.

CAR—1941 Dodge coupe. Runs good, tires good. Heater. H-48174.

WASHER—Conventional with automatic pump. Used two years. Reasonable. K-2292 after 5 p.m.

CAR—1940 Chevrolet sedan. Good tires. Good condition. A-68392 between 4 and 6 p.m.

HEADBOARD—Standard size for double bed. Cream color. Good condition. One year old. $15. H-1368 after 4 p.m.

CAR—1940 Studebaker. Overdrive. Excellent running condition, and has practically new tires. $160. Dorothy Askren, Zanesville, Ind.

CAR—1953 Plymouth. Two-tone Cranbrook. All extras. 4,000 miles. K-3643.

TRAILER—1949 Owsosco 27 ft. tandem wheels. All aluminum. Sleeps four. Gas stove, electric refrigerator. Excellent condition. A-56224.

PUPS—German Shepherd. Silver grey and also black and cream. Also, bay running quarter horse. Eight-year old. Gentle. H-46542.

LADIES' DRESSES—Very good condition. Have been dry-cleaned. Size 18. A-95634.

GIRL'S WINTER COAT—Green gabardine, size 14. Zip-in lining, like new; $8. Girl Scout uniform with belt, beret, and scarf, size 12; $4. Ladies' grey fox jacket. Finger tip length. Very good. $10. E-63133.

CAR—1941 Plymouth Special Deluxe coupe. Radio and heater. Runs good. $75. A-69125.

ELECTRIC GUITAR—And amplifier. Excellent condition. Two years old. E-32089 after 5 p.m.

BEAGLE HOUNDS—AKC registered. Extra good blood line. Three distemper shots. Phone Hometown 2735.

SEAL COAT—Size 14-16. $3.50. Black taffeta dress, size 16; $3. Wool skirt; $3. All in very good condition. A-98453.

CAR—Four-door Chevrolet. Clean, radio, heater, powerglide. New white wall tires. Reasonable. H-2376, 7106 So. Anthony.

GAS RANGE—Apartment size. In good shape. H-70642 evenings.

CAMERA—35 mm with 2.7 coated lens. Takes 65 pictures on one roll of film. Will sacrifice. H-78771 evenings.

SWEEPER—GE upright; $5. Waffle iron; $2.50. Large shades for floor and table lamps. Men's shirts, 50 cents each. H-26685.

CHAIR—Tilt-back lounge chair and ottoman. Green frieze. Excellent condition. K-4178.

SINK—60-inch double drain apron with trap and legs. Reasonable. A-26841.

ACCORDION—Nearly new 120 bass accordion for smaller size. Will trade. Huntington. 2134-W.

ELECTRIC RAZOR—Phone Columbia City. 260-J.

TIRES—760 x 16 super cushion with like guard tubes. New and used. Reasonable. 1922 Roy St. after 4:30 or anytime Saturdays.

WASHER—Three-year-old Kenmore and twin tubs. In good condition. Reasonable. H-46484.

TRAINS—Two Lionel mounted on 6 ft. x 9 ft. table which will fold up. Layout complete with switches, signals, KW transformer, and loads of track. This equipment is two years old. K-1385.

RIFLE—Remington 22 short, long, or long rifle Targetmaster. Model 610 bolt action. Single shot. Inlaid stock; $10. H-69245 after 12 noon.

TIRES—Two good 600x16 Goodyear all weather. Slightly used. $35. H-20074.

SPACE HEATER—Duo-Therm. Large size. A-16472.

TABLE—Duncan Phyfe drop leaf, with three boards and four chairs with grey leather seats. Like new. Reasonable. H-91461.

HOT WATER HEATER—40 gallon Coleman oil fired. In excellent condition. A-67444.

PILLOW CASES—Hand-embroidered with crocheted edging. Also, washing machine. A-7365 or 2127 N. Clinton St.

CONVERTIBLE—1952 Chevrolet in very good condition. All extras and white sidewall tires. A-46252.

REFRIGERATOR—GE monitor top. Good condition; $20. E-32137.

TRAILER—In good condition. H-77465.

CAR—1953 Dodge Gyro-matic V8 with radio, heater, and white sidewall tires. 5,000 miles. 2823 McCormick after 4 p.m.

SINGLE BED—With coil spring. H-50024 week days after 5:30 p.m.

SWEEPER—With attachments. Like new; $65. Two head Schick shaver. Used very little; $10. A-36603.

MAN'S SUIT—Grey, worn about 6 times. Very good condition. Also, gray topcoat, lightweight, worn about four times. Will sell reasonable. Both are size 44. H-64745.

CORN PICKER—John Deere 101 semi-moon. Good condition. $450. Roasting hens, 25 cents per pound, alive. A-75192 evenings.

GIRL'S COAT—Size 12-14. Wine, reasonable. Boy's grey corduroy jacket. Size 16. Good condition. A-95812.

DINING TABLE—45 in. square. Two leaves. H-19851.

ROLLER SKATES—Girl's shoe with skate case. Chicago Roller's. White, size 6 1/2. Both for $17. Like new. A-16685.

GIRL'S COAT—Kenwood, size 14. Snow pants, size 12. Stadium boots, size 6. Boy's corduroy shirt, sport coat, size 4. Other good outgrown clothing. H-60092.

GAS RANGE—Garland Console 36 inch. Oven control, lighter, two storage compartments. Reasonable. Good condition. A-16651.

GIRL'S BICYCLE—20 in. $10. H-46208.

MEN'S CLOTHING—Size 34-40. Baby buggy. Used waffle iron. Coil springs. Wrought iron table. E-69123.

KITCHEN TABLE SET—Good looking, clean chrome set with four chairs. $15. H-28522.

CAR—1949 Plymouth four-door Special Deluxe. Clean, four new tires, radio and heater. $625. A-50592.

LADIES' COAT—Maroon gabardine with zip-out lining. Size 42-44. Like new. H-6216.

BABY BED—Storkline with mattress. Excellent condition. $20. A-57821.

DINING TABLE—Walnut. Size 32 by 44 in. and extends to 54 in. Two linen pattern table cloths, sizes 106 x 64 and 94 x 66. 16 mm silent films. A-89332.

WANTED

TO RENT—Two or three bedroom house. One child, 18 mo. in family. For immediate occupancy. References. Ext. 2156.

FURNISHED APARTMENT—One large or two small bedrooms desired by two working girls. H-75263.

BICYCLE—20 in. or more. Wanted immediately. Also, snow suit, for boy, size 4. H-20494.

DOG HOUSE—H-78194.

RECORD PLAYER—45 RPM. H-82655.

SWING SET—A-69125.

BASE CABINET—27 in. wide, 24 in. deep, 35 1/2 in. high. A-86233.

CHEVROLET—1940 or '41 regardless of condition. H-64252.

FRONT AXLE—And 16 in. wheels for trailer. Also, small size girls bicycle. H-26185.

WHITE DINNER COAT—Size 38. H-76943.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDERS WANTED—Columbia City to Broadway, 8 a.m. to 4:36 p.m. Call Dale Grigsby, Columbia City, 260-J or Ext. 2133.

RIDE WANTED—Two girls would like to ride to and from Churubusco, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Call ext. 662 or Churubusco 5476. Vera Poe.

RIDE WANTED—From DuPont and Lima Rd. to Taylor St. First shift. Wilda Miller, Ext. 2676 or E-69102.

RIDE WANTED—To Broadway from 500 block Charlotte Ave., 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. A-76503.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

Congratulations to Art Hickman, tool room, on his 25th anniversary with General Electric. . . . With all our refurbishing some people have become inspired to try their skill at interior decorating. Bill Reed decided that a few dashes of gray would look well and proceeded to cover himself and part of the second floor with same. The result could only be called "different." . . . Howard Beery was giving a conducted tour recently to a handsome retired GE man—his father. . . . Seems like it isn't only professors who are absent-minded. Freida Copeland reached the far side of the parking lot, searched for her car, and finally remembered—she hadn't driven that day!

We've learned why Hal Staley was dashing hither and yon last week. It is said he was getting in shape for his tricks and treats tour on Halloween. Dibs! . . . Aubrey Lash isn't feudin' with anyone. He says he was oiling his firearms to make sure no one repeats last year's trick—seems someone stole his front steps. . . . Congratulations to Frank Lemish, on catching a 6-pound, 39-inch pike. Some reports placed the weight at 12 pounds, but knowing fishermen, we divided by half. . . . The second floor in the factory looks rather deserted. The placing and finishing line has moved downstairs. This completes the first of the five planned Standard Motor Lines. . . . No wonder Dale Weaver looks so gaunt and hungry lately. They are remodeling his kitchen and he is available if anyone wants to set an extra plate.

Anyone need pointers on baby-sitting? Just contact Oscar Mensch. After sitting with three grandchildren he is an authority on the subject. . . . It appears that the Purdue victory over Michigan State was a thriller for many Winter Streeters. This explains the pleased looks on the faces of Marilyn Crouse, Ed Ehrman, and Bob Branning. Wonder how they feel after the Illinois mow-down of P.? . . . Neal Daley says his wife was Christmas shopping—they haven't actually bought anything yet, they have just started paying for it. . . . Wonder why Mary Schwartz is keeping banker's hours these days? . . . Jan Conroy plans to buy a dairy farm when she retires. She has purchased a milking stool and is pressing it into use as a filing chair at the present. . . . Edna Kuhlman is out of solitary. Since the partition on the third floor has been removed, the seldom-seen Edna and her Bruning machine are out in the open.

Have you noticed all the new cars in the parking lot lately? Joe Rowan and Walter Brake are driving new Pontiacs, and Ray O'Keefe has a new Lincoln. . . . Al Mounce spent a nice restful vacation putting in copper plumbing at his home. . . . TV Tales: Dick Tholen is explaining that the cut above his eye was caused by a fish jumping from his 3-D television set. . . . Royal Keen has a portable set. When he performs his household duties he can still see his favorite programs as he moves about. . . . Burney Tomson says this gadget is the cause for his sleep walking into work each morning, just ahead of the whistle. He is working his set overtime. . . . Isn't it nice to see Lucille McGahey back in accounting? We missed her.

Kenny Berglund has sent away for "How to Improve Your Memory." Our gift from the MTP was ready to call on Fort Wayne's finest when he discovered that his car hadn't been stolen from the Coliseum parking lot. He had just forgotten where he had parked it. Maybe you should have made a grid sheet, Ken. . . . Drafting says the greatest change on the third floor was not in removing the marketing section, but in the ice box. The walls are now shrinking to regular size, with the reduced number of lunches deposited therein. . . . The Effective Presentation course has the interest of many others than those enrolled. Eavesdroppers were amused to hear Ed Perkins practicing his speech. A small excerpt thereof tells us that Mrs. Perkins has had an automatic dishwasher and garbage disposal for years—it is Ed.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

Little Jo Anne is issuing her calling cards from the Bob Green home. Congratulations to the new parents. . . . Congratulations to our former co-worker, Martha Coleman. She left us this fall to enter nurses' training and has been made president of the freshman class. . . . We light another candle on the cake and wish a happy birthday to Ina Smith, Jerry Newport, Audrey Young, and Arla Bower. . . . When that 7 a.m. whistle blows, you had better stay out of the way of Jimmy Hall. He does a "Dagwood Bumstead" getting to the clock so that

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

CONGRATULATIONS: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schulz are the proud parents of a girl named Karin, born Oct. 29, weighing 8 lbs. 3 1/2 ozs. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Bonnie Lepper, on Nov. 4. . . . WE ARE SORRY to hear that Harold Dimke fell and hurt his arm. Hope he will be back at work before long. Thanks for the new item, Harold, although we are sorry to hear of your accident. . . . CECIL HARROD moved into his new house last week. . . . TODAY WE BID FAREWELL to Doris Klug, who is leaving us to become a full-time housewife. Good luck, Doris! . . . GERRY MOORE is leaving us today for the Hotpoint Division in Chicago. We will miss your smiling face around the office, Gerry. Good luck to you, too! . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Joe Donahoo on November 12. . . . EXACTLY WHAT HAPPENED one lunch hour last week was not too clear, what with E. Betty Quine laughing so hard. But when the smoke cleared and the mess cleaned, it seems that Dorothy Brubaker had a lighter lunch than expected. Her "hard boiled" egg was not even slightly hard! . . . GIL BAKER joined the Bldg. 4-6 Floor Sitters' Club with a "bang" last Friday. The so-called chair was a little tipsy, wasn't it, Gil? . . . WE WISH L. B. McDougall a speedy recovery. Mac entered the hospital at Garrett last week for an operation. . . . WAYNE GILBERG received a farewell remembrance from his many friends last week. Wayne left Bldg. 4-6 to train for his position at the new Jonesboro plant.

he won't be ringing in late. . . . Wonder if Mabel Schaff might bring us in a walnut cake? She was in Edgerton, Ohio, last week-end walnut hunting. . . . Charlie Pice was on vacation last week. . . . Jess Hahn is on vacation this week, just loafing. . . . The picture of Frances Eckrote's granddaughter, that appeared in the GE NEWS sometime ago, won a baby photo contest. Frances is really proud of it, too. . . . We are very happy to report that Doris Doehrman is back with us again, after winning a bout with polio. . . . Also glad to have Guadalupe Laguna ringing in her clock card again. . . . We were sorry to hear of the death of our former co-worker, Florence Hawk. We extend our sincere sympathy to her family. . . . We extend sympathy to Mary Nuckles on the loss of her husband.

COPYRIGHT 1933 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

"Say, pal, could you spare me a dame for a cup of coffee?"

FOR RENT
FURNISHED APARTMENTS. Centrally located on bus line between Broadway and Taylor St. plants. Utilities furnished. A-87654.

PRIVATE ROOM—For girls. Close to GE and bus. A-60313.

FURNISHED APARTMENT—Two nice rooms. Private entrance. Utilities furnished. Suitable for two girls or married couple. 1308 Taylor St. A-86887.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENT—Upper three rooms, bath, modern kitchen, private carpeted stairs. $65 a month. Heat, water furnished. Desire working couple. A-26841.

APARTMENT—A private entrance to a newly decorated three room with a private bath. Convenient to GE Broadway. 1209 Van Buren St.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL CARE for children in my home while mother works days. A-80694.

LET ME DO your ironing. 1840 Wheeler St. A-70243.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

Volume 36

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1953

No. 44

Blood Donor Program Asks Help

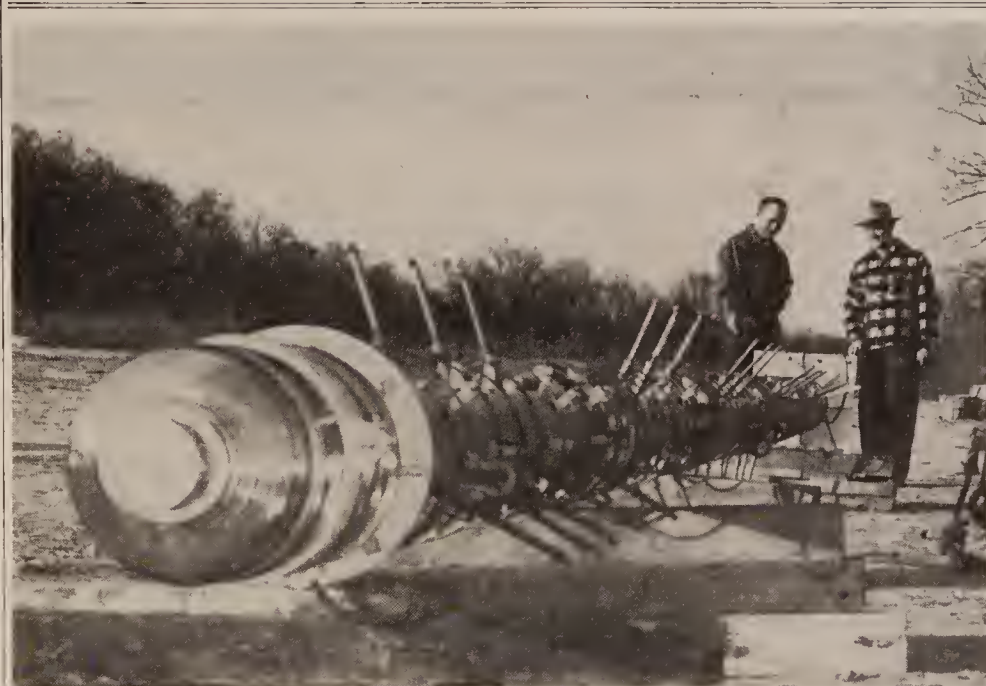

Hospitals Need 6,000 Bottles To Meet Quota

A total of 6,000 bottles of blood is required by Fort Wayne hospitals to meet needs of citizens for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1954.

To meet this requirement, a request has been issued by the Fort Wayne Regional Blood Center of the Red Cross for additional blood donors. At present, we are not meeting the quota, Alfred Schell, administrative director of the center, announced.

The General Electric Blood Program, which makes appointments for employee donations is not meeting its quota of 27 bottles per week now. Employees who wish to contribute are asked to call Ext. 2213. These donations aid members of our community and provide a safeguard for ourselves in time of accidents and illness. Employee contributions are appreciated.

(Continued on page 12)

TO TOP TV TOWER—Looking at the 40-foot antenna which went atop the WKJG-TV 750-foot tower this week, Fred Leinker, right, Bldg. 26-3, talks with Lloyd F. Foley, WKJG-TV engineer, during his tour of the station site. Fred is one of the many Specialty Transformer Department employees who made parts for the station transmitter. For other views of Fred's tour, see page 7.

Local Engineers Slate Professor For Next Meeting

The Fort Wayne Engineers Club will meet Thursday, Nov. 19 at American Legion Post 47 at 6:30 p.m. Professor Paul Bagwell, head of Michigan State College of Communications Skills, will be the principal speaker. He will discuss, "Education for Democracy in a World Divided by Conflicting Ideologies." A roast turkey dinner will be served.

Tickets for the dinner meeting are two dollars per person. Reservations should be made with contact men by Monday noon, Nov. 16. Members may also make reservations with Dick Schults, Bldg. 20-2, Ext. 2511, or Forest Carlson, Bldg. 4-6, Ext. 752.

President of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1948-49, Prof. Bagwell was named outstanding citizen of the year by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliaries in 1950. At present, he is a member of the U.S. national commission on UNESCO, Chairman of the expositions division of President Eisenhower's committee on employment of the physically handicapped, a member of the Atlantic Union committee, and chairman of the March of Dimes in Michigan.

INFORMATION CLINIC THIS ISSUE

Observe Scheduled Meal Period To Drive Away Lunch Line Blues

QUESTION:

Several of us girls were under the impression that the office lunch period was staggered so as to give everybody ample time to eat. Why is it that some men of other departments take advantage of the girls' first lunch period which naturally shortens our lunch period since we have to stand in line and then be late for work, which really isn't our fault?

ANSWER:

The schedule of staggered lunch periods was set up to distribute the cafeteria customers over the full lunch period in order to provide service with a minimum of waiting.

If individuals within the sections are not observing their scheduled lunch periods, it will result in longer waiting lines and the inconvenience you mention.

We will contact all section supervisors requesting that their people use the designated time for the lunch period. If there is still an unequal distribution when all are on schedule, we will see if changes can be made to relieve the congestion.

HAS TROUBLE CLEANING DRIP PANS

QUESTION:

I would like more information about how to clean drip pans beneath the burners on a GE electric stove. My pans are aluminum and drippings burn on before burners are cool enough to clean off. Steel wool will take most of it off by using force, which is hard on the hands, and results are not satisfactory.

ANSWER:

According to GE's Consumers Institute, the reflector pans under the units are made of aluminum and are cleaned similar to any aluminum cooking utensil. It is best to clean them regularly as soon as foods have cooked on them. Just place them in your dishpan, and clean them with soap and water. However, if things have burned on them, it is essential to use a cleanser and steel wool and scrub them. If the pans become discolored with continuous use, they can be placed in boiling water with vinegar or cream tartar added. This acid solution will remove the dark discoloration of aluminum. Another suggestion is to make small covers of aluminum foil which fit the reflector pans. These can be molded to the exact shape, cutting a hole in the center.

RATE OF INTEREST VARIES ON PENSION PLAN MONEY

QUESTION:

What rate of interest is applied to the money I have invested in the Pension Plan if I should withdraw my money?

ANSWER:

The pension contributions of both the employees and the company are held by the General Electric Pension Trust. The money is kept as fully invested as possible so it will be earning interest all the time. These earnings are not always the same, so no fixed rate of

(Continued on page 5)

Fort Wayne Gets TV Set Priority

Good news for would-be GE television viewers arrived this week in a telegram to the GE NEWS from Paul Leslie, television sales manager at GE's Electronics Division in Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. Leslie wired:

"I am pleased to advise that we are making every effort to back up the employee sales campaign in Fort Wayne by providing TV set deliveries.

"Unprecedented acceptance of our current TV line has caused some temporary shortages in past weeks, but we are fast catching up and have made substantial shipments to Fort Wayne and are giving your city priority attention on further deliveries.

"We deeply appreciate the patience of those employees who have been unable to obtain the TV receiver of their choice."

A new GE radio and television dealer not listed in last week's issue is Davis Radio & Television Service at 1006 Hugh St.

Connor Appointed Hermetic's Mgr. Of Manufacturing

W. H. Connor

Establishment of a manufacturing section in the Hermetic Motor Department and appointment of Willard H. Connor as manager of manufacturing has been announced by Ab Martin, general manager.

Mr. Connor, who is located in Bldg. 18-3, entered the company test engineer program when he came to GE in 1936. The following year, he came to Fort Wayne, where he completed the program and went into plant engineering in the mechanical section. Following this, he moved to the Motor and Generator standards section as an engineer.

In 1941, Mr. Connor transferred to the supercharger plant, where he was supervisor of planning. Later, he joined the general superintendent's staff to do general planning work. In 1945, he went to Specialty Transformer and Ballast as a manufacturing engineer.

After entering the Fractional Horsepower Motor Department in

(Continued on page 12)

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden

Editor

Barbara W. Hyman

Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. E-7431, Ext. 441

Volume 36

Friday, November 13, 1953

No. 44

Two Feet from Trouble

Pedestrians will be only two feet away from trouble during the next few weeks.

Studies made by the Institute for Safer Living show that November and December are the two worst months of the year for pedestrian deaths and injuries. In cities and urban areas, at least 53 per cent of all traffic accidents will involve pedestrians, as compared with 35 per cent in rural areas.

Principal reasons for the step-up in number and severity of these mishaps are attributed to more walking after darkness, stormy weather and wet and slippery streets, with generally poorer visibility, and congested traffic resulting from holiday shopping, and similar activities.

Bad driving conditions also mean bad walking conditions, so keep these precautions in mind:

When walking across the street or along the road, always think as the driver must think. Remember his limitations as to visibility and maneuverability. He may not always be able to dodge you.

Stick to authorized crosswalks at all times, but especially during the winter months of darkness. Drivers have much more respect for your rights when you use crosswalks and observe the traffic lights.

Don't become an invisible man while walking. Wear light colored clothing that shows up in the dark, and in bad weather.

Don't watch your feet when walking. Watch the traffic and do look in both directions.

Do take a good look before you step into the street from between parked cars. Usually, the best advice is — don't!

Always wait for the lights, or for a vacant space in traffic to come by before you step off the curb. Then be sure you have time to reach the other side safely. Never stop in the middle of the street to change your mind.

Newspaper reading and day dreaming are strictly for more leisurely moments at home.

Watch your step when alighting from a street car or bus. Don't walk behind or in front of these vehicles. Wait until the way is clear.

When you must walk along vehicle lanes, make it a strict rule to walk on the left, facing traffic.

Finally if you are a pedestrian who drives, keep your car in top operating condition for good visibility and quick stops. This is the season when every driver must be extra considerate of pedestrians. Give them a break — spelled b-r-a-k-e!

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Clara Gidley, John Lee, Fred Stienbarger, Jr., Vesta L. Risser, Ely Hardy, William C. Walde, Herbert Kurtz, Milton McCombs, Mary Rose, Blanche M. Allen, George Aikens, Lawrence Brayton, Edna Kern, James L. Hyde, Janice Keiser, Helen Holmes, Kathryn Brandt, George Weikart, Joseph Ostrowski, Betty Mast, John Thomas, Earl Deardorff, and Maurice Emiling.

Dismissed from Hospital

Lenna Ferguson, Alfred Baillie, George Weikart, Joseph Ostrowski, Martha Scott, Sylvanus Baker, Helen Rinehart, Lawrence Brayton, Charles Grim, Irma Baugh, Leo Madden, Ely Hardy, and Mellie Woolum.

Returned to Work

A. Lois Keyes, Earl Joe Nuckles, Elsie Dunfee, Leo Madden, Carl Martin, Marjorie Argerbright, William Billue, Thelma Clements, Alfred Baillie, Walter Reynolds, Clarence Meeks, John Crum, Albert Braun, Leona Franke, Catherine Harris, George Etta Woodson, Helen Shuler, Lucille Bates, Mary Wright, Marcele Roffelson, Alma Shenfeld, Joan Gomez, Myrtle Barfell, Verdine Shields, Joseph Lothamer, Mary McKinney, and Robert Phillips.

THE GRAPEVINE

BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

Meridith Trout, 2-E, drove 1800 miles on his vacation to look over a property. He had hopes of making some kind of a haven for tourists, but it was so far up in the mountains that he has decided to turn it into a bird sanctuary. . . . We wish Bill Fisher, who is in the St. Joseph hospital, a speedy recovery. . . . Anyone having an extra cheese sandwich in their lunch please give it to Don Mosuer. . . . Ed Erosche, Bldg. 17-1, spent the week-end in Terre Haute visiting his son. . . . Cliff Hosier, Bill Schwise, and Frank Lawrence are on vacation this week. . . . Howard Hoffman has bought a new home on the Dicke Road and will be moving Saturday. . . . Henry Foley went deer hunting at Redding, Mich., and came back with a five-point buck. . . . If you want your car winterized, see Norm Current. Of course, he doesn't guarantee his work after having a little bad luck with his own car. . . . We are glad to hear that Ducky Drake has been discharged from the hospital and hope to see him back to work soon. . . . Roy Berdelman has decided to stay closer to home to fish. The trip to Tennessee proved to be quite expensive just to catch six little fish. . . . Ben Bennett played Santa Monday and brought the boys a sack full of toys to play with. . . . Employee of the week: Ted Schelper. Ted was born in Fort Wayne and came to work at the GE in 1941. At the present time he is a leading operator in Bldg. 4-1, group 19A. Ted is married and has two daughters and one grandson. His hobby is raising roses and he hopes some day to have all varieties. Ted and his family are members of the Bethany Lutheran Church.

STORMY WEATHER

BLDG. 17-4

by Bill Hurtt & Larry Reed

In driving to work the other morning, Ed Klomp received the scare of his life. Just as he passed a funeral home he felt a light tap on his shoulder. When he raised enough courage to look around, there was his cat. But from there on the story stops, and we haven't heard the results of it yet. . . . The things you can find when you don't expect anything can apply to Bill Meeks. As he was preparing to go home what should he find in his pocket but a set of coasters that belonged to Jerry Holgreve. Of course, Bill protested that he was innocent of any crime, but it seems that Jerry is holding a very dim view of him. . . . It pays to be checked before you leave for work, as Ray Pflueger learned one morning. As he was leaving the house his loving helpmate asked if he intended to rake leaves that day. Upon examining himself he found that he had on a well ventilated pair of pants. . . . The only conclusion we can draw is that conditions are rough in the Smith household. Jim's wife left word he was to bring her glasses over to her, since she couldn't do her work right without them. Does this mean that they have to share the same glasses? . . . The early bird catches the worm, but Paul Woodward can't figure out which worm it was. He arose one morning, went about getting ready, got out the car and went to pick up his riders. What he couldn't understand was why there weren't any of his riders ready, until he discovered that he or his clock was one hour fast, and he was just a little too early for everything. . . . For those of us who attended the GE Club show a vote of thanks and appreciation is voted to the Club and its personnel for such a fine piece of entertainment. . . . Hello and welcome to another new face, Carol Norman, recent addition to our cost department. . . . Of course it's a little hard for Clarence Nussel to associate with us poor underprivileged laborers, but it's understandable since he is now the proud owner of a new Chevrolet. We not only got to see the new car but also Hilda, and we must say she is looking fine and holding up very well. . . . Tommy Ambrose doesn't say very much, but when he does you can bet it will be about his Oldsmobile. A little prejudiced aren't you, Tom? . . . To Herb Ufhel's wife we wish a very speedy recovery from her recent operation. Latest reports are that she is doing just that. . . . Quotation for the week: "Genius is the power of lighting one's own fire."

TALES from TAYLOR

SECTION 13 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

The other day William Moeller was having quite a lot of difficulty in loosening up a tight motor. During his struggles with it his foreman, Cecil Sible, happened by. Watching Bill for a while he put his finger on the motor, saying, "Hit it here." Bill gave it a terrific wallop, also Cecil's finger, which is now black and blue. We are happy to report that the motor loosened up, allowing the rotor to turn freely. . . . In conversing with Lawrence "Mongoose" Ankenbruck one day last week about migratory fowl, he told us that the evening before he heard a big flock of mongoose flying over Fort Wayne. Now for his information we wish to state that the mongoose is not a fowl but a cat-like mammal of India, having a sharp snout and a long tail. It has exceptionally keen sight, great agility, and can tackle and overcome the most poisonous serpents. We would hate to think that these little beasts could fly as they might take a notion to alight on one's back. . . . Merritt Simons is now sporting his new store teeth. For the first few days after he got them we noticed that he was keeping his mouth open all of the time. When asked the reason for this he explained that his teeth got so hot that it was necessary to air cool them. Several of his co-workers were kidding him about this so much that he threatened to bite them. . . . Sam Allmandinger had a large load of used brick dumped upon his premises in Lakewood Park addition. These were to be used in the construction of two fireplaces, one in the basement and the other in the living room. All of the mortar had to be removed from them so he and his wife started in on Saturday morning, working on through Sunday. Sam worked his wife so hard that on the following Monday she had to carry both arms in a sling.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

HOBBY TIME—Ray E. Pumphrey, who first came to the company in 1916, retired last month from the DC Motor and Generator Department. Mr. Pumphrey (seated) looks over the camera given him by his friends, while (l-r) Paul S. Stough, R. M. Hartigan, and F. J. Kissell look on. Mr. Pumphrey has been an engineer in Bldg. 31-2.

Herbert F. Koch Appointed To Cost Reduction Post Here

Herbert F. Koch has been named cost reduction specialist in Fort Wayne Hermetic Motor manufacturing, Eldon J. Vosburgh, superintendent, announced this week.

In 1926, Mr. Koch came to the company as a file clerk. He was an accounting and time clerk and in 1937 went to Bldg.

4-6 on expense control and statistical analysis. Two years later, he became a leading operator in inspection and test in Bldg. 17-2.

Mr. Koch went into raw material control on defense priorities in 1940. In 1942, he entered the U. S. Army and served 27 months overseas in the European theater before being discharged in October, 1945. He returned to the company and went into cost and manufacture and loss work.

Named cost estimator and leader in payroll in 1951, Mr. Koch became a cost analyst in Hermetic Section 16 last year and had this position until his present job.

Mr. Koch is a member of the GE War Veterans Association. He completed the International Accounting Society course in cost accounting and CPA coaching. He and Mrs. Koch reside at 1330 Wells.

Herbert F. Koch

R. C. Hanna to Head City Musical Society

Robert C. Hanna, manager of marketing for the Component Products Division, was elected president of the Fort Wayne Musical Society this week. He replaces Miss Helene Foellinger in the post.

The new president has taken an active part in the Philharmonic Orchestra fund drives for the past three years. Mr. Hanna joined the company in 1929 and came to the Fort Wayne plant in 1931. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna have two children.

"It is better to be idle than busy about nothing."—Atilius.

Paul Deal Has Article In NACA Magazine

An article written by Paul Deal, Bldg. 4-6, has been published in the November issue of the National Association of Cost Accountants magazine.

Entitled "Continuous Cost Reduction Budgeted Basis", the article is a discussion of how to budget and how to effect cost reduction. The magazine has a national distribution.

Mr. Deal is manager of finance in the Specialty Component Department.

'Y' Group to Tour Taylor St. Tues.

The Young Men's Industrial Club of the YMCA will tour Section 13 at Taylor St. next Tuesday evening. Following the tour, the group will hear a report on his recent trip to Europe by Lisle D. Hodell, general manager of the General Purpose Component Motor Department.

They will then be shown the General Electric movie, "The Inner Man Steps Out."

W. D. Martin is in charge of arrangements and will be assisted by E. S. Sembroski, Fred Grunst, and Gene Barret.

The club is composed of a group of young men employed in Fort Wayne industries. Part of these regular programs are tours of various manufacturing plants in this area. The tours will start at 7 p.m.

Partizan Chapter To Honor Founding

Tuesday, Nov. 17, members of Partizan Chapter of Elex Club will honor the seventh anniversary of their founding at a tea at the home of Bertha Mattes, 1004 Woodview. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m.

Martha Zehendner, Chapter president, will welcome members and guests and pay tribute to the founding. Out-of-town guests will include Bessie Roberts, advisor of the Tiffin plant women's club, and Mary Jane Ritchie, advisor of the Morrison plant women's club. Marie Fox, founder of Partizan, and Joyce Brumbaugh, president of Elex, will also be guests at the tea.

Assisting hostesses are Edna Tarman, Nual McVay, and Myrtle Lauer.

A rummage sale has been scheduled by the club for Nov. 24, Edna Berdelman, chairman, announced. It will be conducted at 2136 S. Lafayette St. Members who have articles for sale should contact the chairman on H-64164.

The Partizan Chapter was first conceived at an Elex Club conference in Oct., 1947, when a suggestion was made by Marie Fox to form such an organization. The group had their first meeting in November that same year at the Taylor St. cafeteria. At their next meeting, a Christmas tea, the name Partizan was decided upon because of its meaning, "devoted followers".

Limited to 48 members, Partizan is composed of former employees of the Fort Wayne General Electric Company who were affiliated with Elex.

Chapter colors are yellow and white; the flower is the rust chrysanthemum; the slogan is "Endeavoring We Progress."

The first officers were Hilda Rodenbeck, president; Kathryn Cullen, Vice president; Helen Miller, secretary, and Martha Kruse, treasurer.

In addition to conducting monthly meetings, the members have trips and tours, assist Elex with its serv-

Elex Club to Mail 400 Yule Boxes To GE Servicemen

The first shipment of approximately 400 Elex Club Christmas boxes to former GE employees now in the Armed Forces will be sent out next week, Mildred Koehler, Bldg. 6-4, chairman of the club's defense mailing committee, reported.

The initial shipment will be destined for servicemen and women overseas, and boxes to those serving in the States will be sent soon after. Assisting Miss Koehler are Margaret Schneiders, Taylor St., and Lonnie Rochstroh, Bldg. 26-3.

In addition to the Yuletide gifts, Elex has sent three other boxes during the year to each employee now serving Uncle Sam.

Persons having any change of address for these servicemen and women are asked to send it to Marjorie Meyer, Bldg. 18-2, chairman of the defense record committee.

To secure funds for the cost of the boxes, the club has staged an Easter Egg sale, ice cream social, rummage sale, and square dance.

40-YEAR ANNIVERSARY—A large group of friends were on hand to congratulate Arthur H. Dicke (seated second from right) on his 40th General Electric anniversary. Seated (l-r) are Bernie Byanski, Glenn Ramsey, Mr. Dicke, and W. G. Grimm. Standing (l-r) are Mart Walsh, Elmer Sauerwein, Elmer Auman, Clarence Brenner, and Lisle Hodell. Mr. Dicke is a mold and die maker in Bldg. 19-5.

20 ENROLL IN QUARTER CENTURY RANKS

REBECCA B. WEAVER
Taylor St.

CARL MOSSER
Bldg. 19-5

HAROLD BLAUVELT
Bldg. 4-5

CLARENCE W. WICKLIFFE
Bldg. 4-2

LLOYD A. GARRISON
Taylor St.

RALPH J. RICHARD
Taylor St.

WALTER J. BRAKE
Winter St.

BERTHA WOLLERT
Bldg. 26-5

EDGAR GALLMEIER
Fairfield

TRULIE NELSON
Bldg. 26-5

GEORGE W. OWENS
Bldg. 26-2

NAOMI ROBINSON
Bldg. 17-3

WADE E. TYLER
Winter St.

SCOTT S. CLICK
Bldg. 19-5

JAMES C. GAMBRELL
Taylor St.

LUELLA A. GUY
Bldg. 4-2

MORRIS R. POOL
Bldg. 6-4

CHARLES R. MERCER
Bldg. 26-B

AMOS H. MORGAN
Bldg. 10-1

HERBERT M. KURTZ
Taylor St.

Questions—Information Clinic—Answers

Information Clinic

(Continued from page 1)

interest can be established. The rate for the past year has been 2½ per cent.

STOCK BONUS BONDS DELIVERED YEARLY

QUESTION:

How will the stock bonus plan bonds be delivered after the five-year period—monthly or yearly? Will common stock be issued on the same basis?

ANSWER:

U.S. Savings Bonds purchased under the Stock Bonus Plan will be delivered to the employee upon surrender of the applicable receipts at the end of the five-year holding period. The bonds will be delivered once a year as promptly as is practicable after January 1.

Shares of common stock awarded as a bonus will be delivered on the same basis as the bonds. Only full shares of stock will be transferred at the first of the year following the five-year holding period. Any fractional interest in shares will be held over until the following year when they will have accumulated into full shares.

WANTS INFORMATION ON DESIGN DRAFTING COURSE

QUESTION:

I would like more information about the company's plans to offer a special course to all design draftsmen.

ANSWER:

Whenever there seems to be a need or candidates for new courses in the company, the Fort Wayne Education Committee takes the matter under consideration, using the outline of courses prepared for company-wide use.

For example, at present we are conducting a Drafting Mechanical course for designers. While plans are not yet final, we are contemplating that a Drafting Design Course will follow it. If and when that course is instigated, candidates will be notified by their supervisors.

ASKS WHY WOMEN MUST RETIRE AT AGE OF 60

I understand that it is company policy to retire women at 60 and men at 65. With all this talk about equal treatment for both sexes I would like to know why this should be. Is it due to the age-old idea that women are the weaker sex? If so, I think that insurance statistics have disproven that by showing that women live, on the average, longer than men. If it is for another reason, I would like to know what it could be.

ANSWER:

I'm afraid all this got started centuries ago when some male got up and gave a lady his seat. Since that time men have been trying to put the ladies first whenever possible.

When the retirement plan was drawn up this old-fashioned idea popped up, and, since it is generally considered a privilege to be able to retire, the company made it possible for the ladies to have the best of things.

Under the retirement plan a woman must retire at 60, but she gets the same pension that a man would get at 65 with the same length of service and earnings.

For instance, a woman who retired with 30 years service at 60 would get the same pension as a man with the same earnings and service who retired at 65. That means she would be collecting her pension five years longer than the man and—with the longer life expectancy which you mention—even longer. Now if the man had 30 years service at 60 and chose to retire at that age, he would have to take a reduced pension because of early retirement.

In line with your thought, however, you may recall that, under the old retirement plan, men retired at 70 and women at 60, a difference of 10 years instead of five. This indicates that the two retirement ages are getting closer.

Of course, there are some folks who have no desire to retire and cannot see retirement as a benefit. Perhaps you are one of them. The plan, however, would not work if it were not set up to serve the best interests of all. I'm sure that when you look it over carefully, you'll agree that most women wouldn't want to change the part which sets their retirement age five years ahead of the men.

WHY PAYROLL DEDUCTION PLAN FOR PURCHASING GE PRODUCTS WAS DISCONTINUED

QUESTION:

I have heard that in the past it was the Company's policy to allow employees to purchase GE merchandise and have the payments taken from their weekly pay. Why was this discontinued? It seems to me that it would benefit all of us in several ways if this were possible and at the same time give employees more work in their departments covering the production of these articles. In some cases I don't believe we would mind paying a few weeks or months, if necessary, in advance to obtain GE goods wherever the price was real high. Even at a small carrying charge.

As an example, in my small department I know of five people who are interested in buying television sets at the present time but they do not like to go through the ordeal of dealing with the finance companies.

ANSWER:

The practice you refer to was discontinued primarily because of the objections of employees.

When our payroll department handled payroll deductions for time payments on appliances, the department set up certain standards which an employee had to pass in order to become a good credit risk. For instance, if an employee had several children and wanted to sign away a good share of his pay for time payment purchases, payroll would not OK him as a credit risk. We believed the man would need a certain percentage of his pay to remain a good credit risk and to take care of his family.

It was his business what he did with his money after he got it, but we felt some responsibility for it before it got to him. Employees objected to this practice.

On the other hand, at times payroll people leaned over backward and OK'd all the deductions a man wanted. The man then became angry at payroll and at GE for allowing him to get himself into debts he couldn't carry.

Then again, there were cases in which an employee signed for payroll deductions to take care of a long term purchase. Six months later, because of changing business conditions, he began to lose time—maybe he was laid off. "You should have known," he would rant. "You should have told me not to sign up for that refrigerator."

Well, we couldn't know, but somehow every employee who signed for a time-payment purchase by payroll deduction took our OK as a guarantee of a job.

The number of cases such as those mentioned increased. Employees publicly blamed the Company, either for helping them stay out of debt, or for helping them get into it.

It was a vicious circle. After World War II, GE decided it was not in the "finance company" business, and the practice of allowing payroll deductions to buy appliances was discontinued.

Now, most employees are members of the GE Credit Union on Swinney Ave., across from the GE Club, and do their borrowing or saving through that organization. You might tell your five friends to investigate the Credit Union.

Q. How does the front of the eye get its nourishment without any blood vessels?

A. The cornea, the transparent outer part of the eyeball which extends over the lens, is not nourished by blood vessels, like other parts of the body, but by lymph channels. Even with lymph flowing in them, they are practically transparent and thus do not obstruct vision. In certain diseased conditions, there is some interference with the circulation of these watery fluids and the channels act as though they were coated with a very fine powder. This may cause bright lights to look as if they were surrounded by rain-bow-like halos.

Q. What is a sine and a tangent, in mathematics?

A. Draw a right triangle, with the base horizontal and the vertical side to the right, so that the slant line runs from the lower left to the upper right. If you divide the height of the vertical side by the length of the base, you have a value that is called the tangent of the angle to the left. If you divide the height by the length of the slant side, you have the sine of this same angle.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

A vote of thanks to the Club committee for the good program at the Fall Revue. . . . Congratulations on the blue bootied bundle at the Paul and Madonna Gerardot Maldeney home. The mama was a former co-worker. . . . Mildred Huntine has joined the new car class. It's a DeSoto. . . . VISITORS—Leroy Dawson paid us a visit last week and he looked real sharp in his Uncle Sam's uniform. . . . Ardena Kiscadon also paid us a visit. . . . Stella Kempf bowled a 597 last week. We have our fingers crossed for her to make the 600 series. . . . It's a happy birthday and many more of them to Mary Baker, Lee Spriestersbach, Bea Gerardot, and Margaret Roemer. . . . Jack Dobson was on vacation last week. . . . Glad to have Louise Hayes and Catherine Harris ringing in their clock cards again. . . . Inez Baker got a new dress and had to have it dry cleaned before she could wear it. She dropped it out of the box and walked on it before she realized what had happened. . . . Kenny Cook doesn't believe in taking steps one at a time. He takes the whole flight in a couple of bounces. . . . Jo Alles has been nursing a sprained ankle and back. . . . Betty Heistand is in her new home. . . . Evelyn Affholder is also in her new home. She has one drawback, though. She has always lived on a side road, now she is on the highway. She thinks the State Highway Department should reroute the highway because she has too much traffic noise. . . . We are happy to report that Faye Kittering left the hospital this week. . . . Girls, don't offer any sweets to Virginia Longardner or Ellen Dittlinger. They're both watching their calories. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Jeanette Meyers, who is at the Wesley Memorial Hospital, 250 E. Superior St., in Chicago. . . . Lucille Allen had a fur trimmed red coat spotted at Huntington. It took four weeks of persuasion and four trips to get the clerk to agree with her price. Lucille is wearing a red coat. . . . When Bessie Brown leaves apples at her work place, they turn into turkeys. . . . We hear that the champion pie baker on line 2 is Nancy Bryant. We're from Missouri, you'll have to show us. . . . Mabel Schaaf was hurrying to get her work place cleaned up to go home. She took another look at the clock and found out she was an hour too soon. . . . Mystery: Why are the set-up men so interested in the time clocks?

WIRE RAVELINGS

TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

Al Nicholson is home from the hospital recovering from a cataract operation on his eye. He will be more than glad to see you. . . . Paul Patton sent a letter from San Diego, Calif., to the boys in the die room. He wants everyone to know things are going smoothly and he will surely miss the snow to come. . . . Jess Easterday has solved the problem of traffic rules on one-way streets, and he wishes he had the chance to change them. . . . Lost: One pair of pajamas and one slip. If anyone sees the thief carrying them down the street be sure to notify Hazel Scott. . . . Eugene Logan will have to refrain from using unheard of language from now on. He found out four-year-olds can repeat what they hear. . . . For George Miller's benefit: Radar speed control is on the level. If it records you doing 44 m.p.h. you were going 44 m.p.h. . . . Birthday greetings to Clifford Grim on November 15. . . . In line with the Democrats' victory, Francis Fulk was elected councilman of the great town of Payne, Ohio. . . . If you have any spare hot rod parts be sure to notify Bob Thain before you decide to take them to the scrap dump. . . . Every time Paul Loveless looks at a GE television set it has snow, but he doesn't realize that real snow shows up also. . . . Now that most of you have had your sample of Kopper Kettle Kandy you may place your order with Mary Clark, the Elex contact girl. They have peanut brittle, peanut clusters, and pecan bark.

"It is only the generous and large-hearted who have grace enough to idle with any intelligence, for mean and calculating souls are always improving their shining hours, like the little busy bee."—Catherine I. Dodd.

GENERAL ELECTRIC INFORMATION CLINIC

L. C. SWAGER, Manager
Employee and Plant Community Relations
Bldg. 18-2

I would like more information about.....

It is not necessary to sign your name. If your question is of general interest, it will be answered in the NEWS. If not, we will send you a personal answer, providing you have signed your name and address.

Signed.....

Location.....

RACONTEUR SECTION 14 TAYLOR ST.

by Mary Whitelock

It happens to the best of them! Forest Grim was at the clock, all ready to ring out, when it dawned. He was about to ring out with the girls. He wondered why his boss looked at him so funny! . . . In the Spring of the year, when dandelions are in bloom, Carl Hattendorf gathers those yellow blossoms, dips them in egg batter and fries them. "Delicious," says Carl. Right now he is on the prowl for that delicately flavored Paw Paw so many of us do not like, unless we know at what stage to pick them. Pick them green, we are told. . . . If you didn't get your morning paper, see Herb Lindberg. He will give you the latest news. . . . We wonder why Betty Bieber is limping around on four toes. Could it be that June Spillner has been walking on them, too? . . . It will be safe to ride with Rex Mercer again. He has a late model Kaiser. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller have returned from a week-end trip through the Smokies. . . . When Ted Brockmeyer heard about the various donations the boys were making to their respective churches, he decided to fall in line and donate a water cooler to the Grace Lutheran, South Anthony. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Norbert Meyer and Shirley Clark. . . . Mary Ensley is recovering nicely from recent surgery. In fact, she has been out for a short car trip already. Hurry up and come back with us, Mary. . . . Willie Rathert is back after a wonderful vacation on the West Coast. She's so brown she makes some of us look as though we'd crawled out from under a rock. . . . Despite the fact that his hands shook, his knees buckled, and he couldn't find the ring, Guy Bragg claims that he was an expert at this marriage game when he wed Anne Brown, October 16. Someone will have to take over from now on and we believe it will be Anne. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Bragg, on your wedding day. Bill Hodges was best man. . . . Eldon Bell bought a box of "turtles" and was treating everyone. Poor Hugh Neely had just started on a diet so all the wage rate boys ate loudly and lustily for his benefit. "Guys have had their noses bloodied for less," muttered Hugh. . . . We would like to welcome Robert Kapke, Louise Lamboley, and Violet LeFavour to our section. Louise became so engrossed in her work the first day she slaved on until 5.30 p.m. before she realized what time it was. Her husband was waiting on a street corner for her to pick him up. After 50 minutes he gave up and took a bus. Louise caught up with the bus about two blocks from the end of the line, though. . . . Walt Niemeyer was absent from work the other Monday. He attended a wedding over the week-end and his co-workers feel sure it was the bride's kiss that laid him low. Tuesday, when he came back, he seemed his old self again, a trifle dreamy looking as he hummed "C'est Si Bon, Mmmmmmm." . . . Abbie Hartman, always way out in front with the latest fad, was the first to wear a pair of mink earrings. "Since I can't have a mink coat," she explained, "I had to settle for these." . . . Mrs. Robert Loomis (you will remember her quite well as Carol Altevogt) now has a son, Kent Michael, born October 18 at Ball Memorial Hospital, Muncie. Congratulations, Carol and Bob. . . . After considerable expense and upkeep in caring for "Napoleon", Dorothy Money invested in a '51 Chevy. She said it wasn't easy to part with "Nappy" when she thought of all the good times they'd had together. . . . What does the St. Joe hospital mean calling up the Earl Greenlee's to inquire if they'd found their baby's tag yet? . . . Bill Williams, the trainee from North Carolina, who was so intrigued with the player piano at Mike Brayer's retreat, has purchased a second-hand one for his own enjoyment. He needs piano rolls though. Last week when the GE membership cards were issued, the fellows in planning tore off the stubs and labeled them. One was entitled "Barcelona" (Bill's favorite), another "Marching Through Georgia," and the third "Yankee Doodle." Bill promised to face north when he played them. . . . Our sincere sympathy to Ife Holmes on the loss of his sister, and to Beulah Conrad on the loss of her brother.

THE BIG WIND SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Rachel Mounsey

Congratulations to Ruth (Lev-erton) Haiflict, who gave birth to a son last week. . . . Alma Welches is all smiles. Her niece from Oklahoma is visiting her. It is also Alma's birthday. May you have many more, Alma. . . . Nellie Williams went to Payne, Ohio over the week-end. . . . Clara Smith is vacationing in Florida for two weeks visiting her son. . . . Welcome back to Lovelle Walzer, Barbara Agubrecht, and to Elsie Dunfee. . . . Ed Bierely sure has help selling his merchandise on week-ends when no one is around. What we would like to know is, who gets the profit? . . . Bob McMillen had a new angle. When he was stopped for speeding he claimed he wasn't going fast. But the cop told Mac if he wasn't speeding he'd have to give him a ticket for flying too low. . . . Christmas came a little early for Russel Sealover. Russ was coaxed in a pool and then walked off with the prize. . . . You have heard of a bouncing baby boy but did you ever see a bouncing man? If you haven't, you ought to see Carl Sorenson when he drives his jeep home from work.

RETIREES AFTER 30 YEARS—After 30 years of service in various sections of the meter and air conditioning department, John W. Wolff (left) retired November 2. He was presented with a chest containing a silver dollar for each year of service. Mr. Wolff's life-long hobby of watch repairing was responsible for his first employment in the old meter department. W. S. Mersman congratulates him.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

ON SATURDAY, Oct. 31, Homer Porte loaded wife, offspring, and a full can of crude oil into the family limousine for to see, ye dear olde alma mater, Purdue, take on Illinois U. Monday morning, Hapless Homer loquaciously labored to explain the Boilermakers failure to extend their streak to two, but alas, after many tellings the score still stood at Illinois, 21, Purdue, 0. . . . THE INIMITABLE E. Doc Potter is soon to be seen as Mr. Dowdy in Mr. Roberts, a Civic Theatre offering. Doc has turned down Hollywood offers—he's allergic to beautiful gals. . . . AN OLD FRIEND of the marketing section was in for a surprise two-day visit last week. Nice to have you, Dick Thomas. . . . IT'S HISTORY now, of course, but there may be some who have not heard that John's fourth little Smaxwell missed the GE bonus by 19 hours. Too early. . . . MAGGIE COX and Kitty Haberstroh are still leading the daily chow charge to the cafeteria. The fleet-footed duo was clocked at 22 seconds the other day from the Bldg. 4-6 elevator to the end of the chow line. (The flight of stairs slowed them down, of course.) . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Chuck Kelson, on Nov. 15, and Ruth Lowdermilk on Nov. 19. . . . GOOD-BY and good luck to test engineer Carl Seyboldt, who is leaving us today for his next assignment. . . . THE TV CLUB of Bldg. 4-6 has a new member. His name is H. P. Love. If anyone is interested, his address is 4910 Bowser. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to C. J. Herman, on Nov. 15. . . . RUTH EPPERSON was seen walking back and forth in the Fairfield parking lot Friday evening about 4:45 saying to herself, "I know I drove to work this morning and parked the car in the lot, but where?" Did you forget what color your car was or which car you drove? Maybe the weather is to blame, as it does get dark early. . . . CONGRATULATIONS Jo Ann Locker, a former draftsman, is the proud mother of a girl named Amy, born Nov. 3, weighing 7 lbs. 10 ozs. We wish to thank Jo Ann and Bill for the candy and cigars.

SPOT LIGHTS BLDG. 4-2

by Estella Pettibone

Ed Sharpe and Roy Gawthrop are two busy fellows; going to the apprentice school, working in the shop eight hours a day, and helping the little woman raise their boys. Ed has a little fellow two years old and Roy's son is four. He became very fond of picture shows, which took a lot of time, so Roy thought he would solve the problem with TV. For a short time all was well, but now he prefers the theatre again. Anyone having the urge to give advice on keeping children occupied see Ed and Roy. . . . Virg Almandinger returned from his vacation with two deer. . . . Ira Schafer recently acquired a new housetrailer. He was seen purchasing a trailer hitch so large the observer wonders what make of car could pull both the trailer and the hitch. Roy Brich decided the hitch is for a dual purpose. If Ira gets short of space in the trailer he can put the tarpaulin over the hitch. . . . Park Scheme-horn is improving slowly. He sends his thanks to all who sent him the "Sunshine Gift." . . . Helen Tescula is a regular fan at the hockey games. . . . Bessie Potts and Joan France work unusually quiet on Fridays. They save their extra energy for bowling. . . . Ed Glusenkamp is the proud owner of a new Cadillac. In fact, so proud he isn't letting anyone know he has it!

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Warren Jackson, who works on the gear hob, was having headaches until recently. One day last week, as he was getting out of his car, he hit his head and thought that the headaches were due to that. But someone told him his glasses were crooked. As soon as he straightened them his headaches were gone. Warren says, "Gee, and I had that headache for three days." . . . Thelma is one girl who doesn't believe in sleeping away her vacations. But was up every day last week answering the phone at 7 a.m. . . . We all wish Opal Brayton's husband a speedy recovery from his recent operation. . . . Last Wednesday night, Bill Crane was seen gazing in a jewelry shop window. Just wonderin' if congrats are in order. . . . Hazel Leonard was still celebrating Halloween along with her birthday last week. . . . Since the TV tower is built, the boys in Test are starting to settle down. Adams, Anderson, and Walker were there last Saturday morning to help with the finishing touches. . . . If Donna could keep her desk drawer locked, George Prince could be forced on a diet. . . . Received a note from Elmer Koehlinger. He wishes to thank all his friends for the nice gift. Hope you will be back with us soon. . . . Dorothy Duff and her husband are going deer hunting in Michigan. Happy hunting, Dorothy. . . . Johnny Ormiston is going to take his third week's vacation and Little Moe will be known as Little John. Johnny wants to be sure he sees the first TV program. . . . Bill Lohrig paid us a very gay visit. . . . Correction: Barbara's coat was tiered, not tired. Excuse my spelling, for a minute I thought I was in the deep South. . . . Frank Serovey looked mighty cute filling in for Vi Elliot. . . . Belated birthday greetings to George Prince and Carl Metker. Where's the candy or cake, boys?

MEMORIES AHEAD—Cora Blue Polhamus Mauk (second from right) looks over a memory book of her years at GE with (l-r) Minnie Blue, her sister; Leola Johnson, and W. E. Beer. Cora worked for GE for several years before she married. At that time Cora was a charter member of the Elex Club and a member of the committee which organized the GE Club. In 1912 she returned to GE as an inspector at Taylor St. She was a member of the Visiting Service before leaving for full-time housekeeping duties.

A NEW HORIZON for Fort Wayne citizenry looms with the erection of the 790-foot antenna tower at the WKJG transmitter site. Lloyd F. Foley, WKJG TV engineer, points out to Fred Leinker, Bldg. 26-3, the tower, antenna, and guy wires which weigh a total of 88½ tons.

SEEING will be believing says Fred, who like other Summit City residents, waits for the day when WKJG-TV begins broadcasting. Fred looks at the GE monitor which station engineers will use in their jobs of bringing programs from both the local station and national hook-ups.

TV's On The Way!

If all goes well, television will come to Fort Wayne Sunday, and many Specialty Transformer employees can share in the bows for the part they played in manufacturing parts of the equipment.

Contributing to the opening of the Summit City's first television station, employees of the Specialty Transformer Department have manufactured units found in the General Electric transmitter, which will bring television to Fort Wayne via station WKJG-TV.

Approximately 60 transformers produced by employees of the department are included among the many parts of the GE 12-kilowatt transmitter being installed by WKJG. The UHF transmitter was designed and manufactured at the Syracuse plant. Of the units shipped to Syracuse by the Transformer Department there are three types made by employees here: high voltage, panel, and power supply transformers.

Engineers, planners, and production employees in Bldg. 26 developed a new high voltage design which is known as a "corona-free" transformer. These units make their initial debut in the WKJG transmitter.

In addition to supplying the 12-kilowatt transmitter, which is housed at the transmitter station on State Blvd. extended, General Electric also aided the station in procuring studio and antenna equipment.

One Transformer employee, Fred Leinker, Bldg. 26-3, toured the location recently to get a first-hand view of how the products he and his co-workers manufactured are making it possible for television to come to the area.

OBSERVING another of the complex units which make up the GE transmitter, Fred looks over the frequency deviation monitor.

NATIONAL DEBUT of the high voltage transformers which were specially designed for the GE 12-kilowatt transmitter is in the Fort Wayne television station. The new units provide "corona-free" service, highly important in television transmission. They are one of three types of transformers made by Bldg. 26 engineers, planners, and production employees for the General Electric transmitter.

PANEL TRANSFORMERS manufactured by Bldg. 26 employees are looked over by Fred, as Earl H. Platt, GE engineer from the Syracuse plant, works on installation of the 12-kilowatt UHF transmitter. Mr. Platt is supervising installation of the transmitter at the station site.

BIG SEND-OFF—A big send-off was held for B. Harry Rohrbach, when he retired after 38 years as a GE employee. Watching Mr. Rohrbach (seated) open one of his gifts are (l-r) Albert English, Carl Rehling, Walter Nitz (whose wife baked a special retirement cake), Ed Girvin, and Bob Such, pensioner. Mr. Rohrbach was a foreman of standardizing in Bldg. 20-2.

2-2 TALES

Belle Buchan

Anna Gillingham and her husband have turned farmers for sure. They now have 50 chickens that have to be fed early in the morning. That accounts for Ann being to work so early. . . . After making some repairs in his home, Herb Koch, found himself with quite a lot of left-over lumber. It might have been poor figuring, or maybe Herb is going in the lumber business on the side. . . . Herb Habig is not a professor, but he is a bit absent-minded at times. Herb got out of his car, closed and locked the door, and left the motor running with the keys still in the switch. He had to go all the way to Taylor St. to borrow his wife's keys. . . . Dorothy Askren is the proud possessor of a snazzy new hard top Ford. Dorothy says that she has to creep along now, but if you see a green streak going down Broadway next month—that will be Dorothy. . . . If you heard a flip, flap, noise on Broadway the other day, it was Barbara Houser losing her sole. Shoe sole, that is. . . . THINGS YOU NEVER SEE: Bob Taylor talking without using his hands. Dick Fry without his gum. Jack Welch without his bow tie. Ginny Philo without a big smile. And me without a head cold, ah, cha, choo.

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

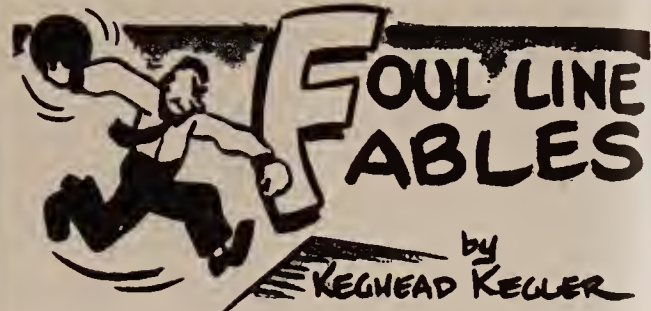

Friday the 13th—the last one of the year. Now that wasn't so bad was it? We only had three of them during the whole year. . . . We hear that Jerry Coffee has a hidden fondness for red shoes. Why red ones, Jerry, why not green or blue? . . . We are sorry to hear that Grant Fry is a patient at the local hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery, Grant. . . . Was it because colder weather had been the prediction and was he trying to find a method for keeping his hands warm? Or was it merely an accident that kept Bones Brunnegraff from putting his hands through his coat sleeves? . . . In case you have been wondering what became of that fellow called Vilas Bollinger, we will tell you—he was on his vacation last week. Haven't heard what he was going to do but will try to get the details later. Could it be that he was spending the week with the triplet pups? . . . We have heard of many varieties of so-called pain killers. Some African tribes even have their Witch Doctors to try to drive away the evil spirits. But leave it to Dick Myers to try to kill the pain before his visit to the dentist. First a rotor rolls off and hits him on the head, then he gets the pills to check the headache he receives from the bump—then to the dentist for the works. . . . We need a larger birthday cake this time. Hope that all of you had a cake at your celebrations. This week we wish a happy birthday to Edwinna Stuckey, Nora Smitley, Ella Scherry, Doris Garboden, and Miriam Meyers. . . . The day may be dark and gloomy but along comes a bright and colorful streak and everything seems brighter. No, it isn't a streak of sunshine. It is Speck Hebble in his new "Fire Engine Red" Studebaker. We will have to take Speck's word for it, but he says "it's a honey." . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Brice Hower upon the arrival of their new daughter. . . . Congratulations are in store for Velma Goelz. Have you noticed the sparkler on her left hand, third finger? The lucky man is Elian McDonald of Bloomington. Velma is planning a January wedding.

ON LAST DAY HERE—C. L. Saurbaugh (right) is congratulated on his retirement from the General Electric Company by C. D. Uncapher (left) and F. L. Gale. Mr. Saurbaugh was honored by all of his co-workers on his last day at work. He was a traffic specialist in Bldg. 6-3 and had been employed in the shipping section ever since he was first employed in 1917.

Team No. 1 is leading the Apparatus league with a record of 17 wins and 7 losses. In a tie for second are Central Dairy and Team No. 6, with records of 15 wins and 9 defeats. Teams No. 3, 7, 2, and 12 are in a four-way tie for fourth place with 13 wins and 11 losses. Don Greenler rolled the big score of the evening, a 259 count plus 192 and 170 for a 621 series. Bob Stute kegled a 607 series on games of 174, 210, and 223. Bob Blomker rolled 221; Toby Tyler, 218; Joe Kummer, 201; Keghead Kramer, 204; Howard Dunter, 200, and Vic Rump, 202 and 210. Windy Boester rolled a 599 score on games of 227, 194, and 178.

Ladies Monday Night

Holeyrollers won all three games and moved into top spot in the Ladies Monday Night League. They now have a record of 20 wins and only 7 losses. Just one game behind the leaders are the Keglerettes, who have won 19 and lost 8. In third place are Scatterpins with 18 wins and 9 losses. Twisters are in fourth place with 17 wins and 10 losses. Marilyn Franke rolled a 172; Frances Miller kegled a 172, and Margie Pasternak scored a 176. Split conversions were made by Margie Meeks, the 6-7, and Margie May, the 5-7-10.

Office League

Reproduction is just one-half game out in front in the Office League, having won 18½ games and losing 8½. Small Motor Development has won 18 games and lost 9 for second place. In third place spot is M and G Sales with 16 wins and 11 losses. Carl Hatendorf rolled 210 and 202; Don Ewing had the high single count, a 215; Erv Aumann, 205; L. Baker, 202, and Dick Grote, 201. Glen France converted the 6-7-10 split.

Small Motor

With a record of 17 wins and 7 losses, R and R is leading the Small Motor League. In second place is Test, with 14½ wins and 9½ losses. In a tie for third place are Koorsen Painters and Drafting, each having won 14 games while losing 10. Models rolled into fifth place with 13 wins and 11 losses. Tommys Lunch won three games and are now in sixth place with 12½ wins and 11½ losses. The pins were falling and Drafting rolled a big 2732 team series count. Models rolled a 997 single game for the league high game to date. Lowell Welker found the spot and kegled games of 219, 206, and 186 for a series total of 611. Al Trosin kegled a 233 score; Dick Tholen, 213; Hank Vance, 211; George Haggenjos, Sr., 222; Sam Macy, 213; Arnie Johnson, 200; Walt Whonsetler, 213 and 210; Bob Walt, 209; Marc Junk, 213; Roy Brimeyer, 218; E. Downie, 215; E. LeFavour, 218; Carl Brandt, 204; Joe Kramer, 203, and Richard Seidel rolled a 92 count, plus a 247 score.

Ladies' Friday Night

Having won 20 games while losing 4, Team No. 5 is leading the Ladies Friday Night League. In second place is Team No. 3 with 15 wins and 9 losses. Team No. 7 is in third place with 12 wins and 12 losses. Charlotte Stanford rolled a 535 series on games of 197, 155, and 183. Ann Lee kegled the high single game, a 199 score. Virginia Mollet scored a 187; Gertie Kolde-way, 186; Katie Crouse, 185; Collen Rogers, 183, and Liz Shearer, 180.

Transformer

In the Transformer League, Volts are leading the league with 12 wins and 6 losses. M and Watts are tied for second place, each having won 10 while losing 8. Winters kegled a 215 count and Bloch rolled a 213.

Ladies Tuesday Afternoon

Team No. 2 is leading the league with 14 wins and 10 losses. In second place is Team No. 6 with 13 wins and 11 losses. Teams No. 1 and 3 are in a tie for third place, each having won 12 games while losing 12. Nellie Routt kegled the high single game, a big 216 score plus games of 191 and 128 for a 535 series. Mary Nute scored with a 484 series on games of 171, 181, and 132.

Decatur

In the Men's Factory League, Stators are in first place with 15 wins and 9 losses. In second place are Flanges with 14 wins and 10 losses. Within striking distance of the leaders, just 3 games back, is Office, having won 12 and losing 12. G. Schultz rolled the high game, a 255 count.

GE Fraternal

BPO Elks are in the lead with 21½ games won and 5½ lost. West End Restaurant is in second place with 17½ wins and 9½ losses. Teeple Truck Lines and Riverview Gardens are tied, each having won 13½ while losing 13½. Tutewiler rolled a 607 series on games of 196, 179, and 233. Shoaf put together games of 194, 206, and 213 for a 613 series. Other double century counts were: Bultemeier, 203; Graber, 212; H. Strickler, 203; Steury, 222; Custer, 201 and 200; Briede, 221; Hancher, 203; Berry, 214; Jackson, 203; Crater, 220; Bauserman, 223; Pillars, 256; Zelt, 200; Lord, 213, and O. Schultz, 207. Monroeville Lumber Co. rolled a 1096 and GE Club rolled a 1050.

GE Women's League

Hi Spots are leading the league with a record of 16 wins and 11 losses. In second place are Lost-Frames, 14 wins and 13 losses. Office has won 13 and lost 14 for third place. Spares are in fourth place with 11 wins and 16 losses. High scores were rolled by Miller, 177; Engle, 175, and Kleinhenz, 163.

Matthews-Schearer Combo Win GE Club Mixed Doubles; Roll Up Grand Total of 1312

The first mixed doubles of the 1953-1954 bowling season was held last Saturday night with 36 double teams competing. Frank Matthews and Liz Shearer teamed up to take first place and $20 with a total of 1312. Second place and $15 went to R. Masters and F. Oberholtzer, who rolled a 1250 count. Winnie Scheurich, with a 535, carried Charlie Wilt and they posted a 1237 score good for third place and $11.

Others rolling in the money were:

4th—V. Truelove-H. Truelove.....	1228	$9
5th—A. Lee-C. Hattendorf.....	1221	8
6th—J. Brown-R. Brown.....	1220	7
7th—E. Koehl-G. Koehl.....	1214	6
8th—L. Shearer-A. Smethers.....	1212	6
9th—J. Dangler-D. Bucher.....	1210	5
10th—F. Hagenjos-C. Hagenjos.....	1188	5

Art Smethers rolled the high score, a big 648 series on games of 235, 200, and 213. R. Masters rolled the high single count, a 248 game. Frank Matthews kegled 201 and 205; George Koehl, 222, and Joe Burton, 233.

High scores for the ladies were: Liz Shearer, 203, 173, and 175 for a 551; Winnie Scheurich, 182, 176, and 177 for a 535; V. Truelove, 170; A. Lee, 172; J. Brown, 173; J. Dangler, 181; M. Meeks, 182; J. Habig, 178 and 182; M. Saylor, 170; M. Rollins, 188, and M. Beugnot, 175.

Ann Lee converted the 4-5-7 split and Winnie Scheurich converted the 2-4-10 split. The next mixed doubles will be held Saturday, Dec. 5, with squads rolling at 6 and 8:30 p.m. Entries are now being made at the GE Club or by telephoning 742.

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

Clara Volz

Louie Clark gave me heck for mentioning that he ate three big sandwiches in his lunch. Now his wife will only give him one. After all, I was only trying to do you a favor, Louie. Maybe now you'll get that slim figure back again that you had a long time ago. . . . Norbert Jacquay was giving Arland Studebaker a few pointers on how to keep the test floor clean. Learn anything, Arland? . . . Come on down off of the ceiling lights, Margie Messer. It's only a little mouse running around your desk. . . . Jim Scarsborough acquired a cute little black velvet woman's hat that he found on the street while coming to work. Going to raffle it off, Jim? . . . Jerry Holtsclaw dropped in the office and paid us a visit. He looked like a million dollars. . . . Cal Marhenke bought himself a pair of bifocal glasses and figures he should take life easy now. Meaning, the wife and kids are to bring him the newspaper and his slippers when he is all settled for the evening. What else did your wife say besides what I shouldn't print, Cal? . . . Doc Garton bought a new TV set. If I know Fort Wayne reception I'll bet he never saw so much

GE Rod and Gun Outshoots R & R

The GE Rod and Gun Club rifle team won from the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver Club team November 4, by a score of 1112 to 1063. The match was held at Decatur.

The next match is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 18, at Ossian with the Ossian Rifle Club.

Following are the match scores:

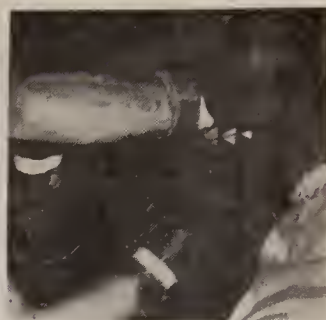

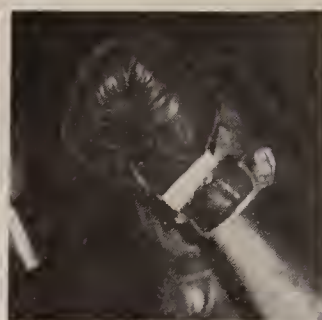

GE
R. Stevens	285
O. Emrick	278
L. May	277
H. Patterson	272
Totals	1112
FORT WAYNE
F. Fields	283
J. Kuhlman	274
E. Bolden	255
R. Tillman	251
Totals	1063

COUNT OFF SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Marguerite Stahl

We hope Elmer Scherrer and Ed Feidler enjoy their vacation this week. . . . We were happy to have Frank Walters, from Markle, visit us last Friday. We are always glad to have our retired members visit us. . . . Ruby Stoops is convalescing nicely. She will soon be back with us. We were happy to have her visit us last Friday. . . . We have decided that Carl Reidel wouldn't make a good banker. He didn't hear the alarm clock the other morning and woke up at 9 a.m. He took his children to school for the first recess and he reported for work early noon. . . . Everyone who attended the Fall Revue at the GE Club thoroughly enjoyed the wonderful program. The ones that weren't there missed some grand entertainment. . . . George Marshand and Basil Bear are back from their hunting trip in Canada, but no deer. I guess deer aren't as easy to buy as fish at the fish market. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Ness entertained Sydonna Fox and children, Arlene and Larry, and Al Reidenbach at a chicken dinner Sunday evening.

snow. . . . Saw John Hoelle's picture in the Journal-Gazette sports page. He was quite the young dapper fellow in his day. . . . John Norris, Dick Miller, Leonard Staskelumas, and another fellow got up last Saturday morning about 2:30 to go duck hunting. Result: One lousy duck among the four of 'em.

Third GE Club Boxing Show Monday Expected to Pack Plenty of Punch

Monday evening, Nov. 16, the GE Club will open to the third boxing show at 8:15 p.m. The events will feature amateur area pugilists plus a heavyweight inter-city fight.

Johnny Freeman, local boy, will meet Ervin Jones, from South Bend, in the heavyweight bout.

A newcomer to the ring should provide an interesting match. He is Gabby Hormann, who has his own program of hillbilly music and interviews on radio station WGL Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Gabby is in the middleweight class.

Lightweight matches will pit Don Bowers, Fort Wayne, against Norman Stevenson, of Butler, and Jim Swank, Garrett, will meet Mike Baxtin, Auburn. McKinley Davis will challenge Monroeville's Oscar Ayers in this weight.

Boys from Van Wert, Auburn, Garrett, Angola, and the Summit City will be featured on the evening's card.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at the GE Club desk for one dollar per person. General admission seats may be secured Monday evening for 60 cents per person.

THE NIGHT WIND SUB-SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Hazel Davis

We wish to welcome Vera Jordan, Vera Flesher, and Marjorie Borne back to work. . . . Jim Thacher looked alright in the red cap he received for his birthday. We also wish Glenn Miller a happy birthday. . . . Tracey and George Bartle attended a wedding last Saturday afternoon. . . . Eva Heazlit had company from Toledo, Ohio, over the week-end. . . . Alma Wise, whose bowling average is 111, bowled a 456 series last Friday. Keep up the good work, Alma. . . . We all want Tom Dougherty to know that we are thinking of him and hope he is much improved. . . . A speedy recovery to Vesta Risser, who underwent an operation recently. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield and Charles Sanders were guests of Dorothy Hart Saturday. . . . Alma Raymer was walking in the plant the other day, and noticing someone following, she jumped aside. She thought it was a man but found out that it was Ruth LaPradd wearing slacks. . . . Bob Reinhart has been called back to the 51 frame assembly. . . . Dorothy Hart's gentleman friend left the Wolf Lake hospital Thursday after having surgery. He is doing nicely and they will go to Elkhardt Saturday. . . . We missed Dallas Patton Monday and Tuesday. He was home with the flu. . . . We hear that Norma Hicks and Rita Wolf have been called back to work. They formerly worked on the 51 frame assembly. . . . Lela Ryan was lucky this week. She won a TV lamp.

GE Owls Open League Play With Win Over Salisbury

by Howard Colby

With the opening of a new season in basketball thrills, the GE Owls managed by Benny Penkul got off to a good start with a win over the Salisbury Axle quintet last Thursday morning by the score of 33 to 28.

With both teams playing under the "first game" pressure, they showed signs of eagerness and capability of a fine season ahead.

The first quarter saw lots of action despite the low score. Salisbury held a 5 to 2 lead at the end of this stanza. Carl Wilson scored the only basket for GE, who had a hard time finding the range.

The second period proved more fruitful as both teams began to hit a little better, but Salisbury still held onto the lead of 13 to 12.

With Etter hitting a pair of fielders, Blodgett adding a basket and a foul shot along with Dickey's two charity tosses, the Club team began to overcome the "first game" jitters.

In the third quarter, GE outscored Salisbury 11 to 6 as Carl Wilson hit for a fielder, Ron Blodgett chipped one in; and Tom Gladieux, a newcomer and former C. C. star, netted three baskets and a free throw for a lead of 22 to 19.

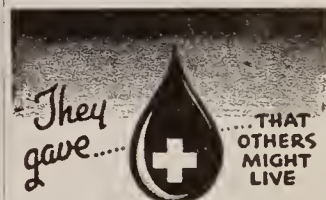

The final period was nip and tuck right down to the wire as GE scored 11 more points to Salisbury's 9 and took a 33 to 28 victory.

Ron Blodgett was high point man for GE with 9 points while McAllany led Salisbury with 12.

In the 9 a.m. game, Indiana Rod defeated Zollner 37 to 36, as Aircraft Gear took Eckrich 30 to 24 in the 10 a.m. game, to round out the first session of league play.

Next week's schedule is as follows:

9 a.m.—Ind. Rod and Eckrich.				10 a.m.—Aircraft Gear and Salisbury.
11 a.m.—GE Club and Zollner.				Salisbury
GE Club	G	F	T	Salisbury	G	F	T
Markey	0	0	0	Barnhart	1	1	3
Gladieux	3	1	7	Oberlin	1	0	2
Blodgett	4	1	9	Smith	4	0	8
Wilson	4	0	8	Decker	0	1	1
Etter	3	0	6	McAllany	1	4	12
Bailey	0	0	0	Saylor	0	0	0
Anspaugh	0	0	0	Drew	1	0	2
Dickey	0	2	2	Wilson	0	0	0
White	0	0	0
Somers	0	0	0
Blessing	0	1	1
Totals	14	5	33	Totals	11	6	28

The following persons were blood donors on October 27, 1953:

Kenneth Bergman, Vincent V. Busian, Virginia Keesler, Boyce Lamber, Sr., Martin A. Laughlin, John J. Rockhill, Lora Schroeder, Perry T. Schuerman, Robert W. Starkel.

The following were blood donors of October 29, 1953:

Joe L. Allen, Chester A. Beck, Paul Black, R. P. Cheesman, Mrs. Dorothy Duff, Pearl Everly, Enoch W. Hursh, Mrs. Beth Jacobs, Kenneth Kamphues, Henry N. Littlejohn, Karl McOmber, Jr., Mrs. Lydie Miller, William R. Miller, George Owens, Edwin Rodenbeck, John L. Roemer.

Wilbert H. Saalfank, Geraldine E. Schmidt, Marvin L. Schmidt, Eugene E. Scott, Robert C. Seitz, Robert H. Snyder, Dale F. Springer, Glenn C. Straight, Ivan O. Standish, Richard L. Stauffer, Mrs. Fay Stockberger, Donald C. Stoneman, John H. Terry, Louis Voirol.

BOWLING TOURNEY DEADLINE SATURDAY

YOUR BEST FRIEND WHEN SICKNESS HITS

The GE Insurance Plan is the best friend you can have in times of illness. As a member of the Plan, you will receive:

- ★ up to $10 a day for hospital room and board charges
up to a maximum of $700;
- ★ surgical operation insurance up to $175;
- ★ physicians' hospital attendance benefits of $3 a day
up to a maximum of $175;
- ★ maternity benefits for women employees;
- ★ weekly disability benefits of from $25.00 to $40.00 a week.

When sickness strikes you, the GE Insurance Plan will help to pay the bill.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

TOOL BITS BLDG. 19-4 and 5 by Don Clark

Blue Monday turned to bright Monday in our office this week when Sharon Matthews unveiled her newly acquired sparkling diamond ring. Since her husband-to-be is an airman first class, future plans are sure, but indefinite. . . . We welcome Regine Koons and Geraldine Holtzclaw to the production unit, and say best of luck to Alice Martinez who is leaving. . . . Jim Buchheit had quite a time at a super market the other evening. As he was leaving one of the many packages he was carrying slipped out of his arms and fell to the floor, breaking several bottles of his favorite refreshment beverage. I just wonder what his first expression was—he's always got one you know. Ralph Foust and Reinhold Lepper, with a party of friends, went fishing in deep Tennessee, only to return with a total of three fish. Those southern fish don't seem to care for northern bait. . . . Glad to report that Clarence Meeks is doing fine and that his wife is now at home recovering. . . . What a mix-up. Otto Rodenbeck ordered his TV set, only to anxiously wait and wait for its delivery. Finally he contacted the salesman, who revealed that they had his set but had lost his name. . . . Wilbur Lane was seen removing his crystal radio aerial so maybe he's a new TV convert. . . . Before the days of refrigeration, Kurt Martin would bring home his limit of catfish and float them in the bathtub. That was quite a strain on the family tie. Today that strain appears every time Kurt brings home live chickens. Even the dog takes part. . . . The fish fry at the church where Eldon Mee attends looked more like a tool room affair, judging from the toolmakers attending. . . . Art Dicke had a wonderful vacation in Washington, D. C. last week while Walter Greiner's block laying crew finished the school bus garage. Gene Denig and Gus Kruse deserve a big hand for their work, I hear. . . . James Lee has a thriving egg business going. The demand far exceeds his supply. Just raise the price, Jim. . . . Wayne Winters bought a dressed turkey from one of the boys last week and fastened it on the outside window ledge to keep cool. The way that turkey traveled around it may as well have been alive. . . . Willie Garman's 612 bowling score was not accident. Last week he rolled a 599 score. . . . Harold Wherry isn't the fire chief of the Coesse Fire Dept., but he did admit that he is its secretary-treasurer. Our hats are off to all GE workers who are volunteer firemen. . . . Archie Gwaltney and Bill Akers think the Elmhurst Trojans will beat everything that walks on a basketball court in Allen County this year, including Woody Hursh's Leo Lions. . . . Art Thieme's son, Allen, made Cliff Milner's column because his football team had won only one game all season. We understand Art will make the column next week for catching only one bass all season. . . . Woody Hursh knows where all the turtle holes are, but his neighbors are the ones who catch the big turtles. One fellow up there thought Woody had his catfish holes mixed with his turtle holes. . . . Paul Dole was an attractive looking doll, as he and his wife paraded up Michigan Avenue on Halloween. Paul's red hat, corset bound figure, dress and shoes reminded many of the residents of former school mates, sorority sisters or roommates.

Mrs. Dole wore coveralls and carried their water jug. They needed water for Paul's rubber monkey which he wore on his lapel, and operated from a ball in his dress pocket. . . . We say welcome to Nelson Smith in the die plant. . . . Ed Stahl must be using his TV plenty. He's sure replacing tubes. . . . Ross Cohagen, in fitting two storm windows, finished the first one okay. After he cut the second one to proper width, he discovered that he had cut it with his saw still set at an angle. Ignoring this, he decided to go ahead and cut the bottom. As this cut was finished, however, the saw tipped over and broke out the glass. Now, should he buy a new glass or a new window? . . . Coming upon Scott Click walking along a country road would be hard to figure, unless a half a mile down the road you came across his wife sitting patiently in the family car. What gives, Scotty—no gas?

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Dick Bodkins is the loneliest man in town. His wife and baby are in Florida, and he's counting the hours until they return. He had an awful set-back last week, too. Dick has a new Rocket Olds, of which he is very proud, and we don't blame him. It has just loads of features, the greatest being its extremely fast getaway. Dick is not a speeder or a reckless driver but now and then he does enjoy walking away from the rest of the cars when the light turns green. Last week, however, the worm turned. Dick was waiting for the light when an old grey Terraplane pulled up beside him, its driver grinning at him like a cat about to devour a mouse. The light flashed green and "phoom," the ancient old tub was gone. "Just luck," says Dick, "He couldn't do it again." But at the next light it was the same story. At the third light Dick decided to teach the driver a lesson. He pulled alongside the old boiler and slipped his powerful car in super. The light flashed green and Dick stuck his foot on the carburetor and was off like an arrow. He stole a glance in the mirror to see how the other fellow was taking his defeat but the old car wasn't there. "Oh, no," he couldn't have," cried Dick. But he did, for there, far out in front, was the old grey car lumbering along in search of new conquests. . . . While we are on the subject of cars Dewey Heaston, of Bldg. 20, has a peculiar way of checking the gas mileage on his new one. He has an 18½ gallon tank so he just filled it up, checked the mileage, and drove it until it ran out. Trouble is, he ran out on the way home from work in a traffic jam. Don't know how it would have turned out if it hadn't been for a little Plymouth behind him that pushed him to a gas station. . . . Kenny Evans wore a new red hat to work a couple of weeks ago, hoping I would notice it and mention how nice he looked. When I failed to mention it in this column he showed up the following week with a whole new outfit. O.K., Kenny, you win. You looked lovely. . . . Ferroll (Cupid) Hill says he won't buy a TV set because if he did his wife would sit and watch it all day and then he'd have to do the housework evenings. . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (High Pockets) Garrett. They celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary last Friday, November 6.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 15-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 15-1.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, November 16, 1953

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Red scarf with white flowers.
LOST—Lady's Bulova watch.
LOST—Purse containing blue rosary.
LOST—Blue Sheaffer pencil, silver cap, gold trim.
LOST—White bone carved earring.
LOST—Brown leather case containing keys and wedding band.
LOST—On inspection tour, diamond from engagement ring. Reward.
LOST—Two and one-half inch circle rhinestone pin.
LOST—Beige glove, embroidery cuff.
LOST—Three-inch gold square compact.
LOST—Red billfold. Valuable contents. Lost in Bldg. 4-5 rest room.
FOUND—Child's red check shoulder purse.
FOUND—Lady's white string gloves.
FOUND—Classes, light rims. Found in Fairfield lot.
FOUND—Gold and rhinestone brooch.
FOUND—One earring. Small pearls.
FOUND—Small cross, brilliant set. Found in No. 7 locker room at Taylor St.
FOUND—Money changer in Bldg. 4-5.
FOUND—Pearl engraved pen knife in Bldg. 26-2.
FOUND—Brown standard pen.
FOUND—Gold hoop earring for pierced ear.
FOUND—Tie holder with letters C. S.
FOUND—Sterling earring with five blue stones.
FOUND—Key in Bldg. 18-1.

FOR SALE

AUTO HEATER—Heavy duty. Like new. H-51107.
TIRE AND TUBE—Goodyear. Size 710 x 15. New. $15. H-90150.
OIL HEATER—Duo Therm. 55,000 BTU. Like new. H-66221.
CHINESE LAMPS—Two, matched. H-39261.
BEDROOM SUITE—Four-piece. Sofa bed, utility table. One chair, coffee table, and Hoover cleaner with attachments. E-25782.
DINING ROOM SUITE—Eight piece walnut; $30. Girl's 28-inch bicycle. B-flat clarinet. Boy's hockey ice skates, size 9. H-5623.
BABY BUGGY—Thayer, light blue. Pal walker. Both for $25. H-66262.
GUN—12-gauge hammer pump; $30. Smith 52-gallon electric water heater. Good as new. Meat band saw "All American" with 1 hp motor. A-56619.
SHOTGUN—12 gauge. Ithaca Feather-light. Shot about a dozen times. Good as new. 410 W. Wahash St., Bluffton, Ind. Phone 1073-R.
LOT—56-150 Fairfax addition. $50 down. 120 month. Will consider trade for car. H-56623.
CAR—1941 4-door Ford; $75. H-83109 after 6 p.m.
CLOTHING—Girl's three-piece coat and leggings set. Snow suit for girl or boy (6-12 months). Both dry cleaned. $5 each. Lady's coat, dresses, sweaters, and maternity dresses. Size 15 and 16. All in good condition and reasonable. A-56832.
TARGET RIFLE—Model 52 Winchester, heavy barrel. Olympic iron sights. Excellent condition. H-83115.
INTER-COM SPEAKER—For your home, office or shop. Black fur coat, large size. $20. E-66272.
BABY BED—Small tricycle and wagon. H-2584.
AUTO PARTS—For '40 Chevrolet. Good motor. H-64252.
PUMP PUMP—Tokheim, for basement. Never used. Reasonable. H-79644.
GIRL'S WINTER COAT—Blue with grey fur collar. Size 14. Reasonable. H-76643.
DINETTE SET—Chrome. Table and four chairs. $25. A-77164.
COMBINATION STORM DOORS—Two. 3 ft. x 7 ft. and 2.6 ft. x 6.9 ft. Also, two large pieces of red velvet. Suitable for drapes. 2622 Kensington. A-68421.
SHOTGUN—New, Model 348. Bolt action 12 gauge. Three shot magazine. Due to ill health only 10 rounds shot. $25. A-75182, evenings and week-ends.
CHILD'S TV SET—Excel with four rolls of film. Wind-up train with trucks. $10. 3425 1/2 Winter St., Apt. 1.

REFRIGERATOR—Coldspot. Runs good. 1606 East Lewis.

STOVE—Large Kalamazoo wood and coal stove. Duo-Therm small oil heater, with tank. Wm. Beebe, St. Joe, Ind. Phone 2585.

GARAGE DOORS—One set of steel and casing. One pair of French doors, oak with plate glass. H-8530.

OIL BURNER—Iron Fireman luminous vortex. Model V. Perfect condition. Reasonable. K-2297.

PLAYER PIANO—H-73194.

ELECTRIC GUITAR—Good condition. Reasonable. H-28674 after 6 p.m.

BABY BED—Four years old, with mattress. H-82559.

TROPICAL FISH—Large selection. Also, used aquarium. H-9664.

SOFA—Grey-green denim; $10. Dark oak upright piano. Good finish; $22.45. A-39838.

BICYCLE—Girl's 28-inch. Also, girl's roller skates, size 4 1/2. A-96725 after 4 p.m.

BEAGLE HOUND—Two years old; $10. Puppies, six weeks old; $3 each. Christmas cactus plant, large; $3. Kitchen range, wood or coal. Good condition; $5. A-16964.

TWO FRENCH DOORS—Oak. Size 2 ft. 6 in. x 6 ft. 8 in. x 1 1/4 inch thick. Beveled plate glass. One double bed springs. H-1861.

BOY'S CLOTHING—Gray gro-coat, cap to match. Boy's sport suit coat. Both size 9 to 11. A-2746.

ELECTRIC TRAINS—And equipment. Latest models. Used very little. Cost over $300. Will sell for $150. A-2746.

KITCHEN TABLE—And four chairs. $20. A-50178.

BOY'S OVERCOAT—Grey zip-in lining. Size 16. Dry cleaned and in excellent condition. Boy's figure skates. Size 7. A-5974.

TRAINS—Two Lionel with track and accessories. $95. H-26455.

CAR RADIO—Silver-tone, one year old. Fits in '40 through '48 Plymouth. Aerial included; $20. H-03351 after 5:30 p.m.

DINING ROOM SUITE—French walnut with china cupboard and buffet. Wood bed frame and table. 9 x 12 fiber rug. Reasonable. E-71796.

GIRL'S CLOTHING—Size 7 to 8 years. Rain cape, boots, skirt, dresses, pajamas, etc. All in good condition. Also, two lady's dresses, size 16-18. H-83965.

KITCHEN CABINET—$20. Gas range; $10. 1609 E. Lewis St. E-65955.

FANCY NEEDLEWORK—Also, African violets and rooted leaves. Moses-in-a-cradle. K-4765.

FURNACE CONTROLS—Automatic for coal furnace. New, very reasonable. A-19312.

FUR COAT—Silver Fox, size 14 to 16. Very good condition. Will sacrifice. E-38675.

SWEEPER—Hoover, with attachments. One white 21-inch round lavatory with faucet. H-26094 after 5 p.m.

VHF BOOSTER—Electro-voice, automatic. Model 3000. Excellent condition; $20. H-19332.

TRAILER—41-ft. Alma mobile home. One year old. Two bedrooms and bath. 30 ft. new awning included. $1000 less than cost. Can be financed. Lot 33, Busck Trailer Sales, 7515 Bluffton Rd. H-46744 or H-2255.

RUG—Velvet oriental. Excellent condition. 9 x 12. $15. Four Austrian shades, white 33 x 64. Boy's topcoat. Zip-in all wool lining. Size 12. Like new; $12. H-78704. 430 E. Suttentfield St.

DOG BED—Metal with pad; $3. Beagle dog; $10. Six-week old puppies; $3. Baby buggy; $13. Baby scales; $3. E-37654 anytime.

STORM COAT—Navy gabardine. Green corduroy jumper and bolero. Peacock blue corduroy dress. Tweed coat. Size 12. H-60951.

HICKORY NUTS—Shag bark. 35 cents a pound. H-65671.

BED—New Holmes, full size. Folds against wall. Cost $58, will sell for $40. A-88301 after 4 p.m.

DINING ROOM SUITE—Eight piece. A-2943 Winter St.

MAN'S SUIT—Blue stripe. Size 38. Two lady's watches; one Waltham and one Elgin. All in good condition. Reasonable. H-26086.

MAPLE BED—Full size with springs and mattress. Very clean, good condition. $35. H-4126.

AIR COMPRESSOR—And tank. Buell. $45. 3126 Hanna St. H-55242.

ELECTRIC HEATER—In good condition. Used only twice. Two burner electric hot plate. Used very little. E-36641 after 2 p.m. until 8 p.m.

CRIB MATTRESS—Toidy seat, collapsible baby carriage. Reasonable. H-9479.

TRUCK—1934 half ton truck. H-35872 after 4 p.m.

TWO-WHEEL TRAILER—4 x 7 bed. Complete with side racks and numbers. A-56413. 2401 Florida Drive.

SHOTGUN—Marlin 12-gauge six shooter repeater. A-39076.

ORANGES—Tree ripened Florida, shipped direct to you from grove. $2.50 a bushel, plus express charges. Roscoe L. Beedle, R. R. No. 13, Fort Wayne.

WANTED

COMBINATION STORM DOOR—Size 32 in. x 81 in. A-76628.

BOOKCASE—Mahogany. H-19604.

BOY'S BICYCLE—20-inch, in good condition. K-4491.

GAS HEATER—Or electric for Cub Scout den. Reasonable. E-66272.

BOY'S BICYCLE—Two-wheel, for boy 5 years old. Good condition. H-24111.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE WANTED—From Pettit Lafayette area to Taylor St. for 8 a.m. shift. H-28461 after 7 p.m.

RIDE WANTED—First trick, from East 37 and Reed Rd. Ext. 415 or A-50414.

RIDE WANTED—From 6105 S. Anthony to Taylor St., 6:48 a.m. to 3:18 p.m. H-26267.

RIDE WANTED—From Wolcottville to Broadway. 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Helen Struver, Ext. 646.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT—Three rooms and bath. unfurnished. Heat and water furnished. $55. H-57213.

APARTMENT—Three rooms and bath. Ground floor. Full basement. Close to Taylor St. GE. $50. 1916 Eby Ave.

SLEEPING ROOM—Automatic heat and hot water. Private entrance. $4 a week. 1045 Swinney Ave. A-77751.

APARTMENT—Three rooms and bath. furnished. Utilities furnished. Private entrance. Use of phone. H-35124 after 6 p.m. or before 8 a.m.

UPPER FRONT ROOM—And kitchenette. Private entrance. Gentleman preferred. H-1097.

APARTMENT—Three rooms and kitchenette. unfurnished. Private entrance and bath. All utilities furnished. H-9852 after 4 p.m.

ROOMS—Two, well furnished for gentlemen. Automatic heat. Garage available about December 11. 1219 Park Ave. K-5244.

HOUSE—Three bedroom, six room house. Close to Broadway plant. Unfurnished. A-5465.

MISCELLANEOUS

I WILL care for your children, any shift. On Leo Rd., Rd. 427. Near Wallen. E-69141.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my thanks and gratitude to my friends and former co-workers in the firemen and plant protection organizations for the gifts they sent me while I was in the hospital recently. Many thanks to each of you.—Phil Weick, 2110 Ontario St.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

We were all glad to see Marge Bischoff's smiling face Monday morning, but she says she prefers nights. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Lou Howley's husband, who is in the Lutheran hospital. . . . Joan Gausepohl lost a lot of weight on the one side of her face. An infected tooth caused all the trouble. . . . Perry Esterline says he was flying right in the plane when he saw the Cinerama. . . . Hazel Stauffer is on her vacation this week. She is planning on seeing her son, Jim, who is down at Indiana University. . . . Cecil Foor is on days again and poor Bob Blocher has to work nights. . . . A speedy recovery to Irma Angel, who is on our sick list. . . . From now on, folks, take your troubles to Si Slater. She will even let you weep on her shoulders. . . . Nora Dudgeon spent the week-end visiting a sick friend in Chicago. . . . Kay Vondran and Irene Niser don't have far to go now to get themselves in the doghouse. They have one close by. . . . If you see a car in the ditch out in Foster Park think nothing of it. It is probably Ed Menzinger practicing his driving. . . . The way the city of Garrett is growing, their city limits will probably reach Paul Arnold's new house and his address will be Garrett instead of Fort Wayne. . . . Fred Ulrich is back at work. He was on the sick list. . . . Lois Weeks is looking for a ride in to Broadway. Call her on 415 if you live out East 37. She works from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. . . . If you have room for one more passenger, and you live out by Adams Lake or Wolcottville, call Helen Struver on 645. She is looking for a ride, and she goes to work at 7 a.m. . . . Wallace Growcock got a promotion. He is assistant fire chief at Rome City. He says no fire is too small. . . . The "bills" at the Bill Charleston home are quite small since he got that TV set. Guess TV is good for more than entertainment. . . . Jake Kugler forgot to shave his upper lip, but after so much razzing he came in on Monday clean shaven. . . . Birthday greetings to Malinda Behrman, Helen Boedecker, and Pat Hatch, who are going to be 39 again, so they say. . . . Among the people who are now enjoying their own TV are Clair Bennett and Helen

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

Wonder who told Mary Miller that milk baths were a beauty aid? It may be true if you immerse yourself in one, but I doubt that the amount held by a thermos would do much good. . . . By the use of her calculator Esther Winje has figured out that by taking the total number of tables on hand, subtracting the one which is removed each day, she will soon have to build a table for the noon hour card games. . . . Ted Lorenz is not suffering from rheumatism—he has just finished moving and has aching muscles. . . . Charles Lammiman is an enthusiastic fan of "wonder drugs." He was feeling low, swallowed one pill, and came bouncing back from the fountain two steps at a time. He felt wonderful until someone told him that it was just aspirin.

A hearty pat on the back to the many people who gave of their time and efforts to solicit for the Employee's Community Fund. We are very proud that 50 per cent of our non-contributors donated when contacted. At the present we can boast that approximately 90 per cent of our employees are contributors. Those who were responsible for gathering contributions are: Jane Cusenberry, Joan Vordran, Eleanor Viland, James McKim, Mary Leiter, Ray O'Keefe, and Kenneth Kreamer. Take a bow, folks. . . . Engineering is doing some extra-curricular studying on the timely subject of "Rats in the Beer Vats." . . . Margaret Motherwell reports a very enjoyable time at Indianapolis, attending the Legion Convention. . . . James Barrick brought home a ham and a black eye from a recent "shooting match." Makes one wonder if he was using a gun or his first to obtain the prize.

James Stafford is convinced that water freezes at a higher temperature in Indiana than it does in Oklahoma. So far, he has had no luck in convincing others in the "ill-fated car pool" of the fact. . . . Paul Snyder is wearing the straining around his finger so that he will remember to tell his riders when he has to work overtime. Someone should tell him that it is too cold to keep riders standing outside in the parking lot. . . . We missed seeing Art Hickman, one of our faithful news contributors, on our last tour. Sorry to hear that Mrs. Hickman is ill. . . . We nominate Danny Hill for the highest award given to Boy Scouts. Following the tradition of a good deed a day, Danny is taking as his project directing lost girls through the factory. Most laudable.

At last a method has been found to defeat inflation. This ingenious method, initiated by Beatrice Pender, is: leave your weekly paycheck at home, take the stub uptown, endorse it, and send it up to the credit department of a store to be cashed. One drawback—an uncooperative person in the credit department wouldn't accept it. . . . Mayme Carney was surprised to find an unwelcome addition to her coke. For some reason she prefers "unflavored" cokes from the machine.

A Fairfield Finding: After 30 years of service in various sections of meter and air-conditioning, John W. Wolff has retired. His friends and fellow workers join in wishing him years of health and happiness. They presented him with a chest containing one silver dollar for each year of service. John is known for his friendly smile and his appreciation of the little things which so many of us take for granted. . . . Carl Speckman and John Shoedel, retired GE'ers, were visiting friends in the Tool Room and Employee Store. . . . The welcome mat is out for: Dorothy Carpenter in drafting; Eileen Shefner and Dorothy Moore in accounting; Floyd Seitz, a new punch press operator; Ray O'Neal, production clerk; Ann Amstutz, a recent addition to the wage rate section; and to John W. Braden, the 5-foot 18-inch newcomer in employee relations. . . . Harold Bohde, with new gun in hand, has taken off for Michigan to go deer hunting with son Dick, from Bldg. 6-2. We will be expecting venison. . . . Winter St. had its own Grauman's Chinese Theatre last week. Carrying on a conversation while walking through the factory, Kenny Berglund suddenly felt a gooey substance squishing around his shoes. Kenny had a pair of two-tone shoes the rest of the day—brown on top and cement gray on the sides.

Congratulations to: Hap Arnold is wearing a beautiful new watch, a gift for his 39th birthday, celebrated last week. . . . Tom Roberts, on his promotion to foreman. . . . Bill Lee, Alan Lord, and John Reardon for their work as advisers to teen-agers in a Junior Achievement Group. . . . The Max Tritches on the birth of a son. With Max playing center they now have a basketball team—four boys. . . . Melvin Linberg, on his promotion to foreman in training. . . . Wonder what Orton Anderson's hobby is? He took his last week of vacation when duck season opened; second week during rabbit season; and third week when deer season opened. Could this be only a coincidence?

We have been informed that a special morning performance of THE ROBE has been scheduled at the Paramount so that second shift employees may attend. The first showing starts at 11 a.m.

and James Franklin. . . . Grace Elihu Lee is on vacation—Detroit bound. . . . Our sympathy to Margie Ogden on the death of her father-in-law. . . . We wonder how George Luedeman is getting along with his dancing lessons? . . . Ralph Waikel spent the week-end playing with his new TV set.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Harry A. Winne, GE Vice President Retires; Recognized as Top Engineering Authority

Harry A. Winne, long recognized as one of the nation's foremost authorities on engineering, has retired as vice president of the General Electric Company after 43 years of service.

Mr. Winne, who has been on special assignments for GE President Ralph J. Cordiner since May, will continue his headquarters at the local GE offices until the end of the year to complete those assignments.

One of the country's leading experts in the field of atomic energy, Mr. Winne has been consulted frequently by government officials and in January, 1946 was named to a board of consultants to aid the government's committee on atomic energy. He was one of the signers of the State Department's "Report on the International Control of Atomic Power." In 1950 he served on a scientific manpower advisory board of the national security resources board.

Mr. Winne was elected a General Electric vice president in October, 1941, and was placed in charge of design engineering for the apparatus department. In September, 1945, he was appointed vice president in charge of engineering policy for the entire company and became a member of the staff of Charles E. Wilson, then GE President, but retained headquarters in Schenectady.

Visits Europe

Mr. Winne continued as vice president of engineering until May of this year when he was assigned special duties by President Cordiner, one of which included a three-month study trip to Europe from which he returned two weeks ago. Clarence H. Linder succeeded Mr. Winne as vice president of engineering. A native of Cherry Valley, N. Y., Mr. Winne was graduated from Syracuse University in 1910 with the degree of electric engineer. He was selected that year by General Electric to become a student engineer on the test course.

Central gunnery control for the B-29 superfortress, the automatic pilot, the turbosupercharger, aircraft jet engines—virtually all of the most famous products turned out by the GE apparatus department during the war were developments of the design engineering department which Mr. Winne headed before becoming vice president of engineering.

Worked on War Projects

Besides heading the apparatus design engineering department during the war, he was also a member of the war projects committee, which co-ordinated General Electric's work with the War and Navy Departments.

On January 18, 1951, Mr. Winne was also assigned responsibility for the GE general engineering laboratory at Schenectady, and on January 29, 1954, the nucleonics department was added to his responsibilities.

He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Syracuse University, June, 1947; the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, June, 1947; and the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from Newark College of Engineering, June, 1949.

LAST CHECK-OUT—Ernest Collier rings his clock card for the last time as he retires from the company. Vance Bernau (left) and Vern Castle stand by to say good-by. Mr. Collier joined GE in 1943 at Winter St. and worked in Bldg. 17-3, prior to retirement.

GE to Build Control Plant

General Electric has announced that it will build a new factory to manufacture electronic controls near Waynesboro, Va., as headquarters for the company's recently established Specialty Control Department.

Dr. Louis T. Rader, general manager of the GE department, said that construction of the new plant will begin on a 70-acre site early next year. Facilities will include a large manufacturing area, warehouse, laboratory, cafeteria, personnel facilities, and modern offices. Pilot plant operations are scheduled for late 1954.

Acquisition of the added facilities was necessitated, he pointed out, in anticipation of projected heavy demands for electronic equipment such as electronic drives, adjustable speed drives, speed regulators, aircraft and generator regulating equipment, and similar devices.

Dr. Rader said that the department currently employs about 550 people at Schenectady, N. Y. He explained that employment there will continue at about the same level until late in 1954 when a gradual transition would begin to permit relocation of affected personnel to expanding GE departments in that area.

Connor

(Continued from page 1)

1949, Mr. Connor was supervisor of general planning. Prior to his present appointment, he was manufacturing engineer in the Hermetic Motor Department.

A graduate of the University of Vermont, Mr. Connor received his BSME degree in 1936. He is a registered professional engineer in the State of Indiana and a member of the Fort Wayne Engineers Club and the GE Squares.

Mr. and Mrs. Connor and their three children reside at 4011 Wawona Trail.

Blood Donors

(Continued from page 1)

tributions may be made Thursday afternoons.

The current quota established by the blood center on past needs of Fort Wayne citizens is used entirely by the hospitals in the city. Since donations can be stored for only 21 days, a constant need must be met, Mr. Schell stated.

In addition to collecting and distributing blood for the city, the center makes collections and distributions for 27 counties in Indiana and eight counties in Ohio. The quota of these areas together with the local need is 27,000 bottles.

Any blood collected above the quota is sent to the Department of Defense. However, the request of 9,000 bottles for this use is not filled until the local need is met.

Central High Student Earns $100 for Anniversary Essay

Judy Adams, a 17-year-old Central High School senior, won first place in the 75th Anniversary essay contest and a cash award of $100. Second place and a $50 award went to Debbie Hacker, age 16, from North Side High School; and third prize of $25 was awarded Helen Olson, age 16, also of Central High.

Honorary mentions with $10 awards will be presented to Juanita Zerby, North Side, Paul Wilkinson and Edward Boseker, both of Central High.

The awards will be presented today at a luncheon in Bldg. 16-3 for the six winners. L. C. Swager, who served as official host for the anniversary celebration, will make the presentations.

The contest was limited to high school seniors attending public or parochial schools in Fort Wayne and Allen County. The entries were judged by Joseph P. Couglin, manager of marketing for the Specialty Transformer Department, Walter H. Sunier, manager of employee relations for the Specialty Component Motor Department, and Virginia Molden, editor of the GE NEWS.

Judging was based on originality, neatness, and accuracy of material presented.

Judy, whose essay appears on this page, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adams, of 1116 South Anthony Blvd. Debbie Hacker is the daughter of George F. Hacker and lives at 1849 Florida Drive. Helen Olson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Olson, of 121 S. Anthony Blvd. Paul Wilkinson is the son of R. B. Wilkinson, 145 Summit St. Juanita Zerby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Zerby, of 528 Fairmount Place. Edward Boseker, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boseker, of 1424 Spring St.

What the GE Open House Meant to Me

by JUDY ADAMS

Central High School

Riding back to school on the bus, I looked back over my afternoon with the General Electric Company. First, we walked through the gates that had been locked to us before. Then, we toured the vast buildings. There was the rumble of the milling machines, punch presses, and boring mills, but along with that, there were my neighbors working at their daily jobs; people I knew well, others I had seen occasionally as fellow passengers on the bus. For the first time I realized that they were a part of the General Electric's seventy-five years of progress.

These employees do not put in their time, day in, day out, year in, year out, to a monotonous occupation because their jobs are part of the never-ending march of progress. The woman who puts insulating material into a small motor is helping to give some individual or company more power or easier power than it had before. One more step of modernization has taken place when that motor replaces some old worn-out fixture that had become impractical.

I had always thought of the General Electric in connection with stoves, refrigerators, and electric irons, but, here again, my neighbors on the assembly line working on motors and generators showed me that General Electric reaches into many other fields. Here was one generator to go to a sugar refinery; another designed for a paper mill. Maybe the machines themselves in the General Electric plant are not a direct part of my life, but I may put some sugar in my morning cocoa from a refinery that used a General Electric generator or maybe the notebook paper I use every day in school was from a paper mill powered by General Electric motors.

Besides the machinery I saw how the General Electric keeps its Fort Wayne employees happy. Safety signs hung in every department. Workers near sparks from machines wore goggles and gloves. Signs advertised dances and parties for the workers. The washrooms were clean. Candy, Coke, and milk machines stood in the various departments. In the copy of the General Electric News, which I saw for the first time, I read about the prizes awarded for suggestions given by the employees, the Elex Club, and the bowling and boxing at the GE Club.

Altogether I was not impressed by the machinery, but by the employees, who, in their daily jobs, draw the General Electric into the lives of Fort Wayne's citizens and people all over the country. The General Electric has progressed not only in the realm of industry, but has made headway in the difficult task of breaking the monotonous labor of specialized jobs, and has enriched the worker by giving him a good mental attitude.

NOV 23 1953

PUBLIC LIBRARY
FORT WAYNE & ALLEN CO., I. D.
PERIODICALS

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

MBA STORY

Page 3

Volume 36

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1953

No. 45

MBA PROPOSES TO INCREASE BENEFITS Elex Announces Christmas Party Plans

TINY SHARE OWNER—GE Baby Derby member, Alicia Denise, daughter of Jamesetta Porter, Taylor St., right, and James Porter, Jr., Bldg. 19-2, glances over the five shares of GE common stock which she received this week for entering the world Oct. 15. J. J. Clarkson, general manager of the Specialty Component Motor Department, presents the stock award. Alicia is one of five babies born to Fort Wayne families on the date of the company's 75th anniversary. Pictures of the other new share owners appear on page 5.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS—Winners in the 75th Anniversary Essay Contest receive awards from L. C. Swager, manager of employee and plant community relations. Winners (l-r) are Paul Wilkinson, Juanita Zerby, both $10 honorable mention; Judy Adams, $100 first prize; Debby Hacker, $50 second prize; Edward Boseker, honorable mention, and Helen Olson, $25 third prize.

Entire Membership to See 1954 Ice Capades at Coliseum

Elex Club members will attend the Ice Capades of 1954 for their annual Christmas party this year, Joyce Brumbaugh, president, revealed today.

A special block of seats for the Sunday, Dec. 20, show at the War Memorial Coliseum has been reserved for the group.

This will be the first time that Elex members have attended a professional program for their annual yuletide party. In prior years, they have staged their parties in the GE Club.

Tickets for the party, which is open to members only, will be available from contact girls beginning Monday, Dec. 7, for 50 cents per member. The deadline for securing tickets is Wednesday, Dec. 16.

Those attending should meet at the Coliseum in the basement between 6 and 6:30 p.m., on Dec. 20, for a pre-show party. At this time, admission tickets for the Ice Capades will be given members in exchange for their party tickets. Gifts will be presented each of the girls then also. No tickets for the show will be held after 8 p.m., the president stated. Members must use the regular ice show tickets they receive at the party to attend the show.

Members attending the pre-show party should use the exhibition hall entrance in going to the Coliseum basement. Special Fort Wayne Transit buses will be available to take members to the show. They will leave from the Calhoun St. and Washington Blvd. stop at 5:30 and 6:30 p.m., Dec. 20.

PAXTON VISITS PLANT—Robert Paxton, GE executive vice president in charge of the Industrial Products and Lamp Group, came to the Fort Wayne plant last week. He is being greeted on his arrival by H. A. MacKinnon, vice president and general manager of the Component Products Division, left.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden
Barbara W. Hyman

Editor
Assistant Editor

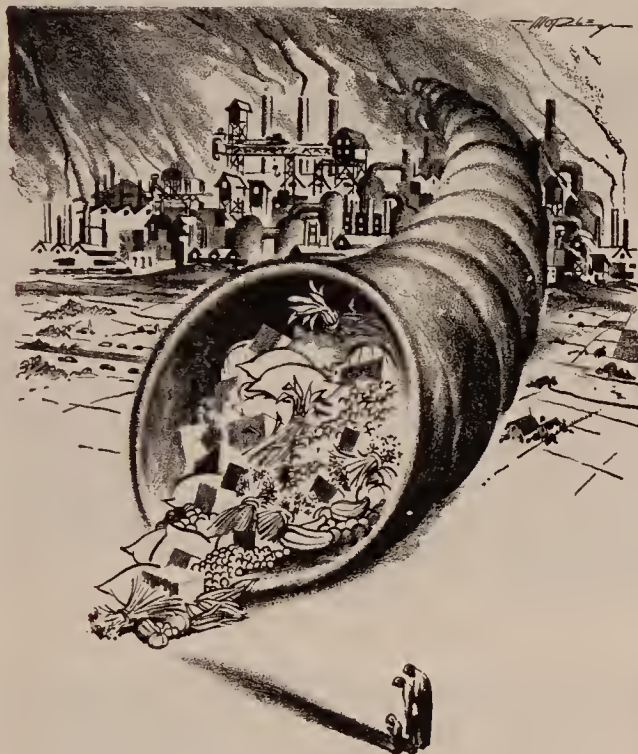

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. E-7431, Ext. 441

Volume 36

Friday, November 20, 1953

No. 45

... FOR ALL THIS BOUNTY... AND FOR THE FREEDOM THAT KEEPS US STRONG...

—O—O—O—

Lincoln's Words Apt

This Thanksgiving

The words which Abraham Lincoln used in issuing the first Presidential Proclamation for a nation-wide observance of Thanksgiving Day on the last Thursday in November, 1863, have a special significance for us today.

The nation was torn by the War Between the States. But, wrote the martyred President:

"The year that is drawing toward its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added which are of so extraordinary a nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever watchful providence of Almighty God.

"Needful diversions of wealth and strength from the fields of peaceful industry to the national defense have not arrested the plow, the shuttle or the ship... the country, rejoicing in the consciousness of augmented strength and vigor is permitted to expect continuance of years with large increase of freedom.

"No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out, these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, Who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy. It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people. . . ."

SPECIALTY MOTORS

Shipping—Receiving—Order Service

by Mabel Fisher

Mrs. Audrey Betley is leaving us today to become a full-time housewife. Good wishes from all of us. . . Herman Ebel is back with us again (this time to stay, we hope). He is replacing C. L. Saurbaugh, who is enjoying his retirement. Welcome back, Herman. . . Our new checker on the first floor of Bldg. 6 is Mr. Herman B. Lee, who was recently transferred to our department. The whole gang welcomes him. . . Plans are now under way for a Specialty Motors-Shipping-Receiving-Order Service Christmas party, which will be held on Saturday, December 19. Save the date. Details a little later. The following committee is in charge: F. F. Brown, Kate Minehart, Eva Westrick, Gertrude Koldewey, P. I. Poling, Carl Oberwitt, Ruby Flaugh, Eddie Dirks, Paul Thomas, Paul Baker, Johnnie Malcolm, Tom Fox, and Dick Campbell. . . A long-legged bird shower was recently given at the home of Gertrude Koldewey, with Audrey Betley as the guest of honor and Mabel Keppler as assisting hostess. Needless to say, the party was a huge success. . . Happy birthday to Irene Richardson. . . Fayne Ann Christlieb went shopping in Chicago recently and has her Christmas shopping all done. So soon, too. . . Cupid has finally sent his darts in Eva Westrick's direction. She recently caught the bridal bouquet at a wedding. Look out, you eligibles.

STORMY WEATHER

BLDG. 17-4

by Bill Hurtt & Larry Reed

It's always been said we can make anything here, and not to be outdone by the candy manufacturers, we made some peanut brittle. Omer Mettler was the first to sample it, but by all comments and reports he didn't seem to like it too well. His highest objection was the similarity between it and rubber. . . Either the cat or the rugs are going to have to go, according to Houston Williams. He prefers it to be the cat since he doesn't want to lose any more work. . . Ray Pflueger made sure no one would steal his new Buick. He put the keys under the sun visor then proceeded to shut and lock the door. Of course, all he had to do then was have a new key made. . . John Baillie should control his temper when playing euchre and not tear the cards. . . It still remains a mystery whether Ed Klomp slept in his car all night or came back early. Regardless, his daughter had to bring the second car (a plutocrat, eh) and was seen merrily pushing No. 1 car down the street in an attempt to start it. . . Max Decker's argument is, when you have a new gun don't shoot it and it won't wear out. He went hunting with the new gun and didn't even fire it. In fact, he refused to take the safety off so his gun won't wear out. . . We're always glad to have things livened up. Carl Alter brightened the atmosphere by wearing a very gaudy, but attractive, tie. . . Howard Brooks nearly acquired a new member of his household when he fed a little dog the other day. But when one of our pretty mail girls came through, he (the dog) decided she would be better company and took off. . . Due to a third week's vacation Sol Andorfer is again among the missing. . . It must be an occupational disease. Much to her surprise, and great delight, Louise Hahn walked into Ray Pflueger's house and found him scrubbing the floor. . . To add to his many great accomplishments, Ed Klomp now can be considered as a television expert. When his new set wasn't working quite as well as he thought it should, he proceeded to get in the back and adjust several things. The only drawback to a good story is that it doesn't work as well as it did before. . . Anyone interested in having their property surveyed contact Rollie Miller. But unless you want to end up with a smaller lot be sure to tell him to leave his shrink rule at home. . . A sure sign that winter is coming—Edna Ward spent the week-end at the lake raking leaves and watching the ducks. . . Quotation for the Week: "He lives twice, who is able to find delight in the life that is past."

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Gordon Ulrick, Harriet Palmer, Mae Lebold, Joseph Carrier, Ralph Howley, Virginia Worley, Lester Redding, Hazel Bennett, Helen Spear, Esther Snyder, Fredrick Smith, Don Pressler, Edna Neal, Erma Angel, Phillip Miller, Robert Growcock, Ethel Shifflet, Helen Shuler, Ernest Pennington, Mae M. Haney, Lucy Alexander, and Beverly Chrystler.

Dismissed from Hospital

Martha Scott, Fay Kittridge, Esther Snyder, Lester Redding, Forest Ulrey, Robert Ramsey, Vesta Risser, George Kaade, and William Walde.

Returned to Work

John Lee, Milton McCombs, Georgia Beamer, Herbert Saurer, Deloris Clemons, Annabelle Unger, Paul Dunfee, Chalmer Kleinknight, Cletus Schock, Mary Smith, Mary Klemm, Edward Johnson, Viola Cowan, Johanna Alles, Viliace Lee, Wilma Robinson, Helen Shuler, Robert Phillips, Fred Gesie, Thomas Voettler, Katherine Dolan, Mildred Ellis, Floyd Enos, Roy Barrand, Carl Bartaway, Velma LeCoque, Henrietta Jamison, and Walter Duane.

Words by Walt

A THANKSGIVING PRAYER

Dear God, on this day set apart,
Look deep into each human heart,
And lend Thine ear, for there you'll find
What each sincerely has in mind.

You'll find some giving thanks for health,
And some for their material wealth;
While others you may hear proclaim,
Their thanks for social rank or fame.

You'll hear a soldier home from war
Give thanks because he fights no more.
You'll hear his grateful mother pray,
"Thank God, my son is home today."

A thief in taking what he sought,
May thank Thee for not getting caught.
For prayers like this, I wish I knew
Just what You think and what You do.

However, it's my firm belief,
Thou knowest well why he's a thief.
And in Thy goodness there may be
A place for prayer from such as he.

Some may not speak a single word,
But still, I'm sure their thoughts are heard.

It's not how loud nor where we pray,
It's what we think, not what we say.

For all, Dear God, Thou gavest me,
I'm grateful, thankful, as can be.
For things I've sought and been denied.
Forgive me, God, for having tried.

A thousand things I'm grateful for.
A thousand gifts, yes many more,
But if 'twere left for me to choose
That one gift I must never lose.

That gift surpassing all the rest,
That gift I cherish as the best,
That gift supreme, Oh God, I find,
Is when You give me "PEACE OF MIND."

Amen.

—W. L. WHONSETLER.

SPOT LIGHTS

BLDG. 4-2

by Estella Pettibone

Second shift persons are anticipating venison sandwiches. Violet Sowers has gone deer hunting. . . Alexander Fox appreciated the effort of his co-workers who built him a TV antenna, but it just doesn't work. . . Lillian Sharpton has returned from Washington, D. C., where she visited her son, who is quite ill. . . We wish Helen Spear a speedy recovery. . . It is good to see Mary Tucker's smiling face back with the machine winders again. . . Mark Brindle and his wife enjoyed a week-end trip to Springfield, Ill. . . Joan France is acquiring quite a menagerie. Someone is bringing her plaster figurines made by a child. So far she has a dog, squirrel, frog, and a cow. She appreciates them and thanks whoever is sending them, through their parent. . . Congratulations to Paul Kennerk, who had 30 years service November 17. . . We extend our sympathy to George Langenberg whose father died November 16 in Wisconsin.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

THAT OLD FEELIN'

Copyright 1953 by J.R. Williams, Inc.

Buesking New Apprentice Alumni Pilot

GE Club Family Movie Programs Open Tomorrow

The first in a series of free adult movies sponsored by the GE Club will open tomorrow evening in the club auditorium and the second kiddies movie program will get under way tomorrow afternoon.

All the movie programs are open free of charge to GE employees and members of their families. The adult movie, which begins at 8 p.m., will be "The Life of Riley," starring William Bendix. In addition, a short subject will be shown.

All the movies slated in the Club entertainment program will be shown only once.

The second kiddies program will present the full-length film, "Charlie McCarthy, Detective," starring Edgar Bergen and his wooden pal. A color cartoon will be included in the show which begins at 1:30 p.m. Each of the kiddies programs will feature an episode in the serial "The Phantom Empire," starring Gene Autry.

Coming events on the GE Club entertainment calendar for all employees and their families include two kiddies movies slated for Saturday, Nov. 28 and Dec. 5. These two shows will feature "The Daltons Ride Again" and "Little Tough Guys in Society."

The next adult movie coming to the club will be "If I Had My Way," starring Bing Crosby.

Saturday, Nov. 28, the third square dance will take place at the club beginning at 8:30 p.m. Music will be furnished by Johnny Lukens and his orchestra.

BULLETIN

Fort Wayne, November 20, 1953.

All departments and sections of the Broadway and Taylor Street Plants, including leased warehouses, in general, plan to close on Thursday, November 26, in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

L. C. Swager

Manager
Employee and Plant Community Relations

31 GE Drivers To Get C of C Safety Honors

Thirty-one members of GE drivers fleet will be among those honored for their safety records at a Chamber of Commerce dinner today. Each of the 31 men, who are from the Fort Wayne and Decatur plants, has completed the past year of his job of driving without an accident.

Sponsored by the C. of C. fleet safety committee, the dinner will honor drivers of other industries in the community and the local winners of national fleet safety contest honors and awards.

Ralph L. Lee, of General Motor Corp., will be the principal speaker at the dinner which begins at 5:45 p.m. Discussing "People as They Are on Foot and Wheel", Mr. Lee is known as the "ambassador of good will for truck drivers everywhere."

With completion of the 1952-53 year without an accident, the GE drivers have completed from 34 years to two years per person without an accident. Melvin Beuder, Fort Wayne driver, has gone 34 years without an accident and Mahlon J. Hutchinson, Winter St., is one of those who has completed his second year without an accident.

Other GE drivers who will be honored guests at the dinner include: Leo L. Boitet, Julius Bradtmiller, Glen Kumfer, Noble Drum, Clyde Jones, Willard E. Grush, Henry P. Hahn, Chalmers Hart, Fred J. Heaston, Samuel G. Henline, V. G. Lomiller, Enid Fuller, Ken. W. Habecker, John E. Joseph, Clyde Kreigh, Lewis E. Lahrman, Ray Moser, John Lamle, Theo Raypole, Ed Kelley, Dewey Sandmeyer, Ralph Farrell, Carl K. Wagoner, Frank H. Widner, Charles Woodward, Howard Eastes, William Waggoner, Merle Bacheller, and John Malcolm.

Decimal Minute Men To See Piston Movies

Monday, Nov. 23, members of the Decimal Minute Men will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce building. Two members of the Zollner Piston basketball squad and one member of the squad publicity staff will show and narrate movies of Piston games. A discussion session will follow.

A vote on changes in the constitution and by-laws of the DMM will be taken and all members are urged to be present for this, George E. Hicks, chairman of the steering committee, reported.

Walter Buesking, Winter St., was elected president of the Apprentice Alumni Association this week at the organization's annual fall banquet.

Other newly elected officers are: Richard Burns, Bldg. 19-5, vice president; George Horner, Bldg. 26-1, financial secretary; Arnold Kiefer, Bldg. 4-4, recording secretary; John Leffers, Bldg. 4-6, treasurer; Darwin Stanley, Bldg. 4-3; Donald Alcott, Bldg. 19-5; Harmon Westrick, Bldg. 19-5, and J. LaMar Brant, Bldg. 19-5, board of directors.

The new officers will take over their duties the first of the 1954 year. A board meeting of the group will be announced later by the new president.

In addition to the election, amendments to the constitution and by-laws were voted on and passed. These concerned membership, active and honorary, and dues. Among amendments passed was one which allows a graduate of any apprentice school in the company to become a member of the local group.

Walter Buesking

Ask Members to Review Proposed Benefits Changes

The general committee of the Mutual Benefit Association Dependents Plan met Thursday, Nov. 12, to consider a proposal for increased benefits to members. The present plan has been in effect for several years and benefits have not kept pace with increased hospital and surgical charges, the committee stated.

Members of the MBA have been asked to review the proposal and report their opinions to section chairmen.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Dependent Plan was used as a pattern for both benefits and weekly contributions necessary to pay for such benefits. A comparison of the present MBA Plan, the Metropolitan Plan, and the proposed plan appears on this page.

The proposed benefits are practically identical to Metropolitan's. The weekly contribution was set at 85 cents in view of a possible increase in the Metropolitan contribution, and also because a smaller local association needs a factor of safety in the rate charged. If a surplus should accumulate under the MBA, there could be a period of suspension of dues.

In addition to the increased benefits, several other changes were suggested. The age of children considered eligible for coverage was increased from the present of one month to 18 years to an expanded scale of 14 days to 19 years.

It was also recommended to extend the continuation of coverage until age 65 for those retiring under the optional and disability pension plans. Present rules terminate the coverage at time of retirement regardless of age.

The committee also discussed the proposition of operating the proposed plans under the MBA as compared with a change over the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which now handles all of the employee life and health insurance for the General Electric Company.

Under the provisions of the constitution, the chairmen of the sections will discuss the proposed changes with their members and will then vote on the proposal at a called meeting of the General Committee within the next two weeks.

SAFE DRIVER—Mahlon J. Hutchison, Winter St. chauffeur, completed his second year of driving on the job without an accident this week. One of 31 GE drivers to be honored today at a Chamber of Commerce dinner, Mr. Hutchison shows the certificate he received for his record.

Present MBA Dependent Plan Benefits	Metropolitan Dependent Plan Benefits	Proposed Dependent Plan Benefits
Hospital Expense
Room & Board (up to 27 days) $6.00	$10.00 (up to 70 days)	$10.00 (up to 70 days)
Hosp. Extras $40.00	$100.00	$100.00
Max. Hosp. Benef. $202.00 (R.&B. & Extras) Any 12 Mos.	$800.00—for any one disability	$800.00—for any one disability
Maternity
Normal $100.00	$100.00	$100.00
Caesarean $150.00	$150.00	$150.00
Miscarriage (up to) $75.00	up to $50.00	up to $75.00
Surgery
Maximum $131.25	$175.00	$175.00
Weekly Contribution $.55	$.80	$.85

Gladden and Goetz Take New Posts In Hermetic Motor Production Sect.

Two appointments in the Hermetic Motor production section have been announced by A. E. Leider, manager of production. Harry C. Gladden has been named packaging specialist and Richard J. Goetz has been appointed buyer.

Mr. Gladden joined General Electric in March, 1942. He entered manufacturing drafting at the Baltimore plant in the Locke Department at that time. Later, he went into tool design and plant layout. In 1944, he was named a foreman and subsequently went into planning and packaging design. In August this year, he transferred to Fort Wayne where he did packaging design until his present appointment.

After graduation from Baltimore Polytechnic High School, Mr. Gladden completed International Correspondence School courses in business administration and business psychology. He is a member of the Society of Industrial Packaging and Materials Handling Engineers, GE Squares Club, and Supervisors Club. Mr. and Mrs. Gladden have three children.

In 1943, Mr. Goetz came to the company and went to the regional warehouse as a stock man. He became a production expeditor in Motor and Generator in 1947 and later was an assistant dispatcher.

Mr. Goetz was named a billing leader in the regional warehouse in 1949. The following year, he became an order and store clerk in purchasing and last year entered Hermetic purchasing on the same job. This was his position at the time of his present assignment.

Mr. Goetz completed courses in purchasing at Purdue University Extension. He resides at 1023 E. Washington Blvd.

Harry C. Gladden

Richard J. Goetz

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

Clara Volz

Floyd Steen, one of our test engineers, has completed his training here and is leaving us for other parts. Good luck in the future. We'll miss ya, blushes and all. . . . Welcome to Don Nelson, who will be with us for test training. . . . Say, did you ever board a bus with standing room only, and try to keep your balance with a "Barney Oldfield" at the wheel. That happened to me, and I was doing everything but the tango. (Takes two to tango). Very disturbing to say the least. . . . Bill Bowling, that gentleman from the south (Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia) is quite a woman hater. He just hasn't found the right one yet. . . . Jim Blake, that gentleman of the soil, is raising chickens among other things. So, several of us girls started to buy eggs from him. He is real accommodating, too, and brings them to our homes. Maggie Perrey wasn't going to be home when Jim was due at her place, so she put out a fairly good sized pan to hold two dozen eggs. The next time Jim saw Maggie he gave her heck for setting out such a small container. So, Mr. Jim, the next time you deliver eggs to Maggie's be prepared to see a very large dish pan staring you in the face.

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Freddie Clark has decided TV must be here to stay. He finally bought a set. Now he, too, will see the snow storms inside the house before it starts falling outside. While we're on the subject of TV sets, I was talking to Jackie Keller and asked her if she had bought a TV set yet. She said, "No, but all of our neighbors have one and all of them have big antennas. So, Ralph, my husband, not to be outdone, will buy an antenna and put it on the roof. Then they will all think we've got a TV set." . . . Ivy Mills looked like both her hands were going in the same direction one day last week. Do you suppose it was because she was wearing two right-handed gloves? . . . Betty (Squeaky) Thompson, former co-worker who is now on Bldg. 4-3, says to tell everyone she sure misses them. . . . Wava Miller is trying to put Louis and Joseph out of business. She cut Ivy's hair and it looks real professional. . . . If you noticed that "boy! what a week-end look" on Doris Daehl's face last Monday, she had a good reason. Her brother got married. . . . Ruth Reed is back to work after her vacation. She looks refreshed and says one day last week she took a trip to Indianapolis to do some shopping.

WIRE RAVELINGS

TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

When Vaughn Sheets left for vacation, he gave specific instructions to "Wimpy" Lemper that his boys were used to seeing their foreman wear a necktie. "Wimpy" started out by wearing one the first day but he was all choked up; discarding his tie, he was on his way over to see Sheets about changing his ideas. But "Wimpy" wouldn't stop at Sheets' place when he saw he was plowing his garden patch in a white shirt and tie! . . . Birthday greetings go to Amel Beck Nov. 20. . . . Art Ackerman has been following the construction of the new TV tower very closely, but as far as we know he hasn't said a word about whether it is finished or not. . . . Jess Easterday surely had a time hunting last week-end. However, it was not all in vain, as he ended up eating a steak dinner with Amel Beck at Charlie Brubaker's home. . . . "Skeeter" Johnson is in the market for a new Pontiac, but is hesitating on finances. Johnny Powner says he will be willing to help him out for a fee. . . . Lost: Peanuts out of Bill Irwin's coat pocket. The next time someone might get a mouse trap, so be careful! . . . Garnall Parkison and his boy went deer hunting, but returned empty handed. They will have to try again next year. . . . Howard Smith has a jinx when shows are brought to question, as they seem to cause him a lot of confusion. The first incident came when he went to the GE Club show only to be informed that he was a week early. The second incident was when his boy failed to come home one evening and Howard found him locked inside the theater. The manager must have overlooked him in the auditorium as the boy had fallen asleep and had to use the fire escape to get out. Why not buy a television set, Howard?

Rites Held Tuesday For O. H. Anderson, Sr.

Orton H. Anderson, Sr.

Tuesday, Nov. 17, services for Orton H. Anderson, Sr., were conducted at the C. M. Sloan & Sons Funeral Home by the Rev. Kenneth Timmons. Mr. Anderson died Friday, Nov. 13, at his home, 712 Taylor St. Burial was in Prairie Grove Cemetery.

A Quarter Century Club member, Mr. Anderson joined the company in August, 1920, as a machinist in Bldg. 19-4. In 1933 he moved to Winter St., where he was a drill press operator, cylindrical grinder, and freight handler. He was a milling machine operator prior to his death.

Survivors include one son, Orton H., Jr., who works in Bldg. 6-4; two daughters, Mrs. LaVern Garwood and Mrs. Mary Susco; one sister, Mrs. Verbel Whitford, and three grandchildren.

"Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits."—Thomas Edison.

GE TV Star to Appear Here

The ever-popular General Electric TV star, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, will appear in Fort Wayne for two performances Sunday, Nov. 29, at the Embassy Theater. Sponsored by Zollner Productions and the Thomas Lau Suedhoff VFW Post 9500, the performances will be at 2 and 4:30 p.m. Tickets are available at Vim's Sporting Goods and the Harrison Hill drug store.

The Waring group will be back on television Sunday, Dec. 13, under General Electric sponsorship, upon completion of their nation-wide concert tour. They appear on CBS-TV from 8 to 8:30 p.m. Sundays.

Double Day of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Pfeifer will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26. Mr. Pfeifer retired from the Fort Wayne plant February, 1936. He completed almost 22 years of service with the company and was an elevator operator prior to retiring.

The Pfeifers, who reside at 2201 Eby Ave., will be honored by their children at a family gathering next Thursday. The couple is shown above on the occasion of their wedding anniversary 19 years ago.

MEET FORT WAYNE'S BONUS BABIES

SLEEPYTIME BOY—John Lee, son of Earl Long, Bldg. 4-5, is one of the GE babies who shares his birth date with 181 other babies born to GE families throughout the company Oct. 15. Johnny's mother is Delores Long.

SHHH! says young Richard Alan, son of Russell M. Neal, Bldg. 4-3, as he has his picture taken with his father and mother, Edith, for our album of General Electric Baby Derby winners.

NAPPING—More concerned with sleep than his five shares of GE stock, Steven James, son of Fred C. Grunst, Bldg. 2-2, views the situation with an unconcerned attitude as his father and mother, Agnes, hold him.

HEY, look at me, Pop, I'm a GE share owner, says Jerry Thomas, Jr., son of Jerry T. Shultz, Sr., Taylor St. Young Jerry poses with his mother, Bonnie, and two-year-old sister, Debbie.

COUNT OFF SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST. by Marguerite Stahl

Harold Fletter and Art Cooper went hunting and didn't see a rabbit. What could they have been looking for? Also, Ed Feidler and Elmer Schere are back from their vacation safe and sound. They must have gone hunting in different directions. Ed proved to be a good hunting dog. . . . Bernadine Warner should keep a leash on her dog so she wouldn't have to run down the street in her house coat. . . . We think Doyle Sheets could find other methods of advertising besides carrying signs on his back. . . . Why is it that Betty Burch never gets her name in the paper? We found out the other day she can blush, and it isn't the reflection from her jacket. . . . Mason Smith found muscles he never knew he had when he put up his TV antenna. He is also learning all the parts to a set. We hear he has six extra tubes. . . . Catherine Chilcote may have a tool shed for sale. Maybe she could put wheels on it and take a vacation in Florida. . . . Linda Wahrer found that Claude's binoculars are a big help at the hockey games. . . . We are happy to have Ruby Stoops back with us. . . . Louise Sinn celebrated 25 years service with GE Tuesday, and the girls presented her with an orchid. Congratulations, Louise, and we wish you many more successful years. . . . The girls say, "Let's have some more of Ed Parker's calling at the square dances at the GE Club on Saturday nights." . . . Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Archbold, Estella Peele, and Marguerite Stahl motored to Chicago Sunday to visit relatives. . . . Oral Enrick is on his vacation this week. The boys are wondering if he will spend part of it in Ohio.

TOP FLOOR TOPICS BLDG. 26-5 by Jack Lea

If anyone on Bldg. 26-4 thought the ceiling was coming down on them, it's no wonder. However, it wasn't an earthquake, it was Mary Blanchard. Mary slid off a chair while using the telephone. . . . These men sure have their troubles in the kitchen. Darrell Proxmire was attempting to fry an egg. He cracked it on the frying pan, tried cracking it with a knife, and used everything but an axe before he found out it was a hard boiled egg. . . . Gwen Robinson's co-workers had her in a dither over a traffic ticket she received for driving without a license. Gwen was visioning jail sentence and enormous fines. She got off easy, but she'll not forget her license again. . . . TRAIN—Something that smokes and choos. TIME—What wounds all heels. POTATOES—Stay a few minutes in your mouth. In your tummy a few hours. On your hips, a lifetime. . . . A MOMENT WITH GOD—"If God be with us, then who shall be against us?"

So far as young people are concerned, "early to bed and early to rise" is for the birds.

TOOL BITS

BLDG. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

Last week our public schools celebrated their 100th anniversary and many tool room employees had children in the programs at the various schools. The pageant at Franklin was exceptionally well presented. Of course Kenny Sefton, Bill Hunt and your editor had special reason to think so. Kenny's son, now in the eighth grade, is an accomplished trumpet player and Bill's eight-year-old daughter took part in the third grade exercise. . . . Carl Zion does the most unusual things. He even bottled up several gallons of dirty water last spring and saved it all summer. When fall arrived, he emptied the precious liquid into his car's water system and then acted surprised when the service station attendant checked his radiator and reported that it wouldn't even stand a hard frost. Better be sure it's anti-freeze that you drain out and save next spring, Carl. . . . Hi Pop: We congratulate the Carl Clicks on the birth of their first son. Carl thinks becoming a father is a cinch. He came home from hunting last Saturday noon and two hours later he was walking down the hospital corridor but his head was in the clouds—he was a daddy. . . . Ned Greulich, Charley Fike and Dallas Kees enjoyed their soft seats after standing for two hours to see The Robe. . . . Ed Stahl and his TV eyes report seeing snow at Grover Hill. It must have been indoors. . . . Charley Bracht can hardly pull himself away from home these days. They're removing that island in the Maumee River and hauling the dirt to the dike back of Charley's house. . . . Leland Richardson proved to the boys that he is a man of action. When the euchre game didn't suit his fancy—poof—the cards went out the window. That's one way to get a new deck. . . . Milt Ray's unit welcomes Louis Peduto, Bob Copeland and Bob Calkins. Ed Ellenberg is the new face in LaMar Brant's group. . . . Smelly Story: Dick Lee did a dangerous thing the other night. He took home some limburger cheese in his lunch box. His wife was already in bed, but the next morning he was rudely awakened. Upon his wife's advice, Dick and the lunch pail headed outdoors, where he cleaned it out, but the story's not over yet. Later that day he bought her a new TV set. That must have been strong cheese. . . . Tomorrow is a big day for Joe Graham. It's his wedding day. . . . Did you ever hear the story of how Bernice Mertz, dug and sweat and toiled transplanting a long row of dwarf marigolds? It was all in vain. Only four plants turned out to be flowers—the rest were ragweed. . . . While downtown shopping, Mrs. Elmer Auman called Elmer at home to pick her up. Elmer said OK but promptly locked himself out of the house with his car keys on the table inside. To get in he tried the kitchen window, the bathroom window, the coal window and the transom. Finally he made it, but we won't say how. Then Elmer hurriedly jumped into the car and drove down to get his wife. After listening to his woeful tale of misfortune, Mrs. Auman asked him why he didn't use the key that he had secretly hidden for such an occasion. Elmer had never thought of it. . . . THESE WIVES! . . . The men in the second shift milling unit need to change the brand of cutting oil they're using. One of their wives said it smelled like beer. . . . Dan Knepper is always first in line for the lunch wagon and buys potatoes every night. Last week the boys fixed it so that the wagon started serving from the other end, leaving Dan the last one in line. That was an impossible situation, so Dan headed back to his machine without his potatoes. Guess he was tired of potatoes anyway. . . . We wish Dale Edington a complete and early recovery from his hunting accident.

FLOWERS FOR THE LADY—Trulie Nelson (seated) wears an orchid on her last day of work as she chats with (l-r) Gladys Bracht, Garnet Borne, Agnes Jump, and W. E. Blalock. Mrs. Nelson came to General Electric in 1928 on transformer work, Bldg. 26-2. She was an assembler in Bldg. 26-5 before retiring.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS

BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Last week was a bad one for several of us. Mildred Messer's old Chevy let her down and she had to come to work in a taxi. Bouncy Becker got a fender knocked off of his car. Pappy Wright brought his wife's car keys to work with him and had to take them right back home. Ralph Garrett threw away a plastic pie container with his lunch paper, and had to spend the next day rooting through the garbage cans. Yours truly blew a gasket, on the car that is. . . . Ralph Garrett has joined the ranks of TV owners in our little group. Ralph accompanied his wife to the doctor's office the other evening. When they arrived they found the office closed with a sign on the door saying the doctor would be gone for three weeks. So, Ralph figured he would make a down payment on a TV set. He's also saving more money by having his hair cut in the office instead of going to the barbers. Ralph just left his skull cap on and Paul Gruber trimmed around it with the scissors. . . . The men in the white coats will soon be after Frank Mathews. He tried to run two rings through the rolls at the same time the other day. . . . Officer Tieman says he is going to have his glasses changed. The doctor told him his eyes were diabolical. . . . Mildred Messer says her safety glasses are much stronger than her regular ones, and yet they are both ground to the same prescription. Mildred says this is due to the fact that she wears her other glasses so much more. . . . Al (Shorty) Kleinrichart has taken up a new hobby, raising parakeets. . . . We hope Joe Ostrowski is soon well enough to return to work. . . . If I were a certain little sweeper in Bldg. 20, and a certain big fat foreman was trying to trick me out of my cigars, I would slip him a loaded one.

RACONTEUR

SECTION 114 TAYLOR ST.

by Mary Whitelock

When a man changes clothes as often as Ted Brockmeyer does, he is bound to be somewhat confused and take something home when he thought he left it at the factory. Anyhow, Ted lost his work pants and became quite irritated when the gang ribbed him about it. What bothered him most was that he had to work in a new pair of Sunday trousers until he could catch up with the pair he left at home. Sympathy from the boys did not help any, but we believe a good dry cleaner could. . . . If anyone sees a black '47 Plymouth with a squirrel tail on the aerial, look again because it's Agnes Brown all decked out to celebrate her birthday. Many more happy birthdays, Agnes. . . . Herb Habig got stuck for the drinks at the bowling alley the other night. Right afterwards he rolled his first gutter ball in nine years of league bowling. The fellows figure the shock of setting them up was too great for Herb. . . . George Angel will spend his third week of vacation at Lake Webster where he has his summer home. George loves to hunt wild duck and gets a bang out of knocking them out of the sky. If he has as much luck as he did last year, that roaster of his will be filled with savory brown Mallards that many of us would drive a hundred miles to stick a fork into. Save the wish bones for us, will you, pal? . . . Freddie Vogt is really crying the blues because Dale Irwin raised his average three points above Fred's last week. There's really quite a feud between those two. . . . They're calling Louie Shattuck "Old 88" now that he outdid LeFevre's spectacular score of 76 (by 12 points). . . . We would like to welcome two new people to Section 114. Robert Duras, manufacturing specialist, and Wilmer Kruekeberg, who has joined our production department. . . . Happy birthday to Clarence Shanebeck and Eldon Bell. Eldon, by the way, had trouble with the door locks on his Packard. After exhausting every means of entry short of dynamite, Eldon finally had to knock a hole in the front glass with a mallet. He should have a ribbon for "courage above and beyond, etc" because it sure takes a lot of intestinal fortitude to approach a Packard with a mallet and malignity. . . . The coon season has officially opened and Earl Greenlee has his dogs all tuned up and rarin' to go. . . . Milt Marks had quite a harrowing experience while hunting. A snake wrapped itself around his ankles and caused him to trip (or slip) and fall. After biting him in the leg it struck him again in the wrist. Milt says it was as big around as an orange but they didn't bag it because it escaped in the brush. He is thankful he didn't lose his head in the excitement and shoot at it while it was around his feet or he would have damaged himself considerably. All he could think of was getting first-aid in the form of anti-snake bite serum. . . . The office is planning a Christmas party. Hugh Neely has been appointed chairman and we know he'll make a good one. Huray, pip pip and all that.

THE GRAPEVINE

BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

Don Mosuer has been wanting to enlarge his garage, but thought he would wait until spring. One morning last week he went out and started his car, which he had left in gear. He sneezed and his foot slipped off the clutch and through the garage he went. Now he has a rear entrance, too. . . . Wonder if Harold Orr will look in the next package he carries home. The bingo game was postponed because he didn't have the bingo chips. . . . Andrew Shepelak spent the week-end in Pittsburgh, Pa., attending the wedding of his brother. . . . It sure is nice to see Floyd Enos back to work. . . . We wish Virgil Best and Joe Bacon's daughter a speedy recovery. . . . Happy birthday to: Ralph Burmon, William Grim, Maxine Luker, and John Wilson. . . . Carl Fisher and Kurt Harz are both wishing for cold weather. Carl wants to go ice fishing and Kurt wants to see a big snow so the boys can pull him on a sled. . . . We wonder why Henry Wickirn is so quiet these days. During the baseball season he had lots to talk about. . . . Ed Arthur is the proud owner of a new Hudson. . . . Ernest Riley's wife is once again furnishing cake for all the boys. . . . We extend our sincere sympathy to Herman Johnson on the loss of his daughter, and to Lee Johnson on the loss of his sister. . . . Employee of the week: Roy Berdelman. Roy was born in Fort Wayne and came to work at the GE in 1925. At the present time he is a leading operator on Bldg. 4-1, group 25-A. Roy is married and has three children. He spends his leisure hours fishing and has just recently returned from a fishing trip to Tennessee. Roy and his family are members of St. Peter's Catholic church.

TOOLS UP TO RETIRE—Charles Backofen (second from right) retired from General Electric at the end of October with 47 years of service to his credit. Three of his co-workers look over one of the gifts he received when he left the company. They are (l-r) E. J. Schafnacker, J. P. McFeely and Charlie Bracht. Mr. Backofen first came to the company in 1906 as a bench hand. He was a machinist-toolmaker in Bldg. 19-5 prior to retirement.

THISA & THATA

Bldg. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

Bill Crane is working standing up. He went horseback riding and he sure wishes that the saddle had been stuffed with foam rubber! ... Verna Kindlesparger is now working at the Winter St. plant, and Virginia Davies is the new girl in the office taking her place. ... Don Mason has been off work several days. We are wondering if it is in sympathy with John Figley that makes him want to stay home. ... From all reports everyone who made a tour of the new Parkview Hospital was very much elated with the beautiful new building. ... Elihu Lee made it to Canada on his vacation. He says the next time he wants to eat out, he'll drive up. ... Ralph Menne-wisch is taking his vacation next week. ... Mary Reynolds was an hour late in coming to work the other day. Her refrigerator had defrosted during the night and she had to carry all her food upstairs to another apartment. When she got home that evening she started to check to see what the trouble was and discovered her husband had pulled the wrong plug. Instead of disconnecting the radio he had pulled the wrong plug. ... In case you are wondering who the beautiful lady is in the picture it is none other than Elbert Niswonger. The gentleman is Hazel Niswonger. ... After driving for 28 years Helen Struver spoiled her record, and on Friday the 13th too. She had an accident on the way home from work. No one was hurt, just a banged up fender. ... We extend our sympathy to Dorothy Scherry on the death of her father, Mr. Strahm. ... Ruby Stucky is a very happy girl. She finally got her clock from Switzerland. It plays the Blue Danube on the hour and Brahms Lullaby on the half hour. ... Ruth Kilgore is on her vacation this week. The time is over for pheasant hunting, Ruth.

SAFE HUNTING—With this slogan as the watchword for all those sports lovers who are taking to the hills these days, Dick Miller, Bldg. 19-1, emphasizes the importance of practicing safety measures when carrying a gun on a hunting party. Be sure that the safety catch is on until you fire the gun and carry the weapon pointing skyward when you are walking through the woods advises the GE Rod and Gun Club, of which Dick is a member.

VOLLEYBALL NEWS

By Art Rasor

Taylor St. vs. Tool Room

Taylor St. had an easy time winning the first game, 15 to 1, but Paul Yentes and his teammates rallied in the second and third games only to lose by scores of 15 to 11 and 15 to 10. Since these were the first games of the season, the tempo started slow but picked up speed as the games continued.

Transformer vs. Winter St.

Transformer, under captain Harold Fremion, had very little trouble winning from Winter St. as they have a new team with little experience. The game started on even match but Soughan's boys were too much for them and won with scores of 15-4, 15-6, and 15-5.

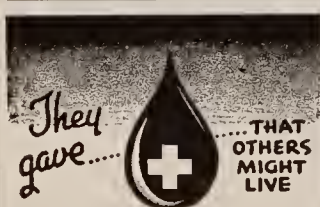

Test Engineers vs. Small Motor

Each team had a total of 34 points as these two teams were the only ones that split for the evening. Hartley Bond and the Test Boys lost their first game 4-15 but bounced right back on Leon Lahrmann's Small Motor team and won by scores 15-8, and 15-11.

STANDINGS

	W. L.
Transformer	3 0
Taylor St.	3 0
Test Engineers	2 1
Small Motor	1 2
Tool Division	0 3
Winter St.	0 3

poor Marge Bischoff is back on nights. We hope she comes in early so we can see her smiling face. ... If anybody loses anything and can't find it, contact Betty Rykowski. She is a good Sherlock Holmes and Marge Bischoff will vouch for that. She found the diamond that Marge lost out of her ring. ... Chick Kortum is back from his vacation with a lot of stories. ... Russell Rose made his appearance this week after an extended illness.

A total of 27 employees donated blood the week of Nov. 2 to fulfill the GE Blood Donor program quota for that week. Those who gave blood Nov. 3 are: Robert C. Straub, Lloyd Stubbins, and Alvin A. Tharp.

Donors who gave blood at the Red Cross center Nov. 5 are: Amel D. Beck, James E. Ervin, M. C. Hamilton, James E. Hoppel, Richard B. Parker, Charles H. Penn, Vern R. Petersen, Elmer G. Rinehold, Leslie B. Rivers, Alvin A. Sarrazine, Edward J. Sarrazine, Frederick L. Stevenson, James P. Stoichs, William Straub, Lena Stumpf, Margaret Suelzer, William F. Suelzer, Betty B. Thompson, Dean W. Thompson, Kenneth E. Thompson, Woodward H. Thompson, George W. Thurber, and Norman R. Voelker.

"If any would not work, neither should he eat."—New Testament.

Owls Score 51-23 Win Over Eckrich

by Howard Colby

The GE Owls tucked win No. 2 under their belts last Thursday morning in the Main Auto Owl League, as they powered their way over a scrappy Eckrich team.

The first quarter was a tight one with each team scoring a single field goal and bringing the total up on free throws with the Club team coming out on top 7 to 6.

The second period waxed a little warmer on the score books as Pfafman led the way with three field goals. Fisher got two and a charity toss, while Anspaugh, Blessing, and Schible added a basket each for a total of 17 points. They held Eckrich to just 4 points on two baskets. This gave the GE Club a half-time lead of 24 to 10.

The Club team opened the third quarter with a flurry of baskets as White snared two; Markey, Blessing, and Bailey each got one, while Somers tossed in a free throw.

They held Eckrich to just three points for a 36 to 13 lead.

With well balanced team work and playing heads-up basketball, they rolled on through the final period, pushing thirteen more points through the basket compared to 9 for Eckrich.

Fisher was high point man for the Owls with 7 points, while Godfrey led Eckrich with 6.

There will be no league action next Thursday due to Thanksgiving. The games for this session will be played at a later date, managers announced.

Bowling Tournament Schedule

The GE employees Ninth Annual Men's Bowling Tournament, sponsored by the GE Club will start tomorrow on the Club alleys at 1 p.m. The schedule for tourney play is listed below:

*Denotes all events.

DOUBLES AND SINGLES

Saturday, Nov. 21—1:30

J. Burton*—(B. Hoelle) (D.O.)
Harris*—R. Hickman
Staley*—(Roach) (D.O.)

TEAM EVENTS

Saturday, Nov. 21, 3:30 p.m.

Team	League	Captain
Testers, Winter St.	E. Gallmeir
Laboratory, Taylor St.	J. Hanna
No. 12, Apparatus	G. Goshorn
Komets, Winter St.	W. Roach
No. 2, Apparatus	D. Alcott
Summit City Heating, Inter-Div.	R. Schroeder

Saturday, Nov. 21—6:30 p.m.

Composite, Masonic	W. Lautzenheiser
Doric, Masonic	M. Martz
Ionic, Masonic	H. Moore
Levels, Masonic	W. Gidley
Fellowcraft, Masonic	R. Kohlenberg
Walkers, Commercial	P. Walker
H. Five, Small Motor	R. Tholen
High Balls, Taylor St.	K. Will
Reproduction, Office	E. Hagadorn
Pawlish Shoe Repair, Office	L. E. Ross
Findexers, Inter-Div.	J. Meeks
No. 10, Apparatus	H. Butcher

DOUBLES AND SINGLES

Saturday, Nov. 21—8:45 p.m.

A. Koorsen—W. Saylor
P. Merckert—(R. Campbell) (D.O.)
R. Younghaus—R. Younghaus

Sunday, Nov. 22—1 p.m.

W. Wicklife—J. Stark*
G. Egts*—D. Bucher*
Boerger—Strahlem
Weddle—Moore

Sunday, Nov. 22—3 p.m.

H. Hickman—M. Buckmaster
C. James—J. Heaston
R. DeVeny—P. Boedeker
H. Dalman*—G. Baker*
H. Fanning—R. Knappie
J. Meeks—D. Kaiser*
G. Hagenjos—G. Hagenjos
L. O'Shaughnessy—H. Blauvelt*
S. Schuster—T. Cowan
(J. Porter—P. Moore) (D.O.)
(L. Schnepp—D. Alcott) (D.O.)
(W. Anderson) (S.O.)

Sunday, Nov. 22—5:30 p.m.

G. Lucdeman*—D. Miller*
P. Matthews*—E. France*
E. Crabbill*—H. Garrett
A. Edwards—W. Lautzenheiser
G. Satterwaite—G. Stapleton
M. Junk—R. Junk

TEAM EVENTS

Sunday, Nov. 22—7:30 p.m.

Team	League	Captain
B.-Wise Realty
No. 1, Apparatus	H. Langer
No. 7, Apparatus	Ueber
RSP o. 4, Spec. FHP	H. Weigmann
Buchers, Mon. Owl	D. Bucher
GE Club, Mon. Owl	O. Bunch
G. Men, Small Motor	W. Demsey
Koorsen Painters, Small Motor	A. Koorsen
Old Crown Ale & Beer, Small Motor	G. Koehl
Hoff-Bart, Stag, Taylor St.	F. Beatty
Moore's, Sat. Owl	P. Moore
Kinney Koncession

Inter-Department Basketball Teams Open Season Play

Opening the Inter-Department basketball season last week, the Test Engineers, Transformer, Apprentice, and Hermetic teams came out victorious.

In the initial tilt, Tuesday, Nov. 10, the TE's handed a 39 to 31 defeat to the Squares team. The second game pitted Transformer against the MTP's and proved to be a close match with the two teams keeping the score very even through the tilt. In the closing seconds of the game, Gilliam was awarded two foul shots and made them breaking the tie and giving Transformer a 42 to 40 win. Smith was the high scorer for the victors with 12 points, and Steel scored the high of 10 points for the losers.

Airliners dropped their first game Thursday evening, Nov. 12, to an eager Apprentice group who scored 50 points to 32 for the losers. Friedrich, of the Apprentice, and Spice, of the Airliners, each dropped in 11 points for high individual score.

The second match Thursday p.m. saw the Hermetic lads add a loss to the Firemen total by a score of 51 to 41. The Firemen couldn't quite put out the blaze created by the fireball Hermetic team, which had Wilson and Ponset both scoring in double figures with 14 and 12 points each. The Firemen had Lydy and Werle who matched the individual high scorers of the winning team.

Elbert and Hazel

... We hope all our co-workers who have left the field section to work in Bldg. 4-4 are all settled now. Among those who moved are: Augusta Gallmeier, Dorothy Mollet, Kathryn Putt, Eleanor Huftman, Margaret McKirring, Mildred Green, Viola Martin, Ernie Faurote, Edna Goff, Pearl Michaels, Agnes Shane, Betty Dunn, and Willie Jackson. ... Gosh, Clariece Fyock, you would have to be wearing that cream colored coat when you took that colossal fall in the middle of Calhoun St. Too bad you didn't get all your shopping done. ... We are all waiting patiently for Fern Painter to go hunting. She has the red flannels and everything. ... John Waikel took his kids on a hay-ride and he says he still hasn't all the hayseed off. ... Irmagard Gehle was on the sick list but is now back at work. ... Velma Lacoque is back at work after a sick leave, too. ... Mary Rizzo is on 1st trick again and

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

Bob Messmer, our man about multilith, is singing the blues. He wishes that he had his old buggy back—his new hardtop convertible doesn't have the confidence in its ability that the old one did. . . . Several people from Winter St. took advantage of the opportunity to see our schools during the Open House Week recently. . . . An observer in the parking lot noticed Glen Macy looking through a telescope and wondered if he was watching for flying saucers. It turns out that it was nothing so exciting, he was just watching men work on the television tower. Like a great many of us, he is excited about the arrival of TV in Fort Wayne.

A recent squib in the paper, which told why older women use more make-up than younger ones, "The older the equipment the higher the maintenance" might also be true of our plant. Those of you who collect odd facts and interesting bits of information might be interested to know that so far, in the factory alone, 3,200 gallons of paint and 3,000 cubic yards of cement have been used to raise the face of the Winter St. old lady. This information comes to you through the courtesy of Sammy Habegger, GE Realty Company. . . . That delicious scent wafted from the Frank Lemish home is one of his rabbits frying. Frank got his limit of rabbits the first day out.

Russell Gephart extends the best excuse we have heard lately for being late to work—he was "lost in the fog." We presume he means that condition which exists when vapor is condensed to fine particles of water and obscures vision near the ground. . . . Anyone wishing to join the POGO fan club may see Bill Garvey or Curley Mannan, both are charter members. . . . Harold Bohde has decided that the horse-shoes in the pockets of Bob Branning and Billy Sommers explain their winning streak in euchre games. He is going hunting for a rabbit's foot, preferably with rabbit attached, over the week-end. . . . Our nurse, Berneta Welbaum, attended the Nurses Association Meeting and toured the Veterans' Hospital and the new Parkview Methodist Hospital.

Rudolph Brown will not admit he is superstitious, but he wouldn't tear the Thursday, November 12, leaf from his calendar and turned pale whenever anyone mentioned the date Friday. . . . Rumor has it that a Lonely Hearts Club has been established here. Could it be because the single test engineers invited the unmarried girls to dine with them (and bring their own lunches up, of course?) . . . Congratulations to Gene Lenz, our new groom in drafting. Gene and Marylis Redding, of Broadway GE decided to corporate. . . . Walt Hassenplug and Bev Miracle attended the Air Conditioning exhibit in Cleveland and report that it was a wonderful show—really cool! . . . We are sorry to report the death of Orton Anderson, a long time member of the tool room. We will miss his friendly smile and congenial ways.

Florence Monnot settled back to enjoy her new TV set and found she couldn't even get snowflakes on the screen. After calling a repair man to come out and fix the thing, she found that she had the knob turned to UHF. . . . Rodger Pitzen is convinced that the world's longest conveyor is installed at Winter St. As he oiled hooks he marked the completed ones with chalk. After several hours of steady labor he discovered that a "helper" was neatly erasing the marks on the hooks when they were on the reverse side of the machine. . . . Welcome to Ross G. Holt and Donald E. Zipp, our two new test engineers.

Joan Vordran can't tell you the number of shopping days until Christmas, but for some reason (maybe the sparkling one on her left hand) she knows the exact number until January 16. . . . We are looking forward to having George York back. He has been off for some time as a result of an appendectomy. . . . Vernon Faulks is planning to have the safety on his shotgun changed from right-to-left. He decided that it wouldn't be sporting to knock off a nearby pheasant with a rock. By the time he had discovered where the safety was and how to operate it, the bird was a faint speck in the distance. . . . Fritz Woerner can't decide if it is practical to buy a TV set. He says it isn't the initial cost of one that is delaying him. His wife has decided where one could be placed; and his daughters, Carol and Marylin, are even willing to give up baby-sitting jobs to help him watch it—but he thinks he will give it a little more thought.

Our congratulations to Mahlon J. Hutchison—recently awarded a Safe Driver Award for the second year in a row. Maybe this explains why Hutch has been going around with a wider smile than usual. That and the fact that he is looking forward to a special dinner today as guest of the Chamber of Commerce.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

Ellex has an ample supply of Christmas cards and candy. See the contact girls, or stop at the Corner Cupboard. . . . New members of the Floor Walkers' Club. Jimmy Hall and Wayne Freshour are new daddys. Both have sons. Congratulations. . . . Also, congratulations to Edgar and Evelyn Chapman on their pink bootied addition. The mama is a former co-worker. . . . If Frances Eckrote is popping a few buttons, she has reasons. She is a great grandmother. She is leaving today for Florida to visit her new granddaughter. . . . Purl Hite is a proud new grandpa. He has an 8 lb. 4 oz. granddaughter. . . . Mary Zirkle started Friday the 13th with a bang. She was in an auto accident. Glad to report that she wasn't injured. . . . Mildred Young is sporting a Florida tan. She just returned from a trip to Florida. . . . Our "we wish you happiness mat"

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

Jenny and Bob Owens have returned to work after a visit with relatives in Kansas. . . . Greetings to Delphenia (Curly) Reynolds who is now one year older. Curly celebrated her birthday on Armistice Day. We all wish you many more happy birthdays, Curly. . . . Bang, bang, run little rabbit, run, if you don't want to end up in a rabbit pie or stew. Here comes Erman Johnson with a gun. Beware, little fellow, Johnson is on vacation this week. . . . Clyde Beery is also on vacation and no doubt will spend some time hunting. At least that is the reason given by some—vacation and hunting season go together. . . . A belated birthday celebration and a get-together of former co-workers were held recently at the home of Miriam Moore. Those present were Irene Biebrich, a former worker on the flange line, Helen Wellman, Florence Brandyberry, Miriam Moore and Betty Reichert. . . . Anyone who wants to buy a new refrigerator and doesn't know how to put the old one out of working condition, just ask Harvey Hileman. Returning home recently, Harvey and his wife discovered that a knife used by a child had made the refrigerator unable to do its job of keeping things cool—a new refrigerator was needed at once. . . . Vilas Bollinger says, if anyone wants to know how he spent his vacation just inquire at the lumber yard and they will tell about the building materials which he bought (also used) on his vacation week. . . . Last week while Duffy Heller was taking a vacation Pete Schumm, who usually works the second trick, braved the daylight to work in Duffy's place on the first trick. . . . Kenny Beard spent his vacation by flying to sunny California in his own plane. . . . Happy? Yes, now he is happy. Walt Lister says that he is sure glad that he found out that he wasn't the only fellow to try wearing two shoes of different colors at the same time. True Pud Miller came to work recently wearing one black and one brown shoe. Pud says that he is well supplied along that line because he has another pair of shoes at home exactly like the ones that he was wearing. . . . Speaking of culinary skill we hear that Lee Bogner has a talent that surpasses all expectations. A specialty of his is barbecued chicken and from what we hear it sure is tasty eating. . . . The date of November 13th brings back memories to Dick Schnitz, or it should anyway. (Hope you remembered to get your wife a gift). November 13th, 1943, was a Saturday and also the wedding date for Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schnitz. Congratulations and many more happy anniversaries. . . . The lucky winners of the Geocde Club turkey were Frances Reidenbach and Jack Kline.

is out for Juanita Hughes and Esther Groghan. They both middle aided it last week. . . . Margaret Curless has joined the new car class with a Ford. . . . Don Williams is now breezing along in a Pontiac. . . . Now that Kenny Cook is in on the free coffee deal with the girls in the lead section, he is trying to get them to furnish doughnuts, too. . . . Will someone please tell Bob Waltenburg why the whistle blows every Friday morning at 8 a.m.? He thinks it is strange that we have a fire every Friday morning, and always at the same time. . . . Pauline Kirchner thinks there is nothing like getting out to the parking lot to find that

In the Office League, Reproduction is out in front with 21½ wins and 8½ losses. Small Motor Development is in second with 18 wins and 12 losses. A tie for third place finds Pawlisch Shoe Repair and M and G Sales, each with 17 wins and 13 losses. High game of the night was kegled by Bob Blomker, a 235 count. Erv Aumann scored a 210; Harry Dalman, 203; and Don Ewing a 200. Blackburn converted the 5-7-9 split.

Ladies Monday Night

Keglerettes won three games and Holeyrollers dropped one game, which resulted in a tie for first place. Both teams have won 22 games while losing 8. Scatterpins are in third place, having won 20 while losing 10. Fivettes moved into fourth spot by winning three games. They now have a record of 19½ wins and 10½ losses. Alberta Roth and Margie Meeks rolled games of 181, and Donna Lommatzsch rolled a 170 game. Pat Hoover converted the 2-8-10 split. Beth Jacobs rolled a pin heavy 84 score. It was chicken night and Beth doesn't like chicken. Chicken winners were: Mary Rauss, Alberta Roth, Marge Meeks, Betty Benedict, Pat Hoover, and Fran Miller.

Ladies Tuesday Afternoon

In the Ladies Tuesday Afternoon League, Team No. 2 is out in front by one-half game with a record of 15½ wins and 11½ losses. Team No. 6 is now in second place with 15 wins and 12 losses. In third place is Team No. 1, having won 14 while losing 13. Mary Reynolds rolled a 179 score and Lois Coleman a 171.

Transformer

In the Transformer League, Volts are in front with 14 wins and 7 losses. M and Watts are tied, each having won 11 while losing 10. In fourth place are Autos with 10 wins and 11 losses.

Apparatus

Team No. 6 has won 12 games in a row and is now leading the league with a record of 18 wins and 9 losses. Central Dairy and Team No. 1 are tied for second place with 17 wins and 10 losses. Bob Stute kegled a 635 score on games of 234, 205, and 196. Charlie Townsend kegled a 233; Toby Tyler, 226; Ross Smith, 212; Vic Rump, 203 and 211; Art Glass, 207; Joe Kramer, 204; Russ Adams, 202; and Windy Boester, 201. Team No. 6 kegled a 2814 for high three game the buggy has a flat. Cheer up, Pauline, it was only flat on one side. . . . It's a happy birthday and many more of them to Virginia Dague and Julia Hatches. . . . Glad to see Kaye Dolan back in the groove. . . . Our welcome mat is out for our newcomers. Hope you like us. . . . We extend sympathy to Manfred and Nola Venderley on the loss of their infant son.

The power of the state is measured by the power that men surrender to it.—Felix Morley.

in the league to date.

GE Owl League

No. 8 team is still leading but being pushed hard by Teams No. 3 and No. 8. No. 8 is still one-half game behind No. 5 followed by No. 3, 6, 1, 7, and 4. Team No. 5 won two from Team No. 3. Team No. 7 won three from Team No. 4. Team No. 8 won two from No. 2 and Team No. 6 won two from Team No. 1. Only one 200 score was rolled, S. Schuster, 215.

Small Motor

R and R is leading the league with 20 wins and 7 losses. In a tie for second place are Models and Koorsen Painters, each having won 16 while losing 11. Tommy's Lunch and Test have each won 15½ games and lost 11½, which ties them for fourth place. Double century counts were kegled by R. DeTurk, 209; L. Welker, 224; R. Thalen, 211; R. Woodard, 220; Haggenjos, Jr., 200; Haggenjos, Sr., 205; A. Trasin, 205; O. Doherty, 201, and Joe Kramer, 209. Hi Five rolled a 2764 series for a new league high score.

Decatur

In the Men's Factory League, Stators are leading the league with 17 wins and 10 losses. Flanges are in second spot with 15 wins 12 losses. Office has won 14 while losing 13 and is in third place. G. Schultz rolled a 642 series on games of 204, 213, and 225. S. Jackson rolled scores of 204, 213, and 225 for a 642 series. G. Laurent's 600 series resulted from games of 205, 183, and 243 for a 631 total. Double century scores were rolled by P. Briede, 232, H. Shoaf, 217, and R. McAfee, 204.

GE Fraternal

BPO Elks are leading the league with 21½ games won and 8½ lost. West End Restaurant has won 20½ and lost 9½ and is in second place. Teeple Truck Lines is in third place with a record of 15½ wins and 14½ losses. E. Faulkner rolled a 634 series on games of 193, 193, and 248. S. Jackson rolled 620 on games of 255, 182, and 183. A. Zelt 193, 216, and 222 for a 631 series, and R. Ladd 222, 192, and 213 for 627. Double century scores were rolled by C. Crates, 215 and 215; K. Bauserman, 205; G. Baumgartner, 223; Al Buuck, 208; N. Steury, 205 and 205; G. Alton, 201; B. Custer, 206 and 213; W. Petrie, 202; C. Oetting, 234 and J. Berry, 225.

GE Women's League

GE Office, Last Frames, and High Spots are tied for the league lead, each having records of 16 wins and 14 losses. In fourth spot are Spares with a 12 and 18 record. M. Miller kegled counts of 177 and 170.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant Receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 19-1.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, November 23, 1953

LOST AND FOUND

- LOST—Dark shell rim glasses.
- LOST—Class ring in Bldg. 26-2 wash-room.
- FOUND—Pair of keys in Bldg. 4-4.
- FOUND—Silk floral hear scarf, green border.
- FOUND—Drop earring. Pink and white stones in Bldg. 28-1.
- FOUND—Silk head scarf; flowers with brown border.
- FOUND—Three keys in leather case.

FOR SALE

- BABY CARRIAGE—Made by Hedstrom. Excellent spring construction. Collapsible with rain hood and bottom storage space. Green color. Price $15. K-5675.
- FUR COAT—Size 14, lynx cat. Excellent condition. Very reasonable. See at 6704 South Park Dr.
- WHEELS—16-inch wire, for Model A Ford. E-79148.
- LIONEL TRAIN—Two unit Diesel freight with automatic couplers. 27 truck and 90 watt transformer. A bargain for $44. Also, extras for sale. 1125 Glara, between 4 and 7 p.m.
- OVERCOAT—Size 44. Very good condition. H-15881.
- RIFLED SLUGS—12-gauge Remington. 10 cents each. H-77755.
- COWBOY BOOTS—Like new. Beige uppers and brown shoe. Very reasonable. H-5882 or H-01029.
- MAPLE BED—Twin size. Complete. Reasonable. H-24541.
- MAPLE HOC—Duroc. Weight, 180 pounds. E-40860.
- REFRIGERATOR—Coldspot. The box is 11 years old but the unit was new 6 years ago. In good running condition. $35. H-35015.
- ELECTRIC ROOM HEATER—Large Sunbowl. H-77041.
- KITCHEN SET—Table with two drop leaves and two chairs. Natural wood, varnish finish. Only used two weeks. $10. A-58062.
- CAR—Must sell '41 Chevrolet two-door. Good motor. New tires. Radio and heater. Reasonable. H-55893.
- DOG—Doberman Pinscher, female. 5½ months old. Champion sired. House broken. A-5453.
- TOP COAT—Zip-lined. Size 44. Almost new. Also, heavy overcoat; size 46. Reasonable. H-70715.
- BOWLING BALL—Lady's, new, with light weight, mottled brown color. Will sell for $18. A-66282 after 6 p.m.
- ACCORDION—Like new. 111 bass Rosini. E-36592 after 4 p.m.
- HEATER—Chevrolet hot water heater with defroster. Fine condition. $6. H-24524. 1310 Home Ave.
- JUKE BOX—Excellent condition. Just the thing for your recreation room. Reasonable. H-9673.
- LIVING ROOM SUITE—Rose; $25. Almost new blond sewing machine; $100. Electric brooder, 300 chick size; $20. Complete collection of Lincoln head pennies. Highest offer. John Diamond, 806 William St., Phone 1092-R.
- FUR COAT—Black Northern Seal. Size 14-16. Reasonable. H-69394.
- PHONOGRAPH AND RADIO—Table model Admiral. Like new. Cabinet type radio; Colonial. Good condition. 716 West Foster Parkway. H-58273.
- DEER RIFLE—30-40 Krag Sporter. 170 cartridges; $50. Want 6x30, 7x35 binoculars. H-5428.
- GIRL'S BICYCLE—26 inch. H-92494.
- STORM DOOR—One screen door, 81 inches long, 32 inches wide. Both for $5. Also, Hartman trunk; $25. Lady's wardrobe case; $5. H-90514.
- CARPET—Three strips of 27 inch x 54 inch. One green, two dark red. Ends bound. 820 Nuttman Ave.
- HIDE-A-BED—Simmons. CE stove, monitor refrigerator, printing press, dining set. 609 W. Washington Blvd.
- RADIO-PHONO COMBINATION—RCA. Automatic record changer and push button tuning. Beautiful walnut cabinet in A-1 condition. Sacrifice at $75. A-98022 after 4:30 p.m.
- STUDIO COUCH—Needs new cover. China cabinet, set of American Education Encyclopedias with 3 loose leaf volumes; practically new. High chair, buggy, taylor lot, fire truck, rocking horse in stand, doll house. A-59541.

- RUG—All wool Wilton rug and pad. 9 ft. x 10 ft. 5 in. Wine colored. Excellent condition; $40. K-1324.
- ANTIQUE FURNITURE—Several pieces. Serval gas refrigerator. Good as new. Other household items. H-3626.
- ACCORDION—Black 45 brass Wurliitzer for 120 bass. Will trade. Churubusco 5785.
- SHOTGUN—16 gauge double barrel Springfield. Modified and full choke. Excellent condition; $30. 3020½ Plaza Drive.
- ROLLER SKATES—Men's white, size 11. Also, woman's navy blue suede opera pumps; size 11AA. Like new. E-55694.
- DRILL—Sears Roebuck table model, 1/3 hp motor. Good condition. $50. E-71392 after 5 p.m.
- BOYS' TOPCOAT—Suit, shirts, and jackets. H-75382.
- CAR—1951 Chevrolet two-door Skyline Deluxe. New tires, battery, and seat covers. Excellent condition. This car is A-1. K-1801.
- BATHROOM FIXTURES—Tub, stool, lavatory. Good condition. $25. H-66463.
- HOUSE—Vacant. Nice, nearly new modern two bedroom home on two lots. On Allegheny Ave. at Sand Point Rd., one-half mile from city limits. Good location. H-55285, Donald Kimm.
- AUTOMATIC WASHER—Frigidaire. One year old. H-19940.
- DINING ROOM SUITE—And other household goods. H-39823.
- FURNITURE—Two matched occasional chairs; $10. One blue lounge chair, footstool; $20. One pillow arm sofa; $15. A-75702.
- FUR COAT—Mink dyed muskrat. Size 14. K-4332 after 5 p.m.
- ELECTRIC GUITARS—Two. Ace. One Kalina amplifier. Two years old. Original cost, $235. Will sell for $150. H-03454.
- SHOTGUN—12-gauge double barrel. Case and two full boxes of shells. $108 Broadway.
- ACCORDION—120 bass. K-1588.
- OCCASIONAL CHAIR—Large size rose mohair. Like new. Less than half price; $15. A-5410.
- TWIN LAUNDRY TUBS—With lid. White enamel. Never used; $12. Deluxe Taylor Tot stroller with pad; $6. Baby buggy with new pad; $7. E-37515.
- WOOD—Logs for fireplace or furnace. Am taking orders. Cheap by the cord. H-48123.
- DOG—Male Beagle hound, four years old. AKG registered. Good hunter. One registered male, 14 months old; $20. Phone Hometown 2735.
- SANDER—Craftsman. One year old. Vibrating type; $10. A-69099.
- BENCH SAW—7-inch Craftsman with motor; $30. Excellent condition. K-1453.
- ATTIC INSULATION—Span glass; $2 for 35 pound bale. E-36944.
- BABY BUGGY—Crey Welsh with pad. Good condition; $15. E-55453.
- CAR—1947 Cadillac four door "62". Beautiful two tone blue and grey finish. Practically new white wall tires. Exceptionally fine condition. Priced at only $895. H-74471.
- DINING ROOM SUITE—40 ft. wide. 58 ft. long. Also, sewing machine. 1720 High St. A-58563.
- DEEP FREEZE—14 cu. ft. like new. Cost $490, will sell for $360 cash or finance at $60 down and $22 per month for 15 months. H-03465 after 4 p.m.
- BOWLING BALL—16 pound. Reasonable. H-59461 after 5 p.m.
- RADIO—Philco. Blond console record cabinet to match. Reasonable. Records included. H-44220.
- ROLL-A-BED—Coil springs and inner-spring mattress. Good condition. A-65542 before 3 p.m.
- LADY'S COAT—Black Forstmann Chestfield. Size 16-18. H-66335.
- CHILD'S PLAY HOUSE—Realistic. Carpenter built. Has 6' rooms, electric lights in every room, two doors open up in rear. Asking only $12. A-39323.
- ELECTRIC SWEEPER—Very short time. Has all attachments. Reason for selling, have all hardwood floors. A-75382 after 4 p.m. or Saturdays.
- CAR—1950 Oldsmobile. $1100. Selector radio, heater, hydramatic, other extras. Blue with white wall tires; two new. Excellent condition. Must sell. H-51913.
- BATHROOM LAVATORY—See at 819 Goshen or call E-55131.
- GOOD LARGE HOUSE—To be moved or taken down eight miles north on Road 427. E-72180.
- BICYCLE—Boy's 26-inch Goodyear. Good condition; $15. 1319 Jackson St.
- COAT AND LEGGING SET—Royal blue velvet with white fur trim. Size 4 or 5. Cleaned. H-17151.
- AUTOMATIC WASHER—And dryer. Table and four chairs; Formica top. Roll-away bed and mattress. Red wool winter shortie coat, lined; size 18. L. C. Ward coat, worn four times. All in excellent condition. H-4598.
- DINING ROOM SUITE—Eight piece walnut; $50. Small oak dresser; $5. Good 100 pound ice box; $2. H-35881 or E-32804.

TRANSPORTATION

- RIDE WANTED—From Dupont Rd. to Broadway for 8 a.m. shift. June Plutrow. Ext. 736.
- RIDE WANTED—From Waterloo to Broadway. 7 a.m. to 3:25 p.m. Anita Carahan. Ext. 380. Bldg. 4-5.
- RIDERS WANTED—From North Webster to Broadway. 8 a.m. to 4:36 p.m. Don Buennagel. Bldg. 28-1. Ext. 2160.

WANTED

- VIOLIN—E-79148.
- COLLAPSIBLE DOLL BUGGY—To accommodate 22 inch doll. Must be in good condition. A-29381.
- CHILD'S PIANO—Table, chairs, outdoor swing, and trapeze set. H-01029 or H-55882.
- WOOD TOOL BOX—For toolmaker. H-1095.

- DOLL CARRIAGE—Large size. Doll bed, bassinet, pedal automobile, or fire truck. H-44901.
- BOY SCOUT UNIFORM—Size 16. Three storm sash; 25 in. x 55½ in. overall or approximate. A-50512.
- ROLLER SKATES—Boy's black shoe size 6. In good condition. K-3249 after 5 p.m. or Saturdays.
- BICYCLE—Boy's 24 inch. In good condition. A-86801 anytime.
- SNOW SUIT—Red or blue velvet in size 1 or 2. Reasonable. E-37654.
- LAUNDRY WORK—A-65542 before 3 p.m.
- RESPONSIBLE COUPLE—Would like to rent a two-bedroom home in a good neighborhood. Will take excellent care of property. A-56331 all day Saturday and Sunday before 8 p.m.

FOR RENT

- FURNISHED APARTMENT—Three rooms. Private bath and entrance. All newly decorated. All utilities furnished. Adults only. E-69662.
- APARTMENT—Four room. New Youngstown kitchen. Stove and refrigerator. Newly decorated. Automatic heat and water furnished. Adults preferred. 3122 S. Calhoun. H-90745 after 4:30 or Saturdays.
- SOUTH—Four-room lower apartment unfurnished. Two-room lower apartment, furnished. Automatic heat and hot water and utilities. H-76783.

MISCELLANEOUS

- ANYTHING that can be hauled in a dump truck. I will haul. A-78284.
- WILL CARE for small children in my home by day or week. Near GE. A-9451.

DITTIES FROM DISTRIBUTION

by Ruth Sorg

SHIPPING: "Watch Out, Rabbits," Dutch Wilson is after you. He is taking his third week of vacation so he can go hunting. . . . Welcome to Jean Hackenberry, the new girl on the open file. . . . Birthday greetings to Dorothy Shepard who celebrated her birthday yesterday. . . . Virginia Archbold spent the week-end in Oxford, Ohio, visiting her son who is attending Miami University. . . . Thursday evening, October 29, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie English entertained the Tool Inspection Group and their wives in honor of Nelson Smith, who is leaving us and taking up new duties in the General Tool department. Mr. Smith was presented with a gift and good wishes in his new activity. The entire group appreciated the fact that Charlie Spencer, from Ossian, conformed with convention and wore shoes, new shoes at that, when coming to the big city. The Spencers were a little late in arriving and it was rumored this was caused by Mrs. Spencer having to chase Charlie all over Ossian to catch him and put the shoes on him. . . . TELEGRAPH: Cholene Anderson and husband spent the week-end moving to their new home near Merriam. . . . We have another one added to the many television owners. Mary Ann Laurant and her sister Jane bought one so they will be enjoying it at their house.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Jerry Duryee on November 25. Also, to Bill Manecke on the same day (just for that you can stay home and celebrate it the next day—by eating turkey). And to Helen Conrad on November 20. . . . FAREWELL to Dick Neher, apprentice draftsman who leaves us to work in the tool department in Bldg. 19. . . . WEDDING BELLS FOR GAYLE PRINGLE—CONGRATULATIONS to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Horne (Mrs. Horne formerly signed her name Gayle Pringle). They were married in Angola, Ind., on November 14, in the "Chapel of the Garden." They are living at R. 4, Columbia City, Ind. . . . TURN ABOUT'S FAIR PLAY: How did it feel Ernie Hicks? Some time back Ernie asked Art Wilson for 35 cents. The obliging Art handed it to him very willingly. Ernie then delivered a package of Girl Scout cookies to Art. Last week, Art asked Ernie if he had a dollar, and being a good pal, Ernie pulled a greenback out of his pocket and handed it to Art. Whereupon Art delivered a box of Elex mints to Ernie. What's more, poor Ernie sat idly by and watched his friends help themselves to the mints. Nothing like being a good sport, eh boys? . . . ENGINEER'S DILEMMA: Some prankster pushed the lock in on Julian Stark's cabinet. After trying umpteen keys, one crooked key did the trick, or so the audience thought at the time. It was decided anyone could have opened it—they tried it with a screw driver. That worked, too. Instead of taking the material out of the cabinet while he had a chance, Julian proceeds to demonstrate further—this time it didn't work. The lock tumbler had fallen into position and nothing worked after that. Poor Julian was beaten, but he had his chance. It was decided after this, by all concerned, that the lock must have been partially in place when the crooked key and the screw driver worked. Nothing else left but to call the lock picker. After approximately 20 minutes and after practically tearing the cabinet to shreds, Julian got his papers. Tch, tch—engineer? Yep, one of the best! . . . CONGRATULATIONS TO STEVE NAGY: Steve has just become a very proud—brother. He has a brand new baby brother, Thomas, weight 7 lb. 6 oz. As Steve puts it, "having a baby brother at my age, is quite a distinction—it's nothing for a man my age to become a father!" . . . EXPENSIVE CINEMASCOPE: Seeing "The Robe" proved to be quite expensive entertainment for Walt Whonsetler. Somehow in the confusion of leaving the theatre, his brand new trifocals must have fallen from his pocket. After checking the theatre the next morning, and trying to recover them, he finally was compelled to visit his eye doctor for a new pair. This time they will be bifocals. . . . BY THE WAY, if you have not as yet seen "The Robe" we personally recommend that each and everyone of you see it. More of this type of movie is the best medicine for our world of today. . . . SORRY, WRONG NUMBER: Bill Rutledge's co-workers wondered why his face was so red during a phone conversation last week. After he replaced the receiver, he admitted having called a wrong number—that of a local mortuary. Must have been quite a shock, eh Bill?

APPRENTICE BROADCAST

by James Schwartz

We have received a report on a very unsuccessful duck hunting trip by Don Konow, Myron Auer, and Warren Sloan. The boys didn't get any ducks but they had a good time wallowing in the mud with all their clothes on. . . . Dewey Fields announces that he will be available to give driving lessons any evening after 6 p.m. . . . Ben Conner still seems to love those Fords, he just got himself another brand new one. . . . Jerry Augsburger was seen changing tires like mad one night after school. He was practicing to become a pit man for the 500-mile race no doubt. . . . Jack Robertson is making a full scale attempt to support the Fort Wayne Police Dept. single handedly. He can't keep away from those little red tickets. . . . Ned Speheger wishes to report that just because he missed work on opening day of the duck hunting season doesn't mean he went duck hunting. . . . Dick Wagner is trying his best to convert his working hours to 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. instead of 7 to 3:30 p.m. . . . Dave Blackburn is now firmly convinced that safety glasses will not break under "normal" strain. . . . Tonight is the big night. The apprentice school square dance will be held tonight at the GE Club starting at 8:30. Free instructions will be given from 8 to 8:30 p.m. with Carl Brandt doing the calling. Everyone is in for a good time, so be there early—see you tonight.

THE BIG WIND
SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Rachel Mounsey

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Hazel Davis, our night reporter, on the recent death of her husband. . . . Mel Kestner can't tell the difference between tame rabbits and wild ones. As a result he shot four tame ones that belonged to the man who was nice enough to let him hunt on his farm. . . . Ed Birely must have friends in Auburn because he received a Christmas greeting early. When are you going to pay your respects to them, Birely? . . . Darrel Emerick says Bill Kessler hunts rabbits just like he counts—not so good. . . . Dave Reidt sure can make a good story up as to why he was off last Friday. . . . Gladys Dunbar sure rates high when it comes to having pictures taken. She was all by herself. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Jerry Fredrick who celebrated last week. . . . Welcome back to Helen Doty. Hope she plans to stay for a while.

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS-OF-THE-MONTH

"All year long there was plenty of money for the things you needed!"

THE NIGHT WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Hazel Davis

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Hazel Davis, our news reporter, on the death of her husband. He had been ill for a number of years. . . . Betty Boldt has a new permanent, and we think it is very pretty. . . . Ruth LaPradd almost had a new way home from work the other night. A car drove up to the curb, as she was waiting for her husband to pick her up, and they asked her which way she was going. Are you sure it wasn't a taxi, Ruth? . . . Dollie Fodge says she got a new TV set so her grandson would come and see her. . . . Marie Forst says she is glad to be back on second trick. We are glad to have her, too. . . . Welcome back to Eva Gerdote on the 5-20 line. . . . Mable Moser and husband are spending the week-end with their daughter at Wawasee. . . . Adele Wietfeldt is spending her week-end watching her TV, and is going to see "The Robe." . . . Margaret Turney has returned to work after an illness. Glad to see you back, Margaret. . . . No wonder Al Telechow is all smiles. He is the owner of a 1918 Model T made in 1953. Why not give us all a ride, Al? . . . Get well greetings go to Bob McMellin, who is on the sick list. We miss you, Bob. . . . An interesting week-end for Harley Springer, who is doing nothing. . . . We are glad to have Wilma Robinson back with us. . . . Bob Huhn is going to stay home over the week-end and play with his TV. . . . Becky Fogwell and Mable Shim are so interested in their work they rush past the time clock and never see it. Better watch that, girls, if you want a pay check. . . . Edna Parker always puts her number on her tickets but who can find it? . . . Happy birthday to Connie Snyder. It was a good cake, Connie. . . . A large mark goes down for Vera Fletcher. She has a full week of work in this week. . . . Welcome back to Evelyn Sare, who just came back to work in time to celebrate her birthday. Greetings, Evelyn.

TALES from TAYLOR SECTION 113 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

A year ago when the hunting season opened on game birds, Clarence Sharmon sallied forth in search of the pheasant. Returning home, he proudly displayed a dozen or so of what he thought were cock pheasants but turned out to be Leghorn roosters. Again this year, he has gone on the same mission, but this time the farmers are prepared. They have penned up all of their roosters so that Clarence won't shoot their New Hampshire Reds mistaking them for ruffed grouse. . . . As far back as we can remember, we can't recall the time when Walter Kreig reported to work with a new pair of shoes. But he surprised us recently with a new pair. Now he won't have to use the strips of burlap that Archie Boren brought in for him to use this winter. . . . Eddie Sordet gave us all a big shock when he came to work in a Cadillac recently. In the past years, he has ridden his trusty motor scooter to work winter and summer. Now, he is trying to sell the scooter to Joe Robach, who says "no thank you" because he can't ride it with his overcoat on. We suggest that Joe get rid of that blizzard blanket he has been wearing for the past ten years and get himself a new jacket.

QUESTION:

*When is a Rainy Day
Not a Rainy Day?*

ANSWER:

When you have money invested in the GE Savings and Stock Bonus Plan, of course.

The money you have deducted from your pay will be safely invested in U.S. Savings Bonds which are earning interest. In addition, the Company will be crediting a 15% bonus in GE stock to your account during the five year deposit period. The stock credited to your account will be earning dividends during this time, too.

So, no rainy days for you. You'll have money for the kids' schooling, extra cash for a home, stocks and bonds for retirement, or extra money for sudden emergencies. The money you save under the GE Savings and Stock Bonus Plan is a waterproof umbrella on a rainy, rainy day.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

ECHOES from 19-2

Fred McIntyre

Roger Paxson is passing out cigars. The little tag around them says, "It's a boy!" Congratulations, Roger. . . . We're sorry to hear about Wayne Young's mother. She was seriously injured when struck by an automobile last week. We all hope she recovers quickly. Wayne. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stute gave a dinner party for a group of girls in Bldg. 19-2. No special event—they just thought they looked hungry, and decided to overcome the situation. It backfired—the situation overcame us. We ate too much! . . . Mystery of the week! What was Lester Oetting's answer to Cecile Hinton's question: "Would you like to buy some pickles?" . . . They say that a rabbit's foot is good luck. I know of 16 little rabbit feet that weren't so lucky. Bob Scheiman went a huntin'. Just shows to go, never trust to luck. . . . Lee Bryant, formerly of Bldg. 19-2 and now with the Armed Forces, was a recent visitor on Bldg. 19-2. Army life seems to agree with Lee, he has gained quite a bit of weight. . . . Murray Johnson wishes to express his appreciation to Ed Lebrecht for his gift, which proved to be a sure fire package. . . . It has been suggested by numerous friends of Catherine Eckenbarger that she take along a pillow the next time she goes roller skating. They are great for absorbing shock. . . . Charles Fortney spent several days with his brother in St. Louis, Mo. His brother underwent surgery at a hospital there. He reports that his brother is back home again and is improving rapidly. . . . Homer Hibler is now ready to buy a TV set. He is looking for the dealer who will give him the highest trade-in allowance for his 1925 model Atwater Kent radio. He says it is still in good condition, with new "A" and "B" batteries included. . . . Rollie Miller entertained a number of his fellow co-workers at his home on a recent Friday evening. Refreshments were served, lunch was had, and cards were played, but somehow the host overlooked three pumpkin pies which his wife had baked for the event. The boys think he ate the pies the next day himself.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

BLDG. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

Congratulations to Charlie Tharp on his marriage. We wish him a lot of happiness. . . . We welcome Herbert Boltz to our floor. He comes from Bldg. 27 Garage. . . . A happy birthday to Ted Schlup. His birthday comes on Armistice Day. It almost didn't though—way back in 1918. There was a false alarm Nov. 5, but the real one came Nov. 11. It makes Ted happy because it was on his birthday. . . . John Redmerski was sure trying to get attention last week. We don't know if it was because of his new shoes or his steel ball paper weight, he wanted us to notice. . . . Fred Paul's life is an open book, so he says, that is why he gets along so well with everyone. . . . A fine job was done by Frank Elder. He played in the orchestra for the Fall Revue. But we wonder who laughed the most, Frank or the audience? How close did the comedian come to hitting you on the bald spot, Frank? . . . Floyd Mutton is back from vacation. He spent part of it hunting, but more of it driving. He drove about 1,000 miles and got seven rabbits.

NOV 30 1953

PUBLIC LIBRARY
FORT WAYNE & ALLEN CO., IND.
PERIODICALS

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

Volume 36

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1953

No. 46

GE Club to Fete Kiddies At Yule Party Dec. 19-20

Amidst a holiday spirit complete with Santa Claus, employees' children will be entertained at the GE Club Kiddies' Christmas party Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 19 and 20.

Four professional acts will present six complete programs. Santa will talk with the small fry and treats will be given each child attending, Gordon L. Smith, entertainment chairman, announced today.

Shows will begin Saturday, Dec. 19, at 10 a.m., 1, 3, and 5 p.m. The two Sunday, Dec. 20, programs will get under way at 2 and 4 p.m. Acts will be announced later.

Tickets, which will be available in a couple of weeks, should be secured by employees for children in their immediate families only. Parents accompanying small children do not need tickets for themselves. The tickets are presented at the shows for the treats. These are for children 12 years old or younger.

To secure tickets for their children, employees should present their 1953-54 GE Club membership card, which lists the number of dependents, at either the GE Club desk, Taylor St. employment office, or from any of the 18 members of the entertainment committee.

The Kiddies' Party is sponsored by the GE Club, of which all employees are members. Proceeds secured from vending machines located throughout the Broadway, Taylor St., and Winter St. plants make this and other programs possible at the club.

$2,189.59 in Suggestion Awards Put Turkey on the Tables of 151

One hundred and fifty-one Fort Wayne GE employees could be thankful yesterday for suggestion awards amounting to $2,189.59 during October.

Virgil McGuire, of the Hermetic Motor Department, received the largest award, $300, for his suggestion that the company apply for commodity rate on transportation. Previously the public rate was used and his idea resulted in considerable savings.

Another Hermetic employee, Howard Miller, earned $150 for suggesting that all material going to Winter St. be consolidated in one location each day so that there could be one gate pass and central pick-up point. Max F. Fielitz received a $30 award.

Charles A. Sherland suggested an improved method of welding shells which eliminated pits on the rabbett. Mr. Sherland is an employee of the General Purpose Component Motor Department.

In the Specialty Transformer Department, Thomas Closson eliminated rework operations with his idea for repairing undersize studs on hermetic transformers. He was awarded $50 for the suggestion.

In the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department, Lloyd Wire received a $35 award on a suggestion concerned with grinding wheels. Aloysius Fox, also of motor and generator earned a $25 suggestion check.

Two $45 awards were paid in the General Purpose Component Motor Department. Richard P. Braun, of Section 113, and Charles C. Bracht, of the General Tool Section, were the recipients.

In the same department, Wilbur H. Poehler, Section 113, and Gerald Uhl, Section 114, received $27.50 and $25 respectively.

Specialty Transformer also paid suggestion awards to four other employees. Ralph Bradtmiller, Bldg. 26-3, was paid $35 for his idea to salvage low voltage connectors which were formerly scrapped. Mr. Bradtmiller also received a $30 additional award on a previous suggestion to stamp information on a unit and eliminate the nameplate.

IDEA MAN—Virgil McGuire (center) gets a light from E. J. Vosburgh with a lighter he received as a bonus on his $300 suggestion award this month. Mr. McGuire, employed in Bldg. 6-1, is shown with (l-r) Bob Dent, Herb Koch, Vern Castle, and Bill Eisenacher. There were 150 other GE employees on the October suggestion list.

A $30 award was paid Glenn R. Kaylor, Bldg. 26-1 and $25 was earned by Robert A. Bunyon, also of Bldg. 26-1.

There was a total of 135 awards of under $25 in amount in all departments of the Fort Wayne operations.

APPRENTICE SCHOOL supervisors touring the Fort Wayne school during the conference last week are (l-r): Walter Wolf, supervisor of Fort Wayne apprentices; Ray E. Ellis, superintendent of apprentices at Schenectady, and Frank T. Lewis, manager of manufacturing personnel development at Schenectady.

Two GE-Sponsored Programs Appear Weekly on WKJG-TV

Two television programs sponsored by the General Electric Company on national networks will appear regularly on WKJG-TV, it was announced by Fort Wayne's television station this week.

They are the "GE Theater" and "I Married Joan." The "GE Theater", which is over CBS-TV, will feature a variety of music, comedy, and drama, with stars such as Bing Crosby and Fred Waring appearing. This program will appear from 8 to 8:30 p.m. Sundays.

"I Married Joan", features Joan Davis in a comedy series and can be seen from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays. This program is broadcast over NBC-TV.

TV or not TV, that has been the burning question concerning the elusive Bing Crosby ever since General Electric signed him to a radio series two seasons ago with option rights to any television activities—if, as, and when.

After a great deal of uncertainty and rumor Bing has finally announced officially that he plans his television debut for Sunday, January 3, 1954. The show will appear from 8 to 8:30 p.m., and will be entirely on motion picture film. Jack Benny will make a guest appearance on the program and the format in general will be similar to the Crosby radio show—a relaxed, informal half-hour with a little

(Continued on page 9)

Sup'vrs, Foremen Slate Lecturer For Joint Dinner

Fay Le Meadows, nationally known lecturer, will be the principal speaker at the joint meeting of the Supervisors Club and Foremen's Association, Wednesday, Dec. 2.

The joint dinner meeting will take place in the GE Club. Invitations have been sent to members of both organizations and should be presented for admission at the time shown on the card. Dinner will be served at 5:30 and 6 p.m. Those attending should go at the time indicated on their invitation.

Mr. Meadows will discuss "Life Can and Should Be Fun." Lecturer, author, counselor, and commentator, Mr. Meadows has traveled both in America and abroad in a

(Continued on page 9)

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden Editor
Barbara W. Hyman Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. A-2441, Ext. 441

Volume 36 Friday, November 27, 1953 No. 46

What One Small Factory Can Do

There's a new factory in Elmvile, U. S. A. It is not a very big factory, as factories go these days; it needs only about 150 people to keep it going. But like a pebble cast into a pond, the factory makes its presence felt far beyond the first splash. Somewhere between 1,000 and 1,200 men and women in and about Elmvile, depend on the factory and the business it generates in the community for their chief source of income.

Those who have taken the trouble to figure out the statistics find that the Elmvile people who either work in the factory or who ride the ripples of the business activity it sends out require about 300 homes. They want some 320 automobiles. The families among them need an 18-room school to start their children out on the road to learning.

That isn't all of the story. With the factory going, the community can support 33 stores. Some 23 professional people—doctors, dentists, teachers—have found a place in which to live and serve.

Some other figures: Elmvile is paying about $53,000 to the local transportation outfits that move the goods produced by the factory. It buys the produce of some 6,000 acres—making up a pretty fair market for the farmers in the district. The factory keeps a payroll of more than $200,000 turning over.

This is what the factory means, in thousands of small communities like Elmvile all over the country.

Most of the people in Elmvile feel, very practically, that it's a pretty good thing the factory is there. It would be interesting to know why, and how it did get there.

If you asked a typical Elmvile resident he might say in surprise, "Why it's there to make money." You couldn't say he was wrong.

Digging a little deeper, you would find that there wasn't any sure thing about this factory's making money. When it first moved into town, some people called it a dream. At best, it was a risk. A good many people who had faith risked their savings on an idea that others called a dream. But that's how the factory got there: through an idea, faith, savings, and the willingness to risk them.

How the factory got there may be yesterday's story to the good people of Elmvile. It may not matter very much how. What does matter very much now. What does matter is whether the factory will stay in Elmvile—as a busy, going enterprise. And to come right down to it, that is a question of whether the factory, which is paying the way of so many, can pay its own way—earn its own keep.

If the factory can show a profit—if it can pay some return to those who took considerable risks for its sake, and can, besides, use part of the profit to make it a better factory—then it will stay and probably will grow bigger and better along (and Elmvile will grow bigger and better along with it).

There will always be people to argue that profits are "bad"—but maybe that's because they've never lived in an Elmvile.

WITH 45TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA—A former Bldg. 26-4 employee, Carl L. Blair, arrived in Korea a couple of months ago for duty with the 45th Infantry Division. Blair is a private with the "Thunderbird" division, which is engaged in a vigorous training program to maintain the peak combat readiness and efficiency which marked the former Oklahoma National Guard unit during the Korean fighting, a bulletin from the U. S. Army news center states.

A Bldg. 19-1 employee now in the Armed Forces, Pvt. Richard D. Oelschlager, is serving in Japan with the 1st Cavalry Division. Pvt. Oelschlager entered the U. S. Army in February and was last stationed at Camp Chafee, Ark.

The following employees have entered the Armed Forces: James F. Burgett, Robert E. Eckert, Earl L. Wendel, Robert R. Bates, George V. Tsintsaroff, Deuwayne D. Strahm, and Donald R. Hamerla.

SLEUTHING in 4-6 by Al Happel

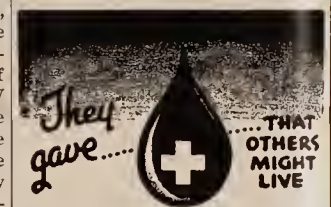

ORDERS IS ORDERS! When you get that "Greeting" from Uncle Sam, it means one thing—you had better report when they tell you to. Lowell McLaughlin received that greeting and today is his last day with us. Naturally we'll miss you, Lowell, and we want to wish you everything good. Please write the gang occasionally. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to E. R. Cunningham, who will celebrate his birthday on Sunday, November 29 (how nice to have a birthday on Sunday). Also, to Everett Lettinger on Thursday, December 3. . . . STARDUST GLITTER: The brilliant rays brightening the atmosphere around Bonnie Leazier's desk originates from the magnificent sparkler adorning the "wedding finger" of her left hand. The lucky man is Bill Kimmel from Albion, Ind. She said for some reason she just couldn't control her hands the first morning she wore her ring to the office—her fingers just wouldn't type. . . . NEW PET: Along with the ducks, frogs, etc., which Mike Lowdermilk calls his pets, he now has a new one—a half-grown pigeon—which his Mommy found near the entrance to the south end of Bldg. 4 early one morning. Ruth nursed and babied it all day at the office, even making it a little coop with a peek-out window. We hope you like it, Michael! . . . NEAR CALAMITY! Wouldn't you have liked to have witnessed the following "work of art" displayed on the walk below the window of Ruth Burris' landlady, which took place near midnight? Ruth, carrying half a pie in one hand, and a casserole of baked beans in the other, along with the various other paraphernalia a woman usually carries, stepped on a small object which threw her off balance and off the walk with a loud clatter. Believe it or not—the pie and baked beans were still intact! . . . WELCOME B A C K, FAREWELL, A N D HELLO: This is a rather eventful week in the fish bowl. We welcome back William Pringle after a five-week absence due to illness. . . .

We bid farewell and good luck to Gwen Griffith Bray, who leaves us today. She will shortly leave Fort Wayne to make her future home with her husband in sunny California, where Everett, her husband, has secured employment. Drop us a message from time to time, Gwen, and tell us all about California. Our new secretary in the fish bowl is Erma Rachael Matthews. Her face is familiar to many of us as she comes to Specialty engineering from the accounting department here in Bldg. 4-6. We offer our sincere welcome to you, Rachel. . . . LATE EARLY BIRD: When an early bird like Ruth Lowdermilk is late something really must have gone haywire in her schedule. Ruth was on her way to work—waiting on a Broadway bus on Calhoun Street. She saw a number 4 (Broadway) coming down the line. A few minutes pass by, the bus arrives, and Ruth boards it. Engrossed in her thoughts, she suddenly woke up to the fact the bus didn't turn west at Main. Somehow a No. 6 (East State) got mixed up with the No. 4—how, she'll never know. Result—she had to wait another 20 minutes for the next Broadway. Ruth, are you sure you didn't want to go back home? . . . SINCERE SYMPATHY to Beverly Phillips, who recently lost her husband, who had been ill for several years. . . . SUCH A GREAT BIG MAN'S WITH A TEENY-WEENY VOICE: Poor Jack Jennings found it rather embarrassing last week when he lost his voice in an attack of laryngitis. He didn't know what was coming out when he opened his mouth, or if anything was coming out. . . . CONGRATULATIONS to Dan Geary, he celebrates 30 years with the company November 20. . . . ATTENTION: To all TV members of specialty motor department. A TV member joined our group three weeks ago and hardly anyone seemed to know about it. So, we are announcing it now. The new member is our friend, Glen Stapleton. How do you like that, TV members? Also, we have two new members this week. They are Helen Conrad and Harry Gebfert. . . . FAREWELL, IT'S BEEN GOOD TO KNOW YOU: These four young apprentices, Les Fanning, Fred Hoenig, Dick Poe, and Bob Dafforn, are leaving us this week to go to their next assignment. Farewell, boys, and good luck from all of us in specialty motor department.

DITTIES FROM DISTRIBUTION

by Ruth Sorg

SHIPPING: Our deepest sympathy to Dorothy Long, who lost her father last week. . . . Emma Meyer and Sarah Harris attended the Bob Hope show Sunday afternoon. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Virginia Archbold last Saturday, and to Audrey Hoelle last Tuesday. Many more happy birthdays, girls. . . . Cathy Trautman spent the week-end in Indianapolis visiting her folks. . . . Fran Miller, the lucky person, has now solved the washing problem by getting a new automatic washer and dryer. . . . TELEGRAPH: Dolores Miles and husband attended the Indiana-Purdue football game last Saturday afternoon. . . . Rosie Ort celebrated her 21st birthday last week by treating the gang. . . . Joan Roesner sure has been happy the last few days. The reason? Her boy friend spent Thanksgiving with her. . . . MAILING: We said so long to Frank Hensler, who joined the Air Force and is stationed at Sampson Field, Geneva, New York. . . . We would like to welcome Thomas Summers to the mailing section. . . . It was good to see Bob Sturm last Friday. He was a former mail boy. He is in the Navy and is stationed at Norfolk, Virginia. . . . Everybody clear the way for Minta Cole! On the way out in the evenings she is in a hurry to get the evening meal over so she can sit down at the new television set.

The following people donated blood during the week ending November 13:

Myron Lowe, Arthur C. Brockmeyer, Max R. Buckmaster, Donald E. Dannecker, Robert Keim, William Pappert, Norman D. Patton, Guy Peckhart, Paul B. Perry, Richard E. Pinkham, Walda E. Reed, Robert Treace, Sr., Alfred L. Ulmer and Robert D. Wildermuth.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

Elex Club to Start Annual Christmas Collection for Needy

Beginning Monday, Nov. 30, Elex contact girls will conduct their drive for needy families, Voyce Brumbaugh, president, announced today. The girls will pass collection boxes throughout their sections. All contributions will go to make a merrier Christmas for the needy, the president stated. The drive will continue for one week.

First and second shift Elex members will have the opportunity to see the Ice Capades, which the group will attend for their annual Christmas party this year on Dec. 20. Tickets, which are 50 cents each, will be available beginning Dec. 7 from contact girls.

Elex members who are off for illness or retired should purchase their tickets from the Women's Activities office, Bldg. 18-1. A pre-show party will be conducted at the Coliseum Dec. 20 beginning at 6 p.m. All those planning to attend the show should attend this party to receive regular Ice Show tickets and their Elex gift.

Plans for two shorthand classes sponsored by Elex were announced this week also. A beginners class will open Jan. 12, 1954, and a more advanced class will get under way Jan. 14. Both sessions will be conducted at Jefferson Center, corner of Jefferson St. and Fairfield Ave. from 4:45 until 6 p.m. each week. The Gregg system will be taught by instructor Avenel Stanton, Bldg. 26-2. The fee for Elex members is three dollars and for non-members it is $3.50. Arrangements are being made to secure textbooks which will be available for the classes. Persons interested in entering either class should contact Miss Stanton, Ext. 640.

Warren B. Brighty

Gilbert E. Jamieson

Kenneth R. McDougal

Three Motor-Generator Employees Appointed to Managerial Posts Here

Three employees of the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department have been appointed to managerial positions, P. S. Stough, manager of engineering, announced this week.

Warren B. Brighty has been named manager of alternating current product engineering in the Fort Wayne manufacturing section. Gilbert E. Jamieson has been appointed manager of direct current product engineering here and Kenneth R. McDougal has been named manager of advance and development engineering in Fort Wayne.

In 1941, Mr. Brighty entered the company test engineer program at Schenectady. Upon completion of the course, he went into the advanced course in engineering, A class. He completed this program and came to Fort Wayne in 1942 when he became a design engineer in Motor and Generator. He did design engineering on Navy synchronous generators. In 1947, he was named group leader in the synchronous motor section and had this position at the time of his present appointment.

Holds BSEE Degree

A graduate of Tufts College in Medford, Mass., Mr. Brighty received his BSEE degree in 1941. He is a member of the AIEE, GE Squares, and FWAGEE. He is past secretary of FWAGEE. The Brightys and their three daughters reside at 806 Walnut St.

When he came to GE in 1940, Mr. Jamieson entered the test engineers program at Schenectady. He completed this course there and came to Motor and Generator in Fort Wayne in 1941. He became a design engineer in the single unit DC section then. That same year, he went into M and G set design.

In 1943, Mr. Jamieson moved into dynamometer design. He became group leader in M and G set design in 1948 and last year was named acting DC division engineer. This was his position until his present appointment.

Mr. Jamieson attended Allegheny College at Meadville, Penn., for two years and graduated from Pennsylvania State College in 1940 with a BSEE degree. He is a member of FWAGEE, and GE Squares, and Supervisors Club. He is secretary-treasurer of the Anthony Wayne chapter of the Indiana Society of Professional Engineers. The Jamiesons and their son reside at 1144 Kinnaird Ave.

product engineering in M and G. In 1930, he entered DC product engineering as a design engineer. In 1932, he began research work at the University of Wisconsin Physics Department for one year and afterward went to the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Wisconsin, where he did research.

In 1936, Mr. McDougal entered DC product engineering where he was a design engineer on dynamometers. He was named section engineer in the dynamometer section in 1940 and became division engineer of the DC division in 1949. This was his position until his present assignment.

A 1928 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Mr. McDougal received his BSEE degree. He is a member of the Supervisors Club, Fort Wayne Engineers Club, FWAGEE, and a registered professional mechanical and electrical engineer in the State of Indiana.

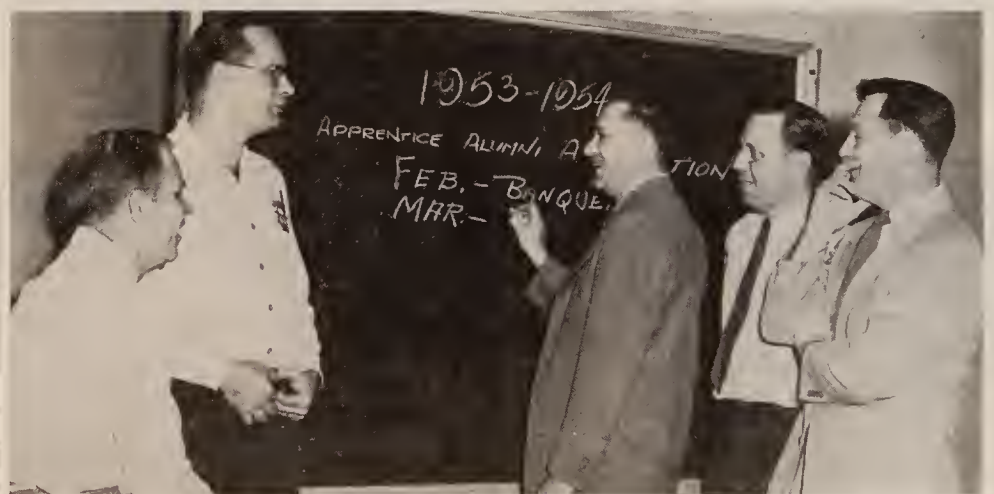

Mr. and Mrs. McDougal and their two daughters reside at 210 E. Fleming Ave.

ICE CAPADES of 1954 will be seen by Elex members Sunday, Dec. 20 at the War Memorial Coliseum. The Ice Capets and Ice Cadets are performing the "Jingle Polka" above. This is one of 10 productions and 20 starring acts in the Capades this year.

GE Club Entertainment Calendar 1953-54 Year

Nov. 28—Kiddies' Movies, 1:30 p.m. Square Dance, 8:30 p.m.	Feb. 6—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance
Dec. 5—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies, 8 p.m.	Feb. 13—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies
Dec. 12—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance	Feb. 20—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance
Dec. 19—Kiddies' Christmas party	Feb. 27—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies
Dec. 20—Kiddies' Christmas party	Mar. 6—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance
Dec. 26—Square Dance	Mar. 13—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies
Jan. 2—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies	Mar. 20—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance
Jan. 9—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance Square Dance	Mar. 27—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies
Jan. 16—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies	Apr. 10—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance
Jan. 23—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance	Apr. 17—Adult Movies Kiddies' Movies
Jan. 30—Kiddies' Movies Adult Movies	Apr. 24—Kiddies' Movies Square Dance

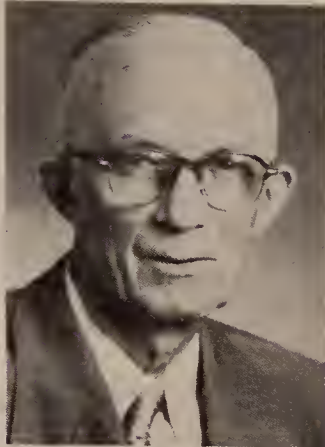

APPRENTICE VICTORS—Newly elected officers of the Apprentice Alumni Association get together for their first meeting to plan the coming club year's program. They are (l-r): John Leffers, Bldg. 4-6, treasurer; George Horner, Bldg. 26-1, financial secretary; Walter Buesking, Winter St., president; Arnold Kiefer, Bldg. 4-4, recording secretary, and Richard Burns, Bldg. 19-5, vice president.

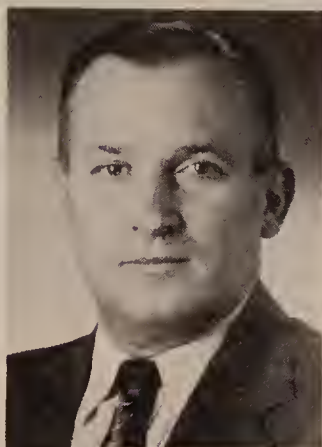

TWENTY MEMBERS ENROLLED IN Q-C CLUB

LAURA E. BROWN
Taylor St.

ARTHUR HICKMAN
Winter St.

JOHN J. JOHNSON
Bldg. 17-2

EARL H. FREDERICK
Taylor St.

HAROLD W. GEBHART
Bldg. 20-1

CHALMERS M. HAZEN
Taylor St.

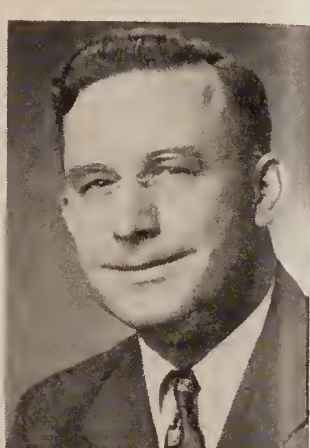

EDWIN F. HEEMSOOTH
Winter St.

EDWARD W. HORMAN
Bldg. 27

KENNETH G. BROWN
Taylor St.

HUGH REYNOLDS
Bldg. 17-2

VIRGIL D. DALMAN
Bldg. 4-3

FORREST M. VOORHEES
Taylor St.

ROY D. CHAPMAN
Bldg. 17-2

FRANCIS L. BENNETT
Bldg. 4-B

DONALD D. BRAYER
Bldg. 20-2

WILLIAM H. CHARLESTON
Bldg. 4-4

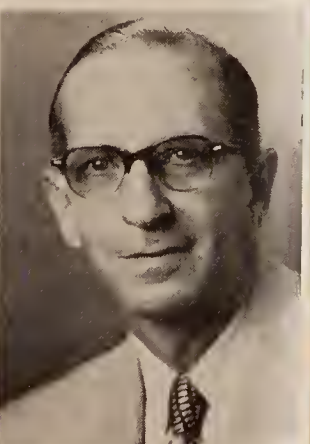

L. FRANK VOIROL
Bldg. 20-2

DOUGLAS A. BLESSING
Bldg. 6-1

FRONA WITSCHÉ
Bldg. 21

CLYDE ENSLEN
Bldg. 19-1

Five-Year Holding Period Under Employees Savings, Stock Bonus Plan to End Dec. 31

The first five-year holding period for U. S. Savings Bonds, Series E, purchased by employees under the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan terminates Dec. 31, 1953. Employees who purchased bonds in 1948 and left those bonds on deposit with the company until Dec. 31, 1953 will receive the bonds purchased plus a check for the income accumulated on the 1948 stock bonus credited to their accounts for that period.

Employees who participated in the Plan in 1948 will receive a notice of their bond purchases under the Plan for that period during the next few days. The notice will be accompanied by a transmittal form. Eligible employees should deliver the transmittal forms with their custody receipts given to them previously for their 1948 bonds, to their local payroll units.

Since it will take until about March 1, 1954 to complete the individual income calculations for 1953 the bonds and checks for income accumulation will be delivered to participants shortly thereafter. Employees who request the delivery of their 1948 bonds before Jan. 1, 1954, will forfeit the stock bonus on such bonds.

No Full Shares

No participant could have purchased a sufficient amount of bonds during the three month period of 1948 during which the Plan was in operation to entitle him to a full share of General Electric stock, therefore the bonus for any participant will be less than one full share. These fractional shares earned by participants will not be delivered with the bonds and income checks. Such fractional shares will remain to the credit of participants until either the accumulation of fractional shares earned in subsequent years entitles them to a full share or cash payment of the value of fractional shares is requested. It is important to note that during this period of accumulation of fractional shares, such fractional shares continue to earn income which is credited annually. Income, of course, ceases if a participant requests cash payment of the value of the fractional share.

3 1/2 Million in Bonds

Savings bonds having a cost price of about 3 1/2 million dollars will be delivered to more than 43,000 participants next March. For every $75 invested in bonds, participating employees will realize a return of about $34.40. Basing the value of the stock bonus at a current market price of about $80, a share, the return on each $75 invested in the Stock Bonus Plan is composed of these three parts:

- (1) Value of the bonus of a fractional share of GE Stock (28/100 of a share) at a stock value of $80. per share is $22.40
- (2) Check for accumulated income on the stock bonus of about 5.00
- (3) An increase in the value of each bond from $75 to $82. 7.00

Total earnings on investment of each $75. $34.40

This represents an increase of about 7.7 per cent per year (compounded semi-annually) on the employee's original investment, a considerably higher return than could have been received by investing in other high grade securities.

Nearly two-thirds of the return

EARN $150 AWARD—Howard Miller shows his suggestion check and bonus clock to Bob Dent, Herb Koch, Vern Castle, Bill Eisenacher, and E. J. Vosburgh. Mr. Miller suggested that all material going to Winter St. be sent on one gate pass from a central location. Mr. Miller's idea was worth $150. He is employed in the Hermetic Motor Department.

of $34.40 is made up of the Stock Bonus given by the Company to participants for leaving their bonds on deposit for the required five-year holding period. The value of the fractional shares which participating employees own outright after Dec. 31, 1953, based on a current market price of $80, a share, is over one million dollars. The value of the stock bonus allocated at the end of 1948 has more than doubled.

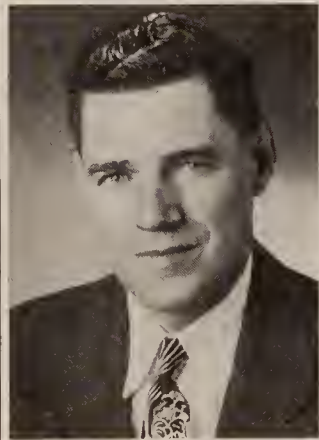

Bonds Increased Value

Savings bonds purchased under the Plan have also increased in value during the five-year holding period. A bond costing $75 in 1948 is now worth $82. However, the greatest interest earning on these bonds is yet to come. During the last five years to maturity bonds costing $75 will grow in value by another $18. To obtain the maximum interest in their investments, participants should hold their bonds for at least the full ten year maturity period, although bonds held beyond that time will continue to earn additional interest for another 10 years.

At the present time there are approximately 98,000 participants in the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan. Approximately 2 1/2 million bonds with a total cost price of about $95,000,000 are being held by the Company for these participants.

A five-year holding period expires at the end of each calendar year beginning with the year 1953. For example, bonds purchased in 1949, together with checks for income accumulations and certificates for any full shares of General Electric Stock earned as a bonus will be delivered to participants as soon as possible after Dec. 31, 1954. Each year thereafter this procedure will be repeated.

Roger R. Crabill Is Appointed To Foreman's Post

Appointment of Roger R. Crabill as foreman in training in Hermetic Motor Section 16 has been announced by Eldon J. Vosburgh, superintendent. Mr. Crabill is located in rotor core casting, machining, and finishing on third shift.

When he came to the company in 1940, Mr. Crabill entered Bldg. 4-2 where he was a borematic operator. Later, he moved to Bldg. 17-1 and went on the automatic screw machine training course.

After transferring to Bldg. 17-4 in 1946, Mr. Crabill did assembly work and was a machine operator. He became a dispatcher in Section 16 in January this year and had this position until his present appointment.

Mr. and Mrs. Crabill live at 2115 Short St.

GE Introduces New 'M-2', World's Smallest Flash Bulb

A tiny flash bulb which is expected to revolutionize the picture-making habits of the nation has been introduced by the General Electric Company.

Described as "the world's smallest, least expensive, most convenient, and most reliable flashbulb yet," the new photographic light source is known as the "M-2."

Seen by GE as "the most significant photoflash development since the company introduced the midget flashbulb in 1939," the new bulb is expected not only to be popular of itself, but also to be an important stimulus to the already fast-growing hobby of flash photography.

The M-2 produces enough light for the great majority of amateur flash needs. Rated at approximately 4000 lumen-seconds, it provides sufficient light for good black-and-white picture results at distances up to 15 feet when used with existing reflectors, fast film, and box-type cameras. Owners of better cameras will obtain good results of considerably greater distances.

The new lamp is equivalent in light output to the SM, or Speed Midget, according to GE. As compared with the No. 5, by far the most popular flashbulb today, it has the same effectiveness at half the distance.

Besides being the smallest flashbulb yet introduced, the M-2 differs in appearance from all previous types in that it has a smaller base. Similar in size to that of the smallest Christmas tree bulb, the base is of the miniature type, smooth, and without either pins or screw threads. It is pushed straight into the socket, and needs no positioning or turning.

The M-2 will perform adequately with present reflectors with the aid of adapters. However, much better results are possible with reflectors designed especially for use with the tiny bulb. To stimulate the introduction of such reflectors, GE has developed new designs, and currently is showing them to manufacturers of cameras and flash attachments for their guidance. Reflectors for the new bulb are expected to be considerably smaller (from three to four inches in diameter) and more nearly parabolic in shape, than units currently on the market.

Of greater significance than immediate use of the M-2's in existing equipment with adapters, according to GE, will be its long-range impact upon both the photographic industry and the picture-taking public.

One of the limitations of flash photography in the past has been the necessity of carrying bulky equipment in the form of a flash attachment and a quantity of flash bulbs, in addition to the camera, according to GE experts. This objection is expected to be minimized as a result of the introduction of the M-2.

The bulb itself is so small that a dozen of them, enough for shooting a complete roll of film with flash, can be carried easily in a shirt pocket or purse.

Too, it makes possible for the first time the construction of more compact camera-flash units than have been practical heretofore.

Among the probabilities forecast by GE are cameras with built-in reflectors, and flash units which carry enough bulbs to shoot an entire roll of film.

Such compact equipment will make flash picture-taking virtually as simple as that without flash, and is expected to stimulate the wider use of flash by snap-shooters.

More than 400 million flashbulbs will be used in the United States during 1953, and GE predicts consumption will soar to 700 million in 1958. The M-2 is expected to play an important part in this growth.

Retail price of the M-2 is 10 cents per bulb. This price means that a picture taker, using the new bulb instead of the No. 5 or its equivalent, effects a saving of 36 cents in shooting one roll of film.

The M-2 bulb is three quarters of an inch in diameter, or slightly more than half the diameter of the No. 5 bulb, and is nearly an inch shorter. Base of the M-2 is only three-eighths of an inch in diameter, or about three-fifths of the size of a No. 5 base.

Like other flashbulbs, the M-2 is clear, and is filled with shredded aluminum foil. It incorporates construction improvements recently introduced by GE in its line of midget flashbulbs—a new filament and primer—which makes for easier flashability.

The new bulbs will be marketed in packages similar to those GE adopted recently for its midget and sub-midget lamps. A pack of 4 lamps is of about the same length and thickness of a pack of king-size cigarettes, but only three-quarters as wide. A whole carton of 12 M-2's is smaller in size than a pack of four No. 5's.

The M-2 bulb now is in production. Bulbs are expected to be generally available on the retail market by next spring, when adapters and flash units to accommodate them also will be on the market.

GE Club Books Kiddies Movies On Week-End Bill

Kiddies Movies and a square dance are slated for the GE Club entertainment calendar this week end. The movie program will get under way at 1:30 p.m. and present the full-length film, "The Daltons Ride Again."

An episode in the serial "The Phantom Empire" will be shown and a cartoon. The program is open free of charge to employees' children.

At 8:30 p.m. the club auditorium will be the scene of a square dance open to employees and their friends. Johnny Lukens and his Rhythm Rascals will provide music and calling for informal dancing.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS

BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Two more TV fans added to our little group, Dick (I ain't a'go in to buy any) Bodkins and yours truly. Won't be long and Hill will be the only radio fan left. . . . Ralph Garrett was observed going through the garbage cans again. What did you lose this time, Ralph, another pie case or your upper plate? . . . Dick Bodkins was called into the office the other day. His wife wanted to speak to him on the telephone. Noticing a phone off its cradle, Dick picked it up and cooed, "Hello-o baby." "Why Dick!" boomed Al Mason's voice on the other end, "I didn't know you cared." Better watch which phone you pick up after this, Dick. . . . Ollie Miller and wife are now in their new home on the Paulding Road. . . . Hope everyone had a happy Thanksgiving.

STORMY WEATHER

BLDG. 17-4

by Bill Hurtt & Larry Reed

Puzzle of the week: Jim Smith and Tommy Ambrose made a very nice box, steel supports, hinges, and equipped with a lock. Then they proceeded to put on the lack and hinges and lock the keys inside. How did they get the keys out again? Well—we can assure you it wasn't easy. . . . If anyone wants to see a stray cat get a good home see Alice Hahn. Her family of one cat has increased to two. She just doesn't have the heart to see one suffer. . . . Don't tell Ray Plueger that we don't have a plant in Hartford City. He likes the town for more than one reason and would gladly transfer there. . . . You may have to kick Arnold Ley a few times to get him to understand a joke, but he eventually sees the point. . . . Is Bill Meeks leaving us to go in the milk truck business? The advertisements about the milk truck we worked on up here included his picture, and he is very proud of it. So, treat him with a little more respect, boys. . . . On Tuesday the DAV held another feed, and sure enough Edna Ward's husband Harley had charge of the noodle making again. Even Edna says his noodles can't be beaten. She's bragged so long now we feel the right thing for her to do is to bring in some so we can see for ourselves. . . . Because she has gone to so many potluck suppers lately, Alice Plueger yells down that she'll bring baked beans and potato salad when the telephone rings. . . . We extend our sympathy to Helen Fletter on the death of her stepfather. . . . A very delicious turkey dinner was enjoyed by the office force last Wednesday. We all owe a rousing vote of thanks to Mike Lowe's mother who prepared and cooked the bird. It all ended with everyone filled up and happy. Also, our thanks to all the girls who helped make the dinner a success. . . . Joe Prezbindowski says that Cy Seymour has turned out to be the most patient man in the world, as evidenced when he tried so hard to do some soldering and the gas kept shutting off. Does this mean that the Seymour disposition has taken a turn for the better? . . . To clear up any misunderstanding—all former employees and pensioners of Bldg. 17-4 are cordially invited to attend our Christmas party at the Southwest Conservation Club on December 12 at 8:30 p.m. Come one, come all!

EARNs 40-YEAR AWARD—Arthur Galloghy (right) shows his certificate for attaining his 40th anniversary as a GE employee to Ralph Smith (left) and Frank Schlatter. Mr. Galloghy came to GE in 1913 as a finisher. He is now employed in Bldg. 26-1.

SPECIALTY MOTORS

Shipping—Receiving—Order Service

by Mabel Fisher

"Over the river and through the woods to Grandfather's house we go," has been Fred Wheeler's theme song. He and his family are spending a Thanksgiving vacation back home in southern Illinois. . . . James Miller is the new checker on the second shift, just having returned from army service. We welcome him to our department. . . . How lucky can some people get? Ora Ramey wins the pot of gold, Melvin Schrader wins an old red rooster, and Fred Wheeler wins one old stewing hen. All in the same week. . . . Happy birthday to Helen Eggeman, Claudine Gladbach, Hugo Herbst, David Bridges, Betty Kemp, and Sue Stewart. . . . If you would like to know why there is a perpetual smile on Betty Kemp's face, the reason is her husband will soon be home from Korea. . . . The girls had a potluck Thursday noon in honor of Audrey Betley. She is leaving Friday. We had a lot of good food and a happy half hour. . . . Congratulations to Ruth Bentz and Gertrude Koldewey. They each have new cars. Now we never can find them home. . . . Gertrude Koldewey's horse, Hominy, is one of the smartest horses we have ever met. He eats his weekly ration of oats all at one sitting, then Gertrude has to worry all week wondering if he will live or not. . . . Friday the folks on Bldg. 6-3 presented Audrey Betley with a gift. She is leaving with our best wishes. . . . All our sympathy goes to Ilene Richardson who missed her breakfast and almost missed her lunch Thursday. The elevator on which she was riding was stuck for more than an hour. . . . Two ducks and a cow: Quackers and milk. . . . Hope you all had a happy Thanksgiving.

"Work is the sustenance of noble minds."—Seneca.

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

Although he didn't care too much about doing it, Chalmer Lee finally consented to stay at home and baby sit while his wife attended a "Feather Bingo." Yes, we know she said that she would bring home a turkey, but who believes in such good luck? Surprised? Well, I guess Chalmer was when she came home not only with a turkey but also a chicken. Aren't you glad that she went, Chalmer? . . . Fred Engle has been spending some time at home recuperating from the injuries received when his thumb came in contact with an electric saw. . . . Rufus Roop and Harold Baughn are back after a week's vacation. No details about it except Harold said that it was great to just loaf or do whatever you wished to do without planning ahead. . . . "Oh, you sure ought to see how good TV is on my new set." So said Milt Brown to visitors at his home recently. Everything was fine until Milt decided he wanted a different program. Well, the picture was fine if you care for silent pictures. Say, Milt, the suggestion has been made that you get the same program on the radio for the sound effects. Yes, it worked O.K. later. Wonder why? . . . We are glad to welcome Junior Lake back after an extended illness. . . . We also wish to send a cheery hello to Murray Holloway, who has been confined to his home in Pleasant Mills for quite some time. . . . Also to Bernice Weisz, who is at Irene Byron Sanatorium in Fort Wayne. I know that both would be glad to hear from their former co-workers and friends. Why not send them a card, gang? . . . Congratulations to Art and Joan Braun upon the arrival of a bouncing baby boy last Sunday.

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

by Clara Volz

Congratulations to Louie Clark for receiving some of that nice green folding stuff on a suggestion that he turned into the company. Must be nice to be so smart. . . . Congrats to Frank Mollica on the purchase of a new Ford. . . . Bill Schlie is leaving us after 30 years of faithful service to the company. Take it easy, Bill. . . . Bill Hoelle is just itching to have me write what a super duper bowler he is, but I'm just ornery enough not to even mention it. . . . JOKE COMING UP: This one is about a traveling salesman. Uh, maybe I had better skip that one and tell the other one I heard. A man was waiting to board a bus. As he stepped up on the step he missed his footing and fell on his face in the bus. The bus driver asked, "Did you fall?" "Heck no," replied the man. "This is the way I always get on the bus." . . . Bill Hale has given two gallons of blood to the Blood Bank so far. I think it is wonderful when a person who is able takes the time and effort to do this worthwhile deed. I noticed from the newspaper accounts that quite a few GE people have done this. Nice going. . . . Here's wishing a speedy recovery to Arland Studebaker's father, who has a touch of pneumonia. . . . Sorry to hear of John Caston's father being injured. Here's wishing him a speedy recovery. . . . Bill Hoelle bought a TV set and was so disgusted with it that he was willing to sell it for a whole buck. . . . Famous last words: Oh! I wish I hadn't eaten that last piece of turkey.

KEEPING SAFETY on the job paid off for Benjamin Miller, Section 13, Taylor St. die caster, last week when his safety glasses saved the sight of his right eye. Some molten aluminum blew up from the pot where he was returning an aluminum disc and struck his glasses. The right lens was practically burned through by the molten metal. Mr. Miller explains what happened to his foreman, Don Arnold, and Mark Gotsch, safety chairman of the section.

Six More Attain 30 Years of Service

ORA L. FARRELL (second from right) talks over his 30th GE year with Joe Turley, James Goins, and Ken Fosnaugh. Mr. Farrell is a drill press operator in Section 13 at Taylor St. He was first employed as a winder in Bldg. 19-2.

RALPH C. RUCH (left), a GE employee at Winter St. plant, receives a 30-year congratulatory letter from Robert L. Scherrer and Harold F. Staley. Mr. Ruch is employed as an operator at Winter St.

Success Symbol

Charles E. Wilson, former General Electric Company president, recently marked his 67th birthday by giving away a diamond stickpin. The pin—symbol of Mr. Wilson's success—was presented to Navy Lieutenant Edward S. Ruete, grand-nephew of the original owner.

The diamond tie pin first entered Mr. Wilson's life 54 years ago when he was hired as a three-dollar-a-week office boy by William T. Ruete, superintendent of Sprague Electric Company, which later became a part of General Electric. Ruete, hero-worshiped by young Wilson, often flashed the diamond pin at the envious young office boy. When queried as to how a similar one could be obtained, Ruete advised Wilson to work hard and make a success of himself.

Twenty-five years later, with Mr. Wilson in the middle of a Horatio Alger climb from office boy to GE President, the dying Ruete presented the pin to his protege. Since that time, the former GE official has cherished the pin, wearing it only on special occasions.

Presenting the pin today, Mr. Wilson advised Ruete, an Annapolis graduate attending Columbia University for a master's degree in business administration, to start thinking about the day when he can in turn present the pin to a future son—a namesake of William T. Ruete.

Mr. Wilson retired from General Electric Company in December, 1950, to serve as defense mobilizer for U. S. President, Harry S. Truman. He is now chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors for W. R. Grace & Company.

CLARA FREDE (seated left) talks over her 30 years of GE memories with Emma Bultemeier (seated right) and Mardo Tobias and Ray Soest (standing). Clara is a finisher in Bldg. 4-3. She was an armature worker in Bldg. 17-4 when she first joined the company.

CLARENCE RUSSELL (center) celebrates his 30th anniversary with Russell Poorman and Clarence Rothgeb. Mr. Russell is a welder in Section 113 at Taylor St.

HARRY W. SLATER (left) is congratulated on his 30th GE anniversary by John Hunnient and Melvin Payne. Mr. Slater was first employed in Bldg. 19-3 as a stacker. He is a welder in Section 417 at Taylor St. at the present time.

HARRY WOODWARD (right) gets 30-year best wishes from (l-r) Elmer Wagner and Frank Elder. Mr. Woodward first worked at GE as an inspector in Bldg. 26-5. He transferred to the DC Motor-Generator Department in 1951 and is a welder in Bldg. 19-2 at present.

Donald L. Beitz

William J. Smith

Two Apprentice School Graduates Announced

Two graduates of the General Electric Apprentice School were announced this week. They are Donald L. Beitz and William J. Smith, both of whom graduated from the machinist-toolmaker course this month.

Mr. Beitz came to the company in July, 1950, after graduation from Elmhurst High School.

He entered the Apprentice School program at that time. He resides at R. R. 5, Bass Rd., Fort Wayne.

A graduate of Central High School, Mr. Smith graduated in 1948 and entered the Fort Wayne plant in August that same year. After serving three years of his apprenticeship, he entered the U. S. Army in 1951. Prior to his discharge in April this year, he served in Korea. Mr. Smith returned to the company that month and resumed his training. Mr. and Mrs. Smith live at 1326 W. Third St.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital, and returned to work:

Mamie Richardson, Esther Snyder, Robert Growcock, Helen Spear, Helen Shuler, Donald Pressler, Erma Angel, Dale Edington, Elah Greek, Dallas Kees, D. Wayne Edwards, Clarence Miller, Forrest Ulrey, Earl Hall, Metido Pena, James Scarbrough, George Miller, Agnes Godfrey, Charles Arnel, Cecil Gordon, Roy Orr, Jr., Connie Lou Koch, Wilbur Gray, Frances Funderburg, Edward Hamilton, Orville Tracey, Ora Marie Fulmer, Fred LeFevre, Mary Rose, Joseph Sorg, Irene Conrad, and Adrian Voirol.

Dismissed From Hospital

James Hyde, Walter Robison, Hilda Mueller, Ray Papenbrock, Vernon Thieme, John Thomas, D. Wayne Edwards, Dallas Kees, Loretta Bloom, Orpha McCreary, Roy Orr, Jr., Connie Lou Koch, and Ora Marie Fulmer.

Returned To Work

Velma LeCoque, Edna Neal, Charles Kelso, Mae Haney, Fred Geisie, Bernadine McCune, Jean M. Nebehay, Shelton Hempstead, Margaret Simmons, Russell Rose, Frances Fry, Doris Lontz, Herman Curry, Marian Harmes, James Scarbrough, Russell Galloway, Fred Stienbarger, Jr., Ely Hardy, Joseph Carrier, Helen Merren, Kenneth Bainbridge, John Lallak, and William Walde.

TOOL BITS BLDG. 19-4 and 5 by Don Clark

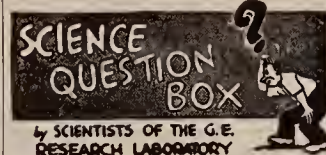

Glenn Ramsey plays his euchre game the way he sees it, regardless of the way Elmer Sauerwein kibitzes. In other words, he wants it quiet around the euchre table. . . . Archie Gwaltney thinks Elmhurst will not only win the Allen County Basketball Championship, but will also beat the city teams. . . . The role of volunteer fireman at Waynedale is never a dull one. In fact, Kenny McCague claims these dry spells are causing him and his men to work overtime fighting fires. . . . Woody Hursh is really going after the rabbits now. His neighbor, Wimpy Miller, gave him an old flea bitten coon dog that has heart trouble, dropsy, and is almost blind. Good luck, Woody, don't shoot the dog. . . . Joe Mettler has burnt out so many TV tubes that he finally pasted a nice calendar picture over the screen so he wouldn't feel so bad. That's what he gets for laughing at Lowell Welker when his set burned up. . . . Bernie Byanski will bet anyone on Notre Dame football games, providing he gets the Irish and 15 points. . . . Bob Benz proved to be a very good helper for the magician at the Apprentice Alumni Banquet. At least most of the tricks were over his head. . . . Buying a tractor is tough these days. A woman outbid Bob Truelove at a sale only to find out that she was broke and couldn't buy it. Bob figures that she bid the price up $200 higher than he would have had to pay if she had only stayed home. . . . Willie Garman isn't sure when he will roll his next 600, but if all the skeptics and 130 average bowlers lay off, he thinks he can roll 600 every other week. . . . Cary Baker must have a giant piggy bank. He goes around buying all the pennies that his buddies have. . . . Paul Weaver will haul most anything in his pick-up truck. The other morning a possum rode in the truck all the way to work. After parking the truck Paul routed him out and he disappeared. . . . We don't know if John Ebert is ahead or behind his neighbors. He's the only one in the vertical mill unit without TV. Jewell Franke doesn't have it yet either, but his neighbor does and Jewell owns several sets of binoculars. His system works quite well since the leaves are off the trees. . . . Jim Lee wanted to find out the combination to a padlock he brought to work, but someone else beat him to it. By lock and chain they secured Jim's lunch so no one else could steal it. Of course, Jim couldn't eat it either, but yet it was safe. . . . Bob Niles doesn't comb his hair any more than he did before. It's just that he can now raise the windows in his convertible. . . . Ray Laster has always claimed that he had a sweet running car. He was right, the gas tank was full of sugar. . . . Walter Greiner has appointed Eric Bluhm, expert overhead door hanger, to supervise the installation of the Emmaus garage doors. Block layers, Gene Denig and Art Dicket, agreed to help although it's out of their department. Kurt Martin also volunteered to help, but Walt declined, saying he's got too many sidewalk engineers already.

TALES from TAYLOR SECTION 113 TAYLOR ST. Harry Parker

Our two expert washmen, that is Preston Hille and George England, have sought and found ways and means to lighten their labors when it comes to doing the family washing. Both of these men do the wash each week after they have had their evening meal. Since the arrival of the new baby at the Hille's, there is always plenty to be washed. At the outset Preston did all of this work by hand, never getting to bed before 1 a.m.; no wonder that he has been late for work several mornings each week. The picture has changed since the installation of an automatic washer. Now George England had a large stock of white T shirts on hand, which he wore to work and working in cast iron they really became soiled. George solved his problem by dyeing them all black, thereby eliminating the necessity of washing them each week. . . . Having recently returned from a highly successful season as a clown with Jingle Bros. and Bunkum circus, Alfred (Red Snapper) Renz has gone commercial. We learn that the hobo clown that has been riding about town chained to the wheel of an automobile, is none other than our own famous Red Snapper. . . . Last Saturday witnessed a big wild boar hunt on the premises of Howard Harold. Those participating in this event were Dick (Grab Bag) Johnson who uses low velocity shells which just tickle the game without injuring same, and Harold Hart, who uses an old 45-70 Springfield army rifle. If the bullet of this gun does not penetrate the hide of an animal, it will surely knock it over stunning it, at the same time enabling Harold to walk up to said animal giving it a rousing kick in the slats which usually finishes it off. Howard, by the way, is giving as an attendance prize to the participant shooting the most game, one fifteen pound goose. He also wishes to announce that he has geese for sale, but we caution you to be sure and take him up on the first price quoted. Do not hesitate because if you should happen to decide a little later that you wanted one and returned in 15 minutes to make the purchase, the price will have advanced as much as 20 cents per pound.

Q. How do the pyramids of Central America compare with those of Egypt?

A. Many pyramids have been found by archaeologists in Mexico, Guatemala and Honduras, but their purpose was different from those of Egypt. The latter were enormous tombs, while the Central American pyramids were flat-topped structures on which temples were erected. None of these are as high as those at Memphis, in Egypt, but the one at Cholula (near Puebla in Mexico)

Apprentice School Staffs Meet Here For Fall Meeting

Representatives of 15 Apprentice School staffs throughout the General Electric Company gathered at the Fort Wayne plant last week to interchange ideas on training offered in the schools and other aspects of school administration.

The occasion was the 1953 Fall Apprentice Supervisors Conference, which was conducted Nov. 17 and 18. In addition to attending sessions held in Bldg. 12-3, the group visited the Taylor St. plant and toured tool room operations in Bldg. 19-4 and 19-5.

A total of 34 representatives attended the two-day meeting. Those representing the Fort Wayne Apprentice School at the sessions are: Walter Wolf, Richard Gebert, Robert Wylie, Jack Hughes, Carl Brandt, Robert Barnes, and Ray Lindemuth.

Within the company, there are 18 Apprentice Schools at 17 plants, with Pittsfield having two schools.

has a larger cubic content than even the Great Pyramid of Cheops. Tourists to Mexico often see the Pyramid of the Sun at Teotihuacan, near Mexico City, but there are many others in that country of almost equal size.

Q. What makes a star fall?

A. Stars do not fall. What are commonly called "falling," or "shooting," stars are meteors, small bits of iron or stone that enter the Earth's atmosphere at high speed from outer space. As they bump into air molecules they are slowed down, and considerable heat is generated. This is generally enough to burn them up in the flash of light which we see, about 50 miles or more above the ground. Most of the millions of meteors that reach the Earth daily are smaller than the head of a pin. Occasionally, however, a larger piece survives the passage through the air and lands on the ground. These are called meteorites.

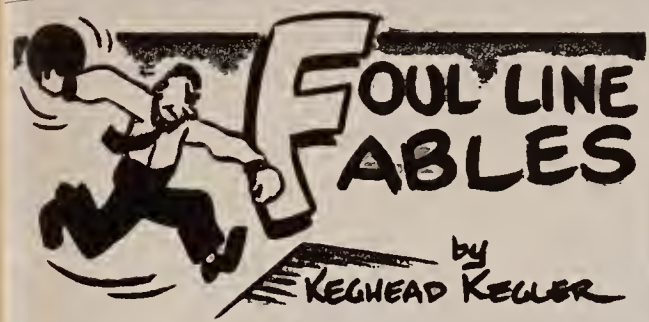

Q. How is air conditioning defined? Does it necessarily involve refrigeration?

A. "Air conditioning" may be defined as the simultaneous control of all, or at least the first three, of the principal factors affecting both the physical and chemical conditions of the atmosphere within any structure. These factors include temperature, humidity, motion, distribution, dust, bacteria, odors and toxic gases, most of which affect human health or comfort to some degree. Thus in the summertime, when temperatures are too high for comfort, cooling of the air and reduction of its moisture content is necessary. This is done with artificial refrigeration, unless a source of cold water, low enough in temperature to accomplish the desired result, is available.

RETIREMENT CELEBRATED—Some of Elwood M. Nuttle's GE friends visited him at his home as he retired from the General Electric Company recently. Ansel Black (center) presents Mr. Nuttle with a retirement gift as Mrs. Nuttle looks on. Mr. Nuttle had been a GE employee since 1926 and was a punch press operator in Bldg. 27 prior to retirement.

GE Owls Tied for Lead in League Race

GE Ladies Friday Night

Team No. 5 is leading the league with 24 wins and 6 losses; team No. 3 is in second place with 19 wins and 11 losses. With 15 wins and 15 losses, team No. 1 is in third place. There is a tie for fourth place between teams No. 7 and No. 2, each having won 14, while losing 16. Liz Shearer kegled the high single game, a 204 score. Charlotte Stanford rolled a 197; Tommy Williams, 190; Deloris Drewett, 180, and B. Mochling, 170. Kathy Crouse kegled a 512 series on games of 172, 193, and 147. Chicken winners were Bonnie Leazier, Arydth Hawley, Kathy Crouse, and Ann Lee.

Small Motor

With 21 games won and 9 lost, R and R is leading the Small Motor Bowling League. Models are in second place with a record of 18 wins and 12 losses. In a tie for third place are Tommy's Lunch and Test, each having won 17½ games, while losing 12½. George Haggenjos, Sr. kegled a 227 score; Kenny Highland, 206; W. Putt, 207; L. Pinkerton, 204; E. LeFavour, 205; R. Tholen, 203; and Walt Whonsetler, 202. Winners of chickens were K. Highland, J. Stoicke, A. Lantz, F. Wheeler, H. Stephens, and E. Bowser.

Transformer

Volts are leading the league with 16 wins and 8 losses. In a tie for second place are M and Autos each having won 13, while losing 11. Watts are in 4th place with 12 wins and 12 losses. Haas kegled a 204 count.

Ladies Tuesday Afternoon

Out in front by one game is Team No. 1, having won 17 games while losing 13. Team No. 6 is in second place with a record of 16 wins and 14 losses, having won 15½ while losing 14½. Team No. 2 is just 1½ games behind the leaders and in third place. Lois Coleman, who has a 141 average, kegled a big 204 count. Billie Tucker rolled a 179; Mary Reynolds, 177, and Nellie Routt, 171.

Office

Reproduction is leading the league with 22½ wins and 10½ losses. Small Motor Development is in second place with 20 wins and 13 losses. In a tie for third place are Pawlisch Shoe Repair and M and G Sales, each having won 18 games and losing 15. Steve Nagy kegled a 217 score. Wendell Miller scored with a pair of double century counts 214 and 206 as did Erv Cirks who hit a 209 and 200. Chicken winners were E. Cirks, W. Miller, F. Bendel, S. Nagy, C. Gnarr and W. Warner.

Interdivision League

In games last Wednesday night in the Interdivision League, Apprentice downed Kinney Concessions 2 games Becker of Apprentice had a 201 game. Pindusters won all 3 games from Harvey Bros.

GE Club Keglers Lead in Tourney With 3181 Score

After the first week-end of play in the GE Club annual Men's Bowling Tournament for employees, the GE Club team is leading with a score of 3181 in the team event.

Other top teams at the half-way mark are Kinney Concessions in second place with 3096 and Buchers, of the Owl League, in third spot with 3090. Joe Haas was leading scorer for the GE Club boys with a 617. This team had a handicap of 423 pins.

Paul Perry was top man on the second place team with 624. Kinney's lads had a 366 handicap. Buchers team, with a 390 pin handicap, had John Stark as the leading scorer with a 585.

Lee Schnepf and Don Alcott lead the field in the doubles event with a 1281 score and a handicap of 240. A close second spot is held by Paul Boedeker and Russell DeVeney with a 1276 and a handicap of 216.

Pat Aberilla and J. Enfinger came in third with a 1254 total and handicap of 339.

Leading thus far in the singles event is Russell DeVeney with a 713 total on a handicap of 156. Robert Younghaus had 679 for second place on a 108 handicap. Harry Dalman was in third with 665 and a 93 handicap.

The schedule for this week-end of tourney play follows:

SCHEDULE

The GE employees Ninth Annual Men's Bowling Tournament, sponsored by the GE Club will continue tomorrow on the Club alleys at 1:30 p.m. The schedule for tourney play is listed below:

*Denotes All-Events.

DOUBLES AND SINGLES

Saturday, Nov. 28, 1:30 p.m.
R. Thomas-A. Crayton*
(J. Geiger-E. Gallmeier) (D.O.)
R. Roe-R. Smith*
M. Workman-G. Goshorn*

TEAM

Saturday, Nov. 28, 3:30 p.m.
Team League Captain
Squads, Masonic A. Hickman
No. 6, Apparatus R. Stute
Main Auto Supply, C. of F. J. Junk
Messenger Corp., Classic J. Hambrook
Komet, Winter St. W. Roach

Saturday, Nov. 28, 6:30 p.m.

Team League Captain
Brouwers Tire & Bat., Inter-Div. G. Lueleman
Apprentice School, Inter-Div. G. Haggenjos
Deadheads, Inter-Div. Schrader
No. 8, Apparatus J. W. Heaton
Central Dairy, Apparatus T. Anderson
Schuelers Appl., Key Major L. Crowell
Denton Drugs, Small Motor A. Flager
Tommy's Lunch, Small Motor W. Miller
Repair & Return, Small Motor W. Kammeyer
B. A. Motor, Spec. FHP L. Truelove
KSP No. 4, Spec. FHP Wiegman
Quills, Hermetics L. Hoffman

DOUBLES AND SINGLES

Saturday, Nov. 28, 8:45 p.m.
P. Perry-V. Rump*
C. Wilt-L. Shroyer*
E. Bowser-W. Miller*

19 wins and 14 losses; GE Office, 18 wins and 15 losses; Hi Spots, 16 and 17. The Spares have won 13, while losing 20. Miller rolled 182; Plasterer, 165, and Myers 183.

by Howard Colby

GE and Indiana Rod and Wire both won their games last Thursday morning to put them into a first place tie in League standing. Each has three wins and no losses.

GE had their hands full with a scrappy Aircraft Gear team, who stayed right with the Club team during the first half, but fell behind in the final half, while GE kept rolling up the score to win the ball game 54 to 32.

In the first period, it was White with two baskets and a free throw; Blodgett, with two baskets, and Anspach hitting one from the field that gave the Club team a 11 to 8 lead.

The second period found Aircraft Gear scoring one more point than they did in the first stanza. GE scored one basket more as Gene Etter hit for two and a charity toss; Tom Gladieux hit two fielders; Blessing and White got one each for half-time lead of 24 to 17.

Aircraft Gear was held to a single basket and just two free throws in the third quarter, while GE scored 14 points, as manager Benny Penkul shifted his line-up with Bob Markey hitting two fielders, Ron Blodgett a basket and two free throws, Dickey and Gladieux a basket each and Bailey a free throw for a three quarter lead of 38 to 21.

In the final eight minutes of play, manager Penkul used the balance of his squad to garner 16 more points as Lowery netted two baskets; Bailey two baskets and a free throw; Anspach and Schible each a fielder; Tisher, two charity tosses, with Pfofman adding one to give the GE Owls their third straight victory by the score of 54 to 32.

Next week's schedule finds Indiana Rod meeting Eckrich at 9 a.m., Aircraft Gear and Salisbury at 10 a.m., while GE meets Zollner at 11 a.m.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W.	L.
General Electric	3	0
Indiana Rod and Wire	3	0
Zollner	1	2
Eckrich	1	2
Aircraft Gear	1	2
Salisbury	0	3

GE		Aircraft-Gear
G.	F. T.	F.	T.
Markey	2 0 4	McKee	1 0 2
Anspach	2 0 4	Foulks	1 2 4
Blodgett	3 2 8	Dick	2 0 4
Wilson	0 1 1	Kaiser	3 0 6
White	3 1 7	Barnes	1 1 3
Etter	2 1 5	Grabner	0 1 1
Pfaffman	0 1 1	Gawthrop	1 0 2
Blessing	1 0 0	Price	3 2 8
Somers	1 0 0	Rupel	0 0 0
Gladieux	3 0 6	Meyers	0 0 0
Fisher	0 2 2	Platt	1 0 2
Dickey	1 0 2
Bailey	2 2 6
Schible	1 0 2
Lowery	2 0 4
Totals	22 10 54	Totals	13 6 32
Officials:	Crosley and Schuster.

GE TV Programs

(Continued from page 1)

light-hearted banter between Bing, his guests, and Ken Carpenter, and, of course, a liberal exercising of the famous Crosby vocal cords.

Jack Carson and Joan Shawlee co-star in the GE Theater comedy presentation entitled, "The Marriage Fix," this Sunday, November 29, from 8 to 8:30 p.m., CST.

Carson plays the role of Joe Bushwick, a truck driver whose longing for travel and adventure deter him from a trip to the altar with his marriage-minded girlfriend, Angie McGonigle (Joan Shawlee).

Joe's sense of values reverses itself, however, after he gets himself into a scrape with the underworld while attempting to make some easy travel money on the races and is saved a terrible fate by fast-thinking Angie. Supporting players include Marvin Kaplan, Richard Reeves, and Elizabeth Patterson.

The GE Theater will present one more half-hour play before Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians return to this Sunday evening time period on December 20 after a four-week nation-wide concert tour.

Joint Dinner

(Continued from page 1)

continuing study of his favorite subject — people. Through this travel and study, he has gained a practical philosophy of life and worldly knowledge of people. His messages have been termed inspiring, humorous, and vitally interesting by individuals and organizations throughout the country.

one had a nice Thanksgiving with a big turkey and lots of trimmings.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

BLDG. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

On vacation and having a good time are: Harry Woodward, Fred Paul, and Hank Beushing. . . We want to congratulate Dorothy Whonsetler and Dwight Myers on the occasion of their birthdays, November 18. . . Happy birthday to Douglas Heckman. He was a year older on November 20. He received many nice cards. A song was sung to him by Frank Kartholl and Fred Buchholz. . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kartholl celebrated their 13th wedding anniversary on November 21, by going to Chicago to see the football game. Frank would rather stay home and watch television. . . We extend our sympathy to Floyd Mutton on the death of his sister. . . We hope every-

COUNT OFF

SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Marguerite Stahl

Louie Kintz is going to Texas for a two-week vacation. We hope he doesn't get lost under one of those ten gallon hats while he is there. . . . Cozette Walper's dog, Duke, might be royalty but he still can't eat out of the good pie dishes. . . . Virginia Buesching's sister and family from New York, and brother and family from St. Louis have been visiting in their home. They had Thanksgiving early this year. . . . Famous last words by Elmer Scherer, "I'll drive." . . . Bill Miller is going to buy a set of binoculars as there are already three TV sets in the neighborhood. . . . Correction: Mason Smith is short eight tubes instead of six after dismantling his TV set. . . . Harold Fletter is going hunting next week but he is playing safe as he has already ordered his turkey for Thanksgiving. . . . Art Kurtz must have made a slip with the razor as he came in Monday sans moustache, but not for long as he already has another sprouted. . . . Happy birthday to Laura Gerber and Linda Wahrer, who celebrate the same day. . . . We are sorry that Sydonna Fox and Wilbur Gray are ill and hope they will soon be back with us. . . . Kenneth Brown says he is going to give his horse an extra ear of corn for Thanksgiving. He was looking through his barn and found a sleigh from long ago. Now he is waiting for a good sledding snow. . . . Catherine Chilcote says not to say one word about her tool shed, so we just won't even mention it. . . . Clarabelle Whiteman has a new secret hand shake. . . . Beverly Numbers and husband are spending the week-end at the Lake at Coldwater, Michigan. . . . Herman Watters is getting really generous. He is taking his wife to the Embassy Friday night. . . . We were happy to have Bill Buck pay us a visit today.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

Jack Geiger is rapidly making his bid for the "BS Award" that is awarded at the end of the year. It seems the last story had to do with "TV Rabbit-ears." . . . Paul Hendricks is after his deer, and we mean he had better produce this time or things will be really rugged for him. . . . Lloyd Clark hopes the story in the cartoon doesn't come true, because he says he isn't a very good climber and he thinks the coon could beat him up a tree. . . . Chick Kortum didn't get as many rabbits but he did get a cat, a big black one, at that! . . . Frank Voirol has been buying Willard Smith cokes all week. Is he looking for another rabbit? . . . Freeman White has TV eyes these days. . . . We wonder if Lorenze Korte is still cleaning chickens for his uncle. It seems his uncle heard something out by the chicken coop so he took his gun and went out. He got up out of bed to do this and didn't have on too many clothes, so taking his gun in hand, he quietly opened the door. Just at that moment something cold touched him on the leg and he fired the gun and killed 21 chickens. . . . Frieda Knoche had a double reason for celebrating. She received a big, beautiful, diamond engagement ring and also celebrated her GE anniversary. . . . Pauline Elick is on her vacation this week and so is Grace Ober. . . . Our sympathy to Maurice Peters in the death of his son. . . . Vera Petro leaves us on the 30th of November. She is going on pension after 34 years here at the GE. She says she is going to travel, visit friends whom she has neglected, and do things she has always wanted to do. Beyond that her plans are quite indefinite. . . . There is turkey on the Johnson table this Thanksgiving, as Ellen was the lucky one to win one. . . . Betty Froebe says that the ground was farther down than she realized when she went down to meet it, skinning her knees and tearing her socks, no broken bones though. . . . I hear the girls in 1x50 are trying to get Ray Soest a job at the new Parkview Memorial hospital, on the medical staff, that is. . . . Bernice Johnson was in Ligonier for Thanksgiving. . . . We enjoyed our visit with Mary Parent, our former co-worker. Her popcorn is good, too. . . . Mary Warren enjoyed Thanksgiving in Pioneer, Ohio, visiting her sister. . . . The latest person to take up art (painting pictures) is Ed Taylor. Suppose we will be saying "Taylor" some day instead of "Rembrandt"? . . . Incidentally, if you are fed up on turkey about now, Ed would like to sell you a really good dressed rabbit. . . . Mary Reub, if your feet hurt you and you need your house slippers at work, better check the packages and make sure you have the slippers and not the garbage. . . . Birthday greetings to Fred Castor on Dec. 7; Wilma Pfierman on Dec. 10; Beulah Wooley, Dec. 12; Joan Lindeman, Dec. 24; Lillie Benz, retired, Dec. 30; and Lois Facks, Dec. 31.

THE BIG WIND

SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Rachel Mounsey

We extend our deepest sympathy to Helen Murray in the recent death of her sister. . . . Congratulations to Roger Beber on his new baby girl, to Eugene Gunkle on a boy and to Vera Overly on her girl. . . . Wally Snyder is so confused at work here lately that he blames it on his wife for nagging him all the time he's home. . . . Millie Snyder attended the Chamber of Commerce dance Saturday night. How do you rate that, Nellie? . . . Garnet Marshall is either getting old or she doesn't have her mind on the right things. The other day she locked her car keys in the car and had to have a locksmith open it for her. . . . Ida Schenk buys Christmas candy early but she sits and eats it at work. What will happen when Christmas gets here, more candy or none? . . . Clara Smith has returned from her trip in Florida. . . . Ed Burely knows now what the speed limit in Auburn is, but it cost him money to find out. . . . Jack Wrieth was in to visit us while home on leave. We were glad to see you, Jack, and come back again. . . . Ida Schrenk surely is soft, when it comes to sharing her Christmas nuts. Gladys Dunbar and Millie Snyder bought some too, but they got Ida to open hers and helped her eat them. . . . Everyone likes to have his picture taken but you ought to have seen the one that "Pinky" Pikham has, the one with the broken heart. He really is proud of that one. He claims it really brings out the best of him. . . . Ralph Begue found out how it feels to have Christmas in November. The boys had a guessing game on the football scares and Ralph hit it right on the nose. . . . The man walking around in group 17x700 in a daze is none other than Jim Merchant from third trick. Welcome to days, Jim.

Nearly 2,000,000 Americans live permanently on wheels, in 9,000 trailer parks.

THIS IS A GOOD FIRM FOUNDATION ON WHICH TO BUILD

You who belong to the GE Insurance Plan, the Pension Plan, the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan, and the Savings Plan have got a good start on a personal security program. Add to these GE Plans your own private life insurance, annuities, and savings. You will then have a good well-rounded program that will help smooth many of the rough spots of life for both you and your family.

Remember, the GE Plans should not be the only provision you are making for the future. They are a good starter for an entire personal security program of your own.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone. Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS Office, Bldg. 19-1.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Night, November 30, 1953

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Wrist watch in Bldg. 19-1 wash room, east end, second shift.

FOUND—Parker 51 automatic pencil.

FOR SALE

FORMALS—Two formals, size 12, one light blue and the other pink satin. Call Churubusco 5785.

SNOW SUIT—3-piece boys, size 2-3, tan. Like new. K-1991.

CAR—1948 Pontiac, tudor, hydromatic, excellent condition. See it; make me an offer. H-59581.

STUDIO COUCH—Nice for cottage or home. Reasonable. A-99922.

FILM HOLDERS—Almost new 4x5 Alkon cut film holders. $3. E-60131.

MATCHED CHESTS—2 matched 4-drawer chests, dark finish, both for $25. A-94481.

OIL BURNER—Oil conversion burner with controls and copper oil line. H-77465.

DRAIN SINK—Left hand drain sink, 43 inches long. $10. 3408 Addition. E-65934.

LIVING ROOM SUITE—Rose living room suite, $25, or will trade for baby bed. Almost new blond sewing machine, $10. Electric brooder, 300 chick size, $20. Complete collection of Lincoln head pennies, highest offer. 805 William St., Huntington. 1092-R.

BREAKFAST SET—Chrome breakfast set. Table and four chairs. Reasonable. A-7164.

LAMB—1 male April lamb, Hampshire. 1 Singer drop head sewing machine. E-60184.

RIFLE—Winchester model 75 tacket rifle. In good condition. Reasonable. A-56013.

ROLLER SKATES—Chicago roller skates and case, girl's, size 6. Practically new. Cost $26. Sell $12.50. Monday through Thursday. A-97543.

FREEZER—Save $125.00 on your Amanna Freezer, used 7 months. Originally $499.60. Pay $374.50 cash or $28 cash and finance. A-59615.

DOLL HOUSE—Child's doll play house with glass windows, electric lights in every room, front porch, two large doors, all furnished in plastic furniture, rugs, curtains. Real buy at $12. A-59323.

APARTMENT WASHER—Monitor apartment washer. Good Housekeeping sweeper, both in good condition; twin laundry tubs, never used. A-79362.

GAS HEATER—Two-room gas heater, $6. Bedstead and good double coil springs, $10. Bathette, $2.50. Slip-covered club chair, $5. A-26841.

BED—Walnut bed, Wolf's hygiene mattress, Simmons springs, all for $25. Twin tubs also. E-37358.

CAR—1953 Plymouth, deluxe Fordor, all extras, including radio, heater, one-half inch white sidewalls. Only 4000 miles. K-2643.

TRICYCLE—Collapsible baby buggy. Baby scales. H-9479.

COAT SET—1 girl's 3-piece coat set, size 3, red velvet, white fur trim, dry cleaned, $10. Men's sport coat, size 37, light tan, very good condition, $10. Schick razor double head, slightly used, $10. A-26603.

WASHING MACHINE—Horton, conventional model, with Kleenette attachment; excellent condition, $30. H-48901.

WASHER—Apex automatic washer and Horton electric dryer, excellent shape. H-27444.

CAR—1941 Olds, Fordor torpedo sedan; good tires, radio and heater, a good runabout for the money. $65 takes it. H-74471.

BABY BUCCY—$5. Teeter babe, $3. Gibson refrigerator, $76. E-79188.

TWIN SINKS—Kitchen cabinet worktop and twin compartment sink, 20x32 inches, with mixing faucets. Good condition and reasonable. H-77421.

TYPEWRITER—One Smith Corona portable typewriter. Practically new. Between 5 and 8 p.m. E-5189.

LAMP TABLES—2 mahogany Dunbar Phyre lamp tables with glass tops. H-77041.

SINK—Double compartment sink with fixtures, 20 inch x 32 inch (without ledge). $10. H-68884.

SHOTGUN—410 gauge, 6 shot, bolt action; $20. Five room bungalow. Full basement, garage, 2 bedrooms, lot 39 1/2 x 140. Sell or trade for 8 or 4 bedroom home. 750 x 16 tire and tube, like new; $16. '49 Buick Super 4-door Dynaflow, $576. H-46214.

CAR—1951 Pontiac station wagon; good condition. $1250.00. E-6149.

STUDIO COUCH—1 bed type. H-2578.

CAR 1951 Belvedere Plymouth, 25,000 miles, radio, heater, and directional lights. Good condition. Priced to sell. Can be seen at 3624 S. Monroe St. H-64164.

BABY THINGS—Airplane that 2 to 4 yr. old can ride, like new; $20. Buggy with good pad, used little; $10. Baby scales; $3. E-87654.

CANARIES—Birds for sale, reasonable. H-8792.

DINING TABLE—One genuine mahogany drop leaf dining table. Also Sears Roebuck coal furnace thermostat. K-5691.

GE RADIO-PHONOGRAPH AM-FM, console, mahogany finish. Excellent condition. 1123 Pemberton.

TWO-BEDROOM HOME—With furnishings, including 21-inch TV set, refrigerator, bottle gas stove, and 2 new studio couches, $7,500. Walter Esterline, 3117W. Columbia City, Ind.

COTTAGE—Lake James, all modern cottage with screened-in front porch. Good steel boat and nearly new motor. $4,500. H-28225.

NEW ELECTRIC ROASTER—Nesco, 18-qt. deluxe electric roaster-oven, automatic thermostat control. Never used. H-69194.

APARTMENT WASHER—Reasonable. Also size 8 formal, worn once; shrimp colored velvet and net. K-4640.

IRONING BOARD—Metal top ironing board, new. Utility cabinets and base. Reasonable. 811 West Williams.

CAR—'49 Ford Sedan, good paint, tires, radio, and heater. A-60564.

GIRL'S SNOW SUIT—3-piece red snow suit; size 2. Like new; $5. H-24225.

BIRD CAGE AND STAND—Like new; $10. Lady's or girl's dress coat, size Junior 11, fur trim. Like new; $15. Between 5 and 7 p.m. E-6105.

GAS STOVE—White table top gas stove. Good condition. A-68274.

RADIO-PHONOGRAPH—Tretone console combination. A-75053.

ANDIRONS—Fireplace andirons, never used, solid brass. Cost $38.50 new, make offer. H-15140.

GREEN SOFA—Hide-a-bed sofa, green brandywine. Like new. H-92723.

TRUCK—1947 Dodge, one-half ton panel. Only 35,000 miles. Very good condition. $450. After 7 p.m. H-16871.

GIRL'S COATS—Red 3-piece set, size 3, two of them. Carl Mann, 2 ml. east, State Rd. No. 1 on 224, then south one-fourth mile. Tel. Tocsin.

FORMAL—Two formals, size 9 and 12. Very nice. H-26185.

LIONEL TRAIN—Diesel freight train #27, extra track, 2 transformers, switches, barrel loader, operating cattle car. Like new; $65. H-78191.

GIRL'S BICYCLE—$5. After 5 p.m. A-70931.

ELECTRIC TRAIN—New transformer. 1 lady's dark red zip-lining coat, 1 pr. black velvet boots with fur tops. K-1577.

PENCE—36 feet chain link, six feet high. Two gates. Also, large size dog house, well insulated. $30 takes all. H-16935.

SWING SET—Hair clippers, electric. One-third hp. capacitor motor; coal heating stove; small apartment gas stove; breakfast table; true tire gauge; some miscellaneous garage equipment; apron sink with faucets. A-40148.

ORANGES—Tree ripened Florida navel oranges. Shipped direct from grove. 10 per lb. at $2.50 bushel, plus express charges. Roscoe L. Beadle, RFD 13, Fort Wayne.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE WANTED—From Moccil Drive off Sandpoint Road to Broadway, 7 a.m. to 3:25. Lois Coleman. H-39389.

RIDE WANTED—From 5410 South Hanna St., to Broadway, second trick. H-70443.

RIDE WANTED—From 4619 South Hanna St. to Broadway, 8:30 to 11:48 p.m. K-2213.

RIDE WANTED—Evening only, 3:30 from Winter St. to Tri-Lakes, Martha Essex, Ext. 250 (Winter St.).

RIDE WANTED—1st shift, from Harlan, Ind., to Winter St. GE. Ext. 235. Ann Amstutz.

RIDE WANTED—From junction of Winchester Road and Muldoon Road to Broadway plant. Second trick. Walter Duane. Ext. 2581 or H-59732.

RIDERS WANTED—From seven miles west of Waynedale on Lower Huntington Road to either Taylor St. or Broadway plant. 3:30 to 11:48 p.m. Noah Smith. Ext. 495.

RIDERS WANTED—From North Webster, Pierceton, or Columbia City to Broadway, 8 a.m. to 4:36 p.m. Don Buennagel. Ext. 2160.

RIDE WANTED—From State Road 3, Waynedale to Winter St. 7 a.m. to 3:25 p.m. Mrs. Anna Bisher, 7318 Baer Road. H-15556.

WANTED

TABLE SET—Child's chair and table set, also boy's overcoat, size 16. E-72423.

CHILD'S TRACTOR—Chain driven, one that might need minor repair. A-16593.

SEWING MACHINE—Singer treadle drop head type (round bobbin). H-01833.

CANOE—18 ft. in good condition. Reasonably priced. H-69154.

MUSICIAN—Trombone and saxophone player. Evenings. H-02875.

PLUMBING JOBS—Reasonable rates. 75202.

IRONING—K-1677.

DESK—Chest of drawers and telephone table. Call after Monday. H-55903.

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS—Three and two rooms. Lower, private entrances, hardwood floors, heat, utilities furnished. See from 5:30 to 8 p.m. 2811 S. Barr.

ROOM—Gas heat, telephone, may fix light lunch in room. 2117 Reidmiller, near GE. H. B. Conches.

APARTMENT—Four rooms and bath, furnished upstairs apartment, private entrance, garage available. A-89073.

APARTMENT—Three-room unfurnished apartment, heat and water furnished. Close to Broadway plant. H-57213.

APARTMENT—3-room modern apartment, furnished. 604 E. Suttentfield. H-79572.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL CARE for children at night. Apt. 3, 1230 Wells Street.

BABIES—Cared for in pleasant home, licensed, 6-18 months preferred. Close to Pontiac bus. H-0778.

ROOM AND BOARD to young gentleman of good character. Office hours preferred. Laundry and home privileges. 1006 Nuttman. H-60115.

THANK YOU

I WISH to thank my fellow workers for all of the nice cards I received while in the hospital.—Vesta Risser.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

The day after Thanksgiving and the question is, "Did you trim the bird or did the bird trim you?" ... Our "We Wish You Happiness" mat is out for William Pilkinton and Barbara Longbrake who said, "I do," on November 15. ... Congratulations on the blue-bootied tax deduction at the Carl and Shirley Click home. The mama is a former co-worker. ... We light another candle on the cake and wish a happy birthday to Eileen Johnson, Ivah Grandstaff, Ella Arn, Lena Schaper and Faye Kittredge. ... Edith Beaty spent the week-end in Columbus, Ohio. She got in a little exercise by skipping down the walk with her granddaughter. ... Erma Hiatt had a dyeing week-end. She dyed her curtains, her skirt, and her hair. ... Gertie Wheat and Gertie Maske are enjoying a vacation this week. ... Dorothy Johnson went to Ann Arbor for the Michigan-Ohio State game. ... Charlie Rice was going to attend the chili supper at South Side High, but they were all sold out by the time he got there. He had to go back home and eat chicken. ... We think that Ida Mae Ernst would be able to travel a little faster in her car if she wouldn't try to drive with the emergency brake on. ... Velma Seibt has been nursing a sprained ankle. ... Marie Schreiner received an early Christmas present last week, a new living room rug. ... Clementine Dykes is improving. How about sending her a "cheer up" card?

2-2 TALES

Belle Buchan

You never know what is in a child's mind, but one thing is certain, Ricky Philo is making sure that his mother, Virginia, has a home. Ricky came home with a fully constructed bird's nest in his lunch kit. ... We are all so sorry to hear of the serious illness of Clara Nelson's husband, who is in the St. Joseph's hospital. ... Vern Castle was a bit puzzled about the good bowling score that John Drinks had piled up, until he saw John using two bowling balls at once. What a racket. ... Bob Esterline is back on the job after a painful illness. ... Hurrah! We are in the baby business. To start with we have Helen Papiez with a new baby boy. James Smetana also has a new son. Just to be different, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cheevers have another little girl. Congratulations to all of the new parents. ... It is welcome back to Laurel Weaver Winans, who is coming back after being in Florida for some time. ... Just a word of good cheer to Loyal Liddy who is in a hospital in Kentucky following an auto accident. We are all pulling for you, Loyal, and hoping that you will be able to come home soon. ... Don't forget the square dance at the Club on the 28th.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

Did you see the excellent picture of Walter Buesking in the Journal-Gazette? Walter has been elected president of the General Electric Apprentice Alumni Association. Congratulations! ... Someone should tell Walter Scherschel that it is too cold to go swimming. While running his traps Walter became so excited that he fell in the river. ... Know anyone who needs a carpenter's helper or an expert painter? Marianne Royse claims that she can hit a nail on the head nearly every time and paint the broad side of a barn after helping her husband build a garage. ... Fred McKinney wants to know where they get the "sitting" part of baby-sitting. With three sons he is ready to testify that it is a misnomer. ... We believe in informality in dress, but think the sign placed by painters on the 3rd floor coat rack is carrying things a bit too far. Departing workers were startled by a sign reading: "Painting Tomorrow. No Clothes, Please."

Aubrey Coldbrook Ingraham, 11, rides hobby horses in his spare time. He is very enthusiastic about the new electric models, such as those at Murphy's, and thinks they are a great improvement over the old-fashioned models with wooden rockers. Is that what they teach you in Vermont? ... We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Carter, wife of our guard, has broken her arm—and just at the time when they are so busy with plans for the coming wedding of their daughter. ... Congratulations to the Everett Lanes on the birth of a 10-pound boy, Steven Everett. This is the first boy for the Lanes, who have two daughters.

Some people complain about slow service from the Transit Company, but Johnny Quaintance believes it gets folks to work much too early. He arrived at 6:00 A-yem the other morning. He said he didn't mind having to take a bus to work, but it was the getting up at 4:00 to do so, that would remind him to carry the correct keys to his car. On Friday the 13th, Johnny parked his car at the bowling alley and couldn't find the ignition key when he was ready to leave. ... David Jones has a change from the, "I ran into a door", theme to explain his black eye. He says he was moving a mattress and his hand slipped, blackening his eye. ... We have heard of people being tied to the apron strings of others, but this is the first time we've heard of chairs so attached. Bob Kerr says it is because others were jealous of his new white apron.

Dick Fahling is the modern William Tell of Winter Street. He scorns the recent invention of firearms and sticks to the bow and arrow. He has an archery range in his back yard but has had no luck thus far in persuading his wife to place an apple on her head. ... Al Mounce is looking for a vacant desk. He can't get his feet under his own, or see over the top of it if he could. Wouldn't it be easier to clean it off, Al? ... We would like to extend our sympathy to Wheeler Porsch on the recent death of his father. ... Tony Tyler doesn't mind that women get to leave for lunch five minutes earlier than the stronger sex. He has found that he can start his lunch by the time they do, by eating his sandwiches on the way to and from the time clock. ... Welcome To: Bob Seitz, who has returned to Inspection, Colleen Williams, a newcomer to the Production Section, Marcus Waterman, an addition to Procedures.

Ray Dumford says he doesn't want a turkey for Thanksgiving—he wants TV. After scouting Fort Wayne and Waynedale stores, he is thinking of dumping the whole idea in the lap of Santa Claus. ... Ellis Bleke is spending his vacation visiting with his son who is in the Army in Texas. ... Ever notice the way women gather around to inspect new clothing or baby pictures? In the Tool Room, men gather in the same admiring manner to inspect a new tool box. The owner of the latest model is Carl Hofacker. ... Joe Rowan is a gourmet of some renown. He believes the proper way to appreciate mayonnaise is to spread it on his potatoes and meat. To doubting onlookers he says it is "white gravy".

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

"Don't check my references. I want to get this job on my own"

Hands that toiled—stopped to pray

Three hundred and thirty two Thanksgivings ago
the colonists who had suffered through their first winter in America were humbly grateful for a good harvest.
They knew that they could set aside enough to face the next winter with some security.

Hands that had labored to clear and cultivate the land, harvest the crops and to build strong homes were clasped together in prayer.
It was a prayer of thanks to God for blessing their work with a bounty that would insure their survival.

Today, we continue that sacred tradition—but we give thanks for far more than bare survival.

For our freedom has flourished in a world half blighted with slavery.
And our free work is blessed with the world's richest rewards.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

Idea Earns $925 for Transformer Employee

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

CHRISTMAS
BULLETIN
Page 3

Volume 36

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1953

No. 47

Hermetic to Build New Plant in Michigan

MIGHTY PROUD OF POP—The family of Russell W. James register surprise at the size of the suggestion check for $925 which he brought home to them last week. Mr. James received the highest award for an idea ever paid in the Specialty Transformer Department. Left to right are Phyllis Jane, Russell, Jr., Linda Sue, and Mrs. James.

Specialty Transformer Pays $925 Suggestion Award to Russell James

A $925 suggestion award, the largest ever paid in the Specialty Transformer Department, was presented to Russell W. James this week. Mr. James received his suggestion check at a special presentation ceremony from W. L. Heniser, his foreman in the permafil section, Bldg. 26-4. C. H. Rinne, general manager of the department, also was on hand to extend his personal congratulations.

A leading operator, Mr. James had received $100 as a token payment on the suggestion last April, until the full amount of the savings could be determined.

His labor-saving idea was for an improved method of dipping permafil transformers in the varnish treatment. Under the old system, the mounting clamps were masked with tape before being dipped in varnish since customers do not want varnish on the mounting feet.

Mr. James devised a way of suspending the transformers on hooks so that the operators can control the depth of the dip. The elimination of the masking operation resulted in extensive labor savings.

"This is a wonderful time of the year to earn an award like this," Mr. James said. "I don't know when we could put it to better use."

He said that they plan to invest a large part of the award in their new home they are building at Goose Lake. He added, however, that undoubtedly a part of it would find its way into Christmas stockings. The James, who live at 733 Third St., have three children.

Mr. James has been a General Electric employee since 1942. Since that time he has had several suggestions adopted, but none has ever paid him more than $50 as an award.

Employee to Donate Blood on TV Tonight

A GE employee, Robert G. Rescorla, will take part in a special program blood donor recruiting program over WKJG-TV tonight from 8 to 8:30 p.m.

A World War II veteran, Mr. Rescorla will donate a pint of blood in a special set-up at the television studio. The entire blood donating process will be shown in an effort to recruit the 2,000 new donors needed to make the Red Cross Blood Program a success in the city.

Department Headquarters To Move to Holland, Mich.

Plans to build a modern electric motor plant in Holland, Michigan were announced today by H. A. MacKinnon, General Electric Company vice president and general manager of the Component Products Division. The plant will be part of the Hermetic Motor Department and will make motor parts for the refrigeration and air conditioning industry, Mr. MacKinnon said.

In addition to the manufacturing activity, the Holland plant will also become Hermetic Motor Department headquarters, which are presently located in Fort Wayne. Other manufacturing operations for the department are located here and in Tiffin, Ohio.

Ab Martin, Hermetic general manager, stated that expansion of the Hermetic Motor manufacturing capacity at this time is necessary in order to continue to serve the rapidly growing air conditioning industry in this country. The demand for these motors will require the output of all three manufacturing locations, Mr. Martin said.

A tentative location for the multi-million dollar plant has been selected east of the city. The proposed plant will be of single story construction and will use the most modern motor manufacturing equipment and methods, Mr. Martin stated.

A large proportion of the manufacturing area will be air conditioned in order to meet the rigid requirements of cleanliness. It is expected that the General Electric plant will employ more than 400 people when it is under full operation. Most of these will be recruited in Holland and a large percentage will be women, Mr. Martin said.

Present plans call for breaking ground early in the spring of 1954 and it is anticipated that about one year will be required to complete the building.

The Hermetic Motor Department derives its name from the fact that the motor parts which it produces become hermetically sealed in refrigerator or air conditioning units.

Five GE Foremen Earn C of C Safety Ace Awards

In recognition of their distinguished safety work, five GE foremen received Safety Ace Awards yesterday at the 13th annual Foremen's Safety Institute at the Chamber of Commerce.

The five men, who represent the five operating departments here are: Edwin F. Glusenkamp, Specialty Component Motor Department; William H. Hanke, Direct Current Motor and Generator Department; Farold E. Schuman, Specialty Transformer Department; Harold E. Hart, General Purpose Component Motor Department; and Fred C. Fenner, Hermetic Motor Department.

Sponsored by the Industrial Safety Committee of the C of C safety council, the Institute honored outstanding safety foremen from civic industries at a dinner meeting.

GE's five representatives at the dinner along with 20 others received certificates recognizing their work and that of employees under their supervision. George F.

Hacker, general chairman of the C of C safety council, presented the awards.

Dr. J. L. Rosenstein, noted American psychologist, was the principal speaker. His topic was "Human Engineering and Safety."

Mr. Glusenkamp, Bldg. 4-2, has completed 27 years and six months as a foreman without a lost-time accident in any of the sections he supervised. Currently, his group is helping to amass a record which totaled 1,147,066 accident-free man hours as of Nov. 25. He has kept his employees safety conscious through training programs.

Foreman of the assembly, balance, and paint sections in M and

(Continued on page 4)

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden Editor
Barbara W. Hyman Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:
Bldg. 18-1—Tel. A-2441, Ext. 441

Volume 36 Friday, December 4, 1953 No. 47

Beware the Dog!

When a barking dog races at the wheels of your car do you swerve, speed up or slow down? When an animal dashes in front of your car from the side of the road, how do you handle the emergency?

During the past year, 3,400 people were injured in accidents caused by animals in the road, 110 people were killed and insurance companies report property damage as a result of these accidents as amounting to many thousands of dollars.

People of normal good driver judgment often become rattled when confronted by an emergency involving an animal. The unexpected sight of a dog in the road inspires unreasoning fear in some, a rush of sympathy in others, and irritation or anger in many. However, these emotional factors must not influence your ability to act quickly and safely in such a situation.

The minute you see an approaching animal, estimate your chances of being able to avoid hitting him by a sudden stop or swerve. If there is a reasonable margin of distance between your car and the animal, take into consideration the following things:

1. How close is the car behind you?
2. Is there any oncoming traffic which might be imperiled by your action?
3. Can you warn the passengers in your own car in time to prepare them for a sudden stop?

If you are completely satisfied on these counts, you are then justified in trying to avoid hitting the animal.

If the dog races at your wheels, do not speed up, slow down, or change direction. Remain traveling at the rate of speed which is safe and consistent. In this case, the animal must be ignored entirely. In ALL cases involving an animal in the road, consideration for, or resentment of the animal must not be a factor to be considered until the safety of human drivers and passengers is accounted for.

If your own pet is involved, the Institute has little sympathy for you. Their best advice is to fence him in. If he is a car chaser, he is endangering human lives just as surely as if he had rabies.

—O—O—O

Minutes for Profit

Recently a utilities company figured out what happened to an eight-hour working day—from the standpoint of how long it took to earn enough money to pay its bills.

The biggest slice out of each working day went to pay wages and salaries. It took from 8 a.m. to 10:53 a.m. to take care of the employee payroll. Earning the money to buy materials and services took a long while, too—from 10:53 a.m. to 2:35 p.m., with time out for lunch. To pay for coal, purchased to resell to others, it required one hour and 18 minutes; from 2:35 to 3:53 p.m.

Meeting the company's tax bills was a considerable item, taking from 3:53 to 4:19—26 minutes. Paying for wear and tear on equipment and paying interest on money the company borrowed to make improvements took another 23 minutes. It wasn't until 4:42 p.m. that the company had earned enough to pay all its bills.

That meant that only 18 minutes of the day were left in which to make a profit. With such a slim margin, it's obvious that the company has to cut all waste and operate at top efficiency in order to keep going.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Eva Hoover, Lester Green, Lucy Alexander, Barbara Toles, Marianne Miles, Luella Knocke, Walter Robison, Marvin Wicks, Mary E. Warren, Robert Mobberly, Johnie Foster, Russell DeSpain, Roy M. Brower, Fred Ream, Anna Gibson, Luther Wallace, Marilyn Waller, Maurice Cook, John Spenik, Cecil Gordon, Walter Kammeyer, Eleanor McCann, Victoria Walzer, Wade Moore, Alda Rybolt, Donna Meyer, Vernon Thieme, Walter Biler, Carol Chalmers, Welma Charlton, Jr., and Betty Harkenrider.

Dismissed From Hospital

Ralph Howley, Beverly Lothamer, John Pearsall, Eva Hoover, Robert Mobberly, and Donna Meyer.

Returned To Work

Barbara Longbrake, Ruth Kibiger, John Pearsall, Harriet Haynes, Mary Murphy, Fred LeFevre, Edward Hamilton, Gay Huey, Charles Sherland, Mae Lebold, Frances Funderburg, Bernard Chapman, Mary Ensley, Mary Jo Gettinger, Gerald Mowery, Joseph Ostrowski, and Lawrence Woodward.

TALES from TAYLOR SECTION 113 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

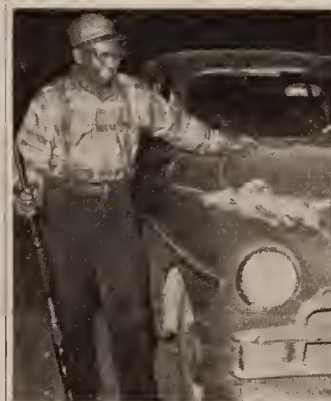

Being a TV enthusiast of a very high order, Evan Morris has an arrangement in his home, the likes of which we have never seen before. He has mirrors so cleverly arranged that one can see the picture coming in on his set from most any point in the house. He also has installed a high intensity arc lamp which melts the snow as it comes out of the set. Then there is a fan arrangement which blows the moisture of the melted snow throughout the house keeping the place thoroughly humidified. . . . Being hungry for venison and hearing that deer were plentiful in Canada, Clarence Schroeder decided to visit the domain of our northern neighbors and try his luck. Entering the province of Quebec at Montreal, he scoured the entire area. Not a deer did he sight. Not being discouraged, he tramped on westward, finally entering the province of Ontario. On he went and in due time arrived at Toronto. Not one deer put in his appearance during his long walk between these two cities. At this point being thoroughly disgusted, he gave up as the soles of his shoes were worn through and his clothing thoroughly soaked. . . . Someone was telling us a story about our strawberry blonde, Bill Eastes, who operates a small grocery in Waynedale. It seems that he is never able to change more than a quarter at a time. Then if a customer tenders him a dollar bill for purchases made he becomes frantic, running all over the neighborhood in an effort to round up some small change. . . . Recently Mark Gotsch became aware of the fact that a hand stapler can bite, in making some adjustments on one of them. In trying it out to see if it would work properly, he had the painful experience of stapling his thumb. Perhaps we had better suggest to him at this time to install safety guards on all staplers.

TRANSFORMER TATTLES

BLDG. 26-4

Dutch Norwalt

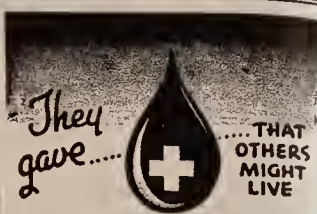

Famous last words by Dick Goller: "Don't gang up around the milk and Coke machines, boys!" The truth finally came out, Dick wants the milk machine removed, so he can continue his former profitable practice of bringing milk to P. Peterson. . . . Some of the finer things in life can be seen through telescopes, especially small ones on foggy mornings. For further information see Edna DeLeury. . . . Al Topp and Paul Peterson are going steady again. Al is making a TV antenna for Paul. . . . Mildred Fast won the basketball pool for the third consecutive time. Other members of the pool are considering paying her a salary to drop out. . . . Tom Freeman finally threw in the sponge. He now has Richard Goller riding down with him on the elevator for protection. . . . Boy friends of Edna DeLeury should refrain from any more calls during working hours. During a recent call Edna became so excited she fell off her chair, banging her elbow on the floor, her bowling arm, too. "Don't get so excited next time, Edna."

Babbs Always Gets His BUCK

Norwalt, Inc. now has the best UHF antenna in the business. Get in line to place your order now, boys. . . . Anyone wishing expert advice and information on rabbit hunting see Walt Manke. Walt bagged 58 the first day. . . . Congratulations to Helen and Ernie on their recent marriage, Nov. 28.

More accidental deaths occur in December than any other month. . . . A mighty good reason for being extra careful this time of year.

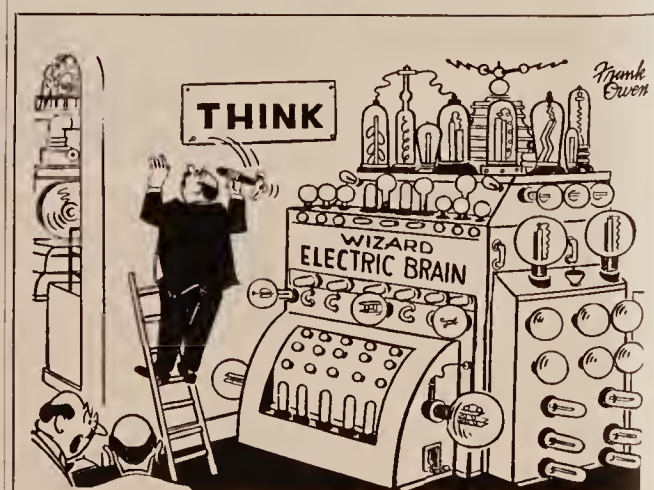

The following people donated blood during the week ending November 20:

Donald Ray Kesler, Ralph G. Lindeman, Harry E. Rhodes, Lawrence Voirol, Paul E. Anspach, Willis K. Dillman, Ross M. Domer, William D. Dunmire, Clarence W. Hale, Claude Holmes, Sylvia M. Lazoff, Agnes L. Ryan, Louis Sauer, Bill Seyboldt, Wallace E. Snyder, Carl Sorensen, and Paul Boyer. Paul Boyer has donated one gallon of blood.

APPRENTICE BROADCAST

by James Schwartz

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ralstin who became the proud parents of a baby girl, Carolyn Sue. . . . Congratulations are also in order for Don Beitz and Bill Smith who have successfully completed their apprentice training and were graduated as machinist-toolmakers and to Tom Ahr and Karl Hofacker who will graduate as machinist-toolmakers today. . . . We have received a report of undue disturbance in the class rooms. It seems Lawrence Shinaberry fell off his chair one day last week and woke up the rest of the class. This has to cease. . . . Bob Hill is the proud owner of a brand new Ford, and is willing to challenge all comers. . . . Myron Auer reports a very unsuccessful hunting trip. Not only did he come home with no game but he also lost his shotgun. . . . Personnel working in the lathe section are taking up a collection to purchase Harry Eckenbarger a hearing aid. . . . We hear that our little friend, Dewey Fields, has an awful time sticking to the rule that "the customer is always right," especially oil customers. . . . We wish to extend a hearty welcome to Larry and Jerry Jones, Bill Scheimann, Dick Poe and Bob Daflorn. These boys returned from the drafting rooms and are now working in the various sections of the school as machinist-tool maker apprentices. We also want to welcome Ed Hagadorn and Jim Henry. These boys are in the drafting course.

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

"After all the money the company spent for that electric brain, you'd think Parker would trust it a bit more!"

VIEWING THE NEW enclosed clamped core ballast and other products of the Ballast Department are representatives of the Moe Light Division, Thomas Industries, Inc., who visited with Ballast men last week. Left to right are: Robert H. Mathews, GE sales engineer, Milwaukee; Glen Jones, buyer for Moe Light Division; E. M. Nesvig, GE Chicago district Ballast specialist; John H. Summerville, director of purchases for Moe Light Division, Edmund C. Schorr, manager of marketing, Ballast, and Arthur E. Rowe, manager of sales, Ballast.

BULLETIN

Subject: CHRISTMAS DAY 1953—NEW YEAR'S DAY 1954

All departments and sections of the Broadway, Taylor St., and Winter St. Plants, including leased warehouses, in general, plan to close on Friday, December 25, in observance of Christmas Day, and on Friday, January 1, in observance of New Year's Day.

Day Before Christmas—Thursday, December 24

The following special working schedules will be in effect on the day before Christmas:

Hourly Rated

FIRST and SECOND shifts will work the first five hours of their regular schedule straight through without any lunch period.

THIRD shift will be scheduled in accordance with departmental requirements.

Operators on continuous equipment such as ovens, furnaces, etc., where required, will work their regular full time schedules.

Salary (Factory)

FIRST and SECOND shifts. All factory salaried employees on manufacturing floors will work the first five hours of their regular schedule straight through without any lunch period. Foremen will overlap their schedule enough to provide continuous supervision on the two shifts.

THIRD shift will be scheduled the same as hourly rated.

Offices

Will work the first five hours of their regular schedule straight through without any lunch period.

CAFETERIAS

Broadway

Regular breakfast schedules will be observed. No other meals will be served.

Taylor St.

No meals will be served.

OTHER SERVICES

In general, Power House, Plant Protection and other continuous services will work regular schedules. Special schedules for the dispensary and like services will be arranged to provide the required services to the closing time of the second shift.

DAY BEFORE NEW YEAR'S DAY, THURSDAY, DEC. 31

Salary (Office and Factory)

Will work their regular schedules.

Hourly Rated

In general, the hourly rated employees will work their regular schedules.

L. C. Swager

Manager
Employee and Plant Community Relations

Firemen to Hear Tennyson Guyer At Annual Dinner

Dr. Tennyson Guyer will be the principal speaker at the GE Volunteer Firemen's Association annual banquet Tuesday, Dec. 15. The annual event will take place in Bldg. 16-2 north dining room beginning at 6 p.m.

A total of 13 ten-year service pins will be awarded at the banquet to volunteer firemen who completed their tenth year of service in 1953.

Invitations were sent to the 185 members of the organization, 20 retired members, and guests this week, Ernie Hanauer, GE fire chief, reported. Reservations should be made by Wednesday, Dec. 9.

Dr. Guyer is known as "Ohio's Ambassador of Good Will." His speeches are built around fun, faith, and philosophy. In addition to speaking before organizations throughout the country, Dr. Guyer has a weekly radio program in Findlay, Ohio, and is executive assistant and public relations man for the Cooper Tire and Rubber Company. In previous years, he has been a youth supervisor, bell hop, caddie, circus performer, school teacher, city mayor, and church administrator.

Among reviews he has received is the comment by J. Edgar Hoover, who reviewed Dr. Guyer's speaking as "doing a splendid job for America." The Chicago Tribune has said of him he is "gripping, inspirational, humor-spiced, and common sense."

Never use a tool with a mushroomed head. Flying bits from mushroomed heads have put out many an eye.

Decatur Plant GE Club Plans Christmas Party For Children Dec. 12

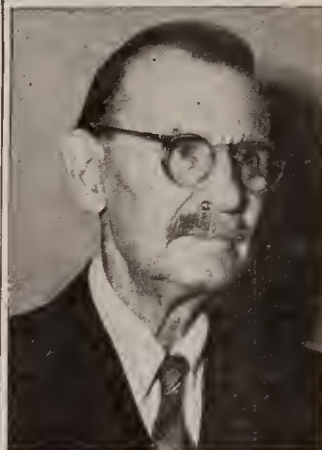

The annual Christmas party for Decatur plant employees' children is slated for Saturday, Dec. 12, at the Adams theater. Oran Schultz, entertainment chairman of the Decatur GE Club, announced that a special hour program of cartoons will be shown and Santa Claus will be present for the party with a bag filled with treats for all the small fry.

The show is scheduled to get under way at 10 a.m. and will be concluded at 11 a.m. The holiday party is designed especially for the children, brothers and sisters, 12 years of age or less, of Decatur GE employees.

Tickets will be available free of charge from plant foremen beginning today. Employees laid off for lack of work may obtain tickets for their guests at the personnel office or the GE Club room.

Because of limited space in the theater, parents are asked to accompany only the very small children, the chairman stated. He added that ample supervision will be provided by the club during the performance.

Complete details of the annual event are posted on all bulletin boards throughout the plant. The party is sponsored by the Decatur GE Club.

Charles J. Lenz

Charles J. Lenz Dies In Parkview Hospital

Quarter Century Club member, Charles J. Lenz, 76, died November 27, at the Parkview Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for two weeks.

Services were conducted Monday, November 30, at the Klaehn Funeral Home by the Rev. Fred Heidbrink. Burial was in Lindenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Lenz came to the company in July, 1907, and entered the Meter Department. He was a drill press operator in Bldg. 4-1 prior to his retirement January, 1947.

Survivors include his daughter, Louise, Fort Wayne; a step-son, George W. Auer, Linton; two brothers, William and Otto, Fort Wayne, and two grandchildren.

Donald L. Marvel

D. L. Marvel Named Tabulating Supervisor For Specialty Motor

The appointment of Donald L. Marvel as supervisor of tabulating in Specialty Component Motor Department accounting has been announced by Leslie R. Rivers, supervisor of accounting.

Mr. Marvel was named to the position when he came to the company recently. In February, 1943, he entered the U. S. Army and spent one year in the European Theater of action. He was discharged in August, 1945.

Mr. Marvel is a member of the Fort Wayne chapter of the National Machine Accountants Association. He and Mrs. Marvel reside at 315 E. State Blvd.

Squares Wives Plan Yule Theme For Party Dec. 8

Carrying out the yuletide theme, members of the GE Squares Wives organization will conduct their December meeting Tuesday, Dec. 8 at the Squares Hall. The meeting will get under way at 8 p.m.

Featured on the program will be a Christmas story presented by Mrs. Robert Rowe, singing of Christmas carols, and bridge.

Mrs. John Taylor is chairman of the meeting and is being assisted by Mrs. P. H. Breimeier, Mrs. Homer Porte, Mrs. F. W. Suhr, Mrs. William Abbott, Mrs. P. G. Dannecker, Mrs. M. H. Tam, Mrs. Leland Preston, and Mrs. G. W. Garwick.

Kiddies Party Tickets Available Wednesday

Happy Harrison's Thoroughbreds

Prof. Chester Tunis

Tickets for the GE Club Kiddies' Christmas party will be available to employees beginning Wednesday, Dec. 9. The GE Club, Taylor St. employment office, and members of the entertainment committee will have tickets.

The annual yuletide party for the small fry will take place Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 19 and 20. Tickets will be available for six shows to be presented over the two-day period.

Programs will begin Saturday, Dec. 19 at 10 a.m., 1, 3, and 5 p.m. The following day, shows will start at 2 and 4 p.m.

To secure tickets for their children, employees should present their 1953-54 GE Club membership cards at any of the locations where tickets will be distributed. In order to give all employees' children the opportunity to see the show and receive a treat, employees should secure tickets only for children in their immediate families, Gordon L. Smith, entertainment chairman, announced. Parents accompanying the smaller children to the show do not need tickets.

Treats will be presented each child 12 years old or younger and Santa will be at all the shows to talk with the kiddies.

Professional acts booked for the show include Prof. Chester Tunis, who presents a comedy musical novelty act. He presents comedy, legitimate and trick, on four instruments—violin, soprano saxophone, sheep bells, and bicycle horns.

Bob King, ventriloquist, is another act slated for the program. Billed as a royal foursome in the comedy vent field, King and his three wooden characters of wit present an amusing act.

Trained with a circus and having appeared in programs throughout the country is the third act of Happy Harrison's thoroughbreds. The four little dogs are adept at many delightful stunts presented especially for the enjoyment of small fry.

One other professional act will be announced later.

Members of the entertainment committee who will have tickets in addition to the chairman are: Gayle Griffith, Bldg. 26-4; Joe Wyss, Taylor St., Sect. 13; Glen Seabold, Bldg. 28-1; Buck Buchan, Bldg. 19-2; Art Brockmeyer, Bldg. 2-1; John August, Bldg. 22; Mamie Allen, Bldg. 4-5; Bob Glenn, Bldg. 26-2; Belle Buchan, Bldg. 2-2; Kenneth Redding, Taylor St., shipping; Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 17-4; Joe Gardt, Taylor St., Office; Hubert Myers, Bldg. 21; Susie Jones, Winter St.; Charlie Wilt, GE Club, and Barbara Hyman, Bldg. 18-1.

Proceeds from vending machines located in the plants make it possible to present the Revue along with other activities of the GE Club.

days. . . . Welcome to James Roggensee, the new mail boy. . . . Wesley Grover surely hates to see the snow come, because he likes to spend his Sunday afternoons going horseback riding. . . . Harry Reith, Jr., spent a couple of days in Kokomo visiting with his brother, who is leaving to go overseas. William Haney surely takes advantage of a day off from school. After oversleeping three hours, the first thing he said to the person on the other end of the line was, "What time is it?"

Bob King

THE NIGHT WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST. by Hazel Davis

Our foreman, Charley Prine, is a very quiet man, seeing him cutting a caper, such as he did Friday night at quitting time, is very unusual. Now we wonder, if it was the after effects of Thanksgiving, or just the fact that it was Friday night. . . . Dorothy Hart is assistant news reporter for Hazel Davis, who returned to work this week after the death of her husband. We are glad to have Hazel back with us. . . . Please, girls, jot down your items for the news, so that we can have a nice column. . . . Birthday cakes were flying around this week, one each for Harley Springer, Velora Drury, and Meredith Haver. Ruth Gunn presented Meredith's to her. Thanks for the treat, Meredith. . . . We have enjoyed working with Eileen Davis on the 51 frame this week and hope to have her again. By the way, Eileen has a sideline. She is raising parakeets. Anyone interested, see Eileen. . . . We were sorry to hear of Mary Beal's accident and hope she is back to work soon. . . . Guy Livingston is taking a leave of absence. We will be missing you, Guy. . . . Mable Moser had a happy Thanksgiving staying at home. . . . Dorothy Hart and friend, Myrtle Suayne, of Bear Lake motored to South Bend over the icy highway to spend Thanksgiving. Pretty ticklish driving, but they made it safely. Dorothy has a new console TV set. She says she got it so she could have something to amuse herself with after she retires. . . . We have been missing Betty Boldt and learned that she is on her third week of vacation. Hope you enjoy yourself, Betty. . . . We wondered what the extra sparkle was in Ginny Free's and Clara Lauer's eyes, and learned they have new TV eyes. . . . We wonder if Johnny Sucier really went to Albion to eat turkey? . . . Homer, you better be careful whom you call an old maid. You are liable to get your hair pulled. . . . Alma Wise was presented with a potluck dinner and a gift of a portable mixer and a purse in honor of her retirement. We wish you loads of luck and happy days ahead, Alma. It has been a pleasure to work with you.

SPECIALTY MOTORS Shipping—Receiving—Order Service by Mabel Fisher

"Come on over to a-my house and have some duck." . . . Fred Wheeler has returned from the wilds of southern Illinois and looks like Frank Buck himself. . . . Having her mind set on roast turkey at the cafeteria, all Claudine Gladbach could say was, "My Gosh," when several of her friends surprised her with a birthday dinner Wednesday. Those attending the surprise were Kate Minehart, Eva Westrick, Dorothy Porter, Virginia Goeglein, Betty Kemp, Evelyn Kissinger and the guest of honor. Many more happy birthdays, Claudine. . . . While we are on the subject of birthdays, happy birthday to Walter Lynch and John Malcolm. . . . Ernest Grimes went to his home in southern Indiana over the week-end. His father dressed a duck for dinner. Later his two little brothers, aged two and three, buried the duck's head. When questioned why, they said, "So we can raise more ducks." They should get a long way with ideas like that one.

Foremen

(Continued from page 1)

G, Mr. Hanke, Bldg. 19-1, has supervised sections that are double winners of the interdepartment safety and good housekeeping award. Mr. Hanke has conducted safety training programs within his sections to keep employees alerted to safe practices and proper use of equipment.

As general foreman, Mr. Schuman, Bldg. 26-3, has over-all safety responsibility for the floor and Section 93, which has accumulated two years and five months without a lost-time accident. He has kept safety a continuing part of the training given employees.

Mr. Hart, test foreman of Section 13, Taylor St., has taught safety to testers under his supervision strictly adhering to safe practices for this group. The section which he supervises has completed more than four million man hours without a lost-time accident. There has not been a lost-time accident to any of his employees during his 25 years as a test foreman.

Mr. Fenner, Bldg. 2-2, was honored for his fine job of informing employees of safe and unsafe practices. He continually keeps safety in mind when looking for better ways of performing work in this respect and sets an example in practicing safety.

DITTIES FROM DISTRIBUTION

by Ruth Sorg

SHIPPING: Congratulations to Jean Hockenberry on her birthday last Saturday. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Max Biggs who lost his father last week. . . . Edna Turnbauth and husband spent the week-end in Pennsylvania visiting their folks. . . . Vera Poe spent a few days of last week in Tennessee attending her grandfather's funeral. . . . Virginia Archbold was busy over the week-end moving to her new home on Park Ave. . . . We say farewell to Dorothy Shepherd today, who leaves us to take up her duties as a housewife. . . . We would like to welcome Sharon Shearer to our group. Hope you will enjoy being with us, Sharon. . . . MAILING: Good luck to Peter Helmer on his new job in Bldg. 20, the Telephone Dept. . . . Jerry Crowell, a former mail boy, visited us last Wednesday. He is attending Indiana University and was home for the Thanksgiving holi-

Employees Fund to Reach 1953 Goal, Report Indicates

During the first three quarters of 1953, Fort Wayne General Electric employees contributed a total of $69,718.23, of which $69,194.64 has been paid to the United Fund of Allen County, according to the third quarter report of H. B. Leach, Employees Community Services Fund treasurer.

Mr. Leach stated that from all indications, the goal for the year will have been reached when the 1953 activities of the Employees Community Services Fund has been closed.

The board of administrators reported that they are very pleased with the results of the recent campaign in which a considerable number of new contributors joined the Fund. The new members should make it possible for the Employees

Fund to contribute more to the established non-profit charitable, health and social welfare agencies in the community next year. Each member should gain a feeling of pride and personal satisfaction from this, Carl Alter, chairman of the board of administrators, said.

Following are the results of the third quarter activities of the Employees Community Services Fund:

JULY 1, 1953 THROUGH SEPTEMBER 30, 1953
Balance not disbursed at end of 2nd quarter.....	$ 1,195.90
Contributions to Fund representing amounts deducted from salaries and wages earned by members and cash payments made by members during the third quarter ended September 30, 1953.....	23,124.74
Payments as authorized by Board of Administrators from above contributions:
United Fund of Allen County.....	23,797.05
Balance of above contributions not disbursed.....	$ 523.59

GE Offers Research Grants For Top College Graduates

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The nation's top college graduates will be able to further their studies next year under research grants to be made from the multi-million dollar General Electric Educational and Charitable Fund.

For the 30th consecutive year, applications are being accepted from graduates of United States colleges and universities for fellowships to be awarded for the 1954-1955 academic year. Granted in honor of Charles A. Coffin and Gerard Swope, both former presidents of GE, the fellowships are for study in the field of the physical sciences, engineering, and industrial management.

Chester H. Lang, GE vice president of public relations and head of its educational services, said on behalf of the trustees of the Educational and Charitable Fund that the fellowships are not intended for graduates who now hold, or expect to hold, any other fellowships. The grants are for college graduates who need financial assistance and who have shown by the character of their work that they could, with advantage, undertake or continue research in this country.

Under the program, married students receive $2,100 and unmarried students $1,400. In addition, a grant of $1,200 per student is made to colleges or universities which the fellowship holders attend. Grants to the students are used for their own living expenses, while grants to the institutions are used to cover tuition and other related costs.

Eleven of the nation's top graduates were awarded fellowships this year for the 1953-1954 academic year, those graduates receiving a total of $19,600 and the educational institutions in which they are studying were granted $13,200.

Coffin fellowships have been awarded to 207 persons since the program was established in 1923, and Swope awards have been granted to 55 persons since inception of that program in 1945.

Applications for the fellowships, which must be filed by Jan. 15, 1954, have been distributed to college presidents, college libraries, college deans of business, engineering, science and graduate divisions and to other interested administrative and staff members of colleges and universities.

Applications must be mailed to the Manager, Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A committee representing the National Academy of Sciences, American Chemical Society, American Physical Society, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the American Society for Engineering Education, will select the 1954-1955 fellows.

Men's clothes are in style as long as they are wearable. Women's clothes are wearable as long as they are in style.

Lehman and Kimble Take Positions In Specialty Transformer Sect. 94

Two appointments in Specialty Transformer Section 94 have been announced by William H. Crouse, superintendent. Olen I. Lehman has been named supervisor of production in the section and Max A. Kimble has been appointed supervisor and foreman of stockkeepers.

Mr. Lehman's duties will cover production of general purpose, hermetic, permafil, luminous tube, and ignition transformers. Mr. Kimble's job includes luminous tube, ignition, vapor lamp, and M & ND transformers.

In 1941 Mr. Lehman came to General Electric and entered the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Department as a tester. He was named a leading operator later and became a foreman in 1942. Three years later, he was appointed assistant general foreman and prior to his present position was assistant to the supervisor of production in Section 94.

A member of the Supervisors Club, Mr. Lehman is married and has three daughters. He resides at 1845 Pemberton Dr.

When he joined the company in 1940, Mr. Kimble was a requisition engineering clerk in Specialty Transformer. He entered the U. S. Army Signal Corp in 1942. He served in the European Theater for two years and was discharged in 1945.

After returning to GE, Mr. Kimble went into requisition engineering and moved to production as an order clerk in 1946. The following year, he began production correspondence work and had this position until his present assignment.

Mr. Kimble is secretary-treasurer of the Fort Wayne Radio Club and is a member of the communications system of the Allen County Civil Defense organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimble and their two children live at 433 E. Taber St.

No man can ever be noble who thinks meanly or contemptuously of himself, and no man can ever be noble who thinks first and only of himself.—W. H. Dollinger.

Max A. Kimble

Olen I. Lehman

Elex Aids Y's Men's Christmas Tree Sale

Elex contact girls will aid the Y's Men's Club in its sale of Christmas trees this year, it was announced by Voyce Brumbaugh, president. The girls have tickets, which when presented at the Y's Men's Booth at the Barr St. Market for a Christmas tree will entitle Elex to a percentage of the price of the tree.

Profits received from these sales by Elex will be used in the club's defense program. The Club will receive 50 cents on any purchase over $3 and 25 cents on any purchase under $3.

Profits received by the Y's Men's organization will be used in renovating their boys' camp on Blackman Lake.

Herman J. Bobay

Bobay Appointed Shipping Sup'vr In MG Department

Herman J. Bobay has been appointed supervisor of shipping in the Fort Wayne manufacturing section of the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department, R. A. Woehr, manager of production, announced this week.

In 1929, Mr. Bobay came to General Electric as a messenger. He moved to Winter St. in 1931 as a time clerk. Two years later, he became a stock accumulator and went on the assembly line in 1936.

Mr. Bobay went to Motor and Generator in 1938 as a stock accumulator and became a production clerk later. He was named leader of renewal parts section in 1942. This year, he became supervisor of renewal and warehouse parts and had this position until his present one.

The Bobays and their daughter live at 1521 Strand Rd.

SAFETY ACE FOREMAN—Edwin F. Gluskamp, Bldg. 4-2, is one of five GE foremen honored yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce Foremen's Safety Ace Institute. Mr. Gluskamp inspects some safety equipment in his section.

TOOL BITS

BLDG. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

DID YOU KNOW that Estel Kester had five prize sheep exhibited in the International 4H show in Chicago this week? That Harold Blauvelt brought into work one of the two minks he trapped and that it was much larger than the usual size? That Harold has also trapped nine muskrats and Bob Blosser has caught a total of nineteen? That Joe Graham's honeymoon is over and he's now back at work? That Gus Rodenberg is wary of tarred floors and wouldn't step on the elevator until he had first laid down a paper to stand on? That Rufus Niblick is a real model and sold the overshoes he was wearing to Carey Baker? That Archie Gwaltney says there is already one-half inch of ice on his nearby creek? That TV is too expensive for Bill Trumbower since his boys have broken out two door panes in racing into the house from school in their efforts to be first at the TV? That Gus Ausderan and Bill Palmer have their TV sets? That Bob Bryan ran out of shells after shooting four rabbits last Saturday? That Bob Sowards likes Fort Wayne reception and will soon be selling his antenna? That we wish Dallas Kees a complete recovery from his recent illness? . . . Now, Clayton Racquet is wondering about the latest Mosshammer racket. It seems that after Clayton Racquet had accepted an invitation to a party at Bob's home he was informed then as to the occasion. It was Bob's birthday and a gift would be appropriate—nice work, Bob. . . . Ex-Councilman Jewell Frank thinks he can defy the law—the law of gravity, that is. He took a chance and came to work Monday without his belt. . . . Scotty Click can now cry on Nolan Lowdan's shoulders since he made that trip to Toledo. On his way home Scotty took part in a siren serenade and it really cost him, too. . . . There's a good side to everything. Last week Tom Dixon tripped on a board in the parking lot and fell and bruised his arm. He said it hurt quite a bit but, at least, he got out of doing dishes. . . . Bill Hoel thinks his wife is too generous with her TV invitations. She invites a houseful of guests and then serves such tempting refreshments that they're all eager to return. What's the house number, Bill? . . . Wayne Winters had buttons popping everywhere Monday. He is a new daddy, you know. . . . Bob Pequignot can figure out catchy matching problems in machining, right and left hand machining, but guess what—he wore unmatched shoes to work one day last week. . . . We extend our sympathies to Russell Hambly in the death of his father. . . . Leroy Paulson and Wilson Carman have one station TV reception. Last week-end their reception went all to snow and they were ready to discard their sets, until they discovered it was due to station trouble. . . . The repairman has repaired Floyd Null's TV set so much that he now calls Floyd's home his home, and he leaves to visit his shop once in a while. . . . Archie Gwaltney was really on the spot after Hank Frey and Smokey Acres lost bets on the Elmhurst-Central game. Archie had assured these gentlemen that Central was a pushover. . . . Stage, screen, and television star, Enoch Woodrow Hursh, performed on the stage at Leo High last week-end. Woody was the clerk in the comedy, Night Court Review. . . . Kenny McCague has turned in a suggestion that they put new springs on the Waynedale fire truck. It bounces so much that Kenny sprained his ankle on a recent run. . . . Earl Brandon is seriously considering selling his Kaiser and buying an automobile.

ECHOES from 19-2

Fred McIntyre

The stories you are about to read should be true. Nothing has been changed to protect anyone, so here goes. Frank Schlink had better be more specific the next time he orders material from the Insulation Dept. It seems he had placed an order for random widths of maple boards and had abbreviated random width to R. W. The person filling the order took the letters R. W. to mean round wood. The department received a large bundle of assorted sizes of towel rods. . . . Fred Freedman won a radio in Capehart's football guessing contest, and Lowell Matthias' son won a pair of bowling shoes in the same contest. . . . Buck Buchanan will have no further use for his old 12 gauge blunderbuss. He now has his pet tomcat trained to hunt rabbits for him. . . . Walter Duhn and Elmer Yordy have returned to work after enjoying their third week vacation. . . . Emily Droege has returned to work this week after recovering from her illness. . . . Everyone expects Lowell Kelsey to bring home the bacon this year. Lowell went deer hunting in Michigan and is expected back this week unless he gets snowed in.

WIRE RAVELINGS

TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

Television is everybody's main subject at the present time, but the line has to be drawn somewhere. As Clarence Coulter was passing Truman Buckles' house one night he spied him watching television. Circling the block, he pulled up in front of the house and blew his horn until "Buck" answered the door. When Coulter asked if he could watch television Truman decided things were being carried too far so he closed the door, turned off the television and went to bed. 1:30 a.m. seemed a bit late for anyone to be calling for a social visit. . . . You might read a lot of stories about Jess Easterday, but to date, he has reported the best record for hunting this season. Jess and two others bagged 13 rabbits, which makes him head of the list. . . . A few months ago Al Swift ran a nail into his foot and found out that it was very difficult to walk on that foot for about five weeks. Now, with Christmas less than four away, he went hunting and accidentally (?) ran another nail into the same foot. Rumor has it that this is his way of getting out of going Christmas shopping. . . . Paul Rugman and Mike Kees reported that they bagged a six point deer, and for those who don't believe it here is the proof, showing "Rugged" Rugman timidly biting his toothpick and keeping his hands warm. . . . When Joe Cerveris goes hunting he does it up right and takes along three dogs to scare up rabbits. Since these are first class hunting dogs, they are perfect for scaring up rabbits, but usually stay between the rabbit and the hunter and foul up everything. Then when Joe went to cross a fence he tried it in the middle and a post broke on one end leaving him hung up and no assistance. A passing motorist came to help but Joe had to wait until the laughing died down before the rescuer could help him. Oh well, there are more days for hunting. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Howard Smith on the death of his father. . . . Congratulations to Bill Irwin and his wife on their 25th wedding anniversary which they celebrated last Saturday. The cake Bill brought in Friday certainly was delicious. Best wishes to the Irwin's for their next 25 years together.

Rugman's Deer

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

Cement—any adhesive substance for joining two bodies. Sometimes people try to substitute and then the trouble begins. Vida Lammert was trying to put together some cement blocks, but got hold of the wrong sack. Results—blocks would not stick together. The reason—plaster instead of cement. . . . Seems as though the men like to exhibit their skill in the art of cooking and baking, too. Art Denning provided a large chocolate cake as proof that he could bake. The cake really did not last very long when the gang started eating. Thanks, Art, we will eat all the cakes that you want to bake and bring to us. . . . Tallyho, a hunting he did go. Clyde Beery went a hunting and when the dogs treed something in a large hollow log, the work really started. After much chopping and pulling, out it came, a large gray fox, fighting all the way. It really was some scrap, but the fox lost the fight. . . . The expression of "Feather Bingo" became a realization instead of just a figure of speech for Tibi Gehrig. After expressing his desire to know, "Why do they call it feather bingo when all the poultry received were minus their feathers?" He was lucky enough to win the grand prize which had been donated, a large sack of feathers. Could it have been donated just for Tibi's special pleasure? . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Welch, Ellen Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Embler, Dave Embler, Jr., and Betsy Embler, Tom Haubold, Harriet Pollock, Eloise Noll, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Huber, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Foreman attended the Fred Waring show in Fort Wayne last Sunday. . . . ANNUAL KIDDIES' CHRISTMAS PARTY, DECEMBER 12.

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Belated congratulations to the Don Jackson household. Little Kenneth Miles made his entrance Nov. 16. We bet he's just as sweet as the candy his daddy passed out. The cigars were good, too. . . . Congratulations to Tony in the stockroom on his wedding anniversary. . . . 'Twas a few days before Thanksgiving and all through the house, not a noise was heard, not even an alarm clock. At least that's the story we got when Maxine, Ivy, and Dave came strollin' in late one morning last week. . . . Have you noticed Fritz, Don, and Chuck around the time clock every morning at seven? They have a bet on and the one that comes in the latest has to buy cokes for the other two. Chuck has been having a little bad luck, but he hasn't run out of nickels yet. . . . Was nice to see Steve Winner, who was home for the Thanksgiving holiday. . . . Surely seems like old times to go to the Repair and Return Section and see Elmer Koehlinger back on the job. Nice to have you back, Elmer. . . . We're going to miss Rene Colon. The girls were doing so well with their Spanish lessons. . . . Birthday greetings to Irma Hanny, Dec. 4, and also to "Little Pondo," Dec. 5. . . . Ruth Reed's husband was on his third week's vacation, so it was up to Ruth to drive to work. Last Friday morning coming to work after the snowfall, Ruth, somehow or other, ended up in the ditch. There was nothing hurt except Ruth's nerves. She was still trembling when she left for dinner. . . . Evelyn Partee also had trouble with the snow. Evie said going in a ditch didn't bother her, but after the car had come to a stop, she was sitting on the right-hand side, and for a minute couldn't think who was driving. . . . Joe Dennis was operated on last Monday morning and from the last report was doing fine. . . . What happened to Donna, our timekeeper, last Monday. Now there's a girl that knows when to take off. Just ask Roxie Murray. . . . When Paul Brandt left for work one morning last week, Paul's wife told him not to forget to bring home a quart of milk. Paul, thinking he might forget it, stopped on the way to work and bought it. When he drove in the GE parking lot, he got out and started walking and he didn't notice until he got to the gate that he was carrying the quart of milk.

35-YEAR LETTER—Warren W. Jackson (left) reads a letter of congratulations on his 35th anniversary with the General Electric Company. Helping him celebrate on the occasion are Florian Korte, E. J. Robin and R. L. Spitler. Mr. Jackson came to General Electric in 1918 as a lathe operator. At the present time he is employed on a gear hobbing machine in Bldg. 4.

HER ANNIVERSARY DAY—Freda Knoche tells R. L. Spitler about her air trip to Europe this summer during a get-together on her 35th anniversary with General Electric. Shown with them (l-r) are Stella Mailand, R. T. Blee, Leslie Richter, Miss Knoche, and Mr. Spitler. Miss Knoche came to GE in 1918 doing armature work. She is now employed in motor repair, Bldg. 4-3.

THE GRAPEVINE BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

The fellows in Group 19 are wondering why Howard Stephan didn't treat them to a coke or bring in a piece of chicken. All in the same day Howard won the check pool, two money pots in the bowling league, and a chicken. . . . Henry Lowe has decided it would be cheaper to hire a repairman to fix a radio combination. Before he repaired it, the phonograph wouldn't work. Now the radio doesn't play either. . . . The Polar Bear Club should sign up a new member. Jim Crowe was swimming in Blue Lake last week. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Clifford Combes. . . . Lloyd Covault and Russell Meeks have joined the TV fans. . . . We are glad to report Bill Fisher has been discharged from the hospital and is doing fine. . . . Art (Big Hearted) Smith delivered an electric clock to his sick friend himself, just to make sure he got his money. . . . Ernest Riley was on vacation last week. . . . Our sincere sympathy to George Bear on the death of his nephew, and to a former co-worker, Elmer Diemer, on the death is coming along fine now. . . . The wilds around Rome City are reverting back to the days of the Indians. Bears are infiltrating around the cottages. Earl Sexton's wife has to stand in the back door and cover him with the shotgun to insure him a safe trip to the outhouse and back. . . . Herb Bauer has gone to Pennsylvania again, hoping against hope to get a deer. . . . Dick Blust is among the GE TV owners now, as is Rodger Williams. They are both on the right track, since they have GE. . . . Kathryn Gilbert moved into her new home, but she is having rabbit trouble. She was all scratched up by them. . . . Dorothy Hoffman moved into her new home, too. . . . We are all wondering if the assistance Cecil Poor and Paul Ginder gave to Glen Schwartz when his zipper broke comes under the heading of set-ups? . . . Hazel Stauffer celebrated 25 years of wedded bliss last Sunday. . . . Ruth Tutwiller showed that she was brave and fearless, when she came to work in the dark so early last Monday. . . . Gerna Cook looks nice with her short hair cut. . . . Joyce Schroeder says she wouldn't cry like her daughter did, if she had a chance to sit on Santa's lap. . . . Leonard Floyd must have been after the Great Northern pike last Monday. . . . Betty Minard is on her vacation this week. She is spending it at her folks' home. . . . The lead group entertained Pat Hatch with a dinner at the cafeteria on her birthday. . . . Vera Fetro received many nice gifts from her friends when she retired last Monday. . . . Paul Hendricks, Jr., must forget himself as Perry Esterline definitely is not a "Babe." . . . Charles Redding is having trouble finding out what the knobs on the back of his TV set are for. He messed them up so bad he had to have a repairman in. . . . Sam Warren is "King" of the "Mercs." His crown hangs above his machine. . . . John Figley is back at work and wearing a red cap. He keeps it locked up so Sam Taylor can't wear it or maybe he is afraid Paul Hendricks might swipe it to wear deer hunting.

The United States is a nation of small investors . . . positive proof that the people believe in the system of private enterprise.—Lou ("Trade Winds") Schneider.

THISA & THATA BLDG. 4-3 and 4 by Helen Engle

We wonder if Modene Smith is keeping warm these nights. Her side of the electric blanket won't heat up. . . . Edith Juillarret really enjoyed Thanksgiving. All of her family were home. . . . We are sorry to hear that Margaret Parasot's husband broke his leg. He fell in some brush while out hunting. . . . We all thought Mardo Tobias looked real cute in that little green, fur trimmed hat. Incidentally, he has been chewing gum lately instead of smoking. . . . Everyone enjoyed the candy Malinda Behrman passed. Hope you have many more birthdays. . . . Mary Warren didn't get to her Thanksgiving dinner after all. She was taken to the hospital, where she underwent an operation. She

Karl F. Hofacker

Thomas L. Ahr

Two Apprentices Graduate Today From Machinist-Toolmaker Course

Today marks the graduation of two Apprentice School members from the machinist-toolmaker course. The two graduates are Thomas L. Ahr and Karl F. Hofacker.

Mr. Ahr graduated from Decatur High School, Decatur, Ind. in 1947 and enlisted in the U. S. Air Force for three years. He served with the Strategic Air Command in the U.S. and Caribbean Air Command in Panama.

While in Service, Mr. Ahr attended the U.S. Military Academy Prep School at Newburg, N. Y. After his discharge in May, 1950, he joined the Decatur plant and later enrolled in the Apprentice School. He resides at 18 Homestead, Decatur.

A 1944 graduate of Central High School, Mr. Hofacker entered the U. S. Army and served 18 months in the corps of engineers at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia beginning in 1945. He attended the machinist training school at this location and was a machinist instructor when he received his discharge in 1948.

Mr. Hofacker attended Purdue University Extension from 1948 until 1950 when he came to the company. He entered the Apprentice School in June, 1950. He lives at 3002 Sandpoint Rd.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today. Paul Motter did and, as a result, he brought the garbage to work instead of his lunch. He discovered the mistake when he got to the parking lot so he disposed of it before coming on to work. I'll bet you will check from now on to see if you are picking up the right package. . . . GE WANTS EVERYONE TO HAVE TV FOR CHRISTMAS. Chris Flanigan kept telling everyone he would not have it for a couple of years, but to keep peace in the home Chris has bought a TV set. He says it is installed now, but for Christmas he is going to put a big red ribbon around the set so the family will know it is their Christmas present, although they have had it for a month. Chris says anyone is welcome any time, as long as you bring your own refreshments. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Hugh Stephenson on Dec. 5, Marge Murphy on Dec. 5, C. E. Lonkus on Dec. 8, and Alvin Zent on Dec. 8. . . . IF ANYONE PASSING BY LAKE AVE. wondered why a certain party from Bldg. 4-6, namely Lois Reed, was washing her windows Thanksgiving, at midnight, just ask her. It seems that she wasn't washing windows, but was trying to climb through her second story window, after leaving her house key in Muncie. The fact that she forgot her key didn't bother her as much as the fact that when she went to climb in the window, she was too large and had to call on her younger sister to do it. (The window was rather small.) . . . WELCOME to Harvey Springer, an apprentice working for J. C. Duryee. . . . WE BID FAREWELL to Hans Killingstad, who is now taking his next test in Pittsfield. . . . BELATED HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Norma Tomkinson's daddy, Stan, whose birthday was celebrated November 29. Also happy birthday to Alfreda Sutton next Thursday, December 10. And to our very kind friend, Eva Rietdorf, who celebrated her birthday December 2. . . . WELCOME NEW MEMBERS TO THE TV CLUB: Warren Berkeiser, Norma Miller, Phyllis Faulkner. The membership is growing fast. . . . WE WELCOME Gene Yealy to John Willsey's group. . . . WHEN ED WHIPPLE AND JOHNNY TAYLOR MOVED THEIR DESKS AROUND LAST FRIDAY AFTERNOON they neglected to notify the switch to the clock card peddler—so can you imagine being that engrossed in your work that you'd sign your name to another person's clock card—(that's what Ed did—Johnny was about to sign his card when he noticed Ed's name on the top). Oh, well, we straightened it out without too much difficulty. . . . WE EXTEND OUR HEARTIEST WELCOME to our three new apprentice draftsmen: Don Meyer, Keith Walda, and Gerald Coleman. . . . Mr. Jean Jansen took his vacation a week ago so that he could go hunting. Bright and early Monday morning he started out. After about two hours of hunting and with no rabbits, this is the position we found him in (see picture.) As far as we know, this is the position he was in for most of the week. . . . The annual growth under Bert Girardot's nose is now in full blossom. Bert spent his vacation up north where men are red-blooded Americans. We don't know the name of the fertilizer they use up there but Bert always comes back with a cookie duster much to his wife's chagrin and the amusement of his fellow employees. Bert takes the kidding about a month and then it finally disappears. Wonder how long he will be able to stand up under the barrage this time.

Sleepy Hunter

Two men had struck up an acquaintance in a club car. "So you have two grown daughters?" said one in the course of conversation. "Do they live at home with you?" "Oh, no," replied the other. "They're not married yet."

MILES MOMMER HERE 35 YEARS—Miles Mommer (seated center) talks over his 35 years as a General Electric employee with a group of his co-workers on his recent anniversary. Seated (l-r) are Frank T. Gamee, Mr. Mommer, Bruce Rohn; standing (l-r) are Vic Hall, Ray Lepper, and Roy Brock. Mr. Mommer was a machine hand when he joined the company. He is now a toolmaker in Bldg. 4-1.

It is Repair and Return leading the Small Motor Bowling League with a record of 24 wins and 9 losses. In second place with 20 wins and 13 losses is Koorsen Painters. Tommy's Lunch just couldn't out-yell Denton Drugs in the third game and lost it by 6 pins. They didn't get much wood but the two Small Motor teams surely made enough noise. Tommy's Lunch is in third place with a record of 19½ and 13½. Test is in 4th place, 18½ and 14½. Kenny Vonderan kegled a 210 score; Chuck Kelso, 201; Lowell Welker, 204; and Carl Brandt, 208.

Ladies Tuesday Afternoon

Teams No. 1 and 6 are tied for the top spot each having won 19 while losing 14. In third place with 16½ wins and 16½ losses is Team No. 2. Team No. 4 has won 15½ games while losing 17½ games. They are in fourth place. LaVada Degraffenreed rolled the high single count in the league, a 189 score. Chicken winners were Betty Clevenger, Ruth Beck, and Marjorie Gross.

Transformer

Volts are leading the league with 19 wins and 8 losses. M is in second place with 15 wins and 12 losses. Autos and Watts are tied for third place, each having won 13 while losing 14. Chicken winners were Hein, Neuman, and Ferbee. Transformer League is in need of two bowlers. Please contact H. Meeker, Ext. 2719.

Masonic League

Squares are leading the league with 23 wins and 10 losses. Gavelers are in second place, 19 and 14. Patrols have and 18½ won, 14½ lost record. In fourth place is Corinthian, 18 wins and 15 losses. Jacobs kegled a 225 score; Thomas, 215; Rastetter, 203; Jones 202, and getting even 200 counts were M. Bailey, Strahlem, and Butterfield. Winners of the chickens were A. Hinrichs, Butterfield, Steward, Schultz, H. Moore, and A. Dale.

Apparatus

With 21 wins and 9 losses, Team No. 6 is leading the league. In second place is Team No. 1 with 19 wins and 11 losses. Central Dairy is holding on to third place having won 18 games while losing 12. Double century counts were made by H. Butcher, 217; G. Hurner, 206; C. Musser, 203, and V. Rump, 202. Chickens were won by J. Heaston, H. Butcher, D. Stanley, T. Snider, E. Weber, and A. Kabisch.

Ladies Friday Night

Team No. 5 lost 3 games but still remain in the top spot with a record of 24 wins and 9 losses. In second place with 21 wins and 12 losses is Team No. 3. Team No. 1 holds down third place with 18 wins and 15 losses. Team No. 7 won all 3 games and moved into fourth place with a record of 17 wins and 16 losses. Lyn Blauvelt converted the 6-7-10 split. Kathy Crouse kegled a 517 series on games of 190, 155 and 172. G. Koldeway rolled 179, 179, and 154 for a 512.

Winnie Scheurich put together games of 172, 158, and 182 for a 512 series. Tommy Williams kegled a 180 game and Liz Shearer, 176.

Ladies Monday Night

Keglerettes are leading the league with a record of 28 wins and 8 losses. Holey Rollers are one game behind the leader with 27 wins and 9 losses. Scatterpins are in third place, 25 and 11. In fourth place are Twisters with a record of 22 and 14. Jeanne Cirks kegled a 526 series on games of 185, 176, and 165. Winnie Scheurich rolled games of 158, 181, and 179 for a 518 series. Ardyth Hawley rolled a 175; Connie Newman, 170; Kay Bade, 172. The Holey Rollers rolled a 783 single count and a 2280 series for league high.

GE Orphans

Mary Rollins, secretary of the GE Orphans League, reports that Hotel Keenan won 2 games from Ken's Market. Team No. 2 won 2 games from Bernie's Motor Sales and Team No. 5 won 2 games from Team No. 6. M. Rietdorf kegled the high series, a 488 on games of 163, 183, and 142. F. Oberholtzer kegled a 172 count; B. Lantz, 169, and M. Beschoff, 181.

Office League

Reproductions are leading the league with 24½ wins and 18½ losses. Small Motor Development is in second place with a record of 21 and 15. Pawlisch Shoe Repair and AC are tied for third place, each having won 20 games, while losing 16. C. Hattendorf kegled a 620 series on games of 212, 172, and 236. Irv Cirks scored a 215; C. Townsend rolled 214 and 213; B. Langdon, 208; A. Johnson, 204; L. Hahn, 202, and D. Snyder, 200. C. Hattendorf converted the 5-7-9 split and E. Morrell the 5-10 split.

Mixed Doubles

Another mixed doubles tournament will be held at the Club alleys tomorrow night. Squads will roll at 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Cost is $2 per person. This includes bowling and prize money.

Decatur

In the Men's Factory League, Stators are leading the league with 20 wins and 13 losses. In second place are the Flanges with 19 wins and 14 losses. Office has 16 wins and 17 defeats and are in third place. Rotors are in fourth place with 11 wins and 22 losses. L. Kreischer kegled a 223 score. H. Shoaf scored a 201 and 204 while P. Wilkinson rolled a 200 score.

GE Fraternal

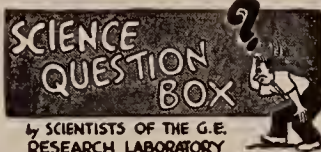

West End Restaurant is out in front with 25½ wins and 10½ losses. B.P.O. Elks are in second place, 23½ wins and 12½ losses.

GE Rod and Gun Club Wins Over Decatur

The GE Rod and Gun Club's Rifle Team won their second match of the season at Ossian last Wednesday night when they beat the Decatur Rifle Club Team by the score of 1110 to 1102. The individual scores were as follows:

DECATUR
C. Baxter	285
P. Edwards	285
W. Brintzenhofe	271
L. Graff	261
Total	1102
GE
L. May	287
R. Stevens	283
O. Emrick	271
H. Patterson	269
Total	1110

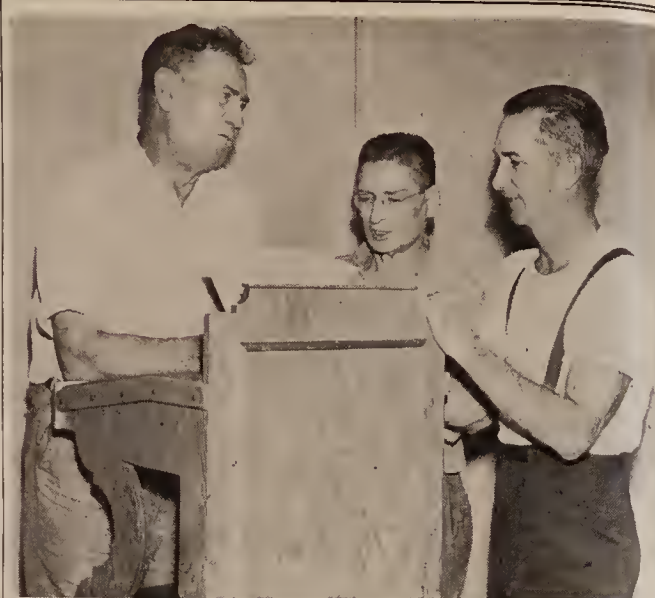

The next match will be at the Armory in Fort Wayne, Wednesday, Dec. 16, when GE meets the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver Club.

SCIENTISTS OF THE G.E. RESEARCH LABORATORY

Q. Is there any metal so light that it will float in the air?
A. No, there isn't. In order to float in air, it would have to be lighter than air, which weighs about a twelfth of a pound to the cubic foot. A cubic foot of aluminum, one of the lightest of metals, weighs about 170 pounds, so the floating metal would have to be at least 2125 times lighter than aluminum! However, metals can be made to float in air by magnetic forces. Some magnets, such as those of the alnico series (an alloy of aluminum, nickel and cobalt with iron) are so strong that magnetic repulsion will support one above another. Such repulsion occurs when the like poles are together, in contrast to the attraction when the unlike poles of the magnet are brought near each other. Vertical guides of some sort are required to hold the floating magnet and prevent its swinging around to bring the like poles together. In addition, General Electric scientists some years ago developed a "levitator", in which an aluminum dish is supported several inches above an arrangement of coils of wire. These set up two special electro-magnetic fields, one of which holds the dish up while the other acts as a fence to keep it from sliding off to the side.

In third place Riverview Gardens have won 18½ while losing 17½. Teeple Truck Lines are in fourth place, 17½ wins and 18½ losses. G. Baumgartner kegled a 661 score on games of 192, 256, and 213. Starting with a 187, then 195, and finishing with a 224, Bob Lord scored a 606 series. Double century scores were rolled by E. Bultemeier, 214; Korte, 200; H. Strickler, 201; C. Oetting, 230; R. Shackley, 223; R. Macklen, 211; R. Johnson, 211; A. Zelt, 226; W. Petrie, 212; O. Schultz, 217; A. Appleman, 212; J. Berry, 221; R. Werling, 205; and L. Hoffman, 200. High team series was rolled by West End Restaurant, a 2887. West End also had the high single count, a 1027.

HERE 35 YEARS—A 35th General Electric anniversary was celebrated last month by Harry Henline (left), a machinist in Bldg. 19-4. Mr. Henline receives best wishes from Hubert Langer and Herbert Mennewisch. Mr. Henline has been a GE employee since 1918.

GE Cagers Beat Indiana Rod To Take Over League Lead

by Howard Colby

With the GE Club beating out a scrappy Indiana Rod and Wire team last Wednesday morning, the GE Owls took over undisputed first place in the Main Auto Owl Basketball League.

The first quarter was nip and tuck all the way, with first one team scoring and then the other. Indiana Rod scored 9 points to GE's 12. GE scored the first basket on a shot by White, with Etter and Wilson hitting one each while the Club's big center Ron Blodgett tossed in two baskets and two foul shots to pace the Club to a first quarter lead.

In the second period it was Ron Blodgett again who led the Club by scoring three field goals, as Gladioux and Markey chipped in a basket each, and Carl Wilson added two free throws for a total of 12 points. Indiana Rod and Wire was held to 10 points for a half-time lead of 24 to 19.

The third period GE out-scored Indiana Rod 11 to 7, with Carl Wilson scoring on two fielders and a free throw. Gene Etter scored with two field goals and Tom Gladioux added a basket to go into the final period by the score of 35 to 26.

The final stanza found both teams playing all-out ball, with the scoring waxing warmer as the time ran out. In this quarter GE scored 22 points, while Indiana Rod was stretching the nets for 15, to give the GE Owls a 57 to 41 margin for their fourth straight victory, putting them in top place in league standings.

Next week play starts at 9 a.m. when Salisbury meets Zollner; GE plays Eckrich at 10 a.m.; and Indiana Rod tangles with Aircraft Gear at 11 a.m.

GE		Ind. Rod & Wire
G. F. T.	G. F. T.	G. F. T.	G. F. T.
White	1 1 3	Richmond	3 6 12
Gladioux	3 0 6	Bosler	0 2 2
Blodgett	6 2 14	Ruhl	4 7 15
Etter	5 1 11	Gaddy	3 1 7
Wilson	4 4 12	Grabner	0 0 0
Anspach	0 0 0	Gaunt	0 2 2
Markey	2 0 4	Beard	0 2 2
Bailey	1 0 2	Lordie	0 1 1
Fisher	0 0 0
Blessing	0 0 0
Schible	0 0 0
Dickey	1 1 3
Hill	1 0 2
Totals	24 9 57	Totals	10 21 41

Company to Make Color TV Tubes Available in '54

General Electric will make color TV picture tubes available to set manufacturers "in limited quantities" in the first quarter of 1954, it was announced today.

J. Milton Lang, general manager of the GE Tube Department, said pilot production of the tubes will begin in January. They will be the 15-inch, round, all-glass type, producing approximately a 12-inch picture.

The color tubes will cost a set manufacturer "about ten times" the price of comparable black-and-white tubes, Mr. Lang said.

The color tubes will be made at the GE tube plant at Electronics Park, Syracuse, N. Y., and will represent "only a small percentage" of the plant's total production, he declared.

He added that production of black-and-white picture tubes at both the GE Syracuse and Buffalo, N. Y. picture tube plants will be maintained "the the highest possible level, in view of the continuing demand for the larger picture sizes offered by the black-and-white tubes."

Manufacturing processes for the color tubes now are being tested out in a new color tube development laboratory in the Syracuse plant, he said. The production models will be the type using three electron guns and a planar shadow mask for color selection.

GE Club Owls Win Men's Tournament

"WERE IN THE MONEY," is the theme song of the quintet above who took first place in the GE Club men's bowling tourney team event. Members of the Monday morning Owl League GE Club team, sitting (l-r) are: Walter Rietdorf, Bldg. 26-4; Oscar Bunch, Bldg. 27, and Joe Haas, Bldg. 17-2. Standing are Henry Bradfield, Bldg. 19-3, and Warren Wickliffe, Bldg. 19-1.

Toledo Boxers Face Local Golden Glovers In Return Bouts Monday in GE Club Gym

Toledo amateur boxers will return to the GE Club gym Monday, Dec. 7 to meet local Golden Gloves entrants. The occasion will be the fourth boxing card staged by the club this season.

In addition to ten scheduled matches, there will be a battle royal. Tickets for the fights are available at the GE Club desk and from members of the boxing committee. Reserved seat tickets are one dollar each. Unreserved seats, which are 60 cents per person, may be secured at the box office Monday evening.

Matches slated thus far are:

- Middleweight
Fred King, Toledo
Jim Ricken, Fort Wayne
- Welterweight
Carl Marshall, Toledo
Al Campbell, Fort Wayne
- Lightweight
John Washington, Toledo
McKinley Davis, Fort Wayne
- Lightweight
John Draper, Toledo
Oscar Ayers, Monroeville
- Lightweight
Henry Chapman, Fort Wayne
John McBride, Garrett
- Featherweight
Frank Wooten, Toledo
Jim Reeder, Fort Wayne

As the previous three shows, this card has been arranged to give prospective Golden Glove entrants the opportunity to gain experience in the ring before the 1954 annual event in the Summit City and to give the public a preview of boxers to appear in the event.

VOLLEYBALL NEWS

By Art Rasor

Transformer vs. TE's

Transformer gained first place, defeating the Test Engineers by scores of 15-9, 13-12, and 15-5. The middle contest was a battle with Transformer one point ahead when time ran out.

Taylor St. vs. Small Motor
Taylor St. lost one game to the Small Motor team by a score of 15-12 for their first defeat of the season. Scores of the other two contests were 15-8 and 15-10, with Taylor St. the victors.

Transformer vs. Taylor St.
Taylor St. gained a tie for first place with a two win, one loss, record for the evening over the Transformer team, to tie the first half. All three games were halted for time limit, with scores of 16-15, 7-9, and 7-11.

Tool Room vs. Small Motor
The Tool Room gained their first wins of the season defeating Small Motor by scores of 15-11, 15-12, and 15-10.

STANDINGS		W.	L.
Transformer	7	2
Taylor St.	7	2
Tool Room	3	3
Test Engineers	2	4
Small Motor	2	7
Winter St.	0	3

Roll 3181 Total in Team Event Roger Crabill Nabs All-Events

The Monday morning Owl League GE Club team kegged their way to first place in the Ninth Annual GE Employees Men's Bowling Tournament, which ended last Sunday.

Other first place winners in the various events are: Kenneth Stute and Don Pappert, doubles; Russell DeVeney, singles, and Roger Crabill, all-events.

The GE Club team rolled a score of 3181, including a handicap of 423 pins. The doubles champs finished with a 1350 tally with a 156 pin handicap. Russell DeVeney's 713 count included a 156 pin handicap.

Topping the all-events, Roger Crabill marked up a 1846 total on counts of 603, 624, and 619.

The list of winners and prize money captured by them appears below.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT PRIZE LIST TEAM EVENT

	Handicap	Total	Prize
1. GE Club, Owl League	423	3181	$85.00
2. Kinney Koncession's	366	3096	60.00
3. Bucher's	390	3090	45.00
4. Apparatus No. 1	498	2997	30.00
5. B-Wise Realty	378	2977	20.00
6. Schueler's Appliances	276	2967	18.00
7. Central Dairy	316	2967	16.50
8. Pawlich Shoe Repair	432	2967	16.50
9. Tals	741	2950	14.00
10. Hoff-Brau Stag	438	2948	10.00
11. Main Auto Supply	384	2940	10.00
12. Tommy's Lunch	438	2934	10.00
13. Messenger Corp.	207	2933	10.00

DOUBLES EVENT

1. K. Stute—D. Pappert	156	1350	35.00
2. G. Soule—R. Crabill	132	1323	20.00
3. L. Crowell—C. Schoenheer	114	1318	15.00
4. A. Smethers—H. Koch	96	1299	12.00
5. L. Welker—E. Kammeyer	141	1288	12.00
6. L. Schnepp—D. Alcott	240	1281	10.00
7. R. DeVeney—P. Boedeker	216	1276	10.00
8. R. Roe—R. Smith	228	1273	8.00
9. M. Schrader—Nearing	285	1262	8.00
10. E. Schoenlein—O. Anderson	183	1258	6.00
11. J. Enfinger—P. Aberilla	339	1254	6.00
12. J. Dennis—F. Scrovey	276	1251	6.00
13. C. Miller—J. Kochl	207	1250	4.33
14. M. Junk—R. Junk	186	1250	4.33
15. H. Dalman—G. Baker	186	1250	4.33
16. P. Perry—V. Rump	141	1246	4.00
17. A. Edwards—W. Lautzenheiser	239	1246	4.00
18. A. Koorsen—W. Saylor	207	1239	4.00

SINGLES EVENT

1. R. DeVeney	156	713	20.00
2. R. Smith	111	689	12.00
3. R. Crabill	63	682	8.00
4. B. Younghaus	108	679	7.00
5. D. Pappert	75	672	7.00
6. H. Sexton	90	671	6.00
7. H. Dalman	93	665	6.00
8. J. Kummer	123	662	6.00
9. R. James	117	661	5.00
10. A. Smethers	45	659	5.00
11. H. Blauvelt	123	656	5.00
12. P. Moore	138	654	5.00
13. G. Egts	96	654	5.00
14. M. Rutz	108	653	4.50
15. Sholl	123	653	4.50
16. Reider	81	652	4.00
17. K. Vonderau	117	647	3.00
18. P. Walker	75	646	3.00
19. M. Worman	162	645	2.00
20. J. Hambrook	60	645	2.00
21. J. Stark	78	645	2.00
22. A. Glass	102	644	2.00
23. A. Wolf	87	644	2.00
24. A. Johnson	144	644	2.00
25. R. Younghaus	90	643	2.00
26. E. Schoenlein	96	642	2.00
27. W. Mertz	30	641	2.00
28. D. Bucher	69	640	2.00
29. H. Littlejohn	135	636	2.00
30. D. Miller	102	632	2.00
31. P. Billman	90	628	2.00
32. E. Franke	78	628	2.00

ALL EVENTS

1. R. Crabill	1846	10.00
2. A. Smethers	1799	8.00
3. W. Mertz	1792	7.00
4. D. Pappert	1770	6.00
5. C. Schoenheer	1750	5.00
6. H. Dalman	1726	5.00
7. W. Reitdorf	1725	4.00
8. J. Stark	1680	3.00
9. R. Smith	1680	3.00
10. J. Junk	1670	3.00
11. J. Hambrook	1663	3.00
12. L. Welker	1657	3.00

MIXED DOUBLES TOURNEY

Saturday, Dec. 5

Squads Roll at 6:00 and 8:30 p.m.

At Your GE Club Alleys

RACONTEUR

SECTION 114 TAYLOR ST.

by Mary Whitelock

Hugh Neely sat at his desk Friday afternoon and remarked that his car was almost out of gas. So what did he do? He roared out of the parking lot at 4:31, zoomed past the nearest filling station and came to rest in the middle of the Taylor Street bridge! . . . Clayton Culver's little granddaughter, when getting a scolding, says, "Turn off the record." Bet Clay taught her that, don't you? . . . Dorothy Money's daughter and grandchild, Linda, were here from Jackson, Mich., for a visit. Now her Aunt Jenny, who is 85 years young, is visiting her. . . Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Bell drove to Fort Leonard Wood to visit their son. It was a big thrill for them to arrive just in time to see the boys on dress parade and learn later their son's platoon won first place. . . Earl Greenlee has caught three coons so it looks like there will be a coon feed around the first of the year. . . Kathleen Jencks has been pretty miserable with a tooth extraction, but is feeling better now. . . Mary Ensley is back and looking fit as a fiddle. . . We are sorry to learn that Becky Lisle's mother has been ill, and we all hope she will have a speedy recovery. . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Helen Platt, George Ridge, Helen Keim, Dorothy Money and Marilyn Smith and may you have many more of them. . . Cleo Crew's car wouldn't start the other morning and she was late to work for the first time in four years. Cleo was very unhappy about it, too, but it's still a wonderful record. . . Dale Irwin brought in a picture of his pride and joy, little daughter Molly. One of the girls took a look and said innocently, "Is that your granddaughter?" . . . Kathryn Erwin went to Churchill Downs recently, but the trip didn't cost her very much. She put $2 on Cajole to win. He tore up the track to place and brought her $9.20 at the window. . . Bill Lavine, the nursery man, has berry bushes for sale to everyone but Bob Till. . . Shirley Clark's little boy, George, celebrated Thanksgiving by eating 15 aspirins early in the day. It didn't seem to bother George much, but it surely gave him a headache. . . After Michigan and Michigan State both took a shellacking, Doug Campbell sent a telegram to George Ridge saying he heard they were going to hurry the old State of Michigan. Then both Michigan teams beat Ohio State so George wired Doug, saying, "Just to show we Michiganders still have a heart, I am going to hold one minute of silent prayer for all Ohio State fans in the office Monday morning at 8 o'clock." . . . Mr. and Mrs. Vera Daseler and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reynolds attended the Notre Dame-Iowa game at South Bend recently. . . The Robert Till residence seems to be in a TV frenzy since the set arrived. Robert comes to work with house slippers on. That isn't too bad, but he didn't tell anyone that he left his lounging robe in the car. . . Mary Maley, who operates a Kayser Winder in 114x3B, came back to her machine after lunch and found a mouse in it. Did Mary scream for help and jump up on a chair? Not a bit. She calmly reached in with a gloved hand, scooped up li'l old Mr. Mouse and deposited him in a bucket nearby. That's our Mary. . . B. Adams and P. Hitzeman have dropped out of the Bowling League and are being replaced by Bill Williams and Bob Duras. Paul Clendenen likes the arrangement because, temporarily at least, it takes him off the lowly bottom of the list according to averages. . . Art Bear's brother has undergone a major operation at St. Joseph's Hospital and has been in a very serious condition. We hope by this time he is well on the way to recovery. . . Mrs. John Miles won a nice basket of groceries on the "I've Got Your Number" program. . . Ted Childs will have a birthday on the 22nd of this month. His wife presented him with a ring that he has always wanted and he is quite proud of. Congratulations. . . After winning the check pool three weeks in a row, Ray Fredericks decided to buy his wife some new shoes (or was it a television set?). Mrs. Fredericks goes barefooted much of the time during the summer months and now that the frost is on the ground, Ray felt that she needed some shoes. We think she'll get TV, too. . . Don't forget the Christmas party for salaried employees which will be held December 12 at the American Legion Clubhouse in Waynedale from 8 to 12 on a Saturday night. Gifts, food, entertainment—who could ask for anything more?

TOTALS 35 YEARS—Oscar Rodewald (right) recently reached his 35th anniversary with the General Electric Company. Dean Thompson and Robert Murphy were on hand to congratulate him. Mr. Rodewald is an engineering assistant in the laboratory at Taylor St.

THE BIG WIND

SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Rachel Mounsey

We wish a very speedy recovery to Pauline Ober's mother, who is on the sick list. . . Nellie Williams entertained company from Lima, Ohio, over the week-end. . . Mel Kestner has two pointer bird dogs for sale. Mel says the price is cheap, real cheap. . . Roger Beber wishes to thank everyone for the lovely baby gifts he received. . . Harold Mosshammer has returned from his third week's vacation, but we haven't heard any hunting tales from him as yet. . . Millie Snyder received a nice prize in hunting over the week-end, on her ability to shoot well. . . Welcome back to Vi Cowan in the sound room. . . Mila Heller has finally a fire in his new furnace. The girls are all happy, now. They don't have to worry about him freezing to death. . . Everyone else is going deer hunting, so Jean Young went fishing. She says they really caught them, too. . . Welcome to H. Annah Sift in the 17 x 660 group.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

Retirement is a word of many meanings, But we hope that it will mean just this to you:
Time to arrange your daily schedule,
To include the things you really want to do.

For you quite probably will be busy,
In a pleasant, easy-going sort of way.
That's the wish of your Bldg. 17-3 co-workers
On this, your retirement day.

This is the wish we have for Lena Schaper and Ina Smith, who left us last Monday to enjoy a life of ease. Last Friday, the girls had a surprise luncheon at the cafeteria for Lena. Monday, there was a luncheon for Ina. Best of luck to both of you. . . We light another candle on the cake and wish a happy birthday to Stella Kempf and Mary Land. . . Our "We Wish You Happiness" mat is out for Lucille Bates. She changed her name to Johnson. . . Violet Brower was sitting quietly eating a sandwich in the cafeteria when the trays on the conveyor started to pile up. She threw down her sandwich and jumped over to the conveyor to straighten the trays before too many dishes would break. As she sat down again she said, "Even when I'm in the cafeteria, work piles up in front of me." . . . Congratulations to our new grandma, Vetna Kohart. . . Glad to see Barbara Pilkinton and Harriet Haynes ringing in their clock cards again. . . Question of the week. Was that a dry shampoo Joe Jensen was getting from Charlie Rice? . . . Betty DeLak spent the Thanksgiving holidays in New York.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

BLDG. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

"Two Gun Germano" has turned his guns in for television. He'll just watch Roy Rogers do the shooting now. . . Leroy Cook was seen eating his dinner at the Orange House, Sunday evening. . . Our playboy Ralph Ayers was seen at the Bob Hope show with the redhead. Twice with the same girl must be serious. . . If Kenneth Hart seems a bit wiser lately it's because he is associating with an owl. He has one that lives in his barn. . . Frank Kartholl is so afraid he will miss something on television that he takes his storm windows in the living room to clean them. . . Elmer Warner and Fred Buchholz have joined the ranks of TV watchers.

THANK YOU

During the recent misfortune which came to us we received much help from our friends. Words can't show our feelings of gratitude, but in this modest way we would like to express our thanks for everything good which came to us.

First of all, we thank Irene Meyers, the Elex Club, and Robert Hatfield for their wonderful and warm hearts, for their interest, and moral support, as well as for material help. Meeting these people on the road of life has been an honor and an inspiration for us.

We also want to thank our other friends in the GE family for their words of encouragement and sympathy which we needed so badly.

Thanks again to all of you and God bless you.

—NATALIE AND JOSEPH HORNIATKEWYCH.

RECENT RETIREMENT—Magdaline Laughlin says good-by to her co-workers on her last day of work for General Electric. Robert Sweeney offers her best wishes on behalf of the group. She was a flange packer in Section 17 at Taylor St. before retiring.

LAST DAY AT GE—Jessie Turner says farewell to Charles Prine, her foreman in Section 17 at Taylor St., while her co-workers look on. Mrs. Turner retired last month after 10 years of service with the company.

Friday, December 4, 1953

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant Receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted by number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 18-1.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, December 7, 1953

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—White kid gloves.
FOUND—Black kid gloves.
FOUND—Gold sword tie holder at Bldg. 19 gate.

WANTED

BICYCLE—Boy's 16-inch, pedal auto, or fire truck. H-55012.
RECORD PLAYER—45 rpm. record player, preferably RCA, with built-in audio. H-35122.
LATHE—Metal lathe in good condition. H-17585.

PROJECTOR—8 mm movie projector in excellent condition. A-58715.
EGG CUSTOMERS—For fresh country eggs in northeast section of city. Will deliver Saturdays. A-96448.

SINK—Cabinet sink, wood or metal. Also outside and inside doors. E-67494.
ROLLER SKATES—Girl's roller skates, size 9 or larger. E-3118.
STORM WINDOWS—Odd size storm windows. What have you? E-4994.

MISCELLANEOUS

BABIES—Cared for in pleasant, licensed home. Infants to two years old. Close to Pontiac bus. H-9778.
CHILDREN—Cared for in my home days or nights. E-69193.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT—No. 2, 431 E. DeWald. Sam Herr.
APARTMENT—Two-room furnished apartment for employed girl. Utilities furnished. 928 W. DeWald Street.

ROOM—In private home to lady, very fine situation for an office employee at Taylor St. K-1806.

APARTMENT—Modern 4 rooms, bath, 1 car garage, heat and carpet furnished. Bertha Newhard, Poe.

HOUSE—Five-room house with basement and electricity, 18 miles from Fort Wayne, near Harlan. $30. H-39342.

APARTMENT—Very delightful furnished apartment, modern, three rooms, near GE. E-4994.

FOR SALE

SAXOPHONE—American Standard B-flat alto saxophone, good condition, gold-plated, $100. H-9489.

PADS—Playpen pad, high chair pad, good condition. No charge. K-2631.

TUXEDO—Like new, size 38 to 40, $20. K-1483.

STORM WINDOWS—Two 30 x 54 1/2, two 36 x 64 1/2, good condition, painted white, reasonable. Will sell separately. E-6997.

CAMERA—Leica 111F. Summar lens, 2.8 f, with attachments, $260. Zeiss binoculars, 7 x 50 and 6 x 30, $90. Leitz with center focus lightweight, famous T coated lens, $60. After 6 p.m., 1808 Sp. Run Ave.

RECORD CHANGER—Single speed Webster. Will sell cheap. H-19005.

ROLLER SKATES—Chicago Rink men's roller skates, size 9, new. Ivor Johnson women's black shoe skates, size 6, like new. Boy's hockey skates, size 6, 26 inch bicycle, sharp paint job, excellent condition. E-71181.

RADIO—Silvertone radio-phonograph console, perfect condition. Three pairs of beige drapes, extra long. A-66931.

WIRE RECORDER—Portable Chicago Webster wire recorder with 12 spools wire, $110. Extra amplifier and mike for use with recorder for P. A. system, $35. E-6105.

TRAIN—Lionel train with 1027 gauge freight train unit with transformer, switches, uncoupler, and extra track. Mounted on 4 x 8 ft. plywood with side rails. Excellent condition, reasonable. H-66705.

RADIO—Perfectly operating Silvertone console, 12 tube radio, $10. Bathmatte, good condition, $3. Clean glass Ball jars, 25 and 30 cents per dozen. A-26841.

CHILD'S CAR—Automobile pedal type. Pair of child's boots. H-35932.

PUPS—Boston bull terriers, 5 weeks old, ready for Christmas. A-99311.

HOME—Two bedroom, ranch style, fireplace, beautiful kitchen and dinette, attached garage. Perfect suburban home. Will sell on contract, $4,000 down. Price, $13,400. 6030 Tyrone Road. H-48557.

COFFEE TABLE—Round, glass top, coffee table, $8. A-3821.

FIRE TRUCK—Good condition. E-6110.

RADIO-PHONOGRAPH—Console radio-phonograph combination, in excellent condition, $30. Pair of parakeets and large cage, $25. Child's desk and chair, $5. K-2203.

BREAKFAST SET—Sturdy wood breakfast set with drop-leaf table, $10. GE sun lamp, $10. Maple doll cradle, 24 inch, $2. H-44901.

CAR—1949 Pontiac, 4-door sedan, 1947 Dodge panel truck, 605 E. Creighton. H-26033.

LIVING ROOM SUITE—Two-piece living room suite, bedroom suite. A-77643.

BICYCLE—20-inch bicycle, in good condition, also small wheels for balancing. Small kitchen sink. H-83434.

RADIO-PHONOGRAPH—Zenith console radio and record player combination, blond wood. Sacrifice at $150. Also twin laundry tubs, $6. Inquire 4315 Winter St.

TIRE—One 600-525 by 20-inch tire and tube, less than 600 miles. Cheap. G. Cunningham. R. R. 4, Huntington, Ind.

OIL HEATER—Fuel oil heater with tank and pipe for five-room apartment, like new, $50. 1315 Polk St.

ACCORDION—Used Italian-made accordion in very good condition, 120 bass, treble and bass shifts. H-67449.

DINING ROOM TABLE—And six chairs in very good condition, reasonable, 1713 1/2 Lindley Ave. See after 3:30 p.m.

ACCORDION—Costelli, 120 bass accordion for sale. Very good condition. E-66563.

VIOLIN—Wurlitzer Cremona violin, red plush-lined case. Valued at $100. Will take $65. Webster International Dictionary, Second Edition, $15. Moviegraph Projector, $20. A-10781.

LUGGAGE—Two compartment CarSac. Two suit, tan, nylon, with rubberized inside, bottom has room for shoes, used twice, $17 value. See at 431 East DeWald, Apartment No. 2.

ELECTRIC TRAIN—Lionel electric train set, whistle, smoke, automatic uncoupler, extra track, over $50 value for $30. Decatur, Ind., 3-2855.

WASHER—Speed Queen washer, $25. Conn. clarinet. Baby buggy, two years old, $10. Lady's skirts, 26; blouses, 34; and dresses, 12. H-58210.

GAS STOVE—White table-top, in good condition. E-68274.

ELECTRIC TRAIN—Excellent condition, lots of accessories. Also large erector set with gear motor. K-2644.

RADIO-PHONOGRAPH—Combination, Magnavox push button, blonde cabinet, good condition, $65. 2218 Thompson. A-65255.

BEDSPREAD—Beautiful crocheted work bedspread and table cloth. Call before 2 p.m. H-69601.

TOYS—Pair beginner wheels for two-wheel bicycle, one large Teddy bear, one child's piano with bench. K-3316.

DRY WOOD—For sale. H-17301.

ELECTRIC RANGE—Hotpoint electric range, good condition. K-4767.

BABY CARRIAGE—Play pen and swing, 1909 Jessie Ave. A-66572.

ELECTRIC TRAINS—Four with tracks and other equipment. All late models in good condition. Half price. A-2746.

BABY BUGGY—Welch, blue and gray, $12. Baby bed and mattress, one-year size, $14. A-55545.

BIKE—Boy's 24-inch bike, good condition, $25. Huntington, 2134 W.

BABY SCALES—Detecto baby scales, Storkline baby bed and mattress, Universal hand sweeper. Mornings only. A-76711.

RUG—9x10 rug and pad flower and black pattern, excellent condition, $35. H-59044.

GAS RANGE—Roper, white tabletop, bottle gas range, Robert Shaw regulator, $30. Toccin, 13 on 12.

OUTBOARD MOTOR—7 1/2 hp, very good condition, $50. K-2584.

FORMALS—Two formals, used only once, both size 11, colors green and yellow. K-3192.

TIRE—One used tire with tube, 5.50x16, suitable for spare, cheap. H-26182.

MACHINERY—If you need a good garden tractor, plow, cultivator, and disc, I will sell all four pieces for $205. David Bradley make. A-69909.

CAMERA—4x5 Speed Graphic, complete. Portable Wabash-Sylvania speed light. Adams negative retouching shop. H-68894.

TIRES—Two good mud and snow tires, 650x16. Both for $12. A-16733.

TABLE CLOTHS—Two patterned linen table cloths, size 106x66 and 98x66. 16 mm silent films. A-89332.

LAMPS—Pair matched Chinese lamps. H-39261.

SKATES—Boy's hockey skates, size 7, like new, $4. H-44652.

BICYCLE—Girl's bicycle, 26-inch, Goodrich, excellent condition, $25. H-6226.

JIG SAW—$10. K and E pocket slide rule, $2. Lemonwood bow and six arrows, $5. Leatherette upholstery, 4x8 ft., $2. A-70693.

TIRES—Two mud and snow tires, 660x16 with tubes. Used two months, $25, or will trade for boat motor. Avilla, Ind., 121M.

TABLE—Walnut dining room table and pad, like new, 32x44-inch. Extends to 54 inch. 200 comic books in good condition. A-89332.

BICYCLE—Girl's bicycle, small size. H-8839.

ERECTOR SET—No. 8 1/2 erector set with electric motor, perfect condition. Also 2 boy's toy cars, size 18. H-17585.

SAW—8-inch tilt, arbor, bench saw with motor and stand. H-65105.

DRYER—Westinghouse clothes dryer, like new. Bendix automatic washer, good condition. Both for $200. After 6 p.m., Churubusco 2302.

CAR—1939 Plymouth, 4-door sedan, 1948 motor, new battery, $85. H-02155.

CAR—1950 Studebaker, 4-door Champion, good tires, radio, heater, and overdrive. A nice, economical car for $795, or trade. H-74471.

ACCORDION—80 bass, practically new, guaranteed for six months. $200 value for $115. H-91273.

BABY BED—H-82454.

TRICYCLE—With 16-inch wheel; 2 small wagons; child's blond finish upholstered rocker; stroller; Baby Kair chair; baby car bed. H-20809.

BED—Mahogany bed, springs, mattress, chest, and dresser, good condition. Make us an offer. A-49442.

BOY'S CLOTHING—Gray corduroy sport coat, size 16. Gabardine top, size 16. Sport shirts, all like new. E-3974.

CAR RADIO—Plays fine, $5. H-81107.

CARRIAGE—Baby carriage and stroller combination, station wagon style, $16. A-55203.

COAT—Lady's black wool coat, Persian lamb trim, size 12, in good condition, $20. 3003 S. Harrison St.

DRESSING TABLE—Kidney-shaped dressing table with plate glass top, $10. A-95481.

STORM DOOR—One combination storm door with air check and chain, $5. New army cot, $5. One pair girl's new, red rubber boots, size 3. H-91461.

SEWING MACHINE—Portable Singer sewing machine, $32.50. Bathroom lavatory, $5. One new twin bed springs, $8. Bowling ball, No. 16, and carrying case, $12. E-3030.

WHEELS—Five wheels, including tires, tubes, and rims, size 4.40-4.50 x 21 inch. $40. H-74434.

DRESS SUIT—Full formal dress suit (tails), size 34, vest, tie, shoes, complete, $7. Norge 20-inch, 4-burner gas range, cost over $100. Will sell for $40. A-59065 or E-40844.

TOP COATS—Boy's top coats, good condition, size 14 and 18. E-2766.

DOUBLE BED—Innerspring, inner-spring mattress and cover; good condition, $22.50. 113 E. Maple Grove, H-0721.

MOVIE CAMERA—8 mm movie camera, projector, screen, splicer. E-55953.

CURTAINS—3 pr. curtains, 42 x 96 in., floral design, $2.25 pr., 42-inch left-hand sink and faucets, almost new. A-66605.

IRONER—Junior size automatic ironer, good condition. Reasonable. H-90861.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDERS WANTED—From New Haven, Ind., to either Broadway or Taylor St. plant, 6:48 a.m. to 3:18 p.m. New Haven, 4450.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS

BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Got TV yet? Haven't, huh? Still holding out, eh? Quit your braggin'; you'll have one; wait and see. The TV bug will bite you just as it did me. Then you'll get TVitus. What's TV-itus? Oh, it's not serious, but it'll upset your daily living habits for a while. For example, when you arrive home at night after a hard day's work, you'll be greeted by your family like this. "Hi Pop, hurry up and shut that door, you're letting light on the screen. Quiet! Down in front!" The little woman's eyes will be all red from watching the soap operas all day. "Brother! If you think those radio soap operas are sad, wait'll you see the TV operas." She'll have a headache and won't feel like getting supper, but who wants supper anyway. Flash Gordon comes on at that time. Wait until you see the Westerns! I haven't seen so many cowboys and Indians since they tore down the old Colonial theater. Then just before bedtime there's the Creaking Door program, br-r-r. Your shins will be all barked up from walking around in the dark and after two weeks you won't be able to look a bowl of popcorn in the face, but you'll survive. After you become accustomed to it, you wouldn't part with your TV set for the world. . . . Ollie Miller says he likes his new home, but he finds it hard getting used to all of those windows. Sort of puts him in the public eye; especially since Mrs. Miller doesn't have all the drapes up yet. Ollie forgets himself occasionally and runs around the house in his shorts. That accounts for the crowd I saw out in front of his house the other night. . . . Millard and Mary Wells are now settled in their new farm home. . . . Henry Blair brought a pair of his wife's shoes for lunch the other night. Tough chewing, weren't they, Henry? . . . During the past few weeks some of our

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

Dec Williams claims as her excuse for wearing one brown and one black shoe that she can't make fine distinctions so early in the morning. . . . Frank Mongraw can't resist cute pups, but is amazed at the big monsters they can become. His friendly 65-pound boxer still thinks it is a lap dog and is quite adept at grabbing roasts, meant for Frank's lunch from the refrigerator. Does anyone want to trade a Peke for a Boxer and a roast bone? . . . Mary Garrard says some days one goes from bad to worse. After arriving at her work station she remembered she had left her car lights on, so she returned to the parking lot, turned the lights out, and decided to move her car to a closer space—that's when she became stuck in a snow drift.

We are sorry to learn that John Thomas, who worked at Winter Street for many years, has suffered from a heart attack. All his friends wish him a speedy recovery. . . . Charleen Bierbaum has been busy in her spare time reading "Blanquito", her Persian and Siamese Cat, for the Cat Show. Charleen says it can't qualify in the "Employed Cat" class unless admiring its own fluffy fur can be called a job. . . . Minnie O'Brien has written Santa for a new alarm clock. She plans to set this one to wake her up, so she can hear the other one go off. That way she is sure to get to work on time. . . . Clara Heaston is planning to go to Florida for her vacation next week. We will be thinking of you, Clara, basking in the sun while we wade through Fort Wayne slush. . . . Aubrey Lash is thinking of either trading his Olds for a Nash or buying a raincoat. After the last down-pour Aubrey slept in the car while waiting for the rain to stop. His wife arrived home, searched the house and ice-box, decided he had left for parts unknown, then found him sleeping happily in the car. Wonder if she brought him an umbrella?

WELCOME TO: Our new draftsman, Jim Preston, an apprentice from Broadway. Marketing additions, Carole Piepenharing and Carl Seybold, and Dianne Linn, Purchasing. . . . Bill Reed is in favor of abolishing holidays. He returned from the Thanksgiving vacation and forgot the Friday morning series of sirens. He was dashing along the second floor, worried about the "fire", when he was reminded by amused co-workers. He skidded to a stop and sheepishly returned to his station. . . . THANKSGIVING TALES: We know of several dogs who were thankful Thanksgiving. Frank Lemish was planning to have rabbit for dinner, but his lucky pooches beat him to his game, leaving Frank with only the skins. Cloves, anyone? . . . Vera Sowards welcomed her son, Jerry, home from DePauw University for the day. . . . Thelma Brockmeyer visited in Jackson, Michigan, with her sister. . . . Bill Kelsey treated his wife to dinner "out" at the Colonial Gardens (other husbands, please note). . . . Ellsworth Geller can't tell you the number of guests they entertained for dinner—he didn't want to lose any time from eating by counting them.

Bob Branning was host to the Tool Room boys for a Thanksgiving party. Joe Raupfer was in charge of liquid refreshments while Harold Bohde and James Barriek brought deer-burgers. Music was by the Weaver-Branning Duo, accompanied by the Tool Room Chorus. Educational movies were shown by Dave Jones and several social games were played by the group. George Kniss and Dick Tholen were outstanding in the latter. . . . Bill Miller went hunting at Bluffton and found he had forgotten his gun after arriving there. Maybe you should carry a sling-shot in your car, Bill. . . . Harold Stevens won the door prize at the Test Engineer's party—a door handle. . . . Jack, the Canary—a recent purchase of Art Hickman's—scorns ordinary music as an accompaniment and trills merrily to the tune of the vacuum cleaner.

T. E. TIDBITS: We will be missing you-all! Robert Zigler, Orval Herman, Jim Bruzek, and Wayne Devine are leaving the Winter Street group and are being replaced by Bill Sampson, Robert Bristow, and Sergio Hudson. Sergio comes to us from Chile on the International GE Rotating Program and will be here for three months. . . . Hurry back, to Ted Lorenz. Ted was injured in a recent automobile accident. . . . The tricky driving conditions over the week-end prompts us to pass on a favorite traffic slogan: "TAKE IT EASY ON WET PAVEMENT—DON'T BE A MAN OF EXTINCTION."

boys have been transferred and some newcomers have joined us. At this time, we wish to welcome the newcomers and also to say farewell to those who have left us. We'll miss you.

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

by Clara Volz

Conrad Meeks, our handsome mail boy, thinks that Carol Chambers of Payroll is quite the girl. So here's hoping that you get a lot of mail to deliver in that vicinity, Meeks. . . . Helen Staley and husband bought a new Pontiac. Comment from Helen, "She's a honey." . . . I never saw anyone rush into work with such enthusiasm as Ed Marschand the other P.M. Of course, on the other hand, it could have been that he had just a few minutes before being late, that made him step on it. . . . Another new car owner—Harry Kessel has a Plymouth. . . . George Buelow, if you have to blow your top, please don't do it over the telephone, especially when a lady is in on the other line connection waiting to talk to her party. We know George didn't realize there was someone else listening. When he was told about it, he was very embarrassed. . . . Sorry to hear that Bill Starke was injured in an automobile accident. Hope it isn't anything serious Bill.

Place your Christmas tree well away from any fireplace or stove.

Store Service Streamlined

Employee Store Adopts Self Service In Time for Holiday Buying Rush

Gone is the waiting in line at the Employee Store for a clerk to call your number!

The Employee Store at Broadway has converted to self-service, Wallace E. Beer, supervisor of employee services, announced this week. The switch was made to relieve congestion in the Bldg. 8-1 store and offer faster service to employees, Mr. Beer stated.

Employees shopping at the store this week were confronted with a small-scale replica of modern supermarkets. As they enter, they pick up a gate pass, fill it out at a counter, and go on to browse among the aisles of the new self-service counters. When they have secured the items they want, a clerk lists them on the gate pass and wraps the items. The employee then moves on to the check-out clerk where he pays his bill and leaves by the same door he entered.

Some items because of their variety and value are not on the self-service counters. These can be obtained at the main counter from one of the clerks.

We have made the change to self-service for the convenience of employees and in turn ask their cooperation in helping the plan to operate smoothly, Mr. Beer stated.

With the rush of the holiday season in full swing, a special counter has been set up to supply Christmas tree lights and other such items.

Among the Christmas items available in the store are tree string lights ranging in price from $1.95 to $8.75; bubble lights; and cellophane wreaths with candles. Green and white lighted miniature trees are priced from $6.35 for a nine-light, 17-inch tree to $12.50 for an 18-light, 25-inch tree.

There are also candles and candleholders and Christmas tree bulbs in assorted colors. The series bulbs are 5 cents each and the outdoor type, 12 cents each.

Light angels with star wands and amber halos are $1.25. Illuminated plastic snowmen are $2 for the 19-inch model and $4.30 for the 30-inch full length snowman. The illuminated 26-inch candy can for outdoor use is also in plastic and is priced at $3.35. The lighted plastic Santa face is $3.

Indoor stars of plastic and metal which have a neon effect are $1.40. The store also has tree stands available for $3.

SHOPPING at the converted Employee Store this week, Walter J. Wolf, Bldg. 26-B, fills out his gate pass after entering the store.

STOPPING to look over items on one of the new self-service counters, Mr. Wolf has a chance to examine many articles and select his choice.

SELECTING the articles he wants from among the wide variety on display, Mr. Wolf has an opportunity to shop without the congestion of long lines.

SAVING time by not having to stand in line to be waited on, Mr. Wolf takes his purchases to a counter where clerk Marvel Abraham lists them on his gate pass and wraps them.

SPENDING less time in the store selecting his purchases with the self-service, Mr. Wolf comes to the end of his shopping trip as clerk Betty Riley rings up the cost of his purchases. Josephine Haughan, Bldg. 16-2, waits to pay for her selections.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

INFORMATION CLINIC
Page 5

Volume 36

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1953

No. 48

A PARKING PROBLEM—What if the employee who owns one of the cars blocked in on the Lindley Ave. parking lot had to leave during the day due to illness in the family or for another reason?

How Can We Stop This?

The cooperation of all Broadway employees using company provided parking lots has been asked to aid in eliminating the double parking found in these areas.

As a result of the congestion found in some parking areas, employees, whose cars have been wedged in and who have had to leave suddenly for illness in the family or for other reasons, have been unable to do so. Also, first shift employees have had their cars blocked in on lots and have been unable to get them out to leave at the end of the day. Another factor resulting from the close and double parking has been damage to automobiles.

By looking for parking space in lots not as near the Broadway plant as some, employees driving to work can help to relieve this congestion. Both the Jones St. and E. Fairfield Ave. lots have available space when at the same time the Lindley Ave. lot is crowded with cars, it has been reported from surveys by plant protection chief, A. R. Vegalues.

MBA Adopts Plan For More Benefits

A proposal to increase benefits for members of the Mutual Benefit Association Dependents Plan was adopted by the general committee this week. The vote was 32 to 2 in favor of the proposed changes, E. W. Witte, general chairman of the committee, reported.

The newly-adopted changes in the plan have been sent to the GE Company management, which must approve them before they go into effect. A motion was passed by the committee that the changes go into effect on the beginning of the payroll week following management approval.

The new plan affords the following benefits at a weekly contribution of 85 cents:

Hospital Expense

Room and board (up to 70 days), $10.

Hospital extras, $100.

Maximum hospital benefit, $880 for any one disability.

Maternity

Normal, $100; Caesarean, $150; miscarriage, up to $75.

Surgery

Maximum, $175.

At the Tuesday meeting of the general committee a special committee was appointed to rewrite the constitution of the MBA Dependents Plan to incorporate the adopted changes. The committee includes Charles Winans, Wilmer Boek, John Hoelle, Blanche McDonald, Robert Hodell, Dudley Snyder, and William Hurt.

Later this month, members in the various sections will elect new representatives within their respective areas to represent them on the 1954 general committee.

GE to Discharge Admitted Communists, Subversives

The General Electric Company today announced it will immediately discharge from its employ all admitted communists, spies, and saboteurs and will suspend employees who refuse to testify under oath on such matters when queried in public hearings conducted by competent government authority.

At the same time, General Electric called on the Federal government to establish, in an independent security agency, procedures which would give such suspended persons an opportunity to be cleared and re-instated.

A formal company statement of policy pointed out that General Electric has, in its defense work, fully carried out government security regulations, searched for additional measures, and recommended that the government adopt broader measures.

The statement noted that the present government security program is good in that it keeps "security risk" employees from "classified" work or information. But the statement continued, "The company believes that these procedures are not fully adequate in the present condition of world affairs."

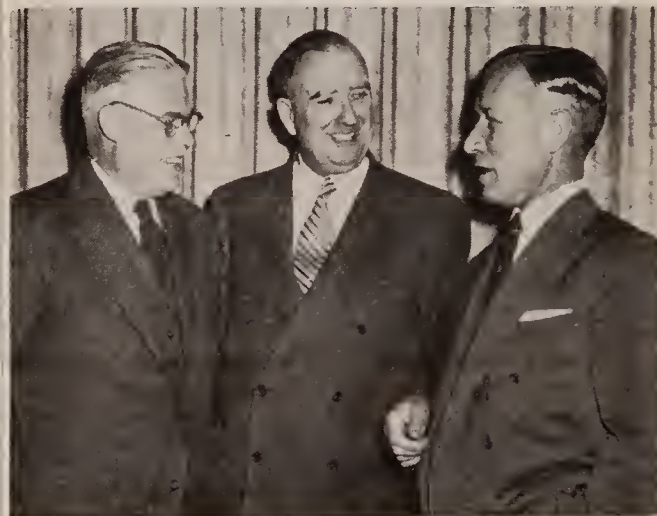

"In the event of a sudden national crisis," the General Electric statement said. "National preparedness requires that all General Electric employees should be free of any real question of disloyalty."

The statement also called attention to "grave doubts concerning the possible danger to the safety and security of company property and personnel whenever a General Electric employee admits he is a communist or when he asserts before a competent investigating government body, that he might incriminate himself by giving truthful answers concerning his communist or his possible espionage or sabotage activities."

"Such conduct by General Electric employees also undermines the confidence of the government and the public that the vital productive facilities of General Electric will be fully and immediately available to the country in time of national crisis. In addition, such employees damage the reputation and good will of the company; they create dissension among fellow employees, subject them to serious embarrassment, and generally impair the morale of all employees," the statement continued. General Electric noted "with great concern the public hearings of congressional committees in which some General Electric employees, though few in number, have refused to answer questions concerning espionage, sabotage, or their communist affiliations."

Effective immediately, General Electric policy provides for discharge of any employee who admits being a communist, spy, or saboteur and for a 90-day suspension, (Continued on page 12)

Here for Business Review

GE PRESIDENT CORDINER chats with (l-r) Robert Paxton, executive vice president, and H. A. MacKinnon, vice president, during his visit in Fort Wayne this week. The General Electric executive and other company officials were here conducting the fall review of business operations in the Fort Wayne departments.

Red Cross Offers Employees First Aid Training Classes

A series of First Aid Training classes is being offered to General Electric employees by the local chapter of the American National Red Cross.

Classes of 30 each will be formed with a leader in charge and the Red Cross will arrange for instructors, classrooms and other items, except textbooks, necessary for instruction.

All employees interested in taking the course should apply for admission to their own department representative. They are: J. C. Bartholomew, Bldg. 19-3, Direct Current Motor and Generator Department; J. P. Orbin, Bldg. 2-2, Hermetic Motor Department; C. E. Slater, Taylor St., General Purpose Component Motor Department; W. H. Sunier, Bldg. 4-6, Specialty Component Motor Department; S. R. Capps, Bldg. 26-2, Specialty Transformer Department; A. C. Lord, Winter St., Small Integral Motor Department.

A complete schedule of the classes appears on page 4.

Col. Chester Lichtenberg, Director of Allen County Civil Defense, emphasized that first aid training has often resulted in saving lives which would otherwise have been lost. It is useful to the trained individual, at home, when on vacation, when motoring and at many other times, he said.

Col. Lichtenberg explained that this type of training will be invaluable in case of a Civil Defense emergency, when everyone who is able will want to help somebody else who has been injured.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden Editor
Barbara W. Hyman Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. A-2441, Ext. 441

Volume 36 Friday, December 11, 1953 No. 48

You Can't Win Unless Your Idea's In

For A Safer Yule

Much has been said and written about the advisability of safeguarding the yuletide season with safe and sane use of Christmas trees and lighting.

But we tend to neglect safety when it comes to selecting the toys and playthings the younger generation in our families will surround themselves with during this joyous time.

From toddlers to teen-agers, there is an ever-present danger of maiming or serious injury resulting from giving many of today's Christmas toys to those who don't understand them.

The most widely publicized hazards are toys with which explosives or poisons may be concocted. Careless use of these has left its mark on many a youngster.

Sharp-edged toys may cause serious lacerations and infections. Knives and similar sharp implements purchased to gladden the hearts of our "tots" may turn an otherwise happy season into a time of remorse.

There is also the hazard which accompanies toys made of glass. The danger in this instance is obvious.

By all means give the youngsters toys, but use care in selecting these gifts so that they go to those for whom they are suitable. Keep in mind that "it's better to be safe than sorry" this Christmas.

Department of Justice Issues Caution on Kidnap Perils

EDITOR'S NOTE: We have been requested by the Department of Justice to cooperate in promoting a current campaign to educate parents and others in the matter of protecting children from kidnapping.

The following article contains excerpts from material prepared by J. Edgar Hoover, Director of Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Since September 28, 1953, when six-year-old Bobby Greenleas fell victim to a ruthless kidnapping plot, the attention of the Nation has been focused upon the kidnap threat.

Four Protective Measures

Because schools are charged with the care of millions of children throughout a great part of the year, each education system should establish and enforce stringent protective measures. These measures doubtless will vary from community to community, but they should include at least the following basic rules:

1. Whenever possible before releasing a child to anyone except his parents during the regular school day, a teacher or administrative official should telephone one of the child's parents or guardians for approval.

2. When parent telephones a request that a child be released early from school, the identity of the caller should be confirmed before the child is permitted to leave. If the parent is calling from his home, the school can verify his request by a return telephone call. In the event the telephone call is not being made from the child's residence, the caller should be asked intimate questions about the child. These questions might include the child's date of birth, the courses he is studying, names of his teachers and classmates, and similar facts which should be known to his parents.

3. Faculties of schools should be alert to observe suspicious persons who loiter in school buildings and on the surrounding grounds. If such persons cannot readily provide a logical explanation for their presence, the police should be notified immediately. The identity and a description of all such suspicious persons should be obtained.

4. Schools, as well as parents and youth agencies, should take steps to make sure that adult supervision is provided in school and recreational areas.

Cites Parents' Responsibilities

The responsibility of parents, however, greatly surpasses that of public and private institutions. As instructors in the world's greatest classroom, the parents' have the obligation of teaching their children the fundamental rules of self-protection. Specifically, children should be instructed to:

1. Travel in groups or pairs.
2. Walk along heavily-traveled streets and avoid isolated areas where possible.
3. Refuse automobile rides from strangers and refuse to accompany strangers anywhere on foot.
4. Use city-approved play areas where recreational activities are supervised by responsible adults and where police protection is readily available.
5. Immediately report any one who molests or annoys them to the nearest person of authority.

6. Never leave home without telling their parents where they will be and who will accompany them.

7. Loudly cry for help if a stranger attempts forcibly to detain them.

Precautionary Measures

Other precautionary measures which parents should employ are:

1. Make certain that outside doors, windows and screens are securely locked before retiring at night.

2. Keep the door to the child's room open so that any unusual noises may be heard.

3. Be certain that the child's room is not readily accessible from the outside.

4. Never leave young children at home alone and unprotected and be certain that they are left in the care of a responsible, trustworthy person.

5. Instruct the children to keep the doors and windows locked and never let in strangers.

6. Teach the children as early as possible how to call the police if strangers or prowlers hang around the house or attempt to get in.

7. Keep the house well lighted if it is necessary to leave the children at home.

8. Avoid obvious indications that you are not at home. Opened garage doors and newspapers left outside the house are obvious indications that you are away from home and that your children may be inside unprotected.

9. Instruct servants not to let strangers in the house.

10. Do not advertise family finances or routines. Kidnapers frequently have their victims under surveillance for several days prior to the abduction, so that they may acquaint themselves with the family's habits.

If Child Is Kidnaped

Whenever a kidnapping occurs, it is essential that the victim's family immediately initiate action to effect the safe delivery of the victim. This can best be accomplished when the family of the victim carries out the following suggestions:

1. Telephone the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The telephone number of the nearest FBI office is listed in the front of each telephone directory; the emergency telephone number at FBI headquarters in Washington is National 8-7117. The complainant should be prepared to furnish in an orderly fashion all facts relating to the disappearance of the victim.

2. Maintain absolute secrecy and do not permit any of the facts regarding the kidnapping or demands for ransom to be known to anyone outside the immediate family except the investigating officers.

3. Do not handle letters or communications demanding the payment of ransom. Turn these over to the trained investigators as soon as possible.

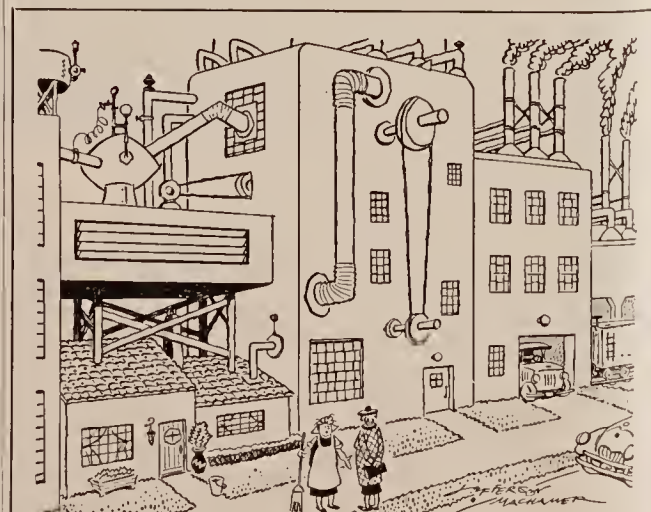

4. Neither touch nor disturb anything at the scene of the crime. Minute particles of evidence which are invisible to the naked eye may be destroyed.

5. Be calm and strive to maintain a normal routine around the home and office if possible.

6. Place full confidence in the law-enforcement officers who are investigating the kidnapping. In addition to obtaining photographs and a complete description of the victim, it is essential that law-enforcement officers have all facts relating to the personal habits, characteristics and peculiarities of the victim.

When kidnappings occur the first concern of the FBI and other law-enforcement agencies is always the safe return of the victim.

Of facts about money,
This is the worst,
To make it last
You must make it first.

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

"It all started with his bringing a little work home evenings...."

Emmet Mills to Supervise Production in Section 401

The appointment of J. Emmet Mills as supervisor of production in Specialty Component Motor Section 401 has been announced by Robert L. Spittler, superintendent of Section 401.

In 1923, Mr. Mills came to the company and entered the receiving section. Later, he went into raw material work and in 1925 became supervisor of the Bldg. 6-B sub-store.

After entering production work in 1927, Mr. Mills became a clerk and later went into renewal parts as an edit clerk. In 1940 he became supervisor of the regional warehouse. Last year he was named inventory control specialist in the Specialty Component Motor Department and had this position until his present appointment.

Mr. Mills is a member of the Supervisors Club and the Quarter Century Club. The Mills, who live at 2506 S. Harrison St., have one son, James, who is serving with the U. S. Army in Korea, and another son, Robert, who is a messenger here.

J. Emmet Mills

13 GE Firemen to Get Ten-Year Service Pins

Thirteen 10-year service pins will be presented at the GE Volunteer Firemen's Association banquet Tuesday, Dec. 15. The annual banquet will begin at 6 p.m. in Bldg. 16-2 dining room.

Dr. Tennyson Guyer will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Dr. Tennyson Guyer will be the principal speaker of the evening. In addition to the 13 men who will receive service pins, 175 other members of the organization have been invited to the event as well as 20 retired members and other guests.

"Ohio's Ambassador of Good Will," Dr. Guyer builds his speeches around fun, faith, and philosophy. His past experience includes work as a youth supervisor, bell hop, caddie, circus performer, school teacher, city mayor, and church administrator. At present, he is executive assistant and public relations man for the Cooper Tire and Rubber Company and has a weekly radio program in Findlay, Ohio.

ELEX THANK-YOU

Members of Elex Club wish to thank every employee who contributed to the club's collection for needy families, Irene Meyers, adviser, announced today. "We appreciate your kindness in giving to this very worthy need. Through your contributions, you will bring a merrier Christmas to many," Miss Meyers stated.

Being house-broken these days probably means you're buying one.

Elex Members! Here's How To Attend Christmas Party

Wednesday, Dec. 16 is the last day to make reservations for the Elex Club Christmas party Sunday, Dec. 20. The party will include attending the Ice Capades show at the War Memorial Coliseum and a pre-show party in the Coliseum's exhibition hall.

Reservation tickets may be secured from contact girls for 50 cents per person. The yuletide meeting is open to members only. Those attending the meeting, which opens at 6 p.m., are asked to observe the following procedure upon arriving at the Coliseum:

1. Present Elex membership card at door of exhibition hall.
2. Receive regular Ice Capades admission ticket and get membership card punched.
3. Exchange reservation ticket for Elex Christmas gift and secure refreshment ticket (This ticket entitles member to free refreshments at the concession stands).

All members attending are asked to be certain to take their membership card along, president Voyce Brumbaugh stated. Ice show tickets will be given out as soon as girls arrive after 6 p.m. No tickets will be distributed after 8 p.m.

There will be an entrance marked "Elex" and this should be used by members as they enter the building.

Special coliseum buses will run from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. They will depart from the bus stop in front of Fishman's store on Calhoun St. After 6:30, the buses will begin running on their regular schedule to the coliseum.

A variety of gifts and items for the holiday season have been received by Elex and are on sale at their Corner Cupboard counter in the Bldg. 8-1 Employee Store, Taylor St. women's activities office, or from contact girls. These include a shipment of mistletoe which is sold in packages for 25 cents per package.

Other new items on sale by the club include tins of chocolates, boxes of cookies, and pails of candy, teddy bears, and bows for packages.

Driving up to the house to deliver the family's 11th baby, the doctor almost ran over a duck.

"Is that your duck out there?" he asked.

"It's ours, but it ain't no duck. It's a stork with his legs wore down."

Aerialist Duo Booked as Fourth Act For GE Club Kiddies Christmas Show

The Tiltons, an accomplished aerialist duo, have been booked for the GE Club Kiddies' Christmas show, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 19 and 20. This is the fourth and final act scheduled for the two-day 1953 annual event.

The acrobatic team includes flying, twisting, somersaults in mid-air, and comedy antics in their performance. Their professional experience includes appearances at theaters and fairs throughout the country.

The other three acts booked for the holiday show are Happy Harrison's Thoroughbreds, delighting small fry with the clever antics of well-trained dogs; Boh King and his three wooden pals present an entertaining ventriloquist act; and Chester Tunis, who gives his audience comedy musical novelty impressions.

Tickets are free of charge to employees for children in their immediate families. To secure tickets, employees should present their 1953-54 GE Club membership card at the GE Club desk, Taylor St. employment office, or to any of the 17 members of the entertainment committee. Tickets are now available.

A total of six performances have been slated. Saturday, Dec. 19 shows will begin at 10 a.m., 1, 3, and 5 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 20 programs will get started at 2 and 4 p.m.

In addition to the professional entertainment, Santa Claus will greet the kiddies and treats will be given each child attending at the close of each performance.

Proceeds from vending machines located in the three Fort Wayne plants make possible the presentation of entertainment program at the GE Club

THE TILTONS

Fred Waring Returns to TV Sunday For Two Special Christmas Programs

Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians return to the CBS-TV network this Sunday, December 13, after a four-week concert tour. The program will be the first of two special Christmas telecasts and will feature two outstanding production sequences which have proved extremely popular in past years.

In one sequence, the famous puppets of Bill and Cora Baird will appear in an enchanting musical adaptation of Clement Moore's poem "Twas the Night Before Christmas," with music supplied by the Fred Waring glee club and orchestra. This famous children's verse was set to music ten years ago by Harry Simeone of the Fred Waring staff and has been one of Fred's favorites ever since.

The other principal feature will be an adaptation of the ancient French legend of "Our Lady's Juggler," the touching story of a humble juggler who watches sorrowfully as well-to-do noblemen place costly offerings before a statue of the Blessed Mother at Christmas. Ashamed because he is unable to afford a gift, the little juggler in desperation rushes to the altar with his only possible offering—his talent, and begins to perform his juggling act before the statue. Indignant at such brashness, the noblemen rush forward to stop him but are suddenly frozen in their tracks as the statue slowly comes to life, smiles, and blesses the ragged urchin beneath her.

The half-hour program, 8 to 8:30 p.m., WKJG-TV, will be rounded out with a number of Christmas carols performed in traditional Fred Waring style.

Engineers Club Plan Yule Party for Dec. 17

Members of the Fort Wayne Engineers' Club will entertain their wives and sweethearts at a Christmas party Thursday, Dec. 17, at the Rhythm Ranch.

From 8 p.m. until midnight music will be furnished by Everett Tinkle and the Bel-Aire quintet and vocalist. A program of entertainment has been planned and refreshments will be available.

Admission is by 1953-54 membership card. Members who don't have these cards should see their contact men or pay their dues at the door the evening of the event.

General Electric contact men are Dick Shultz, Bldg. 20-2, Ext. 2511, and Forest Carlson, Bldg. 4-6, Ext. 752.

Dude Ranch Guest (to Indian guide): "How come you ride, Chief, but your wife walks?" Indian: "She no gottum horse."

New Enclosed Clamped Core Ballast Now in Production at Danville Plant

A new enclosed clamped core ballast currently in production at Danville has been announced by the Ballast Department. The new product is the first of its kind in the industry to be given unrestricted approval by Underwriters' Laboratories.

It incorporates features of lower cost, higher quality, less weight, and substantial improvement in noise quality.

Designed specifically for use on small fluorescent fixtures with 14-, 15-, and 20-watt fluorescent lamps, the new ballast can be applied to signs also where encased, compounded units have been used previously.

The new unit has no Underwriters' "suitability of enclosure" limitations. It is approximately 10 per cent lighter, 25 per cent shorter, and between 15 and 20 per cent less expensive than the ballasts it replaces. Singly or in combination it succeeds nine ratings in three sizes.

The enclosed clamped core ballast represents a modification of previous types where core and coil construction was in the open and consequently subject to enclosure restrictions and the ensuing need in some cases for mounting with a metal backplate. The new design completely encloses the ballast coil without substantially increasing ballast bulk or weight.

Each of the new units is equipped with a universal mounting clamp with mounting ears on both side and bottom to allow installation at the most convenient place in the fixture. Slot-shaped holes are provided to give a wide choice in location of fixture mounting holes.

Partizan Slates Holiday Luncheon

Tuesday, Dec. 15, members of the Partizan Chapter of Elex will conduct their Christmas meeting. The Lookout Room at Baer Field will be the scene of a holiday luncheon, which is slated to begin at 12:30 p.m.

Today is the deadline for securing reservations for the luncheon. Reservations should be made with members of the telephone committee. Members will have a gift exchange at the meeting and they will receive yuletide gifts from Elex also.

Hostesses assisting with arrangements for the meeting are Marie Hummel, Edna Fletcher, Agnes Schlotter, and Martha Wedler.

Squares to Hold Children's Party

GE Squares and their wives will entertain the younger set at a Christmas party Friday, Dec. 18, Val Rowan, Bldg. 4-6, chairman of the event, announced this week.

The Squares hall will be the scene of the kiddies' party which will begin at 7:30 p.m. Children of all members are invited to attend. The program will include color cartoon movies, which will

Art Museum Now Features 'Christmas Story in Art'

The second Christmas Story In Art exhibition is currently on display at the Fort Wayne Art Museum. Opening Nov. 29 and continuing until Dec. 28, the display includes works of artists and craftsmen pertaining to the theme.

Organized around incidents surrounding the birth of Christ, the exhibit groups works of art from 17 museums and art dealers throughout the country according to the following subjects: Annunciation, Nativity, Adoration, and Flight into Egypt.

The Christmas tree and its decorations are the subjects of an exhibit in Gallery 1. Katchina dolls are on display in Gallery 11.

This year's exhibit is the second of its kind organized by the Art Museum and was brought about due to the success of the first display last year.

Included among the variety of works by artists and craftsmen are paintings both oils and water colors, dolls, books, needlepoint lace, woodcuts, plaques, bronze statues, engravings, and etchings.

Open free of charge to the public as a Christmas gift from the museum, the display may be seen daily from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and Sundays from 2 until 6 p.m.

The Fort Wayne Art Museum is located at 1202 W. Wayne St.

A young couple asked the pastor to marry them immediately following the Sunday morning service. When the time came, the minister arose to say, "Will those who wish to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony please come forward?"

There was a great stir as 13 women and one man approached the altar.

Loveland Elected ISPE President

Robert P. Loveland

Robert P. Loveland, Bldg. 4-6, was elected president of the Anthony Wayne Chapter of the Indiana Society of Professional Engineers this week. The election took place at the chapter's annual meeting Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Loveland is group leader in the small aircraft motors section of the Specialty Component Motor Department.

Other newly-elected officers include Gilbert E. Jamieson is manager of DC product engineering in the Direct Current Motor and Generator Department.

Rad P. Cheesman, Bldg. 8-1, was named to the board of directors. He is manager of service engineering.

Other new officers and board members are Frank E. Walling, secretary-treasurer, and Don H. Lessig, Warsaw.

start at 7:45 p.m., and the singing of Christmas carols. Santa Claus will be on hand to greet the young ones and give them free gifts. Refreshments will also be served.

Assisting the chairman with arrangements are: Mrs. Gerald Doden and Mrs. Val Rowan, in charge of securing gifts; Lee Rademaker, Bldg. 26-2, obtaining movies; Arthur Pierson, Taylor St., securing Santa; Robert Rowe, Bldg. 16-3, tree and decorations, and Howard Brust, Bldg. 31-2, pianist.

UNCLAIMED KEYS lost around the Fort Wayne plants during the past few years are viewed by Roy Weick, plant protection lieutenant, before they are discarded. Moral: If you lose your keys, check with the receptionist at Broadway where all lost and found items are reported. You might find them there.

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Just in case Santa should forget her, Alice Flaugh bought herself a radio to set under the Christmas tree. . . . Ummm! Doesn't Marcie look cute with her new hair-do? . . . Special note to Maxine Root. The girls said there surely was lots of room at the mirror this past week. Maxine was on her third week's vacation. . . . Glen Archibald has decided it's profitable to drink milk. For 20 cents he received two cartons of milk and a dime. I'm not too good at arithmetic, but I know that's a bargain. . . . Elmer Harshman was having trouble with his TV set. He called the repair man out to fix it as his warranty hadn't expired. After the set was fixed, the repair man presented Elmer with the bill. Elmer refused to pay and after a few harsh words, the repair man left, but not before he called Elmer a "tightwad." The moral of the story is: If you see Elmer buying a nickel candy bar from the vending machine, he is only trying to convince himself he isn't a "tightwad." . . . Sorry. Slipped up again. Belated birthday greetings to Herbie Meyer and Ed Glenwith. Now we have a bunch who have a (all together) "Happy Birthday," this week: Thelma Kouder, Maurice Moffitt, Earl Mossburg, Frank Serovy, Paul Clark, Charles Gaufman, and Victor Weigand. . . . What's the matter with Les Hubbard's basketball team. They can't win for losing. They're surely not playing like last year's champs. . . . If you have noticed the yawning and the red eyes of the office force recently, it's because we have some new TV owners, namely, Harold Ely, Lem Clouse (hey, Lem, Five Points bought one, too), Perry O'Neill (now the twins can really have fun), Ray Finton, Jane Laurent, Barb Smith, and Merle Kessler. . . . Good luck to Bob Spitzer on his new assignment. . . . C. B. Smith and family spent the weekend in Iowa visiting his folks, who returned with him to spend the winter in Indiana. That explains why he was paper hanging all summer. . . . Bill Crain also visited his folks in Kentucky over the week-end. . . . Merle Kessler's son, Mike, celebrated his first birthday, and what a celebration! He had a cake, and from all reports they had cake everywhere. . . . Welcome back to work, Harriet Minch. Have you finished your new home yet? . . . Don't forget the office Christmas party—

WHEN: Tonight, December 11, 1953.

TIME: 8 p.m., till ? ? ?

WHERE: Southwest Conservation Club.

LOCATIONS FOR RED CROSS FIRST AID TRAINING CLASSES

Name	School	Address	Days					Available Time
			Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	5:30-9:00	6:00-10:00	7:00-9:00
Abbott	4341 Smith St.				*		*			*
Adams	3002 New Haven Ave.		*		*		*	*
Bloomington	1305 Marion St.		*	*	*	*	*	*
Forest Park	2004 Alabama				*					*
Hanna	2000 S. Lafayette St.		*		*	*		*
Irwin	3501 S. Anthony Blvd.				*		*			*
McCulloch	2024 Maumee Ave.		*	*	*	*	*			*
Smart	1026 E. Pontiac St.				*		*			*
Study	2414 Brooklyn		*			*		*
Central High	224 E. Lewis St.		*	*	*	*	*		*

Questions—Information Clinic—Answers

WIDOWS CAN RECEIVE HUSBAND'S PENSIONS

QUESTION:

I would like to know why widows can't continue with GE pensions?

ANSWER:

The GE pension plan does have a provision for survivorship option, which permits the widow to continue to receive a pension allowance after the death of her husband. An employee must choose to receive his retirement income in this manner before he retires. Naturally, the amount of the pension is smaller under this option, but it does provide an income for the surviving widow or widower of an employee. Pension Plan booklet Form E. R. H. 22A, Section IX Survivorship option explains this more thoroughly.

If a retired employee who has not elected the survivorship option dies within five years after his retirement, his beneficiary will receive the amount of the annual pension each year for the balance of the five-year period. This is explained in Section X, Paragraph 4 of the same booklet.

IT'S NEWS TO US

QUESTION:

Are either GE or Hotpoint in the process of manufacturing washer-dryer combinations? If so, when will they be available for purchase?

ANSWER:

We have checked with our distributor here and he has no information at present regarding a combination washer-dryer. You can be sure that if any appliance of this kind should appear on the market, you would hear about it very quickly through national advertising.

HOW TO APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

QUESTION:

I would like more information about General Electric scholarships, when and whom to apply.

Also information concerning the borrowing of money from the Education Fund to attend college. My daughter graduates next June.

ANSWER:

Applications for scholarships and/or loans should be submitted on prescribed forms which may be obtained from your department employee relations manager. All applications for loans are considered for all or any of the scholarships for which they may be eligible and no further action is necessary on the applicant's part to receive such a consideration. Selection of recipients is made on the basis of character, scholastic standing, financial need and general merit.

Applications for scholarships must be submitted on or before the first day of April prior to the fall term of the school year for which the scholarship is desired.

To be eligible for an educational loan, an employee must have one year of service with the company. No employee may have loans of more than $300 outstanding at any one time, and repayment begins immediately by payroll deduction from the earnings of the employee. Interest at the rate of 3 per cent a year is charged on any unpaid balance and repayment must be made within a 12-month period.

CENTRALIZED DECENTRALIZATION

QUESTION:

How do you explain the decentralization at Fort Wayne plants when extreme centralization is going forward at the new Appliance Park in Louisville?

ANSWER:

Notwithstanding the consolidation of major appliances in one plant community, it is a fact that the Major Appliance Division is a highly decentralized operation—just as decentralized as the operations of the Component Products Division at Fort Wayne.

The Major Appliance Division is comprised of five separate and distinct operating departments—the same as Fort Wayne. The activities of each are directed by a general manager who is held responsible for the successful operations of his department. He has a manager of marketing, engineering, and manufacturing on his staff and has complete authority to run his department so that it is a successful operation. Each operating department is assigned a distinct major appliance to produce and each department occupies its own building.

Economic reasons dictated the selection of one plant community for the manufacture of major appliances. Basically, major appliances consist of sheet metal, a motor, and a control mechanism. These parts are alike in nature and obviously savings in the purchasing and transportation of materials could be realized if major appliances were located at one plant community. Such savings would help us to remain competitive in a highly competitive business.

Appliance Park will also enable tribution of our appliances to deal-us to do a better job in the dis-ers and distributors. We will be able, for example, to utilize an entire freight car for the shipment of what we call "a mixed carload" of appliances; that is, so many washers, dryers, refrigerators, etc. This is an advantage to our many dealers. Previously this was not possible because appliances were manufactured in widely scattered plant locations.

These are just two of many of the sound reasons why it was felt necessary to locate major appliances in one plant community.

But again, it is important to remember that notwithstanding the transfer of the Major Appliance Division's operations to Louisville and the construction of Appliance Park, the division is highly decentralized in all areas, and we are no different from Fort Wayne operations in that respect.

INFORMATIVE MEETINGS CHANCE TO EXCHANGE INFORMATION

QUESTION:

Why don't you discontinue the informative meetings? Haven't they served their purpose and don't they take a lot of the foremen's time in preparation?

ANSWER:

The program of foremen's informative meetings was started in Fort Wayne in 1949. We hope that these meetings give both employees and their supervisors an opportunity to talk over their mutual problems. We think that most people taking part in them have been enthusiastic over the program.

Everyone should benefit from these round table contacts in informative meetings, since they lead to better understanding. Knowing each other more personally develops confidence, and new ideas and suggestions can be given the time and attention they deserve.

These meetings provide a means for employees and their supervisors to express their individual points of view and talk out and ask questions which concern themselves or their group. They also provide a means to clear up rumors and to establish and improve cooperation and teamwork within the group or between groups.

When all these advantages are taken into consideration, it seems that the time spent by a supervisor in preparation is time well spent.

RETIREMENT PLAN TRIES TO BE FAIR

QUESTION:

I would like more information about women retiring at age 60, if they must retire at 60 and not fortunate enough to have 15 or more years but have 10 or more years, why not give them the same retirement pay according to their services as you do 15 or more years. As it is hard for them to go out and get a job at that age which they have to do as they do not get their social security until 65.

ANSWER:

The Pension Plan is set up to provide a retirement income in proportion to the years of service and wages during that service. It is unfortunate that you did not join the company early enough in your career to work 15 or more years, but I think you can understand that it would certainly not be fair to give an employee with ten years of service the same retirement income as one who had worked and paid into the plan for 15 or more years.

As for women retiring at 60 instead of 65, this question was answered in the Information Clinic (GE NEWS, Nov. 13). It was pointed out that it may be an old-fashioned idea that women should have the best of things including the privilege of retiring early, but most women wouldn't want to change the part of the retirement plan which sets their retirement age five years ahead of the men at the same pension as a man with the same length of service and earnings.

DITTIES FROM DISTRIBUTION

by Ruth Sorg

SHIPPING: Happy Birthday Greeting to Max Biggs next Wednesday on his birthday. . . . Vera Poe came in all excited this morning. She was Maid of Honor at her girl friend's wedding last night. . . . We will say, so long, to Audrey Hoelle today, who is leaving us to take up her new duties as a housewife. . . . George Ingall moved his family to Fort Wayne last week from Schenectady, New York. . . . Wayne Jones is spending his two weeks vacation working at home. . . . Millie Kouder came back from lunch with a bunch of mistletoe. Everybody had better watch out.

MAILING: Welcome aboard to Jerry Berger and Conrad Meeks, the new mail boys. . . . Frank Goetz came in this morning looking refreshed after a week's vacation.

Girls, when they went for a swim Once dressed like Mother Hubbard.

Now, they have a better whim. . . They dress more like her cupboard.

RETIREES FROM COMPANY—Benjamin H. Brown (seated), an employee of the Fairfield Ave. plant since 1942, retired last month. Left to right congratulating him are Henry A. Snider, Richard Didrick, and Carl Miller. Mr. Brown has been working on repairing field return conditioning units.

GENERAL ELECTRIC INFORMATION CLINIC

L. C. SWAGER, Manager
Employee and Plant Community Relations
Bldg. 18-2

I would like more information about.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

It is not necessary to sign your name. If your question is of general interest, it will be answered in the NEWS. If not, we will send you a personal answer, providing you have signed your name and address.

Signed.....

Location.....

Go E people in the NEWS

Walt
Durst
BLDG. 6-2

— AT PRESENT
HE HOLDS AN OFFICE IN THE LOCAL MEXICAN BORDER
WAR VETS
ORG-ANIZATION
!

Bob
Benz
BLDG. 19-5

BOB IS PRESIDENT
OF THE NORTHWEST
COMMUNITY ASSOCI-ATION

Virgil
Shane
BLDG. 6-2

— HEADS THE ZETA
OMICRON CHAPTER, PHI
DELTA KAPPA FRATERNITY

RETIREES FROM GE—Lena C. Schaper (wearing orchid) says good-by to her job at GE as she leaves on retirement, after 10 years of service with the company. Charlie Rice, Verna Kohart and Bertha Furge congratulate her on the occasion. Mrs. Schaper had been employed in Bldg. 17-3, since she first joined the company.

by SCIENTISTS OF THE G.E.
RESEARCH LABORATORY

Q. What is a "googol"?

A. This is a term introduced by a Columbia University mathematician, Dr. Edward Kasner, to designate the number one followed by a hundred zeros. It was suggested by his nine-year-old nephew. At the same time, he proposed another term, the "googolplex," which is one followed by a googol of zeros. Dr. Kasner has said that there would not be room to write this number down on a blackboard as big as the Earth, or even on one reaching from here to the stars.

Q. Would it be possible for a planet to be at the center of a solar system, as the Sun is at the center of ours?

A. Hardly. Astronomers consider a planet, in general, as a relatively small, dark body, revolving around a star, so if a body were at the center of a system, by definition it would not be a planet. However, it is believed that a star may eventually cool off, ending up as a dark object, and it is conceivable that one of these might be at the center of a planetary system.

Q. What kind of glass is used to break white light up into the seven colors?

A. Any kind of glass, if it is transparent, may be used to break white light up into a spectrum, provided the glass is formed into a prism. The prism bends the rays of light passing through it, and some colors are bent more than others. Red is bent the least, and lies at one end of the spectrum, which then runs through orange, yellow, green, and blue to violet, which is bent the most and occupies the other end. These are the six colors generally recognized today. Isaac Newton listed seven, placing indigo between violet and blue, but this is no longer considered a separate part of the spectrum.

Q. How bright is the light from a firefly?

A. One recent series of measurements indicated that it would take between 1000 and 2000 fireflies, flashing simultaneously, to illuminate a room as brightly as the light from a single candle. Of the insects measured, the average emitted six one-thousandths of a lumen, which is a standard unit of light measurement. Even the brightest only produced about nine one-thousandths of a lumen. In contrast, a 60-watt inside-frosted electric incandescent lamp produces 835 lumens.

THE GRAPEVINE BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bennett, who celebrated their 14th wedding anniversary on December 1. . . . Every afternoon at 3:30, Bill Schwise would hurry home and get out all the toys that Mrs. Schwise had purchased for all their friends' children for Christmas. Finally, in desperation, Mrs. Schwise bought Bill a TV set, thinking it would be cheaper than to replace the toys. . . . The fellows in Bldg. 4-1 had a little get-together Friday night. A good time was had by all, especially Tex Dowell, who went home with most of the money. . . . We are sorry to hear that Ernest Riley was injured in an auto accident while on his vacation. . . . Employee of the week: Alfred Oelfke. Al was born in Napoleon, Ohio and now lives at Rome City. He came to GE in 1941 and at present time is a leading operator in Bldg. 4-1, Group 19A, second shift. Al is married, has one daughter, and one granddaughter. He spends his leisure time going to Albion, where he helps his son-in-law on the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Oelfke are members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

"Why in the world did you ever write a policy on a man 98 years old?" asked the indignant insurance inspector.

"Well," explained the new agent, "I looked in the census report and found only a few people of that age die each year."

Prominent GE Inventor Dies in Boston Sunday

A former Fort Wayne plant employee, Chester I. (Chet) Hall, 65, died Sunday, Dec. 6, in Boston. He had retired from the Schenectady plant in February this year.

Holder of 139 company patents, Mr. Hall joined the company in 1913 and went to Bldg. 19-4 as an engineer. In 1928, he left GE to found the Hall Electric Heating Co. in Philadelphia. He served as president of this firm until 1934 when the company was dissolved. Then he returned to General Electric and the Schenectady plant where he remained until retiring.

Some of Hall's developments include the pop-up toaster, electrical phonograph turntable, automatic engine thermostat, and power station demand meter. He was holder of the Charles A. Coffin award. His latest work had been perfecting relay systems for both the Navy and Air Force.

In the March, 1953, issue of "The Monogram," Mr. Hall was honored as the GE personality of the month. The article described him as a man of "ingenuity, originality, creative ability, and an inquiring mind in many fields of human knowledge."

The article also points out that while at Fort Wayne, in the 1920's, Mr. Hall held the small bore championship of Indiana and was very active in the gun club.

A 1910 graduate of the University of Illinois, he became general manager of the Chicago Electric Meter Co. and Minerallac Co. one year after graduation.

WIN as much as $25,000

think suggest act

GE SUGGESTION PLAN

Employee & Plant Community Relations

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

RACONTEUR SECTION 114 TAYLOR ST. by Mary Whitelock

Resting serenely on a pedestal in our Tool Room sets a harmless little animal with a white stripe down his back. He is a symbol of defeat for men like Kitchen, Andrews, Minor, Nix, Yarman etc., who failed to score at least one point in a game of euchre. As things go, there will be other names added to this ignominious list in the near future. . . . O. P. Dobler is the proud and happy owner of a new Pontiac. . . . Shirley Clark and family visited relatives in Ohio over the week-end. . . . Since the day that Dorothy Baumgartner sampled the candy and had to buy the can, our Elex sales girl approaches her with caution and well protected samples! . . . Maude Coomer celebrated her birthday last week and was off for two days. . . . Leland Coak who formerly worked in High Frequency Test is back on the old job with friends and co-workers after serving 22 months in the Navy. . . . Ralph McCowen had some excitement last week. A grass fire got started in an empty lot next door and spread quite a ways in the high wind before the fire truck arrived to put it out. . . . We would like to extend our deep sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hess who lost their baby. . . . Art Bear got a TV set and grumbles that his grown-up kids come home and twist the knobs too much. We wonder if Papa Bear isn't the one who messes up the set? . . . John Miles was entertained at a luncheon by his friends Saturday in celebration of his 30th Wedding Anniversary. Congratulations, John. . . . Carl Reynolds is having his house allprettied up for the holidays. The new furnishings are being done by a professional, but Carl is doing the painting himself. . . . Ivan Osterman's mother-in-law has returned to her home after giving Mrs. Osterman a lift with the new baby. Now

LEAVES FOR RETIRED LIFE—Vera M. Fetro displays her many retirement gifts from her friends at GE on her last day of work, as they gathered to wish her good luck in the days of leisure ahead. Miss Fetro has been a GE employee since 1919 when she came to work as an assembler in Bldg. 19-5. She was an electrical tester in Bldg. 4-3 before retiring.

Ivan is Chief Baby-sitter again. . . . See you tomorrow night at the Christmas Party in Waynedale. And don't forget the white elephant gift. Everyone who attends the party is to bring an appropriately wrapped white elephant, defined, as something you have around the house that you could do without. It might be that extra pair of china clippers, an unused bird cage, the passionate tie Cousin Bettlebaum gave you, or the hand painted Australian Wombats that are just gathering dust. But BRING SOMETHING and let's have a good time, hm?

OVER OUR WAY BLDG. 19-1 by Clara Volz

Art Hambrock of Bldg. 31, who happens to be a neighbor of mine, was out with his sled during the first real snowfall we had. Maybe I should explain further that three of his youngsters were on the sled, and Art was doing the pulling. All clear now? . . . Adam Farrell paid us a visit and it surely was nice to see him again. . . . Talking about visitors, Pop Seals came over and we chewed the fat for a spell. Take it easy, Pop, and don't let the fellows work you too hard. . . . Bob Watt is being replaced by Howard Musselman in the mine sweeper section. Good luck to you both. . . . One good turn deserves another, so John Donovan said that he would buy me a cigar. LaFendrich's my favorite, John. . . . Bill Hoelle ran up a 240 score in bowling. He hollers so loud while bowling, that he ends up with a sore throat. This puts a drain on his pocket book, his shelling out for cough drops. . . . Bill Bowling spent the week-end of Thanksgiving in good old Virginia. Bet the home town looked pretty good, eh Bill. . . . Art Braun ordered two feather dusters. What he's going to use them for? I wouldn't have the least idea, maybe stir up a little dust. Clayton Barrick said he thought feather dusters went out with the horse and buggy. . . . Eileen Coy has had quite a bit of misfortune pertaining to her wardrobe. It seems that she has torn two of her skirts on her blankety-blank desk so far. Why don't you bring a hacksaw into work some sweet day, Eileen, then when your boss, Bob Buck, isn't looking give the old desk the works. This way you're sure to get a replacement. . . . To avoid that run down feeling, cross streets carefully.

"In order that people may be happy in their work, these three things are needed: They must be fit for it; And they must have a sense of success in it."—John Ruskin.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS by Alma Elliott

Walter Scherschel is ready to give some competition to Frank Buck. He caught a coon and decided to bring him back alive to show his friends. The coon apparently had other ideas and expressed his unwillingness to accompany Walter by biting him on the leg. . . . Have any refractory windows? Joe Raupfer can fix them. Boys in the Toolroom complained of the cold because a window would not shut. Joe succeeded in shutting it and breaking a nice ventilating hole in it at the same time. The boys still aren't satisfied, although the wind isn't hitting them, just whistling over their heads harmlessly. You can't please everyone, Joe.

Mary Garrard is in practice for Christmas. She hung up her stocking with the sign "Santa, please, Mary" and received a tangerine and some other odds and ends from local Santas. . . . Justine Brown and Mary Leiter would like to express their thanks to the people who contributed to the GE Needy Family Christmas collection.

Congratulations to Vernon Foulks who bowled over a 277 score in a recent game. This was a spare and nine strikes in one game, and helped to give Vernon the high average for his league. . . . Ray O'Keefe has decided that it won't be too difficult to be good until Christmas now. It isn't enough to start, Ray, one must start in time.

Jackie Frey, Accounting, treated the folks in her department to "turtles" on her birthday and did the word ever get around! Co-workers want Clarence Ruegamer and Dick Tholen to know that they will be wished a happy birthday on the 16th and 19th, respectively, and that their treat will be appreciated.

The happy look on Don Strang's face may be explained by the fact that he has brought his family down from Philadelphia and moved into a new home. . . . Best wishes to our latest bride, the former Shirley Starkel. Friends in the Accounting Department presented her with a steam iron for a wedding gift. Shirley now answers to the name of Mrs. Edward Teeters. . . . Al Distler is selling lots on Big Long Lake to fellows in his department. He says he wants to make sure he has good neighbors. . . . Workers in the Engineering Department claim Dexter Marshall is "A Handy Man to Have Around the House", or office, as the case may be. They are willing to match him against any other pencil sharpener installer in the business.

Temporary gauge for testing your age: Do you remember that it was twelve years ago Monday that Pearl Harbor was bombed? What were you doing at the time? Bet the answers range from playing with dolls to baby-sitting with the first grandchild. . . . Dick Fahling spent all day rabbit hunting and saw nary a sign of a cottontail. The next morning he looked from his window to check the snowfall and noticed a lovely criss-cross pattern in his yard, made by the nimble feet of our long-eared friends. . . . The snow evidently appealed to some people, Wayne Bergman helped his kids build a snow man in the yard.

WELCOME TO: Gene Berg, from Bldg. 4-5, Broadway. . . . Willie Steward, a trainee in the Winding School. . . . George Morgan and Agnes Pfeiffer, Marketing additions. . . . Finance newcomers, Ruth Cary and Philip De Prinzie. . . . Eleanor Potter, who has returned after a leave of absence. . . . Irene Stevens, in the Manufacturing Section, and Lucile Gerard in Production. . . . REPORTER'S REPORT: Alma Elliott and her husband have moved into their new home on wheels and are located on Vance avenue now.

RECEIVES LIFE MEMBERSHIP—Ina E. Smith (right) is presented a life membership in the Elex Club by contact girl Mary Zirkle at a celebration honoring Mrs. Smith at her retirement this month. Mrs. Smith first joined General Electric in 1925 as an armature worker in Bldg. 4-5. She was employed in Bldg. 17-3 prior to leaving the company.

SAYS GOOD-BY TO GE—A farewell for Merla R. Miller (left) was held last week by his fellow-workers in General Service at Taylor St. They presented him with a portable power hand saw as a gift. Mr. Miller has been a carpenter with GE since 1932. Congratulating him are Harry Davis (center) and Wallace Howard.

APPRENTICE BROADCAST

by James Schwartz

We saw the apprentice school basketball team in action the other night in a Zollner preliminary game against Tokheim. The boys looked real good in downing the Pumpmakers. The team, under the leadership of Dave Jones, has a four win, no loss record to lead the inter-division league standings. Congratulations, fellas. . . . We wish to extend the welcome mat to Darwyn Herbst, a lad from Hunteartown, who has entered the school on the Machinist-Toolmaker course. . . . Dick Hess sent his mikes over to the checkroom in Bldg. 19-4 for a little adjustment. The mike man figured they had been used for a "C" clamp, but further investigations showed that they must have been run over by a semi. . . . Tom Ahr was seen sporting a pulsating finger the other day. It seems he got it in the way when he closed his car door. Ouch! . . . Bob Gottschall has been nominated as president of the Go To Sleep in Class Club. Much competition is expected for the office. . . . We want to congratulate Bob Hill on receiving the hero award last week. . . . Dick Verhoeven is also to be congratulated on his diligent attempt to turn a super-die with a cold rolled tool bit. . . . Dick Crum and Tim Beitel were in a slight state of confusion the other night. They made a left turn right into the face of six oncoming headlights. It seems they turned into a one-way street the wrong way. . . . We hear that the boys in shop math class are doing extensive research into the life of Dick Tracy. . . . We want to wish a speedy recovery to Wes Craig. Wes was in the hospital the past week-end for a tonsilectomy.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS

BLDG. 22

by George Winans

A fond farewell to Paul Gruber and Frank Bailey and a welcome to George Feltz and Noel Jackson. . . . We were all very pleased to have Adam Farrell back the other week for a visit. Adam looks fine and we understand by his conversation that the climate back East is very invigorating. . . . Mildred Messer is still trying for that TV set. I hear she spends all her spare time down at Walgreen's writing her name on those free coupons for that TV and stuffing them in the box. . . . Dick Motter and Benny Clouse of Bldg. 20 are heading for the big time. I hear by the grapevine that they have been offered a fat contract by Joey Chitwood. . . . Burglars entered Ralph Garrett's home the other evening while he and his wife were away and stole a fruit jar full of money. Ralph says he doesn't mind losing the money so much, but he would appreciate it if the thief returned the fruit jar before next canning season. . . . Officer Tieman and Harold (satchel britches) Smith were both offered the chance to play Santa Claus out at the Reliable, but they were big about it and turned it down. They said the other fellow needed the job worse than they did and therefore, even though each of them had his heart set on it, they would step aside for him. The fact that Santa Claus was supposed to arrive by plane and then bail out in a parachute had nothing to do with it.

GIFTS AT RETIREMENT—William C. Schlie (second from right) admires the gifts he received from his co-workers at his recent retirement party. Mr. Schlie, an inspector in Bldg. 19-1, joined General Electric as a tester in Bldg. 17-1 in 1927. Shown with him (l-r) are Art C. Braun, Kenneth D. Strong, and William C. Holle.

TOOL BITS

BLDG. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

Carl Mosser was required to show himself and his son, Carl, in court last week, but the occasion was a happy one. His son received the rank of Eagle scout. . . . The second shift Bridgeport group has been rolling their own cigarettes lately. The boys think that Art Stahlhut should apply for a job in a candy factory, as the cigarettes he made looked more like candy kisses. . . . We hope Herb Thiele enjoys his trip to Florida, which starts tomorrow on Scott Click's birthday. Scotty says he'll be 39 again. . . . Glenn Camp is the kind of a fellow who doesn't let women upset his life. He worked all day last Saturday and yet had time enough to take part in an important marriage ceremony, his own, at 7 p.m. Congratulations, Glenn. . . . Herb Mennewich found fishing good at the Maumee river last Saturday, catching a 2½-lb. bass and a big crappie. . . . Ed Schafenacker had a wonderful birthday on Friday, receiving a variety of gifts in his candy shower. . . . Donald Martz, who celebrates his 35th anniversary with GE next week, had to rescue his wife when their car stalled downtown. Don hurried to town, made some adjustments to the battery cable, and drove away. . . . We wish John Montgomery, who is leaving, lots of luck on his new job. . . . Kenny Sefton in doing some of his own wiring, removed a ceiling light in their dining room. Everything was okay, until someone found out that the upstairs lights wouldn't work, and Kenny had to call for help. . . . We know that Paul Martin's wife was away and that Paul was going around the neighborhood calling for Peggy. But don't worry, Peggy is the name of their dog. . . . Earl Lenz is proud to be a grandpa again, having received a new granddaughter. . . . Charley Wrisk will never trust Boh Mosshammer after Bob forgot to pick him up and Charley had to walk to work. . . . Del Stickler may be able to trick his chickens into eating sawdust for chicken feed, but he can't trick his wife into building the fireplace fire in the morning. That's a big order, Del. . . . Some weeks ago George Hartman took his boys to a roller skating party. Seeing the kids having so much fun, George decided to try it. Everything went fine until he skated over to the canteen for a root beer. Just as he reached for his money, he lost his balance and flipped backward. His head struck the floor and George was out cold. Later, as he came to, a lady was ready with an aspirin and a glass of water. George accepted them gladly, vowing to leave skating to the younger generation. . . . Everybody is trying to stretch the dollars these days, but we think John Stetler carries it a little too far. One morning at the cafeteria, he not only tried to pay for a cup of coffee with a penny but tried to get back a nickel in change. . . . Do you remember that picture last summer of Estel Kester's boys and their prize lamas? Last week Estel showed five sheep at the International Livestock Show in Chicago, winning two second place and one third place ribbons. One of the lambs in that picture was judged to be the second best ewe lamb in the United States and Canada, just missing the first place position.

SPECIALTY MOTORS

Shipping—Receiving—Order Service
by Mabel Fisher

Welcome Pauline Badman, our new IBM Key Punch Operator. We hope you will like us. . . . Tom Dent and Faye Ann Christlieb are absent because of illness. . . . Ilene Richardson is back to work after a session with a virus. Sure missed you, Ilene. . . . Happy Birthday George Parker, and Enrico Gigli. Viola Haiber and Ruby Flaugh are back with us after mid-winter vacations, lucky people. . . . We understand Viola spent quite a lot of time with Santa Claus at Sears and Roebuck, and that she had a perfectly delightful time riding on the escalators. She says she has

THE NIGHT WIND

by Hazel Davis

Eva Heazlit is having a birthday, Saturday, December 12, and asks everyone to be in to work because she is going to pass the candy, probably on Friday. . . . Edith Schaubert and others say they are so very glad to be back in Section 17, where they really can make out. . . . Wayne Davis took his family to Chicago over the week-end to visit his in-laws. . . . Charley Prine and Homer Huser went hunting over the week-end. Charley bought him some new shiny boots for the trip. . . . We know now why Johnny Sucin went to Albion over Thanksgiving. Just ask Eva Weber. . . . Loretta Day is an ambidextrous bowler, but her lovesickness is affecting her scoring. . . . Frances (Spud) Oberholtzer was really bowling last week (207). . . . Ask Hazel Dilworth to see the new "Nylon stretchee slacks" she bought for Ralph. Cute! . . . Clara Lauer is going to pay Santa Claus a visit Saturday. Better go along and listen, Charlie. . . . Erma Baird is a champion peddler for the Elex. Better the GE should hire her for their sales lady. . . . Eileen Davis was lucky last week. She won a nice TV clock. . . . Margaret Hey lost track of the time last week. Could it be that you were napping, Margaret? . . . Rita Wolf, formerly of the 51 frame assembly, paid us a visit Friday. We were very glad to see you, Rita. . . . Dorothy Hart went to Elkhart Sunday. She did Christmas shopping in Elkhart on Monday.

TRANSFORMER TATTLES

BLDG. 26-4

Dutch Norwalt

Fay Russell finally broke down and went to a hockey game, only to find he had missed a free party at his neighbors. Is Ray burning up! . . . Mildred Fast is looking forward to the Thursday night Piston game, so she can win the pool again. . . . The boys in Bldg. 26-4 extend a hearty welcome to Walt Maukey, who just returned from service. . . . Betty Harkenrider has returned to work after a two-week illness. . . . Harry Keller, after long and diligent conversation with Dutch Norwalt, finally saw the light and traded his Dodge for a new Plymouth. . . . Doc Gordon again went down to see Santa Claus. What did you ask for this time, Doc? A blonde or brunette? . . . Since the close of the Daisy season, Joe Prairie has a new hobby. He is now an ardent TV fan. . . . An unusually loud silence was noticed in the Bldg. 26-4 office Monday and Tuesday. Then it was discovered that Mert (the voice) had lost her voice. . . . Gene Scherer is the proud father of a new baby boy. . . . After being highlighted in the Sunday paper, Big Chief Richard Goller now has a very limited vocabulary. He now answers all questions as follows: "UGH," or "UGH UGH," and "HOW!" . . . Television does different things to different people. Some come in late; others don't get here at all; still others go color blind. For more information contact Bill Mooney, as to why he was wearing one brown shoe and one black shoe. . . . Jim Voirol was asked if he had any items for the GE NEWS. "No," says Jim, "I'm just dead wood around here." . . . Congratulations to Russ James on his recent award. What happened to the party you were throwing? The gang were all out, but no one was home. . . . Maurice Casey took his youngsters up to see Santa Claus. After telling Santa what they wanted, Santa asked, "What does your mother want for Christmas?" "A new TV," says Casey, Jr. "Now what does your daddy want?" asked Santa. "He doesn't want her to have it," said young Casey. "Pretty smart boy," says Casey, Sr. . . . NOTICE: For cut-rate prices in cigarettes, see Doyle Johnson, Roger Bebout dropped his new pack of Luckies. Doyle picks them up and sells them to Tom Freeman for a dime. How much by the carton, Doyle? . . . Dick Goller and Glenn Keck are now going steady again. . . . Congratulations to Tom Schlotter, who has now completed his Boot Camp training. Tom paid us a visit before resuming further duties. . . . After several costly experiments, John St. Clair has decided to leave all further adjustments of his TV set to the service men.

Christmas gifts for all of us. . . . Joan Roesener, one of the girls in telegraph, does right well with Doris Kennedy, acting as "Lady Luck" for her. Joan had the misfortune of losing her billfold with all her Christmas shopping money in it. She was fortunate, though, as she lost it where Doris Kennedy could find it. Thanks to Doris, now Joan can finish her Christmas shopping.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Joseph Sorg, Vaughn Sheets, Edna Harkenrider, Geraldine Black, Minnie Prumm, Edwin Howard, Walter Hein, Coleen Zukon, Mae Lebold, Guy Livingston, Edith Richardson, Dohr Kreig, Mae Haney, Joseph Dennis, Faye Christlieb, James Burns, Naomi Lallow, Fannie Earhart, Eldon Cunningham, Agnes Shane, Elaine Sutter, Edward Murchland, Walter Bilcer, Helen Schneider, Rita Zuber, Glen Lynch, Louella Lahmeyer, Alta Lee, William Billue, Beulah Smith, Paul Kissinger, Raymond Keiffer, and Carol Chalmers.

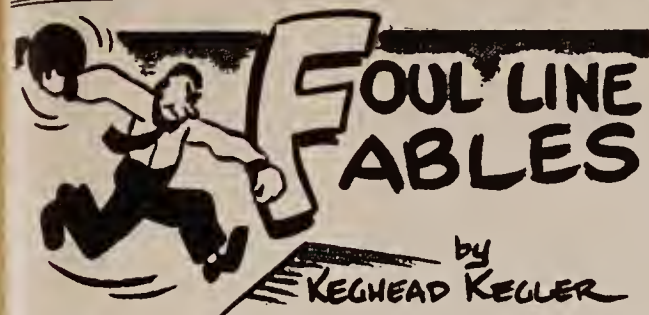

Dismissed from Hospital

Vera Miller, Edwin Howard, John Pearsall, Eva Hoover, Robert Moberly, Lawrence W. Brayton, Jim Alexander, Mary Warren, Dohr Kreig, Elayne Hall, Donna Meyer, Carol Chalmers, Estella Frantz, Ray Keiffer, and Paul Kissinger.

Returned to Work

John Diamond, Virgil Best, Johnnie Foster, Cecil Leslie, Marilyn Miller, John Figley, Kathleen Gephart, Elmer E. Koehlinger, Lester Green, Marianne Miles, Marvin Wicks, Henrietta Jimison, Robert Moberly, Ruby DePew, Ezra Garlinger, Fred Ream, William Maukey, Otto Roehm, Helen Grim, Alda Rybolt, Gordon Ulrich, Mary Biehl, Mabel Binkley, Helen Friddle, Bernice Harnes, Ernest Cutter, Lenora Hanes, Hazel Bennett, Lawrence Woodward, Dallas Kees, Betty Harkenrider, Bessie Johnson, Forest Ulrey, Carl Garner, and Catherine Walters.

"Why all the new sawdust on the floor?" The cowboy asked the bartender of the Wild West saloon. "That ain't sawdust," replied the barkeep, "that's last night's furniture."

In the Interdivision League last Wednesday night, Brouwer's Tire and Battery Team downed Harvey Bros., 2 games out of 3. Transformer won 2 games from the Gutterdusters. Apprentice took 2 games from the Airliners, while the Pindusters took 2 games away from Kinney Koncession's.

Tools won 2 games from Summit City Heating. Old Crown Beer won all 3 games from the Deadheads.

Only three 200 games were rolled. They were by G. Koehl, 206, W. Seidel, 200, and D. Franke, 201.

Brouwer's Tire and Battery Team lead in the team standings with a 27-6 record. Vic Rump leads in the individual standings with a 179-30 average.

Small Motor

In the Small Motor League, it is R and R out in front with 24 wins and 12 losses. In second place, Tommy's Lunch have won 21½, while losing 14½. Koorsen's Painters have won 21 and lost 15, good for the third place spot. George Haggenjos, Sr. kegled 213 and 202; Hank Vance, 215; E. Downie, 212; Tony Koorsen, 210; D. Woodard, 205; Marc Junk, 210, and Joe Kramer, 212 and 212. Tommy's Lunch rolled a 2674 team total, good for third place. L. Welker converted the 4-7-9-10 split and R. DeTurk, the 4-7-10 split.

Ladies Tuesday Afternoon

Team No. 1, with 22 wins and 14 losses, is leading the league. Team No. 6 has won 19 and lost 17. Team No. 2 and 4 tied for third with 17½ wins and 18½ losses. Regina Didion with a 126 average, kegled a big 193 score, good rolling. Dorothy Ramsey scored a 173 and Louise Roberts, 170.

Apparatus League

Team No. 5, 6, and 1 are tied for the top spot, each having won 21 games, while losing 12. Fourth place is held by Team No. 11, with 18 wins and 15 losses. With 17 wins and 16 losses each, Teams No. 12 and 3 are in a tie for fifth spot. Don Greenlee scored a 229; Charlie Townsend rolled a 212. Justine Heaston rolled a new high series for the league, a 640 score, on games of 226, 222, and 192. Paul Wilcoxson converted the 3-5-7-10 split.

Ladies Friday Night

Team No. 5 dropped 3 games, but still lead the league with a record of 24 won and 12 lost. Team No. 3 has won 22 games and lost 14, good for second place. Team No. 1 is in third place with a 20-16 record. Rolling 500 per cent, Team No. 7 have won 18 and lost 18, good for fourth place. Virginia Bowman converted the 5-8-10 split. Team No. 2 kegled a 2461 series, a new high for the league. Tommie Williams rolled a 529 series on games of 124, 209, and 196. Deloris Drewett rolled 511, with games of 168, 180, and 163. Alice Dahman started out with a 204, dropped to 143, but came back with a 164, for a 510 series. Virginia Mollet, with games of 177, 160, and 168, scored a 505 series. E. Vandegrift had games of 189 and 172, with Charlotte Stanford scoring a 186 score.

Ladies Monday Night

Keglerettes are out in front with 30 wins and 9 losses. Just 1 game behind are Holey Rollers with 29 wins and 10 losses. Scatterpins, 27 wins and 12 losses, are in third place. Twisters have won 25 and lost 14, good for fourth place. Donna Lommatsch kegled a 179 score; Ann Lee scored a 172, and D. Brubaker, 170.

Decatur

In the Men's Factory League, Stators and Flanges have each won 21, while losing 15. Office has won 18 and lost 18, while Rotors have 12 wins and 24 losses. H. Shoaf scored a 213, and G. Laurent, 212.

GE Fraternal

A. Appleman really shook the maples and scored a 269 count, which is high single count in the league to date. West End Restaurant is in the league lead with 26½ games won, 12½ lost. B.P.O. Elks have won 24½ and lost 14½, good for second place. Teeple Truck Lines are in third place, with 20½ wins and 18½ losses. G. Laurent kegled a 648 series on games of 233, 193, and 232; E. Bultemeier scored with games of 191, 196, and 233, for a 610 series. With a 220 to start, adding a 179, and finishing with a 204, C. Oetting rolled a 603. T. Laurent kegled a 246; R. Bolinger, 224; R. Mutschler, 210; J. Berry, 207 and 207; Schultz, 208 and 208; E. Faulkner, 213; B. Custer, 203, and R. Macklin, 204.

GE Womens League

Last Frames won 22 and lost 14 to lead the league. GE Office and Hi Spots are tied for second, each with 18 wins and 18 losses. H. Wellman kegled 177 and 188; E. Plasterer, 175; and M. Miller, 172.

GE Orphans

Bernie's Motor Sales won 3 from Team No. 6. Hotel Keenan won 2 from Team No. 2. Team No. 5 won 2 from Ken's Market. Fanny Oberholtzer rolled a 207; Marg Bischoff was next with a 185. Eileen Foor scored 176, Pauline Wright, 171, and Lenora Gillard, 168.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

ATTENTION TV MEMBERS, Jack Wilson is the proud owner of a television set. . . . ANYONE WANT A CUP OF COCOA? Forrie Carlson tried his luck at cooking by making cocoa. Instead of the correct amount of sugar, he put in salt. That is the last time he will make it using salt. He only wasted one quart of milk, plus the salt. Forrie says what got him confused was that both salt and sugar taste alike to him—but not in the finished product. Better luck next time. . . . BOB MEE AND CHAS. KELSO have been advertising the movie they saw last week. The group around these two movie fans asked them the question, "Why was the movie so wonderful?" They have not told us yet. Hummm, we wonder why not. P. S. The movie was "Kiss Me Kate." . . . WELCOME BACK TO Lowell McLaughlin who was away from the office just one week. How did you like the Army, Lowell? We are happy to have you back with us and that's the truth. . . . ALSO HELLO to our new T.E., Glen Shaver, now working with Art Wilson's group. This is Glen's fourth test, having served previous tests at Large Steam Turbine, Large M & G in Schdy., and L & C E-Dev. at Erie. . . . THE NEW FACE YOU SEE in John Willsey's group is Earl Stauffer. Earl comes to us from the Experimental Dept. in Bldg. 17-4. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to W. Berkreiser on December 11 (that's today). We hear you are "expecting" a very special birthday gift and we hope that by the time you see this in print, you'll be passing out cigars and candy. Anyhow, you have a few weeks left to get under the tax exemption deadline date. Hope you make it. . . . FRANK STRANG'S face was a little red when he reported the reason for not ringing in and out one afternoon last week, but I'll bet it wasn't half as red as it was when he discovered the reason for his making a quick trip home for a repair job. . . . SINCERE SYMPATHY IS EXTENDED to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Truha on the recent death of Joe's father in Detroit, Mich. . . . A GALA SHINDIG of the current social season was the impromptu birthday celebration held Nov. 30 for Fred D. Wilson, keeper of the whip in DC and Aircraft Motor Sales. . . . Highlights of this recent whing-ding-doo were the reading of an ode writ' by E. Betty Quine, and the serving of the cake presided over by E. Fred. Other gifts included a spittoon with attached sign, and an "I Am the Boss" headpiece, which Fred intends to don when his slaves get out of hand. . . . Sales certainly will miss good humor man, Tom Dowling, who transfers to Taylor St. after the first of the year. . . . All the reviews are good on Thespian, E. Doc Potter's portrayal of Dowdy in the highly acclaimed Civic Theatre's "Mr. Roberts." . . . Changes in "Who does what in the mine." Joe Jamison is now in Product Planning, his seat in Shaded Pole Motor Section being warmed by Steve Nagy, now off Test. . . . Joan Traxler's husband was hospitalized in Korea with burns, presumably from jet exhaust fumes. . . . HAPPIEST DAY OF THE YEAR for Bob Ryan: The day he watched Alma Mater Iowa knock Notre Dame from the Nation's No. 1 rating. . . . Good to have back Rueben Tschackofsky, who was recently ailing.

Two weeks from today is Christmas.

Its meaning I'm sure we all know.

Let this be our theme the rest of the year,

And all honor and glory be shown.

ATTENTION WOMEN BOWLERS

Bowlers are needed on Tuesday afternoon (3:30) league at GE Club. Anyone who is interested should call Mary Nute, Ext. 646, or Edna Bailey, Ext. 2170.

Browns Take Mixed Doubles On 1333 Total

The second Mixed Doubles Tournament of the bowling season was held last Saturday at the GE Club alleys. Of the 31 teams entered, the Justine and Ray Brown combination came out on top with a 1333 total on games of 425, 501, and 407. They won the first place prize of $20, which was donated by the GE Club. Second place and $15 went to the Tony Koorsen's on a 1247 total.

Others rolling in the money were:

3rd—B. Tucker-J. Davis	1239	$10.00
4th—A. Lee-G. LeFavour	1223	8.00
5th—V. Brumbaugh-O. Conner	1214	7.00
6th—G. Fox-S. Schuster	1201	6.00
7th—M. Hines-E. Barton	1190	4.00
8th—E. Ormsby-G. Ormsby	1183	4.00
9th—E. McClmonds
C. Koester	1181	4.00
10th—P. Honeck-J. Burton	1167	4.00

The next Mixed Doubles will be held Saturday, Jan. 2, with squads at 6 and 8:30 p.m. Entries are now being made at the GE Club or by telephoning Ext. 742.

GE Owls Nose Zollner 40-37

by Howard Colby

The Owls nosed out the Zollner cagers in one of the hardest to get victories of the season, before finally downing them by the score of 40 to 37.

In the first period, the Club team just couldn't get started, with one shot after the other popping out of the basket or rolling around and off the rim.

Carl Wilson hit the only fielder for GE in the first quarter. Wilson added a free throw, and Bailey potted a free throw for a total of 4; while Zollner forged ahead with 9 points at the end of the period.

In the second stanza, GE came back to out-score Zollner 13 to 7. White led the Club with 4 points and Fisher dumped in a field goal and a charity toss. Wilson, Dickey, and Pfafman each haggled a fielder, to give the GE Club a half-time lead of 17 to 16.

In the third period GE seemed to have things going their way as they hettered Zollner by 9 points. Wilson hit two fielders and a free throw; White, a basket and a free throw; Pfafman, a fielder; Gladieux, two foul shots; and Dickey, a foul shot, to end the quarter with GE on top 30 to 21.

In the fourth period Zollner came back to worry the Club by scoring 16 points, while holding them to 10. Gene Etter pushed one through the hoop. Fisher added a fielder and a free throw and Pfafman a two-pointer. Gladieux rang up three charity tosses to wind up a thriller, by the score of 40 to 37.

Next week Eckrich meets Aircraft Gear at 9 a.m.; Indiana Rod and Zollner meet at 10; while GE tangles with Salisbury at 11 a.m.

STANDINGS

	W.	L.
GE	5	0
Indiana Rod	4	1
Zollner	3	2
Eckrich	3	2
Aircraft Gear	2	3
Salisbury	0	5

Local Golden Glovers Top Toledo Trio 2-1

A 2 to 1 victory was marked down for the Fort Wayne Golden Gloves team against a Toledo trio in the fourth amateur fight card at the GE Club Monday evening.

With illness eliminating two scheduled inter-city matches, three separate bouts went off as scheduled. Fort Wayne's Jimmy Reeder put on the best show of the card as he defeated Everett Anderson of Toledo by a TKO in the second round in a featherweight match. Reeder was 1953 GG featherweight champ in the Summit City.

Al Campbell, Fort Wayne's '53 welterweight champ, won a decision from Carl Marshall, Toledo lad, in the second win for the local team.

Toledo's John Washington won the only victory for the visitors in a match with McKinley Davis.

In a heavyweight bout, Johnny Freeman and Odel Billingsley gave a good three-round showing.

Garrett's Johnny McBride won again over Henry Chapman by decision.

A battle royal was conducted again by popular demand and featured two lads from each city.

MIXED DOUBLES TOURNEY

Saturday, January 2

Squads Roll at 6:00 and 8:30 p.m.

At Your GE Club Alleys

THE BIG WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

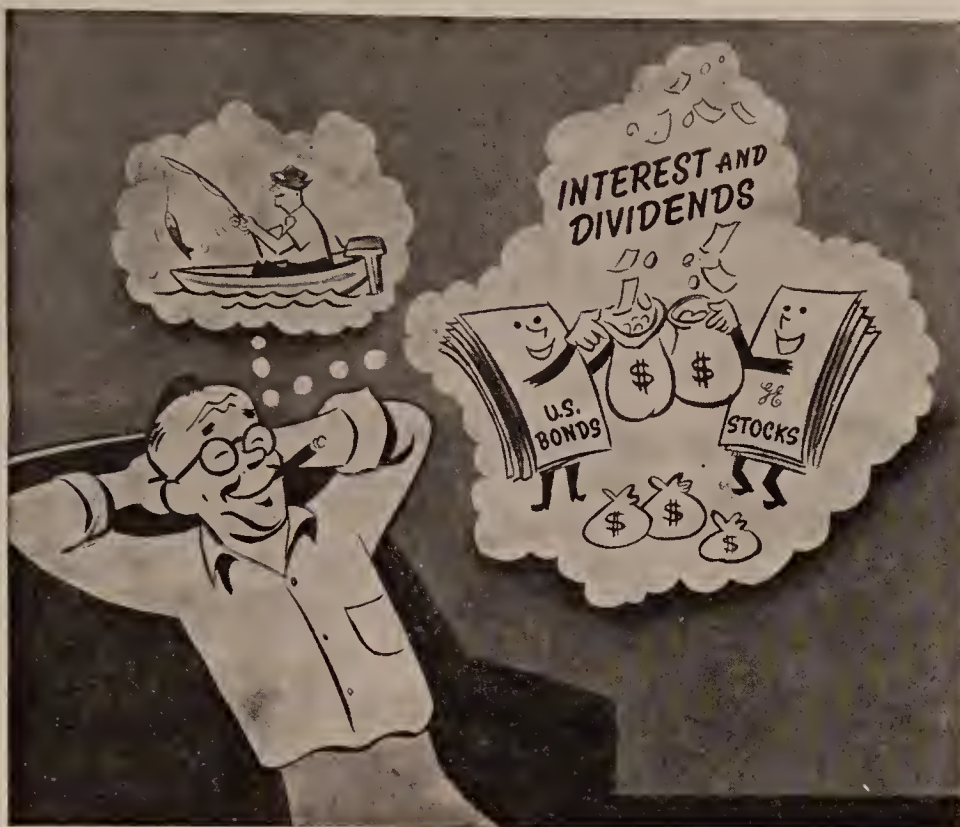

by Rachel Mounsey

Kenny Martin was presented with a large Santa Claus last week. We would like to know who gave it to you, Kenny. . . . We wish Vi Minnich a speedy recovery from her injuries received in an auto accident last Saturday. . . . Phyllis Daswell has a new way to keep your girlish figure. Take gelatin in orange juice twice a day. . . . Ross Strodel had a late dinner Sunday and didn't have any potatoes either. Ross says they blew up in the oven like bombs. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Naomi Longworth and Bill Springer, who celebrated last week. We wish them both many more. . . . Jerry Fredrick visited at home with her folks over the week-end. . . . Welcome to Bill Davis and Mildred Hindenlaug. Group 17, 660 wishes to welcome Grace Poorman. . . . Why does Virginia Reed's face always color up when you mention yellow gold. Is it because Virginia missed seeing it when it came real close to her? . . . Bob Boone would like for his old customers to know that he still has his sled and horse for rent. . . . Welcome back to Delores Ward, who has returned after having a son. . . . Kate O'Conner is getting a little disgusted with her TV set. Every time she leaves the room the reception is perfect. When she comes back, there is nothing but snow.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

Our "We Wish You Happiness" mat is out for Robert Foreman and Margaret McInture, who will say "I do" this evening. . . . Congratulations on the blue-bootied addition at the George and Peggy Rapp Hofrichter home. The mama was a former co-worker. . . . We think that the Hudson of Vic Cartwright must be of a rubber material. At least he tries to drive into the garage with the car doors open. . . . Louie Wyss isn't going to miss a thing on TV. He loads up his plate at mealtime and heads for the living room. . . . We light the candles on the cake and wish a happy birthday to Mary Nuckles, Delores Rickord, Ruth Denton, Ron Offord, and Herb Bricke. . . . Nellie Bellamy was up to see us last week and her life of ease is certainly agreeing with her. She attended the farewell dinner for Ina Smith. . . . The next time, Leona Hollis will go a little easy on cracklins. Now all she wants for Christmas is her front tooth. . . . Congratulations to Margaret Zumbun on her new granddaughter. . . . Glad to see Mary Murphy and Mary Smith ringing in their clock cards again. . . . Luella Masson must have thought it was spring. She started to go home without her coat. . . . Iva Bixler has been doing a few flip flops, getting ready for the Christmas rush ahead. . . . If you want to hear Bertha Furge scream, just show her a mouse. . . . Last week-end Ruth Denton celebrated her birthday by moving into her new home. Maxine Hathaway and Iva Bixler did a good neighbor deed by helping her move. . . . It was a day for boots and Violet Brower wore them, also high-heeled shoes. When she went to get some old shoes to put on, no shoes. Ruth Limenstahl came to the rescue with a pair that Violet tied on. That was the reason she was just shuffling along last week. . . . We extend our sincere sympathy to Jo Alles on the loss of her sister.

RELAX AND SAVE THEN YOU CAN RELAX MORE!

There is no need to worry about where the extra money is coming from for the future. When Bill needs to go to college or the little woman wants new furniture, you'll have the money if you had foresight enough to join the GE Savings and Stock Bonus Plan.

By practising thrift today, tomorrow you'll have money. The money is safely invested in U.S. Defense Bonds. Because you leave the bonds on deposit for a five year period, the Company gives you a bonus in GE stock. What's more, your stock is earning dividends!

Aren't you the smart one? In a short time you'll have the money you need for the things you want and then you can really relax.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

COUNT OFF SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Marguerite Stahl

What was Cozette Walper doing hidden behind the tote boxes? Were you having troubles? . . . Ed Feidler would like to convince the girls that he irons his own shirts, but they still doubt it. . . . Maurice Roe is getting the TV bug. He says that's all people talk about, and if you don't have one, you can carry on a conversation and he likes to talk. . . . Why does Mason Smith lie on the floor with a mirror admiring himself since he got TV? Is he seeing how he would look on the screen? . . . Ed Feidler came to work with his arm black and blue from the kickback of his gun. He couldn't play dog, for he had a cold in his nose and couldn't smell. . . . Have you noticed the change in George Ryan, since he got the new Esquire? . . . Catherine Chilcote spent a few days in Michigan, deer hunting. We wonder if she got the tool shed converted into a trailer. Why was she eating hot dogs at work instead of venison? . . . We are sorry Betty Berch has been ill and hope she will soon be back. . . . Also, we wish Wilbur Gray a speedy recovery. . . . The girls wish to thank Louise Sinn for the pies she has been bringing in. They are delicious and they wonder if she is practicing in order to get married. . . . Herb Richter and his wife had supper in Ossian Saturday night and went shopping in Bluffton. . . . George Marshand was very happy to get his dog back after it was stolen.

TALES from TAYLOR SECTION 113 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

During a very interesting discussion on false teeth and the possibility of their interchangeability, Charlie Clauson wondered why one could not purchase used dentures, then with a little scraping and scratching, make them fit another person. Then they could be soaked in a solution of Clorox to remove all stains, making them look like new. Charles is seriously considering the establishing of a second-hand store dealing exclusively in used dentures. . . . Everett McKee who, by the way, is another nimrod of note, took off recently for the wilds of northern Michigan in quest of deer. When he left the city, he was really loaded down with artillery and ammunition. In fact, he had six cartridge belts, two 45 automatics, and one high-powered deer rifle. Actually, he looked like one of those Russian Cossacks that became famous during the reign of the Czars. . . . Phil (Tiny) Schoppman returning home from work one evening last week and being quite tired out, decided to take a little rest before the evening meal. Entering a dimly lighted room, he sat down upon Grandpa's picture frame, which his wife had freshly painted earlier that day. Friend wife, being quite put out, said to him, "Phil, you big ox! Could you not see what you were doing? Now get busy and repaint that frame." . . . Each morning upon arriving in the parking lot, we notice Lawrence Garton piled up in his car sound asleep. Why he comes so early, we cannot understand. Perhaps his wife, fearing that he will be late for work, skids out of the house extra early. Therefore, it is necessary for him to finish his sleep in the car. We are wondering if he brings an alarm clock along to awaken him just before starting time.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 19-1.

CLOSING DATE
Monday Noon, December 14, 1953

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Lady's, square, rose gold, Benrus wrist watch, with raised crystal. Would appreciate if turned in to Chas. Penn, Div. 17, Taylor St. office.

LOST—Purple flowered head scarf.

FOUND—Silver drop ear ring.

FOUND—Blue and silver ear ring.

FOUND—Pair brown cloth gloves.

FOUND—Lady's white string gloves.

FOR SALE

DESK—Typewriter desk, drop head; Bendix washer; Packard upright piano; oak dresser. E-72100.

FORMAL—Pink, marquisette, size 9; dry cleaned; $2. Young man's overcoat, size 16-18; $2. H-59581.

REFRIGERATOR—Goldtop refrigerator, 7 cu. ft.; very good condition. Camera tripod, 5 section, chrome-plated with adjustable panhead. Dominion, automatic electric percolator, 6 to 9 cup size. Student's desk. Would make nice Christmas presents. K-4308.

TABLE—Mahogany dining table, 34 in. x 48 in., extends to 60 in.; very solid and has four chairs to match. $35. E-6927.

STOVE—Gas stove, apartment size, used only six months. Valued at $75; will sell for $50. H-68974.

TRAINS—Complete Lionel layout, including 4 train sets, automatic equipment and over 100 ft. of track. Will sell all or any part. Chalmers Hazen, Churubusco 3943.

SAW—24-inch Craftsman jig saw, 1/2 h.p. motor, and table. Excellent condition. $75. A-10892.

RANGE—Hotpoint electric range, 3 burners and self-cooker. Good oven. Priced very reasonably. H-74175.

OIL BURNER—Small, Norge, oil burner, cheap. Five gallon tank on stove. A-59602.

DINING SUITE—Mahogany dining suite, buffet, table and six chairs, $45. H-46571.

WASHER—Conventional washer; 1962 Firestone and white, aluminum, twin tubs with lid. Reasonable. A-96304.

BABY SCALES—Child's, rubber, Gene Autry boots, size 9. H-35932.

MOTOR—Rocket gasoline motor and prop for model airplanes. After 7 p.m., H-2461.

WREST WATCH—21-jewel, Lord Elgin wrist watch, yellow gold; also 60 expansion wrist band of solid gold. Both for $35. H-20772.

CAMERA—$214 Zeiss Contessa 35 MM camera. Late model, fast synch., compure shutter, coated tessar lens, built-in Asa exposure meter, coupled range finder, 5 speed of film, beautiful pictures. $115. 3230 Highland Ave.

MARIMBA—In good condition. E-3118.

TABLE CLOTHS—Three, double damask, linen, hand-embroidered table cloths, 2 1/2 and 3 yard lengths. A-66182.

RIFLE—New, Marlin, lever action, 39A 22 short, long, long rifle. Winchester, 22 long rifle, 39A, aut., $30. H-15533.

CHEST—Solid walnut antique chest and bed; acorn pattern and excellent condition. H-74611.

ICE SKATES—Two pairs black, ice skates, sizes 9 and 9 1/2, good condition. Young man's topcoat in excellent condition; dry cleaned; size 36; very reasonable. A-70815.

ROLLER SKATES—Lady's rink roller skates with case, size 7 and 8. Boy's 26-inch bicycle. H-81314.

RADIO—GE cabinet radio, $25. Walnut, console lamp table, $10. Single bed with springs and mattress, $25. All items in very good condition. E-38712.

DRESS—Girl Scout dress and tie, like new, size 14. H-58544.

FORMALS—Winter and summer styles and colors, sizes 10 to 13. A-2746.

BICYCLE—Boy's 26-inch Shelby bicycle, good condition. $20. E-32761.

FARM—75 acres; 15 miles northwest; 7-room modern house; bank barn; large garage and tool shed; other buildings; good drainage and new fences. Churubusco 2169.

CAMERA—Movie camera and projector; Revere 9 turret and a Revere 85, 500 watt projector. Excellent condition. K-4178.

BICYCLE—26-inch men's bicycle in good condition, $25; 30 ft. extension ladder, $20; set of 4 boxing gloves, A.A.U., 10 oz. official, in good condition, $7; largest projector set made, $20; accordion, 111 Bass Collini, $175; Peters 30-40, rustless, 220 grain, metal-cased ammunition, smokeless, $1.25 per box. H-8019.

HEATER—Warm Morning, circulating heater, $15. Rooker 3163.

PUPPIES—Collie puppies, AKC registered. H-69385.

PARKING—Space for 3 cars, close to C.E. Prefer first or third truck parkers. Girl's winter coat, dark medium blue, teenage; worn one winter; reasonable. 1332 Jackson St. A-58133.

ROLLER SKATES—Chicago Precision skates, girl's size, 5 1/2; all leather shoe, new wheels, good condition. Original cost, $52; reduced to $20. H-48123.

SKI SHOES—Pair men's ski shoes, 8 1/2, $3. Heavy ice fishing clothes. Hand-made tap dancing, toy dolls, $1.79. A-70693.

BICYCLE—Girl's bicycle, 24-inch, almost new, $30. New electric deep fryer, never used, $13. A-78551.

WASHER—Kenmore washer and twin tubs, three years old, good condition, $40. H-46484.

BICYCLE—Boy's Goodyear, 26-inch bicycle; good condition; $12. Navy blue dress; size 20 1/2 or 22 1/2; cost $11, will sell for $5. Worn three times. 1319 Jackson St.

ACCORDION—120 bass accordion, like new. Very reasonable. A-46143.

SNOW SUIT—Red, two-piece, size 6, snow suit with boots. Reasonable. H-75725.

WARDROBE—Two-tone, veneer wood, wardrobe; 60x36x23, Dixie gas stove; light, timer, and refrigerator. A-19783.

PIANO—Kimball player piano and rolls; $35. Good heating stove. Building for rabbit, chicken, or pigeon pen. A-16964.

PARAKEETS—An ideal Christmas gift. Beautiful, young parakeets. $4. A-1003.

REFRIGERATOR—Suitable for lake cottage. Mahogany step table, like new. H-1237.

BABY BED—Blond baby bed; complete; like new; $30. Small snow suit; $5. Night stand; small book rack; baby scales; nursery chair; tricycle. H-01164.

CAR—1952 Plymouth Cranbrook sedan. Excellent condition; 27,000 miles. H-46904.

BIKE—Child's two-wheeled bike with balance wheels. Lionel freight train. Sears conventional washing machine. Two pair of drapes. All fair and cheap. H-02943.

TRAIN—H. O. C. Cage engine and cars. K-3917.

COAT—Green cloth coat; size 14; like new; wool. 311 W. Williams.

PUPPIES—AKC registered cocker puppies. Buff colored. Will hold them until Christmas, at which time they will be 8 weeks old. Woodburn 1564.

CABINET—White counter-top height utility cabinet. Extra sturdy. Two doors, two drawers. Like new and reasonable.

IRONER—Portable ironer. Practically new. $30. E-37348.

ROLLER SKATES—Girl's, white, shoe roller skates. Ball bearings, size 7, good as new. A-99922.

DESK—Maple roll top desk and chair, $15. Electric train and switches mounted on plywood, $26. Dressing table and stool, $6. Roy Rogers wrist watch, $5. Christmas tree table. $2. H-64605.

ROLLER SKATES—Black, shoe roller skates, size 10. Aluminum case included. Excellent condition. $12.50. H-82062.

WASHER—Horton washer. Good condition. Reasonable. See after 6 p.m. 1522 1/2 St. Joe Blvd.

CHRISTMAS TREES—Freshly cut. Long and short needled pine. Homegrown. 1340 Park Ave.

HIGH CHAIR—Chrome high chair. Stroller. A-85981.

ANTENNA—Finco antenna, complete with rotor. H-70434.

BED—Jenny Lind single-size bed, complete; 5 drawer chest; 4 drawer dresser. Good condition. Reasonable. H-70761.

DINING ROOM—Walnut dining room suite; eight pieces; good condition; $40. H-55731.

ROLLER SKATES—Chicago Rink men's roller skates, size 9, new. Ivor Johnson women's black shoe skates, size 6, like new. Boy's hockey skates, size 6. 26 inch bicycle, sharp paint job, excellent condition. E-71181.

FORMALS—3 formal; size 10-12. Good condition and reasonable. Black coat; size 10-12. Before 7 p.m. A-59244.

CITRUS FRUIT—Tree ripe citrus fruit. Order now for Christmas. Oranges, tangerines, and grapefruit. $2 a bushel. Shipped express C.O.D. L. W. Schuster, Riley's Park, Mt. Dora, Florida.

BICYCLE—Boy's bicycle; 26-inch frame; very good condition. A-86354.

WASHER—Conventional washer with automatic pump; one year old; like new. $50. K-2292.

SPRINGS—Coil springs and felt mattress for single or twin bed. Good shape; good buy. $5. E-71382.

TELEVISION TOWER—30-foot television tower. Steel truss construction. Will add Alliance VHF antenna, guy wires, hardware, and wiring. All for $16. E-71382.

BASSINETTE—Doll bassinet; wicker construction; large size, 27 inches high and 30 inches long. Very good condition; $5. Doll cradle; wicker construction; 17 inches high and 24 inches long; good condition; $2. E-71382.

COAT—Boy's winter coat; size three-piece, navy blue wool; size 6X; excellent condition; $10. E-71382.

DRUM SET—Child's drum set; $1.50. Child's electric iron and ironing board; $1.50. Boy's sport coat; size 6-8; $3. H-58834.

FUR CAPE—Marmot fur cape worn once; cost $165, will sell for $95. H-59145.

TOOLS—Mechanic's tools; 42-piece socket wrench set; 12-piece socket wrench set; 1 lb. tapper with case; portable electric mail saw with case, 7 inch; set brake relining tools; miscellaneous wrenches; spark plug set. H-75054.

BICYCLE—Girl's bicycle, 16-inch. Training wheels like new. 1013 McKee St.

COAL—Nine tons of stoker coal at reduced rate. Have installed oil heat. Splendid for church or lodge. A-68185.

ICE SKATES—Lady's, size 8; $4. Men's hockey skates, size 8; $5. H-81622.

THERMOSTAT—Minneapolis Honeywell thermostat with controls. H-46494.

AXLE—1933 Plymouth front axle, springs, and three wheels. A-59819.

CAR SEAT—Combination car seat and bed. A-1 condition. $3. K-4973.

CAR—1937 Pontiac, 4-door. Will be surprised at low cost. A-69909.

GAS RANGE—Magic Chef gas range; timer, light, and broiler. Good condition. $45. H-83447.

TABLE—Mahogany cocktail table; rectangular, glass top. $10. A-75471.

COAT—Girl's winter coat; size 12, cleaned, good condition. Corduroy skirt; 22-inch waist. Men's jacket; size 38. A-59816.

ELECTRIC BLANKET—GE electric blanket, duo control, new, never used. $30. DeBell Richmond Harlan 3132.

BICYCLES—Girls Schwinn bicycles; 26-inch, $25; like new. One 24-inch, $15; very good condition. H-70322.

HEATER—Large Heatrola. A good heater for $13, if taken at once. Hand-crocheted tablecloth, 72x72, for $25. H-37694.

LOT—Will sell lot in Fairfax addition, 56x150, or trade for car. H-60623.

RUG—New green rug, 7 ft. x 12. First $25 takes it. 1306 Greene St.

VIOLIN—Full size violin. A-77105.

FORMAL—Blue formal with stole, size 14, worn once. A-79853.

JACKET—Boy's heavy jacket, size 16, good condition. Motorola recorder, disc type, very good condition. Metal stand for electric guitar, collapsible. H-39420.

SEWING MACHINE—Singer, electric, cabinet model, like new. 1050 Forest Ave. E-2313.

CAR—1950, 4-door, Custom sedan, DeSoto; like new. H-70411.

ROLLER SKATES—Girl's Chicago, Arrow, roller skates, size 9, case included, like new. $15. Tan, gabardine topcoat, zip lining, size 38, worn one season, $15. Maroon corduroy jacket, good shape, $4. A-87131.

SHOE SKATES—Girl's white, size 5, like new. $5. H-59604.

COOKER—Electric cooker, child's desk, violin, 48 bass accordion. Good Housekeeping, tank type, sweeper, with attachments. Girl Scout dress, size 12-14, and woman's black suit, size 18. H-82322.

MARIMBA—2 1/2 octave, perfect condition, $65. No toll, after 5:30, New Haven 2693.

BICYCLE—Girl's, full size, Henderson bicycle, in excellent condition, with accessories and basket. Also, lady's all wool, navy blue, winter coat with zip-in lining, size 16-18. Worn very little, reasonable price. K-3700.

CANARIES—Good singers, reasonably priced. 2711 Holton Ave. K-2562.

SINK—Used, two-compartment sink with fittings. Used chrome breakfast set, pedestal-type table with four chairs. K-1588.

BICYCLE—26-inch girl's bicycle, $20. H-17505.

RADIO—Table model, radio and phonograph combination, in good condition, $45. 1537 1/2 Andrew. H-81773.

COAT—Fur coat, gray kidskin, size 14; just like new; reasonable. 344 W. Woodland St.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE WANTED—From Auburn; first shift; Winter St. Auburn 649-M.

RIDE WANTED—From Winchester and lower Huntington Road; 3:30 to 11:48 p.m.; at Broadway plant. H-02337.

RIDE WANTED—5209 S. Hanna St. to Taylor St. GE. H-24231.

RIDERS WANTED—At least two riders wanted; 20 miles north on State Road 3 to Broadway plant; second trick. Oscar Johnson, Bldg. 17-2.

FOR RENT

BUNGALOW—Newly remodeled, unfurnished, bungalow. Four rooms, bath, basement, one bedroom. New hardwood floors. Employed couple. H-70761.

APARTMENT—Three rooms and bath, unfurnished upper apartment, private entrance. Gas stove and garage furnished. Automatic heat and hot water. A-68185.

APARTMENT—Lower, 3-room apartment, private entrance, and bath. $65 a month. A-68292 or H-1445.

DAIRY FARM—150 acre dairy farm, 50-50 basis; available Jan. 1st. H-83203.

WANTED

SNOW SUIT—Girl's snow suit, size 1 or 2. A-16964.

DESK—Child's desk. Suitable for 10-year-old. H-15592.

TOILET—WPA type toilet. H-39162.

VICTROLA—Hand-wound, portable victrola. A-57833.

GIRLS—One or two employed girls to share modern home, south. H-24231.

GIRL SCOUT—Uniform, size 12-13. Ping pong table, in good condition. H-8019.

ERECTOR SET—With electric motor. No. 8 1/2 or 10 1/2. E-55624.

STORM DOOR—Combination storm door, small, approximately 32x73. Hall runner, beige or tan, 2x11. H-35932.

MISCELLANEOUS

CARE—For child in my home, first trick. Mrs. Dunfee. K-4973.

THANK YOU

I WISH to thank my fellow co-workers, in this way, for the beautiful luggage I received the day of my retirement, which I am thoroughly enjoying. Cora Polhamus Mauk.

Before you distract another worker's attention, be sure it's safe for him to turn his attention away from his work.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

Odell Scott is now assisting Sam Taylor. Before long, it might be the other way around. Maybe, he will get to give out the checks when Jake goes on vacation. Guess that makes Avery Spade the alternate. . . . John Figley says he wears the red hat to duck traffic out in the southern part of town. He says it is open season on pedestrians out at Clinton and Rudisill. . . . You can't go out to Paul Arnold's house, unless you wear your overalls. He won't even tell if he has the garage door up or not. He says to put on your overalls and come out and see. . . . We extend our sympathy to Fred Alles on the recent death of his sister. . . . The Section 1 office girls had a Christmas Party at the Hotel Van Orman last Tuesday. . . . The salary group of section 1 are having their Christmas Party tonight at the New Haven Conservation Club. There will be more on that next week.

. . . Take it from Tillie Hautch; TV and ironing just don't go together. She was watching TV and trying to iron at the same time. In the process, she burnt her husband's shirt, her blouse, a slip, and an apron! . . . Congratulations to Mildred Carpenter, who celebrated her 35th anniversary with the GE, last week. . . . Dick Buecher says the ordeal of the whiskers was worth the time. It paid off. . . . John Piper is back in the pink again after his late hospitalization. . . . We want to thank Toni Moberly for the lovely cake she sent in with her husband, Bob. . . . Ardola Metker, Veva Healy, and Esther Pape are all on their vacations this week. . . . Patty Badger, daughter of Virginia, is going to be a whizz on roller skates. She is only 2 1/2 years old and loves skating. Her mamma and papa took her skating at the rink and she cried when they had to stop. . . . The Bill Widdelfield family is mighty happy these days. Their daughter, Eileen, is home from Irene Byron's after 3 1/2 years out there. We are happy for you too, Bill. . . . Ralph Gilbert is going to Defiance to see his friend, Jeff Davis, "King of the Hobos". The "King" had his hip broken and it upset Ralph. He was even thinking of joining him in his next trip to California. Ralph met him when he was here in town and says he was mighty interesting to talk to. . . . Herb Bauer hasn't returned from his safari into the Penn. hills, so we have no reports. . . . Chick Kortum and Richard Crickmore have joined the ranks of the weak-eyed television watchers. Both have new GE sets. . . . Don Ertel set a record last week at the hospital with his family. Four tonsilectomies were performed on his family. All are doing fine. . . . Two dogs, Lloyd Clark, and Jay Meichiel went coon hunting this week. They did well, four coons in one night. . . . One day last week, Delores Heaston left her billfold at home so some of her friends would have to pay for her lunch. . . . The purpose of the collection box to be passed in the near future is for a new pair of shoe strings. Wally Reichter is wearing one black and one brown one. . . . Don Wilson has found how to get a better dinner pail. He just takes someone else's home. Maybe the paint was brighter on the other fellows. It is one way of cutting the cost of living, if there's anything left after lunch.

2-2 TALES

Belle Buchan

This week we said good-bye to Howard Schultze, who is going to be working at our new plant in Jonesboro, Ark. . . . We are happy to report that the husband of Clara Nelson is improving and will soon be able to leave the hospital. . . . The office is all agog over the Christmas party to be held Saturday, Dec. 12. Everyone is working to see that everyone else has a good time, especially Mel Keissling, who is general chairman. . . . There isn't much news this week, so I am going to tell you a story. This is about a big flirtation that is going on between our young TV tower and the Morning star. Every morning, when we are driving to work, I watch this young rascal wink his big, red eyes, all three of them, at this very bright, beautiful star, who is not too far above him. Do you know, she just looks off across the field at another tall tower, who is also winking at her. Now the fellow across the field has been around longer, and he knows that the beautiful stars is thousands of years old and will probably be up there shining after he and his young friend are both gone. It is quite a sight, and I wish all of you could see it, but then perhaps you don't get up as early as I do, and you have to be up early to see some of the things I do.

Collector's Item—An irate taxpayer added this postscript to a letter to his regional Bureau of Internal Revenue: "Please see that as much as convenient of the enclosed check gets to the United States Treasury."

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

Text of Company Policy on Subversives

(Continued from page 1)

with no loss of straight time average weekly earnings, for two other groups of employees:

1. Those who are identified publicly under oath before a congressional committee or other governmental authority as communists, spies or saboteurs and who decline to testify under oath before such a committee or authority concerning the charge (or who have been so identified and have so declined in the past six months.)

2. Those who invoke the Fifth Amendment in a public hearing of a congressional committee or other governmental authority in refusing to testify concerning communist affiliations, espionage, or sabotage on the ground that their testimony would tend to incriminate them (or who have so invoked the Fifth Amendment in the past six months.)

The General Electric policy also provides for immediate re-instatement of a suspended employee if, within the 90-day period:

1. He appears before a congressional committee or other governmental authority and answers fully under oath questions about espionage, sabotage and communist affiliations without admitting to communist membership, spying, or sabotage, or

2. He gets written clearance from an accredited United States security agency which has investigated him and found no evidence that he is a communist or a substantial risk for employment in an industrial establishment essential to national defense.

The fact that no government agency has set up a procedure for such a clearance prompted General Electric officials to urge its establishment.

"An independent security agency of the government should establish procedures for acting upon any applications made to them by suspended employees who may claim that an authoritative investigation would clear them of any justifiable suspicions," the company's official statement read. "If no such security agency can or will establish such procedures now, the company believes that Congress should establish, by appropriate legislation, an independent agency empowered and directed to make such authoritative determinations."

The General Electric policy provides that suspended employees, not entitled to re-instatement, shall be discharged.

In its statement today, General Electric pointed out that no "security risk" employees are allowed on "classified" work but emphasized that not all "security risk" employees are in that class because they are disloyal citizens. It cited, as an example, the possibility that some employees might be "subjected to subversive pressures through threats to relatives behind the iron curtain."

"While the company, like other defense contractors, excludes or removes from classified defense work all employees designated 'security risks' by a government security agency, the government does not furnish to the company the evidence which supports its conclusion," the statement said. "Thus the company cannot establish whether the employee is deemed a 'security risk' because he is suspected of being a disloyal citizen or whether he is deemed a 'security risk' for reasons which do not reflect adversely upon his personal loyalty.

"The company, as late as 1950, immediately following the outbreak of the Korean War, attempted unsuccessfully to have government agencies make available to it the names of and information concerning any suspected subversives among General Electric employees in order that the company might properly protect its plants against the possibility of sabotage. Being unable to obtain such authoritative information, the company believed then, as now, that it could not justify to its customers, share owners, employees, or the public, a general program of discharging employees based upon suspicions and rumors of disloyalty which the company was in no position to prove.

Text of General Electric's policy concerning admitted communists, saboteurs, and subversives; and employees who invoke the Fifth Amendment in order to refuse to testify on such subjects.

NEED FOR A POLICY

The General Electric Company has long recognized the serious obligations it has to its customers, share owners, employees and the public in connection with security matters pertaining to national defense. All company employees should constantly keep in mind the fact that in the event of a sudden national crisis, practically all company plants would become essential instruments of national defense. Without being complacent, all company employees can take pride in the fact that the company has exerted every effort to enforce and carry out to the fullest, all applicable security regulations of the United States Government; has searched for additional security measures which the company itself might properly enforce; and has recommended to government agencies broader measures which should be adopted by the government in order to assist the company in those areas where only the government has the information essential for decision and action.

Under existing security regulations of the Department of Defense and other government agencies, no employee is permitted to work on "classified" government defense work if he is considered a "security risk." The term "security risk" of course, includes employees who are suspected of having serious past or present subversive connections. However, it also includes employees who it is thought should not have access to classified information for various reasons in no way related to a question of their loyalty as, for example, employees who drink or talk too much or who could be subjected to subversive pressures through threats to relatives behind the iron curtain.

While the company like other defense contractors, excludes or removes from classified defense work all employees designated "security risks" by a government security agency, the government does not furnish to the company the evidence which supports its conclusion. Thus the company cannot establish whether the employee is deemed a "security risk" because he is suspected of being a disloyal citizen or whether he is deemed a "security risk" for reasons which do not reflect adversely upon his personal loyalty.

The company, as late as 1950, immediately following the outbreak of the Korean war, attempted unsuccessfully to have government agencies make available to it the names of and information concerning any suspected subversives among General Electric employees in order that the company might properly protect its plants against the possibility of sabotage. Being unable to obtain such authoritative information, the company believed then, as now, that it could not justify to its customers, share owners, employees, or the public, a general program of discharging employees based upon suspicions and rumors of disloyalty which the company was in no position to prove.

Realizing that only government agencies knew whether an employee was a "security risk" in the subversive sense, or was deemed a "security risk" because of other reasons not indicative of disloyalty, the company recommended that the government agencies should also determine and direct when an employee should be excluded from civilian, as well as classified military work. This recommendation for more stringent security measures was rejected even though the company based its recommendation, in part, upon the danger arising from having any possible subversives working on civilian jobs who thereby might find opportunities to associate and talk with employees doing confidential and secret work in the same or another building.

Good as the present government security program is in the protection of classified information, the company believes that these procedures are not fully adequate in the present condition of world affairs. The company believes that national preparedness requires that all General Electric employees should be free of any real question of disloyalty. To accomplish this, there is seriously needed some procedure whereby the company and similar private organizations can have the authoritative aid of government in identifying any suspected subversives.

Realizing the need for new legislation to broaden the nation's security program, the company has followed closely the recent hearings of various congressional committees investigating communist activities in government and in various industries. The company has noted with great concern the public hearings of congressional committees in which some General Electric employees, though few in number, have refused to answer questions concerning espionage, sabotage or communist affiliations. These few employees have asserted that to answer any such questions might tend to incriminate them, and that they therefore claimed the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination provided by the Fifth Amendment.

The company has grave doubts concerning the possible danger to the safety and security of company property and personnel whenever a General Electric employee admits he is a communist or when he asserts a competent investigating government body, that he might incriminate himself by giving truthful answers concerning his communist affiliations or his possible espionage or sabotage activities. Such conduct by General Electric employees also undermines the confidence of the government and the public that the vital productive facilities of General Electric will be fully and immediately available to the country in time of national crisis. In addition, such employees damage the reputation and good will of the company; they create dissension among fellow employees, subject them to serious embarrassment, and generally impair the morale of all employees.

In view of the foregoing, the following policy becomes effective immediately:

POLICY

1. Any employee who, as a matter of public record after the date hereof admits being a communist, or admits being engaged in any form of espionage or sabotage, or who makes such admissions to the company, shall he immediately discharged.

2. As an interim measure pending the development of a more adequate one by the government, the company shall suspend for a period of 90 days, without loss of his straight time average weekly earnings from the company:

a. Any employee who, having been identified as a communist by testimony given under oath in a public hearing of a congressional committee or other government authority, declines to accept an opportunity offered him to testify under oath before such committee or authority concerning his alleged communist affiliations, espionage or sabotage. The company will suspend in like manner any employee who within the past six months has been so identified and has declined an opportunity to so testify.

b. Any employee who, in a public hearing of a congressional committee or other government authority, invokes the Fifth Amendment in refusing to testify concerning communist affiliations, espionage or sabotage on the ground that his testimony would tend to incriminate him. The company will suspend in like manner any employee who has so invoked the Fifth Amendment within the past six months.

3. Any employee suspended under the provisions of paragraph 2 above shall he promptly reinstated if, within the 90-day period:

a. He shall have appeared before a congressional committee or other government authority and answered fully under oath all questions asked him pertaining to espionage, sabotage and his communist affiliations, and in the course thereof shall not have admitted being a communist or being engaged in espionage or sabotage; or

b. He shall have obtained from an accredited security agency of the United States Government and furnished to the company a written certification or statement that an investigation of the employee has been conducted and that the agency has found no evidence which, in its opinion, indicates that the employee is a communist or is otherwise a substantial risk for employment in an industrial establishment essential to the national defense.

4. If, at the expiration of the 90-day period of suspension, the employee is not entitled to re-instatement as above provided, he shall be discharged.

The company is aware of and regrets the fact that, to its knowledge, no government agency has as yet established any procedures whereby employees can apply for and obtain an opinion or certification of the nature described in paragraph 3(b) above. The company, therefore, shall strongly urge that an independent security agency of the government should establish procedures for acting upon any applications made to them by suspended employees who may claim that an authoritative investigation would clear them of any justifiable suspicions.

If no such security agency can or will establish such procedures now, the company believes that Congress should establish, by appropriate legislation, an independent agency empowered and directed to make such authoritative determinations.

RESPONSIBILITY

The responsibility, with commensurate authority, to enforce this policy is placed with individual managers and supervisors at all levels of the organization. Such responsibility includes that of dissemination of its provisions to all employees, present and future, and for taking appropriate action.

R. J. CORDINER,
President.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

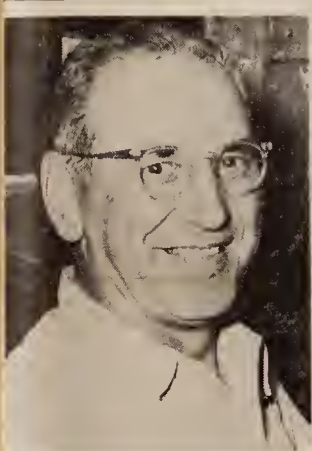

PUBLIC LIBRARY
FORT WAYNE & ALLEN CO., IND.
PERIODICALS

SOCIAL SECURITY
GOES UP JAN. 1
Story Page . . . 3

Volume 36 FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1953 No. 49

IDEA PAYS $1700 TO YVONNE CECIE

Largest Award in Fort Wayne GE History

Sam Baumgartner

Wallace E. Beer

"Good Night!" was all Yvonne Cecie could say last week when she received the largest suggestion check ever paid a Fort Wayne GE employee. An award of $1700 was paid Mrs. Cecie by the Specialty Transformer Department.

The check was presented at a special ceremony Friday, Dec. 11, by Carl H. Rinne, general manager of the Specialty Transformer Department. The award was an extra special birthday present, for Mrs. Cecie, who was 24 years old last Saturday. A large, decorated cake was presented her also.

Mrs. Cecie's labor-saving suggestion, submitted while she was a Bldg. 26-4 Specialty Transformer employee, concerned an improved method of cleaning the varnish from terminals on transformers.

A token award of $100 was presented Mrs. Cecie April 15 pending final evaluation of her suggestion. She also won a third prize of $100 for this idea when she entered the Specialty Transformer award contest held in conjunction with the 75th Anniversary Open House.

Friday, June 13, 1952, turned out to be a very lucky day for Mrs. Cecie. That was the day she submitted her award-winning idea, after discussing it with her foreman, W. L. Heniser. He encouraged her to turn in a formal suggestion. She has submitted two previous suggestions which did not qualify for awards.

Overwhelmed with the amount of her award, Mrs. Cecie said that she and her husband "can certainly use the money to pay on the new home" they recently purchased. In addition to her husband, Eugene, who is also a Specialty Transformer employee in Bldg. 26-1, her parents were present when she received her check. Her

(Continued on Page 4)

Q-C Club Nominates 1954 Election Slate

Wallace E. Beer, Bldg. 18-1, and Sam Baumgartner, Bldg. 27, have been nominated for the office of president of the Quarter Century Club for the coming year. Announcement of the complete slate was made this week by the nominating committee.

Other nominees are:

Vice President

Joe A. Henry, T. St. laboratory.
Pete G. Dannecker, Bldg. 31-1.

Secretary

G. Ray Lindemuth, Bldg. 18-5.
R. A. Wefel, Taylor St.

Treasurer

Gerald C. Michael, Taylor St.
Louis A. Shattuck, Taylor St.

Director

Hilda Walda, Bldg. 4-2.
Olka Johnson, Taylor St.

Ballots were sent out to all members this week. The deadline for returning ballots is Monday, December 28, the committee reported.

Members of the nominating committee are: Chairman, A. C. Hartman, Art Galloghy, John Dennis, Gordon L. Smith, and Dave Slater.

A DELUXE BIRTHDAY GIFT

was presented Yvonne Cecie last week in the form of a $1700 suggestion award on the day before her 24th birthday. Carl H. Rinne, general manager of the Specialty Transformer Department, gives Mrs. Cecie her check plus a large cake on the occasion, as her husband Eugene looks on. Mrs. Cecie is presently employed in Bldg. 17-3.

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden

Editor

Barbara W. Hyman

Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. E-7431, Ext. 441

Volume 36

Friday, December 18, 1953

No. 49

A Moon, But No Spoon

Overhead there is a big romantic moon. A boy and a girl stand in a field. Both work on the farm—she as the driver of a tractor which is nearby.

She says, "How wonderful it is to work on such a night, and to do everything to economize on gasoline."

He replies, "This night has given me the idea of working harder and harder to surpass the Plan."

They fall into a tender clinch as he murmurs, "From the very first moment I saw you, I was enraptured by your capacity for work."

Believe it or not (and if you were behind the Iron Curtain, you'd believe it or else), the above passage was part of a "soap opera" broadcast by Radio Moscow recently.

o-o-o

In These Days—

Good Things Also Occur

Encouraging things, heart-warming things, in these anxious times:

A big fire wiped out the paper-box manufacturing plant of John F. Connelly, in Philadelphia. It was a million-dollar loss; hundreds of people were thrown out of work.

Six weeks later the company was back in business—because several competitors, together with employees, unions, banks, machine manufacturers, and railroad officials, had got together to help. The competitors supplied their own paper boxes with the Connelly name on them to keep the firm in business; workers from 13 construction trade unions labored around the clock to put up the new factory; manufacturers supplied hard-to-get machinery.

Said Mr. Connelly, pushing a button to start one of the new machines in his new plant, "It's a modern miracle!" He meant people, not the machine.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Catherine Thompson, Verna Morgan, Anthony Holocher, Bessie Fitch, Gladys Dunbar, Leonard Deal, Grace Bullard, Raymond DeBolt, William Greene, Russell Galloway, Violet Minnick, Norman Wolf, Clyde Boyce, John Kintz, John Mueller, Richard Reisinger, Clara Ringenberg, Carl Schieman, Paul Armstrong, Ralph Beerman, Harold Daniel, Patricia Davis, Tena Dondera, Gwendolyn Gilstrap, Wallace Growcock, Morton Gutteboe, Myrtle Keller, Dohr Krieg, Doris Lontz, Estella Pettibone, Treva Poinsette, Minnie Prumm, James Snodgrass, George Taylor, Annie Fett, Maxine Calhoun, Norman Current, James Greenwell, Wes Craig, Ray Morse, Miguel C. Torres, H. L. DeVall, Robert Phillips, and Clara Edgar.

Dismissed From Hospital

Walter Hein, Geraldine Black, George Kaade, Walter Bilcer, Wes Craig, and Myrtle Keller.

Returned to Work

Vaughn Sheets, Walter Kammer, Cecil Gordon, Edna Harkender, Rita Comings, Herbert Kurtz, Hobart Friend, Edward Willey, Raymond Papenbrock, Lester Redding, Clarence Hambrook, Raymond Junk, George Adams, Kenneth Miller, Glen Lynch, Jack Ely, Bonnie Marks, Gladys Lutz, Mary Wright, Jerald Nahrwald, Pat Davis, Marcella Rodman, Ernie Riley, Leonard Floyd, Leila Cutler, Barbara Toles, William Meek, and Marie Thornhill.

THE GRAPEVINE

BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

It didn't pay George Hahn to work overtime last week. He came to work so sleepy last Wednesday morning that he forgot to turn off his car lights. At noon the guard called to tell him the lights were still burning, but it was a little too late. George had to use his overtime pay for a new battery.

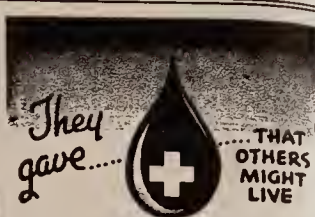

Al Oelke purchased a Buick Roadmaster last week, but it was two days before he could tell anyone the color of his car. Maurice Humphrey bought a house and moved this past Saturday. This time he didn't even hire a truck, just carried his furniture piece by piece across the street to his new home. Howard Hoffman got stuck in the mud at his new home. Maybe you should widen the driveway, Howard. Basil Ottinger and Andy Shepelak have joined the TV fans. Don Mosure starts his vacation on the 17th. All the fellows in 2-E thought Harold Orr had started chewing tobacco, but it was just an infected tooth which he is now rid of. Employee of the week: Paul Neal. Paul was born in St. Paul, Ind., which is in Decatur county. He now lives in Kendallville. He came to GE in 1941 and at the present time is a leading operator in Bldg. 4-1, Group 19, 2nd shift. Paul is married and has four children. The oldest boy is now in the Air Force and stationed at Sampson Air Force base in Geneva, New York. In his leisure time Paul watches TV and goes howling.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

Don Mason had better go back to cigarettes so Sam Taylor won't get so mad when he uses the blower to clean out his pipe. Sam, you know you hurt Don's feelings, don't you? . . . We wonder if John Figley got Don Mason in his basement over the week-end. Don really has a short haircut. . . . Since Odell Scott took over his new job as pill doctor, he thinks he can push everybody around, even on the street with his car. . . . Sherman-White is going to have some new competition in the near future. Herman (Rube) Pranger has built a new chicken house and has his chicks. Will they be ready to eat by Christmas, Herman? . . . Clarence Rump has a television set (GE). He got it to keep the kids happy, but Clarence seems to know all about the serials. . . . Herb Bauer had a nice walk in the woods on the hills in Pennsylvania. No deer! . . . Lou Howley's son was home on leave, he is back at Camp Pendleton, California. . . . Bob Erickson has a new pair of cowboy boots, but he only wears them every other day. They make his feet sore so he rests them on the odd days. . . . Julia Hohnhaus was pretty busy over the week-end, as her daughter got married last Saturday. . . . John Wetzel is taking his vacation over the Christmas holidays. . . . Merlin Heller can't read any more. He parked where he shouldn't and got a ticket, the first ticket in all these years, too. . . . Calvin Schultz better ask Santa for a new GE alarm clock, so he won't be late for work so often. . . . We extend our sympathy to Ray Soest in the death of his father. . . . Viola Donahue is taking her vacation next week to get ready for Christmas. . . . Margaret Fuelling, Edna Rohrbach, and Ann Hershberger are taking their vacations during Christmas week. . . . Robert (Ladyfingers) Keim is getting himself all decorated up for Christmas. He showed up at work with the nicest manicure. . . . John Pumphrey is sporting a new Ford. He reports it runs like a top! . . . Ernest Jones' family is complete now. He took his twins home from the hospital. . . . Emery Tucker has to be on his good behavior since his brother is working in this section. . . . Does anyone know how to slow a record player down? Fern Hollowell is getting some Spanish records and she wants to slow her player down so she can learn from them.

The following people donated blood during the week ending December 4:

Robert L. Black, Fane Clingenpeel, Peggy Clingenpeel, Joseph P. Coughlin, George M. Skinnell, Ray F. Allman, Melvin J. Bill, Margie Boner, Shirley Cunningham, Richard Dochterman, Edward E. Ellenburg, Jr., Kenneth Emerick, Raymond Finton, Jack Fowlkes, Melvin L. Grace, Edward C. Kramer, Wilbur C. Kurtz, Robert S. Langdon, Albert A. Ralston, Robert G. Rescorla, Frank Schlink, Melvin Singer, Kenneth D. Strong, Harry M. Todd, Richard J. Wehrle, and Caroline Windhorst.

They tell me that Florian Korte and Emmett Mills are very good drummers. . . . All the finagling the one quartet did at the office Christmas party didn't do them any good, as the other quartet won on their own talents. . . . Francis Harter is going on his vacation next week. He is hoping for some ice so he can go fishing. . . . Ruth Nurdyke was pretty upset when she got home (all the way to Bluffton) and discovered that she had someone else's coat on. She still doesn't know whose coat she wore. . . . We suggest that Ruth Tutwiller put her staples in the cupboard so she won't grab them by mistake. She brought peanuts in the work for her lunch. She just grabbed the wrong sack in her hurry. . . . Blanch Lattimer's mind surely must have been far away. She tried to put the toaster in the refrigerator, when all of a sudden, she realized what she was doing. . . . Joyce Schroeder is driving a new Buick these days. . . . A group of the placers had a Christmas party at Dorothy Hoffman's new home. She surely has a nice place way out there in the country! . . . Amanda Longwell and her husband are spending the Christmas holidays with her sister and family in Washington, D. C. . . . Thelma Blue is sporting a new Dodge.

The Summit City has 15 civic clubs, 43 trade organizations, and 28 fraternal organizations.

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

Gamec and Rohn Named Superintendents

Tickets Still Available For Club Kiddies Party

Tickets for the GE Club Kiddies Christmas party are still available, Gordon L. Smith, entertainment chairman, reported at press time this week. All remaining tickets should be secured at the GE Club desk today, tomorrow, or Sunday.

Employees may get tickets for children in their immediate families by presenting their 1953-54 GE Club membership cards at the Club desk.

Six shows are slated for the two-day program. Tomorrow's shows start at 10 a.m., 1, 3, and 5 p.m. Sunday's programs are slated to begin at 2 and 4 p.m.

In addition to four professional acts, Santa Claus will greet and talk with the small fry and treats will be given every child 12 years of age or younger who attends.

The four acts booked for this year's show are: The Tilttons, an acrobatic team; Happy Harrison's Thoroughbreds, trained dog act; Bob King and his three dummies, a ventriloquist presentation, and Prof. Chester Tunis, comedy and musical novelty impressions.

Elex Opens Store In T. St. Cafeteria

The Elex Club will set up a store in the Taylor St. cafeteria on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Joyce Brumbaugh, president, has announced. The Elex store will be open from 11 to 12:45 and from 2:45 to 3:30 p.m. each of the three days.

Merchandise includes pecans, candies, peanut brittle, toys, Christmas cards and wraps among other items.

Frank T. Gamec

Bruce A. Rohn

Robert L. Spitler Receives Assignment in Schenectady

Two appointments in the Specialty Component Motor Department were announced this week by A. J. Rose, manager of manufacturing.

Frank T. Gamec has been named superintendent of Section 401. He succeeds Robert L. Spitler who has been named to the staff of the manager of manufacturing engineering, Engineering Services Department, Manufacturing Services Division in Schenectady. Mr. Spitler will be on special assignment there.

Bruce A. Rohn has been appointed superintendent of Section 415. He succeeds Mr. Gamec.

Mr. Gamec joined the company in 1928 as a factory employee in Bldg. 17-2. The following year, he went into various phases of production work in fractional horsepower motors.

In 1933, Mr. Gamec became supervisor of an order service group and was named production supervisor in 1938, in Section 413. Later he held the same position in FHP Motor hermetic sections.

Goes to Winter St.

After transferring to Winter St. in 1941, Mr. Gamec served as production supervisor on the power drive program. He returned to FHP Motor sections the next year as assistant production coordinator and later became production coordinator.

Appointed production manager in the Specialty Transformer and Ballast sections in 1947, Mr. Gamec became assistant superintendent of FHP Section 415 in 1949.

Mr. Gamec was named assistant production manager of FHP Motor sections in 1950 and the following year moved to Schenectady where he was production manager in the Control Department. He returned to Section 415 last year and became superintendent of this section. He had this job until his present appointment.

A member of the Supervisors Club and Foremen's Association, Mr. Gamec graduated from Concordia College in 1928. He, his wife, and daughter reside at 4801 Tacoma Ave.

Came to GE in 1945

Mr. Rohn entered GE in 1945 and went on the advanced manufacturing program with assignments in Schenectady, Erie, and Fort Wayne. Upon completion of the course he entered the general superintendent's office. In 1948, he transferred to Taylor St., Section 114, where he became a first shift foreman of assembly and packing.

In 1949, Mr. Rohn transferred to Bldg. 2-2 as staff assistant in Section 216. He was named assistant to the superintendent in Jan., 1950 and later that same year became assistant to the superintendent of Section 415. He was appointed assistant superintendent in Section 415 in charge of the starter generator group. He was assistant superintendent of Section 415 until his present appointment.

A 1940 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, Mr. Rohn also attended the University of Michigan for two years. He is a member of the Foremen's Association, Supervisors Club, and GE Squares. He is past commanding officer of the surface division 9-35 of the Naval Reserve.

Robert L. Spitler

Mr. and Mrs. Rohn and their two children reside at 3550 Willowdale Road.

Mr. Spitler joined the company in 1934 and entered the Apprentice School. He graduated from the tool and die maker course and became a mold and die maker. Later he was a tool designer and a draftsman.

In 1943, Mr. Spitler was named supervisor of planning at Taylor St. He went to the Tiffin plant on the same job in 1946. In 1949 he was named superintendent of Section 423 and in 1950 was appointed superintendent of Section 401.

Mr. and Mrs. Spitler have four sons.

GE Squares Fete Children Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 p.m., members of the GE Squares Club will open their 1953 Christmas party for their children. The event will take place in the Squares Hall, Van Rowan, Bldg. 4-6, chairman, stated.

All members are invited to take their children to the yule party. The program will feature color cartoon movies, Christmas carol singing, a visit from Santa Claus, and free gifts for the youngsters attending. Refreshments will also be served.

Members of the Squares' Wives organization are assisting with arrangements for the annual event.

Fred Waring to Feature Best-Loved Carols Sun.

Fred Waring tells viewers "What Christmas Means to Me" on his CBS-TV program for December 20 at 8-8:30 p.m., C.S.T.

"Christmas means toys, children, holly, carols, friends, and gifts," Fred believes, "but above all, Christmas means Christ. Our television program for the 20th will be devoted musically to all these things."

There will be some of the world's best-loved Christmas carols and music, and, almost as traditional with Fred Waring as the holiday itself—"The Song of Christmas."

The story of the Nativity as told in Christmas songs, carols, and Biblical verses, "The Song of Christmas" was written by Roy Ringwald of the Fred Waring staff and first presented by Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians Dec. 25, 1945. Some 20 songs and carols of the Christmas season have been incorporated into this moving musical sequence, which also includes abridged verses from the Holy Scriptures.

Recorded by Decca Records and published by Fred Waring's Shawnee Press, "The Song of Christmas" has grown in popularity until it is today the nation's best-loved musical pageant depicting Christ's birth.

Among the many melodies incorporated in part into the production are the following: "Adoramus Te Christe", by Palestrina; Arcadelt's "Ave Maria"; "Winchester Old"; John Byrom's "Christians, Awake, Salute the Happy Morn"; the Sicilian folk tune "O Sanctissima"; and "Adeste Fidelis", "The Three Kings", and "Cantique de Noel."

Three Separate Plant Services Sections Set Up

Establishment of three separate plant services sections which will replace the general service section was announced this week by Robert Wylie, manager of contributing manufacturing, General Purpose Component Motor Department.

The Specialty Component Motor Department plant services section, with headquarters in Bldg. 8, will service the east side of Broadway.

The west side of Broadway will be serviced by the Specialty Transformer Department plant services section, which will have headquarters in Bldg. 20.

At Taylor St., the General Purpose Component Motor Department plant services section will service the plant.

A buildings and utilities section has been established also to take care of power plants, plant protection, transportation, communications, major repairs to buildings, distribution systems to the buildings for gas, water, steam, power, etc.

Establishment of the sections is expected to be completed this month, Mr. Wylie stated.

The general stores section will be decentralized also. Supplying maintenance materials, non-durable tools, and stationery, the section will split into smaller groups to be absorbed in the various areas and departments.

FAIRFIELD AVENUE NEWS

We say good-bye to Dorothy Vess, who is leaving us for stork purposes. Dorothy was feted with a lovely combination high chair and play pen for the baby. . . . We welcome into our midst Mary Ann Berghoff who hails originally from Taylor St. Mary Ann will be working in the Accounting Section. . . . We also bid farewell to Ben Brown, who recently retired from the company. He was presented with a lovely gift. His hobby, flowers that he raises in his greenhouse, will become his occupation as of now. . . . John Wolff, who also recently retired, paid all of us a visit last week. He looks very well rested.

Social Security Hike

Payroll deductions for Social Security will be automatically increased Jan. 1, 1954, from the current 1½ per cent on the first $3600 of taxable earnings to 2 per cent of such earnings. The company also pays an equal tax to the Federal Government.

The increase, which is required to meet the rising cost of Social Security benefits, is required by Federal law. The change will be reflected in pays disbursed in 1954.

Richard L. Gotschall

Robert D. Calkins

Calkins, Gotschall Complete Machinist-Toolmaker Course

Two employees graduated from the Apprentice School machinist-toolmaker course today. They are Robert D. Calkins and Richard L. Gotschall.

Mr. Calkins joined GE in 1950. Prior to entering the Apprentice School, he worked in Section 417, Taylor St. He graduated from South Side High School in June, 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Calkins and their son reside at 2030½ Nelson St.

A June, 1948, graduate of South Side, Mr. Gotschall came to the company in July of that year and entered the Apprentice School. In June, 1951, he entered the U. S. Army. While in service, he was a member of the Infantry Leadership School and served in Korea. After his discharge in April this year he returned to the machinist-toolmaker course.

Mr. and Mrs. Gotschall live at 1612 Curdes Ave.

$1700 Idea

(Continued from page 1)

mother, Vera Everett, works in Bldg. 26-4; and her father, Willie Everett, is employed in Bldg. 19-3.

A family with ideas, Yvonne's parents and husband have turned in a total of 21 suggestions, 11 of which qualified for cash awards.

Most award-winning suggestions are the result of alertness to possibilities for simplifying or otherwise improving the day-to-day job of the suggester, Carl H. Rinne, general manager of the Specialty Transformer Department, said at Yvonne Cecie's suggestion presentation.

The suggestion for which Yvonne Cecie received a $1700 award is a perfect example of such alertness, he stated. Her suggestion, as she turned it in is as follows:

"If the solder pots on the terminal cleaning job were larger, I believe the work could be done faster and easier. If the pots are larger, you can clean more than one terminal at a time. A pot 1½ inches long and ¾ inch wide will permit cleaning more than one terminal on almost all coils."

Mrs. Everett leads the family with 16 suggestions submitted and 8 of these adopted.

Yvonne is currently working in Bldg. 17-3 on the second shift.

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Andy Anderson, George Lude-man, and their bowling team were very busy over the week-end. They bowled in three different tournaments in three different Ohio cities. By the looks of George's left eye, he strained his eyes so much that he burst a blood vessel. . . . Tex Ranier was seen at the Bargain Barn in a full cowboy outfit, except for the horse. . . . Sarah Chelt went visiting out of town over the week-end. While visiting she got laryngitis and couldn't speak a word. . . . Congratulations to Doris Doehla. She made the trip down the aisle last Saturday. . . . Bob Pence and Erwin (Jr.) Zollinger have joined the elite. They finally bought a TV set. . . . When Dell Winter is asked to do anything, he does it with a bang. One of the golf balls that he sprayed for the office party exploded when he put it in the oven. . . . Harold Dalman has a pup and it is always chasing the black cat. One day last week the pup thought he saw the cat out in the field and took off for same. He realized too late that this cat had a streak of white down its back. The pup is now sleeping in the barn. . . . Since this is the Christmas season, there naturally are Christmas parties. A gay time was had by all at the dinner and gift exchange held at the Victory Club, December 10. . . . Test and Inspection held their party at the Colonial. Those present were Roxie Miller, Millie Wahle, Estella Peters, Marge DeArmand, Martha Jesse, Violet Elliott, Clara Hoeb, Marie Martz, and Martha Englert. . . . Santa Claus was real good to everyone at the office Christmas party, too. Jim Craw was in fine shape, at least he was with that corset on that he received in the white elephant exchange. Jim is also talented in dress designing. Just ask Perry O'Neill. . . . Ralph and Barbara would like to thank the committees, the M. C.'s and all of the others for their help in making the party a huge success. . . . Happy birthday to Les Franke, Ralph Jaxthemier, Walter Wohlford, and Mildred Sitler. . . . Donna Hahn is all smiles now that her husband, Irv, has joined the big, happy family of GE. . . . What's this we hear about Jackie Keller winding an armature backwards. Don't feel badly, Jackie, we also heard George Schroeder is the one who made the mistake. . . . Merle Keesler should take lessons on the fundamentals of card-playing. Either that or quit when he is ahead. . . . Believe it or not: Al Olson was the life of the office Christmas party. See, he's not always serious!

Keep your Christmas tree in water before and during the time it is up.

CHRISTMAS GIFT SUGGESTION—With Christmas nearing, Rose Marie Ryan, Bldg. 8-1, suggests a portable GE mixer for that last-minute shopping. The mixer, which has two beaters, is $13.80 at the employee price. The unit is available at the newly converted self-service Employee Store.

GE Squares Announce New Year's Eve Dance

Members of the GE Squares Club will conduct their annual New Year's Eve dance this year Thursday, Dec. 31, at the Squares Hall. Al F. Larmann, Bldg. 26-2, is chairman of the event.

Bob Snowball and his orchestra will play for dancing from 9:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. The dance is semi-formal.

Beginning this week, tickets are available from contact men for $4.50 per couple for members and $4.75 per couple for non-members. Contact men will see members in their areas for reservations, David

W. Day, chairman of tickets, reported.

Decorations will carry out the holiday theme. Mrs. Harry Fisher, Squares Wives representative, is in charge of decorations. Refreshments will be available and a program of entertainment has been planned.

Guy D. Bradley, Bldg. 31-2, is in charge of special effects, and Bob Rescorla, Bldg. 18-3, is publicity chairman.

Drafting Supervisors Meet in Fort Wayne

A two-day company-wide drafting conference was conducted in Fort Wayne last week at the Van Orman Hotel. Approximately 40 drafting supervisors from General Electric plants in the United States and Canada attended the 1953 winter session. A total of 18 local supervisors of drafting were at the conference also.

This was the first such meeting to be conducted in Fort Wayne in the past four years. The group meets four times a year to review general problems in the drafting occupation and exchange ideas.

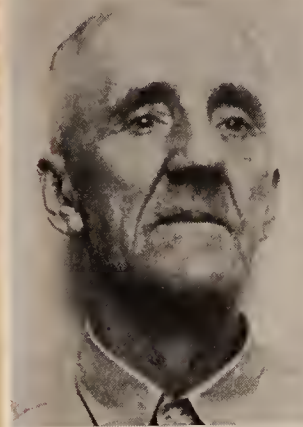

G. Ray Lindemuth, Bldg. 18-5, was general chairman in charge of the two-day meeting. Assisting him with arrangements were J. C. Duryee, Bldg. 4-6; C. H. Brandt, Bldg. 8-2, and R. W. Kent, Bldg. 18-5.

Some women say they could have married anyone they pleased. Evidently they never pleased anyone.

FAMILY WITH IDEAS—Yvonne Cecie, who received $1700 for a suggestion shows the check to her husband and parents, all GE employees who have turned in a total of 21 suggestions and had 11 adopted. Eugene Cecie, Bldg. 26-1, is shown at left and Vera Everett, Bldg. 26-4, and Willie Everett, Bldg. 19-3, are at right.

DEATHS

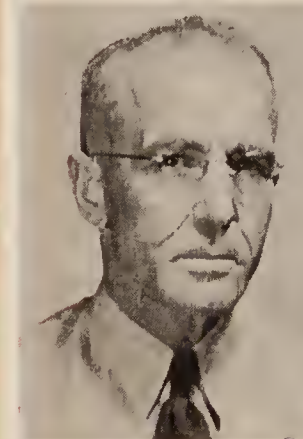

Leon C. Sechler

Leon Sechler, 69, Dies In St. Joseph Hospital

Leon Charles Sechler, 69, died Sunday, Dec. 13, at the St. Joseph Hospital where he had been a patient for two days. He lived at 812 W. DeWald St.

Services were conducted Wednesday, Dec. 16, at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, St. Joe. The Rev. Stewart G. Billings officiated. Burial was in the K. of P. Cemetery, St. Joe.

Mr. Sechler joined the company in Sept., 1944, and retired Feb. 2, 1949. He is survived by his wife, Hazel O.; one daughter, Mrs. Jack Henderson; one son, Charles E.; one sister, Mrs. William Stamen; two brothers, Ralph and John, and four grandchildren.

Wayne M. Cook

Quarter Century Man, Wayne M. Cook Dies

A Quarter Century Club member, Wayne M. Cook, 58, died Sunday, Dec. 13, at his home, 728 Walnut St. Services were conducted Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the Klaehn Funeral Home. The Rev. F. E. Schoenbaum officiated. Burial was in the St. John's Lutheran Church cemetery.

In Nov., 1916, Mr. Cook entered GE and went to Bldg. 19-2 in stock work. He became a clerk in 1919 and was a production clerk in 1925. He was a production clerk at the Winter St. plant prior to his death.

Surviving are his wife, Loretta Leeb Cook; one brother, Paul H., Bluffton; and one sister, Mrs. Everett Tappy, Bluffton.

Services Held Dec. 12 For Carrie VanAlstine

Services for Carrie VanAlstine, 68, were conducted Saturday, Dec. 12, at the Thoma Funeral Home, Bluffton, by the Rev. W. E. Borne. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Bluffton. Mrs. VanAlstine died at her home, 1242 Home Ave., Dec. 9.

A Quarter Century Club member, Mrs. VanAlstine joined the company in Jan., 1918, as a winder. She did assembly work, cleaned leads, and was a bench lathe operator prior to becoming a counter attendant in Bldg. 16-1. This was her job at the time of her retirement Oct. 29, 1948.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. George Chalfant, Mrs. Fred Sunier, Mrs. Dorothy McAfee, and Mrs. William Meyer.

O. J. (Jud) Passwater

Retired Decatur Man Dies of Heart Ailment

A retired Decatur plant employee, Orencey J. (Jud) Passwater, 76, died Friday, Dec. 11, of a heart attack at the Van Wert, Ohio County Hospital. He lived in Willshire, Ohio.

Services were conducted Monday, Dec. 14, at his home and at the Willshire Methodist Church. Burial was in the Willshire Cemetery. The Rev. Wallis A. Turner officiated at the rites.

Retiring in 1947, Mr. Passwater was a fireman prior to that time. He completed 21 years of service before retiring.

In addition to his wife, Nancy, survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Floyd Enos and Mrs. Sephus Jackson; one son, Judson Passwater, Jr.; six grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; and two brothers, Delton and A. F.

Gertrude Martin Dies After Extended Illness

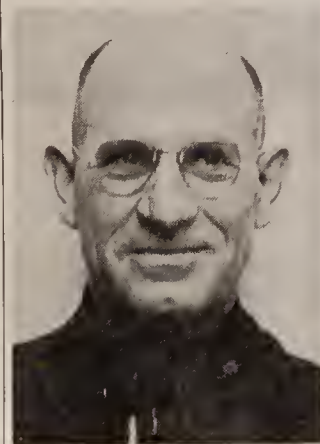

Mrs. Gertrude A. Martin, 56, 1302 Dodge Ave., died Monday, Dec. 14 at the St. Joseph Hospital. She had been on a leave of absence for illness since July 23 this year.

Services were conducted yesterday at the D. O. McComb & Sons Funeral Home and St. Jude's Catholic Church. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles F. Girardot officiated. Burial was in the Catholic Cemetery.

In 1943, Mrs. Martin came to the company and entered a factory training school at Taylor St. She became a turret lathe operator later. In March, 1945, she went to Bldg. 26-2 as a stacker. She did assembly work and coil placing and prior to her illness, she did miscellaneous operations in Bldg. 17-3.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Clifford Murfield; two sons, Francis A. and Paul E.; five grandchildren; three brothers, Edward Gocke, John Gocke, and Louis Gocke.

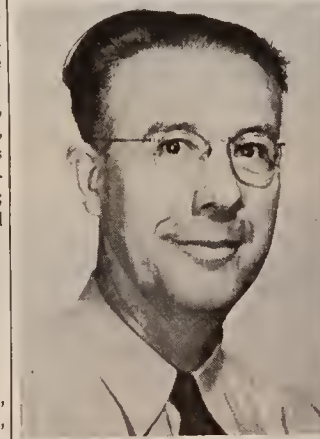

William E. Guldice

Heart Attack Is Fatal To William E. Guldice

A Bldg. 26-B employee, William E. Guldice, 61, died Sunday, Dec. 13, at his home in Bluffton following a heart attack. Rites were conducted Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the Jahn Funeral Home, Bluffton. The Rev. William Boone officiated. Burial was in Bluffton. Graveside rites were conducted by the Masonic Lodge.

When he came to GE in 1942, Mr. Guldice became a packer. Later he was a dipper and prior to his death he was a degreaser in Bldg. 26-B.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; three sons, Keith, Winferd, and Carl; two daughters, Mrs. Forest Stinson and Mrs. Dwight Bridge; and three grandchildren.

Joseph J. Mouglin

Joseph J. Mouglin Dies Following Long Illness

A retired employee, Joseph J. Mouglin, 65, died Thursday, Dec. 11, at his home, 342 W. Branning Ave. He had been in ill health for several years.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

Dear Santa Claus:

This letter is from the marketing section, Bldg. 4-6. We hope we are not too late to get your workers (even if you have to recruit some more from the South Pole) started on these requests: JOHNNY JOHNSON: Just thousands and thousands of KSP39 frame motors—NOW. . . . MARYLYN WIRE: A sort of Santa's pack for the heavy 9:30 Monday morning delivery. . . . DICK THOMAS: A miniature truck refrigeration power system, so he can carry his "baby" in his brief case when he goes peddling. . . . LORI BRINK: A long-sighed for vacation trip to San Francisco. . . . WOODY THOMPSON: A small tank of oxygen so he won't ever have to come up for air. . . . JOAN TRAXLER: A chair with padded back and arms to protect her from reckless swivel chair drivers. . . . JOHNNY SMAXWELL: One share of stock as consolation prize for his valiant effort in the GE bonus baby contest. . . . BETTY QUINE: Quote "A Man—Unquote unquote. . . . HOMER PORTE: A season ticket to all next year's Purdue games, a road map, and a 50-gallon tank of crude oil. . . . SKIP RHODES and BILL ABEL: Lifetime subscriptions for the price books of all the nation's wholesale houses. . . . JOHNNY (dean of women) REUILLE: Another beautiful daughter to keep Rita, Rosie, Jean and Jan company. . . . STEVE NAGY: A copy of "How to Win Friends and Influence People." . . . JOE HORAN: An Oscar and cash award of $1.75 for being voted "Driver of the Year." . . . JOE JAMISON and BETTY QUINE: Awards for the best belly laughing of the year. . . . VINCE GREGG: A desk with wheels so he can keep up with his roving office. . . . MAGGIE (Crazylegs) COX: A midwestern accent so we can tell her "part" from a "pot." . . . KITTY HABERSTROH: A murder mystery with a dentist as the victim. . . . SHIRLEY WUOLLE: She's already received her present—a radiator heater next to her desk. Good-by, ear muffs. . . . E. DOC POTTER: A copy of THAT book to review. . . . JULES STAAK: An atonic reactor to work into the Specialty Motor Line. . . . CARL McKAY: A personal moving van until he's finally settled. . . . WATT PYE: A bodyguard and libel lawyer. . . . We've missed a few of marketing's boys and girls who have been good all year, but we hope you will use your own judgment, and give them something nice, like a TV set or a Sun Valley Mere for watching the snow. . . . CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Milt DeJean on the arrival of Sharon Ann, born Dec. 11, weighing 6 lbs. 6½ ozs. Everyone is fine including the father. . . .

Monday, Dec. 14, services were conducted in the Klaehn Funeral Home by the Rev. Herbert Lindeman. Burial was in Greenlawn Memorial Park. The American Legion Post 47 conducted graveside services.

Mr. Mouglin came to GE in March, 1920 as a machinist. Later he was named a foreman and was a foreman in Bldg. 19-3 at the time of his retirement July 2, 1949. He was a Quarter Century Club member.

Survivors include his wife, Hedwig; two daughters, Miss Donna Jean, and Mrs. Berry Jean Germand; one sister, Mrs. Amos Prover, and four grandchildren.

FAREWELL: Bob Guiler left last week and is taking a test at Schemmady. . . . FAREWELL: George Megginson is leaving us today and will take his next test at Even-dale. . . . WELCOME BACK to E. R. Cunningham after having a childhood disease called the mumps. . . . RUTH EPPERSON doesn't like cold weather, especially cold cars. So while she attends class from 5 to 9 p.m., she lets her car run with the heater on. She claims that it is nice and warm when she gets in, but the cost of gasoline is rather high. . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAYS TO Jim Walley, Dec. 19; Harvey vonGuntzen, Dec. 21, and Irv Cirks, Dec. 23. . . . COLOR BLIND? Johnny Boeckel inquired at the Stationery Supplies for Manila folders. After quite a lengthy explanation, it developed that he was actually seeking "grey" technical binders. . . . THE CLAUDE VOSS' are now on their way to Florida. Christmas in Florida—how nice, but isn't it tough coming back? . . . MARY SMOAK will be enjoying her third week of vacation next week, too. . . . TODAY WE BID Harold Winderl good-by. He has completed his test assignment in Max Barrow's group. He reports to the laboratory next Monday. Good luck and don't forget us. . . . KATIE GARDT did it again. Yes, she forgot to roll down her car window again. So she has been wearing a bump on her head. We hope you will remember next time when you try to put your only head through the window! . . . SMOKE THAT PEACE PIPE? Last Thursday, the group around Charley Wurm began smelling a funny odor. Yes, that boy Charley Wurm was smoking his huge pipe again. So finally the group found out who the pipe smoker is.

THE BIG WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST. by Rachel Mounsey

Owen Winters bought himself a big car this summer. Then he got himself 20 feet of steel cable. His friends wondered why he needed such a strong car and cable. After the first snow storm, they found out. In Roanoke where Woody lives, there is a big hill and for a small charge, Woody helps them up the hill. . . . Moe and Mary Satterwaite went to Chicago Sunday to see their son off to the West Coast. . . . The other day, Bob Heintzelman had a real shock. He came home from work and found out that Santa Claus beat him home. His Christmas tree was up and all decorated. . . . Laura Krauskopf was all smiles Monday morning when she arrived at work, and who wouldn't be over a new '54 gold and black Belvedere Plymouth. . . . S. W. Wilson is spending some time in Alabama. . . . Belated birthday greetings to Bernie Humbarger. . . . We wish to welcome the following people on days: Nadene Reece, Mary Jackson, Charlotte Esters, Mary Ann Brown, John Terrill, Leola Russell, Helen Smeltzer, Anne Conrad, Charlene Smith, Darlene Carter, Maryetta Parker, Helen Griffin, and Gertrude Reichard. . . . Oscar Schelper was in to visit us the other day and we might add he's looking very good again. He also wishes to thank everyone for their thoughtfulness and kindness in his recent illness. . . . Robert Bowers has joined us again on days as a production man. Glad to have you back, Bob.

Don't let gift wrappings become a fire hazard. Keep them picked up off the floor and put away in a waste basket or box.

TWENTY MEMBERS ENROLLED IN Q-C CLUB

PAUL E. MERKEY
Taylor St.

RUTH CAVENDER
Taylor St.

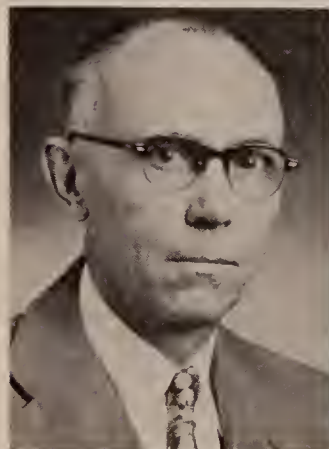

VIVIAN BOND
Bldg. 18-4

FRANK LAWRENCE
Bldg. 4-1

GORDON GRAHAM
Bank Building

MAURICE E. CROW
Bldg. 4-2

---VELMA E. JOHNSON---
Bldg. 12-1

---JOSEPH ZEPHYR---
Taylor St.

JESSE STOLLER
Bldg. 4-2

RICHARD O. WEIMER
Bldg. 20-2

NOBLE WAGNER
Bldg. 4-3

CHARLES W. REINBOLD
Bldg. 4-5

DONALD H. VOORHIES
Winter St.

GLADYS FREEMAN
Bldg. 26-3

CARL A. SCHAFIANSKI
Bldg. 27

MAX SHAW
Taylor St.

ROLAND E. KOHL
Bldg. 28

CHARLES V. PENNELL
Bldg. 4-6

HERMAN R. KORTE
Bldg. 26-2

KARL KIEL
Bldg. 26-4

TOOL BITSBLDG. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

Carl Zion experienced what is known as his lost week-end. He started it out by doing an expert job of cleaning their furnace with an old vacuum cleaner. Then he discovered that one end of the bag was open, and he had blown dirt all over the house. It was a lost week-end because Carl spent the rest of it working for his wife. . . . We are glad to report that Dale Edgington is steadily recovering at his home. The shop took up a Christmas fund for Dale and everyone was glad to contribute. One contribution was made when John Inches got hold of a small pie that Lee Richardson had brought in. John promptly raffled it off to the highest bidder, adding the money to the fund. . . . It's great to have sons old enough to drive the family car. Archie Wright's boy left him just enough gas to get away from home, but stuck midway between filling stations. . . . Die plant welcomes John Dennis. . . . Chester Platt and Bill Palmer both have TV and Bill even sacrificed free tickets to a hockey game so he wouldn't miss his programs. . . . Russell Hambly wishes to express thanks for the flowers that were sent on the occasion of his father's death. . . . We wish Estel Kester a quick recovery from his operation and Keith Jamison a safe trip on his Florida vacation which starts tomorrow. . . . Maury Sordelet favored the lathe section by passing out calendars last week. The boys soon caught on though. They were for the year 1953. . . . Mrs. Reynolds solved Chet's entertainment problem when she bought him a new TV set. She says he never did anything before she bought it and does less now. Chet now plans on giving her a real treat by taking her ice fishing during his third week's vacation. . . . We congratulate a host of proud dads in our section: Ike Rea, James Webber, George Haggenjos, Don Manter, and Richard Huth. Ike Rea has his wife and new daughter at the Parkview hospital. He reports that the Parkview snack bar serves the biggest and best ten cent cup of coffee in town. He ought to know as he was there for 15 hours. . . . Bob Mosshammer, one of our best euchre players, was euchred on an almost perfect hand—his alibi? He forgot which suit was trump. Clyde Spangler's multi-colored cap is the result of his co-workers' decorating ability. . . . The design unit welcomes Dick Arnold. . . . We mentioned early this fall that Sandy Greiner landed a beautiful three pound bass while Art Thiemé could only catch a six-inch mud bass. Now we have a picture of the little girl who showed Art how to really catch them. . . . In a recent Christmas parade Willie Garmann was portraying one of the Wise Men. We could see the other two Wise Men holding gifts, but alas, our Willie's hands held nothing but air. . . . Archie Gwaltney is really in an uproar since Elmhurst is facing possible suspension from Indiana basketball for engaging in fisticuffs with the so-called ruffians from Dave Bartle's town of Harlan. . . . They say Carl Mosser is now safe to venture into the wilds of Michigan since his son, Butch, passed his tests for Eagle Scout. . . . Why does everyone think it's a joke when Kurt Martin says he's holding open house December 24? He has the Christmas spirit, folks. . . . Eric Bluhm thinks this column did a good job of railroad him into the difficult task of installing overhead garage doors at the Emmaus Church. Walt Greiner was very happy to learn of Eric's talents. . . . Lloyd Welbaum's sudden fame as a writer of political articles is not surprising. He's after Pegler's job. . . . That heavy wind we had last week surely worried Lowell Welker. He was afraid his TV antenna was going over as he had no guy wires up yet. . . . Have you noticed Kurt Martin's out-of-this-world haircut? Kurt claims he went to sleep in his easy chair and when he awoke his granddaughter was just putting on the finishing touches.

Sandy

TRANSFORMER TATTLESBLDG. 26-4

Dutch Norwalk

Affairs in Monroeville must really be getting bad since Ora Cagnet became sheriff. They not only are running their cars into bridges. They are now burning down their own houses. UH! . . . Jackie Drier and her husband were rolling merrily along Route 30, when they were rudely stopped by the long arm of the law. What's the story, Jackie? . . . It has been suggested that F. Cumby and P. Broxon hold their daily Farm Bureau meeting in the office rather than in front of the coat rack. The rest of the boys without heavy farm problems, want to get their coats and go home. . . . Walt Maukey (says) he got banged up from rolling his car over four times. He looks to us more like he had a slight difference of opinion with Mrs. Maukey. . . . Our

NEW GE MOTOR WINS DESIGN AWARD—Small Integral Motor Department's new product, the TRI/CLAD '55' motor, brought Mill & Factory magazine's product award to the department recently. The new motor was selected as the outstanding new product design of the month by editors of the national business magazine and representative industrial engineers. The name, TRI/CLAD '55', is a registered trade mark of the General Electric Company. L. Dean Fowler, left, manager of marketing in Small Integral Motor, shows the award to Thorn L. Maycs, right, general manager of the department. J. Herbert Behm, center, manager of engineering, stands behind a cut-away model of the new motor.

LeRoy Rediger Named to New Post As Hermetic Manufacturing Engineer

A. LeRoy Rediger has been appointed manufacturing engineer in the Hermetic Motor Department, Willard H. Connor, manager of manufacturing, announced this week.

When he came to the company in 1937, Mr. Rediger joined the Apprentice School. He graduated from the machinist-toolmaker course in 1941 and entered the general tool division. The following year, he became a methods planner at Taylor St.

In 1946, Mr. Rediger transferred to Tiffin, where he was a methods planner until August of that year when he entered the U. S. Army. After his discharge in 1947, he returned to Tiffin.

Two years later, Mr. Rediger went on a manufacturing policy training program in which he traveled to eight plants. After completion of the course six months later, he returned to Tiffin as supervisor of planning and plant maintenance. This was his position at the time of his present appointment.

Mr. Rediger is a member of the Supervisors Club. The Redigers, who have one daughter, reside in Tiffin.

A. LeRoy Rediger

two fearless nimrods, Archie Rian and Buzz Hyser, returned from a hunting trip with a well filled bag. One rabbit each and some feathers knocked out of a pheasant. . . . Maurice Casey is now crying the blues. He can't win at euchre anymore. . . . Happy birthday to Eva Dicks, who had a birthday last week and was transferred to Taylor street, and no treat. Sorry, Eva. . . . Good luck to Theodore Harden, son of Maude Harden, who left for the Mediterranean Sea for six months' training. . . . What money does a guy! Seems that Russell James was in a daze, or was it absent-mindedness, when he started to work. When he found his car covered with ice and snow he cleaned the ice and snow off, ready to come to work, only to find he had cleaned his neighbor's car, instead. . . . Seen Maude Harden lately? She should know that step-ladders don't always stand still. Just a broken thumb, that is all. . . . Wonder why Maurice Mastin is walking around so crippled up? What happened? . . . Ernie and Helen say many thanks for the nice wedding gift. . . . Verdayne says he is ready for a big dinner and a good time.

SHAFT SHAVINGSBLDG. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

So long to Herb Rodermund. He has left us to work in Bldg. 31-1. We will miss his pleasant smile. . . . Paul Gruber is taking Herb's place. Paul comes from Bldg. 22. We are glad to have him back among us again. He worked here before going to Bldg. 22. . . . Quiet! It is so quiet here since Jim Feber and Terry Bowman have left. Jim is to work in Bldg. 31-1 and Terry is going on 2nd trick in Bldg. 17-2. . . . The cigarette machine in Bldg. 19-3 won't take Sam Baumgartner's money, but John, the cigarette man at the gate, doesn't feel that way about it. He won't give Sam any change back. He figures Sam is ahead anyway, because he helps himself. . . . Among meat, lettuce, mustard and onions, Herb Wendt likes paper napkins in his sandwiches. He was caught eating one on Wednesday noon. . . . Celebrating a birthday this month is Herb Boltz on December 12. Happy birthday, Herb. . . . Spitter! Spat! It can't be done. Delphos Morrical has learned he can't eat, light a pipe, and whistle at the girls at the same time.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGSBLDG. 22

by George Winans

I knew this transferring around would cause some confusion. It's got George Felts arguing with himself. Whenever work from Bldg. 22 is late reaching Bldg. 27, the dispatcher calls and bawls out the Bldg. 22 dispatcher and vice-versa. Now George finds himself in a rather awkward position. He is dispatcher in Bldg. 22 in the mornings and Bldg. 27 in the afternoons. George says no matter how fast he runs from one building to the other, when he telephones, he finds he has already left. . . . Several of the boys were baffled by the teeth marks in the cement floor of the old Smokehouse. Who could have been so hungry? Well, the mystery has been solved. It was our own Joe Ostrowski that chewed up the concrete. Seems he had eaten his lunch and gotten some seeds in his choppers. Joe took them out of his mouth and was blowing them off with an air hose when they blew out of his hand. We've heard of Redskins biting the dust but Joe has his own version. . . . If anyone has one of those new fangled clock radios and knows how to operate it, Ollie Miller would appreciate some instructions. He's getting mighty tired of being awakened in the wee small hours of the morning by blaring lights and music. . . . After that wild escapade when he cut a swath through busy downtown traffic, terrifying motorists and pedestrians alike, Sam Baumgartner of Bldg. 27 will be known as Sideswipe Sam. . . . Glad to have Ben Butler in for a visit last week. . . . Erv France's new Buick runs so quietly that he forgets and leaves it running while he's in the stores. Better poke a hole in the muffler, Erv. . . . We are all very sorry to hear of the accident of Dan Ferguson's little boy. The little fellow fell from an auto and is in the hospital with serious injuries. We all wish him a speedy recovery and a Merry Christmas.

Don't leave your Christmas tree up too long. It will become dry and easy prey for fire.

DANIEL D. GEARY (seated right) reads a letter of congratulations on his anniversary to J. C. Duryee (left) and standing (l-r) R. D. Jones and H. B. Carter. Mr. Geary joined GE in 1923 as an apprentice in Bldg. 26-5. He is now a drafting designer in Bldg. 4-6.

Best Wishes All Around For New 30-Year Folks

RALPH C. SCHLUP (second from left) talks over his 30 years with the company with F. L. Gale (left), Robert Shuster, and Bruce Rohn. Mr. Schlup was a messenger in Bldg. 18-2, when he first came to GE. He is now a dispatcher in Bldg. 4-5.

THELMA CLEMENTS (right) gets best wishes and a letter of congratulations from R. A. Van Horn on her 30th General Electric anniversary. Miss Clements is a typist in Bldg. 31-2.

ED CADE (arms folded) gets 30-year anniversary greetings from (clockwise from Mr. Cade) Elmer Gault, Harry Richardson, Eric Hoppe, Art Kabisch, Mort Pugh, and Eilcen Hardesty. Mr. Cade is a product quality analyst in Bldg. 4-6.

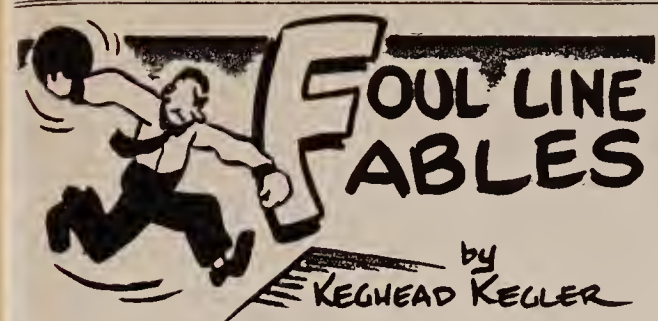

RALPH E. CLARK (center) gets best wishes on his 30th anniversary from John Lare (left) and Robert Wylie. Mr. Clark worked in Bldg. 19-B when he came to GE. He is now a general foreman in Bldg. 20-2.

HUGH M. JOHNSON (center) talks with B. B. Gausepohl and John O'Neal on his 30th GE anniversary. Mr. Johnson, who joined General Electric in 1923, is an assembler in Section 417 at Taylor St.

THEODORE R. SCHLUP (right) receives 30-year congratulations from (l-r) Elmer Wagner and Kenneth Highland. Mr. Schlup joined GE as a machine hand in Bldg. 2-3. He is employed in Bldg. 19-3 at present.

Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon

In the Transformer league, Volts are leading the league with a record of 24 wins and 9 losses. M's are in second place having won 18 and lost 15. In a tie for third place are Watts and Autos, each having won 15 games, while losing 18. Furliner winner of the week was Evans with a 94 count.

Team No. 1 is leading the league with 22 won and 17 lost. They are just one game ahead of Team No. 6, who have won 21 while losing 18. Team No. 2 has won 19½, while losing 19½, good for third place. Mary Hirschman kegled a 184, and Dorothea Ramsey rolled a 177.

Small Motor

R and R won 3 games and now have a record of 27 wins and 12 losses to lead the Small Motor league. Tommy's Lunch held onto second place and have a record of 23½ wins and 15½ losses. Koorsen Painters and Drafting are tied for third place, each having won 21 games while losing 18. H. Hoffman, rolling with Denton Drugs, kegled the high single game of the night, a 235. Other double century counts included L. Welker, 212; H. Doehrmann, 211, and C. Kelso, 200. W. Lamholy kegled his first of the season, a 214. C. Brandt scored a 204 and 206, but couldn't quite make a 600. Carl scored a 591.

Ladies' Friday Night

Each having won 24 games while losing 15, Teams No. 5 and 3 are in a tie for top spot in the Ladies' Friday Night League. In third place Team No. 1 has won 22 games and lost 17. Team No. 7 has a record of 19 and 20 for fourth place. Cathy Bailey converted the 6-7-10 split. Liz Shearer kegled a 565 score on games of 198, 151, and 216. Kay Crouse started with a 173 count and ended with a 173. She had a 200 middle game for a 546 total. J. Korn rolled a 159 first game and a pair of 173 counts for a 505 total. A. Dahman scored a 179; C. Stanford and E. Vandergrift each had 178; A. Howley rolled a 176; J. Getty, 174; and M. Parise, 170.

GE Orphans

Keenan Hotel has won 30 and lost 9, which puts them in first place. Team No. 2 is in second place with 24 wins and 15 losses. Bernie's Motor Sales with an 18 and 21 record is in third place. T. Gillard kegled a big 213 score; M. Rollins, 185; and E. Foor, 182. A high single game of 758 and a series of 2110 was rolled by Keenan Hotel.

Ladies' Monday Night

It is still Keglerettes out in front with a record of 31 wins and 11 losses. Holey Rollers are in second, having won 29 while losing 13. Just 3 games behind the leaders are Scatterpins with 28 wins and 14 losses. Twisters are in fourth place spot with 27 wins and 15 losses. The Pinball Five rolled a new league high game, a 798 score. Yvonne Rosenbahl kegled a 178 and Jean Cirks a 189. Donna Lommatzsch and Alberta Roth each converted the 6-7-10 split.

Owls Swamp Eckrich 87 to 26 To Maintain 'No-Loss' Record

by Howard Colby

The GE Owls swamped the Eckrich club last Thursday morning in what seemed to be "a score at will" affair. They rolled up an 87 to 23 victory to keep them in top position in league standings with a win and loss record of 6 and 0.

In the first period, Markey hit three fielders. White hit a field goal; Etter, three free throws; Wilson, two baskets, for a total of 15 points while holding Eckrich to 5.

In the second quarter Gladieux netted three fielders; Anspach, two; and Bailey, four charity tosses and a field goal. Eckrich scored 14 points to give the GE Club team a half-time lead of 31 to 19.

In the third stanza, Coach Benny Penkul started a revised line-up, which paid off to the tune of a 31-point quarter.

Markey and Somers hit two field goals; Dickey and Gladieux, two baskets and three free throws each; Anspach, three baskets and a foul shot; and Bailey, a basket, for a total of 31 points. They held Eckrich to just three points for a three-quarter lead of 62 to 22.

In the final period, it was White scoring four haskets and three foul shots; Blodgett, three baskets and three foul shots; Etter, three field goals; and Wilson, two charity tosses. Eckrich scored only four more points to give the GE Owls an 83 to 26 game.

Due to Christmas week the games that were scheduled for Thursday have been moved up to Tuesday morning, December 22.

At 9 a.m. Indiana Rod and Wire meets GE; at 10 a.m. Eckrich plays Salisbury, with Aircraft Gear playing Zollner at 11 a.m.

STANDINGS				W. L.
GE				Eckrich
Indiana Rod	6	0	0	4	2	0	0
Zollner	3	3	0	3	3	0	0
Aircraft Gear	2	4	0	2	4	0	0
Eckrich	0	6	0	0	6	0	0
Salisbury	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

GE				Eckrich
Markey	5	0	10	Crane	1	0	2
Bailey	2	4	8	Hoover	0	0	0
Anspach	5	1	11	Fahlsing	0	0	0
White	5	3	13	McMahon	2	1	5
Gladieux	3	3	13	Chapsett	2	1	5
Blodgett	3	3	9	Godfrey	4	1	9
Dickey	2	2	6	DeTurk	1	1	3
Wilson	2	2	6	Fox	0	0	0
Somers	2	0	4	Gentit	0	0	0
Fisher	0	0	0	Chewron	0	2	2
Etter	2	3	7	VanCleve	0	0	0
				Wisniewski	0	0	0
Totals	33	21	87	Totals	10	6	26

TOP FLOOR TOPICS BLDG. 26-5 by Jack Lea

Congratulations to Norma Bel-schner who recently became Mrs. Robert Arnold. Norma was given a shower by her co-workers. . . . Ethel Brown takes this opportunity of thanking her co-workers for the radio and dinner given her upon entering the Quarter Century Club. . . . Mary Blanchard was seen wandering around the parking lot, when her car was parked on the street. . . . Walt Mertz is in television now. His picture appeared on the screen of a television set advertised in the newspaper. Walt's going to sue. It wasn't a General Electric set! . . . Daffy Definitions: Trombonist—A guy who lets things slide. Battle Axe—One who is all will and a yard wide. Trumpet—What it wouldn't do Gabriel much good to blow unless he could set up a national hook-up. . . . A moment with God: Our Lord hath said, "Learn of me; he that followeth me walketh not in darkness."

Slate Mixed Doubles Tourney For Jan. 2 at GE Club Alleys

The first Mixed Doubles Tournament of 1954 will take place Saturday, Jan. 2, at the GE Club alleys, Joe Kramer and Les Shroyer, co-chairmen of the event, reported today.

With room for 48 teams in the event, squads will roll at 6 and 8:30 p.m. First prize is $20. This has been donated by the GE Club. The tourney is open to all GE employees. Entry fee is $2 per person. The amount covers entry and bowling on the club alleys.

17-3 NEWSIES by Wilhelmina Beeth

It's a happy 16th wedding anniversary today to Bob and Ann Kensill. . . . Things are blowing up on line one. Marlene Blair was baking potatoes and had them blow up. Ruth Denton wonders what Leona Hollis feeds her chickens. She was boiling eggs and they blew up. The ceiling was beautifully plastered with egg yolks. . . . It's a happy birthday and many more of them to Eva Fisher, Matilda Henderson, Janet Dillon, and Hedy Harrison. . . . Doris Ryan must be trying to kid someone. She said she was selling peanut brittle for Elex. She had it in a dog food box, and was seen carrying a book on "How to Raise a Dog." . . . We bid farewell to Juanita Likens Dusing. She is spreading the welcome mat for Mr. Stork. . . . Dream finally realized. John Lewis says he has waited 25 years for this. Last week he got a new TV set. Saturday night he was able to occupy the bath tub for a full hour without anyone pounding on the door or yelling at him. . . . Mama's little boy, Georgie Hinsch, has a new TV. It costs 50 cents a night for guests. If you come for supper, you have to bring your own eating tools. (P. S. He hasn't the antenna for the set yet.) . . . We extend sincere sympathy to Fay Stockberger on the loss of her brother-in-law.

ODE TO A WIRE MAN

Pete Ivory

Neither snow, nor sleet, nor hail, nor wind
Nor famine, flood or fire
Shall halt or slow
Our fearless hero—
The man who handles wire.

And there, in all his glory,
Our fearless stalwart stands
With grim upon his handsome face,
And corns upon his hands.

Just see the look of rapture
Held by this handsome squire,
As he happily goes about his job,
The handling of the wire.

All other prizes in addition to first place will be paid on a ratio of one prize for every four entries.

The handicap will be 70 per cent of the difference between the team average and 420. Composite averages will be used, the co-chairmen stated.

Persons interested in entering the event may register at the GE Club desk any time prior to the opening of the tourney.

Just see the beaming countenance
Like an angel out of heaven
When a winder asks him kindly
For a speed of 0427.

The enchanting, everlasting, lovely smile
Is quite a sight to see,
When seven women, all at once
Want wire, 0453.

Oh joy, to be a wire man
With content and peace of mind
You may search the whole world over
And the likes you'll never find.

See his shining, beaming countenance
And happy carefree style,
As his dispatcher kindly tells him,
"Git" that wire "outen" the aisle.

Oh, the wire man is cheerful
Oh, the wire man is gay
His winsome smile
His carefree style
Bring sunlight to each day.

Every man has ambition,
He surmounts each stumbling block.
He hopes and prays
That some of these days
He'll get to handle stock.

And after he's learned to handle stock
And mastered this difficult feat,
He hopes in the future
To sit on the top
The pinnacle, a dispatcher's seat.

But trials and tribulations come
Before you reach this goal
There's wire to test your mettle
And there's stock to try your soul.

And if you finally do succeed,
And all your dreams come true
It will bring a world of pleasure
And happiness to you.

So fare thee forth on thy merry way,
Luck be with thee my friend,
And you'll receive your just reward
You'll get it . . . in the end.

OPEN BOWLING

1:30 to 11:00 p.m. Saturdays at the GE Club

Joan Davis and Jim Backus to Do Musical Show on 'I Married Joan'

Comedy star Joan Davis and her TV colleague, Jim Backus, will display their talents as song and dance artists in a racy, tuneful edition of "I Married Joan," titled "Musical," Wednesday, Dec. 23, at 7 p.m., EST, on NBC-TV.

There's plenty of plot, too, providing typical Joan Davis comedy, when the show's star plans a club musical show and persuades her video spouse, Jim Backus, to take an active part in it. This Jim promises to do, before he discovers that he is to play the role of a dance hall girl. By that time all his objections are overruled.

The cast includes, besides Joan and Jim, the Roger Wagner choral group, including an intriguing female barbershop quartet made up of Maxine Winge, La Veda Marlow, Salli Terri and Joyce Ferrin. Beverly Wills, Joan Davis' daughter, who plays sister Beverly in the series, will be seen in a song and dance routine with Tom Peters. A highlight of the program will be Joan made up to impersonate Groucho Marx in an "Ooh la la" routine with Backus.

P. J. Wolfson produces "I Married Joan" and John Rich is the director.

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

It isn't news when someone says they bumped into a door, but when they say a door bumped them—well? Anyway Dick Noll gives that as the excuse for the patch above his eye. It seems Dick got the surprise instead of his daughter. . . . The Gecode Club of Decatur General Electric had their annual Christmas party at the Moose Home, December 9. There were 85 members present. Rhinestone scatter pins were presented to each member as a gift from the Club and door prizes were won by Bernadine Meyer and Janet Brown. The table was beautifully decorated with Christmas scenes, candles, and snow-covered twigs. An exchange of gifts, which had been placed under the Christmas tree, were given out by Santa Claus. The program "The Christmas Story" was given by Mrs. James Kooher at the piano and vibraharp. Mrs. Gene Morrison, soloist, and Mrs. Jack Heller, narrator. Chairman and committees were as follows: Ella Scherry, Pearl Kreischer, Christine Andrews, Veda Egle, Mary Fennig, Alma Fruchte, Velma Goetz, Irene Holt-house, Rose Miller, Joan Workinger, Barbara Gaunt, Iva Hunter, Dorothy Crosby, Faye Foreman, Harriet Fuelling, and Lucile Foor. . . . More than 600 kiddies were guests of the Decatur GE Club at their annual Christmas party, Dec. 12, at the Adams Theatre. As the last Mickey Mouse cartoon faded from the screen, Santa Claus made his regal appearance. While his helpers were busy following his instructions to give each guest a huge sack of treats, Santa was busy taking orders for trains, tractors, dolls and baby sisters. Oren Schultz was chairman of the party, assisted by the entire club entertainment committee. The treats were packaged Thursday night by a volunteer force of 20 Santa helpers. The next planned Club event is a Valentine dance and full details will be announced soon.

SPECIALTY MOTORS

Shipping—Receiving—Order Service

by Mabel Fisher

Has everyone seen the life-like drawing of two skunks in Bldg. 6-3, north end? These animals are posed, looking rather belligerent, and berating each other for some past deed. The drawing is in commemoration of a euchre game in which Cliff Saylor was "skunked" as the term goes, with Frank Parker's help. Cliff was playing the cards and Frank was advising him. That is why the animals are named Frank and Cliff. . . . Happy birthday to Elmer Griswold and Joseph Rykowski. . . . Norma Henshaw is going home for Christmas, back to good old Bedford, Pa. Lucky girl! . . . Ask Viola Haiber how she is doing with the new dance step, the bunny hop. We saw her receiving some instructions the other day. . . . The day is done and so is this column.

Q. How old is the Earth.

A. The most recent scientific evidence indicates that the Earth is about 3,000,000,000 years old. This falls within the range of results given by several different methods of age determination. Some of the most reliable of these are based on radioactive series of elements, in which one changes into another. Of four such series that are known, three end up with different forms, or "isotopes", of lead, all of which are different from the original lead isotope. Since the rates of decay of these three radioactive series are known, the proportions of the isotopes they produce increase with time. Thus, from their present abundance, scientists can work backwards and determine when the process started.

Q. Would the evaporation from a gasoline tank to be less if the tank were full, or half full?

A. This would depend largely on the shape of the tank, since evaporation occurs from the surface of the liquid and the more surface is exposed the faster it would evaporate. If the tank were a vertical cylinder there would be little difference, since the same surface would be exposed at all levels. With a horizontal cylinder, on the other hand, maximum evaporation might occur when it was half full, because then the liquid would have the greatest surface. In addition, if there are considerable temperature changes or changes in air pressure, the tank may "breathe".

Gordon A. Perry, Jr.

Gordon A. Perry, Jr., son of Gordon A. Perry, Sr., Bldg. 20-1, is shown on a recent furlough from the U. S. Air Force. His present address is:

A 2/c Gordon A. Perry, Jr., 16427961
338 Strat. Recon. Sq.
Forbes Air Force Base, Kansas

The following employees have entered the Armed Forces: Everett D. Steen, Andrew Shade, Norman L. Kendt, and Francis J. Hensler.

above the liquid, as when the tank is full, the loss would be much less.

Q. What causes a whispering gallery?

A. Ordinarily sound waves travel outwards in all directions from a source of sound, but they may be directed, as by a horn, such as a megaphone. Just as light waves from the lamp bulb in an automobile headlight are formed into a beam by the parabolic reflector, so can a beam of sound waves be formed with a large reflector of similar shape. With such a reflector at the receiving end to focus the waves and so concentrate them, a faint sound can be heard at a considerable distance. Sometimes in buildings such reflecting surfaces occur. This happened at the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City. The shape of the roof is such as to gather together the waves coming from the pulpit and to concentrate them at a point far to the rear, where one can hear a pin dropped on the pulpit, although it cannot be heard at some intermediate positions.

Q. What is a Gatling gun.

A. Dr. Richard J. Gatling, of Chicago, whose life extended from 1818 to 1903, patented this gun in 1862. It is generally considered the first real "machine gun," that is, in which the charges were fed into the chambers, fired, and extracted by mechanical means. It consisted of a group of parallel gun barrels, originally four, later six to ten in number, mounted in a circle so that they could be brought into firing position one after another. Operation was by turning a hand-crank, and the cartridges were fed by gravity from a hopper above the breech. The Gatling gun was used in the Civil War to a limited extent. During the last third of the 19th century and the beginning of the 20th, it came into wide use all over the world, in calibers from about a quarter inch to one inch. Its weight and size, almost as big as a small piece of artillery, were the main objections to it.

Q. Did elephants ever live on the continent of North America?

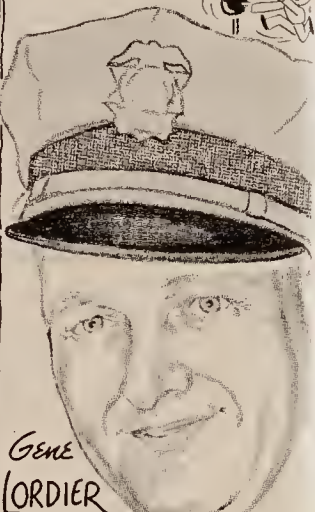

A. Yes, four members of the elephant family, now extinct, once lived in North and South America. One was the mastodon, which was about 9½ feet tall and had long coarse hair. It may have been hunted by some of the earliest Indians in the forests of what are now Canada and the United States. It also lived in South America. The mammoth was about 9 feet high and covered with dense wool. Remains have been found in the frozen soil of Alaska. There was the Columbian elephant, about 11 feet high with incurved tusks. This beast wandered around in warmer regions as far south as Florida and the tablelands of Mexico. Largest was the imperial elephant, which grew to a height of 13½ feet and is believed to have been a dweller of the plains.

It's not smart to argue with a fool; listeners can't tell which is which.

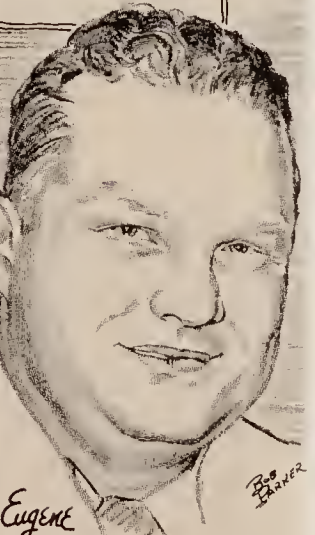

G-E people in the NEWS

Art Smethers
ART IS ONE OF THE TOP BOWLERS IN THE FORT WAYNE AREA

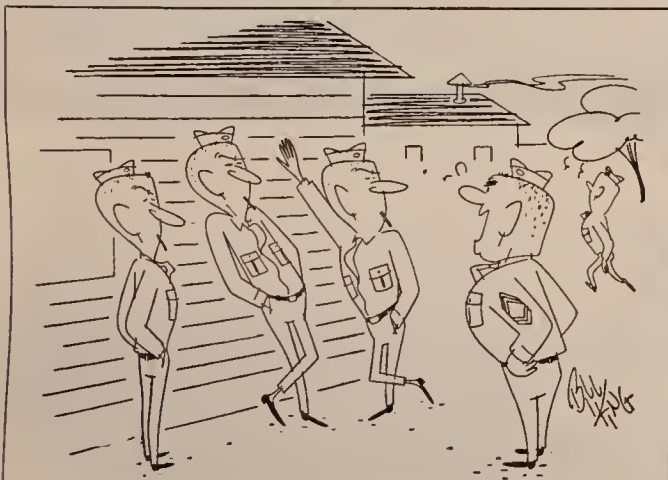

Gene Lordier
BLDG. 10-2
—IS AN INSTRUCTOR IN THE RED CROSS TRAINING COURSE FOR RESCUE SERVICE VOLUNTEERS

Eugene Foster
—BLDG. 4-5

—IS A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, NORTH-EAST CIVIC ASSN.

"This is a one-man job. You three guys will do"

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS OF THE MONTH

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone. Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 18-1.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Black leather gloves, fur lining. E-1522.

LOST—Wine, Schaeffer pencil with name imprinted. James Stokke, Ext. 2851. Taylor St.

FOUND—Single brass key.

FOUND—One key on chain.

FOUND—Eight keys on chain with good luck penny.

FOUND—One ear drop, pearls and blue stones.

FOR SALE

ICE SKATES—Men's hockey skates, size 12, excellent condition, $6. 3940 Tacoma Ave.

HORSES—Two saddle horses, very gentle. One suitable for children. H-46542.

FORMALS—Light blue taffeta and net, pink taffeta and net, mint taffeta and net, red velvet, black and red iridescent taffeta, size 8, 10, 11, $9 to $23. H-59022.

CAR—1935 Ford, 4-door, radio, gas heater, good motor, and tires, $50. A-70692.

BICYCLE—20-inch boy's bicycle, practically new, $50. A-76365.

ICE SKATES—Girl's, size 6, practically new; electric welder, 200 amp.; forge, 1135 Broadway.

SUITS—Men's suits, three, size 39 long, too small for owner; medium gray, dark gray, and brown. Priced very reasonable. A-39062.

RADIO—Howard radio console in good condition. E-6885.

FORMAL—Light blue, off the shoulder, taffeta, size 12, worn twice, $5. Also complete Brownie outfit, size 10-12, $2.50. H-48123.

CAR—1950 Studebaker, 4-door Champion; radio, heater, overdrive, practically new tires; very nice economical car for only $695. Will accept trade. H-74471.

BICYCLE—Girl's, 26-inch Western Flyer bicycle, excellent condition. A-59343.

CAR—Aeroplane pedal car for the kid's Christmas. Very good condition. First $10 takes it. K-2719.

CONTROL—Minneapolis Honeywell furnace control, in good condition, $10. A-99160.

SKATES—Girl's, white, figure skates (Planett), size 7, like new. Bargain at $8. Henderson bicycle, girl's 26-inch, $12. H-9656.

BEDSPREADS—Cherry red, tailored, double bedspread and French pleated 61-inch wide drapes. Can be split in two. Like new, $13. A-59065.

SUIT—Boy's brown, wool, tweed suit, size 6. Girl's red and snow suit with fuzzy white wool collar and hood to match, size 3. Tricycle, 20-inch, with large balloon tires. Tricycle, 16-inch; steam roller, large enough to ride on, like new. H-91074.

INSTRUMENTS—Set of drawing instruments. Dinner jacket, Palm Beach, size 36-38. Coal and wood, hot water heater, 35 gal. tank. Man's gray overcoat, size 40. Lady's winter coat, black and white, with fur collar, size 12-14. A-77601.

SNOW TIRE—2 recaps, 5.25x5.50 17-in., and tubes; 1 already mounted on '36 Chevy wheel. Used one season, $18. H-76585.

PILLOW SLIPS—Crocheted and embroidered pillow slips. E-6138.

TRAIN—Model train layout, like new; two American Flyer trains with all accessories and extra track; mounting board 3x8. Cost $150, will sell for $99.50. H-24723.

CONTROLS—Coal furnace controls. Saturday or Sunday. E-56544.

MOTORCYCLE—1937 Harley-Davidson 14 motorcycle, $90. Jas. Gambrell, R. R. 1, Columbia City or call Col. Cy., 2095 W.

SKATES—Lady's roller skates, size 8; also extra set of wheels. H-55091.

ICE SKATES—Lady's white, size 6, $4. A-26311.

CAR—1939 Chev. coupe, radio and heater; winterized; good transportation; $85. K-5692.

CAR—1950 Chev. Fleetline Del., 4 door, heater, very clean, 31,000 actual miles, $850. E-72214.

PARAKEETS—Several colors, $6 each for 10 birds. Would make nice Christmas gift. E-26669.

HOBBY KIT—New deluxe Kodacraft hobby kit; never been used. Would make an ideal Christmas gift. Will sell for half price. H-79654.

ICE SKATES—Men's ice skates, size 11; good condition; $6. H-48232.

SUIT—Blue suit, size 18, black skirt, yellow skirt, 5 checked skirts, black dress trimmed in red, gray dress. All like new and size 18. H-83452.

IRONER—Ironite ironer. E-66382.

RADIO—Crosley console radio and record player combination, walnut wood, like new. Large size. A-65931.

TV SET—Capehart TV set. Console model with 17-inch screen, UHF and VHF, one year old, Reasonable. H-01677.

TIRES—3 tires, mounted, 52x55x17, $6 each. Set maple bunk beds, springs and cotton mattresses, $60. Maple breakfast set and 4 chairs, yellow plastic seats, $20. 1938 Pontiac 4-door, R and H. Highest offer. Trendle sewing machine, $6. A-86401.

SEWING MACHINE—White, like new, oak, treadle, rotary sewing machine with two drawers on each side, in excellent condition, easy running, with all attachments. Will take $20. A-39323.

ICE SKATES—Two pair women's, size 7 1/2, and men's, size 10. Sunbeam Shave-master, child's pink velvet coat and leggings, size 3. Man's Eagle Lodge ring with two diamonds. Mahogany coffee table. K-3885.

BIKE—Small, two-wheel, sidewalk bike with balance wheels; doll buggy; girl's clothing, sizes 3-12. Two girl's winter coats, size 10; all dry cleaned and in good condition. K-1635.

GUITAR—Electric Hawaiian guitar and amplifier, reasonable. Full size, mahogany finish, bed with springs and good inspersing mattress; reasonable. H-28941.

MUSICAL CHURCH—Swiss musical church, all wood, trimmed with pine trees, glens with snow, glassine windows, brass bell in steeple, 11x7x9 1/4 in., plays "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." A-60372.

DICTIONARY—New Webster encyclopedia edition, over 2,000 pages, $12.50 volume for $5. H-59105.

PIANO—Player piano and 100 rolls. Piano needs a little repairing. Reasonable. H-83434.

COATS—Two coats, size 12. Two coats, size 42. E-2350.

VIOLETS—African violets, gift plants, rooted cuttings and small plants. All-State auto ignition, vacuum and pressure testing kit, grease gun, 5-lb. gear grease. E-5254.

TRICYCLE—Boy's clothing, sizes 4-6 and 8. Pair of lamps. H-35444.

TIRES—Two 6.50x16, 6-ply tires and tubes, used. Tire and tube, 6170x15, used. 2215 Fairfield St.

CABINET—White, counter-top height, utility cabinet. Extra sturdy, two doors, two drawers. Like new, reasonable. 1235 Vance St.

PUPPIES—Beautiful, little, black and tan, Top Manchester puppies, seven weeks old. Ideal Christmas gift. 2606 Brooklyn Ave. E-3316.

PARAKEETS—Assorted colors, young and older ones. Reasonable prices, 845 N. 10th St., Decatur, Ind.

BICYCLE—Boy's 24-inch Western Flyer, in good condition. Two roll-away beds. H-78394.

RADIO—1948 Pontiac car radio, in excellent condition. Has just been overhauled. Make me an offer. H-59581.

CAR—Pontiac in excellent condition with 56,000 actual miles. One owner. H-59581.

REFRIGERATOR—GE refrigerator, 6 cu. ft., good condition, $75. Central H. S. wool sweater, size 34-36, cleaned, good condition, $3.50. A-29894.

PARAKEETS—Choice parakeets, guaranteed. H-67118.

DRESS SUIT—Full dress suit (tailor), 10-42, excellent condition; reasonable. H-28755.

SNOW SUIT—Five dresses, size 10-12, good condition, all for $10. Automatic, H and R, rifle; used very little and in excellent condition; $40 value, will sell for $25, including leather case. E-78905.

TABLE—Mahogany coffee table, new, oval, glass top, Duncan Phyfe, $20. H-81862.

BABY TENDA—With plastic cushion seat, $8. A-39615.

DRESSES—Two girl's, size 12-14, holiday dresses, $3 each. Black suede flaties, 5AA. Snow pants, size 12. H-50002.

PROJECTOR—Movie projector, 8 MM. Revere 85, 500-watt with case. A-46528.

ICE SKATES—Lady's, white shoe ice skates, size 5, $4. Aluminum car top boat, like new, weighs only 93 lbs., $150. Argus slide projector, 100 watt, like new, $18. 1642 Sprunger Ave.

DESK—Knee-hole desk, two-tone walnut, 7 drawers, excellent condition; reasonable. H-4958.

RADIO—Zenith console radio. Has the necessary equipment to attach record player. $25. K-2764.

ICE SKATES—Boy's, size 4, like new, $5. H-75265.

ICE SKATES—Child's, white, ice skates, size 3. Also a large doll buggy, in very good condition. K-1977.

BEEF—40 cents per lb. for one-half of choice beef. Approximate weight, 275 lbs. Will be butchered next week. Robert Hunt, Arcola 2791.

PIANO—Upright piano, piano bench, and light. A-27771.

DEEP FREEZE—14 cu. ft. Torvic, 8 mo. old. Take over payments or cash. Excellent condition. E-67351.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE WANTED—From Auburn to Broadway plant from 7 to 3:30. Don Muckenfuss, Ext. 2272.

RIDE WANTED—From St. Joe Center Road near St. Joe Center school, 8 to 4:31. Laurel Winn, Ext. 767.

RIDE—From Bluffton to Broadway GE, 7 to 3:30. After 4:30 call Bluffton 319M.

RIDE WANTED—From Monroe, Ind., to St. Joe, second shift, 3:18 to 11:48 p.m. Mildred Brown.

LEAVING—7 p.m., Dec. 23, for Birmingham. Return Dec. 27. Room for 2. Share-the-ride passengers all or part of the trip. Roscoe L. Beedle, Dept. 13, Taylor St., RFD 13, Fort Wayne.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

We are glad to see Ted Lorenz back after his auto accident. Ted is making his way with a cane, when he can get it away from Bill Garvey. Bill is limping from an unexplained accident which occurred in the Marketing Section. Ted is threatening to chain his cane to his chair to make certain that he has it when he wants to travel. . . . Sales Accounting is welcoming Donna Rogers and waving good-bye to Lorraine Shaffmaster. Lorraine is leaving to marry a Michigan State senior. She was presented with two lovely yellow shag rugs.

Have you ever noticed that measles and mistletoe seem to come in epidemics? Several people have shown up here with the latter lately. Marion Zent and Aubrey Lash have a good supply on hand and are hereby giving warning to all girls to beware. . . . Roy Schmidt is the envy of Machining Operations. Have you seen the beautiful Boudoir Pink oil barrels in front of his machine? . . . One of the biggest grins around Winter St. belongs to Pat Pepple. Her husband has just returned from Germany where he has been serving with the Army.

Some people have visions of sugar plums dancing through their heads while they snuggle cozy in their beds, but I bet Helen Snyder and Joan Patton see yellow advertising cards. The girls are dipping 12,000 cards, by hand, into a dri-film (o.k., silicone, if you must be technical) solution. These cards will be given to sales representatives to demonstrate the advantages of motors treated with this process. They shed water.

Solid, Whitey! Whitey Michelfelder is proving he is hep to the season by wearing one red and one green sock and rolling his jeans legs to display his decorations. . . . Joe Raupfer is a magic enthusiast and was a rapt watcher of the Indian rope tricks on TV the other night. We hope they show how to get down on the next program. We need Joe here. . . . Did you see Tom McCrea, Dave Jones, and Don Batchelder in the preliminary basketball game at the Coliseum? These boys are on the GE Apprentice team and won their game by six points.

Red Braden is another sport fan who is usually found waiting for the Coliseum doors to open. Red is the penalty score keeper at the hockey games. . . . Dale Weaver, an adopted son of the South, is a cracklin' eater of some renown. He was rather hurt, after treating his section to some of these delicacies, when one person said, "Ugh, greasy, aren't they?" He plans to disguise the next batch in cracklin' bread. . . . Ray O'Keefe bought a new radio in the Employee's Store just so he wouldn't miss the latest installment of his favorite program. Workers were surprised to hear Ma Perkins in the Tool Room.

CONGRATULATIONS TO: Jane Oberlin on the birth of a daughter. Jane was a member of the Drafting Department. . . . Walter Buesking, a new member of the Gallon Club. All members of this club have contributed a gallon of blood. Such a gift can surely be said to come from the heart, if you will excuse the pun. . . . Ed Quinlan turned the "going-away gift" idea around. When he left for Schenectady, he gave the girls in the Marketing Section a big box of chocolates. We will miss you, Ed, but the candy was excellent.

Leslie Logan has discovered that being a guard involves more than having a sharp eye. One must also be something of a second story man. Leslie is the man to see if you need someone to scale the walls and unlock stubborn doors. . . . Roger Pitzen is whizzing around on a new oil truck, but you would think it was a Cadillac from the attention he gives it. . . . Recent visitors in the Tool Room were Marc Thullen and Carl Speckman, retired GE'ers. These fellows represent 70 years of service to the Company.

Harold Fremion and Dave Berghorn are casting those looks over their shoulders to see if some officer may be following them—auto detail, perhaps. They borrowed Joe Rowan's car keys to go out for lunch. After trying for some time to open the nearest blue Pontiac, they were informed that they had the right color but the wrong car. Now we know your M. O. boys, and all blue car owners are alerted.

The T.E. group is decreasing with the transfer of Darrell Kirken-dall to Taylor St., Don Heising to Erie, and Don Bosch and Wally Thompson to Utica. . . . We were sorry to learn of the death of Wayne Cook, who worked in the Production Department before his recent retirement.

RIDERS WANTED—First trick to Broadway plant on Road from St. Joe. Robert Bishop, Bldg. 4-5, Ext. 436, or write Box 104, St. Joe.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT—Three-room, furnished apartment on bus stop. E-7827.

HOUSE—4-room house at Markle, Ind. Lights, water, and toilet. Nice lot on No. 3 highway. 513 W. Fourth St.

APARTMENT—Private, upper 4 rooms and bath, near both GE plants, utilities and heat furnished. Two small children allowed. A-57583.

APARTMENT—Three-room, unfurnished apartment. Share bath with owner. Private entrance; all utilities paid; close to GE. 1329 Wall St.

HOUSE—6 rooms and bath, streamlined kitchen, automatic heat, and hot water heater. Carpeted stairway and hall, excellent condition. Immediate possession and near GE. Must be seen to be appreciated. $10,500. K-1924.

APARTMENT—Newly decorated, three-room unfurnished apartment. All utilities furnished. A-36373.

WANTED

STOVE—Small, pot belly stove, not more than 30-in. high. E-66165.

WOMAN—To stay with two school children while mother works. Go home nights. Sunday and Monday off. $15 a week. H-82531.

LOT—Corner lot, suitable to build in or at least in city limits. H-44593. Small ranch type home on. Must be close WASHINGS—And ironings. A-69324.

BUILDING—Old building with usable materials. Reasonable. A-36453.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL CARE for children in my home days, while parents work. Close to GE. A-46664.

THANK YOU

Your kind expression of sympathy is deeply appreciated and gratefully acknowledged. Many, many thanks for your beautiful spray of Glads and Pom Poms. Russell L. Hamby, Jr.

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

Clara Volz

Roy Brown, who retired several years ago, sent the gang a large coconut from Florida for a Christmas treat. Thanks a lot from all the gang, Roy. How ya' doing down there in the land of milk and honey? Next time send some of that Florida sunshine we hear so much about. Could use a bit here in Indiana now. . . . Howard Funk, our television expert, was telling about the delicious pancakes and eggs that he gets in a restaurant on Fairfield St. close to the plant. The only trouble is that he can't have them as often as he would like. Puts on the pounds you know. Lead me to 'em. . . . Bill Bowling, our test learner from Virginia, is leaving here for other parts. Good luck, and take it easy on the corn bread, Bill. . . . Come next Wednesday noon, the office gang is going to put on the feed-bag. Bill Hoelle promised to bring in the dessert. Fruit cake, that is. Herr Braun said he would come if we don't serve tea. What do you want? Egg in your beer! I see that John Norris and Dick Miller are very fond of sardines and crackers. So much so that they could eat them anytime of the day. . . . John Donovan called my bluff on that cigar deal of last week. He said that he would buy two cigars if I smoked one of them. Gosh, John, I'm awfully sorry, but I just quit smoking as of last week. Too bad I can't help you out. . . . Times have changed! Teachers are bringing students red apples now. For further information contact Bill Hanke and Don Kee. . . . Sam Corb is another one of our Test learners who is leaving. Good luck to you, Sam. It's been nice knowing you. . . . Business or no business, Art Braun just had to go to the Nickel Plate ground-breaking ceremony to see that everything came off as it should.

COUNT OFF

SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Marguerite Stahl

Hilda LeCoque entertained 11 children Saturday afternoon at a birthday party for her son, Jerry. Saturday evening, she had a group for a surprise birthday supper for her husband, Paul. . . . Paul Winters really enjoys his neighbors' TV from his own living room. The only handicap, from house to house there is no sound. What nice neighbors not to pull their shades. . . . Zella Witte is known as the number one saleslady in Section 17-61. . . . We are wondering how Martha Small is getting along with her school lessons? . . . Fire-fighter Catherine Chilcote, fell down twice in the dark trying to help the neighbors put out a fire. . . . Our sincere sympathy to Ruth Cavender in the tragic death of her little two-year old nephew, Carl Bass. . . . Happy birthday to Velma Ritter. . . . The Hockey Club wants to know what Linda Wahrer fed Skippy, that he was the star Saturday night? She said she just told him a story about Santa Claus. . . . Are Rose Cuney and Louise Sinn starting their Christmas shopping with the market basket Ross brought in last week? . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shroyer on the birth of a baby daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Shroyer wish to thank everyone for their lovely gifts they received for their new daughter.

The Summit City is serviced by 8 motor coach lines, 3 air lines, and 4 railroads.

TALES from TAYLOR

SECTION 113 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

At the recent safety conclave held at the Chamber of Commerce, it would seem that Harold Hart was the stellar attraction. After the usual speeches and presentation of safety awards, the participants were treated to an entertainment. One of the acts was a female impersonator who did a song and dance act which was quite good. Everyone in the audience, including Mr. Hart, thought it was a woman until the performance was over. Leaving the stage, the supposedly beautiful maiden approached Harold, who was sitting in the front row, and kissed him. Returning to the stage, the performer removed the wig. You guessed right; it was a man. Then to top it off, the act following was a beautiful young lady who was an expert in the art of terpsichore. After finishing, she also left the stage and kissed him. It is needless to say that Harold has been living in a fog ever since. . . . Joe "Shep" Turley was telling us a tall story the other day about a Tom turkey his father owned. He said that this turkey was a wise old bird who seemed to know when the holiday season approached. In order to escape the fate of many a fowl, that of ending up in the family roaster, he would begin barking like a dog, thereby extending her lease on life. . . . We told you about George England dyeing his white T shirts black, making it unnecessary to wash them very often. Well, he still is having shirt troubles. It develops that he has quite a lot of white dress shirts at home with the collars badly worn and frayed. He was quizzing us the other day as to where he might obtain some new ones. Then he would have his wife sew them on, thereby getting some more mileage out of these shirts. We suggested to him that he cut the old collars off them, and grow a flowing beard. This would eliminate the necessity of a collar and necktie. . . . Bob Gerdorn was in high glee last Monday morning. He reported to us that over the weekend, he became engaged. For weeks in advance, he has talked about this, giving one the impression that becoming engaged was a terrible job. But from our experience, this is a very tame procedure, compared to what happens after the nuptial vows are solemnized. Then, forever after, it is one's nose on the old grindstone. However, we do not wish to discourage the young man but extend to him our heartiest congratulations.

Pensioners Parade

The following employees will retire January 1, 1954:

Manie B. Allen, Melvin W. Beuler, Herman W. Bright, Joseph F. Formanek, Maude J. Waikel, and Burdella M. Welch.

Charles L. Engle, who worked in Section 17, Taylor St., prior to retiring in 1949, has been getting in some hunting this season. Proof of his success is the picture above which shows Charlie with a deer and a bear, which were shot in New York state. Charlie got the deer and his son-in-law got the bear. Helen Engle, Charlie's daughter, works in Bldg. 4-3. She reports that they ate the bear meat and that it was very good.

Far away from our ice and snow, Clyde Hemerick is in the sunny south—Florida, to be exact. Reports from a paper down there show that Clyde has been having very good luck fishing. Clyde retired July 1, 1952.

APPRENTICE BROADCAST

by James Schwartz

Rumor has it that the four-foot diameter gear, now being machined in our gear section, is to be a replacement sprocket for London's Big Ben clock. This is no doubt the reason that the job was given to our "Big Ben" Conner. . . . John Waltemath was having a bit of trouble with his ear heater the past week, so John tried to fix it himself. He reached in to check it and came out with a bleeding finger. Seems he forgot to turn the fan motor off. . . . Clifford Greason just can't seem to get anything out of his shop math class. Cliff works part time at a filling station and was checking out the cash register the other night with no success. He figured and figured but always came out short. The final result showed a shortage of some $80 and it was finally decided that two men had robbed the station while Cliff was checking the pumps, because all the folding money was gone when he came back in. . . . The Apprentice School basketball team romped to a decisive 52-30 victory over the Manufacturing Trainees in the inter-division league. Our boys still lead the league standings with no losses and five victories. Two games remain on the schedule for the first-half championship, the last of which is with the GE Squares. The Squares basketball team was overheard saying the apprentice team was "a bunch of over-rated little punks," so naturally we will want to win this game more than any other due to this uncomplimentary statement. This game will also decide the first half championship, so let's all plan to be there next week and cheer our team to victory. Then we will really see just who is over-rated. . . . The Apprentice School social council has decided against any Christmas activities this year, due to the general chaos that usually engulfs us during this busy season. A card party is being planned, however, for our January function, with Mahlon Hutchison acting as chairman of the event. . . . Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. George Haggenjos and Mr. and Mrs. Webber. George and his wife were blessed with a new baby girl and the Webbers are the proud owners of a new baby boy. . . . We wish to extend the welcome mat to Arnold Korte and Jack Enyeart. These boys have returned to the school after serving with Uncle Sam. We also want to welcome two new boys into the school. They are Donald Morris and Harold Redman. Don is on the drafting course and Harold has enrolled on the Machinist-Toolmaker course. . . . Ron Davis experienced a little car trouble after classes the other night. Ronnie got in and started to drive away and heard some unearthly noises. It seems that some kind soul had crossed two hoards over his muffler and under his wheels and as he drove forward over the hoards his muffler was neatly and completely removed.

TALK OVER OLD TIMES—Donald Martz (left) talks over his 35 years with GE with Frank Drewett and Harry Mitchell on the occasion of his anniversary with the company. Mr. Martz joined GE as a finisher in 1918. He is now working as a toolmaker in Bldg. 19-4.

THE NIGHT WIND

SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Hazel Davis

Johnny Sucier looked very nice in Ginnie Free's bow tie the other night, but Johnny would make some gal a nice beau anyway with that pretty blue Olds. . . . Ruth LaPradd is having quite a struggle getting her outfit ready for her daughter's wedding, along with her Christmas shopping. But tell us, Ruth, when is the wedding? . . . Homer Huser has a new TV with only Fort Wayne reception. He only gets to watch it Saturday and Sunday as the station comes on after he leaves for work and signs off before he gets home. Now we ask you, Homer, how can you take your wife out if you have to stay home week-ends to watch TV. . . . Betty Boldt returned from her vacation, but she says she couldn't go anywhere as a new well cost her so much. Well, at least, you could drink, Betty. . . . Some of the girls have really been lucky winning check and basketball pools. Why not let the rest of us have a chance, girls? . . . They say that Edith DeMuth is going to retire, but we will let you ask her why. . . . Ed Hutsel has gone to Broadway to work. Now, Ed, was that nice, not to bid us good-bye? . . . Hazel Davis is really coming along with her driving lessons. She is driving in traffic now. . . . While Mrs. Homer Huser got a permanent last week, Homer and son, Tony, decorated the Christmas tree. Tony was the boss, so Homer looked on. . . . The 21 frame girls are glad to see Maxine Ensley back to work. . . . We are sorry to hear Mary Rose won't be back with us until February. We are missing you, Mary, and hope for your speedy recovery. . . . Lucy Brady was all keyed up Friday night on the 21 frame and boy, did the motors fly! . . . Willie Jones was trying to make one less light post in the parking lot. That surely is hard on ears, Willie. . . . Charlie Prime got a telephone call from Guy Livingston, who was in Milwaukee. We thought it was Peoria, Guy. . . . Helen Bennet had part of her Christmas a little early. She entertained her parents and brother from Bedford, Ind., over the week-end. . . . We wish Hilda Hershey's mother who fractured her hip, a speedy recovery. . . . Clara Koomler has gotten her fortune told several times lately and it really has been good. . . . Hana Lee Stith, formerly from Bldg. 26 is now on 2nd trick in Div. 17. Glad to see you, Hana. . . . Bob Reinhart really is a champion waffle maker, but he forgot to put in the shortening. . . . We told you last week that Charlie Prime went hunting, but guess what, he shot a dead rabbit. Now we ask you, Charlie, was that fair to the rabbit when he couldn't run? . . . Ethel Hendrickson is making a trip to Decatur, Ill., to see her parents on Christmas.

2-2 TALES

Belle Buchan

And once again we say good-bye to a very swell person, who has not only been our superintendent, but a good friend as well, for several years, Mr. Eldon Vosburgh. Eldon is to be connected with our new plant at Holland, Mich. We wish him all good luck. To take his place is Mr. George Howell, who I am sure we will like equally well. We hope he will be happy with us. . . . The office Christmas party was a huge success, with a lot of good entertainment and loads of good things to eat. Even the weatherman cooperated and held off the rain that he had promised. . . . Walt Dreyer's cute little son, Brad, nearly lost his identity at the party the other night. Vern Castle's daughter was holding the friendly little fellow on her lap and someone asked Vern if Brad was another Castle. . . . Audrey Hicker-nell is back to work after a severe cold. Don't mind the red nose, Audrey. Even Santa Claus has a red nose. . . . Because the Christmas issue of the GE NEWS is coming up this week, I may not have another column until after Christmas, so just let me say to all of you: "Have a nice holiday. Laugh a lot, pray a lot, and don't forget to count your blessings."

35-YEAR GREETING—Mildred Carpenter (seated left) receives a letter of congratulations on her 35th anniversary with General Electric from Frank T. Gamec. Shown at the presentation are (l-r) Irmagard Gehle, Dick Seabold, Esther Pape, and R. T. Blee. Miss Carpenter is a drill press operator in Bldg. 4-3.

Store Open Thursday A.M.

Special shopping hours for the Employee Store Thursday, Dec. 24, were announced today by Ray Fischbach, manager. The store will be open from 8 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. the day before Christmas.

g.c.

DEC 28 1953

PUBLIC LIBRARY
FORT WAYNE & ALLEN CO., IND.
PERIODICALS

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

Volume 36

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1953

No. 50

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden
Barbara W. Hyman

Editor
Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. E-7431, Ext. 441

Volume 36

Thursday, December 24, 1953

No. 50

The Christmas Story

Now it came to pass in those days, that a decree went forth from Caesar Augustus that a census of the whole world should be taken. This first census took place while Cyrenus was governor of Syria. And all were going, each to his own town, to register.

And Joseph also went from Galilee out of the town of Nazareth into Judea to the town of David, which is called Bethlehem, being of the family and house of David, to register together with Mary, his espoused wife, who was with child.

And it came to pass while they were there, that the days for her to be delivered were fulfilled. And she brought forth her first-born son, wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were shepherds in the same district living in the fields and keeping watch over their flock by night. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by them and the glory of God shone about them and they feared exceedingly.

And the angel said to them,

"Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which shall be to all the people, for today, in the town of David, a Saviour has been born to you who is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign to you, you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying,

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men."

0—0—0

Our Christmas cover family this year are the Paul Koldeweys, their five-year-old son Kenneth and nine-year-old daughter Sharron Kay. Paul is employed in Bldg. 17-2. The palomino, Carmel, and the old-fashioned sleigh are by courtesy of the Hobrock Palomino Farm.

Christmas Greetings

To Each General Electric Employee:

You and your family have my sincere wish for this to be your best Christmas . . . and for the coming year to be your happiest.

Ralph J. Cordine

President

Dear Fellow Employees:

One of the pleasures of this holiday season is the opportunity to put aside the routine of daily affairs and in all sincerity extend to friends, old and new, my heartiest greetings and good wishes for a Merry Christmas.

Throughout the year each of you has made a real contribution to our success; and it has been my pleasure to work with you. May the New Year bring to you and your families continued peace and prosperity.

H. A. Mackinnon

Vice President

Words by Walt

I wonder why, on Christmas Eve,
Some celebrate, but don't believe
That Christ, this night, was born to save
All mortals from a hopeless grave.

I wonder why some, who believe
That Christ was born on Christmas Eve,
Are skeptical and doubtful still
That man, through Him, may find good will.

If Christ was born, as we believe,
In Bethlehem on Christmas Eve
'Tis odd that some forget the reason
As we approach the Christmas season.

If in a manger, as we say,
Our Christ was born on Christmas Day,
Then He, it seems, our theme should be
In all our Christmas pageantry.

If all the world could somehow see
Its Saviour in each Christmas tree,
There'd be no cities blown to rubble,
No selfish greed, no war, no trouble.

If Christ be not our Heavenly King,
Then Christmas doesn't mean a thing;
And all our Honor, Praise, and Glory
Is prompted by a fairy story.

However, half a billion throng
Believing, surely can't be wrong.
And when on earth our lives are through,
I'm sure we'll find the story true.

Though Christmas practice has some flaws,
I find no fault in Santa Claus,
Because in him a child has caught
A lot of things that Christ has taught.

The fault, of course, is when we leave
Christ out of it on Christmas Eve.
And this, I'm sure, is true because God's gift was Christ, not Santa Claus.

In Jingle Bells, I find no wrong;
But still, there's nothing in this song
That lifts me up to such a height
As when I'm singing "Silent Night."

And reindeer dashing through the snows—
And Rudolph with his shining nose
Don't tell the story of our King
Like "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

A light to follow, if we will;
His star, of course, is shining still—
A lamp to guide us on our way;
God's gift to us on Christmas Day.

This thought I leave you in conclusion:
'Instead of Peace, we have confusion;
And all because in our behavior,
We've failed to follow Christ Our Saviour.

So this year, when you light your tree
On Christmas Eve for all to see,
Make sure upon the topmost limb,
You have a STAR THAT SHINES FOR HIM.

—W. L. Whonsetter.

BIRELEY TO HEAD SUPERVISORS

Supervisors Elect 1954 Club Officers

Installation of New Officers Slated For Group's Annual Meeting Jan. 11

Arthur W. Bireley, Taylor St., has been elected president of the Supervisors Club for the 1954 year. Other new officers announced this week by outgoing president, Jerry C. Duryee, Bldg. 4-6, are: Lloyd S. Stubbins, vice president, Taylor St.; George A. Finkbeiner, secretary, Bldg. 26-3, and Willis P. Lautzenheiser, treasurer, Bldg. 31-2.

The 1954 officers will be installed and assume their duties at the organization's annual meeting, Monday, Jan. 11.

Administrators of the six groups within the club were also elected recently. They are:

Group 1—Mr. Bireley and Mr. Stubbins.

Group 2—Mr. Finkbeiner and Bret R. Young, Bldg. 26-2.

Group 3—Robert D. Hughes, Bldg. 20-2, and Mr. Lautzenheiser.

Group 4—Ed T. Brink, Bldg. 4-4, and Wilbur K. Boltz, Bldg. 4-6.

Group 5—Charles E. Gable and Paul G. Clendenen, both of Taylor St.

Group 6—H. B. Leach, Bldg. 18-2, and Phillip G. Singleton, Bldg. 18-1.

PLANNING FOR '54 are the newly elected officers of the Supervisors Club, (l-r): Lloyd S. Stubbins, vice president, Taylor St.; Arthur W. Bireley, president, Taylor St.; Willis P. Lautzenheiser, treasurer, Bldg. 31-2, and George A. Finkbeiner, secretary, Bldg. 26-3. New officers will be installed Jan. 11 at the annual meeting. Group administrators who were elected recently will also assume their new duties at that time.

VACATION BULLETIN

Fort Wayne, December 21, 1953.

Subject: VACATIONS 1954—SALARIED AND HOURLY RATED WORKERS:

All departments and sections of the Broadway, Taylor St., Winter St., and Fairfield Ave. Plants, including leased warehouses, in general, plan to close on Saturday, July 24, 1954, for two weeks for vacation purposes, reopening for usual operations Monday, August 9, 1954.

It is expected that this vacation shutdown will be as near 100 per cent as possible.

Some employees will be required to work during the shutdown period as follows:

1. It will be necessary for some few employees to work in order to protect the plant.
2. It may be necessary for some operating departments to maintain a small skeleton force.
3. It also may be found practical to utilize this shutdown period for the completion of some physical rearrangement of facilities or the accomplishment of some essential maintenance work that cannot be done effectively in the usual working periods.
4. Government defense work may require some operations not known at this time. Where this becomes necessary, as much advance notice as possible will be given to employees.

In all cases, department heads will arrange for this work and will notify those employees who are needed to be present during the shutdown period as far in advance as possible.

In accordance with the vacation plan, employees entitled to a third week of vacation will schedule this week immediately before or after the shutdown period; however, by mutual agreement, the third week may be scheduled at some other time.

Those becoming eligible for vacation allowance after the shutdown period and who were absent during the shutdown will not be required to take additional time off but will receive full payment when they qualify.

L. C. Smager
Manager,

Employee and Plant Community Relations.

EXPECT $3 BILLION TOTAL SALES VOLUME

'Very Good' Business Year Ahead GE President Cordiner Tells Press

General Electric Company officials are looking forward to a "very good year" in 1954 with total sales volume expected to compare favorably with this year's expected record of more than three billion dollars.

During a year-end press conference in New York, GE President Ralph J. Cordiner said it was difficult to forecast the extent of cutbacks in defense requirements next year, but that any cutbacks would be partially offset by an increase of about five per cent in non-defense production. He said the company's over-all 1953 business, including defense contracts, would probably be up at least 25 per cent over 1952.

Defense Cutback Estimated

Referring to an expected drop in the national defense volume, Mr. Cordiner said the 1954 cutback in defense orders could not be intelligently estimated at this time, but might roughly be placed at about 15 per cent for the country.

To offset any cutback in the company's defense business, he said, General Electric intends to do a more aggressive job of selling, merchandising and distribution of non-defense items. He pointed out that GE has some 900 competitors in the electrical manufacturing industry.

General Electric will increase advertising appropriations in consumer goods about 15 to 20 per cent, an increase of about $10 million over last year.

As of November 1 of this year, the company's backlog of orders of non-defense items was reported up eight per cent over Jan. 1, 1953.

Henry V. Erben, executive vice president of the company's Apparatus Group, said General Electric's capital goods market is "practically sold out until 1955."

Mr. Cordiner said his optimism for 1954 sales was not based on theories or guesswork. "We have had about 21 reviews of our operating departments since November 1 . . . and we think business is going to be very good." Referring to prices, he said he did not anticipate any noticeable increases in 1954 over 1953.

Color TV Launched

Dr. W. R. G. Baker, GE vice president and general manager of the company's Electronics Division predicted that color television will be put into production slowly after the first of the year. He estimated the initial color TV sets would sell in the neighborhood of $800 to $1,000, adding that he did not believe any manufacturer would make money at those prices. The GE official said although picture tubes on the first sets would be of the 12-inch size, he could see no reason why color picture tubes would not eventually be as large as their current black and white counterparts.

Overseas Sales Keep Pace

Philip D. Reed, chairman of the GE board, said the company's overseas business for 1953 is keeping pace with domestic sales. He said he did not know what the production figures for next year would be, but predicted "we are entering into a period of much more intense competition."

Roy W. Johnson, executive vice president of the company's Appliance and Electronics Group, said the GE consumer goods business was running ahead of the same period last year. He would not predict how the first quarter of next year would be. He said no manufacturer should build inventories on hopes and that GE was not going to get ahead of itself in inventories.

Summing up the outlook for 1954, GE President Cordiner said the company's business would be good because it is part of the electrical manufacturing industry and "we think we're on the upsurge as a company." He said the electrical industry is growing twice as fast as the rest of the nation's economy.

*N*ever more than at Christmas time is it so clear that peace on earth will come only when the good will in men awakens in them

a firm resolve to seek what is right with integrity—and to do what is right with courage—in a world that in too many places seems almost afraid to believe in the miraculous power of Christmas.

EMPLOYEE AND PLANT COMMUNITY RELATIONS

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

BUCK BUCHAN, Bldg. 19-2, and his wife Belle, Bldg. 2-2, have been members of the entertainment committee for several years.

Behind-The-Scenes Volunteer Work Is Task of Entertainment Committee

Volunteering their time and effort, members of the GE Club entertainment committee serve all employees by presenting a year-round entertainment program for all of them and their families.

With the close of another year of programs, the 18-member committee is already at work planning the 1954 calendar of events at the Club, for a great deal of effort goes into each show. When a week-end program is presented, the members work at all the shows, taking tickets, operating the lights, curtains and sound, ushering, taking care of stage props, and assisting the performers. Before each show they set up chairs, straighten them and clean up in between shows, and put them away after programs.

Other Programs

In addition to the large shows of professional acts, the weekly kiddies' movie programs, square dances, and adult movie programs find members of the committee on hand doing the many tasks necessary to make these programs possible. Planning and packing kiddies treats also takes hours of volunteer effort by the committee.

Proof that all the members enjoy their work is the number of years they have been on the job. Some have been members of the committee since it was organized shortly after the GE Club was formed 26 years ago. Whether they have been members for a number of years or have recently joined the committee, each receives pleasure from the service he performs.

Chairman Gordon Smith

The committee is headed by Chairman Gordon Smith, whose knowledge of show business as a former entertainer is valuable in booking professional acts and planning the yearly programs.

Members Listed

The 17 members are: Belle Buchanan, Bldg. 2-2; Buck Buchanan, Bldg. 19-2; Katherine and Joe Gardt, Bldg. 4-6; Mamie Allen, Bldg. 4-5; Joe Wyss, Taylor St.; Johnny August, Bldg. 22; Gayle Griffin, Bldg. 26-4; Art Brockmeyer, Bldg. 2-1; Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 4-6; Glen Seabold, Bldg. 28-1; Hubert Myers, Bldg. 21; Ken Redding, Taylor St.; Susie Jones, Winter St.; Bob Glenn, Bldg. 26-3; Charles Wilt, GE Club, and Barbara Hyman, Bldg. 18-1.

PACKING CANDY for the kiddies are (l-r): Gayle Griffith, Bldg. 26-4; Joe Wyss, Taylor St., and Mamie Allen, Bldg. 4-5. Joe and Mamie have been on the committee since it was organized.

PACKING TREATS for the 1953 Kiddies' Christmas Party are members of the GE Club entertainment committee and their families.

GETTING READY for another GE Club Kiddies' Show are (l-r): Art Brockmeyer, Bldg. 2-1; Charlie Wilt, GE Club, and Johnny August, Bldg. 22.

ENTERTAINMENT committee members Katherine Gardt, Bldg. 4-6; Ken Redding, Taylor St.; Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 4-6, and Joe Gardt, Bldg. 4-6; prepare for the annual kiddies' show.

Do you long for an old-fashioned Christmas? It's pleasant to remember Christmas pageants; letters to Santa which filled a stocking with a real treat of candy and oranges; the green fir trees bedecked with popcorn, cranberries and candles.

Electricity has replaced the candles on the tree these days; supersonic space suits have the edge on oranges; and pink, blue, white and red trees sparkle with soapy concoctions and chemical glories.

In the midst of our modern and complicated holiday season, the yuletide of an era gone by with its simpler customs particularly warm our hearts. But the old-time Christmas exists more than just in memory. Some of the trimmings and gifts may have changed, but the old-fashioned spirit of joy and giving is still with us.

Telling his grandchildren of the pleasures in Christmas for him and his family when he was a boy, Edward Lebrecht, retired employee, paints a gallery of customs for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lebrecht. The children, whose father works in Bldg. 19-4, are Martha, seven years old; Ruth Anna, one year old, and Douglas, four years old.

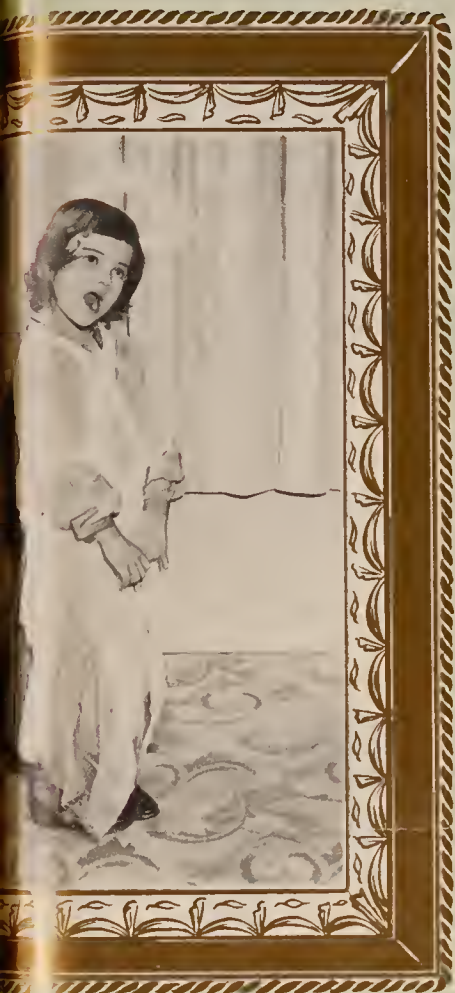

Mama strung popcorn for the tree. . . .

One time papa gave me . . .

Memories at Christmastime

... part in a Christmas play. . . .

I asked Santa for a big whipping top. . . .

... gold piece. . . .

"A candy cane and an orange meant a fine Christmas to us in the old days. Why, I remember how we would make these treats last all day long. Yes, Christmas was wonderful when I was a boy—but, you know, Christmas has a way of never changing in that respect. It will always be the most wonderful time of the year for the young in heart."

How Our Holiday Customs Began

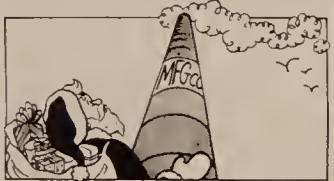

The Name

Our name for the day, Christmas, dates back to the 11th century when it was called Cristes Maesse—literally, Christ Mass. The Germans call the day Weihnachtsfest—Holy Night Feast; the French call it Noel, which derives from the Latin "Natalis," meaning birth-day.

Why Santa Claus?

The name of Santa Claus for the patron saint of Christmas derives from a German-Dutch corruption of the name of Saint Nicholas, who lived in the fourth century. Legend was that this good saint learned that three young women were without suitors because their father was too poor, to provide a dowry. St. Nick tossed three bags of gold into their room one night, and they all lived happily ever after. "San Niklaus" of the Germans became "Sinteklass" of the Dutch, and those who settled New York wound up with "Santa Claus."

Down the Chimney

Why does Santa Claus come down the chimney—at least, on greeting cards and in the ads? The myth which old-time Englishmen favored was that Santa was thereby cleaning the chimney of soot, to allow good luck to enter the house at the New Year.

The Candles on the Tree

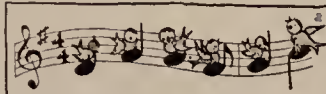

Although today we use electrical substitutes to lessen the danger of fires, the use of lighted candles on the Christmas tree goes back hundreds of years to a legend that tiny lights appeared as by miracle on the evergreens of the forest during the early celebration of the Nativity.

The Stocking

No one seems to know the origin of hanging up stockings on Christmas Eve, for the receipt of presents. . . . In Scandinavia, families place all their shoes together before the fireplace—the legend heing that this will cause them to live in harmony through the new year.

Mark the her-old an-gels

The Christmas Card

The sending of Christmas cards seems to have begun in England about the middle of the last century, among members of the nobility who didn't get around much. The idea was taken up by the King and Queen, they commissioned famed artists to decorate their missives of greeting. The custom came on down to us today and we've made much of it—ask any mail-man!

The Mistletoe

In ancient times, before the Christian era, mistletoe was gathered during the winter solstice and revered as a symbol of future hope and peace. Enemies, meeting beneath a spray of it, would drop their weapons and embrace, in a gesture of friendship. . . . Thus today's custom that a maid under the mistletoe may be kissed?

The Wreath

Most popular of Christmas decorations is the evergreen wreath. It represents the crown of thorns which was pressed on the brow of Jesus as He hung on the cross. The red berries symbolize drops of the blood He shed for us.

The Christmas Tree

It is deeply rooted in old legends. One is that an evergreen protected Joseph and Mary and the Infant Jesus from Herod's soldiers; another is that the Lord sent heavenly messengers to earth to find a tree "as high as Faith, as eternal as Hope and as widespread as Love" to symbolize the birth of Jesus. They chose the balsam fir which, the story goes, had all these qualities and bore "many crosses on each branch."

Symbolically, the tree reminds us of the Christ—the top of it pointing to heaven, the lights denoting the Light of the World, and the presents beneath it reminding us that all good gifts come from above.

Most of our Christmas trees come from Minnesota, with Montana next. A reforestation program keeps us well supplied from year to year.

Pensioners Parade

Wishes for a "real Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" for all pensioners and employees were received by Curtis F. Martin. Mr. Martin is living at 228½ Wood Ave., in Fort Wayne at present.

A note from Frank E. Ginther wishes a Merry Christmas and prosperous New Year to everyone. Frank expressed his thanks for receiving the GE NEWS and 1954 GE calendar. He said, "I am still on one of GE's payrolls, the payroll of thoughtfulness and remembrance, and I thank you." Mr. Ginther resides at 1154 Francis St.

DITTIES FROM DISTRIBUTION

by Ruth Sorg

You probably have seen in a store window display,

A slogan that says, and I quote, "Put Christ back into Christmas day."

What a better thought as the time grows near,

Could be expressed in a greeting or note.

To friend, and relative, both far and near,

Express the one that will last and last.

A Joyous Christmas and a Glorious New Year.

The sleepy look in Marie Dunn's eyes these days is from sitting up late and watching television. . . . Happy birthday greeting to Millie Kouder on Monday. . . . The person you see riding around in a new Chevrolet is Norma Durnell.

6-4 AIRLINERS

by Moe Satterthwaite

Ed Glenwith is taking his third week's vacation up at Houghton Lake, Mich., ice fishing. Harold Dalman started his third week's vacation yesterday. He went in the opposite direction from Ed. Harold has gone to the sunny south, Miami, Fla. . . . Jackie Keller had the cutest Santa Claus at her Christmas party last Friday. . . . Selma and Alma are two new owners of TV. Alma is now serving all meals in the living room. . . . Happy birthday to Mary Gebhardt, Bertha Siebold, George Kapp, and a very special happy birthday to Ted (Tex) Ranier, who celebrates his birthday Christmas Day. Boy! What a Christmas present that must have been for his mother. . . . Here's hoping Santa Claus will be able to find Donna Hahn Christmas morning as she will be in Peru, Ill., visiting her in-laws. . . . We're happy to see Rita Sherwood back with us again. . . . This was a bad week for any dieters. Chris Brenner and Millie Sitler passed out candy bars. . . . Here's wishing a very special "Merry Christmas" to everyone in Bldgs. 6-3 and 6-4.

TOOL BITS

BLDG. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

Of all the Tool Room employees Betty Strong will receive the largest gift of any. She and her husband-to-be have just obtained a 153-acre farm. . . . We express our sympathy to Ross Cohagen in the death of his brother. . . . Congratulations to the Frank Lebrecht family on their part in the picture feature of this issue. Frank, a genuine family man, had his children cooperating beyond all expectations. . . . The many reporters, Phyllis Jacquay, who types our column, and your editor wish all of you a very merry Christmas.

CHRISTMAS STORY IN ART exhibit currently on display at the Fort Wayne Art Museum is viewed by Marjorie Hanley, Bldg. 18-3. Marjorie is one of many local citizens touring the exhibit which will remain open to the public until Dec. 28. She looks at the painting of the "Nativity", an oil on wood panel by the Italian artist Florentino in the 15th century.

OVER OUR WAY

BLDG. 19-1

Clara Volz

Here's hoping everyone has a very Merry Christmas and may God bless each and everyone.

APPRENTICE BROADCAST

by James Schwartz

We wish to take this opportunity to extend to all of our fellow employees and their families the very best for the Christmas season.

THE GRAPEVINE

BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

Thanks to Floyd Enos for our Christmas poem,

DEAR SANTA

Meeks wants a scooter,
With a horn that goes peep peep;
Art wants an easy chair,
So he can get some sleep.

Imo wants a box of yarn,
So she can knit a sweater;
Something nice for George and Bill,
They don't come any better.

Tommy says he'd like to have
A bag full of money;
Why not bring a TV set,
For Henry and his honey?

Poor Hoffman, Stephens and Dick
Are getting along their hair;
Please hurry with a bowling ball,
So they can make a spare.

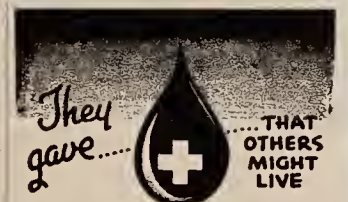

Henry, Ray and Dinty
Are getting along in years;
Bring each of them a winter cap
So they won't freeze their ears.

Then there are two other guys,
We call them Hank and Sam;
They've been here a long, long time,
Bring them a ten-pound ham.

There are a lot of other folks
That you will want to see;
But listen, Mr. Santa Claus,
Please don't forget me.

When your work is said and done
You will hear us say,
Thanks for all the peace and joy
You bring on Christmas Day.

Merry Christmas! Everybody!

The following people donated blood during the week ending December 11:

William Abbott, Boleslaw C. Biega, Walter H. Buesking, William Dansby, Jr., Arthur P. Ham-brook, James E. Hartzell, Harry L. Kellogg, Virgil H. Snyder, Mrs. Josephine Durnell, Gerald F. Gardner, Marion C. Halleck, Virgil Huguenard, Earl H. Ostrander, Robert R. Rietdorf, and Ralph E. Schroeder.

WIRE RAVELINGS

TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

Al Hambrook doesn't mind playing mail man for "Porky" Schoenefeld, but if "Porky" has a nice present in mind for him he is apt to forget everything. . . . Congratulations to "Winnie" Spicer, who became Mrs. Robert Shank Dec. 5. . . . Best of luck to Bonnie Justus, who is leaving today to take up household duties. . . . Welcome to Lois Lambert, the girl in the production section. . . . When Leo Elward makes a bet, he thinks he has a sure thing. But his only mistake was that he bet the wrong man, and "Skinny" McGary did the collecting. . . . The girls in the office have their Christmas trees gaily decorated for the Yuletide season. They surely deserve a lot of credit for having the spirit at work as well as at home. . . . A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

Fort Wayne's average annual temperature is 50.1 degrees.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN receiving 10-year service pins are (l-r): Oscar Meyer, Taylor St.; Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 4-6; Dillo Patten, Taylor St. wire mill; J. Deetz, Taylor St. wire mill; Ernie Sollberger, Bldg. 26-4; Ed Kahlenbeck, Bldg. 27, and Bob Breeden, Bldg. 17-2.

RECEIVING THEIR 10-YEAR SERVICE PINS at the Volunteer Firemen's banquet are (l-r): Art Brockmeyer, Bldg. 2-1; Noah Kuntz, Bldg. 26-4; Darrell Richmond, Bldg. 20-2; Don Castle, Bldg. 22; Jack Kurtz, and Otto Hans, both of Taylor St. GE Fire Chief Ernie Hanauer is shown at right.

Ten-Year Volunteer Firemen Honored at Recent Banquet

With the awarding of 13 ten-year service pins to volunteer firemen, there is a total of 78 members of the Fort Wayne Volunteer Firemen's Association now, Ernie M. Hanauer, GE fire chief, announced this week.

The ten new members, who received their pins at the recent annual banquet of the group, are: Oscar Meyer, Taylor St.; Earl Stauffer, Bldg. 4-6; Dillo Patten, Taylor St. wire mill; J. Deetz, Taylor St. wire mill; Ernie Sollberger, Bldg. 26-4; Ed Kahlenbeck, Bldg. 27; Bob Breeden, Bldg. 17-2; Art Brockmeyer, Bldg. 2-1; Noah Kuntz, Bldg. 26-4; Darrell Richmond, Bldg. 20-2; Don Castle, Bldg. 22; Jack Kurtz, Taylor St., and Otto Hans, Taylor St.

The organization now has a total of 185 members, who are currently employed here and 20 retired members. Among guests at the annual banquet were George M. Wile, vice president of the Arkwright Mutual Fire Insurance Company, and V. W. Mosher, General Electric manager of insurance services.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

BLDG. 19-3
Blanche Cowell

Greetings! A happy wish and a gay little rhyme, to greet you at this holiday time. Merry Christmas! . . . We want to welcome Jim Koehler to Bldg. 19-3. He is going to share some of Mr. McCormick's headaches. We hope he will like it here. . . . Also, welcome to Harry Brown who will replace Mike Sorgen. We hate to see Mike go; he is such a loveable guy. He is just going to Bldg. 31-1, so we will see him once in a while. . . . Happy birthday to Joe Burton. He will be a year older Dec. 20. Frank Kartholl celebrated his birthday Dec. 18. . . . William Bellamy could hold out no longer. He wanted in on the conversation, so he bought a television set.

At Christmas play and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year.
—Thomas Tusser (1515-1580)

Everett E. Miles Dies After 10-Month Illness

Everett E. Miles, 72, died at his home Monday. He had been in failing health for the last 10 months. Mr. Miles, who retired in 1947, had been a GE employee for more than 41 years. He was in production work at the Broadway plant before retiring.

A native of Syracuse, he came to GE following his graduation from Purdue University in 1904. In 1907 he received an electrical engineering degree from the same university.

Mr. Miles is survived by his widow, Maude; two sons, James Miles, of Morenci, Mich., and Stephen J. Miles, of Fort Wayne; five grandchildren, and a brother, G. C. Miles, of Sarasota, Fla.

He had been active in Masonic Lodge work for many years. He was also a member of the Indiana Academy of Science, Indiana Historical Society, American Rose Society, and the GE Quarter Century Club.

Textolite Dealer Named

General Electric Textolite plastic surfacings are now being handled by A. Roethel & Sons, 3000 Wells St. Employees may obtain slips authorizing purchases at a discount at the Employee Store.

Textolite products will be available in a variety of colors plus the decorative type for kitchen work surfaces. Roethel & Sons will also handle Textolite Monotop in the near future.

St. Louis Ballast Salesman Earns Top Anniversary Diamond Derby Award

For his outstanding salesmanship in building fluorescent ballast orders, John S. Stevenson, sales engineer of the St. Louis office, has been named a Diamond Derby gold watch winner.

Mr. Stevenson is one of 75 winners of the contest which was conducted throughout the Apparatus Sales Division to honor outstanding selling jobs. He was nominated for the award for securing an order of more than two million dollars from Daybrite for fluorescent lamp ballasts, manufactured by the Ballast Department in Danville. Through his continued efforts and good judgment, the award states, he has increased GE's Daybrite business to more than 100 times its volume since first taking over the account in 1939.

Those who assisted Mr. Stevenson in his job and who are recognized in his nomination for the award include: D. E. Porter, Fort Wayne service engineering; G. Harvey, Bldg. 26-2, Ballast engineer; LeRoy Seitz, Danville, Ballast production superintendent; A. E. Rowe, Bldg. 26-2, Ballast manager of sales; Don Poland, Danville plant manager; R. C. Kohnke, and L. O. Campbell, St. Louis; Halice Brock, stock supervisor, St. Louis; Pat Walling, St. Louis stock control clerk; Ruth Kiernan, Danville stock distribution, and J. J. Sydnor and R. C. Eckhoff, St. Louis.

Mr. Stevenson entered the Fort Wayne plant when he joined GE in 1925 on the test engineer's program. The following year, he transferred to the Chicago office and in 1929 went to St. Louis as a sales engineer. Since he went to St. Louis, most of his work has been handling business of Fort Wayne departments.

The Stevensons have one son who came to GE in June this year on a test course at St. Louis. He is now serving in the U. S. Army.

Mr. Stevenson is a 1925 graduate of Ohio State University where he received a BEE degree.

DIAMOND DERBY WINNER—John S. Stevenson, right, receives his Diamond Derby desk set from St. Louis office manager, Mr. Sherman. This award was presented prior to the gold watch which Mr. Stevenson recently received.

THE BIG WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Rachel Mounsey

Clarence Meyers went Christmas shopping with his wife the other night and was loaded down with so many packages he couldn't get on and off the bus without dropping them. His wife hid behind her packages so no one would know he was her husband. That's gratitude for you, Clarence. . . . We wish to welcome Laura Shank, Mary Ann Brown, Erma Angel, and Cletus Harper to our sections. . . . We wish a very speedy recovery to Verena Morgan and Carol Esters, who are both in the hospital. . . . Walter Fair has lost his girl friend. He had one by numbers, and now he lost his number. . . . Iris Allen is spending Christmas in Kentucky. Geneva Harter is spending hers in Evansville. . . . We were glad to see Eddy Howard on his visit with us after a recent operation.

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-Let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone. Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 18-1.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, January 4, 1954

FOR SALE

PUPPY—Fawn, male, Boxer puppy, 3½ mo., house broken, cheap. Hunttown 2238 or E-67313.

VANITY—Coral vanity table with plate glass top, $10. Would be nice gift for little girl. A-95431.

COAT—Woman's winter coat, size 12; woman's suit, size 14; two skirts, size 24; three maternity dresses, size 12; woman's roller skates, size 7; also a good mattress. A-96812.

ANTIQUES—Two love seats and two chairs. H-67454.

BICYCLE—Boy's bicycle, size 26-inch. A-98739.

CHUBBY—Brown fur chubby in excellent condition; size 10 to 12; reasonable. H-67491.

SWEEPER—New Hoover upright, never used; reasonable. A-98545.

COAT—Lady's black coat, velvet trim, size 10 to 12; very good condition. Reasonably priced. H-19085.

RADIO—Capehart, cabinet type radio and record player, $10. H-0614.

WASHER—Maytag washer with pump, 3 yrs. old, good condition, $85. Admiral table model radio and record player, $20. K-1347.

ICE SKATES—Lady's figure ice skates, good condition, fits shoe size 8 to 9. A-49442.

AMPLIFIER—Electric amplifier, excellent condition, reasonable price. H-26363.

WASHER—Universal, conventional washer with automatic pump, good condition. A-77935.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT—Three rooms and bath. Stove, refrigerator, and heat furnished. One block from Broadway plant. Share utilities. E-36275.

APARTMENT—Two-room apartment on bus line near GE. All utilities furnished. K-4058 or A-29534.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE WANTED—From Columbia City to Taylor St. plant, 6:48 to 8:18. Call Fred Stienberger, 2401.

WANTED

TEA CART—With drop leaves. H-81329.

BUNGALOW—Two or three bedroom bungalow or lower apartment unfurnished. Can pay $70 a month rent or if reasonable may be interested in buying a home. A-95481.

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS BLDG. 22

by George Winans

George Hatch is temporarily out of commission with a mashed foot. Here's hoping it mends fast, George, and you're back to work real soon. . . . All Vern Pease wants for Christmas is a new front tooth. Your guess is as good as mine as to how he lost his old one. . . . You can stop worrying about Hilliard Gates catching cold while he is doing his TV broadcast, Mildred Messer. He is not out in front of the Coliseum. That is just a picture behind him there in the studio. . . . Clarence Peters wishes to thank Ralph Garrett for the coke. Ralph really owed him something stronger, but Clarence says he was lucky to get anything out of the old skiffint. . . . Congratulations to our fireman, Charlie Castle, who has completed 10 years with the GE Fire Dept. . . . A Merry Christmas from the "Smokehouse" to all of you.

PICK-UPS from 26-3

Maxine Jordon
and
Helen Wagner

With the help of the following representatives we would like to give you a little news from our section. Our Finishing Section is represented by Doris Rinehold; Sample Shop, Guleia Renier; Multiple Winding, Velma Rose; Small Lot Winding, Mildred Leazier; Stacking, Mary Williamson; Final Assembly, Dee Palmer; Bldg. 26-2, Dean Lockwood; Lab., Aileen Arend. . . . We would like to extend our deepest sympathy to Jim Witzgreuter on the death of his father. . . . We would like to welcome Ellis Caudill and Helen Kabisch who are new employees, Allen Gillium who has returned after spending some time in Korea for Uncle Sam, and Almeta Till. . . . Those lucky people who are vacationing this week are Nellie Wendt, Gertrude Kummerant, Harry Brattin and Levena Clark. . . . Congratulations to Roger Schulte who was married recently. . . . Ralph Foreman and Eugene Boothby both had the misfortune of wrecking their cars—no ice either. . . . The Jet Section is now called the Repair Section. . . . We wish Luella Lahrmeyer a speedy recovery. Luella is a patient at the Parkview Hospital. . . . Everyone is concerned about Ed Lauer, first because his favorite song these days is "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth" and second, we wonder if he has been good enough for Santy to bring him a set of Ivory. . . . Sharon Dasher and Leon Bond visited us last week. . . . If Lena Forker comes to work sleepy, she can blame it on TV. . . . Ray Loveless would like a bow tie for Christmas. . . . We suggest that Frank Clifton's wife hire herself a new handy man and send Frank away for week-end visits—we know it would be much cheaper. Will someone find Art and Frank a louder alarm clock? Maybe they could make it to work on time. . . . We have heard about people exchanging things they have bought, but this is it! Louise Lengerich bought a Christmas tree and when she got it home she didn't like it, so she loads it up, hauled it back 20 miles, no less, and exchanged it for a larger tree. Now everyone is happy. . . . A group of girls from the stacking section enjoyed dinner and a gift exchange Thursday night and afterwards joined the finishing section for a pleasant evening. . . . Marjorie Fowler, Deloris Stapleton, Doris Rinehold, Betty Warren, Winifred Coats, Cleo Dicks, Audrey Oberly, Stella Wells, Blanche Kanning, Helen Studler, and Dorcas Colbert enjoyed a lovely chicken dinner and a Christmas exchange at the Magic Bar. Dale Amstutz and Willard Lenz also attended the party. . . . We wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

RACONTEUR

SECTION 114 TAYLOR ST.

by Mary Whitelock

This is my last column for dear ol' Section 114 and, believe me "it ain't easy." I especially want to thank the following people who did such a good job of reporting the news: Elmer Jockel, Kathryn Erwin, Bernice Frick, Wanda Hunt, Walt Niemeyer, Bob Till, Jerry Uhl, and Margaret Cowan. Would also like to welcome Luana Oehlaffen who is taking over where I leave off. Luane is a graduate of International Business College and a real sharp kid. You're going to like her. . . . I'm going to miss my two swell bosses, Mike Brayer and Paul Clendenen. What I'll do for such items as posies for the desk, flower seeds, house signs, and buffalo sandwiches, which Mike has provided through the years poses quite a problem. Paul, by the way, finally reported he is a grandfather and that it was a little girl. When asked what her name was, he looked confused and said, "Gee, I forgot. I'll call home and see." We asked, "First grandchild, hm?" and he said "No, the sixth." Therefore, we assume, becoming a grandparent never loses its wallop. Her name is Nancy Anne. Congratulations. . . . The office party was a huge success, thanks to the busy "behind-the-scenes" work done by the various committees. We enjoyed ourselves immensely and look forward to a repeat. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hickman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loomis were present as guests. They added a lot to our party because they are such wonderful people. . . . Note to the person having Abbie Hartman's name in the exchange: Please buy Hercules a cage to keep him out of Fred Campbell's hair. . . . Everyone has been busy as a pump handle at a temperance picnic, decorating our office and the Christmas tree. The place looks right cheery. Doug Campbell keeps whistling "Jingle Bells" and putting everyone in a happy frame of mind. In fact, someone got so carried away he fastened a beautiful big, red bow on the coat tail of Robert Duras. . . . Happy birthday to Dorothy Baumgartner, Muriel Etchison, Abbie Hartman, Kathryn Allriedge, Mary Ensley, and me, too. . . . Well, the saddest words of tongue or rhyme are these: "See you around sometime," so Merry Christmas to all you wonderful people and here's wishing 1954 will be the best year of your lives.

17-3 NEWSIES

by Wilhelmina Beeth

This merry greeting warm and true
Is coming to express
Wishes that your holidays
Are filled with happiness.
And may the best of all good things
Be those that come your way,
Not only at this joyous time,
But each and every day.
Merry Christmas, everybody.

Those enjoying Christmas week vacations include Violet Brower, Ruth Lemert, Audrey Young, Esther Reiter, Pauline Kirchner, Floretta Zartman, and Ella Arn. . . . Debra Jean issuing her calling cards from the Roscoe and Betty Phillips home. . . . Donald, Jr., is at the home of Donald and Cindy Ormiston. Both mamas are former co-workers. . . . Mary Secrist and Mildred Creech need to put zippers on their dresses. Buttons won't stay on because of their new grandsons. . . . Happy birthday greetings to Harriet Bailey and Mary Secrist. . . . Glad to see Velma Seibt ringing in her clock card again. . . . Our Elex contact girls wish to thank everyone for the Christmas offering for our less fortunate. . . . Bertha Witham gets her greeting cards out early. Ruth Lemert got her birthday card and her birthday is in June. . . . We bid farewell to Bob Benedict, who is leaving us for other employment. . . . Just what does Dorothy Blume do when she approaches a narrow bridge and her brakes fail to work? . . . Our hearts are saddened on the loss of our former co-worker, Gertrude Martin. We extend our sincere sympathy to her family. . . . Also to Vickie Clayton on the loss of her father and Pauline Kirchner on the loss of her father-in-law.

TRANSFORMER TATTLES

BLDG. 26-4

Dutch Norwalt

Some things seem to be catching. After Bill Mooney wore different colored shoes, Betty Hall came in wearing different colored hose. How come? . . . Welcome back to Permafil section: Martha Kruse, Mary Harris, Marion Gressley, and Helen Meeham. . . . Louie Swager went formal Wednesday. He wore his coat all afternoon. Louis was in such a hurry to drag in a trick in a euchre game he spilled a jar of raspberries all over his white shirt. . . . We know why they have flags at half mast. Any information as to why Zella Disler was wearing her skirt at half mast will be appreciated. . . . We welcome Ced Persing to our Permafil group. . . . Some people are tight while others are just close, but Paul Peterson tops them all. Instead of buying a canister set, he is borrowing coffee cans and having them sprayed a nice bright red. All contributions accepted. . . . The Christmas tree in the Bldg. 26-4 office this week. Guess who? Edna DeLuery again. . . . Things are really getting rough these days. As an economy measure, Floyd McNamara made the girls in the office turn off the lights on the Christmas tree. . . . Now that everything seems to be under control, Permafil Section wishes everyone a Merry Christmas.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

We have often heard of men losing the shirt right off their backs, but when a lady loses a slip (a gift, I mean) it is really something. If you see any men who were at the Section 2 Office Party wearing a slip, you will know it belongs to Ardola Wetker. . . . Mrs. Robert Phillips wants to thank all for the nice gifts she received. She says you will never know what it means to her family to be remembered and this will help make their Christmas happier. . . . We extend our sympathy to Ruth Nordyke in the death of her brother. Also to Olga Kuzeff, whose brother-in-law died, and to Ed Kirschner in the death of his father. . . . Helen Engle, that is me, folks (I'm writing this under protest), got lost on the way to Dorothy Hoffman's for the Christmas party because the pilot, Veva Healy, riding in the front seat has such poor eyesight that she can't read road signs. We had a circus and Howard even played circus music for us. . . . We hope that Bob Bleeker's wife, Pauline, hurries and gets well soon. . . . A group of former employees, retired employees, and employees had a Christmas party last week. Millie Limecooly and Edna Leichty are the former employees, and Flo Gilmore, Hazel Herron, and Erma Schneiders are retired. . . . Jessie Hamilton went to Detroit to see her granddaughter. . . . Katie Gilbert sure has to bundle up since she lives in the country. She thinks it is colder out there than in the city. . . . We hope Santa is real good to those "good" boys in the Black Armature section. . . . Alice Claymiller is on the sick list. . . . John Figley is after some fish-worms for his pet toad. Anyone having some, please contact John. . . . Odell Scott wears two shirts. It depends on which job he is on as to which one he lets show. The boys wonder if he will wear a tie next week. . . . No wonder Don Mason has trouble with his car when he leaves the lights burning and someone has to turn them off for him. He says it is car trouble that makes his late for work. . . . Don Mason and his lamb, John Figley, go about like Mary and her little lamb. . . . Congratulations to Frank Voirol who is a proud grandpa again. . . . Ralph Gilbert didn't wait until the first of January to turn over a new leaf. When he goes past Broadway and Taylor he just closes his eyes and goes south. . . . Everyone had such a wonderful time at the field section Christmas dinner that they are ready to go back. The meal was piping hot and the gifts were appreciated. Thanks to Lorinda Byerlein and Kathryn Hepker who had charge of all arrangements. . . . Modien Smith must have thought she was in Huntrentown when she made the U-turn uptown in the middle of Calhoun St. . . . Edith Minnich was the honor guest at a birthday dinner, at the cafeteria. . . . After this Clair Bennett will say, "nuts to you" or "bologna", when he answers the phone. We got a few groceries, anyway.

COUNT OFF

SECTION 17 TAYLOR ST.

by Marguerite Stahl

George Marshand was having difficulties with his pickup truck last week. We think his anti-freeze lost its anti for the truck froze up. . . . Congratulations to Iva Powell, whose daughter is getting married Sunday. . . . Pvt. Joy Stahl is flying home from Fort Lewis, Wash., to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stahl. . . . Edna Sill plans to spend her third week vacation at home. . . . Welcome to Florence Weimer, Nina Growcock, Gertrude Reichard in the Lead Section. . . . We hope Russ Galloway will soon be back to work with us and feeling tip-top again. . . . Happy birthday to Clark Holmes. . . . It doesn't pay to take the bus home, does it, Peggy Bandt, when you are so tired and in a hurry. Especially when you get on the wrong bus and take the long way around town. . . . Maurice Roe can't get in the conversation yet as his TV set hasn't arrived. But he still can make the girls laugh telling them about playing Santa Claus. . . . Test and Inspection wish everyone a Merry Christmas. Bill Miller is very sorry he won't be here Thursday because he will miss the mistletoe. . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Leonard Diehl, who is convalescing from surgery. . . . We wish safe journeys and happy holidays to our traveling co-workers: Andy Woods to Alabama, Mary Shreve, Linda Wahrer, Harry Todd, and Leo Miller to Florida, and Mabel Altamuse to California. . . . Congratulations and best wishes to Veloris Shull, who was married recently and has moved to Detroit. . . . Herb Reichter has wonderful neighbors and friends that let him keep so well informed on television.

TALES from TAYLOR

SECTION 113 TAYLOR ST.

Harry Parker

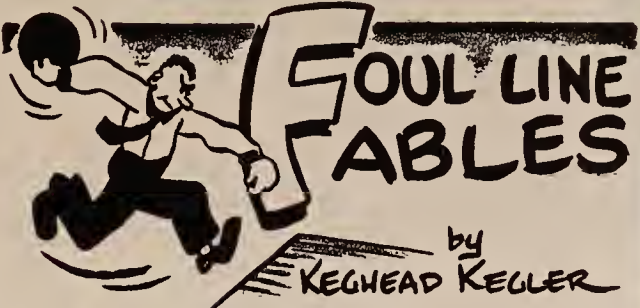

God rest ye, little children:
Let none of you be aught,
For Jesus Christ, your Saviour,
Was born this happy night.
Along the hills of Galilee,
The white flocks sleeping lay,
When Christ, the Child of Nazareth,
Was born on Christmas day.

Almighty Father, on this Thy day of hirth, we beg of You to be gracious with us. Make Thy face smile upon us and give us peace forever more. With this, we wish you one and all a very joyous Noel.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

We would like to express our sympathy to Floyd Sietz on the recent loss of his mother and to Howard Arnold on the death of his brother. . . . Ross Sondag was presented with, not the keys to the city, but a two-foot long wooden key when he was recently referred to as "key man" in his group. The memento now resides on a file case, since Ross is too modest to tack it to the wall as was suggested. . . . Marion Zent is now known as "Uncle Marion" since the recent birth of twin nephews. . . . Fritz Woerner is playing violin at the Coliseum for the Ice Capades show. We wonder if Oscar Weitzman knows about this, since we understand he used to scrape a pretty mean fiddle, too. . . . We wonder what Mrs. Dick Tholen will have in her stocking Christmas? Dick won a chicken at the GE Club for high game in bowling. . . . The illuminating effect on the third floor is not caused by a Christmas tree, but the Alpha Zeta pin worn by Marna Wilson. We understand that the name engraved on the back is John Bosch. . . . Welcome to Devonna Britton, a newcomer to the Sales Accounting group. . . . We have missed seeing Carole Calkins bouncing around the second floor. Carole is the latest victim of a nasty appendix. Hope to see you back with us soon. . . . Warren McCroskey has that "I'm Sitting on Top of the World" look since he bowled a 204 game recently. Pretty good for a novice. He had the high individual game and the high for three games. . . . Welcome back to Arnold Plumley, a former Winter Street TE'er. Arnold is spending his vacation from Yale working with our test group. . . . Our Best Bargain of the Week Tip: Have you joined up yet for the First Aid Course being offered at various handy locations throughout the city? This course gives the largest dividends on the smallest investment, just your time, of any we know. If you are interested, just give us a buzz on 296. . . . On behalf of all contributing reporters, and myself, we would like to wish everyone the merriest Christmas ever.

FOUL LINE FABLES by KEGHEAD KEGGER

In the Apparatus League Team No. 1 is leading the league with 27 wins and 12 losses. Central Dairy is in second place with 26 wins and 13 losses. Having won 24½ games while losing 14½, Team No. 6 is in third place. Double century scores were kegged by B. Winkler, 207; E. Reese, 202; A. Glass, 214; E. Kummer, 201; and G. Harner, 203. Winners of chickens were L. Schnepf, P. Perry, L. Culbertson, B. Winkler, E. Kummer, and E. Schaefer. Team No. 5 rolled a 2720 series which included a 947 single count. Team No. 4 rolled a 2747 series with a 936 high single game.

Small Motor

Repair and Return is still leading the league, having won 30 games and losing 12. In second place is Tommy's Lunch with a record of 26½ wins and 15½ losses. Koorsen Painters are in fourth place, having won 22 games while losing 20. Hank Vance rolled a 209, his first game; a 226, the second game, and finished with a 167, for a 602 series. Joe Kramer scored a 235; R. Thalen, 207; W. Saylor, 200; H. Conrad, 203; G. Ormsby, 202; K. Highland, 200, and P. Horstmeyer, 210.

Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon

Team No. 1 is in top spot with 24 wins and 18 losses. In second place is Team No. 6 with 22 wins and 20 losses. Behind the leaders. 2½ games, is Team No. 2, having won 21½ games while losing 20½ games. Norma Belschner, with a 138 average rolled 69 pins over for a pin-heavy 207 count. Norma also rolled a 175; Billie Tucker kegled a 179; and Dortha Ramsey, a 178. Norma Belschner's series score was a 514. She also was one of the chicken winners. The others were Betty Clevenger and Clara Micheline. Ruth Baker converted the 5-7-10 split.

Transformer

Volts have won 27 games and lost 9 to lead the Transformer league. M is in second place with 19 wins and 17 losses. In third place is Autos with 17 wins and 19 losses. Homer Meeker kegled a 216 score.

Interdivision League

Bowling for chickens last Wednesday night brought out quite a few 200 counts. Baker of the Tool Team had the highest single game of 243. He also had a 214 and a 138 for a 595 series. Vic Rump had a 601 series on games of 205, 173, and 223. Other 200 games were rolled by D. Hoffman, 224; Erv France, 207 and 212; Parlow, 203; Kuntz, 206; Meeks, 205; Rietdorf, 209 and 200; Koehl, 215 and 218. The Deadheads took 2 games from the Airliners. Old Crown Beer and Ale won all 3 games from Apprentice. Harvey Bros. won 2 games from Gutterdusters. Summit City Heating won 2 games from Kinney Konecessions. Pindusters took 2 games from Transformer. Brouwers won 2 from Tools. Chicken winners were Baker, Braun, Schroeder, Rietdorf, Koehl, and Haflich.

A very Merry Christmas to everyone from your GE Club Bowling Committee.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES: Jim Riegel to Colorado for a very probable white Christmas, then to Erie. . . . Lt. Larry Norquist being swooped up by the Air Force—Dayton, O., first stop. . . . Dick Webber is a new shaded pole proposition engineer—native New Yorker, Ohio State grad, wife and son, tests at Evendale, Allentown, and Pittsfield. . . . Assisting Earl Degrandchamp in market research is Genny Mueller, formerly at Taylor St. . . . Broadening the focus of the A&D Dept. to include the world: A new baby boy Dec. 17 to Lois (formerly in Johnny Johnson's section) and Dick Harlowe, Taylor St. . . . The Battle of the Radiator continues to rage in Room 620—Eskimo Potter vs. the "Frozen Five." . . . Similarly, the hot air brought in by the Bldg. 4-6 blowers compares favorably with the warm live fuel expounded daily by the loquacious adherents of both "Turn 'em off" and "Turn 'em on." . . . A bouquet to that "carefully selected" party peddling committee, Johnny Reuille, Tom Dowling and Steve Nagy—who, despite small basements and various lethargic party poopers, came through admirably with a dandy plan. . . . There are at least three, first-time, expectant fathers in sales. . . . Happy birthdays to Gerry Zehendner, the 26th (how many birthday presents do you expect, Gerry?) and Bob Knepple, next Monday, December 28. . . . MISTLETOE—WHAT'S THAT? So asked Jaime Ibanez, our Test Engineer from Peru, South America. After a complete explanation, as to what you do with it and what happens, Jaime thought it would be a good idea to use it the year round and was all for hanging some above his desk immediately. Try it this Christmas, Jaime, on some of the North American gals, eh? . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Betty Rose on Dec. 24th. . . . AND A HAPPY CHRISTMAS TO ALL AND TO ALL A GOOD NIGHT!

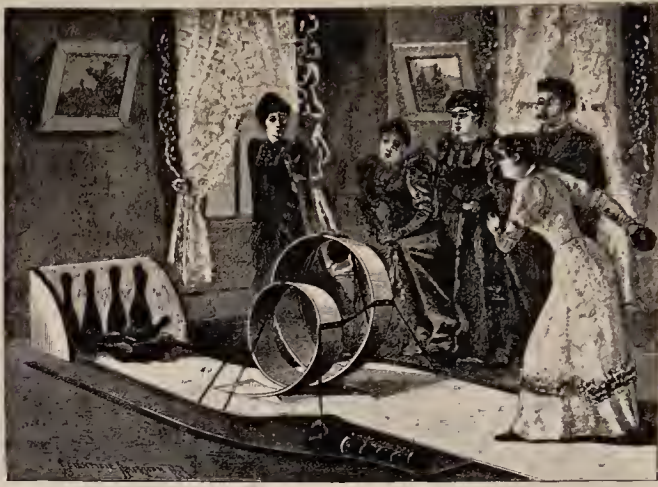

SPECIALTY MOTORS

Shipping—Receiving—Order Service

by Mabel Fisher

Our Words Are Few
The Space Is Small—
So We Will Just Say:

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

HOW TO BOWL AT HOME—In the good old days, howling fans who didn't have room for a regulation alley in their homes set up a centrifugal bowling alley similar to the one shown here. With no fuss or bother, they just set it up in the parlor and went ahead with the sport that was very popular then as now.

Owl Quintet Chalks Up Seventh Straight Victory

The high riding GE Owls chalked up their seventh straight win last Thursday morning to just about cinch the first half championship in the Main Auto Industrial Owl League. They downed Salisbury 45 to 31.

GE saw a game Salisbury quintet take a first quarter lead of 11 to 9 by scoring three baskets and five free throws, compared to three baskets by Bob Markey and a basket and a foul shot by Ron Blodgett for GE.

In the second period Salisbury was held scoreless from the field scoring only three free throws.

Tom Gladieux flipped in three fielders, Bailey and White each had a fielder and Anspach a field goal and a free throw, to put GE in front at the half, 22 to 14.

In the third quarter Blodgett hit two fielders and a free throw, Wilson a fielder, Etter, a field goal and a free throw, Gladieux, a field goal; and White, a charity toss, for a total of 13 points, while again holding Salisbury to just 5 points. This made it 35 to 19 at the end of three quarters.

Salisbury out-scored GE in the final stanza 12 to 10 as Fisher, Dickey, Bailey, and Markey each hit a field goal, with Gladieux sacking a couple of free throws to wrap up the affair 45 to 31 in favor of the GE Owls.

Next week's games will be played Wednesday morning instead of Thursday morning.

Aircraft Gear meets Salisbury at 9 a.m.; Zollner and GE at 10 a.m., and Eckrich plays Indiana Rod at 11 a.m.

GE Rod and Gun Club Beaten by Ossian Club

Tuesday night, Dec. 8, the GE Rod and Gun Club Rifle Team lost to the Ossian Rifle Club by a score of 1155 to 1115. The individual scores were:

GE
R. Stevens	288
L. May	278
R. Miller	275
O. Emrick	274
Totals	1115
OSSIAN
R. Sowards	293
A. Gibson	293
K. Melching	291
R. Darley	278
Totals	1155

Then Wednesday night, Dec. 16, in a match at the National Guard Armory, the GE Rifle Team won over the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver Club Team by a score of 1121 to 1079. Scores were:

GE
H. Patterson	283
R. Stevens	282
O. Emrick	282
L. May	274
Totals	1121
R and R
A. Pintz	277
R. Tillman	275
P. Henry	266
E. Bolden	261
Totals	1079

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

Dear Santa: We are grateful for the abundance of prosperity, health and happiness showered on our wonderful GE family during the past year.

It is our wish on this Christmas that the great Prince of Peace will continue to bless our employees, our pensioners and their families with the outpouring of His bounty—Peace, Prosperity, Health and Happiness.

—Decaturites Editor and Staff.

STORMY WEATHER BLDG. 17-4

by Bill Hurtt & Larry Reed

Apparently we are going to have to paint all our glass doors red or some outstanding color. Karl Soest came storming around the office corner the other day and since the door was closed he tried to break it down—but to his amazement, the door refused to budge. If you look real close you can still see the imprint of his nose. Karl didn't mind too much, but he says he would pay money to see Mrs. Klomp's little boy Ed try to duplicate that stunt. Confidentially, so would we. . . . Friday morning at 2 a.m. the Don Bakers welcomed a new son, Timothy George, weight 9 lbs. 10 oz. Congratulations and best wishes to the three. . . . Never argue with an axe says Larry Reed. In chopping some wood the other evening a piece flew up and hit him in the cheek and punched a fairly nice hole there. In mute testimony to it is the face patch he is wearing, but we are wondering what happened to the axe that he threw clear over the barn? . . . May we at this time extend our own personal wish that each and everyone of you will have the very merriest of Christmases and may all your hopes come true.

STANDINGS		W. L.
General Electric	7	0
Indiana Rod and Wire	4	3
Zollner	4	3
Aircraft Gear	4	3
Eckrich	2	5
Salisbury	0	7
GE		Salisbury
Markey	4 0 8	McAlhany 1 3 5
White	1 1 3	Trump 1 0 2
Blodgett	3 2 8	Nahrwald 1 2 3
Wilson	1 0 2	Beck 1 0 2
Etter	1 1 3	Johnson 1 2 2
Gladieux	4 2 10	Campbell 2 6 6
Anspach	1 1 3	Smith 0 2 2
Bailey	2 0 3	Oberlin 0 1 1
Dickey	1 0 2	Willoby 0 0 0
Fisher	1 0 2	Kmenhiser 2 1 5
Totals	19 7 45	Totals 9 13 31

Merry Christmas to All

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

NEW INCOME TAX TABLES

Page 7

Volume 36

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1953

No. 51

"RING OUT THE OLD, ring in the new, Ring, happy bells across the snow: The year is going, let him go; Ring out the false, ring in the true." Marilee Young, Taylor St., extends Happy New Year greetings in the manner suggested by Alfred Lord Tennyson in his poem, "In Memoriam."

Quarter Century Club Re-Elects W. E. Beer President for 1954

Wallace E. Beer, Bldg. 18-1, has been re-elected president of the Quarter Century Club for the 1954 year, it was announced this week by the nominating committee.

Other newly elected officers are: Joe A. Henry, Taylor St. laboratory, vice president; G. Ray Lindemuth, Bldg. 18-5, secretary; Gerald C. Michael, Taylor St., treasurer, and Hilda Walda, Bldg. 4-2, director for five-year term.

Other directors who were elected in previous years and who will continue in office in 1954 are: C. F. Hattendorf, Bldg. 17-4; George Buckley, Decatur; Art Kabisch, Bldg. 4-6, and Elmer J. Wagoner, Bldg. 19-3.

The deadline for returning ballots in the election was Monday this week.

Members of the nominating committee in addition to chairman A. C. Hartman, are: Art Galloghy, John Dennis, Gordon L. Smith, and Dave Slater.

Since the fall of 1914 when the Quarter Century Club was formed in Fort Wayne, the membership here has expanded from 30 original members to the current number of 2469.

The idea for an organization of industrial veterans, whose only requirement for membership was a quarter century in the service of General Electric, was conceived shortly after 1900.

Wallace E. Beer

202 Employees Launch 1954 With $3180 for Suggestions

Two hundred and two Fort Wayne GE employees will start the New Year with a little extra cash on hand because of suggestion awards which amounted to $3,180 during November.

Philip A. Schoppman, a plater in Section 113 of the General Purpose Component Motor Department at Taylor St., heads the list with $290. He suggested that an air line be installed in the rinse tank to improve the method of cleaning parts and also save water.

A $135 award was paid to Elizabeth Youngs for her idea to eliminate an annealing operation on the rotor iron. She is an electrical tester in the Specialty Component Motor Department Section 417 at Taylor St.

A suggested improvement to a die stripper brought $105 to Julius W. Lehman. Mr. Lehman does mold and die repair work in Section 114 at Taylor St.

In the Specialty Transformer Department, Frank C. Schlotter, Bldg. 12-1, earned $90 for devising an improved method of anchoring leads, which saved repair time.

An $85 award was presented C. Townsend, Jr., of the DC Motor and Generator Department, for suggesting that only the longest cone of the several made be purchased, and that they be trimmed to the necessary length. This idea saves time in inventory as well as paper work and storage space.

There were two awards in the $60 range. Zella M. Cluts, Bldg. 26-5, devised a new fixture to save time in assembly of terminal boards and was awarded $65. Francis M. Nelson, Bldg. 26-4, improved the method of dipping silicone transformers for a $60 suggestion check.

An award of $55 went to Dean E. Inman for a change in wire guide pulleys which reduced the

(Continued on Page 4)

A $280 IDEA—Philip A. Schoppman, a plater in Section 113 at Taylor St., shows how his idea to install an air line in the rinse tank improves the method of cleaning parts and also results in a water saving. Mr. Schoppman was awarded $290 for his suggestion.

Locations for Filing Group Insurance Claims Listed

Insurance claims for the General Electric Insurance Plan for employees are now being handled in the Fort Wayne plants according to employees' locations, L. C. Swager, manager of employee and plant community relations, announced this week.

All members of the plan who work on the west side of Broadway should contact Ceal Romary, Bldg. 26-2, Ext. 2367 to file claims. All those on the east side of Broadway should contact Evelyn Blakey, Bldg. 18-1, Ext. 331. Taylor St. employees should see Veora Habig, Taylor St., Ext. 2519, and employees at Winter St. can file claims with Marjorie Hill, Winter St., Ext. 320, and Fairfield Ave. employees contact Mildred Harber at that location on A-1117.

Elex Club Opens New Year Calendar With Kathryn Turney Garton Jan. 11

Opening their 1954 club calendar, Elex Club members have slated their first meeting of the new year for Monday, Jan. 11, at the GE Club. Kathryn Turney Garton will review A. J. Cronin's latest novel, "Beyond This Place."

The dinner meeting will begin at 4:45 p.m. and the program will start at 6 p.m. Three copies of the novel to be reviewed will be awarded as attendance prizes. Mrs. Garton will autograph each of these.

Reservations for the meeting may be secured with contact girls for $1.25 per member. Thursday, Jan. 7, is the deadline for securing reservations.

"Beyond This Place" is the most recent of Mr. Cronin's many well-known novels and is filled with suspense and drama.

Two series of shorthand classes sponsored by Elex will begin in January. A beginners' class will get underway Jan. 12 and will be taught by Leola Johnson, Taylor St. An advanced series will open Jan. 14 and will have Avenel Stanton, Bldg. 26-2, as instructor. Both series will have 12 sessions and will meet in Room 107 of the Jefferson Community Center at the corner of Fairfield Ave. and Jefferson St. The Gregg simplified method will be taught in both classes.

Persons interested in joining either of the classes should contact

(Continued on Page 4)

The General Electric News

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

1878 75 1953

YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

Virginia Molden
Barbara W. Hyman

Editor
Assistant Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICES:

Bldg. 18-1—Tel. E-7431, Ext. 441

Volume 36

Thursday, December 31, 1953

No. 51

Looking Ahead to America, 1975

The late George Orwell, British author, wrote a rather frightening book several years ago called "1984." In it, the super-state was completely triumphant. Individuals were shorn of even the smallest freedom and privacy. Living standards didn't matter much—existing in a regime of terror, people couldn't enjoy anything except possibly the dream of being free again.

A far happier preview of future years has been indicated by economists in this country. Taking the year 1975—about as far ahead as statistical estimates may be made—they are based on the belief that the American people will not surrender their system of individual freedom and opportunity to any kind of super-state.

By 1975, we'll be a much bigger nation. Population will be about 190,000,000—some 33,000,000 more than in 1952, according to these estimates of our country's possibilities. The national income well may be double the 1952 figure of $291 billion, or about $600 billion. This would mean a per capita income for every man, woman and child—of $3,200 a year. Last year the per capita income was $1,860.

Our 1975 America will need about 850,000 more business enterprises than we have now. People holding or seeking jobs will number some 88,600,000, or 22,000,000 more than are in the "work force" at the present time. To provide the goods and services and jobs we will require, the total of business firms will probably have to reach a total of nearly 5,000,000 individual enterprises!

Higher incomes, higher living standards, better products and a better life all around for Americans—these are what we reasonably can expect as we roll on toward the diamond jubilee of the Twentieth Century. But it would be foolish to think that these things will come about automatically; without our turning a wheel.

The 1975 estimates are made with an eye on the proved, established productivity and expansion record of our free individual enterprise kind of economy. If the economic freedom necessary to the successful working of our American economy should be taken away, we feel sure the economists who made these appraisals of what we can do would tear up their notes and shrug their shoulders.

There are more ways than one to hog-tie economic freedom. Even without direct controls over business, government can tax the people so heavily that there isn't much left for business investment. This is actually what has been happening; in the last few years we have had a serious shortage of risk investment in industry. The effects have not been noticeable on the surface—business has borrowed and plowed back earnings to fill the gap.

One of the problems in making our 1975 possibilities come true is that we'll need about $265 billion in new investment money. At the rate we've been investing in new stock issues—only $2 million a year—"venture capital" won't come close to supplying the need. Only a more enlightened tax system, and less government spending, are likely to restore both the ability and incentive of our people to invest in America's future.

SLEUTHING in 4-6

by Al Happel

Happy birthday to Betty Puff Jan. 7. . . . We had a very enjoyable Christmas party at the Colonial. We wish to thank Lois Reed, Pat Boling, and Jerry Duryee for their performance. . . . Welcome to Myron Tupper, a rotating engineer, working for L. W. Wightman. . . . The extra sparkle in Rita Alspaugh's eyes is that the package she has been waiting for from Japan is going to arrive New Year's Day. . . . Happy birthdays to Norma Miller on the last day of the year and to Cal Wheeler on the first day of 1954. . . . H. P. (High-Powered) Love had to stop on his way to work last Thursday morning to extinguish a fire under the hood of his car. H. P. has several good explanations if you care to contact him on the matter. . . . Friends of Gwen Bray will be interested to know she has now decided to establish her future home at 10435 Mt. Gleason, Apartment 1, Sunland, California. I am sure Gwen would be happy to hear from any one of her old friends. . . . We were happy to see Georgia Garrett and Nancy Starke at our Specialty Engineering Christmas party. . . . Haste makes waste—or be a high stepper—is the lesson Phyl Faulkner learned last week-end, when instead of going around or stepping high enough, she tripped over her small son's toy and injured her foot. We hope nothing too serious develops, Phyl, and that you will not be confined too long. . . . The TV Club of Bldg. 4-6 is certainly growing. The new members this week are Wally Clayton, Lela Om-spach, and Larry Diller. . . . Attention all TV members of Bldg. 4-6. We just found out that we have two more new members. We heard that Art Nickerson and John Leffers have had TV sets since last month, and have kept it a secret. How do you like that, members? They must have a good reason, huh? . . . Old Saint Nick was really nice to Wally Clayton this Christmas. He gave him a doll for Christmas, that is a girl doll. How do you like the doll by now, Wally? We thought that you were in your second childhood, but we know it now. . . . Katie Gardt did it again, last Saturday. That car of yours is really a jinx to you, isn't it, Katie. We heard that you started for home with four dozen eggs on your front seat. When you finally got home, you had one dozen eggs and three dozen scrambled eggs. We hope you cleaned up the mess and not your husband. . . . Marketing Section's Christmas left-overs: 'Twas the day before Christmas and all through the office, everybody was stirring, their coffee, that is. . . . Jolly, white-bearded yet, Santa (Fred Wilson) Claus distributed gifts followed by a deluxe coffee klatch and Christmas carols kept on key by accordionist Bob Hess. . . . Not to be outdone by Santa Claus, Dick Thomas sported one of the very first—if not the first, mink, yes mink, bowties seen thus far in Fort Wayne. Most repeatable of many comments was from Bruce Bohn, "That's the hairiest chest I've seen all morning." . . . There's a new sparkle on Marilyn Wire's third finger, left hand, since Christmas. . . . Texas Gene (Grub Worm) St. John announced by letter that he has forsaken General Electric for Convair in Fort Worth. . . . The annual Marketing stag party was held Dec. 23 at Delan's on Hanna St. Jack Clarkson became curious to find out who would be there. The invitation neglected to say who was giving the party. . . . Hotelman Homer Porte received a Christmas visit from two batches of in-laws from Arkansas and Oklahoma. . . . Boh Wickstrom's downtown purchase of pajamas for his wife was witnessed hilariously by Ingrid Swanson. . . . I don't believe there was a happier girl in the world than Lil Silko was Thursday, Dec. 24. For months all Lil has wanted for Christmas was Julius LaRosa. Jerry Hadley made her dream come true by presenting her with a four-foot replica of her dreamboat. To top it all off was a very personal note from him. Lil is still in a daze. . . . L. B. McDougall received a miniature hottle of Christmas cheer from some unknown party. Mac says he's not a drinking man, but the whole works was gone Monday morning. Must have evaporated—or something.

THISA & THATA

BLDG. 4-3 and 4

by Helen Engle

It was quite an election battle but Sam Taylor running on the "dry" ticket lost. Don Mason counted the votes and we all think someone stuffed the ballot box. . . . It is because of John "Scrooge" Figley's red cap that he won for the office he ran for. . . . Floyd Steinbacher and Harry Hindman have new GE TV sets. . . . As of December 23 everyone is momentarily waiting for Don Wilson's first tax deduction. Here's hoping it is a boy on the 25th. . . . The crowd around the coatrack recently was just watching Joe Roop trying to peel out of his coat when the zipper failed to work. . . . One good excuse for being late. "The power was off and the clock was slow." At least that is Everett Lindeman's tale. . . . When Eileen Brown said "Buy me a dolly," she meant it, so Santa presented her with a beautiful baby dolly. . . . Wally Riechter is the guy who eats all the time so his Christmas box should keep him filled at least one day. It even contained a rotten potato. . . . Fern Hollowell was really surprised when she got her parakeet for Christmas, even if it wasn't a live one. . . . Dale Lauer is really

Never Too Old

Harry Meyer just couldn't resist sitting on Santa's lap out at the Reliable. His 22-month-old son, Harvey Joe, was a little frightened by the whole thing, but when Daddy crawled up on the other knee, he felt more at home.

thankful for this cold weather. The ice is plenty thick at Houghton Lake, so he can fish. . . . Tolly Hauch was so excited about receiving a "pot-bellied-stove" planter, that she left her purse behind and didn't discover it until she was at the parking lot. . . . Kay Vondoran got up a little late the other day and dressed in such a hurry that she got her sweater on backwards and forgot her earrings, and without earrings she says she just isn't dressed. . . . The girls in 1x88 welcome Thelma Blue and Hazel Maxon and are sorry to see Jane Bennett leave. . . . Carl Kinsey has a 6-foot tree hut only 7 lights on it. Wonder how it looks? . . . Edward Menzigan is spending the Christmas holidays in Boston. . . . Ginny Burkett has those TV eyes now, along with all those other people. . . . Dorwin Stout says you're just not "hep" if you don't see "Two Gun Playhouse" on TV. He does say his living room gets pretty crowded with all those horses in there. . . . My prayer for each and everyone of you in the coming year, is that God richly blesses you in all your endeavors.

"NO, SIR. NO PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE. BUT I LEARN AWFUL FAST."

Crosby Does Premiere TV Show Sunday

Two Men Assume New Posts In Apparatus Sales Division

Two men have been elevated to new positions in the General Electric Apparatus Sales Division, it was announced today by C. W. Fick, manager—East Central District. Gordon T. Graham, formerly manager of the Fort Wayne Apparatus Sales Office, has been named manager of the Dayton, Ohio Office. C. F. Fitchey, who has been a sales engineer in the Fort Wayne Office since 1947, will now serve as manager here.

Gordon T. Graham

C. F. Fitchey

Fred Fitchey joined the General Electric Company in 1946 after his graduation from the Illinois Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering. Prior to that, he spent three years as an ensign in the U. S. Navy. At the present time he holds memberships in the Fort Wayne Engineers' Club, the Elks Club, the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce, and is serving currently as director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Fitchey, his wife and two children, reside at 1009 Pemberton Drive.

Gordon Graham will replace J. Bosway, who has retired from GE's Dayton Apparatus Sales Office. Graham has been manager of the Fort Wayne Office since 1946. Prior to that time he served as a sales engineer in Cleveland, Indianapolis, and Fort Wayne. He is a 1928 graduate of Iowa State College with a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering. He joined the company on the Test Course shortly after his graduation.

A licensed professional engineer in Indiana, he has also served as past director of the Fort Wayne Engineer's Club, Sales Council Member of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Rotary Club.

General Electric sponsors Bing Crosby's first venture into television with his own program Sunday, over the CBS-TV network from 8 to 8:30 p.m. CST. The program will be seen locally over WKJG-TV. Although Bing has made two brief guest appearances on other programs and has participated in a fund raising "telethon" for charity, this is in effect his television debut.

BING CROSBY
... his television debut

To television fans everywhere, Bing Crosby's plunge into television will represent one of the most significant pieces of television news of the year. Bing has, up until now, been reluctant in the face of increasing popular demand, to enter a medium which critics have long maintained was made to order for his talents. But now that Bing has taken the plunge, it looks like he's ready to make TV history with his new show.

The show will feature Jack Benny and blonde bombshell Sherree North as Bing's guest stars and will, in general, have the same type of format that has proved so popular on his Sunday evening radio show—a relaxed informal offering with a liberal amount of vocalizing by Bing. Also featured in this telecast will be Buddy Cole, Hollywood pianist; the famous western band, the Cass County Boys, with whom Bing recently recorded his latest hit, "Y'All Come," and Perry Bodkin, the new guitar sensation. Musical direction will be handled by John Scott Trotter who has been arranging and directing music for Bing's radio shows for many years.

General Electric has expressed confidence that Bing's great appeal to people in all walks of life and the high entertainment standards of the program will combine to make this program an outstanding vehicle for bringing the General Electric story to the American public.

Since the success of this premiere telecast will have a determining effect on Crosby's future TV plans, General Electric's Public Relations Division has made a special request for opinions from all GE employees viewing the program. Comments should be addressed to the Audio-Visual Services Section, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, New York City. Let them know how you liked it. They'll be glad to hear from you.

JACK BENNY
... Bing's guest star

GE Club Slates Movies Jan. 2

Saturday, Jan. 2, a kiddies' movie program and family movie program will be presented at the GE Club, Gordon L. Smith, entertainment chairman, announced this week.

The family movie, which begins at 8 p.m., will be the "House of Seven Gables," starring George Sanders, Vincent Price, and Margaret Lindsay. In addition, a short subject will be shown. There will be one showing of the movie only. The program is free of charge to employees and their families.

Two other family movie programs are booked for the month of January. The response to these three shows by employees will determine whether or not further family movies will be scheduled, the chairman reported. If attendance is small, this series will be discontinued, he stated.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday the kiddies' movie will get under way. It is "Abbott & Costello in the Foreign Legion." There will be a color cartoon and short subject also. This program is open to all children of employees free of charge. The kiddies' movies are booked for every Saturday afternoon through April 24.

Services Held Monday For John Bickley, 77

A retired General Electric employee, John L. Bickley, 77, died Friday, Dec. 25, at the St. Joseph Hospital, where he had been a patient 10 days. He resided at 241 E. DeWald St.

Services were conducted Monday, Dec. 28, at the Klaehn Funeral Home by Dr. Paul H. Krauss. Burial was in Grover Hill, Ohio.

When he joined the company in 1922, Mr. Bickley became a bench hand. In 1932, he became a drill press operator and had this job until he retired May 1, 1945.

New Year's Eve Dance Is Tonight At Squares Hall

This evening the GE Squares hall will take on a festive air as the Club's New Year's Eve dance gets underway at 9:30. The informal dance will continue until 1:30 a.m.

Providing music for dancing will be Bob Snowball and his orchestra. Squares members who wish to attend the dance and have not secured tickets yet may do so by contacting Al Larmann, Bldg. 26-2, chairman of the dance. Tickets are $4.50 per couple for members and $4.75 per couple for non-members. No tickets will be available at the door this evening.

Assisting the chairman with arrangements for the holiday event are: David W. Day, Bldg. 26-2; Mrs. Harry Fisher; Guy D. Bradley, Bldg. 31-2; and Bob Rescorla, Bldg. 18-3.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS are being sent out this week to Hermetic Motor Department customers as part of the department's policy to maintain close relationship with its customers at all times. Ab Martin, general manager, signs letters to the customers. L. D. Hodell, general manager of the General Purpose Motor Department, and J. J. Clarkson, general manager of the Specialty Component Motor Department, sent out similar letters this week also.

IDEA PAYS $85—An award of $85 went to Charles Townsend, Bldg. 31-1, for suggesting an idea which saved time in inventory, paper work and storage space. He receives his award from George Murray (center) and Fred White.

Decatur Foremen and Supervisors Elect Raymond McDougal President

Raymond McDougal has been elected president of the Foremen and Supervisors Club at the Decatur plant. Other new officers who were elected at the organization's annual Christmas party last week are: J. Harry King, vice president, and George Myers, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. McDougal is a foreman of winding and finishing operations on second shift at Decatur. He succeeds Chester Kleinknight as president of the club.

The annual holiday meeting included a dinner at which wives of members were guests. E. W. Baumgartner, president of the First Bank of Berne and past president of the Indiana Bankers Association, was the principal speaker. Other speakers included John F. Welch, manager of the Decatur plant, and E. W. Lankenau, former Decatur plant manager who is retired. Lew Nelson, outgoing vice president of the club, was toastmaster.

"It looks like rain."

"Not here in California."

"Look at the clouds up there."

"They don't mean anything."

They're just empties coming back from Florida."

Raymond McDougal

Santa Brings Babies To Two GE Families

Christmas 1953 was an especially happy one for two GE families because they received new born babies on that day. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robert Jones had a new baby daughter, Berniece Elaine. Mr. Jones works in the wire mill at Taylor St.

A baby boy, David Wayne, made his debut Dec. 25 at the Harry Waggoner household. Mr. Waggoner is employed in Bldg. 31-1.

DECATURITES

by George Laurent

Have you seen it? What? Oh, didn't you know that Wayne Wittwer has been driving a brand new brown, four-door Chevy? Pretty nice, Wayne, we know that you are really going to enjoy your new car. . . . 'Twas the week before Christmas and Whitey Luther Brokaw was playing safe and spending his third week of vacation at home. Could it be that he was getting worried and decided to put on the good behavior act for Santa's benefit? You can't fool us, Whitey, we know that this cold weather brings out the wish to hibernate. . . . We wonder if Josephine Ivetch has missed her real calling. It has been rumored that she really does have a healing touch when caring for wounded animals. At the present time her patient seems to be recuperating nicely and able to say meow. . . . We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Agnes McBeth upon the death of her husband and to John and Hugh Holthouse upon the death of their mother. . . . Oran Schultz chose the Christmas holiday week for his third week vacation. . . . Vernon "Speck" Hebble shows no serious after-effects from his recent "mysterious" accident at home. . . . Have you seen the sparklers yet? Congratulations are in store for Rosie Noonan and Vera Geimer, both of the office. Rosie came to work last week sporting her diamond and informed us that she and her lucky man, Bob Wolfcale of Fort Wayne, have set their wedding date for January 16. Vera was very pleasantly surprised when she received amount of maintenance work. He is employed at Taylor St.

Suggestions

(Continued from page 1)

Four employees received $50 awards for suggestions. Glenn O. Hoon, Taylor St., improved a method of making the guide on a die. Paul G. Hitzeman suggested a change in the method of manufacturing a punch and die; and John N. Schreiber and Homer Markely, both of Taylor St., shared an award for their joint idea to improve the method of cleaning parts in the washer by installing air jets. The fourth $50 award was earned by Richard L. Bucher, Bldg. 4-3, for changing the clearance on a carbobol tool to give it longer life.

Other awards of less than $50 were paid to the following: John A. Crocker, $25; Richard C. Nix, $40; Chalmers Hazen, $40; John H. Holloway, $35; Frank Brohman, $30; Louis J. Wyss, $30; Lewis H. Clark, $25; H. W. Skevington, $25. More are: Thomas M. Runyon, $30; Glenn Robinett, $30; George W. Webb, $25; Russell Golliver, $25; Harold M. Rhine, $30; Charles L. Boyce, $35; Morris A. Peters, $35; Bernard P. Kramer, $25; Jerry Kraft, $45; Robert C. Winkler, $30; Melvin J. Lyttle, $30.

There were 170 employees who received awards of under $25 in amount.

her diamond for Christmas. The lucky guy is Louie Laurant, whom I think most of us know. We don't know when Louie and Vera plan the big day. Congratulations, Rosie and Vera.

SHAFT SHAVINGS

Bldg. 19-3

Blanche Cowell

Happy New Year to one and all! . . . We were very glad to see Al Nahrwold the other day. He certainly must be taking life easy. He looks very good. . . . Wanted to buy: A tractor that will outrun a rabbit, or low geared rabbits that the present tractor will outrun. Contact Ted Schlup. . . . Don Connett has left us to work in Bldg. 31-1. We will miss him. Welcome to Floyd Wygant who will take Don's place. He comes from Bldg. 31. We hope he will like working here. . . . Elmer Warner and his wife took a trip over the week-end to Buck Lake and Kokomo where he picked up his daughter and grandchild who came from Birmingham, Ala. to spend the holidays with them. . . . Fred Buchholz is a happy guy. Every time you go past his machine he is singing Christmas carols. Good work, Fred, keep them rollin'. . . . Everyone seems to have the spirit of giving this year, even the traffic department. They gave Paul Gruber a pink ticket to the City Hall for over parking. Better be more careful, Paul.

Elex

(Continued from page 1)

Miss Stanton on Ext. 640. The price of each course for Elex members is $3 and for non-members, it is $3.50. Persons may register at the first session of either course also.

Quarter Century Enrolls Ten New Members

WALDO D. MARTIN
Taylor St.

CLEO H. CROWE
Taylor St.

ELVA McMAKEN
Taylor St.

HERSHEL E. PIERSON
Bldg. 20-2

PRESTON W. SLACK
Bldg. 2-2

FRIEDA KIPPER
Taylor St.

HAZEL E. HENSCHEN
Taylor St.

MEREDITH L. TROUT
Bldg. 4-5

HOWARD C. McVAY
Taylor St.

EDWARD BISHOP
Bldg. 19-5

5000 Children Meet Santa At GE Club Christmas Party

Approximately 5,000 youngsters of GE families entered the doors of the GE Club Dec. 19 and 20 to attend the 1953 annual Kiddies' Christmas party.

Visiting with Santa Claus, watching professional entertainers perform, and looking over the many people at the shows kept the small tots pretty busy. At each of the shows, the kiddies received treats of four candy bars, an orange, rubber ball, yo-yo, and box of cracker jack.

At each of the six programs, the first of which began at 10 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 19, and the last starting at 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 20, five professional acts presented skits for the children. One of the favorite acts, Happy Harrison's Thoroughbreds, kept busy performing here and going to other shows in Fort Wayne to perform in between GE Club shows. The talented dogs were eager to get on stage each time in spite of all the traveling back and forth between the club and a downtown theater.

Another favorite of the youngsters was Bob King, ventriloquist, who entertained them by talking with one of his dolls while smoking a cigarette and singing with two of his wooden dolls. The kiddies also enjoyed a trapeze act, song and dance team, and musical comedy man.

Myron C. Auer

Jerome P. Frye

Myron C. Auer, Jerome P. Frye Wind Up Apprentice Course Jan. 1

Two members of the Apprentice School will graduate from the machinist-toolmaker course tomorrow, Jan. 1, 1954. They are Myron C. Auer and Jerome P. Frye.

Mr. Auer graduated from Central High School in June, 1946. He came to the company in 1947 and entered Bldg. 26-1 as a punch press operator. The following year, he entered the Apprentice School.

In 1950, Mr. Auer went into the U. S. Army. He was stationed at Camp Breckinridge and Ft. Lee, Virginia, and spent 11 months in Korea. He was discharged in September, 1952, and returned to GE.

Mr. and Mrs. Auer reside at 2119 S. Calhoun St.

After graduation from North Side High School in 1944, Mr. Frye entered the U. S. Navy that same year. While in the Service, he took a radio course at the University of Wisconsin and was stationed in the Pacific Theater prior to his discharge July, 1946.

When he came to GE in 1950, Mr. Frye entered the Apprentice School. The Fryes and their two sons live at 2400 Shadybrook Dr.

$50 RICHER—Glenn Hoon, die repairer in Bldg. 19-5, is congratulated by William Paulson on his $50 idea for improving the method of making die guides to eliminate breaking.

SICK LIST

The following employees have been reported on the sick list, dismissed from the hospital, and returned to work:

Sick List

Carol Eastes, Velora Drury, J. C. Fitts, Lola Christopher, Elizabeth Gentile, Henry Webster, Kenneth Van Meter, Carl Schieman, Donald Rapp, George Hatch, Ruth Bullerman, Beverly Stauffer, Richard Smith, Jr., George Taylor, Herbert Seslar, William Riley, Harold Orr, Margie Ogden, Wavalee Miller, George Megginson, Madeline Lake, Elsie Klemm, Eva Germano, Martha Gaunt, Grace Nealey, Aurora Pena, Frank Thomas, Zelma Buettner, and Mary Gill.

Dismissed From Hospital

Carl Schieman, Henry Webster, Kenneth VanMeter, Clara Ringenberg, Ruth Buklerman, Beulah Smith, Bessie Fitch, Anthony Holicher, Leonard Deal, Joseph Sorg, Grace Bullard, Roy Orr, Jr., George Taylor, Helene Shuler, Maxine Calhoun, and James Snodgrass.

Returned to Work

Wes Craig, Waneta Koehlinger, Virgil Royer, Lawrence Growcock, Norman Current, Morton Gutteboe, Raymond Meyer, Wallace Growcock, Myrtle Keller, Robert Moudy, George Taylor, Harold DeVall, Bessie Fitch, William H. Green, Raymond DeBolt, Joseph Carrier, Mary Floyd, Joyce Metter, Oscar Schelper, Erma Angel, Carol Chalmers, Richard Reisinger, and Welma Charlton, Jr.

TRANSFORMER TATTLES BLDG. 26-4

Dutch Norwalt

After being appointed "temporary test foreman," Tom Freeman is throwing his weight around already. He is making "Murders Row" walk down the stairs instead of riding the elevator. Careful, Tom, the worm may turn. . . . After recently being highlighted in the GE NEWS, Edna DeLuery came in with a complete new outfit; red shoes and all. Very sharp, Edna! . . . Leo Klejnot bought a new TV a couple of weeks ago. The next week he was off work almost all week. Leo does have a sore knee. Hope you do get back to work soon, Leo, as we miss you. . . . Ed Kootz's brother is home from the Navy and is paying him a visit. . . . Loyal Smotherman is going to spend Christmas week with his mother and father in Caney, Kansas. He is going by train instead of by Ford. . . . Harold Rhine has been working pretty well on Thursdays since he and Peterson had a little talk. . . . Sam Dailey is at the Veterans' Hospital. . . . Velma Johnson has taken up bowling recently. Edna Bailey is her instructor. . . . Dean Jones had an increase in his family Dec. 22. Seven little pups. When asked what kind. He said, "Just dogs." . . . Ed Englert looks like the red nose reindeer. What is it, Ed? A cold or sticking your nose into too many people's business. . . . Richard Smith, Jr. is convalescing in Parkview Memorial Hospital.

Watch your cigarettes—keep them a safe distance from your Christmas tree.

Harold L. Hoffman

Byron L. Embick

Hoffman, Embick Receive Section 93 Appointments

Two appointments in Specialty Transformer Section 93 have been announced by Robert W. Barker, superintendent of the section. Byron L. Embick has been named time standards specialist and Harold L. Hoffman has been appointed project specialist.

In 1936 Mr. Embick joined the company and entered the Philadelphia plant as a machine operator. In 1945 he went into wage rate and later moved into central wage rate. He entered a motion time survey course at West Lynn in 1949. Upon completion of this the following year, he entered the advanced manufacturing training program, which he completed this year.

After transferring to Fort Wayne in February this year, Mr. Embick became a time standards technician in wage rate. This was his position at the time of his present appointment.

Mr. Embick attended Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia. The Embicks and their two children reside at 1501 California Ave.

After he came to the company in 1947, Mr. Hoffman entered the test engineers program at the Pittsfield plant. Later he went to Lynn and completed the program here in 1948. Then, he went on the Fort Wayne manufacturing program which he finished the following year.

Mr. Hoffman entered central planning in the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Department in 1949 and was named a foreman in 1951 in Bldg. 6-3. This year, he became advanced planning specialist in Section 94. He had this job until his present assignment.

A graduate of the University of Illinois, Mr. Hoffman received his BSME degree in 1947. He is a member of the ASME. The Hoffmans and their two sons reside at 1520 Sherman St.

BONUS AWARDS—Elizabeth Youngs, electrical tester at Taylor St., collects some 75th anniversary suggestion bonus awards along with her check for $135. Her idea eliminated an annealing operation. Charles Penn is shown with her.

New Income Tax Rates Effective Jan. 1

THE BIG WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST. by Rachel Mounsey

We extend our deepest sympathy to Goldie Arms in the recent death of her brother-in-law. . . . Mary Green's five-year-old daughter is getting doubtful about Santa Claus, because she came home from school and said he had a Halloween suit on. . . . Folks usually decorate their house for Christmas but Bob Boone is different. He not only decorates his house, but also decorates his lawn, so that his lawn can have the Christmas spirit, also. . . . Santa really was nice to B. Humbarger. She got everything that she wanted from Santa including a TV set. She said it was a good thing that her sock wasn't any bigger or there wouldn't have been anything left for us. . . . Have you seen the big wishbone Virginia Reed is carrying in her purse. Ginny claims it really brings her luck. Why don't you pass it around so we all can enjoy some of that luck. . . . Congratulations to VeEtta Gray on her baby girl. . . . Esther Richmond was all smiles besides celebrating her birthday. Her daughter's family are coming home from Alaska. Esther will see her grandchild for the first time. . . . Margaret Judge stayed home the other day to buy herself a TV set. . . . Fred Adams really has the Christmas spirit the way he has been acting lately. . . . Marvin Van Skyock is really showing off those new ivories of his now. They look pretty nice, Van. . . . Welcome back to Olga Verone, Mary Treuchet, Peggy Fields, Alitza Reinhold, Bertha Mattes, Mary Casonova, and Cecilia Voirol. . . . John Terrell has returned from Alabama, and welcome back to Eddy Howard who has been ill. . . . We wish everyone a Happy New Year and hope they had a nice Christmas.

COUNT OFF SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST. by Marguerite Stahl

Clarabelle Whiteman entertained her co-workers and a few former co-workers at her home in South Whitley at a Christmas party. Gladys Pantazen and Sarah Moore won the boozy prizes. Sarah now has a bird in a gilded cage. . . . Sarah Moore toured the northwest of Fort Wayne on the bus that she took home from the Coliseum, Sunday night. Long ride, wasn't it, Sarah? . . . Ray Smith received his Christmas gift early. If he isn't too old to cut the mustard he can wear it. . . . Paul Winters is staying away from the mistletoe. Is it because he is such a shy, little boy? . . . Louise Sinn will baby sit for Catherine Chilcote if she will come back to work and bring the baby with her. . . . Kindergarten had their Christmas exchange at Alberta Watts, Monday night. . . . We were all happy to have Leonard Diehl in to visit and enjoy the Christmas dinner. . . . Ollie Ragana's son-in-law, Norman Winchester, is home on furlough after spending 15 months in Austria. . . . We hope Otto Geiger receives a new alarm clock for Christmas. One that has a super alarm he would like, so he will be sure to get to work on time. . . . We hope Clyde Helms and family enjoy their vacation at Knoxville and Florida.

REVENUE ACT OF 1951
SALARIES OR WAGES PAID ON OR AFTER JANUARY 1, 1954
If the payroll period with respect to an employee is WEEKLY
And the wages are—		And the number of withholding exemptions claimed is—
At least	But less than	0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9 or more
The amount of tax to be withheld shall be—18% of wages
$0	$13	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0
13	14	.10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
14	15	.20	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
15	16	.30	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
16	17	.40	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
17	18	.50	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
18	19	.60	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
19	20	.70	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
20	21	.80	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
21	22	.90	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
22	23	1.00	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
23	24	1.10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
24	25	1.20	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
25	26	1.30	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
26	27	1.40	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
27	28	1.50	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
28	29	1.60	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
29	30	1.70	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
30	31	1.80	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
31	32	1.90	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
32	33	2.00	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
33	34	2.10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
34	35	2.20	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
35	36	2.30	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
36	37	2.40	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
37	38	2.50	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
38	39	2.60	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
39	40	2.70	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
40	41	2.80	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
41	42	2.90	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
42	43	3.00	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
43	44	3.10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
44	45	3.20	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
45	46	3.30	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
46	47	3.40	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
47	48	3.50	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
48	49	3.60	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
49	50	3.70	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
50	51	3.80	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
51	52	3.90	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
52	53	4.00	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
53	54	4.10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
54	55	4.20	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
$55	$56	$10.00	$7.70	$5.40	$3.10	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0	$0
56	57	10.20	7.90	5.60	3.20	0	0	0	0	0	0
57	58	10.40	8.10	5.80	3.40	0	0	0	0	0	0
58	59	10.60	8.30	6.00	3.60	0	0	0	0	0	0
59	60	10.80	8.50	6.20	3.80	0	0	0	0	0	0
60	62	11.00	8.70	6.40	4.00	0	0	0	0	0	0
62	64	11.30	9.00	6.70	4.30	0	0	0	0	0	0
64	66	11.70	9.40	7.10	4.70	0	0	0	0	0	0
66	68	12.10	9.80	7.50	5.10	0	0	0	0	0	0
68	70	12.40	10.10	7.80	5.40	0	0	0	0	0	0
70	72	12.80	10.50	8.20	5.80	0	0	0	0	0	0
72	74	13.10	10.80	8.50	6.10	0	0	0	0	0	0
74	76	13.50	11.20	8.90	6.50	0	0	0	0	0	0
76	78	13.90	11.60	9.30	6.90	0	0	0	0	0	0
78	80	14.20	11.90	9.60	7.20	0	0	0	0	0	0
80	82	14.60	12.30	10.00	7.60	0	0	0	0	0	0
82	84	14.90	12.60	10.30	7.90	0	0	0	0	0	0
84	86	15.30	13.00	10.70	8.30	0	0	0	0	0	0
86	88	15.70	13.40	11.10	8.70	0	0	0	0	0	0
88	90	16.00	13.70	11.40	9.00	0	0	0	0	0	0
90	92	16.40	14.10	11.80	9.40	0	0	0	0	0	0
92	94	16.70	14.40	12.10	9.70	0	0	0	0	0	0
94	96	17.10	14.80	12.50	10.10	0	0	0	0	0	0
96	98	17.50	15.20	12.90	10.50	0	0	0	0	0	0
98	100	17.80	15.50	13.20	10.80	0	0	0	0	0	0
At least	But less than	0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9 or more
100	105	18.50	16.10	13.80	11.50	9.20	6.90	4.60	2.30	0	0
105	110	19.40	17.00	14.70	12.40	10.10	7.80	5.50	3.20	.90	0
110	115	20.30	17.90	15.60	13.30	11.00	8.70	6.40	4.10	1.80	0
115	120	21.20	18.80	16.50	14.20	11.90	9.60	7.30	5.00	2.70	.40
120	125	22.10	19.70	17.40	15.10	12.80	10.50	8.20	5.90	3.60	1.30
125	130	23.00	20.60	18.30	16.00	13.70	11.40	9.10	6.80	4.50	2.20
130	135	23.90	21.50	19.20	16.90	14.60	12.30	10.00	7.70	5.40	3.10
135	140	24.80	22.40	20.10	17.80	15.50	13.20	10.90	8.60	6.30	4.00
140	145	25.70	23.30	21.00	18.70	16.40	14.10	11.80	9.50	7.20	4.90
145	150	26.60	24.20	21.90	19.60	17.30	15.00	12.70	10.40	8.10	5.80
150	160	27.90	25.60	23.30	21.00	18.70	16.40	14.10	11.70	9.40	7.10
160	170	29.70	27.40	25.10	22.80	20.50	18.20	15.90	13.50	11.20	8.40
170	180	31.50	29.20	26.90	24.60	22.30	20.00	17.70	15.30	13.00	10.70
180	190	33.30	31.00	28.70	26.40	24.10	21.80	19.50	17.10	14.80	12.50
190	200	35.10	32.80	30.50	28.20	25.90	23.60	21.30	18.90	16.60	14.30
18 percent of the excess over $200 plus—
$200 and over		36.00	33.70	31.40	29.10	26.80	24.50	22.20	19.80	17.50	15.20
											12.90

Effective Jan. 1, 1954, employees will be subject to new withholding tax rates. U. S. Government taxes will be withheld in accordance with the accompanying tax tables.

In addition to a reduction in our withholding taxes, the new year will bring us an increase in Social Security deductions. Beginning Jan. 1, 1954, payroll deductions for Social Security will be increased from the current 1½ per cent on the first $3600 of taxable earnings to 2 per cent of such earnings. General Electric also pays an equal tax to the Federal Government.

The increase is required by Federal law to meet the rising cost of Social Security benefits.

The new withholding tax rates will have no effect on 1953 incomes, on which taxes must be paid by March 15.

Shown at left is the table of new withholding tax rates.

DITTIES FROM DISTRIBUTION by Ruth Sorg

SHIPPING: Happy New Year, folks. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bonthron, of Chicago, are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Dec. 10; named Allison. The mother will be remembered as DeanAnn, a former employee. . . . Santa Claus sure was good to Millie Kouder; he brought her a new television set—but she is still looking for that milk coat. . . . 'Twas good to see Wayne Jones back on the job after a two weeks vacation. . . . TELEGRAPH: Happy birthday to Joyce Joseph and may she have many more. . . . Now Cholene and Herb Anderson are really old married folks. The friends all got together and gave them a good old-fashioned belling. . . . Lucile Werling is back to work after a well earned vacation. That's a good way to get that last minute Christmas shopping all done. . . . No, that isn't a celebrity in the office, Joan Roesner is getting married and her pictures were very nice.

OVER OUR WAY BLDG. 19-1 Clara Volz

Louie Clark—no matter how long you lie in bed waiting for the alarm clock to go off, it ain't gonna, if it ain't set to do just that little thing. . . . Three hip, hip hoorays for Clayton Barrick. He finally had a tooth pulled that he has been putting off for the last month or so. Guess the gang ribbed him so much that he just had to go through with it. . . . From all reports the chicken dinner that the test fellows had last Wednesday was a complete success. Also the office gang had a humdinger of a meal. . . . Well, everybody, all I can say now is HAPPY NEW YEAR. Be good to yourself, and others.

Apprentices Lead Interdivision Cage League

GE Cinches Owl Trophy In 1st Half

by Howard Colby

With only two games remaining in the first half of the Main Auto Owl League, the GE Club cinched the first half championship and trophy last Tuesday morning. They downed Indiana Rod 59 to 37 for their eighth straight win against no losses.

The first quarter was a see-saw battle, with Indiana Rod scoring seven points while GE scored 10 on baskets by Gladieux, Wilson, Etter, and two by the Club's big center, Ron Blodgett.

Tom Gladieux led the Club team in the second period by scoring three baskets and a foul shot, as Blodgett, White, Anspach, and Harold Somers each added a field goal for a total of 15 points. Indiana Rod was held to 11, to put a 25 to 18 lead for the GE Owls on the scoreboard at half-time.

In the third period the well-balanced scoring of the Club team began to tell the story as Dickey hit four field goals; White and Fisher, a field goal; and Bailey, two baskets and a free throw, for a total of 17 points. Indiana Rod connected for only 5 points, to give the GE boys a 42 to 23 advantage going into the final quarter.

Both teams hit well in the last eight minutes of play, as Indiana Rod hit 14 points and GE dumped in 17, to end the game 59 to 37 in favor of GE.

Tom Gladieux was high point man for GE with 11, and Indiana Rod had three men with eight points each, Bosler, Ruhl, and Richmond.

Next Thursday, Zollner meets Eckrich at 9 a.m.; Salisbury plays Indiana Rod at 10 a.m., and GE tangles with Aircraft Gear at 11 a.m.

STANDINGS

	W.	L.
GE	8	0
Zollner	5	3
Aircraft Gear	4	4
Indiana Rod and Wire	4	4
Eckrich	3	5
Salisbury	0	8

GE	G. F. T.	Ind. Rod & Wire	G. F. T.
Markey	2 2 6	Bosler	3 2 8
Gladieux	5 1 11	Ruhl	1 6 8
Blodgett	3 0 6	Beard	0 0 0
Wilson	1 1 3	Grabner	1 1 3
Etter	2 0 4	Richmond	3 2 8
Somers	1 0 2	Gaddy	2 1 5
Anspach	2 0 4	Gaunt	2 1 5
White	2 1 5	Lordie	0 0 0
Bailey	3 1 7	Tracee	0 0 0
Dickey	4 1 9
Fisher	1 0 2
Totals	26 7 59	Totals	12 13 37

The men who mine coal, and fire furnaces, and balance ledgers, and turn lathes, and pick cotton, and heal the sick, and plant corn—all serve as proudly and as profitably for America as the statesman who draft treaties and the legislators who enact laws.—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Interdivision Basketball Enters Final Week of First Half Action

by Don Cochran

At the end of six weeks of competition, the well-balanced Interdivision Basketball League is led by the Apprentice School team. Apprentice has a record of six wins and no losses. Second place is held by the Squares who have a record of five wins and one loss. In the final week of competition, Apprentice will meet the Squares. The Test Engineers are in third place, having won 4 and lost 2.

With only eight teams in the league this year, most squads have reasonable reserve strength. This undoubtedly accounts for the closeness of the competition in this year's league.

Tuesday, Dec. 15, the Test Engineers defeated the Transformer crew 48 to 39. The Test Engineers' scoring was pretty well distributed among their starting five while Huddleston, Gardner, and Smith provided most of the scoring punch for Transformer.

The Firemen rolled over the Airliners with a 58 to 43 decision. After a slow first half, the firemen finished strong by scoring 43 of their 58 points in the last half. Vorford and Ealing carried the offensive load for the losers with 15 and 13 points, respectively. For the Firemen, Verle had a good evening with 19 points and was followed by Reidoff with 15 points.

In Thursday night's action, the Squares stopped a tiring MTP squad 43-33. In the low scoring first half neither team could hit from the field consistently, but the Squares found the range in the third and fourth quarters to win easily. Scoring for both teams was pretty well balanced with Dick Miller collecting 11 points for the Squares and Jack Steel totaling nine markers for the MTP's.

Apprentice maintained their perfect record by handing Hermetics a 45 to 30 defeat. Against the tight Apprentice defense, the Hermetic five had to resort mostly to long, set shots and were able to total only 7 points during the first half. The Apprentice offense was uniform throughout all four quarters. Buffenbarger with 14 points and Fanning with 12 lead the Apprentice.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W.	L.
Apprentice	6	0
Squares	5	1
Test Engineers	4	2
Hermetics	3	3
MTP	2	3
Firemen	2	3
Transformer	1	5
Airliners	0	6

Airliners	G.	F.	T.	Firemen	G.	F.	T.
Uorford	6	3	15	Hensler	0	0	0
Spice	1	1	3	Penkel	2	0	4
Guist	1	0	2	Baals	2	3	7
Trabel	2	0	4	Verle	9	1	19
Ealing	5	3	13	Reidoff	6	3	15
Smith	1	0	2	Moore	0	0	0
Miser	0	0	0	Bergman	5	0	10
Hahn	0	0	0	Timbrock	1	1	3
Brunner	2	0	4

Totals	18	7	43	Totals	25	8	58
---------------	-----------	----------	-----------	---------------	-----------	----------	-----------

Squares	G.	F.	T.	MTP	G.	F.	T.
Miller	5	1	11	Montgomery	1	0	2
Crecilius	0	0	0	Riley	1	0	2
Krasienko	4	1	9	Woodford	2	3	7
Rescorla	2	1	5	Berghoff	3	1	7
Webb	0	0	0	Folks	0	0	0
Spiker	2	3	7	VanBuren	0	0	0
Antram	0	0	0	Steel	4	1	9
Antalis	1	0	2	Kapke	3	0	6
Porte	0	0	0
DeJean	1	2	4
Cochran	2	1	5
Stafford	0	0	0

Totals	17	9	43	Totals	14	5	33
---------------	-----------	----------	-----------	---------------	-----------	----------	-----------

Hermetics	G.	F.	T.	Apprentice	G.	F.	T.
Beard	1	2	4	McCrea	3	2	8
Ponsot	2	2	6	Speahager	0	0	0
Taylor	3	1	7	Sloan	1	1	3
Heinrich	0	0	0	Bash	2	0	4
Cox	2	2	6	Fanning	4	4	12
Gillaume	0	0	0	Batchelder	0	0	0
Ramirez	0	0	0	Buffenbarger	7	0	14
Thomas	2	3	7	Ahr	0	0	0
Woods	0	0	0	Friedrich	2	0	4
Totals	10	10	30	Totals	19	7	45

GE CLUB MIXED DOUBLES

Saturday, January 2

Squads roll at 6 and 8:30 p.m.

APPRENTICE BROADCAST

by James Schwartz

We want to extend a hearty welcome to Jim Fatzinger and Grayson Knight. Jim has returned to the school after serving with Uncle Sam's Navy and Grayson is a new apprentice, enrolled in the machinist-toolmaker course. . . . Belated congratulations to Dick Gotschall and Bob Calkins. Dick and Bob have recently completed their training and have graduated as machinist-toolmakers. Congratulations are also in order for Jerry Frye and Myron Auer. These boys will have completed their training on January 1 and will also be graduated as machinist-toolmakers. Myron is to be further congratulated for the $50 suggestion award he received the past week. Myron suggested an improved method of producing winding steels made in the apprentice school. . . . The apprentice school basketball team still remains undefeated. The final game of the first half, to be held next week, will see our boys against the GE Squares. This game will decide the first half championship, so plan to be there. We can guarantee you'll see some real basketball. . . . Richard Crum is in the process of converting his, if you'll pardon the expression, Ford, into a hot-rod.

REBOUND SCRAMBLE—Action like this scramble for a rebound is typical of the competitive spirit displayed in the Interdivision Cage League this year. The teams involved in this scramble are the MTP's and Transformer.

SOMETHING'S MISSING—What happened to the ball on this play? That seems to be the mystery. However, the Test Engineers weren't mystified as they defeated the Squares in a game played earlier this year.

So far he has installed dual Smit-ty's, which resulted in engine failure the other morning. Further plans include removal of flies from fly-wheel, untying the tie-rods, and turning .060 off the hub caps. Installation of a chrome-plated fan belt, high-lift windshield wipers and a high compression dome light will complete his plans. We don't want to forget the look on Pete Zook's face when he tried to smoke a pencil he had in his mouth. His school work has just turned him into a bundle of nerves. . . . We would like to take this opportunity to wish all of you and your families the very best of everything for the coming New Year.

Joe: "So Jane broke your engagement. Didn't you tell her about your rich uncle?"

Jake: "Sure did. Now she's my aunt."

Buyer Beware of Bait!

by ALLAN E. BACHMAN
Executive Vice President
National Better Business Bureau

The National Better Business Bureau has defined "bait" advertising as "an alluring offer to sell something which the advertiser does not sincerely want to sell, or tries not to sell or deliberately avoids selling. Its purpose is to get the customer into the store or a salesman into the home so as then to sell something else instead, usually at a higher price or on a basis more advantageous to the advertiser."

When an Ohio homemaker answered an advertisement for a used sewing machine at $29.50 and ended up buying a new one of doubtful lineage at $139.50, she joined the growing army of hoodwinked housewives and became another victim of the rampant "bait and switch" sales dodge.

"Bait" advertisers, doing annual business estimated at a half-billion dollars, survive and prosper by trading on prominent trade names. The usual approach, currently in favor from coast to coast, is the offer of a "genuine reconditioned electric portable sewing machine" bearing a well-known name plate at prices ranging from under $20 up to $29.95. Pictured in an advertisement, displayed on TV or described on radio, the machine seems to be the bargain of the century. When a salesman unveils it in a prospect's home, it is a sight to behold!

"Bait" merchandise has been described by various prospects as "old", "noisy", "clanky" or as a "clunker"—the latter, a term borrowed from the used car lot. The reason is obvious. The salesman doesn't want the prospect to admire the machine, much less buy it. It is his foot in the door. And there have been cases of salesmen losing their jobs because they sold too many bait machines! No wonder, then, that when the Ohio lady insisted on a demonstration, the salesman fussed with the machine only to discover that "essential parts were missing." He just couldn't thread it! Immediately followed the "switch". He just happened to have a brand-new "Mercury" in his car. Implying that it was made by a leading manufacturer, but under another name, he let the woman have the machine that listed at $189.50 for $139.50 plus carrying charges.

Trade on Famous Brand Names

Needless to report the Mercury was not made by a company well known to the public, nor was it warranted or serviced by such an organization. Certainly, it was not a product of the Ford Motor Company, makers of Mercury automobiles. Actually the heart of the machine—the sewing head—was made in Japan. A motor, light, and other supplementary parts were added after the head was imported into the U. S. Mercury is but one of a score of machines which have been used in the bait and switch racket. Brand names of leading American companies none of which, however, manufacture sewing machines have top priority with bait and switch operators. Among them are Elgin, Admiral, Royal, Edison, Cadillac, Packard, Eureka, Hoover. Invariably, however, the machines bear a striking resemblance to popular products of well-known sewing machine manufacturers.

To determine a fair price for switch machines we have the public confession of a reformed Los Angeles bait and switch operator. When selling a prospect, he immediately reduced the $189.00 list price by $50.00 either as an allowance on an old machine or as an out-and-out discount. If trading was tough he could descend by stages to a rock bottom $59.50. At that figure he collected a paltry two-dollar commission. At $139.50 his take was $20.00. He further stated that his dealer paid $33.00 apiece for the Japanese import.

Contests Snare Prospects

While the rebuilt portable is a popular bait item, new ideas spring up regularly. In Buffalo, dealers have enticed prospects through contests as they have in Texas and California. Advertising on motion picture screens snares contestants one of which may actually win a $189.50 (list price) machine. Then there are consolation prizes, scads of them. Everybody gets one—a $50.00 allowance on a new $189.50 sewing machine. One operator admitted that the prize machines were Japanese imports and sold regularly for $139.50—the amount paid by the "fortunate" winners of consolation prizes!

In Los Angeles, pleasant speaking girls have telephoned women and represented themselves as working for a quiz program. Then followed a ludicrously simple question which when answered correctly wins for the lady a $50.00 certificate to apply on the purchase of a brand-new $189.50 sewing machine. The lucky winner, of course, could purchase the machine for

SUGGESTION WINNER—An improvement to a die stripper brought $105 to Julius W. Lehman, a mold and die repairer in Section 114 at Taylor St. Cliff Witham (left) and Henry Carnall (center) congratulate him.

$139.50 without even bargaining.

Undoubtedly new prospect-getting devices are springing up as this is written. Beyond being wary of ridiculously under-priced bait machines, prospects, offered unknown brands, can best protect themselves by refusing to sign anything until they are certain that they are buying exactly what they want and at a sound established price. If you have any doubts, get the facts first from your Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce.

Guarantees Often Worthless

Consider the plight of the housewife who took the "bait" and phoned for a demonstration. The salesman made a convincing job of "accidentally" dropping the "genuine rebuilt portable" on the sidewalk just before entering the prospect's home. By chance, he just happened to have a new Sterling with him. This he left until he could return with an undamaged rebuilt portable. The loan receipt signed by the lady was a contract for the Sterling, a Japanese import. To add to her woes when the purchaser went to have work done under the terms of her "25-year guarantee," she found the dealer had retired from business. Unbacked by a reputable manufacturer, the guarantee was worthless.

The word "guarantee" holds no magic. It's the reputation of the company making it that counts. Often when a bait and switch house gets more black eyes than it can stand, it quietly folds up its tent only to pitch it somewhere else under a different name. Prospects that become too inquisitive about guarantees sometimes are

THE NIGHT WIND SECTION 417 TAYLOR ST.

by Hazel Davis

Margaret Kenyon has entered the hospital for surgery and we wish her a speedy recovery. . . . We saw Charlie Prine on the scales trying to weigh himself. Seemingly he thought there was something wrong with the scales. What's wrong, Charlie, aren't you losing fast enough? Maybe someone had their foot on the scales when you weren't looking. . . . Margaret Hey says she wants a puppy for Christmas. . . . Eva Heacht was very pleasantly surprised the other evening upon returning home, to find her son had put in a TV for her birthday. A very nice son, Eva, and very thoughtful of his mother. . . . They tell us that Verna Makin has, or is about to adopt a five months old baby. Good luck to you, Verna. We are glad to see Dot Guiff back on 51 frame assembly, and we wish her mother who is in the hospital a speedy recovery. . . . Why does Ginny Free have a round rolling pin? She has a new way to decorate windows for Christmas. Wash them outside, let them freeze, and then scrape with pancake turner. . . . Margaret Hey surely has trouble with her dogs. Always she is scrubbing her floors. . . . Sorry to hear that Hazel Davis is ill with the flu. Hope she is improving.

informed that parts and service are available at the shops maintained by some leading manufacturer. This was the mistaken assumption of a Massachusetts homemaker, until after a plague of broken needles, she visited the company selling the well-known make for the "regular service" she had been so glibly promised by the salesman. By then, her only recourse was a belated visit to the Better Business Bureau and her attorney.

Bait and switch operators are doing their worst to give reconditioned machines a black eye. But used machines, purchased from a reputable firm that truthfully represents its merchandise, remain an excellent means for fitting a sewing machine into a tight budget.

Many Agencies Fight Practice

Many different agencies are working to stamp out the bait and switch practice. The Association of Better Business Bureaus adopted a strong resolution against bait advertising of reconditioned vacuum cleaners and sewing machines. Some newspapers, radio and TV stations refuse to open their columns or to sell time to bait advertisers. And the State of Massachusetts recently passed special legislation outlawing it. Other states, particularly western ones, have used general criminal laws to convict bait advertisers.

Despite these efforts the quickest, surest way to cure the plague is to remove the profit from it. Prospects should be wary of the bait, indignant when the switch is made and immediately report such experiences to the local Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce and to the newspaper or broadcasting stations that carried the advertising. This may save others from a similar fate.

When enough people abide by these simple rules and throw the spotlight on bait and switch practitioners, profits will dwindle. Then—and only then—will the tide turn.

$90 IDEA AWARD—Frank Schlotter, Bldg. 12-1, (second from right) earned $90 for suggesting a better method of anchoring leads. Congratulating him are (l-r) Mel France, Paul Peterson, and W. H. Crouse. Mr. Schlotter's idea was a time-saving suggestion.

SHOWS OFF IDEA—Francis Nelson (center) shows his idea for an improved method of dipping silicone transformers to W. H. Crouse and W. L. Heniser. Mr. Nelson, Bldg. 26-4, earned $60 for his suggestion.

WIRE RAVELINGS TAYLOR ST.

by Art Rasor

Tomorrow is the beginning of a New Year so let's get our list of resolutions made for 1954. Then let's put our best foot forward to MAKE THE NEW YEAR A HAPPY YEAR! . . . True or False? All the weatherman has to say is "it will be cold tonight," and Al Swift's Chevy and Bob Shirey's Plymouth refuse to start in the morning. . . . General Electric and Fred Waring should be congratulated on the splendid Christmas show they presented on Fort Wayne TV Sunday, December 20. It was wonderful! . . . When in trouble with ice on the windshield, see "Pappy" Rasor and he will clean it off for you as soon as he does Cy Ort's car first. . . . When there was a power failure last week Mr. Arnold had the idea of replacing the lights but still had a problem. Current for his trouble light was furnished by the cigarette lighter in his car so he could see to eat a cold supper. . . . It's a good thing the old washing machine and board, and the old-fashioned iron and cook stove are, for the most part, a thing of the past. With TV as good as it is today, how in the world would the beautiful housewife ever get her work done? . . . This is a picture of Al Hambrick (Wire Mill) in the days he was running competition with Rudolph Valentino, the sheik. Note high top shoes and paper-filled cap. We say he was stiff competition.

The Sheik

Ask enough questions before you sound off.—W. Maxey Jarman.

SHORTS and SNORTS GENERAL SERVICE

Mary Saxton

Mel Beucier wanted to go away Saturday night, but his wife was too "busy" to accompany him and insisted that he stay at home. His daughter asked Mel if he wouldn't please clean up the garage a little and could she have a party there that night. Mel said, "Sure," and cleaned it all up and scrubbed and waxed the floor until it sparkled and shone. The garage was nearly ready for the young couples to dance, when in walked the gang. All of the truck drivers appreciated Mel's work and didn't mind his attending his own party not shaved and in his work clothes.

You are always right when you are kind to another person.—W. Maxey Jarman.

EXTRA CASH—Dean Inman (left) earned $55 in extra cash on his suggestion to change wire guide pulleys and reduce the amount of maintenance work. Nolan Riley (right) is shown with him. Mr. Inman is an enameler in the Wire Mill.

17-3 NEWSIES

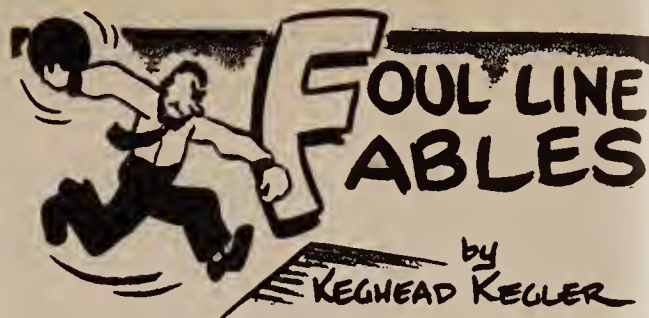

by Wilhelmina Beeth

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Ere long the old year will be through;
There's not a thing that we can do
To change it.
Let's face the future with a smile;
And try to make each day worth while
This coming New Year.

Frances Eckrote.

Congratulations on the pink-booted addition at the John and Doris Hixon home. The mama is a former co-worker. . . . Opal Sample was quite pleased with one of her Christmas presents. It was a granddaughter, named Cathy Ann. . . . Bill Ort is sporting a new haircut that needs no combing. . . . Dorothy Blume has joined the new car class. It's a Ford. . . . We have heard of milk baths, but when Iva Bixler got ready for the Christmas party at her home, she washed the kitchen in pure cream. . . . Clementine Dykes and Anne Gigson are starting the New Year right. They are on the improved list. . . . Orville Kaufman was still jolly on Monday, after being the church Santa Claus on Sunday. . . . Glad to have Doris Lontz and John Gutermuth ringing in their clock cards again. . . . It was the morning after the Elex party at the "Ice Capades" and Virginia Polz let the alarm ring 50 minutes before she heard it. . . . Ellen Ditlinger spent the holidays in Vincennes. No wonder she was getting in dancing trim. . . . Laura Antrup's son and family is here from Bainbridge, Ga., for two weeks. . . . It's a happy birthday to Luella Masson and Gwendolyn Robinson. . . . Question of the week: Did Gertie Wheat take her dog to the Christmas party at the GE Club, or was it a little dog lost? . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Margaret Gerardot and Fay Stockberger, who are on the sick list. . . . Also a speedy recovery to the sister of Margaret Roemer. . . . Bertha Furge went to Pennsylvania to attend the funeral of her niece. . . . We extend sympathy to Harriet Bailey on the loss of her grandmother.

Transformer

Winners of Christmas chickens were Hein, Ho Littlejohn, and Osburn. Furliners were Duncan and Fritz, each with 93 counts. Volts are leading the league with 28 wins and 11 losses. In second place M has won 22 and lost 17. D and Autos have each won 18 and lost 21, and are tied for third place.

Masonic

Finals of the first half show Patrols having won 27½ and lost 17½, winning the first half by a half-game. Squares won 27 and lost 18; Gavels won 26 and lost 19. Squares rolled the high three, a 2742; while Ionic had a 963 single count. Doc Peters had a high average of 179, followed by E. Grabill, 175; L. Larson, 168, and C. Weddle and W. Hoelle, 167.

Small Motor

R and R are leading the league with 31 wins and 14 losses. Tommy's Lunch has won 27½ and lost 17½. Test moved into third place with 24½ wins and 20½ losses. C. Haggengjos, Jr. kegled a 221; R. Bremeyer, 200; E. Huth, 201; L. Welker, 227; H. Vance, 201; A. Lantz, 202, and F. Wheeler, 201. L. Welker converted the 4-7-10 split, while W. Miller and J. Kramer converted the 4-5.

Ladies' Monday

Winning 33 games and losing 12, Keglerettes are in first place. Two games in back of the leaders are Holeyrollers with 31 wins and 14 losses. Twisters have won 30 games and lost 15, which puts them in third place. In fourth place are Scatterpins, with 29 wins and 16 losses. Ardytha Hawley kegled a 520 series on games of 172, 191, and 157. Another 500 was rolled by Winnie Schuerich. Winnie started with a 184, and added games of 167 and 154, for a 505 series. Dortha Kemp rolled a 175, converted the 8-10 split, and also won a chicken. Ann Lee rolled a 174; Bertha Marr, 171, and Dorothy Fuhs, 171. Other chicken winners were Jean Dangler, Winnie Schuerich, Charlotte Yergens, Ardytha Hawley, and Dortha Kemp.

Monday Office

First and second place standings are being held by Reproduction and Pawlisch Shoe Repair. Carl Hattendorf kegled a high series of 638, on games of 244, 209, and 185. Fory Carlson rolled a 255; Frank Schlink, 222; Art Johnson, 221 and 200; Ken Stute, 216; Ted Ross, 214; Bob Kallmyer, 213; Harold Demke, 209; and Dud Snyder, 202. Small Motor Development rolled a 1148 score with a 61 pin handicap. Chicken winners were Carl Hattendorf, Art Johnson, Ted Ross, Homer Porte, Charlie Fisher, and Dick Grote.

Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon

Team No. 1 has won 27 and lost 18; Team No. 2 has won 24½ and lost 20½. Team No. 6 has 24 wins and 21 losses. Josephine Smith kegled a 177; Dortha Ramsey, 172; Jeanne Gladioux, 172; Mary Nute, 178, and the high game was

SMOKEHOUSE SAYINGS BLDG. 22

by George Winans

Well, Christmas is over and I hope everyone got everything he wanted. Everyone at my house did, except Ma. She wanted Liberace. . . . Our office is all decorated up for the holidays. It gives you that holiday spirit. . . . Officer Tieman had his picture taken on Santa Claus' lap. Judging by the look on old Santa's face he wasn't swallowing that sob stuff that Tieman was handing him. . . . Many thanks to Roy Brown for his Christmas greeting from Fort Lauderdale, Florida. . . . Erv Frances' little woman says Erv has learned to shave in the dark, so he doesn't have to miss any of the TV programs. . . . Ralph Garrett was sitting on a frame, day-dreaming the other day when the bubble burst, scaring him half to death. Well, it wasn't really the dream that burst. Some culprit set off a bomb behind him. . . . The Smokehouse wants to wish each and everyone a Very Happy New Year.

THE GRAPEVINE BLDG. 4-1

by Imo Gene Pitts

Congratulations to Cletus Edmonds and Opal Wesley, who were married Dec. 19. . . . Benjamin Bennett, John Wilson and Galen Kreig are all taking their vacations over the holidays. John is staying home entertaining his son, who is home from Indiana University. . . . Galen and Mrs. Kreig left for Florida Dec. 24 for a two weeks' vacation. . . . William Franke, who retired this year, paid us a visit just before the holidays. . . . Jim Crowe celebrates his birthday Jan. 4. . . . We welcome Freda Goeglein, who transferred from Bldg. 6-2 into Group 19A. . . . The worried look is now gone from George Bear's face since his barnyard family increased by a litter of 11 pigs. Now we can all go out to George's house for a Bar-B-Que. . . . Employee of the Week: Lloyd Covault. Lloyd was born in Kokomo, and now lives on the Stellhorn Rd. He came to work at GE in 1950 and at the present time is on Final and Aircraft Inspection in Bldg. 4-1. Lloyd is married and has two children. In his leisure time he and his family go camping and fishing, and all are members of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church. . . . A very Happy New Year, everyone.

rolled by Billie Tucker, a 193. Velma Johnson converted a 5-7 split.

Thursday, December 31, 1953

"Lost" and "Found" articles must be cleared through the Plant Protection Office, Bldg. 19-2, or the Plant receptionist, who will place the Ad-let and otherwise advertise the article.

No ad will be received over the telephone. Only one ad per employee may be inserted. Each ad must be limited to 20 words and cannot be repeated. All articles mentioned must be personal property of the employee. Ads will not be accepted unless accompanied by the name, pay number, and division of the employee. No plant building or telephone number may appear in any ad except transportation ads, only the home telephone number or address. Send all ads to GE NEWS office, Bldg. 18-1.

CLOSING DATE

Monday Noon, January 4, 1954

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Pearl grey plastic rim glasses in red case.

FOUND—Lady's black fabric glove, gold and braid trim. Six keys on oblong ring. Lady's tan leather belt, gold buckles.

FOR SALE

CAR—Plymouth sedan, 1937, in good condition. Drive it and make an offer. 1925 S. Harrison St.

BUNGALOW—Five-room bungalow with two-car garage for sale or rent. Vance east of Anthony. E-40145.

DINING ROOM SUITE—Walnut dining suite, 8-piece, needs a little touching up. $35. H-46571.

CAR—1950 Chevrolet, clean, radio, heater, reasonable, 2 new tires. After 4:30 p.m. call Monroeville 2231.

ICE SKATES—Adult shoe type, size 10, in excellent condition. H-59013.

APARTMENT HOUSE—One apartment now vacant. Close to GE. H-4163.

FUR COAT—Skunk fur coat, brand new lining, good condition, $150; also 1. Miller shoes, size 8A. E-2943.

CAR—1953 Plymouth, Deluxe 4-door, all extras, only 5,000 miles. K-3643.

TRAILER—Two-wheel trailer, reasonable. Evening only. H-74851.

CHAIRS—Six dining room chairs, buffet, and kitchen cabinet. 2115 Brown St.

TABLE—Library table, good condition. Girl's 26-inch bicycle, reasonable. A-70653.

WASHER—Speed Queen washer, excellent condition. Wm. Weaver, 1 1/2 miles north of Fort Wayne on State Road 3.

BUGGY—Storkline baby buggy, $10; Teeterbebe, $3; Taylor Tot stroller, $3. H-90275.

FURNACE CONTROL—Sears Roebuck furnace control, new, original package, $5. K-5691.

CASTING RODS—Two casting rods, red and line. Like new, reasonable price. A-5643.

FURNITURE—Four rooms of furniture, $700, $200 cash and remainder in payments. 5209 S. Hanna. H-24231.

ROLLER SKATES—Lady's shoe roller skates, size 6 1/2, $10. E-71304.

SKIRT—Brown plaid wool skirt, 28-inch waist, 26 1/2-inch length, like new. Child's red and blue checked, pleated, jumper skirt, like new, size 4. Two pair leggings, brown and blue, size 8. Boy's brown gabardine suit, size 6. H-15541.

PIANO—Upright Adam Schaeff piano with matching bench, mahogany finish, $15. 226 Lexington St. H-57474.

RADIO—Magnavox Belvedere radio and record changer combination, mahogany, $75. Bookends to match, $10. 4012 Bowser Ave., after 4 p.m.

CAR—49 Buick Super Convertible, R and H. Dynaflow; 40,000 actual miles, $700. A-75745.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT—Upper four rooms, clean, private entrance, utilities, $70 a month. See Monday evenings at rear of 1755 Hale Ave.

APARTMENT—Upper three rooms and bath, unfurnished, gas stove, heat and water furnished, garage, private entrance. A-58185.

WANTED

GARAGE—One car garage to rent, close to Harrison and Williams St. H-55881.

TRANSPORTATION

RIDE WANTED—From 3900 block Monroe to Broadway, 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. K-2003 or Ext. 2302.

RIDE WANTED—From 4302 Wayne Trace to Broadway plant, 8 to 4:30. E. R. Pace, Ext. 433.

RIDERS WANTED—From New Haven, Ind., to either Broadway or Taylor St. plant, second trick, 3:18 p.m. to 11:48 p.m. Jim Monroe, Div. 13, Taylor St. New Haven 4450.

RIDE WANTED—From the vicinity of Adams School to Taylor St., first shift. A-70582.

RIDE WANTED—For girl passenger from one mile east of Waterloo on State Road 6 to Fort Wayne and return, first trick, 7 a.m., Ext. 880, Anita Carnahan.

RIDE WANTED—From Blue Lake or Churubusco to Broadway, 8 to 4:30. Churubusco or Ext. 2786, Sandra Overholser.

WINTER STREET JOTTINGS

by Alma Elliott

It may be that Johnny Quaintance was influenced by the song "I Want a Hippopotamus for Christmas" for he requested Ben Lake to bring him back a small alligator from Florida. The Lakes are taking a Florida vacation during the holidays. . . . Marian Closson is wearing a beautiful diamond ring on that certain finger. We understand it was not a gift from Santa, but from one Al Roemke. . . . We are sorry to hear that Pauline Denny is off because of illness. . . . Harry Larson, Order Service, was operated on for appendicitis.

It is usually the parrot who gains a reputation for being disreputable, but at the Frank Lemish home resides a tippler parakeet. After observing that the parakeet imbibed from a partly finished glass and when placed on his perch promptly fell off. I wonder if parakeets make New Year's resolutions? . . . Welcome to Don Ralstin, a new apprentice in the tool room; Tom Best, an addition to Drafting, and Don Koestler, an Engineering Commercial Trainee.

One of the nicest Christmas presents we have heard of was that of Wheeler Porsche to the missus. The Porsche's are spending a second honeymoon and the holidays at Palmdo, Florida. They have been married 38 years. . . . Dick Fahling is convinced that he is not of the stuff of which pioneers are made. Dick spent three hours without heat or lights when the power went off in his home. He tried unsuccessfully to purchase a kerosene lamp. All the department stores are hopelessly up to date. . . . For a while we thought Tallulah Bankhead was a new member of the Planning group. We later learned that it was Marilyn Krause with a had case of laryngitis.

The combination of holiday spirits, good music, and attractive decorations helped to make the Motor Hop a very successful affair. Over two hundred people danced and were given presents by Santa Claus Mayes and his five little helpers. The planning and decorating was done by a committee consisting of Marianne Royse, Dorothy Dobler, Justine Brown, Bill Garvey, and Gene Janney. We think you deserve a big hand for your excellent work. . . . 3-D Formula: Drinking + Driving = Disaster. . . . The TE group was enlarged by the addition of two Michiganders, Walt Sterner and Robert Farmer. This is the seventh assignment for Walt who refuses to rush into any particular phase of work until he is sure that it is what he wants.

Folks here have switched from "What I want for Christmas is . . ." to "This year I resolve": Don Batchelder—"I intend to work harder than ever this year. I will finish my toolmaker's course and start in at Purdue U." . . . Walter Hassenplug—"I plan to partake of my favorite fruit, oysters, at every available opportunity." . . . Bob Branning and Joe Raupfer: "We will keep our hands off RIDE WANTED—2518 Webster to Winder St. plant, first shift, H-56622.

THANK YOU

Thanks to all of my friends and co-workers at the GE Co. for their gifts and cards. Everything is deeply appreciated. A Happy New Year to all of you.

HILDA MUELLER.

our TV sets, at our wives' orders and the repair man's request." . . . John Rockhill—"I resolve not to break any of my New Year's resolutions." Could this be because he never makes them? . . . Marjie Hill—"I am going to attend all the social events given by my department, on time, and on the correct day." . . . Bob Kerr—"I will quit smoking," thereby influencing Ray O'Keefe, who is in the talking stage of quitting—his wife is doing the talking.

NEW YEAR'S NOTE: We were interested in the Chinese custom of "wiping their slates clean" before the start of a new year. To enter a new year with old grudges, unpaid bills, or unkind feelings toward anyone is to lose face. Wonder what the effect would be if we were to adopt this custom?

SPECIALTY MOTORS

Shipping—Receiving—Order Service

by Mabel Fisher

It's time to take your Christmas tree down, so let us tell you about our tree. Paul Thomas had told us that you could buy a tree for 98 cents so Ed David asked Paul to select a tree for the fellows that work on the dock. Ed gave Paul $5 to buy the tree and Paul came back with a tree that he said he paid $2 for. The tree was rather scrubby looking and had vacant places where the limbs should be, and since Paul was gone quite a while, the men suspected that he had taken the $2 tree home and brought them back the 98 cent tree. They were good sports about it though and worked very hard to decorate it. They fastened extra limbs on it and used a lot of decorations, and finally the tree looked very pretty. But today, we looked at Ed David's resolutions for the New Year, and at the top of the list it says: "I will go along with Paul Thomas and help him select the Christmas tree next year." . . . Morris Petgen is enjoying the third week of his vacation. We imagine he sleeps late every morning. . . . Mary Jane Wise has returned from a visit home in Indianapolis. Floyd Brown has been absent because of illness. Hope it didn't spoil Christmas for you, Floyd. Several of our girls enjoyed the lovely party given by Elex at the Coliseum. . . . The Christmas exchange in Bldg. 6-3 was enjoyed by every one and we all received a funny gift, too. . . . Happy New Year to each of you. See you next year.

TOOL BITS

BLDG. 19-4 and 5

by Don Clark

New Year resolutions are in order. Bob Truelove promises to use the right key in opening his deposit box at the bank this year. On Bob's last trip to the bank, the attendant refused him admission because Bob tried using the key to his front door. . . . Jack Olinke will try to do a good job in W. Greiner's unit. . . . Art Dicke intends to continue combing and admiring his curly hair and also get even with his envious co-workers. . . . Dick Poehler now promises to put the cat out every night. Last week Dick had to investigate as to who was playing their piano at 2 o'clock in the morning. He stumbled down the stairs and caught their cat walking back and forth across the keyboard. . . . Carl Einsiedel promises lots of cold weather and he has his red ear tabs lowered to prove it. . . . Marion More promises to stay out of the treat line at the Christmas party next year, especially if he doesn't have a ticket. . . . Henry Frey promises to become 56 years old. . . . Gene Denig promises to avoid all publicity in this column, but if someone will dig up a nice snapshot of Gene we'll show him how photogenic he really is. . . . Howard Demsey resolves to do a good job on his church's school board and Bob Benz will endeavor to stay in the public eye. He had to hit himself in the leg with a maul to make the column this week. . . . Kenny Bergman doesn't promise, but probably will make a couple more one dollar payments on the city's parking meters. . . . Dick Gecowets promises a good time to all who come to his open house tomorrow, but warns that you should bring your own chair. . . . Bob Blosser will endeavor to catch more fish through the ice than he did his first time out. . . . Ed Kayser and Clarence Wiebke promise to quit rolling over for an extra few minutes sleep every morning after shutting off the alarm clock. . . . Lloyd Welbaum promises to quit worrying about the Democrats and to pick out the right hat at quitting time. Last week he tried to wear Henry Frey's hat, but Henry recognized it even though it was on Lloyd's head. The elevator was full, but waited until Lloyd retrieved his own. Boy has he got influence! . . . Kenny Smith resolves to have no business dealings with Harold Knox, who sold him a new pipe for a $1.50. The next day, Kenny found out they were selling the same pipes downtown for one dollar. . . . Wilbur Lane assures us that he'll spend less time on TV and spend more money on a new car. He claims it's inconvenient to rely on friends to tow you home, although Johnny Inches does do a good job. . . . Roger Giesman has resolved to use an alarm clock with his sun lamp. The last time his beauty treatment was skin deep. He went to sleep under the lamp and came to work wearing a beautiful rosy blush. . . . Bill Niles promises to quit driving his convertible until it warms up. . . . Ed Stahl will sacrifice his easy chair and TV in order to see the tournament next month. . . . John Fleischer hopes to get more benefit out of his TV set next year since he's always been working when his set was operating right. . . . Woody Hursh promises to have plenty of praise for the Leo Lions, when they win and some good alibis when they lose. He says they lost to Hometown because the size of the Central gym hampered their play. . . . Bob Truelove promises to let us know how he enjoys Florida these two weeks. . . . Joe Mettler resolves to get better TV reception. During that heavy snow storm the other day someone cut out the shape of a TV set and screen and hung it on the window beside Joe's bench. The label read, "Typical reception at Mettler's." . . . Archie Wright should promise to build a garage so he could get his car started without calling a serviceman. . . . We extend our sincere sympathy to Herb Thiele in the death of his father. . . . The planning unit welcomes Margie Murchland. . . . To our reporters and friends throughout our section we say thanks for your cooperation in 1953 and wish you a happy, happy new year.

PICK-UPS from 26-3

Maxine Jordan
and
Helen Wagner

Elex girls in our section wish to express their appreciation to Irene Meyers and officers for the party and nice gift. . . . The stockroom boys heard from our good friend, Schuster. Life in Florida is wonderful. . . . Sorry you were ill for the Christmas party, Tilly. You missed a good dinner. . . . Dan Reuille doesn't seem to know what to do with one of his Christmas presents. Why not give it to someone else, Dan? . . . Pop Forschner was on a baby food diet—broken false teeth. All was mended in time for Christmas. . . . Louella Lahrmeyer is home from the hospital and expects to be back at work soon. . . . George Finkbeiner was shaky when he opened his gift? What was he afraid of, Santa, or the contents of the box? . . . Where was Mildred Leazier's mind when she left her clock card in the clock? . . . Everybody seemed to have a good time at the Winder's Christmas dinner. Even a certain someone who was eyeing Ruth Freeland's lemonade. . . . Vera Hoover has become a TV fan. . . . The Sample Shop had a Christmas potluck and gift exchange. Everyone ate so many cookies and so much pie before lunch that the chicken and trimmings lasted the rest of the day. . . . The Office enjoyed their Christmas party and exchange. Marty Zernick played Santa Claus. . . . Both young and old enjoyed the Christmas party given by the union. . . . We wish each and everyone of you a Happy New Year.

It is better to have a hen tomorrow than an egg today.—Thomas Fuller.

THORNDYKE

COPYRIGHT 1953 CARTOONS-OF-THE-MONTH

"Rather than take chances at this time of year, I supplement his diet with a tablespoon of cod-liver oil mixed with a little antifreeze"

1954 FISCAL CALENDAR 1954

FOR USE OF WORKS

Mo	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	Wk	Mo	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	Wk
FIRST QUARTER									THIRD QUARTER
JAN	DEC. 28	29	30	31	1	2	3	1	JUL	JUNE 28	29		1	2	3	4	27
4	4	5		7		9	10	2	5	5	6		8		10	11	28
WKS	11	12		14	15	16	17	3	4	12	13		15	16	17	18	29
	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	4	WKS	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	30
FEB	JAN. 25	26		28		30	31	5	AUG	JULY 26	27		29		31	1	31
4	1	2		4	5	6	7	6	2	2	3		5	6	7	8	32
WKS	8	9		11		13	14	7	4	9	10		12		14	15	33
	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	8	WKS	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	34
MAR	FEB. 22	23		25		27	28	9	SEP	AUG. 23	24		26		28	29	35
5	1	2		4	5	6	7	10	30	30	31		2	3	4	5	36
WKS	8	9		11		13	14	11	5	6	7		9		11	12	37
	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	12	WKS	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	38
	22	23	24	25		27	28	13		20	21	22	23		25	26	39
SECOND QUARTER									FOURTH QUARTER
APR	MAR. 29	30		1	2	3	4	14	OCT	SEP. 27	28		30	1	2	3	40
4	5	6		8		10	11	15	4	4	5		7		9	10	41
WKS	12	13		15	16	17	18	16	4	11	12		14	15	16	17	42
	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	17	WKS	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	43
MAY	APR. 26	27		29		1	2	18	NOV	OCT. 25	26		28		30	31	44
4	3	4		6	7	8	9	19	1	1	2		4	5	6	7	45
WKS	10	11		13		15	16	20	5	8	9		11		13	14	46
	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	21	WKS	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	47
										22	23		25		27	28	48
JUN	MAY 24	25		27		29	30	22	DEC	NOV. 29	30		2	3	4	5	49
5	31	1		3	4	5	6	23	6	6	7		9		11	12	50
WKS	7	8		10		12	13	24	5	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	51
	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	25	WKS	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	52
	21	22	23	24		26	27	26		27	28	29	30		JAN. 1	2	53
53-WEEK YEAR
Mo	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	Wk	Mo	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	Wk

MU-478-C

G.E. PAID UP
INSURANCE

I.U.E.-C.I.O. UNION DUES

A.F. OF L. UNION DUES

6175

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

JANUARY, 1953

No. 1

After New Business With New Products

See story — page 4

New business and new products are the keynote of the Appliance Control Department at Morrison. Here J. D. Zoso, Application Engineer, leaves the plant with specifications and samples of a new product to call on new customers.

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

◀ Bull's Eye . . . At a range of over 200 yards, Tom Horbour of the Hanford Works dropped this huge 5 point elk with a slug that landed just slightly off dead center, as indicated by arrow. Kill was made on recent hunting trip in the Coscodes.

(Above) It's another throw rug for Bob Ferne of the Coshocton plant as he takes his second albino raccoon. These freak animals are a rarity seen by few hunters even during a lifetime of hunting.

◀ Plant Visitor . . . Executive vice president Robert Poxton, and John Helies, general manager of the Appliance Control Department, watch as Foye Hortwick tests and adjusts range timers during Mr. Poxton's visit to the Morrison, Ill. plant.

Nice Work . . . P. D. Maare, manager of Employee and Plant Community Relations, Carboly Department, one of the beauty queen judges, places crown on head of Barbara Walker, 1952 Patata Queen of the Southwestern Michigan Patata Growers Exhibit. Runners-up Margaret Jack and Alaise Rasmussen, are the attendants.

Record Smashers . . . Robert J. Farakas (left) and John A. Brawn recently received another $1000 suggestion award which, with the $1600 paid several months ago on the same suggestion, makes their joint award of $2600 the record high at Bridgeport Works. They received the award for suggesting the use of a reverse wrap on automatic blanket wire.

◀ (Left) For submitting an improved method of assembling mounts for certain types of radio tubes, Mrs. Pauline Winkler of the Owensboro, Ky. Tube Works, received the highest suggestion award ever paid in the Electronics Division. She's receiving the $1730 check from R. P. Best while K. D. Johnson looks on.

Decentralization Becomes a Reality

"We envision decentralization not only of products, geographic districts and functions but furthermore of the actual authority for making decisions in the interest of the enterprise, customers, employees, the share owners and the public . . . Decentralization places authority to make decisions at points as near as possible to where the action takes place.

"Under this philosophy of genuine 'Decentralization' our product Divisions and Departments each have their own product responsibility, their own markets, and so their own natural autonomy . . . In turn, the enterprise as a whole makes a logical and coordinated business enterprise with common economic factors influencing its future and bearing on Company-wide decisions required."

Ralph J. Cordiner

President, General Electric Company

The Appliance Central Department was created on January 1, 1952 at Morrison, Illinois. The plant, shown here, is one of the initial examples of the Company's decentralization program.

Morrison, Illinois

THE Decentralization philosophy of President Ralph J. Cordiner expressed on the opposite page is becoming nationally known.

An excellent example of this philosophy in operation is the recently created Appliance Control Department at Morrison, Illinois. Here a newly formed management team in less than a year has moved skilled engineering, laboratory and marketing specialists from all sections of the country. Facilities have been established to accommodate these people, and a complete laboratory, model shop, and additional manufacturing facilities have been set up to provide newly designed products for new customers. All functions of a complete new business are now located at Morrison, and already many new products have been designed and put into production.

Pictured here and on the following pages are some of the activities related to building a business in the interest of customers, employees, the enterprise, the share owners and the public.

John C. Helies, General Manager, is coordinating the operation of the newly integrated Appliance Control Department. His outlook is: "... The new business is there ... and we're working to get it."

▼ General Manager John C. Helies daily discusses policies and decisions with his management team.

From left, clockwise, are: J. H. McDuffie, Manager-Employee and Plant Community Relations; John C. Helies; T. J. Kelly, Manager-Engineering; and R. D. Tyler, Manager-Marketing.

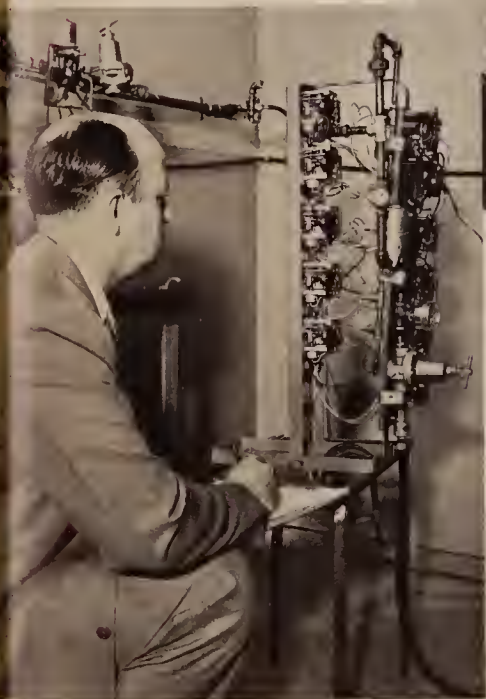

An extensive marketing study was made for this appliance control business. One phase of the overall study included the Product Planning of the engineering development schedule. Shown discussing these plans are, from left to right: J. M. Clark, Manager-Finance; M. G. Linnell, Supervisor of Production; Lee Samuel, Planner; T. J. Kelly, Manager-Engineering; R. D. Tyler, Manager-Marketing; J. C. Helies, General Manager; W. G. Bagwell, Manager-Sales; P. Gamez, Manager-Sales; E. B. Petersen, Supervisor of Personnel; and H. E. Denig, Plant Superintendent.

Contributing to the new operating team is T. J. Kelly, Manager-Engineering (seated), shown discussing one of the many engineering projects with J. E. Slavin, Production Engineer.

Detailed plans are being developed for a new product based upon the engineering development schedule by G. M. Euler, Design Engineer; D. E. Maran, Design Engineer; T. J. Kelly, Manager-Engineering; and E. B. Judd, Design Engineer.

▶ A working model of the new product is built in the model shop under the direction of Clayton Sprague (right), Foreman-Model Shop, and John L. Slonneger, Design Engineer.

◀ Upon completion of the working model, extensive tests are run in the engineering laboratory to determine the mechanical and electrical characteristics of the product. Leonard Martin, Laboratory Engineer, is shown here conducting a life test.

▶ The new Manager-Marketing, R. D. Tyler, is heading up a new hard-hitting sales team to open new markets for GE products. Says Tyler: "... We have a real challenge, we know our goals and we are well on our way."

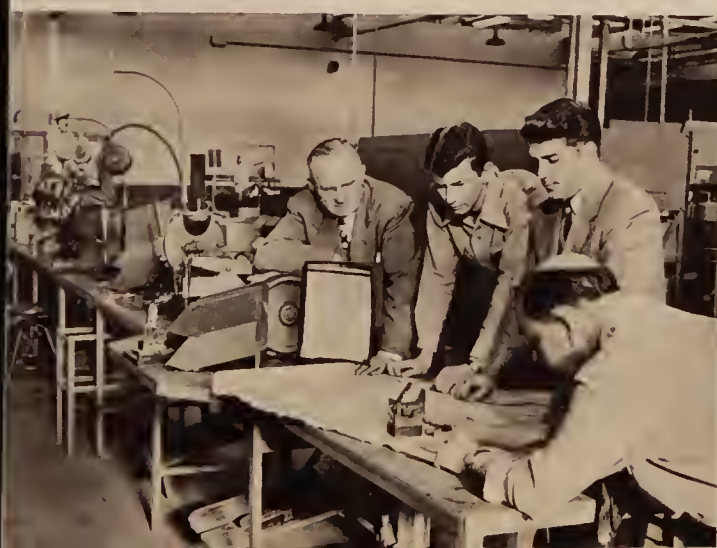

◀ Easily accessible facilities complete at one location are tremendously helpful to customers who desire to discuss their specific requirements with all people concerned with their product. A customer's representative is shown left discussing a proposed change in a product prior to ordering. Left to right are: R. W. Gustofson, Design Engineer; A. Mazzarella, Supervisor of Drafting; Customer's Representative; and W. C. Duster, Application Sales Engineer.

◀ The Planning Section discusses the designing of tools, the flow of material, and a layout of the manufacturing facilities, using mass production methods to provide prompt service to customers of a new product. Shown left to right are: Stanley Mitick, Planner; Edward Smalenberger, Manufacturing Engineer; Lee Samuel, Planner; and David Mathew, Planner.

◀ A manufacturing team checks a new line after it has been set up and toled for production. From left to right in the picture shown are: R. L. Johnson, Foreman; Carlos Lynch, Wage Rate; P. P. Chick, Supervisor of Wage Rate; and G. F. Loveless, Planner.

Here job applicants are preparing applications to be considered for placements in the new line. These will be interviewed and tested prior to selection. Orientation and job training will follow.

Members of "Operation Teamwork" analyze and eliminate problems encountered in the initial operation of the new line. Ironing out these difficulties are, left to right: D. C. Lennon, Laboratory Engineer; E. O. Andersen, Design Engineer; C. J. Tonski, Engineering Assistant; J. A. Coffey, Foreman; J. E. Slavin, Production Engineer; R. Larson, Production Clerk; and F. Heckert, Tool Designer.

Typical of new business at Morrison is this line where range timers are being produced for a large range manufacturer.

A mass production line is shown above, where all range timers used by two customers, GE and Hotpoint, were newly designed, tooled, set up and put in production at Morrison between March and July, 1952.

A production control board enables H. E. Denig, Plant Superintendent, to make daily spot checks on a line's progress, which is vital to the fulfillment of promises to customers.

Finished goods are quickly shipped to customers in all sections of the nation. The Appliance Control Department is currently serving appliance manufacturers with four basic types of products: refrigeration controls, air conditioning and heating controls, timers, and water systems controls.

Part of the two-way communications system in operation at Morrison is this general plant Informative Meeting, above, at which the General Manager reviews the state of the business with all employees, discusses the accomplishments during the past year and the objectives for the future.

▲ Heading up Morrison's Employee and Plant Community Relations Program is J. H. McDuffie, Manager. "... We are exerting every effort toward building a harmonious, capable and well-rounded team which will earn us the reputation of being a good place to work and a good neighbor in our community."

▼ What does the future hold? The creation of the Appliance Control Department promises a way to better jobs for more people, better service and products in the interest of the enterprise, customers, employees, the share owners, and the public.

Sports-Wise . . . Frank Chamberlain, of Schenectady Works, is the first bowler ever to receive Schenectady's Athlete of the Year award. Here he shows the championship form which gained him the City bowling crown for the past three years.

◀ (Left) A couple of proud sports managers from the Switchgear Department, Philadelphia, display their teams' trophies at Philadelphia's Industrial League banquet. Both GE's baseball and softball teams emerged victors for 1952. Wayne Hight, left, guided the baseball nine while Leonard Reiter managed the softball team.

Getting the Inside Info . . . ▶

Because he is only three feet five inches tall, midget Dale Paullin is able to see ports of the assembled jet engine inaccessible to a normal-size man. A former movie actor, Dale is an assembly inspector at the Evandale plant. Here he's completing inspection of a jet engine tail cone.

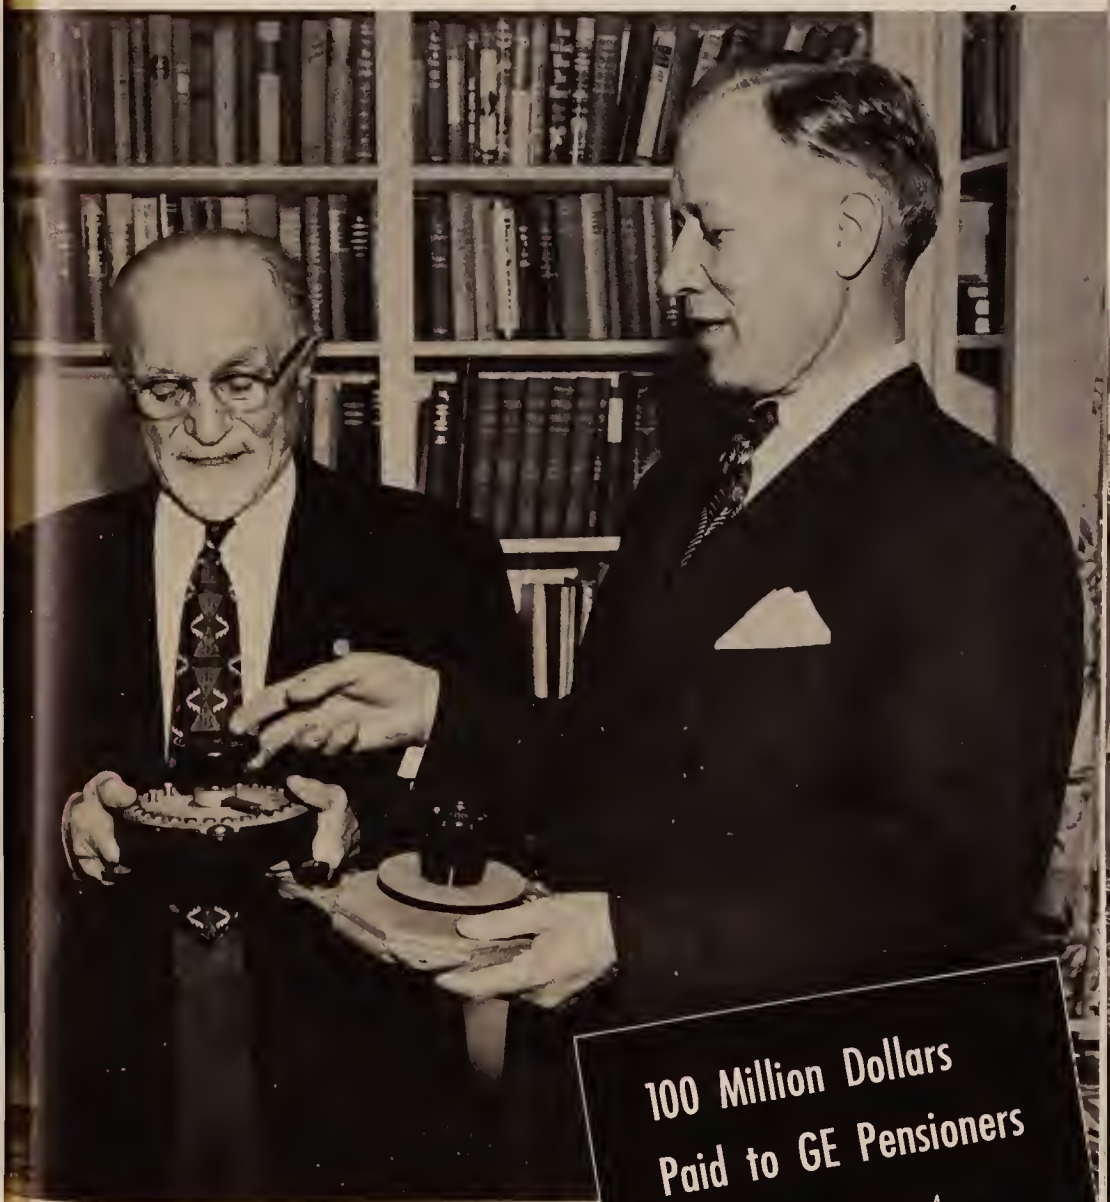

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

FEBRUARY, 1953

No. 2

100 Million Dollars
Paid to GE Pensioners

For what it provides — See page 4

Cover Picture . . . Included in the total pension checks, which went to more than 14,000 retired GE employees during January, was the Company's 100 millionth pension dollar given during the 40 years of the General Electric Pension Plan. Here 85-year-old GE pensioner, Henry Hochuli (left), and GE President Ralph J. Cordiner compare the newest GE rheostat with the one made by the Company 35 years ago, when Hochuli worked in the Control Department at Schenectady. On this occasion, President Cordiner personally delivered to Mr. Hochuli at his residence in Irvington-on-Hudson his 249th monthly pension check which included GE's 100 millionth dollar.

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

Original Creations . . . These unusual chopeous by Philadelphio Office girls might not be the last word in the coming parade of spring fashions but they were taps of their recent hot party. Winners ore, from left, Betty Owings, for funniest hat; Bunny Guise, prettiest; ond Morie Burke, mast originol.

Saving For That Rainy Day . . . Paychecks were longer than usual recently when GE employees collected their regular pay plus the accumulated retroactive pay increase which dated back to Sept. 15, 1952. Alto Hendricks of Appliance Park, Louisville, fottens up the piggy bank with her extro pay.

The Big Snow . . . During a recent 15-inch snowfall in Schenectady, GE's service crews worked 'round the clock clearing plant and parking lots of snow. Here transportation section man helps fellow GE'er get his car out of parking lot drifts. Truck and tractor plows, bulldozers, graders, loaders and trucks were put into service in the greatest snow removal project tackled in years of the Schenectody Works.

◀ New Electronic Computer . . . It may take the human mind 180,000 times longer to solve a fairly simple arithmetic problem than it does "OARAC," GE's new digital computer which the Electronics Division will soon deliver to the U. S. Air Force. Brig. Gen. Leighton I. Davis, director of Armament for the Air Force Air Research and Development Command at Baltimore, checks the giant computer with GE engineer Bernard Geyer.

▶ World's Record Set . . . GE's Cashactan, Ohio, plant has broken the world's safety record for the laminated plastics industry — 3,415,000 man-hours worked without a lost-time accident. Here Mayar McKenzie of Cashactan congratulates Mrs. Jeanette Kirkpatrick, president of the Employees Organization. Looking on, from left to right: W. L. Radich, General Manager, Laminated and Insulating Products Department; H. A. Hawe, Plant Manager; and J. H. Wartman, Manager of Employee Relations.

▼ Feathering Their Nest . . . When Henry Smeaton brought home a $4500 suggestion award check, Mrs. Smeaton and their two children, Mary Beth, 6, and Jimmy, 10, were on hand with redecorating ideas for their recently-purchased home. An assembler in the Aeronautics and Ordnance Services Division, Schenectady, Mr. Smeaton won the second largest award in the history of Schenectady Works for an idea to use steel instead of tungsten in balance weights on spiral scanners. Mrs. Smeaton is a General Office employee.

Over 100 Million Pension Dollars Pa

▲ Alfred Hague retired as a toolmaker from Pittsfield in 1952 with 27 years of service. He has followed his hobby of gun-smithing since his retirement and has a complete shop in one room of his home, above. Another room is set aside for his gem cutting activities. Here he has many kinds of unfinished stones, which he cuts, polishes and makes into jewelry for his daughter.

◀ Father and son are both GE pensioners. Otto F. Persson (center) is 86 and retired from Methods and Planning at River Works in 1931 with 43 years of service. His son, Erik O. Persson (right) is 65 and retired this year as a designer in Transformer Drafting at West Lynn, having also had 43 years of service. Erik's son, Otto F. Persson, Jr., not yet retired, has had 20 years of service and works in the Lab at River Works.

ut to GE Pensioners

SINCE General Electric started its first Pension Plan in 1912, there have been many improvements to meet the changing needs of its retiring employees. Additional benefits have been added throughout the years. Today the GE Pension Plan is a financially sound one, with a Trust Fund of over $400,000,000.

During this past January the total pension payments, which are now going to more than 14,000 retired GE employees, included the 100 millionth dollar paid out by the Company over the 40-year period that the Pension Plan has been in effect.

To whom are these pension dollars going and for what do they provide? A recent survey made of a cross section of GE pensioners disclosed a healthful group — 43% of this particular group had no need for medical care during the previous year; 76% spent no sick time in bed; and 89% did not need hospitalization. Of this group, 51% owned their homes. Many people look forward to retirement; others face it with a certain amount of apprehension. This survey, however, revealed that a great majority liked retirement better after they had retired than before their retirement.

Pictured here on these pages are a few of GE's many retired people, showing them in diversified activities and interests to which they have dedicated their new lives of after-retirement.

On pension longer than she has been in GE service, Mrs. Rosie Corr of Amsterdam, N. Y. will soon be 90 years young. Enjoying good health and having a lively sense of humor, she is an inveterate reader. Mrs. Corr retired as a cleaning woman from Schenectady in 1924 with 21½ years of service.

▼ Since retiring from Pittsfield's Power Transformer Engineering in 1932 after 28 years of service, Arthur W. Pierce has spent most of his time teaching scout skills to boys. Now 83 years old, he recently took the job of scoutmaster for a troop of boys from the Berkshire School for Crippled Children. He was presented the Silver Beaver award — the highest award given for outstanding contribution to boyhood. He is President of the Pittsfield Pensioners Club, a post he has held for the past 13 years.

Some Pensioners Have Associations . . .

A group of the Retired GE Employees Association of St. Petersburg, Florida. The Association has a current membership of 149 members, retired from 16 GE plants and district offices. The Association was founded in February, 1949.

Name cards for each member are issued before every meeting. Association Secretary Mrs. Lea J. Breunig greets members R. M. Lamant (left) and Samuel S. Farster. Lamant, with 36 years of GE service, retired in 1946 from the Cleveland District Office.

St. Petersburg Welcomes You

SCHEDULE OF MEETINGS

1952-53	TOURIST CENTER
ALABAMA SOCIETY	3rd Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
CANADIAN SOCIETY	2nd and 4th Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
CONNECTICUT SOCIETY	2nd Thursday, 7:30 p.m. and 4th Thursday, 2:00 p.m.	Lounge Room
D. C. DEL. MAR. VA. SOCIETY	2nd and 4th Friday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
ILLINOIS SOCIETY	2nd and 4th Friday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
INDIANA SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Tuesday, 2:00 p.m.	Assembly Room
IOWA SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Monday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
KENTUCKY SOCIETY	1st Friday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
MAINE SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY	2nd Wednesday and 4th Thursday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
MICHIGAN SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Thursday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
MINNESOTA SOCIETY	1st Friday, 2:00 p.m. and 3rd Friday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
MISSOURI SOCIETY	2nd and 4th Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
NEW HAMPSHIRE SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Monday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
NEW JERSEY SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
NEW YORK SOCIETY	2nd Wednesday, 2:00 p.m. and 4th Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.	Assembly Room
OHIO SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.	Lounge Room
PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY	1st and 3rd Wednesday, 2:00 p.m. and 4th Friday, 2:00 p.m.	Assembly Room
RETIREO GENERAL ELECTRIC EMPLOYEES ASSN	1st and 3rd Wednesday, 2:00 p.m.	Lounge Room
WISCONSIN SOCIETY	2nd and 4th Tuesday, 2:00 p.m.	Assembly Room

MEETINGS HELD AT TOURIST CENTER
Third Avenue South at Fourth Street
Next door to Chamber of Commerce

Meetings are held the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of each month at the Tourist Center in downtown St. Petersburg. The Association has a Board of Directors, elects officers annually.

Mrs. Chos. L. C. Bogue, pianist for the Association, leads a group in a little harmony before the meeting begins. From left, clockwise, those in the picture are: Mrs. W. E. G. Shilling; Chos. L. C. Bogue; Mrs. Arthur Romsey; Alex J. Cowon, Association Treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Coissie; and Mrs. Bogue. Both Mr. and Mrs. Caissie retired from GE at River Works; he in 1945 with over 42 years of service, and she in 1948 with 26 years of service.

Interesting travel movies with sound, both in color and black and white, are shown at meetings. Chos. Horstmann, projectionist for the Association, retired from Schenectady Research Lab in 1948.

An annual picnic is held at Lake Moggiore for all members. Here an entertainment committee looks over a part of the picnic area. From left to right, they are: W. E. G. Shilling; Arthur Romsey; Mrs. Romsey; Mrs. Alex J. Cowon; and Mrs. Chos. L. C. Bogue.

Mrs. Leo J. Breunig picks up the mail, and GE pension checks, in front of their home in St. Petersburg. She was a Company secretary and her husband (seated on front porch) a GE foreman. They retired together from Bridgeport.

Where They Live . . .

A partial view of Tyrone Gardens, above, one of several low-cost home communities in St. Petersburg with appeal for pensioners. Many of these one- and two-bedroom homes, with all-electric kitchens, built on 65' by 115' landscaped lots, were sold at prices from $6595 to $8400. Florida has no state income tax and the homeowner is exempted from taxation up to a valuation of $5000.

Chas. L. C. Bogue had the maintenance of time clocks and indicators at Schenectady, retired from there in 1941 with 40 years of service. He and Mrs. Bogue, above, worked together to build entirely the St. Petersburg home they now live in, including the pouring of cement, setting cement blocks, constructing all woodwork, and installing electrical and plumbing facilities.

A "Green Bench" romance developed, right, when Edward Staffers, a widower, and his "Missus," then a widow, met in 1949 and were married in a local church a year later. He retired as a store keeper in the Tool Section at Bridgeport in 1949.

Retiring in 1948 from Methods and Planning at Bridgeport, Wm. A. Stott, now a widower, spends the six cold months in "Crosswinds Trailer Park" in St. Petersburg. In the spring, he hooks up his comfortable trailer, above, and heads north. An excellent housekeeper, he does his own cooking and baking, and often entertains friends in his trailer home.

What They Do . . .

▼ Mr. and Mrs. Alex J. Cowan, below, enjoy many happy hours with their year-old parakeet in their home. They have taught the pet to speak some 14 phrases, allow him to fly about the house. Cowan retired as an electrical engineer from Philadelphia in 1951.

▲ Drinking the health-giving sulphur water of the Fountain of Youth, above, are two ex-employees from Schenectody. Samuel S. Forster (left), 87 years old, retired in 1929 as Superintendent of Motor and Generator with 37½ years of service. Retiring in 1937 as a bearing finisher in Motor and Generator, 80-year-old Arthur Ramsey worked 21½ years for GE. Advised by doctors he had a year to live, Ramsey and his wife come to St. Petersburg the same year he retired, some 15 years ago.

The Breunigs and the Knoderers get together often for bridge, as they are shown above in the latter's home. From left to right, they are: Mrs. Breunig; Mrs. Knoderer; Leo J. Breunig; and Homer G. Knoderer. A commercial engineer, Knoderer retired from Bridgeport in 1947.

▲ Mrs. W. E. G. Shilling (left) and Mrs. Alex J. Cowan play shuffleboard with their husbands at the St. Petersburg Shuffleboard Club. The largest such club in the world, it has 8,000 members and 110 courts for day and night play.

▲ Fishing for trout, mullet and smallmouth bass provides many pleasant hours for these happy ex-GE'ers who are trying out their luck on Lake Maggiore. From left to right, they are: W. E. G. Shilling; J. E. Lodge; Alex J. Cowan; and John J. Coissie. After 25 years of service, Shilling retired in 1947 from Mercury Arc Rectifier Dept., Schenectady.

▶ J. E. Lodge (on ladder in right foreground) utilizes his spare time to help complete the new St. Bede's Episcopal Church. Many of the church members, including their minister, Rev. P. E. Herb (on far ladder), have done the pointing, laying of tile floor, and other work after the contractor completed the building. Lodge is President of the Retired GE Employees Association. He retired in 1950 as Fire Chief of the Everett, Mass. plant with 38 years of service.

► A one-time Schenectody boss, Samuel S. Forster (center), and two of his former employees get together to swop toll toles, near the yacht basin on Tompo Boy. Romsey (left) is Chairmon of the Boord of Directors for the Retired GE Employees Association, and W. E. G. Shilling is Vice President.

You as a supervisor will play an important part in making the program a success, for it will be you who will make the initial contact.

The Retirement Counselling Plan

Not only take the time to carefully read the plan as described in the next few pages, but accept the fact that henceforth your part in the retirement counselling program will be one of your important responsibilities.

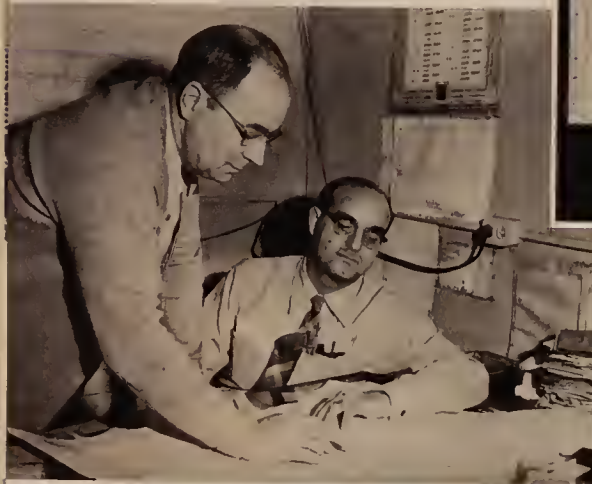

THE SCHENECTADY WORKS RETIREMENT COUNSELLING PLAN represents another step forward. It is an attempt to again improve our pension system by offering to those retiring employees who need it, and request it, advice and counselling on some of the problems they will soon be called upon to face.

Most people, as they approach 65 know pretty well just what they will do with themselves after retirement. They know what their income will be and how they will manage it. They have also made some plans for occupying themselves with useful, interesting activity.

Unfortunately, however, there are always some people who, for various reasons, have been unable or unwilling to face up to and adequately prepare for retirement. It is the purpose of the Retirement Counselling Program to offer assistance to these people. You, as a supervisor, will play an important role in making the program a success, for it will be you who make the initial contact with the employee about to retire. It will be in this first contact that you will determine the need for further counselling and lay the groundwork that can mean success or failure of the plan. Because of this, it is urged that you not only take the time to carefully read the plan as described in the next few pages, but that you recognize that this is only a brief summary of the Program—and that you accept the fact that henceforth your part in the retirement counselling program will be one of your important responsibilities as a supervisor.

About five years ago the Company initiated a pre-counselling service, which is gradually becoming available to those GE employees who are approaching retirement age. This program provides an opportunity for an employee to talk over and plan how he may find after-retirement activity similar to those who have been pictured here. Above is an excerpt taken from the Schenectody Retirement Counselling Plan booklet.

Past and Present . . . Pretty Van Delanoy stands beside portrait picture showing how she might have posed 75 years ago when the present General Electric Company had its beginning with the organization of the Edison Electric Light Company. Miss Delanoy is a secretary at Electronics Park, Syracuse. Unusual photo was made by GE photographers Wayne Purtell and John Frano.

Tops at Erie . . . David Walters, left, and S. W. Palermo go over the suggestion which earned them the highest award ever paid at Erie Works. They'll split $4025 for their material saving idea. Both have submitted suggestions frequently. Mr. Walters has had a total of 14 suggestions adopted; Mr. Palermo, a total of 13.

M.D.'s Meet . . . At first meeting since the Health and Safety Services Department was organized, GE plant doctors gathered recently in New York City to discuss common medical problems and policies. Seated left to right: Dr. F. Lynch, Burlington; Dr. E. Buyniski, Evendale; Dr. R. B. Nutter, Erie; Dr. W. D. Norwood, Richland; Dr. R. D. Fehr, Schenectady guest speaker; Dr. B. L. Vosburgh, Manager of Health Services who conducted meeting; Dr. F. T. Oberg, Bridgeport; Dr. W. G. Morgan, Owensboro; Dr. D. H. Vrooman, Schenectady; Dr. E. L. Van Nostrand, Schenectady; Dr. F. G. McKeer, Pittsfield; and Dr. H. F. Broderick, Lynn. Standing, left to right: Dr. W. P. Murphy, Syracuse; Dr. E. M. Kline, Cleveland; Dr. E. A. Terry, Louisville; Dr. A. A. Miner, Philadelphia; Dr. H. W. Garton, Farm Wayne; Dr. H. M. Rozendaal, Schenectady; and Dr. R. C. Thompson, West Lynn.

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

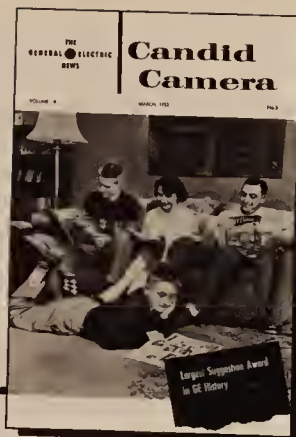

MARCH, 1953

No. 3

Largest Suggestion Award in GE History

SEE PAGE 2

COVER PICTURE

... On November 21 announcement was made that Rollo Giles Miller, vertical boring machine operator, Schenectady, received a $5,000 Suggestion Award—the largest award in Company history. Deciding to put the money into a new home, the family—son Robert, Mrs. Miller, Miller, and son Douglas—are shown looking over plans in their Gloversville, N. Y. home.

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

Judged the best lifter pound-for-pound in a recent tournament, Joseph Roimondi of the Switchgear Department copped the title of Most Outstanding Weightlifter of 1953 in Philadelphia. Joe, who weighs 132, hoisted 595 pounds in three lifts to gain his fourth trophy; he's won over 40 medals in similar competitions.

Outfitted with special gear to ward off the blustery weather, Tony Veliko and Frank Controy of the Chemical Department, Pittsfield, along with Dominick Veliko enjoy the annual fishing derby sponsored by Pittsfield's Chemical Employees Athletic Association. Frank won 4th prize with this big pickerel. "Dod" Veliko is retired from Pittsfield Works.

Sharing fifty years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. David Duncon of Bloomfield enjoy together some of the many cords they received from friends honoring their Golden Wedding anniversary. Mr. Duncon retired in 1947 from the Bloomfield Works where he was a machinist for nearly 25 years.

Not Only did Virgil Mares undertake the intricate job of making the beautiful violin his daughter Virginia is playing but he also carved her image on the scroll of the instrument.

A draftsman in Philadelphia's Switchgear Department, Mr. Mares spent 1½ years of sparetime work making the violin; claims 80 percent of the time was taken up in perfecting the tools used to carve and measure it.

Right: Here he's shown in his cellar-workshop making his second violin.

The Tri-Clad Players from Schenectady's Medium Induction Motor Department put the Company's 75th anniversary celebration into a musical comedy recently with their production, "Diamond Jubilee Highlights." Making like a couple of bums are Arline Waads and Dick Haney. Below: Audience joins in the Grand Finale.

Pictorial Review of General Electric

January

24th N. M. DuChemin, Vice President of Manufacturing, announced the new Manufacturing Training Program. Trainees for the new program will be selected from qualified college graduates and from within the Company, including GE Apprentice Course graduates.

February

7th A 20-week strike was brought to an end at the Corboly Department in Detroit with the signing of a new contract with the Union. The estimated loss in wages to employees during the strike was $1 1/2 million.

15th For their meritorious work in 1951, 27 employees of GE and its affiliated companies received Charles A. Coffin awards. One of those honored was Hans P. Jensen, machinist in the Turbine Division, Schenectady.

25th Announcement was made of the retirement of W. W. Trench, secretary of the Company for almost 24 years. Throughout his 37 years of service, he was a guiding force in the Company's many employee benefit plans.

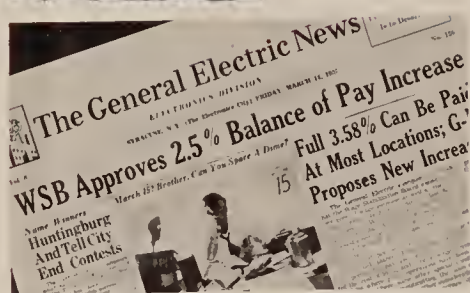

Chronology for 1952

THROUGHOUT THE YEARS, General Electric has had an outstanding record of achievement. In many operations of the Company, greater expansion, better production facilities, newly created jobs, and improved employee benefits have been put into effect.

While preceding years have shown steady improvement in GE's activities and operations, 1952 proved to be a big year for the Company in many ways. Last year saw the opening of several new plants in various parts of the country, new general wage increases, a new Company training program, the first assembly line put in operation at Appliance Park, the largest suggestion award ever made by General Electric, and many other important events.

The pictured highlights shown here and on the following pages are only a few of the many events, announcements, and expansion programs which occurred throughout the Company during 1952.

March

6th WSB authorized approval of the remaining 2.5% of the GE wage increase to employees, retroactive to Sept. 15, 1951.

15th Deadline today for highest individual income taxes paid in U. S. history . . . Wage negotiations reopened with unions.

19th Tenth anniversary of the running of the first jet engine in America and dedication of the GE Jet Center at Evendale Plant. Announcement that GE had produced and delivered 10,145 jet engines to the Air Force.

20th GE Annual Report mailed to all employees for the first time in the Company's history. Report showed an all time high of $883,737,000 total earnings for employees.

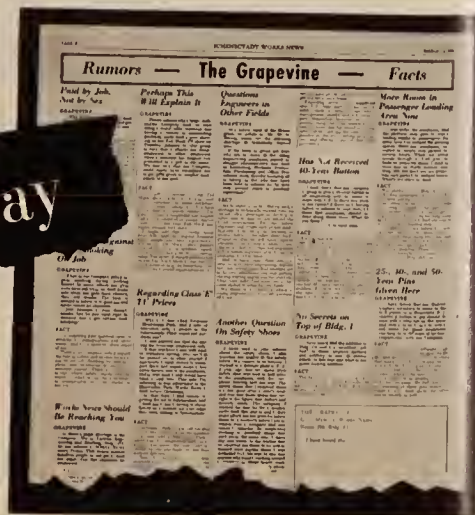

April

15th A record crowd of 2096 GE share owners and their guests met today in the Turbine Building at Schenectody. The main topic under discussion was the Company's increasing federal, state, and local taxes, which totaled more than $402,000,000 last year.

9th Post-graduate fellowships totaling $19,250 awarded by the Company. Paul F. Pagery, one of the 12 top college graduates given grants, studies at Purdue University.

May

22nd Schenectady Works News takes top honors at annual conference of International Council of Industrial Editors, with 98 per cent rating won for the "Grapevine" column.

June

5th Dedication of the new Corboly plant of Edmore, Michigan, employing some 200 people from the area. Over 4,000 attended the open house celebration which featured talks by GE and Corboly officials.

11th The new automatic blanket and heating pad plant of Asheboro, N. C. dedicated. President Ralph J. Cordiner and other GE and civic officials spoke to a gathering of 1,000 people attending the open house program.

July

6th Secretary Ray H. Luebke announced that General Electric's shore owners totaled 253,819 as of June 20, 1952. The current total is an increase of 500 shore owners since June 15, 1951. Two of the youngest shore owners, Alison and Douglas Liebhaufsky, chat with GE President Ralph J. Cordiner during annual shore owners' meeting.

August

During the past month and most of August General Electric employees enjoyed one of the highlights of the year—the annual vacation. Here is a typical couple heading for a respite from work. Beginning this year many employees were entitled to three weeks with pay which is given to all who have 15 years continuous service.

September

9th One of the largest total amounts ever paid out in the history of industrial life insurance programs, more than $50,000,000 has been paid in benefits to over 18,000 GE employees or their beneficiaries since group life insurance was first offered by the Company in 1920.

18th At many locations, distribution was begun on the employees' personal report booklets. Computing these reports at Ft. Wayne are Florence Hoevel (left) and Thelma Borbeou of the Taylor Street payroll section.

One of the most complete informational projects of its type ever undertaken by any company, the report, prepared for each individual, indicated his or her status in the Pension, Insurance, and Savings and Stock Bonus Plans.

26th An insurance milestone was reached when the 100,000th check was paid out under the health insurance portion of the GE Insurance Plan to Peggy Pfister, Electronics Division, Tube Department, Owensboro, Kentucky, shown here receiving her check from foreman J. W. Stuart (left). Observing the ceremony are F. C. Philpot, general foreman, and I. D. Daniels, Works Manager.

1st A new improved purchase plan, designed to give employees and pensioners more liberal discounts on GE products, was announced by L. R. Boulware, Vice President in charge of Employee and Plant Community Relations. Secretary Barbara McKinnan is shown filling out Form FN-519 with the assistance of Charlie Murray in the employees' store at Bloomfield.

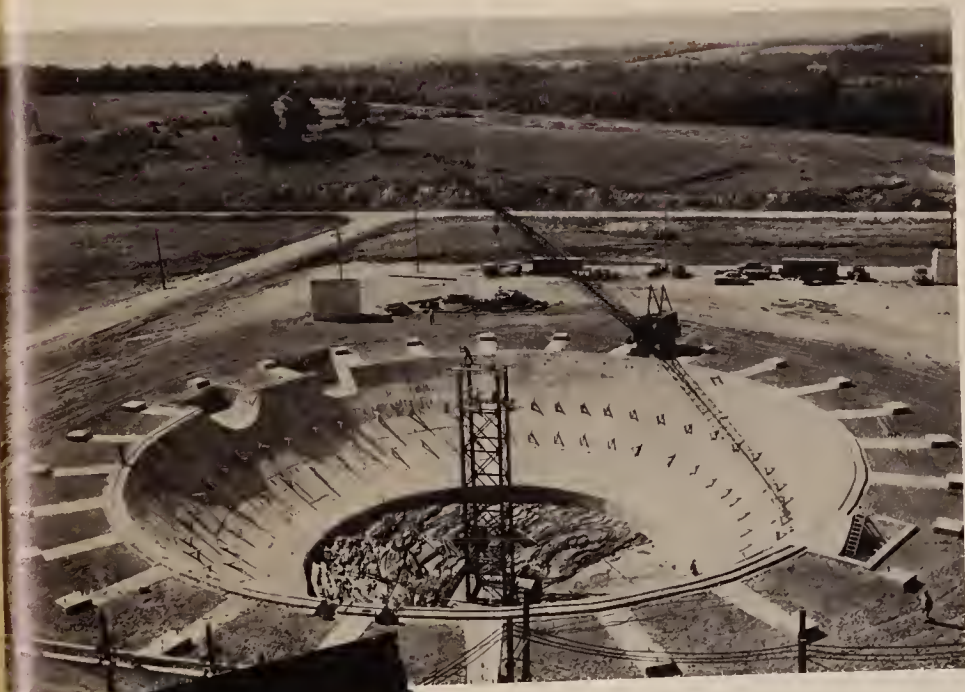

October

27th The first assembly line to go into operation on major appliances at Appliance Park, Louisville, turned out dishwashers, shown here being completed. General Manager Clarence H. Lindner announced that by October, 1953 manufacturing of all major appliances, except refrigerators, would be under way in Louisville.

December

November

3rd Construction was under way on the atomic power plant being built on a 4,000-acre site at West Milton, N. Y. by the Atomic Energy Commission for the U. S. Navy. Under the direction of the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory, operated by General Electric for the A.E.C., the completed plant will be housed in a 225-foot steel sphere cradled in a huge saucer (above), 179 feet in diameter and 42 feet deep, the largest ever constructed.

8th Winner of $25,000 and a GE combination refrigerator-freezer in the Pillsbury Bake-off at the Waldorf Astoria in New York was Mrs. Peter S. Harlib. A total of 758 prizes worth $129,000, and including more than $45,000 in General Electric appliances, were awarded in the contest which drew a record number of entries.

31st Safest of all GE plants again in 1952—as in 1951—Coshocton, Ohio laminated plastics plant received the Award of Merit from the National Safety Council for the year. This is a new world's record for the nation's 12 laminating plants.

Top Billing went to the Queen of Hearts during recent valentine celebration. The Electronettes, GE women's club of Electronics Park in Syracuse, feted with a Valentine Ball highlighted with the crowning of Queen Peggy Ransom by last year's queen, Beverly Murroy.

GE Scientist interested in what makes things stick, Robert Smith-Johnson packages some of the 50,000 boxes of his special ski wax he's found time to manufacture between experiments at GE's Waterford, N. Y. chemical laboratory. Believing that sliding and sticking are closely related — find what causes one and you've got the answer to the other — he has developed a new method of coating refrigerator trays to eliminate sticky ice cubes, and a means for making silicone rubber stick to metals, glass, ceramics, and almost anything. His ski wax prevents snow from sticking to skis on downhill slides, and on uphill climbs, it allows skiers to get a firmer grip on the snow.

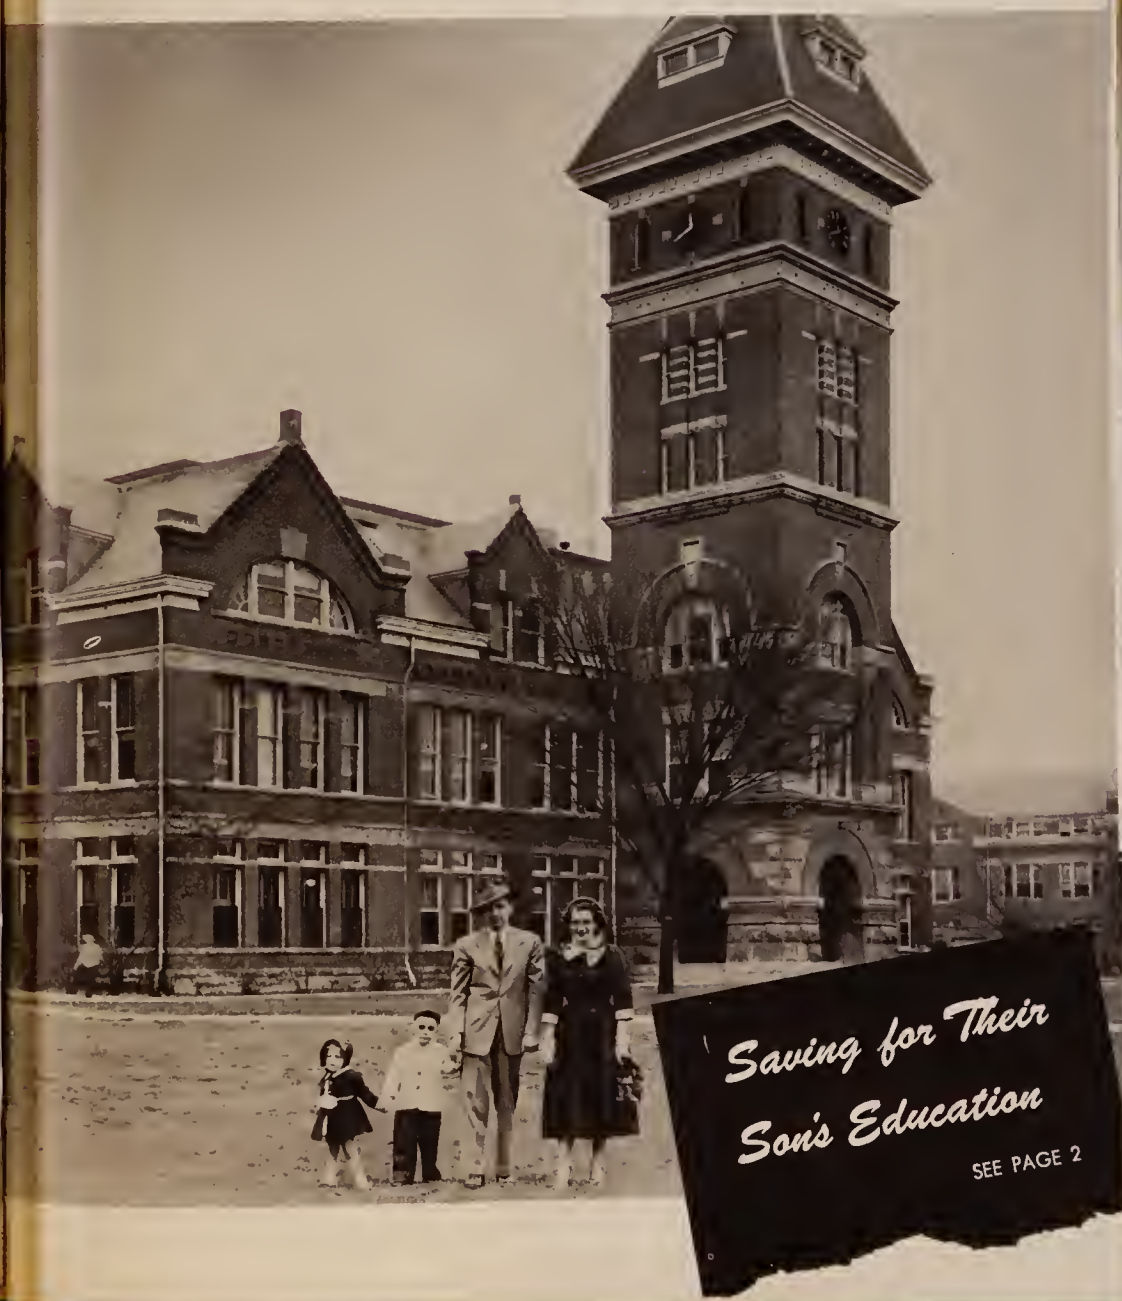

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

APRIL, 1953

No. 4

Saving for Their Son's Education

SEE PAGE 2

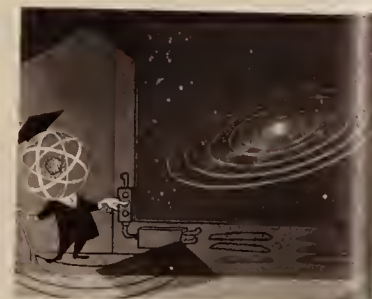

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

COVER PICTURE

Don E. Porter, Service Engineer, Ft. Wayne Section, Service Engineering Dept., returned to a Purdue class reunion recently. It was then that he and his wife, Coreta, decided on a plan of saving for the education of their son, Barry. A 1947 Purdue graduate with a BSEE degree, Don is shown here on the campus near Heavilon Hall with his wife, Coreta, daughter Vickie, and son Barry. For continuation of this story, see page four.

"A Is For Atom," a full-color animated cartoon produced for GE by John Sutherland Productions of Hollywood, brings to the screen for the first time the most understandable explanation of the atom and atomic energy. The latest in the GE "Excursions in Science" series of shorts, the film introduces an amusing character called Dr. Atom who composes his own structure with that of the solar system (left). At the opening in Schenectady theater, Dr. Kenneth Kingdon of Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory is congratulated by Archibald C. Wemple, Mayor of Schenectady as William Dunn, County Civil Defense Director, looks on.

Forty-six years ago Mrs. Adolph Strouch became the owner of one of the first electric ranges manufactured by General Electric. Here she's showing GE commercial vice president Roy W. Turnbull the way the electric frying pan works on her 1906 model. Mrs. Strouch's late husband, an electrical engineer with GE, advocated the all-white kitchen as early as 1906; gave his wife's new range four coats of white paint, three coats of enamel, covered the wood top with blue and white linoleum and nickel-plated the switches. This range will be put on display; Mrs. Strouch was recently presented with the newest 1953 GE range by Mr. Turnbull.

Wielding a real zany baseball bat, Vernon "Lefty" Gomez awaits the pitch from Willord Sahloff, general manager of the Radio and Television Department at Electronics Park, Syracuse.

The former Yankee mound ace and the Ultra-Bat were highlights of the "Receiver Nite" program staged by the GE Foreman's Association recently.

Gomez called the 1932 Yankees the greatest team ever.

Pretty Bonnie Stram of the Switchgear Department at Philadelphia was recently chosen to reign over exhibition held in local department store in connection with the National Convention of the American Carnation Society. The Carnation Queen poses with two new varieties of carnations; the ones on the left (white streaked with red) are the "Mamie Eisenhower" variety and the pure white ones at the right, "Queen Elizabeth."

Open House at the Maple Street Operation of the Burlington Plant attracted scores of visitors who toured this completely modern factory set up for the manufacture of Selsyn motors. Among interested viewers were three generations of the Church family: Lorne Church (extreme right); his son Richard Church, both employees at the Burlington Plant; and grandson Peter Lorne Church.

How Employees Are Using the G

To put his plan into effect, Dan E. Porter, Service Engineer, signs up to purchase two $25 Bonds a month in the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan. Five denominations of Bonds are available under the Plan, $25, $50, $100, $200 and $500. Accepting his Savings and Stock Bonus Plan Payroll Deduction Authorization Form is Rod Cheesmon, Manager Ft. Wayne Section, Service Engineering Dept., Ft. Wayne Works.

For each Bond he purchases, Don receives a Bond receipt which he keeps for a five-year holding period before exchanging it for his U.S. Savings Bond. Periodically, his wife, Careta goes to the bank to put their Bond receipts in their safety deposit box for safe keeping.

When son Borry has reached college age, Don's savings will have provided the tuition needed for Borry's education. Here a stand-in, posing as son Borry grown up, pays his first tuition check to the Purdue Bursar.

Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan

AT THE PRESENT TIME over 77,000 employees are participating in the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan and are potential share owners of the Company. These employees are considered potential share owners because by participating in this Plan they will be eligible to receive a bonus which is payable in shares of GE stock. All they need to do in order to obtain this stock bonus is to purchase U.S. Savings Bonds under the Plan, and leave them on deposit with the Company for a five-year holding period. At the completion of each five-year holding period, participants will receive their Savings Bonds, a bonus payable in GE stock, and the accumulated income applicable to their participation in the Plan. Through the end of 1952, nearly 20,000 participants already had a contingent bonus of from 5 to 6.9 shares of GE stock credited to their accounts as a result of their maximum participation in the Plan. Pictured on these pages are several employees from various locations of the Company who are now participating in the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan. Like most participants, they are saving with a definite purpose in mind. These photographs show how each of them first decided to enroll in the Plan, and then how each has decided to use his savings.

The stand-in for son Borry, front left seat, is shown here in his first year math class, the ultimate goal of Don's participation in the GE Savings and Stock Bonus Plan.

After graduation, son Borry (posed by stand-in at right) learns that his father intends to continue his participation in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan, in order to supplement his savings program.

at Carboly . . .

George and Margaret Erickson discussed buying a house of their own and decided to save their money through the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan. George is an inspector in the Fabricating Division of the Carboly Department of the General Electric Company in Detroit.

George then signed a Savings and Stock Bonus Plan Payroll Deduction Authorization Form, with the assistance of R. W. Lowery, Chief Inspector, Carboly Department.

The Savings and Stock Bonus Plan deduction is made from an employee's regular pay check. As an example, employees on weekly payroll may authorize deductions in amounts of from 75c to $10 per week.

Right: George Erickson explains to Joe Bunetto, milling machine operator, the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan deduction indicated on his pay check.

George and Margaret take inventory of their Band receipts and discover that soon they will have saved enough for the down payment of their new home.

After being in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan for 15 years, there will be enough matured Bonds for a down payment of over $3000. Here George and Margaret show how they plan to cash their matured Bonds at the bank.

George and Margaret will see their plan being fulfilled as the building of their new home begins. George intends to continue his participation in the Plan after their new home is finished. He will receive his GE Stack Bonus as he becomes eligible, and will continue in the Plan to supplement his savings program.

at Erie . . .

Having decided on a trip back to Scotland when he retires from GE, Ralston Stewart and his wife consider increasing his participation in the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan as a means of providing the additional savings they will need for the trip.

Stewart, a sheet metal worker in the Works Service Division at Erie Works, has obtained an Authorization Change Form from his foreman, G. F. Bailey, which he fills out to increase his Savings Band purchases to the maximum. Employees on a weekly payroll may authorize payroll deductions to a maximum of $10 per week, and the maximum for those on a monthly payroll is $43.75.

When payroll deductions have accumulated in sufficient amounts to purchase a Savings Band of the denomination specified by the employee, the Company will issue and deliver a Band receipt to him. Foreman G. F. Bailey, right, is here shown handing one of these Band receipts to Stewart.

At the end of each five-year holding period, participating employees will receive a bonus payable in shares of GE stock. Right: Stewart and his wife count their receipts for Bonds purchased and approximate the number of shares of GE stock which he will receive as a bonus.

Stewart inquires of J. A. Hurley, Supervisor-Persannel Services, Erie Works, who will receive his stock banus and accumulated income should he die before the end of the five-year holding period. The stock bonus and accumulated income applicable to an employee's participation in the Plan will be given to his heir as soon as possible, even though the five-year halding period may not have been completed.

The Stewarts will see their plans being fulfilled as they embark an a trip to Scotland after Ralston retires. Left: they enact a scene which shows them boarding a plane for the first leg of the journey which Ralston's participation in the Savings and Stock Banus Plan will help to make possible.

at Syracuse . . .

Some two years ago, Mrs. Mary Ball, Supervisor, Office Service Bureau, had Donald L. Lundo, Special Assignments, Personnel Section, Syracuse, explain the features of the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan.

Shown with Mr. Lundo are Mrs. Emma Brandt, addressograph operator; Mrs. Pauline Rogers, duplicating operator; Mrs. Boll; and Mrs. Jeanne Long, typist.

As a result of the explanation given by Mr. Lundo, Mrs. Ball decided to enroll in the Plan. Right: she is shown filling out a Payroll Deduction Authorization Form, as Mr. Lundo stands by to render any help that she may need.

Recently, participants received the 1952 Annual Report, a letter from GE President Ralph J. Cordiner, and a Statement of Participation, which Mrs. Ball is showing to her mother, Mrs. Martin Coseo. The Statement indicated the number of Savings Bonds a participant had purchased under the Plan, the shares of GE stock contingently credited to his account, and the amount of accumulated income applicable to his participation in the Plan. The maximum amount of accumulated income aggregated $44.58 at the end of 1952.

At the end of each holding period, Mrs. Ball will return her Band receipts to the Company and receive her Savings Bands, her stock bonus, and the accumulated income applicable to her participation in the Plan. Here she shows a U.S. Savings Band to her mother.

In an emergency, participants who need cash may withdraw the Savings Bands purchased during any one year, or years, without having to discontinue their participation in the Plan. Should her mother need medical attention, as is being posed here, Mrs. Ball is secure in the knowledge that she is prepared to help provide whatever is needed.

By the time she retires, Mrs. Ball will have saved a substantial amount through the purchase of U.S. Savings Bands under the GE Employees Savings and Stock Bonus Plan. Her Savings Bands, her stock bonus, and the income applicable to her participation in the Plan will help her to purchase a small greeting card shop similar to the one she is shown visiting here.

Getting aboard a donkey is o cinch, soys Nick Sorro of the Holyoke, Moss., plant, when you've got o couple of fellow employees like Jim O'Connor (in top hat) and Ed Leary os boosters. Antics took place ot recent donkey basketball game.

There's good reason for the brood grins of John A. Ruskey (left) and Lewis J. Dumont; they've just received the largest suggestion oword in the history of the Switchgeor Department, Philodelphio. They collected $3000 for their ideo of moking indicoting lumps of plostic instead of multiple metol ports.

Proud father Arthur Nelson, Sr., (right) of the River Works shows trophy won by Arthur Jr. in the Annual Sugar Bowl Boxing Tournament ot New Orleans to O. A. Pope, athletic ossociotion business monager. Young Nelson, o sophomore ot Syracuse University, is the Eastern Intercollegiate Lightweight Champion.

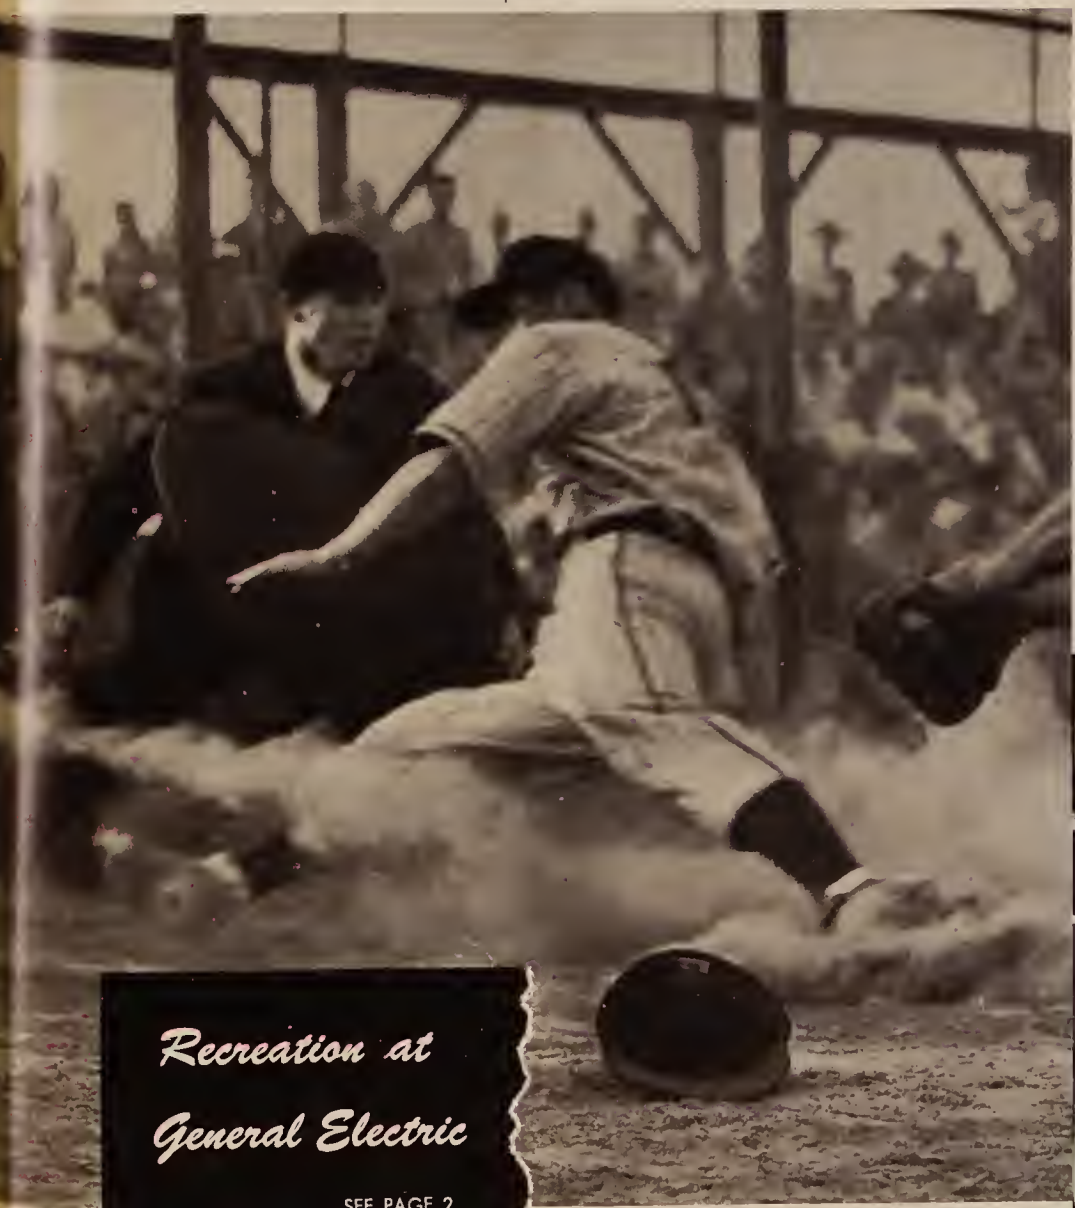

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

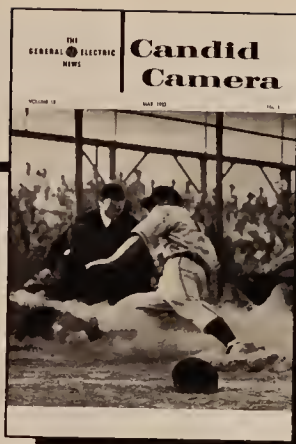

MAY, 1953

No. 5

*Recreation at
General Electric*

SEE PAGE 2

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

COVER PICTURE

Safe at home in an action-filled game in the Philadelphia Industrial Baseball League. This "shot" was taken during a game between GE and SKF. The Philadelphia baseball team has captured the league title for six straight years and is now preparing to make it number seven.

GE News photo by Harry Flounders

The new world's candlepin bowling champion in action is Jack Lynch of the River Works. Competing against 120 of the world's top candlepin bowlers at recent annual tournament, Jack rolled a 1119 total to capture the title.

Exposure Meter Day was declared recently by Massachusetts'

Governor Christian A. Herter in recognition of the manufacture of one million exposure meters at the West Lynn Works, climaxing sixteen years of design and production contributions to the photometric industry. Highlight of the day was crowning of lovely Anne Marie Nally of the West Lynn Works as "Miss Exposure Meter."

The Company presented her with a complete wardrobe, a weekend at the Waldorf in New York and a trip to Chicago where she presided over the GE booth at the National Photo Dealers and Finishers Show.

Here Miss Nally presents a replica of the one millionth exposure meter to the Governor.

A full house was in evidence when GE share owners met at the Schenectady Works for their 61st meeting. (Right) Before meeting, Miss Elizabeth H. Angell, share owner from Manville, R. I., chats with Vice Presidents C. H. Lang (left) and L. R. Boulware. Miss Angell, a polio victim, came to Schenectady by car, riding all night without sleep. President Cordiner presented main address; declared GE "could well be called on to produce between four and five billion dollars worth of goods and services in the year 1961."

Toolmaker Francis L. Sorell (seated) of Schenectady Works recently became the 100th employee to attain 50 years of service with the Company. He started his career with GE as a messenger, often carrying mail to and from the electrical wizard, Charles P. Steinmetz. Here "Leo," as he was nicknamed early in life, receives congratulations from machinists Jim Davis, Stan Leamon, and Frank Ward; on his desk he's set up a taper gage and two worm gear blanks to show his status as GE's 100th 50-year-man.

The distinction of being the longest-married couple in the state goes to Mr. and Mrs. William H. McCormick of Pittsfield, Mass.; they just celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary. Mr. McCormick, who is 95, is the oldest living GE pensioner and member of the Quarter Century Club. He retired in 1932 from Pittsfield Works after 25 years with GE.

Recreation Programs Popular

RECREATION programs play an important part in the everyday operations at the many General Electric plants all over the country. These, together with many social activities, are important factors in keeping a close family spirit among GE people. Here and on following pages we give you a pictorial review of programs carried out at Philadelphia, employing about 6,000 people, and the smaller operations at Fort Edward and Hudson Falls in Upstate New York. These are typical examples of similar projects throughout the Company. Recreation programs are carried on by employees through General Electric Athletic Associations or other bodies which are responsible for organizing, promoting and financing them. How the objectives are obtained is shown in the picture story.

The Board of Directors of the Copacitor Athletic Association of Hudson Falls and Fort Edward discuss the recreation program of the two plants. Clockwise, from left: Tony Tiezzi, Peg Bishop, Dat Ackary, Joon Rheubottom, Fred Crossthwaite, Helen Cormody, Don Betters, Mary Smith, Lorry Hooley, and Bob O'Brien. Standing, from left: Bob Fartier, Dick March, Ken Williams and Bob Rourke. ▲ (Above) Members of the Board of Directors of the GE Athletic Association meet regularly to allocate funds for the various employee activities at Philadelphia. Here the Directors meet in Jim McMenemy's office. Clockwise, from left: Al Longmore, chairman; Jack King, McMenemy, secretary-treasurer; Jack Stewart, Harry Weidman, Pat Flynn and Bill Rupp. McMenemy is supervisor of Accounting at Philly.

◀ Another employee joins the Copacitor Athletic Association. Calvin Tainter signs a membership card while Joon Rheubottom looks on. The annual dues is one dollar. Over 800 of the approximately 1,000 employees are now members of the Association with a number of sections having 100 percent membership.

General Electric Employees

Many stunts were used to aid in fund raising for the Capacitor Athletic Association. This picture shows Artist Darathy Beswick, of Hudson Falls, painting miniature clubhouse. ▶

Helen Havens of Hudson Falls puts another nickel in. Profits derived from these machines are used to help finance the athletic program.

Another means of revenue for the GEAA at Philadelphia is the snack bar in the bowling alleys. Here are three employees making purchases during the lunch hour. From left: Bill Smith, John Deveney and Jim Sheasley. Gene Reilly, manager of the bowling alleys, is behind the counter.

Jock King (right), member of the Board of Directors of the GEAA of Philadelphia, talks with Herbert Reisgen of John Bortram High School, just across the street from the Philadelphia Plant. King is making arrangements for the use of the high school gym for practice sessions for the Industrial League team and also for regular play in the Inter-departmental League.

Gene Reilly, manager of the Bowling Alleys (there are eight of them in the basement of the Philadelphia Plant), points out the type of score sheet now being used to Al Longmore, Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Architect's drawing of Clubhouse the Capacitor A. A. members hope to erect on their new plot of ground outside Hudson Falls. Plans call for building 100 feet long containing six bowling alleys, kitchen, lounge and meeting rooms.

An important part of the Capacitor Athletic Association is the 54-acre tract of land purchased recently with A. A. funds for $2,600. Don Betters, president of the Association, points out that this is where the softball diamond will be built. The land is now being readied for outdoor games, picnics and clambakes.

A large athletic field adjoins the Switchgear Development Laboratory on Island Road just a short distance from the plant in Philadelphia. Here Al Longmore, supervisor of Employee Relations and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Athletic Association, makes a few notes on the requirements for the year. Others pictured from left: Joe MacDonald, general foreman who is in charge of grounds; Jock King, member of the Board; and Wayne Hight, manager of the baseball team which has won the Philadelphia Industrial League title for six straight years.

More than 100 employees at the Philadelphia Plant participate in Inter-departmental League basketball while about 20 others participate in Industrial League games. All games are played on the John Bartram High School Court which is just across the street from the plant.

Men's bowling team of Capacitor A. A. won this season's championship. Front row: Dan Reardan, Capt.; and Clif DeMarsh. Rear: Phil Balcam, Ed Pelkey, George Schmitt, and Stan Cambs.

A dozen Philadelphia golfers wait around the first tee to get ready for the start of one of the six tournaments held each year. Nearly 200 take part in the golf activities yearly. The picture below was taken at the Valley Forge Golf Club.

High school students Don Harmon and Virginio Roble discuss cribbage boards with Bob Murphy prior to being interviewed on the "Bob Murphy Colling" TV show in Detroit. Both are members of the Rustic Arts Junior Achievement Company, manufacturer and seller of rustic cribbage boards. Looking on is Sales Adviser Herbert E. Thrig of the Marketing Section of Corbology Department of General Electric, sponsor of the group.

Boswell Magnus Richlandicus, silver-groey Weimoroner, executes a flying leap as he bones up for the hurdle event in recent Richlond Dog Show. His master is E. A. Evons, of the Honford Atomic Products Operation, Richlond, Wosh.

Genial boss of the Philadelphia Athletics, Jimmy Dykes, chats with George Burens, general monoger of the Switchgeor and Control Division of Philodelphio, following witty baseboll talk by the A's monoger of Supervisors Association meeting recently. The big, gold-inscribed bat he's wielding, a gift from the Association, is made from GE's lominoted wood. Pictures in background are of former Athletics' squads.

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

JUNE, 1953

No. 6

"Up A Tree"

SEE PAGE 2

THE
GENERAL ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18 MAY 1953 PAGE 2

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

COVER PICTURE

These lovely lassies may be "up a tree" but it's only to pose prettily for the photographer when Sheila Mabley (left) was chosen GEAA Queen of 1953 at the Johnson City Plant. With her is last year's winner, Freda Paulas.

Sidewalk Show . . . Among members of the Artists and Craftsmen's Association who exhibited their art recently in Cleveland were employees of Nela Park. Standing, left to right: Guila McFarland, Sales, who showed lace ceramics; Caroline Mainhard, General Services, a spectator; C. R. Yeager, Nela Art Dept., who displayed water colors. Seated: Max Fuldauer, Administration; and Lyman Canger, Nela Press, who exhibited oil and water color paintings.

Like Father, Like Son . . . Edward Bauman's enthusiasm for racing caught the fancy of son Elma who started collecting miniature racers and stock cars at the age of six. Elma is behind the wheel of a junior-midget racer while Ed stands beside cabinets containing part of son's collection of 176 models, some imparted from Canada and England, and others he and Elma made. Ed, who has been with GE for 19 years, is a maintenance mechanic at Cleveland Bulb.

Pistol Packers . . . Not taking their holdups too seriously are Mary Ann, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Horsey, and Joanne Horsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Horsey. George is the GE News photographer at Elmiro Foundries. Joon is his niece. (Right) Nephew Clifford Horsey, left, with support from Alvin Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, gets a big kick out of stickup. John is employed in the Permould Section of Elmiro Foundries.

He Talks to Horses . . . When he isn't driving trucks for GE at the Fort Wayne Works, Lewis Lohrmon hits the road for Western Horse Shows; he's participated in them for nearly 20 years. His hobby of riding, showing and training horses hit a high point in 1952 when he won 33 ribbons and three trophies with his palomino show horse, "Cross V," pictured below.

General Electric Cafeterias Serve We

THROUGHOUT THE GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY GE strives to have available for their employees modern and well-equipped cafeterias serving well-balanced meals at reasonable prices. As a part of the Company's aim to provide its employees with good working conditions, these cafeterias are put in operation where they may serve the best interests of everyone.

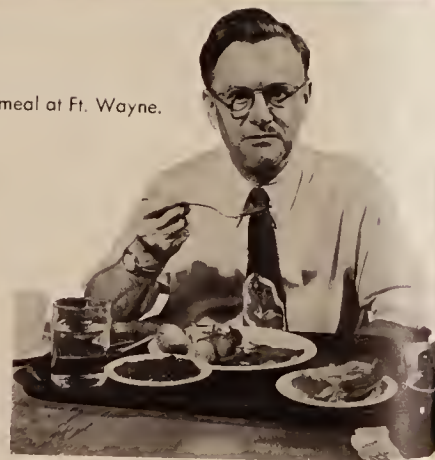

At some locations, like Fort Wayne, where a large number of employees are working on three shifts, there is a definite need for extensive cafeteria service. This operation is maintained and operated by GE.

In smaller plants, such as the Locke Department, General Electric Company, Baltimore, it has been found that small cafeterias can be better operated by outside concessionaires. The A. L. Mathias Co. has been operating the Locke Cafeteria since 1941 and since that time has expanded its business to now serve 50 industrial plants in the Baltimore area.

Here, and on the following pages, are pictured a few of the highlights of cafeteria operations in GE plants—examples from Fort Wayne and the Locke Department.

Some GE Plants Have Company-Operated Cafeterias...

A. A. Tharp enjoys a typical cafeteria meal at Ft. Wayne.

Cafeterias in General Electric plants are well staffed and offer a selection of hot meals, salads, beverages and desserts. A typical cafeteria is this one at Ft. Wayne (Taylor Street Plant) which daily accommodates hundreds of employees through staggered lunch periods.

Balanced Meals at Moderate Prices

To offer nutritious meals at moderate prices, Daryl Long (left), supervisor of GE's cafeteria at Ft. Wayne, selects the best quality meat at Swift & Co. Salesman Donald Platt quotes the day's prices. Ft. Wayne's annual volume includes 7½ tons of beef roasts, 5 tons of pork roasts, 9 tons of beef steaks, and 8 tons of hamburger meat.

(Above right) Many gallons of soups are used for Ft. Wayne menus. Here Pearl Carder is stirring the day's soup selection in huge soup kettles used in the GE cafeteria at the Broadway plant.

A typical lunch time in the Broadway Street plant (above) which daily serves 1800 meals to employees through staggered lunch periods.

A variety of solids are offered to better balance the day's meals. Mrs. Lydia Schott (left) is preparing the day's solid with the assistance of Eva Tucker, whose responsibility it is to lay out and supervise each day's menu at Ft. Wayne.

A GE employee stops to have checker Adeline Horton (right) total up his troy of lunch. Gross receipts for 1952 at Ft. Wayne's GE cafeterias totaled $439,000.

Other Locations Are Operated by Concessionaires...

◀ Vendora Cole, employee of the A. L. Mathias Co., cafeteria concessionaires at the Locke Dept. of the General Electric Co., Baltimore, prepares fresh sandwiches in the cafeteria previous to the daily lunch periods.

An overall view of the well-lighted, airy cafeteria at the Locke Dept. plant in Baltimore, which is serviced with moderately-priced, hot meals by an outside concessionaire, A. L. Mathias Co.

A group of Locke Dept. employees wait in line to pay for their luncheon selections. Some employees bring sandwiches from home and supplement these with soups, salads, desserts, and beverages served in the cafeteria.

Modern kitchen equipment is used in GE cafeterias to insure cleanliness and provide efficient service. Here Margaret Marquart uses an automatic dishwasher in the Broadway Street cafeteria kitchen.

To provide health security the Sterilamp is used at Ft. Wayne. Mounted above the trays of silverware, rays from this lamp properly sterilize the silverware before use.

Meat and vegetable dishes, salads, a selection of hot and cold beverages, and choice desserts make up this daily menu. Here Frances Kocur (left) and Evelyn Benton, Cost Section employees at Locke Dept., enjoy a well-balanced lunch in their cafeteria.

(Above right) In most GE cafeterias, seating facilities are such that a group of the same employees may get together every day at lunch time. This is a typical group at the Locke Department.

Bab Shamberger (right), Manager of Employee Relations at Locke Dept., keeps a close check on cafeteria operations. Here he discusses cafeteria problems dealing with menus and prices with Bill Albrecht, A. L. Mathias Co. vice president.

No Checkmate Here . . . Pretty 17-year-old Solly Middleton of Hartford, recently chosen "Miss Connecticut 1953," hands Bridgeport industrial chess championship trophy to Al Wolloch, captain of the GE team. Presentation was made at 10th annual all-sports dinner attended by more than 600 participants in fall and winter recreation programs, representing nearly 80 Bridgeport area firms.

Wins with First Idea . . . Far the first suggestion he ever submitted, John W. Mobee brought home a big $2500 check to his smiling family. Mrs. Mobee tries out her new sewing machine, first purchase made with the suggestion cash. She'll be making clothes for their five children: John, 14; James, 10; Susan, 8; Gary, 6; and little Solly, 2. A follow-up man in Large Steam Turbine and Generator Purchasing, Schenectady, Mr. Mobee's idea to provide for elimination of a weld build-up by a flange supplier on a chrome flange used in main steam piping resulted in a substantial saving.

It Batter Be Good . . . So thinks Nelson Gildersleeve, Supervisor—Process Instrument Sales, as he goes for the "yoke" to celebrate the second birthday of GE's Type HP Pyrometer of the Meter and Instrument Department, West Lynn Works. He's determined to bake a cake in industrial furnace controlled by the two-year old product. Normally the furnace is used for annealing small parts used in the manufacture of GE's new mass flow-meter system for aircraft. Chief advisor to chef is Anne Mooney, a secretary in the Marketing Section. Cake was removed from oven 40 minutes later complete with candles, frosting, and oil.

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

AUGUST, 1953

No. 8

European Vacation

SEE PAGE 2

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

COVER PICTURE

Just before they took off for a European vacation nearly 150 General Electric women employees received best wishes from L. R. Boulware, vice president. This picture was taken at Idlewild Airport, New York, just before the takeoff.

Schenectady Swimming Party . . . Five of the more than 30 General Electric Athletic Association girls who participated in a gala swimming party at the Swimming Pool Casino. From left: Jean Clowe, Anita Arony, Gert Iacobucci, Dot Koch, and Lil Orzel.

Tops for Electronics Division . . .

Mrs. Lucy Zohne plants a kiss on the cheek of her husband, Harold J. Zohne, who received a suggestion award of $2,500, the largest ever presented to an Electronics Division employee. Mr. Zohne, an employee of the Utica French Road Plant, received the money for developing an "N" drawing hardware selector. Herman F. Konig, manager of the Light Military Electronics Sub-Department, Utica, (left) and Clarence J. Cadieux, Zohne's supervisor, look on.

GE Official visits Ludlow . . . Vice President L. R. Boulwore attended public jet engine exhibit and "Family Nite" at Ludlow recently. Here he is speaking to a group of Springfield and Ludlow community leaders. During the visit Mr. Boulwore made a factory tour and talked to employees. Above at left, he has a chat with Harold Brogg.

Stanley Club Queen . . . Pretty Lois Kelly, steno-typist, Office Service Section, Chemical Division, Pittsfield, reigned over the 24th annual Stanley Club Field Day. Miss Kelly was selected in a popularity contest.

83 Years of Service . . . Climbing aboard on automobile, which was mighty handsome when they first started working for General Electric some 40 years ago, are Roy and Hazel Porsholl, Nelo Park, Cleveland. They are going to take a trip around the country following their retirement after a combined service record of 83 years. Of course, they didn't use this automobile in touring the U. S. Hazel started as a secretary and retired as assistant buyer in the Purchasing Department and Roy began as a lamp testing and quality expert and for more than a decade was in charge of the Testing Section of the Lamp Development Laboratory.

GE Product Purchase Discount

Pittsfield

▲ Outside view of the Employee Store with a number of employees leaving after making purchases.

The Pittsfield Employee Store features a beautiful display of both small and major appliances. Louis E. Boos, manager of the Store, points out features of a clock-radio to an employee.

Joseph Slonski, Distribution Transformer Test and Inspection, gets ready to purchase a GE steam iron as Borboro Krynosi, Employee Store, prepares to make the sale. The price is $12.94, but this same iron, without the employee discount would sell for $18.95.

Save Employees $5,000,000 Annually.

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT among the 21 job dividends—over and above the good pay—is the opportunity afforded employees and pensioners to purchase General Electric products at substantial discounts. In a single year these discounts totaled more than $5,000,000.

Known as the Employee Purchase Plan, which was revised and improved on October 1, 1952, it provides an opportunity for employees and pensioners to purchase at a discount General Electric products for their personal use through Employee Stores, and major appliances through local dealers. Under the revised plan dealers are given a substantial reimbursement on the discount.

It is not our purpose here to go into detail concerning the improved program but to show pictorially how the program is now operating at two typical GE locations, Pittsfield, Massachusetts and Bloomfield, New Jersey.

The Employee Store is a "must" when looking for a shower gift. Miss Rosemary De Blieux, Distribution Transformer Sales, decides on an automatic toaster at a price of $15.67. This same item, at retail, would cost Miss De Blieux $22. Clyde Wade, store accountant, is making the sale.

Mrs. Constance Mathews of Plant Maintenance looks over the new "Mixette" portable mixer as Mr. Boos explains its features.

Satisfied customers are important and this also holds true when GE products are purchased at substantial discounts. This picture shows Stanley Kurek repairing a radio in the Pittsfield Employee Store.

Dove Thomas, Power Transformer Engineering, purchases 100 feet of BX wire for use in his new home. Pot Mohon, Store employee, assists Dove in making the proper selection.

(Below) H. R. (Herb) Miller, Power Transformer Engineering, discusses the advantages of using GE house paint. Edwin Gojdo, Store employee, answers his questions. (Bottom) An overall view of the Miller home shows Mr. Miller putting the finishing touches to the sparkling GE paint job.

Bloomfield

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dehnz, 244 Leslie Ave., Newark, N. J., and daughter, Christine, see new GE refrigerator during television show and Mrs. Dehnz says "that's far me." Mr. Dehnz is an employee at Blaamfield.

Mr. Dehnz goes to the Employee Store and talks to Charles Murray, Store manager, (right) about the new refrigerator. After looking over the new appliance through samples and descriptive literature, Mr. Dehnz places his order.

Mr. Murray presents sales slip to Mr. Dehnz after it is checked by the Payroll Section.

The Dehnz's look over the refrigerator.

T. C. O'Shea, owner of the T. C. O'Shea Co., accepts the employee sales slip as Mrs. Dehnz and Christine admire the new major appliance.

New GE refrigerator goes to work for the Dehnz's.

High Steppers . . . The General Electric Recreation Association of Allentown staged a minstrel show which was attended by about 600 employees and their families. This shot was taken during the two-act show. The production was directed and staged by Allentown employees.

$2320 Grin . . . Edward Tarkowski (second from left) receives suggestion award check from Guy Bellows, assistant superintendent, Locomotive & Car Equipment Motor Manufacturing Erie. Looking on are Leo Stankovich, chief dispatcher, and V. F. Katarzynski, foreman. Mr. Tarkowski received his award for suggesting the machining of sealing rings for turbines in the foundry instead of sending them to Building 2 for this operation.

Prize Catch . . . Harold Bacher, engineering assistant in J-47 Drafting, Evendale, landed this giant 371-pound blue marlin pictured at left while deep-sea fishing near Miami, Florida. Mr. Bacher (right) is pictured with the prize catch and the skipper of the boat. The marlin was the largest taken at Miami in 11 years. The sea giant, which measured ten feet, seven inches, fought for an hour and 55 minutes.

Greeted by W. V. Merrihue . . . Manager of GE Employee Relations talks with some of the GE women who were having a luncheon at Idlewild Airport, New York, before they took off for a European vacation. Nearly 150 women employees left Idlewild for Europe. The trip was sponsored by the Elex Club of Fort Wayne.

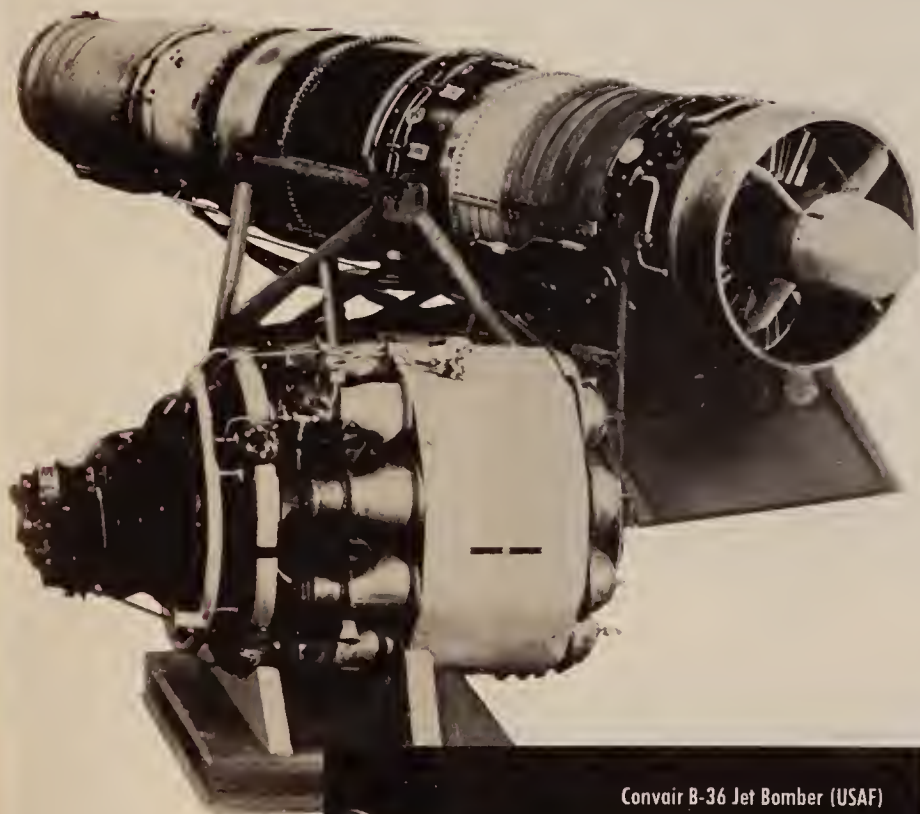

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

SEPTEMBER, 1953

No. 9

Powered by GE

SEE PAGE 2

Convair B-36 Jet Bomber (USAF)

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

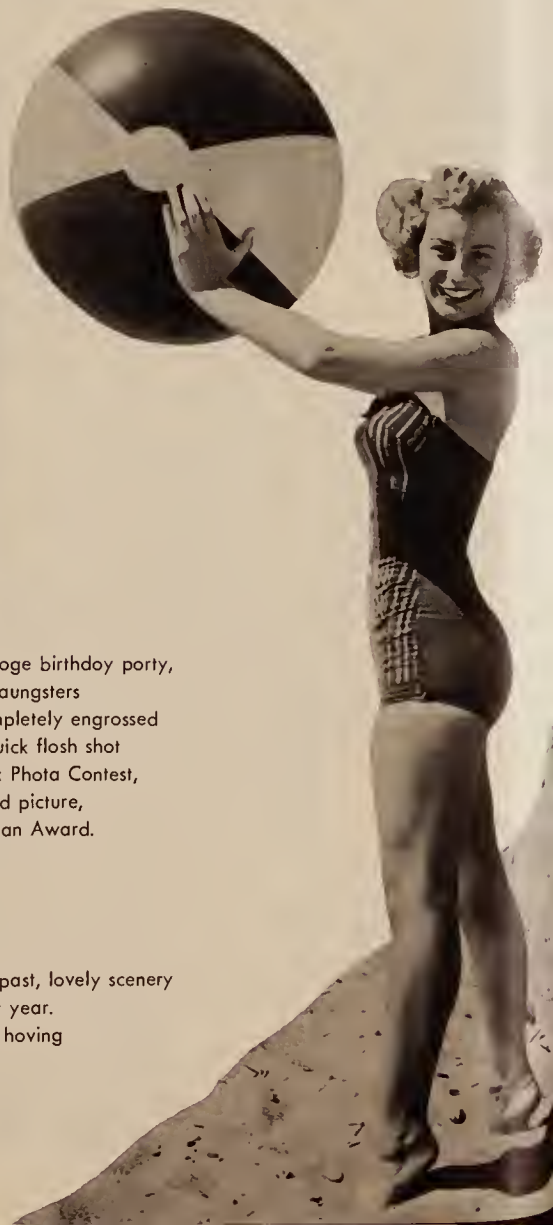

COVER PICTURE

Powered by General Electric is the huge Canvair B-36 bomber which uses four GE jet engines and six piston engines. This is one of the many military aircraft planes using GE designed or built jet engines. The IA, first American jet engine, is pictured as well as the J73, the latest GE engine.

Snaps A Prize . . . While photographing a teen-age birthday party, Lloyd M. Hall of Pittsfield Works noticed three youngsters peeking through the screen door. They were completely engrossed in the party activities long enough to permit a quick flash shot which brought him first prize in the 1953 Groflex Photo Contest, non-professional class. For his completely unposed picture, "The Uninvited," he received $500 and a Medallion Award. This year's total entries was greatest in history of the annual, nation-wide contest.

The Memory Lingers On . . . Summertime now past, lovely scenery like this will be absent from the beaches 'till next year. Joy Gustovsan (right) of the Bridgeport Works is having the season's last fling at fun in the sun.

Go West, Young Man . . . And what man wouldn't with these gun-tatin' lavelies rooming the prairie.

The gals were in good shape for the annual Atomic Frontier Days celebration held in Richland, Wash., recently. All candidates for "Miss Richland" contest, they are, from left:

Pat Stewart, Zana Beth Bumgarner, Viva Webster, Colleen Peoples, Glenna Cristman and Doris Lemon. Doris, who works in Statistical and Computing at Hanford, was crowned Queen of the three-day event.

(Right) GE's entry in giant parade was Diamond Anniversary float designed by Ken Staley of Employee Relations and constructed by employees in the Paint, Carpenter and Sign Shop at Hanford.

Celebrating Six Decades with GE . . . During the 30 years they have been at Nela Park, Cleveland, Marguerite Heitman and Katherine McKee have never worked more than a few feet away from each other.

Friends since the eighth grade in school and through high school, Marge and Kay joined GE within a month of each other, both starting their GE careers making life test calculations.

Today Marge is test expeditor and special assignment clerk; Kay is supervisor of the records section.

Fastest, most powerful U.S.

North American FJ-2 Single Jet Fighter (Navy)

North American F-86 Sabrejet (USAF)

Bell P-59A Jet Pursuit (USAF)

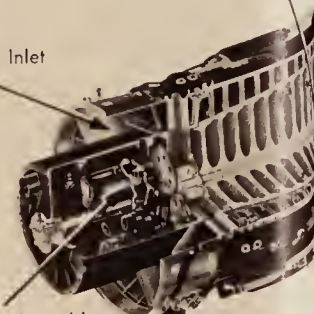

ABOUT 12 YEARS AGO the U. S. Army Air Force called upon the General Electric Company to handle development and production of American jet engines. The selection came about because of GE's long experience in the development and manufacture of turbosuperchargers. Six months after the work got underway, GE built and tested the first American made jet engine and today 17,000 GE employees are engaged in the jet engine business with 4,000 suppliers augmenting this figure to make our Company the world's largest known single builder of jet engines.

The manufacture of jet engines started at the GE plant at the Lynn River Works in 1948, just five years ago, a plant which started in Evendale, Ohio, as the headquarters

Compressor Rotor (12 Stages)

Compressor Air Inlet

Accessory Drive Assembly

Boeing B-47 Stratojet Bomber (USAF) planes powered by GE jet engines ters for the Aircraft Gas Turbine Division. Lynn River, with about 5,000 AGT employees, in addition to its jet engine production, has all the development and production of accessory gas turbines. The Everett, Mass., plant, with employment over 2,000, manufactures component parts and sub-assemblies, while the Ludlow, Vt., plant, with employment in the neighborhood of 250, makes dies for use in forging blades and buckets for jet engines.

The daily newspapers and magazines are frequently expounding the accomplishments of jet engine planes. In reading these fine articles let us remember that many of the finest jet planes produced in the U. S. are powered by an engine either built or designed by our co-workers.

Turbine Wheel and Shaft

Exhaust Cone

Combustion Chambers

Fuel Manifold and Nozzles

North American F-86D Interceptor (USAF)

North American B-45 Tornado Bomber (USAF)

North American F-86H Fighter-Bomber (USAF)

Martin XB-51 Jet Bomber (USAF)

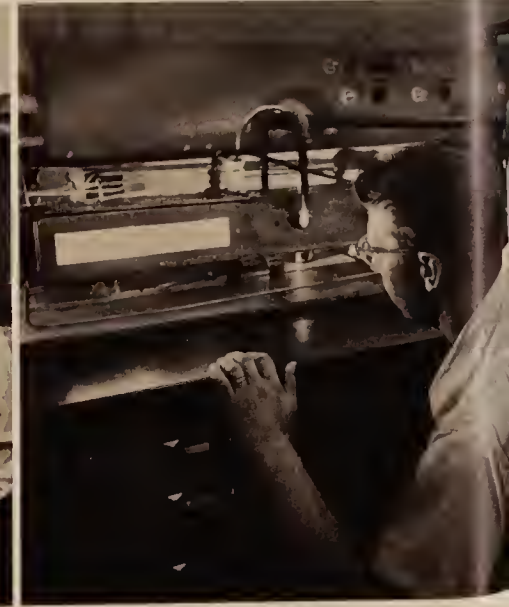

Jock Hughes, engineer, Numerical Analysis Group, Development Operation, Evendale, and Morcio Mooney, engineering assistant, work out jet engine problems on IBM Electronic Data Processing Machine.

John Taylor, throttle man, and Donald Googan, test cell operator, get jet engine ready for test by attaching wires from instrument board.

George Snyder, with left hand on throttle, controls the power in checking engine performance in Test Cell of Evendale.

Studying characteristics of flame in the Thermodynamic Laboratory is the job of Spiridon Suciu. The machine was designed by C. M. MacDonald, engineer of Evendale. This machine is used to simulate jet engine combustion.

A closeup of inspectors and assemblers busy at work on the "Green Line."

An overall view of the "Green Line," a mechanized assembly line.

Still another view of the "Green Line" assemblers in action.

One of the jet engines on the final assembly line. Howard Farris, assembler Cecil Crawley, engine handler, and Edward Gambril, inspector, work on the engine which is mounted on a flat carriage.

The jets roll along on the final assembly line as assemblers and inspectors work as a team in turning out the engines. This is an overall view of the line.

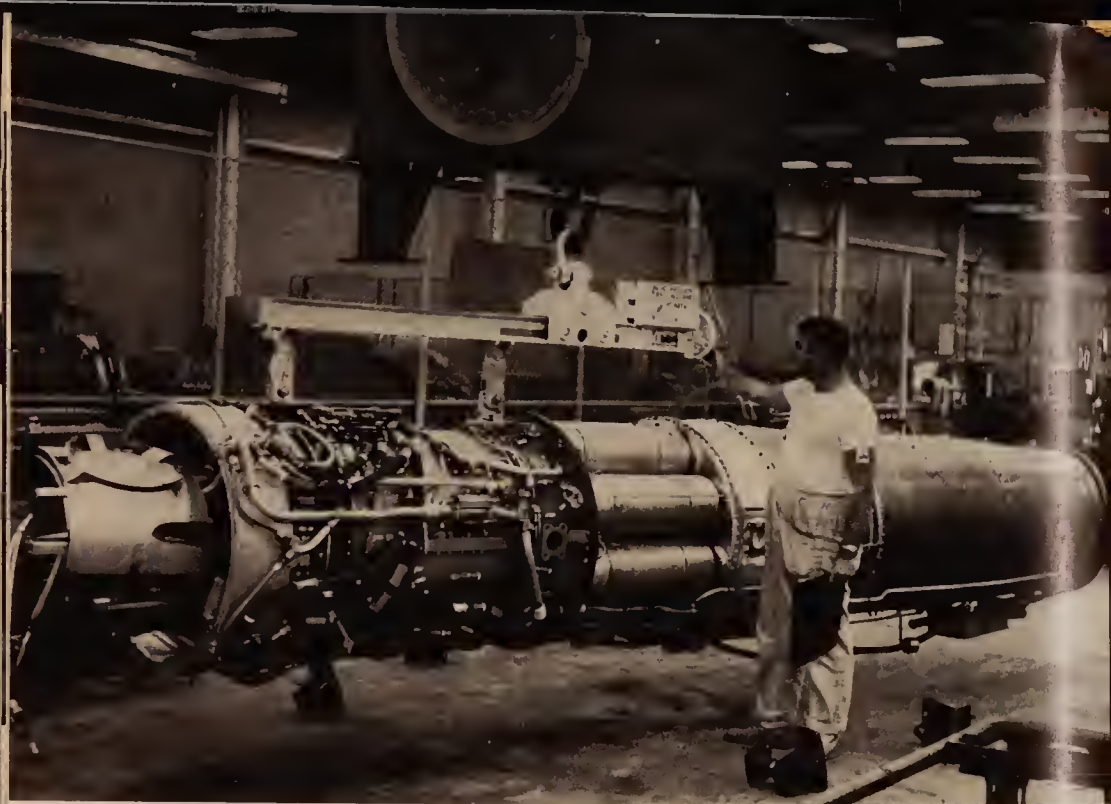

Roy Sroufe, inspector, gets a close-up view of the engines with the aid of a lamp. Customer satisfaction is important in maintaining our leadership in the jet engine field.

Monen Herron, assembler, and Roy Sroufe, inspector, work together as the engine comes off the final line.

Checking the weight of the engine is the job of Pot Burdsol, inspector. This is another step to be taken before the engine is shipped.

Moving along the "Conning Line" comes just before shipment. Cloy Whitley and Howard Hancock lower air-tight, moisture-proof steel cover.

Safely in the freight cars the jet engines are now headed for their destination. Engineer Edward Schreiber and Conductor James Sodler see to it that the engines are shuttled to the main railroad line.

Security is a big item at Evendale.
Patrolman Marvin Bessantz watches from the observation tower.

A load of jet engines leaves the Evendale plant headed for the adjoining main railroad line.

Holding Their Ground... Up to their ears having fun in watermelon contest are, from left: Mory Hellwig, Mary Ann Fitzsimmons and Mory Richie, members of the G. E. Women's Club at Bridgeport Works. Scene took place at the Wilson Club's annual outing complete with egg-throwing contest, ball games and picnic supper.

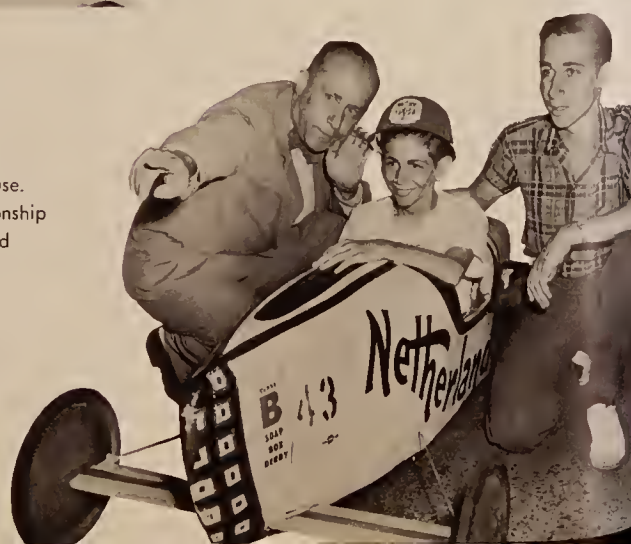

Boat-Builder... It's seldom a passing motorist doesn't slow down and even stop to look over George Boston's latest project, building a Tahiti double-end auxiliary ketch. Since he only works two hours a night and weekends on it, with an occasional helping hand from his dad, George figures it'll be about two more years before he takes it down to the sea. Finished, the ketch will be 30 feet overall, weigh between eight and ten tons. The keel alone will weigh 3300 pounds. George, one time all-New England football end at Boston University, is now a technical writer on aircraft instruments at the West Lynn Works.

Picks A Winner... In a field of nearly 6,000 entries in recent Company-sponsored contest to rename the General Electric heat pump, Martin Pierce's selection was the winner. His suggested name: the GE Weathertron. A sheet metal repairman in the home heating and cooling department at Bloomfield, Mr. Pierce collected $250 for his winning name. The new name will be used, as "Heat Pump" was in the past, to designate the line of packaged, year-round cooling and heating units operating on the reverse cycle refrigeration principle.

Racing Tips... Derby "do's and don'ts" are whispered to 12-year old Jonathan by his dad, Ray Foster of the Radio and TV Department at Electronics Park, Syracuse. Coasting to the Soap Box Derby championship at Syracuse, recently, young Foster entered the big championship races at Akron where he won the first heat before losing out in the second run. At right is Jonathan's older brother, Ken, who also represented Syracuse in the 1951 races at Akron. Mr. Foster has two younger sons whom he regards as Derby favorites in coming years.

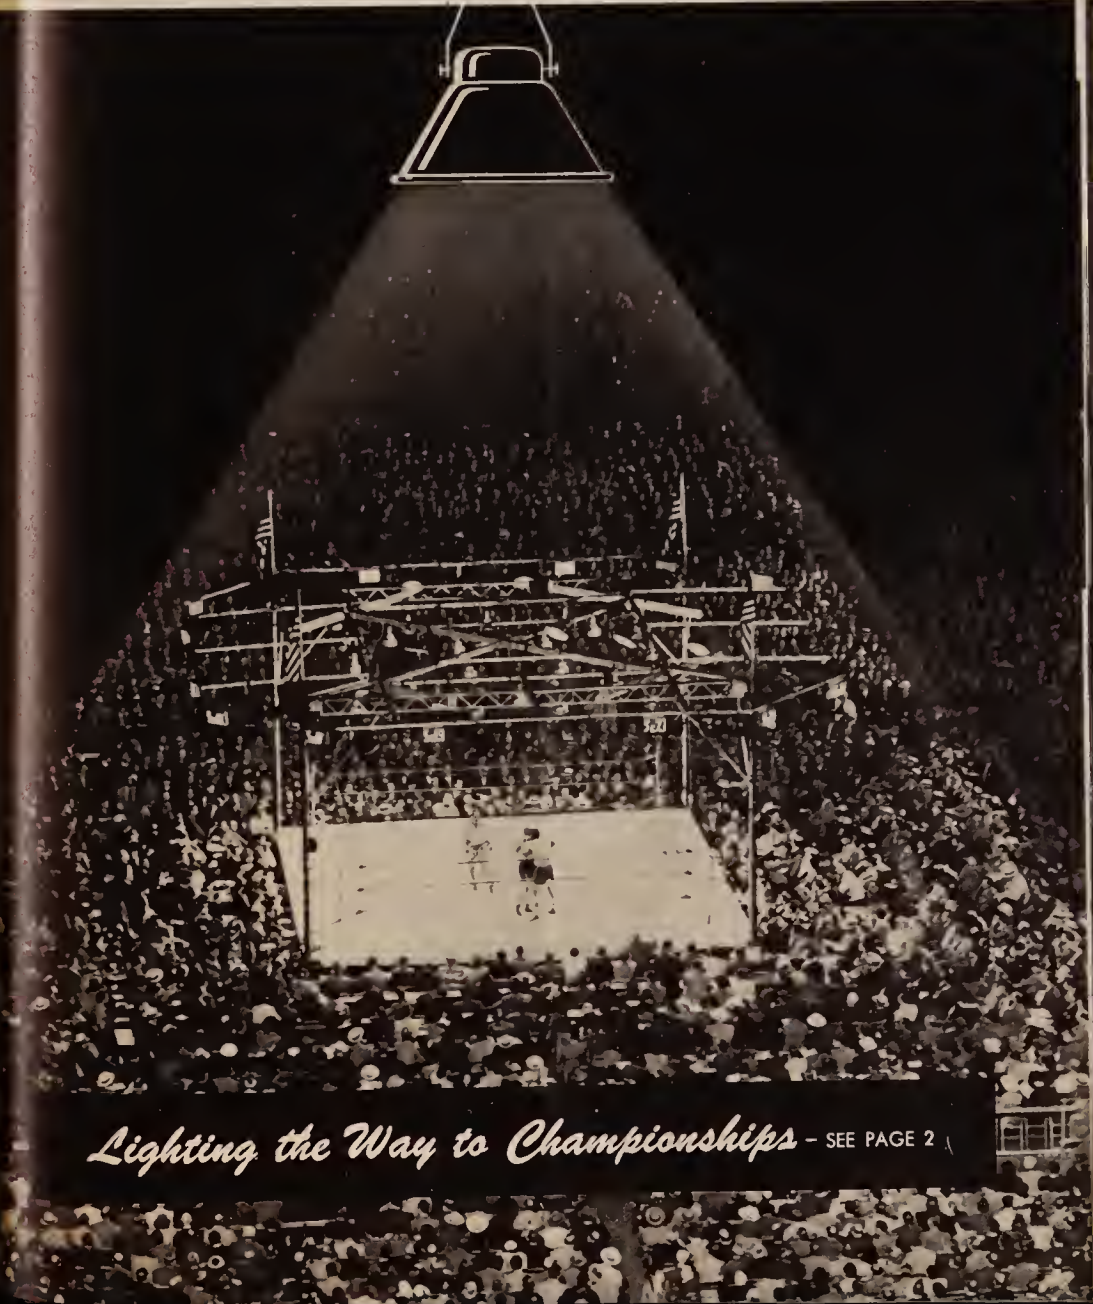

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

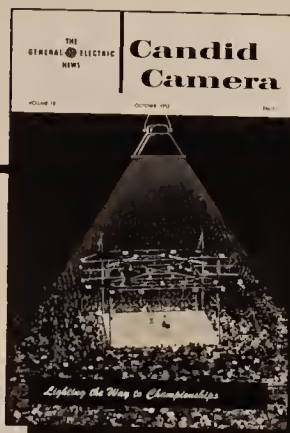

VOLUME 18

OCTOBER, 1953

No. 10

Lighting the Way to Championships - SEE PAGE 2

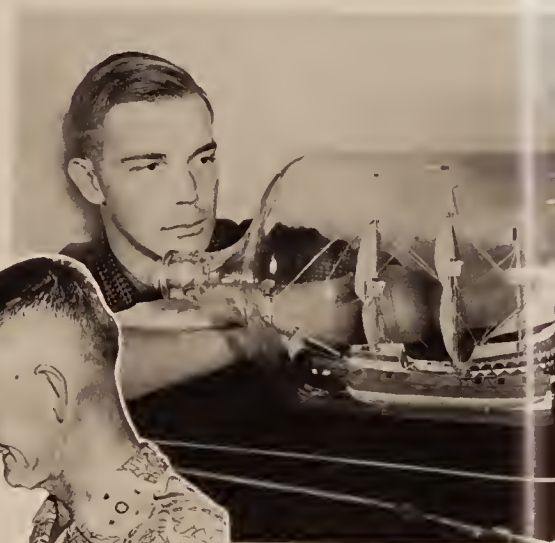

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company, 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

COVER PICTURE

Lighting the way to championships is the GE Type L-69 floodlight which is used in baseball parks, in football stadiums, at trotting tracks, and at golf courses to turn night into day. This picture was taken at Yankee Stadium during a heavyweight championship fight.

Bottling . . . That's the hobby of Robert Prestan of the Burlington, Vt. plant, shown here with one of the masterpieces he created in his spare time. In addition to miniature ships, Bob battles airplanes and railroad cars.

40 Years' Service . . . A GE light bulb was recently retired from active duty after serving on the front porch of Mrs. Ada Perrey's house since 1913. However, the GE iron which she received as a wedding gift forty years ago is still used regularly by Mrs. Perrey. Here she shows the faithful servant to her brother-in-law, Ezmark Balt, retired employee of the Fort Wayne Works.

Tribute to a Pioneer . . .

The U. S. Air Force and General Electric recently soluted o scientist who mode possible high altitude and long range flight when o ploque was unveiled atop Pikes Peak where 35 years ago the late Dr. Sonford A. Moss, o GE scientist, and o group of Air Corps colleagues successfully tested o turbosupercharger.

Using o 350-horsepower Liberty engine, they proved that on engine could maintain seo-level power in the thin air at high altitudes. Present ot the dedication ceremonies, from left: General Benjamin W. Chidlow, componder, Air Defense Commond; E. S. Thompson, monoger, Contracts & Promotional Planning; Philip D. Reed, GE's Choirmon of the Boord; L. M. Stouffer, district monoger, Rocky Mountain District, Apporotus Soles; C. W. LoPierre, GE vice president and general monoger, AGT Division; and Lt. General James H. Doolittle, USAF (Res). (Right) GE's turbosupercharger pioneer, the late Dr. Moss, pictured here in his office at the Lynn River Works in 1941.

Scene Stealer . . .

GE's exhibit ot the Golden Anniversary Kentucky Stote Fair wos most eye-oppeeling but ottention wos diverted momentarily when the Fair Queen poird o visit to the Applience Pork booth.

She's 16-year-old Nino Francis Russell, o rurol beauty from Liberty, Ky.

General Electric

Way out in left field at top of Yankee Stadium is a battery of 270 L-69 floodlights which helps to light the outfield.

▲ Yankees win again in night contest at Yankee Stadium. The Boston Red Sox are the victims, 5 to 2. The Stadium is illuminated by 1245 GE type L-69 floodlights.

Whether it is rain, snow or sleet GE lights continue to light the way. This "sh" was taken at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, when a game was delayed due to a heavy rain storm. A short time later the game was taken from the field and the Dodgers were on their way to their second straight National League title.

GE lights turn night into day at beautiful Milwaukee Stadium during a night game between the Braves and Chicago Cubs. With the aid of night contests the Braves were able to set a new attendance record in their return to the major leagues.

Lights the Way to Championships

WHETHER it is baseball, football, boxing, harness racing or any other sport, General Electric lights the way.

The World Champion New York Yankees and the National League Champion Brooklyn Dodgers both played their night home games under GE lights and Rocky Marciano wrested the heavyweight crown from Jersey Joe Walcott at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, another GE-lighted field.

Of the 13 major league parks now equipped for night baseball, six* of them, including the Milwaukee Municipal Stadium, have GE lights. The Orange Bowl Football Stadium at Miami, like Kezar Stadium at San Francisco and hundreds of other well known fields, all boast lighting by General Electric.

GE is the world leader in sports lighting and probably the one GE man who has done most in this field and is recognized as an authority on sports lighting is R. J. Swackhamer, manager of Sales, Lighting and Rectifier Department, River Works. He is a personal friend of Larry MacPhail, who as general manager of the Cincinnati Reds back in 1935 opened the door to night baseball in the major leagues and later moved to Brooklyn and installed lights at Ebbets Field. When MacPhail purchased the New York Yankees in the late 40's he installed lights at Yankee Stadium, the home of champions.

- | | |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------|
| *1. BRIGGS STADIUM—Detroit | 4. CROSLY FIELD—Cincinnati |
| 2. YANKEE STADIUM—New York | 5. EBBETS FIELD—Brooklyn |
| 3. FENWAY PARK—Boston | 6. MUNICIPAL STADIUM—Milwaukee |

R. J. Swackhamer, manager of Sales, Lighting and Rectifier Department, River Works, (left) during one of his many discussions with a baseball executive, recalls that the first major league game under lights was at Crosley Field in Cincinnati, when Larry MacPhail was general manager.

Later, Larry moved to Brooklyn and installed lights at Ebbets Field and then took over ownership of the Yankees and also had GE lights installed there.

Fenway Park in Boston is another diamond illuminated by GE floodlights. This "shot" was taken from center field.

The rather small stadium at Tolea University is well-lighted for a night football game with 144 GE floodlights doing the job. This is a half-time scene.

Half-time festivities at the Orange Bowl, Miami, are illuminated by GE lights. This beautiful stadium is the scene of many bigtime football contests.

Even golf is getting popular after dark. Here is a "golf course" at Saugus, Mass., which is lighted with GE lights. The Idle Hour is a specially designed golf course to enable golfers to drive as far as 350 yards and play 18 holes of golf in the area shown above. The course really gets a big play.

Polo comes in for its share of after-dark competition. This picture was taken during match at the Orange Bowl, Miami.

Softball is a popular night sport for Lynn employees. This is action during a league contest at the G.E.A.A. Field of Lynn. Employees also play night baseball, tennis and many other sports, thanks to the GE floodlights. There are many other recreation centers such as this one throughout the United States and the majority of them are lighted by GE.

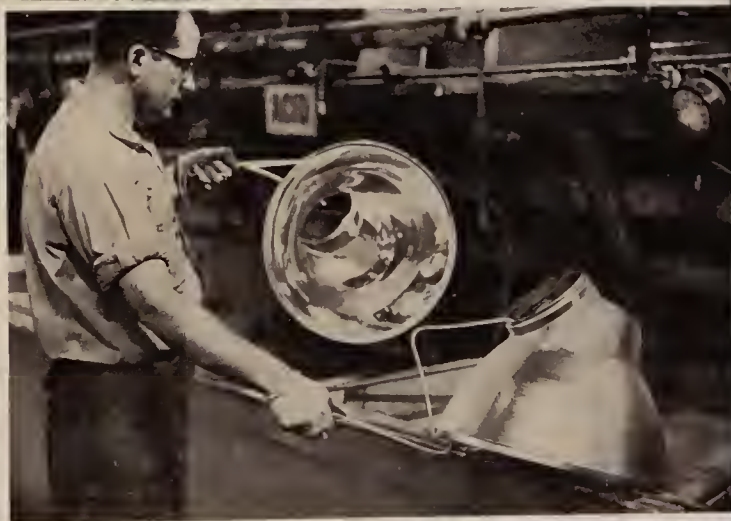

They're off at the Saratogo Raceway!
Thousands of harness racing fans crowd the Saratoga track nightly to see the trappers and pokers at this famous racing resort in Upstate New York. Night racing is made possible by many GE L-69 sports floodlights. (Right) It was a close finish for place but the No. 1 horse got it.

Making Sports Floodlights at River Works

James Brown operates the Hydroform which bends a piece of metal into shape in making sports floodlights. Here he is looking over one of the forms after it has been pressed into shape.

The plating and anodizing is done by Bud Groy who is removing one of the forms from the acid bath. A reflector like this is one of the 1245 used to light Yankee Stadium.

Buffing the reflectors is the job entrusted to Gilbert Davis. Here he is removing the reflector from the buffer.

After the reflector is placed through a number of operations Ernest Hughes "rolls" the glass into the reflector.

Because of the threat of breaking the glass by a thrown or batted ball, unbreakable glass is used to shield the lamp. Victor Ignatawicz tests the glass with a heavy rubber hammer.

Now the assembled reflectors are placed on an assembly line where the sockets are inserted by Rose Giangregaria, Nancy Annese and Julia Canti.

▲ The floodlights are carefully packed in excelsior by Walter Moog before they are shipped.

With the floodlights boxed they are loaded on a trailer-truck by Kenneth Meuse.

Arthur M. Bjontegord, engineer, looks over some of the specifications on the sports floodlights.

Chalk Talk . . . With the football season well under way, this team of Electronics Park lovelies seems to be in very good shape. They're getting same good advice from "coach" Ray Buivid, Sales Manager of Radio Receivers for the Radio-TV Department.

Left to right: Ann Wilson, Anita Terinoni, Jane Mitchell and Marybelle Forbes.

Another Ringer . . . Tom Brownell (right), a draftsman at Schenectady Works, captured the New York State Horseshoe Championship in 1941 and 1948; did it again this year. The 1953 champion shows Joe Clark, GEAA manager, a few of the national and state trophies he's copped in 17 years of horseshoe competition.

▼ Five of a Kind . . . Four of his brothers were on hand recently at celebration honoring George Buchanan (center) when he recently joined the Quarter Century Club. Holding some of the gifts brother George received from co-workers are, from left: Harry, Robert, William and Leslie. All employees of the Switchgear Departments at Philadelphia, the five brothers have a total of more than 106 years of service with the Company. Robert and William are also members of the Q.C.C. Another brother, Donald, now in the Armed Forces, was with GE more than two years before entering the Service.

THE
GENERAL  ELECTRIC
NEWS

Candid Camera

VOLUME 18

NOVEMBER, 1953

No. 11

Award of Honor . . . SEE PAGE 2

Candid Camera is published monthly by the General Electric Company for distribution to employees. All communications should be addressed to: Candid Camera, Employee and Plant Community Relations Division, General Electric Company 570 Lexington Avenue, Room 308, New York City 22, New York.

COVER PICTURE

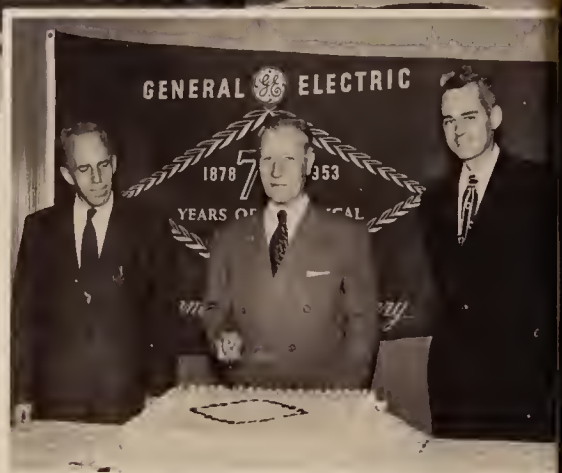

Peggy Ann Spurrier, Beauty Queen of the Owensboro, Ky. Plant, admires the "Award of Honor" presented to the Tube Plant by the National Safety Council. The award was in recognition of the outstanding safety record made at Owensboro.

Pittsfield on Parade... Most spectacular entry in recent Halloween parade was GE's brilliantly-lighted space ship built by employees in the Power Transformer Department at Pittsfield. Over 60 feet long, the ship was trailed by a jet engine sparkler effect of over 10 feet. A series of eight rocket guns shot 10,000 colorfully-wrapped popcorn balls to the kids, while disintegrator guns flashed in synchronism below.

First Fifty Year Man...

The distinction of being the Lamp Division's first half-century employee goes to William Eichenberg, of Cleveland Equipment where he has been a Model and Instrument Maker for the past 15 years. D. L. Millham, Vice President and General Manager of the Lamp Division presents him with a diamond service pin.

TV Headliner... During recent Open House telecast at Schenectady Works, thousands of television viewers saw John M. Erwin (center) of the Large Motor and Generator Department receive a $4800 suggestion award from his Supervisor, Howard Hull. Paul F. Lathrop, Manager of Manufacturing for the department introduced this special feature of the show—the first public announcement of the second highest award in Schenectady GE history. Mr. Erwin, now an Order Clerk, was a Price and Edit Clerk when he submitted his idea for better utilization of copper in manufacturing Large Motor and Generator products.

Western Tour... (Above, top) Arriving at the Atomic Energy Commission airport in Richland, Washington recently were eleven members of the General Electric Board of Directors along with top GE officials on the first stop of their tour of GE facilities on the West Coast. In foreground from left, are: Sidney J. Weinberg, Board Member and partner, Goldman, Sachs, and Company; GE President Ralph J. Cordiner; and Board Member John Halmes, president and director of Swift and Company. (Above, right) At Hanford, where dinner was held in honor of distinguished visitors, President Cordiner gets set to cut official 75th Anniversary cake. At left is W. E. Johnson, General Manager of GE's Hanford Operations; right, Francis K. McCune, General Manager of GE's Atomic Products Division.

Five GE Plants Honored for Outstanding

Fred Hines, Safety Engineer, Owensboro, Ky., Tube Plant, accepts "Award of Honor" from Ned Dearborn, President of the National Safety Council. Owensboro, employing about 5300 employees, operated 3,179,413 man-hours without a lost-time accident.

Stephen R. Capps, Manager—Employee Relations, Specialty Transformer Department, accepts the "Award of Honor" from Mr. Dearborn for the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Department. This department operated 3,186,091 man-hours without a lost-time accident. Today, the Specialty Transformer and Ballast Department has been decentralized with the Ballast Department at Danville employing about 800 people and the Specialty Transformer Department at Fort Wayne employing about 1500 people.

Safety Records

Two National Safety Council Awards and two GE Safety Achievement Awards were presented to five General Electric plants recently at the National Safety Congress held last month at Chicago.

The Specialty Transformer Department, Fort Wayne, and the Ballast Department, Danville, and the Owensboro, Ky., Tube Plant were the recipients of the "Award of Honor," highest award made by the National Safety Council.

The East Boston Lamp Works and the Laminated and Insulated Products Department, Coshocton, Ohio, were honored with "GE Achievement Awards" for establishing the best safety records in the country for their respective industries.

Candid Camera proudly presents a pictorial review of the programs carried out by these five award winners.

"GE Safety Achievement Awards" were presented to the East Boston Lamp Works and the Laminated and Insulated Products Department, Coshacton, Ohio. J. H. Falger (right), Manager—Employee Relations, East Boston Lamp Works, accepts the award for his plant from L. E. Newman, Manager—Health and Safety Services.

The Lamp Works established a record of going 7,645,496 man-hours without a lost-time accident.

J. H. Wartman, Supervisor—Persannel, Coshacton, accepts the "Achievement Award" from Mr. Newman. The Laminated and Insulated Products Department, employing about 600 people, went 3,556,922 man-hours without a lost-time accident.

"Award of Honor" winners gather around C. R. DeReamer, Manager—Safety Services, General Electric Company, to admire the award. From left: Herman Gandry, Plant Protection Officer, Danville; D. E. Waldrap, Ft. Wayne; Mr. DeReamer; and Edward Palguta, Fort Wayne.

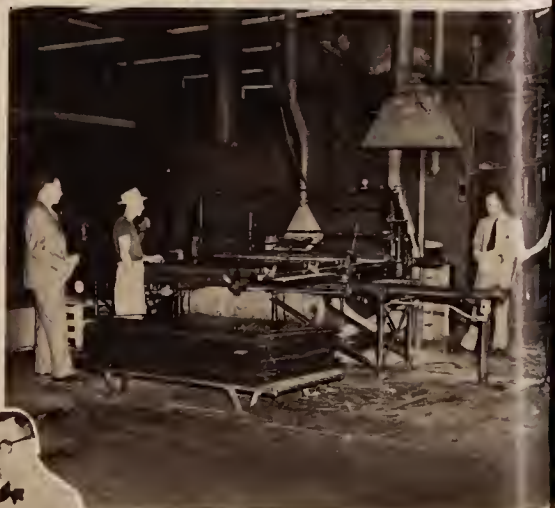

COSHOCTON, OHIO

Laminated & Insulated Products Dept.

H. A. Howe, Plant Manager, (holding "Achievement Award" with left hand) meets with the Plant Safety Committee which is the manager's staff. Mr. Howe is General Chairman of the Safety Program at Coshocton and attends safety meetings as often as possible. This committee meets monthly and is responsible for safety policies.
From left: J. C. Stonsel, I. K. McCroe, H. A. Howe, A. Scoggins, R. T. Walsh, G. R. Eckenbarger, E. Devore, and J. H. Wortmon.

Plant tours for the purpose of grading the sections in safety is made by a committee. Here Carl Droke, Product Engineering Supervisor, (left) and Richard Walsh, Superintendent, make inspection as Fred Murray and Lewis Carpenter operate machine. The sections are graded on housekeeping, wearing personal protective equipment, fire equipment and safety guards.

◀ Safety is king at Coshocton. Here Press Operator Lloyd Udder has both hands on the push buttons in order to operate the press while Victor Willis, Inspector, (right) and Arthur Randles, Foreman, are protected with safety glasses and safety shoes.

The Laboratory Safety Committee holds its monthly meeting to discuss safety. From left: John Chamicz, Supervisor of the Lab; Harry Porter, Department Safety Man; Galdie Rucker, Tom Everly, Herbert Bundy, Mearl Buker, and Mary Timmans.

Glenn Wells, Foreman, Maintenance, and J. H. Wartman, Supervisor of Personnel, look over specially designed guard used on table saw as well as air vent for dust. These protective devices are used on table saws which cut different sizes and thicknesses of plastic materials.

Safety Man Wilson Rehord points out new foot pedal which was installed at his suggestion to protect the foot of Operator Virginio Winiger from irritation. William Clark is the foreman. The smaller pedal used previously was the cause of bruises to the bottom of the operator's foot.

The 100 percent safety shoe program is in effect at Cashactan and since it was started there have never been any toe injuries. Here is Robert Kabel and Harry Fredrick, Press Operators, wheeling a load of heavy built-up material to the presses where it will be worked into laminated boards.

DANVILLE, ILL. Ballast Dept.

The safety glass program at Danville has prevented many eye injuries. Here is Dorothy Coon, Coil Winder (right) accepting a pair of safety glasses from Jeanne Holme, Employment Record Clerk. Whenever a new employee is hired the 100 percent safety glass program is explained and he or she is presented with a pair of safety glasses.

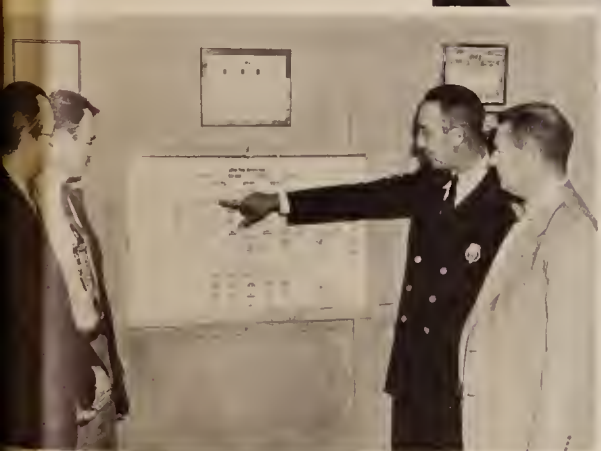

Safety glasses and closed-toed shoes are required at the Danville Plant. Three women on the assembly line turn from their work to display the glasses and shoes. From left: Frances Hughes, Mary Hearnley and Marie Bailey. These employees attach leads on the high production assembly line.

Wearing of safety glasses in all manufacturing areas is mandatory at Danville. Here a group of women leave the Cafeteria to return to their jobs and on go the safety glasses. From left: Beulah Danner, Genevieve Fortner, Martha James, Garnet Kocurek, Mary Sabalaskey, Margaret Pender and Vivian Stattham.

Safety Committees meet every two weeks to discuss safety hazards in an area.

This committee, from left: Robert Menestrina, Safety Committeeman; Willard Shipman, Foreman; and Charles McAdoo, Planner, hold a meeting and copies of the minutes of this session are sent to the Plant Protection Officer and Plant Manager.

Management right down the line is back of the excellent safety program at Danville. Here Plant Protection Officer Herman Gondry goes over the Safety Committee setup with, from left: E. R. Woods, Supervisor of Personnel; Frank Greene, General Foreman; and D. B. Paland, Plant Manager.

Foreman Kazimere Lapenas points out the safety guard which protects Hazel Gooch, Punch Press Operator, from injury.

Safety Committeewoman Arlene McMorris (left) discusses the use of asbestos gloves with Elsie Reynolds, Compound Pourer

FORT WAYNE, IND.

Specialty Transformer Dept.

Keeping employees informed at all times as to how they stand in safety is the job of Dan Waldrap, Safety and Suggestion Specialist, (right). Here he explains the figures on the attractive bulletin board to Jae Reising, Safety Committee Leader, Section 93.

Tours of the sections are made daily to check on the housekeeping. Paul Petersen, General Foreman, (pointing) is attempting to explain to W. H. Crause, Section Superintendent, why the cart is "over the yellow line." Others looking on are: Vic Scheele, Planning (left) and W. H. Heniser, Foreman, (third from left). Actually, this situation had to be created, as the housekeeping was perfect on the regular inspection tour.

C. E. Staut, Planning Supervisor of Section 94, points out the four-hand electrical trip control used on the press brake, to William A. Davis, Safety Chairman. The safety device compels the two operators to have their hands on the controls before the brake will operate.

Safety Hazard Farms are used by members of the Safety Committee at Fort Wayne. Walter Eker, Repairman and Safety Committeeman in Section 94, makes out a farm reporting that the guard has been removed from the buffing wheel.

Walter Eker carries his "complaint" to Paul Black, Safety Chairman, and you can be sure the guord was replaced. This is one of the many ways in which the Specialty Transformer Department was able to build up its outstanding safety recard and in this woy win national honors.

All cooperate in bringing the safety oward ► to Fort Wayne. Here, General Manager C. H. Rinne talks to Safety Committeeman Robert Glenn,
Toolmaker, about the safety program.

Local Safety Achievement Award for 1952 is presented to the Safety Committee, 26-5, Section 94, by C. H. Rinne, General Manager. Management's deep interest in safety has helped greatly to establish this fine safety mark.
▼

OWENSBORO, KY.

Receiving Tube Sub-Dept.

Protective devices, designed locally, have played a major role in the outstanding safety record of the Owensboro Plant. Estell Schroeder, Etching Machine Operator, is fully protected in operating this machine by the plastic cover guard and guard made of expanded metal.

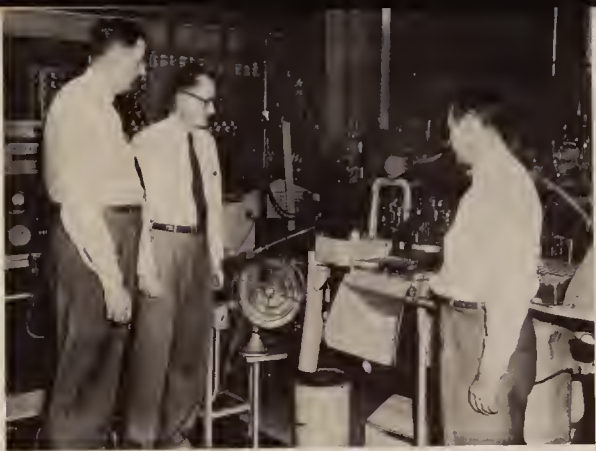

▲ Another specially-designed plastic guard protects Eulo Moe Gore as she operates a main seal welder.

Supervision works as a team in carrying out a safety program at Owensboro. Here, from left, is R. L. Riddle, Personnel Supervisor; R. P. Best, Superintendent of Maintenance; David Taoley, General Foreman of Maintenance; F. A. Moron, Supervisor of General Accounting; and Fred Hines, Safety Engineer, looking over the conveyORIZED mounting unit during one of their tours.

Management is solidly behind the safety program at Owensboro and regular safety tours are made. Here is D. U. Dodson, Employee and Plant Community Relations Manager, I. D. Daniels, Plant Manager, and F. A. Wells, Supervisor of Employee and Plant Community Relations, looking over the factory setup.

New machine inspection also contributes to the fine record at Owensboro. Here, David Tooley, General Foreman of Maintenance, Fred Hines, Safety Engineer, and R. P. Best, Superintendent of Maintenance, watch installation of Sealex machine and in this way get ideas for safety devices to be installed before the machine is put into operation. Harford Ranson is the Electrician at the left and Delbert Hall is the Plumber (right).

About 60 members of management meet weekly to discuss safety. Here is I. D. Daniels, Plant Manager, conducting one of these meetings.

EAST BOSTON LAMP WORKS

Lamp Division

▲ Fred Rada, Plant Manager, and other members of management look on as the GE Safety Achievement Award which was presented to East Boston Lamp Works for establishing record of working 7,645,496 man-hours without a lost-time accident. From left: Mr. Rada, J. H. Falger, Jim Murphy, Louis Lehman, Robert Von Meter, Ted Acton, Carl Urner, Russ Parker, and George Chandler.

Eva Scappace reports to Dr. Charles Maloney, Plant Physician. He examines and treats the injury.

Safety inspections by employees is a contributing factor to the fine safety record of the East Boston Lamp Works. Here Catherine Ponnese, Inspector, and Helen Siwinski, Threeder, report on housekeeping conditions in the Headlight Department.

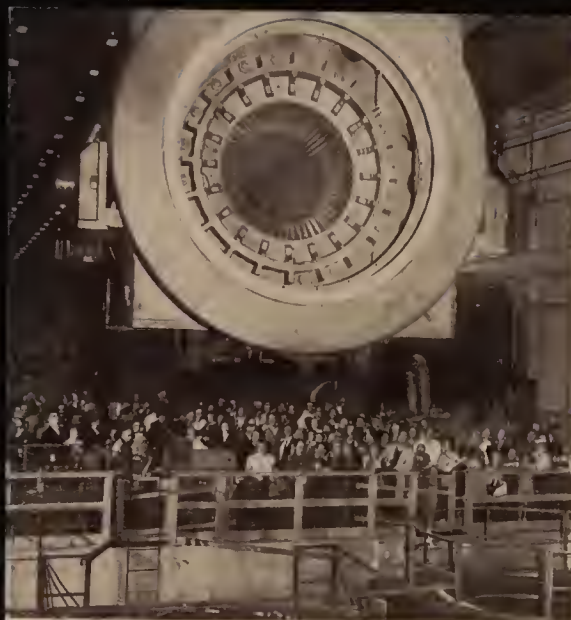

Treating minor scratches and bruises promptly is another step in a well-balanced safety program. Eva Scappoce, Baser, shows injury to Ken Knowlton, Foreman, and he in turn sends her to the Plant Dispensary.

Report of injury is recorded by Carolyn Wishmon, R.N., and copy of report is sent to the general foreman.

General Foreman E. S. Acton (seated) reviews accident report with Foreman Kenneth Knowlton.

Open House Around The Plants ...

Hoisting of huge stator frame by 200-ton crane awes the thousands of visitors who toured Large Steam Turbine and Generator at Schenectady Works during recent Open House. Every 10 minutes the giant crane raised the frame from bottom of stacking pit to height far above spectators' heads. Over 35,000 visitors viewed operations, saw exhibits and displays, and visited relatives working in the plant.

At Fort Wayne, former employee Mrs. Mary Schlatter took advantage of the Open House to visit her daughter, Clara Gidley. Mrs. Schlatter, who is 85, worked there 66 years ago when company was the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light Company.

High school students from junior and senior math classes are intent as Ralph W. Munn, Supervisor—Apprentice Machine Shop, explains displays in Apprentice Training Room at Pittsfield Works.

(Below) Kids visiting punch press thought the punchings looked "just like money." Scooping up are Peggy Lou Weston, daughter of Maurice Weston of Power Transformer Test; and Neil Langlois, son of Wilfred Langlois, Maintenance Electrician.

